Chapter 35: Dungeon Demon Suppression Platform

After checking the rewards, Zhang Shan teleported to the warehouse and stored the mysterious material. He would never sell this material.

What if he received something like a pipe in the future? Wouldn't he get another divine artifact? Although the chances were not high, people still had to have dreams.

There was no difference between a person without dreams and a dead man.

Zhang Shan looked at the two pieces of orange equipment, two skill books, and the seven pieces of purple equipment that the sacrificial guards had dropped.

He asked the other members of the guild if anyone had taken a fancy to them.

"Orange knife, orange ax, seven pieces of trash purple equipment, is anyone interested? There are also two skill books. Are there any big bosses who would like to bid for them? One is Resurrection and the other is Summoning Heavenly General."

"Big Boss of the divine artifact is so arrogant. Is purple equipment trash? Poor me, I still have a few white-tier items."

"What equipment?"

Zhang Shan displayed the nine pieces of equipment and two skill books one by one. Then he went to the auction house to look at the current prices of the items.

The Resurrection skill book was available in the auction house. The starting price was one million gold coins. There was no buyout price. Now, it had already been raised to two million. There were so many filthy rich people around.

The Summoning Heavenly General was not available in the auction house. It seemed like no one had spawned it yet.

As for the price of purple equipment, there was a huge difference. In general, the weapons of more popular classes such as axes and scepters would usually start from 5,000 gold coins.

The other purple equipment would usually start from 1,000 to 2,000 gold coins.

Orange equipment was a little exaggerating. The starting price would not be lower than 100,000 gold coins. After all, orange equipment was a crucial threshold. Only the equipment above orange had special effects. There was a huge difference between the equipment above and below orange.

"Keep the two books for me. Pack them up for me for 2,000,000 gold coins. I'll transfer blue coins to you according to the current exchange rate for gold coins."

The pretty girl Wind Chimes took the two skill books in one go.

"Alright then. Where are you now? I'll bring them to you later."

At this time, Storm of the World of Gale said, "Six Guan, there's no need to bring them over. Everyone, return to the city. To establish a guild, we need to do a quest first. This quest is probably not simple."

"Roger, on the way back."

"We've returned to the city. Where do we gather?"

"We will gather at the Military Affairs Officer's place. Come over after you've sorted out the equipment and supplies."

Zhang Shan cleaned up his backpack. The rubbish equipment was sold in the shop, and the materials and sundries were stored in the warehouse. As for the nine pieces of equipment and the two books, he helped them bring them along.

After repairing the equipment, he teleported to the Military Affairs Officer's place.

When Zhang Shan arrived, he realized that there were many people there. Other than the members of the Storm Guild, there were also many other players.

"F*ck, they even charge one gold coin to enter the dungeon. How despicable! Did the operators lose money? Didn't they say that it was run by the Alliance Government? Why is it the same as those black-hearted game companies?"

"Enter what f*cking dungeon! It's full of level 15 monsters and it's dark in there. We won't even see the boss before we die."

Only then did Zhang Shan remember that after he killed the boss, the dungeon system had been activated. No wonder there were so many people. They were all preparing to enter the dungeon.

Would the quest before establishing a guild be clearing the dungeon? This seemed to be very difficult. If the dungeon was guarded by the demon tribe priest, even the entire guild wouldn't be able to beat it.

Zhang Shan ran over to the Military Affairs Officer and looked at the dungeon information.

The dungeon demon suppression platform had a total of nine levels. Those below level 20 would enter the first level, and those between level 20 to level 30 would enter the second level, and so on. Based on this, those between level 90 to level 100 would enter the last level.

Moreover, the dungeon was also divided by difficulty level. There were normal mode, difficult mode, and limit mode, a total of three types of modes.

The number of players who entered was 1-50.

Those below level 20 could enter the first level. If that was the case, the boss guarding the dungeon was very likely to be level 20. It might even be a demon tribe priest which was not easy to deal with. He just did not know the difficulty level of the boss he had defeated.

The other members of the guild teleported over one after another.

"Boss, what kind of quest is this? It can't be that we're going to clear the dungeon, right? It's a little difficult right now, isn't it? We haven't even reached level 15 yet. How can we clear a level 20 dungeon?"

“That’s right. The prerequisite quest for establishing a guild is to clear the first floor of the dungeon. There are no mode requirements. Let’s just try the normal mode. After all, the dungeon won’t drop levels if we die.”

“Fortunately, there are no requirements for the difficulty level. We should have a chance to clear the dungeon.”

“I just don’t know what mode the boss that Six Guan fought outside was. If it’s the limit mode in the wild, then the normal mode shouldn’t be that difficult.”

“It shouldn’t be that simple. We’ll know once we enter. Everyone’s here. Let’s go in immediately.”

Zhang Shan traded the two skill books to Wind Chimes first.

The other equipment was all level 20, so no one could use them now. They were useless against dungeons, so Zhang Shan wanted to wait a little longer.

“Wait, Brother Six Guan, give me the ax. I’ll give you 100,000 gold coins.” Blade of Storm shouted.

“Why are you so anxious? You can’t use level 20 equipment right now. It’s still early. Who knows, the orange ax might drop in the dungeon.”

“If it drops, I’ll give it to you guys. I’ll buy Six Guan’s first. Besides, is orange equipment that easy to drop?”

“You’re awesome.”

Zhang Shan traded the ax to Blade of Storm.

“I don’t have any money right now. I’ll exchange for gold coins when we get out of the dungeon.”

Okay.

“Give me the saber. I’ll give you 100,000 too,” said Little Secretary of the Storm Guild.

After trading the battle saber to Little Secretary of the Storm, no one wanted the purple equipment. They were all big shots. They didn’t even care about the equipment that was just a little bit inferior. When they came out later, he would throw all to the auction house.

“Brother Six Guan, where is your red equipment? Didn’t you say that you dropped the red equipment? It can’t be all for your own use, right?”

“En, there are three pieces of red equipment. They are all magic type. I will give them to Boss World.”

After saying that, Zhang Shan traded the three pieces of equipment to Storm of the World and said directly, “Do you want these three pieces of equipment?”

“Of course I want them, but it’s not easy to estimate the price of red equipment now. I’ll pay one million gold coins for each of them, and I’ll transfer them to you later.”

“Boss, let us see the equipment. We haven’t even seen any red equipment before. Not even in the auction house.”

Storm of the World displayed the three pieces of equipment. One was a scepter, one was a shirt, and one was a necklace.

“F*ck, does it have to be so crazy? Is red equipment that strong? It’s not much weaker than the divine artifact.”

“It’s still a lot weaker. This is level 20 equipment. The divine artifact of Six Guan is only level 10 now. When it reaches level 20 and becomes a level 20 divine artifact, its attributes will definitely be much stronger.”

“Yeah, that’s a divine artifact after all. Let’s not talk about its attributes. Just those four special effects, which one of them isn’t strong enough to explode?”

“Stop bullshitting. Let’s enter the dungeon. Hopefully, the one guarding the dungeon is a red boss. I want to defeat the boss. I want red equipment. Ahhhh.”

“Enter then.”
