Chapter 52 The end of the event

After clearing the small monsters, they took down M's Elite Captain in less than 20 minutes.

this time, the little secretary died again. her equipment was not as good, but she could not take it.

Everyone had no energy to curse.

This time, the BOSS did not drop anything good. There was only one orange equipment, an orange bow. They let one of the archers in the party, LO, go.

The rest were all level 25 purple equipment. In the eyes of the bosses, they were trash and not worth mentioning.

Instead, it dropped another orange material, which was claimed by someone else. This time, Zhang Shan's luck was average.

With 50 people playing solo, the chances of them winning were not high. They would have to get more materials in the future.

In any case, he didn't know what these materials were used for.

After defeating this orange BOSS, there was one more person in their Guild who entered the top ten of the leaderboard.

zhang shan was in first place, feng yun realm was in second place, the secretary was promoted by one place to seventh place, and feng yun one blade was in the top ten, tenth place.

If they could stabilize their current ranking by the end of the event, it would definitely be a great harvest.

there were so many players in the new world, and their guild alone occupied four of the top ten places.

It would definitely attract a lot of attention.

let's go and find another purple boss to kill. There are still a few minutes left, so we should be able to make it in time.

Windcloud blade anxiously called out.

He was currently ranked 10th, so his ranking was a little unstable. He had to earn more contribution points. Otherwise, he might be surpassed very quickly.

There were still six to seven minutes left. It would be difficult to kill a purple boss. After all, it would take a lot of time to clear the small monsters.

However, he still had to give it a try. What if he succeeded? wouldn't he gain quite a lot of contribution points?

Even if they didn't kill the BOSS, clearing the small monsters would still be considered as contribution points, although the reward was a little less.

but little by little, it would make a mickle.

Contribution points were good stuff. They could be exchanged for merit points. When the merit points reached a certain amount, they would be given an official position and he could get a salary.

Zhang Shan's current official position was only a Sergeant. He could only receive one gold coin a week. If he wanted to be promoted to a Centurion, he would need 5000 merit points.

Before the city defense event, he didn't know where to get merit points. The first kill of a BOSS only gave 100 merit points.

To get to the 100th boss level, he needed to kill 50 orange bosses and above. It was a setting that made him despair.

Now that there was another way to obtain merit points, there was a little hope.

Think about it, if he was promoted to the position of general and received 10000 gold coins a week, he would not have to work hard anymore and could live a carefree life in the New World.

work hard, don't miss out on the weekly city defense event, and try to get as many contribution points as possible.

The group quickly found a purple BOSS.

During the monster siege, there would be countless bosses in the city. As long as you were strong enough, there would always be bosses for you to fight.

After the Secretary pulled the BOSS, everyone started to clear the small monsters.

It was less than five minutes after the event ended. It should have been difficult to kill the BOSS after clearing the small monsters.

After all, the small monsters had 100000 HP. Even Zhang Shan had to take about half a minute to kill one, and the others were even slower.

at this moment, feng yun realm said,

"Six-barreled, one blade, and I will fight the BOSS first. You guys clear the small monsters and try to kill them before the event ends."

"Alright then. The contribution points for bosses are still higher. If you guys defeat the boss, your ranking should be able to stabilize."

"Don't worry, I can kill a boss with 2000000 HP in five minutes. Just wait to open the treasure chest, hehe."

Zhang Shan said confidently.

His current damage output was at least three times higher than when he had first fought the priest. His weapon had been unsealed once, and he had two more accessories.

there were all sorts of critical effects, and it was very common to trigger them now. from time to time, he could hit a critical hit and other special effects.

His damage output was greatly increased.

With Feng Yun realm, the Secretary and one blade, it was not a problem to deal two million damage in five minutes.

Time passed quickly, and the BOSS's HP also dropped rapidly.

Finally, when the event was about to end, the demon elite squad leader was beaten up by the four of them.

The others had not even finished clearing the small monsters yet. More than 30 small monsters with more than 100000 health points took them more time than a purple BOSS.

No one was looking forward to the loot dropped by the purple demonic elite party leader. The chances of it dropping anything good were basically zero.

Everyone was only concerned about the ranking of the city defense contribution points, and hoped that nothing else would happen in the end.

[system announcement: due to the players 'hard work, the Nephilim race's attacking forces have been repelled.] Players could check their own ranking on the event leaderboard.

The event reward treasure chest has been sent to the player's personal mailbox. Please check it.

the city defense contribution points have been automatically converted into the corresponding merit points. please take a look.

"F * ck, that was close. I almost dropped out of the top ten. The 11th place is only a few hundred contribution points less than me. wind and cloud blade called out happily.

"Dog shit luck."

"You guys can be jealous and wait for me to get a divine artifact."

...

"Take your eyes and look carefully. It's impossible to get a divine weapon from a 3-star Treasure chest. Only a 5-star Treasure chest has a slight chance of getting a divine item."

"Stir? what's the situation? Let me see."

Eh? zhang shan opened his mailbox and took out the treasure chest. at the same time, he saw the mechanism of the items that came out of the treasure chest during the city defense event.

A 5-star Treasure chest had a one in ten thousand chance of dropping a divine-rank item.

A 4-star Treasure chest had a one in ten thousand chance of dropping a spiritual-level item.

A three-star Treasure chest had a one in ten thousand chance of dropping a red item.

2-star Treasure chests had a one in ten thousand chance of dropping an orange-colored item.

A one-star Treasure chest had a one in ten thousand chance of dropping a purple-colored item.

“Stir? what the hell? a 3-star Treasure chest can only give out red-colored items, and there’s only a one in ten thousand chance? That’s too much. What’s the use?”

“we’ve all entered the top 10000 of the leaderboard. there’s a possibility of getting orange equipment from a 2-star treasure chest. it’s not bad.”

“Damn, in the end, it still depends on luck. wind and cloud blade’s face was filled with displeasure.

“don’t be so smug. although the probability of getting a red equipment from a 3-star treasure chest is only one in ten thousand, the probability of getting an orange equipment is definitely much higher.”

“That’s right, give it to me if you don’t want it.”

“You guys want to eat shit?”

“I’m not going to talk to you anymore. I’m going to open the treasure chest.”

f * ck, what kind of trash is this? didn’t they say that a 4-star Treasure chest would give orange equipment? why did they give me a white material? ”

“is it so difficult to open chests? I was so scared that I didn’t even do it. ” look at me. Show me the red equipment. Initially, Windcloud blade had some confidence in his 3-star Treasure chest.

now, he had no confidence at all and was just trying to save face.

haha, not bad. An orange-colored material. I guess I didn’t waste my time. Wind cloud blade laughed maniacally.

Even though it was far from what he expected, the orange material was still a comfort. It was better than a blank slate.

boss, yours is a four-star Treasure chest. It might give you a spiritual weapon. Hurry up and open it.

Although Zhang Shan’s five-star Treasure chest was of a higher grade, no one cared about him. They were afraid that he would receive a blow, in case Zhang Shan opened another legendary weapon.

Their young hearts might not be able to take it.
