

Passive Skills 42

Chapter 42-clearing

After two to three seconds in the rain of fire, Zhang Shan also fell.

The only ones still alive were four Warriors with charge and a group of support substitutes.

A warrior's charge could pull aggro and slow down, but it didn't have a stun effect and couldn't interrupt the skill, so when they were lining up to interrupt the skill, they stayed on the outside and waited for orders, so they could survive.

After Zhang Shan had fallen, the passive rebirth still needed another ten seconds to take effect.

During this period of time, if no one pulled the boss, the boss would randomly attack the remaining players on the field.

Warriors, take turns to use charge and pull the boss. Everyone just needs to tank it once and hold it for three seconds. We can't let the boss hit the support. Support, get ready to approach six tubes. When he regenerates, heal him immediately.

At this critical moment, Feng Yun realm could no longer remain calm as he shouted madly.

"I'll go first." After Feng Yun's little Secretary finished speaking, she charged towards the boss.

the secretary was a guardian and a proper tank. unfortunately, she had not been of any use in this boss battle.

He couldn't be blamed for this. The boss could deal 6000 damage with one attack, and the Secretary had less than 7000 HP.

If the boss hit him twice, he would be dead. If it was a critical hit, he would be dead.

he couldn't play the role of a tank here at all. because he had learned the charge skill, he had been on standby on the side and had been able to survive until now.

The moment he charged towards the boss, he was already destined to die.

However, the little Secretary's HP was close to 7000, and her defense was not bad. She actually took two hits from the boss and successfully stalled the boss for five to six seconds.

when the third warrior's charge fell, zhang shan's passive resurrect finally took effect. he was resurrected at full health.

[passive rebirth] was really a BUG skill. it was a pity that it could only be used once every 24 hours. it would be even better if the cooldown time was shorter.

after standing up, zhang shan quickly attacked the BOSS and pulled the aggro.

the rest of the support quickly followed and added blood to him in time.

Windling even gave him an attack blessing.

The BOSS still had about 70000 HP left. In the last 10 seconds, no one could deal any damage.

The BOSS had recovered a few thousand HP.

Fortunately, 70,000 HP was nothing to Zhang Shan. With the special effect of Holy attack, two hits would be enough.

Even without any critical effect, he could still kill the BOSS in 20 seconds.

As he attacked the BOSS, Zhang Shan summoned his panda baby again.

Now, he did not count on his pet's luck to deal the final damage to the boss.

Instead, after summoning it, he would directly use a combo skill when he got close to the boss.

After Baobao had risen to level 20 with Zhang Shan, its attack power had also increased greatly, reaching more than 1000.

The seven-hit combo could deal close to 10000 damage, which was very impressive.

In this race against time, every bit of damage dealt was important. The earlier they killed the boss, the less uncontrollable factors they could have.

Even the last surviving Berserker was now swinging his axe at the boss. Although the damage was low, it was still good to be able to deal more damage.

In the midst of the intense continuous attacks, Zhang Shan used a heavy strike, dealing five times the damage.

The boss's health quickly dropped to the bottom. After a few more attacks, the boss finally fell to the ground.

Those who had survived to the end, other than Zhang Shan, had all leveled up once. They had all reached level 15.

Phew, he was so nervous. After the BOSS fell, Zhang Shan sat on the ground.

He was too tired. He had only played for less than five minutes, but it felt like he had been playing for years. He was too nervous.

Fortunately, their luck was not bad. At the last moment, the BOSS did not restrict Zhang Shan. Otherwise, the outcome would be hard to say.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to players Feng Yun realm, Windling windchime, and six-battle-Bodhisattva for clearing the first level of demon subduing platform for the first time. ≫

Everyone will be rewarded with 1 skill point and 100 merit points.

feng ling came back to life and pulled feng yun realm up.

As for the rest, he could only lie down and wait for the equipment to be distributed before resurrecting in the city.

After all, the cooldown of resurrection was very long, and there was no way to pull a second player.

