

Passive Skills 43

Chapter 43-Guild establishment

Those who were still alive would be sent back to the city, while those who were lying on the ground would be revived. Fortunately, they would not lose any experience if they died in the dungeon, so they did not lose much.

When he returned to the city, Zhang Shan realized that it was already very lively outside.

the wind and cloud Guild is really awesome. They actually completed the first clear of the dungeon. That's amazing.

"Amazing my ass, he's still the same as us, not having a Guild yet."

"Who knows, maybe he'll get a heroic order in the dungeon and immediately start a guild."

where did they get such good luck from? the normal difficulty Dungeons all drop trash. They shouldn't even think about getting the heroes order.

it's hard to say. I heard that the dungeon's Guardian BOSS is red-named, so it's impossible for it to drop trash.

so what if they get a guild creation item? it's not that easy to establish a Guild. There might be other guild creation quests. With just a few people in wind and cloud, can they complete those large-scale quests? "

"Do I need to do quests to create a guild in the New World? didn't the civil affairs officer say that i only need merit points, gold coins, and the heroes "order?"

" the civil affairs officer only mentioned the conditions of building a guild, but he didn't mention the process. which game these days doesn't require missions to build a guild? not to mention, a large-scale game like new world definitely requires missions, and the missions must be very difficult. " even if the mission is difficult, the wind and cloud Guild isn't afraid. They have a divine weapon.

"What's the use of just one weapon?"

As the wind and cloud Guild appeared in the system announcements multiple times in the New World, it became more and more famous as one of the top ten guilds.

He was no longer the image of a nouveau riche throwing money at people.

Of course, when a Guild became famous, there would naturally be people who liked it. There were all sorts of envy, jealousy, and hate, and all sorts of negative comments.

Zhang Shan didn't care about these things. He was just a bystander, and he didn't care what others said. He wasn't the Guild leader.

Besides, even if he was the Guild leader, he wouldn't bother with those boring people. There were many people in the game who had a bad mentality.

he just likes to get into a fight with you. the more you care about him, the more proud and arrogant he is.

Zhang Shan just wanted to quietly do some posturing. Although he no longer had to worry about his life, he still had to have the dream of posturing.

after exiting the dungeon for a while, zhang shan still had not heard any news about the establishment of the guild.

What's going on? it's been a while, why isn't the Guild built yet? he still has to go offline and sleep. He hasn't slept for almost 30 hours.

"What's going on? is the Guild still not built? There are other missions?"

"I don't know yet. Boss is running the program, and there are quite a few. Every main NPC has to run it once."

"Why is that?"

I don't know. All the life profession NPCs, military officers, city gate officers, and so on. Anyway, they all seem to have names. It seems like I have to go and greet them.

"F * ck, are you going to pay a visit to the pier?"

that's possible. After the Guild is established, even if it's one of the powers in Dangyang city, it's still acceptable for all the docks to pay their respects. It's just that this setting in the game is a little too real.

"Hehe, this is interesting."

"I hope it's done quickly and I don't have to complete the dungeon again. I still want to go to sleep. I haven't slept for a day and a night."

"F * ck, if I can solo a red boss, I'd be happy to not sleep for a week."

Zhang Shan was stunned.

"Everyone, gather at the Civil Affairs officer. We need 50 initial members to establish a Guild. Fortunately, our people are online now. "Feng Yun realm said in the party channel.

"Wuwuwu, I'm not happy. I just woke up a little later, but you didn't wait for me to clear the instance. " one of the guild leaders who didn't make it to the dungeon just now said.

there wasn't much fun in the dungeon just now. I was either killing small monsters or watching the divine weapon boss invincible against the BOSS.

"Hmph, you're still trying to act innocent after getting an advantage."

alright, everyone's here. I'll submit the Guild creation proposal. It'll be done soon. feng yun realm said excitedly.

after a short while, the system announcement sounded.

System announcement, 'congratulations to player Feng Yun realm for creating the first guild organization in the New World.

The reward is a Guild residence, a Guild skill, and a random Guild facility.

It was finally done.

World Channel

God of War Li Jing: " brother world, you're so lucky. You got a heroes order after one dungeon run? ""

Other than the Guild members, no one else knew that when Zhang Shan killed the priest in the Bowang wilderness, he had dropped the heroes order. They had thought that he had dropped it after clearing the dungeon."

Feng Yun realm: "no, I got the heroes order a long time ago. Clearing the dungeon is the prerequisite task for building a Guild.

"So ruthless?" fearless asked. It was already very difficult to get the heroes 'order, but he still had to complete the pre-mission to clear the dungeon. This was too much."

Freedom King: "I just want to know how you guys cleared the dungeon. Such a fierce boss, anyone who went up to it would be dead. How did you guys withstand the boss?"

Subjugator: "you're so stupid. Their Guild's godly equipment bro can kill a boss alone. Would it be difficult for a team to fight it?"

Freedom King: "it's the item that I used in my first fight. They wouldn't have a second one, would they??"

dragon of the nine provinces replied, 'we still don't know if brother divine weapon killed the boss with an item. By the way, brother artifact, where's the video you were talking about? I've been staring at the forum for a long time."

Zhang Shan felt a little dizzy. He had almost forgotten. He had agreed to upload the video when he went offline. In the end, he had been pulled into a dungeon and had forgotten about this matter.

He didn't even have the time to make the video.

Six-pipe Bodhisattva: "I'm sorry, big bosses. I was called by the boss to clear a dungeon just now, so I didn't have time to upload the video. I'll get it done right away.

...

Within an hour on the world Channel, the first sentence would cost one gold coin, the second ten gold coins, and the third one a hundred gold coins.

Now that the game had been open for a while, this amount of gold was nothing to the big shots.

It was a piece of cake to say two or three sentences in a row.

the Guild is finally completed. You guys can decide which direction to choose for the Guild residence. There are four directions to choose from. Feng Yun realm asked for everyone's opinion.

“east of the city. purple comes from the east. it’s a good start.”

“The east of the city, then.”

f * ck, have you guys seen the Guild skills? they’re very strong. Attack power increases by 5%. As long as you’re a guild member, you can get them automatically.

no way. Doesn’t that mean I have an extra talent? ”

“Haha, this feels good.”

Zhang Shan took a look. It was true. He had an additional skill.

[Learning Mastery (Guild skill): if you master the skills of your class, your attack power will be increased by 5%. This skill will be automatically acquired by guild members. If you leave the Guild, the skill will disappear.]

...

“Boss, let’s go. Let’s see the Guild residence we’ve chosen. What’s the location and layout like?”

“Of course it’s a good place with good Fengshui, hehe.”

“I’ll go over first. You guys follow me later. Feng Yun realm teleported away after he finished speaking.

After checking the location information in the team, the others also teleported over.