I finally blew it up. It was so difficult. Fortunately, the boss with the divine artifact is awesome.

yeah, a level 20 tank. If his equipment isn't strong enough, he won't be able to withstand it.

hold my ass! A cloak, a cloak! It has to be at least a blue cloak for The Guardian warrior to be able to hold out for a bit more.

"It's easy to say, but Where Can I Get a blue cloak? I've never seen it before."

"I have one, haha." Windling was the last one to survive and had even leveled up once. In addition to that, she had already reached level 14.

Now that she was already level 15, she could finally equip the level 15 blue cloak that she had bought from Zhang Shan.

"How is that possible? Why do you have a blue cloak?"

Windling displayed the attributes of the cloak.

f * ck, 3900 HP. Although it's not as overpowered as six-barreled priest's Cape, it's already very strong.

yeah, such a tanky support. He's just a small fry.

"You're the bull, your whole family is blood Bulls." feng ling said unhappily. blood cow didn't sound good. she was a beautiful young lady.

...

"Alright, let's distribute the equipment first. After that, we'll go back to the city and build a Guild." Feng Yun realm interrupted everyone's emotional talk.

that's right, let's split the equipment first. This is a red BOSS, it can't possibly drop trash equipment.

"it's hard to say. after all, we only chose the normal difficulty. "

"If you don't try the normal difficulty, do you want to try other difficulties? wouldn't that be courting death?"

God, please bless me. Give me a red outfit. It's best if it's a red cape. The Secretary prayed on the ground.

"You can continue dreaming."

Feng Yun realm displayed all the drops of the boss.

there were three pieces of equipment, one material, and one skill book. the red equipment was a pair of shoes, the orange equipment, a piece of clothing, and a ring.

The shoes were of the agility system. Zhang Shan was envious of the special effects of the attributes.

The clothes were of the strength system, and the ring was of the intelligence system. The skill book was the first skill of the boss, Heavenly Fire meteor.

It was a very powerful skill. Level 1 skills increased damage by 10% and had a cooldown of only three seconds, which was the same as the fire mage's novice skills.

...

Once a fire mage learned this skill, they would basically say goodbye to novice skills. It was just that the mana consumption was a little high.

A level 1 skill consumed 100 mana points, but that was not a problem. As everyone's level and equipment slowly improved, their mana bar also increased.

In addition to drinking a large blue potion and the recovery effect of his equipment, he had enough blue under normal circumstances.

I suggest that we give the shoes to six tubes. We don't have to ROLL for it. It was all thanks to him that we were able to clear the dungeon this time. Otherwise, even if we enter the dungeon next week, we might not be able to clear it.

Feng Yun realm said to the other agility-type players.

no problem. The shoes will belong to the divine artifact boss. We have no objections.

"that's not very good, is it?"

Although Zhang Shan really wanted this pair of red shoes, he was a little embarrassed to give it to him directly without rolling.

big brother, don't be so pretentious. Who would dare to roll with you in this round? they're not that thick-skinned.

that's right. You're the only one who can deal damage and tank damage. Who would have the nerve to snatch your equipment? don't know.

Feng Yun realm did not say anything else and passed the shoes to Zhang Shan.

Thousand miles had rolled for the orange outfit alone. This guy's luck was off the charts.

There was no sense of existence in the entire arena, and he had gotten an orange equipment for nothing.

however, the others didn't have any objections. after all, they were on the same level. in this BOSS battle, they had also won without doing anything.

The orange ring had been rolled away by a pretty support lady. Zhang Shan did not know her and had never spoken to her before.

Everyone rolled for the materials. This time, Zhang Shan's luck wasn't that good. He only rolled 48 points. There was nothing else for him to do. The materials went to the little Secretary.

the last item was the heavenly fire meteor skill book.

Feng Yun realm said,"give me the skill book. As per the old rules, I will give a red packet to everyone who did not get any items.""

OK.

After all the items were distributed, Feng Yun realm said,

“Alright, let’s all return to the city. I’m going to submit the mission. I hope there won’t be any other segments and that our wind and cloud Guild will be the first guild in the New World.”
