Chapter 88 two against Wolf King

after everyone had arrived, they started to clear the nearby wolves. however, the wolves here respawned a little too quickly.

He felt that he had just cleared it when more new ones appeared.

“Boss, what should we do? fight here? there are too many wild wolves here, and they’re constantly refreshing.”

let’s fight here. It’ll take a long time to pull the wolf King to a place with fewer monsters. There’s no need for that. We’ll just leave a few people to clear the wild wolves.

Zhang Shan changed his cloak to the Secretary.

The wolf King’s critical damage was too strong. Although the little Secretary was tanky, it was still a little unsafe to wear his own cloak.

Changing into Zhang Shan’s purple cloak, he was much stronger and was not afraid of flipping over.

after everyone had cleared the nearby wolves, the secretary went forward to attack the boss. zhang shan and the rest immediately joined in the attack.

He had the experience of fighting the wolf King before, so there was nothing to worry about. He just did it.

Before the wolf King’s ultimate move, it was a small matter and easy to deal with.

“Do you know the background of the Dragon King of the East Sea?”

Zhang Shan had always found traversing Four Seas ‘sudden rise to prominence strange. A group of rich big shots had appeared out of nowhere.

Moreover, he had attacked the wind and cloud Guild from the very beginning. It felt like he had a very powerful background.

“Traversing Four Seas was founded by a bunch of sea merchants. They are all very rich.”

f * ck, doesn’t that mean we’ll be in trouble in the future? we can’t afford to offend rich people.

brother Liu Guan, what are you worried about? this is a game. Money is not everything.

you can do anything if you have money. If you want any equipment or skill book, just buy them.

“you’re thinking too much. sell your divine artifact to me, i have money.”

Zhang Shan was speechless.

If the divine artifact wasn’t bound to him, he might have sold it before. However, he clearly wouldn’t sell it now.

What was the point of having so much money? it was fine as long as it was enough. People only needed money when they were short of it. He didn't seem to be short of money now.

"I don't have divine artifacts, but I have a life."

"You have two lives,"

the influence of the New World is getting bigger and bigger. There will only be more and more people like traversing Four Seas in the future, and there is a possibility that many large financial groups will be involved.

"that's right. i heard that many companies that are not related to games are setting up game studios in preparation to enter the new world."

they must have nothing better to do. They should focus on running their business. Why do they want to enter the New World? "

Zhang Shan could not understand. It was still acceptable for a game company or a live streaming platform to join a new world.

Why did those unrelated companies also want to enter the New World?

brother Liu Guan, you're still too young. Capital is after profit. There are so many players in the New World, and the market is so big. How can those who play with capital let them go? of course, they have to participate.

sigh, the top ten guilds in the game will definitely be reshuffled in the future. I wonder how many guilds will be able to survive.

don't be so fixated on the Guild rankings. Who cares if it's the top ten or not? we just have to have fun. If anyone dares to provoke us, we'll just cut them down.

hehe, just like brother Liu Guan, the Dragon King of the East Sea is a billionaire, but he was beaten to death by you in the game.

"F * ck, is the Dragon King of the East Sea so rich? i'm a little scared. will they cause me trouble in the future?"

"Of course he's rich. Do you know how many ships he has in his fleet? do you know how much money he can make from one trip? It's much more than you think."

"As for finding trouble with you, that's for sure. Don't big shots care about their face? Your face is already swollen."

"I'm getting more and more scared by what you're saying."

what are you afraid of? you have a divine weapon in your hand. Who can Cut You Down? it's already good enough that you don't go and find trouble with others.

that's right. As long as the Dragon King of the East Sea is not a fool, he probably won't dare to mess with you for three to five months. Of course, if there's a chance, he won't let it go.

That's right. What's there to worry about? who can beat him? Who knew how long it would take for others to get their hands on a divine weapon?

at that time, he might even have a bunch of passive skills and could easily beat up a group of people. what was there to be afraid of?

Talent was Zhang Shan's Foundation in the New World. As for the divine weapon, it was just an additional flower on top of a brocade.

In the future, he had to work hard to farm passive skills. If he saw monsters with passive skills, he would farm dozens of passive skills. If he could kill the demon God, why would he need to be afraid of pay-to-win big shots?

no matter how rich you are, can you defeat a demon god?

zhang shan liked it more and more. the passive king talent was so strong that it was explosive. he liked it so much.

pay attention, the wolf King's HP is about to reach 5000000. Clear all the wild wolves nearby and prepare to focus on the wolf King's big move.

the wolf king was easy to deal with. only the big move, wolf pack attack, was a bit disgusting. it could summon hundreds and thousands of wild wolves at once.

No matter what he did, it would make people flustered. There were really too many of them.

Other than the ranged soldiers who could attack the wolf King from a distance, the others quickly got into formation. The Warriors were on the periphery, while the ranged soldiers were at the back.

the support was protected in the middle.

It didn't take long for the wolf King's HP to drop to 5000000. As expected, it began to cast its big move.

A large number of wild wolves rushed out.

However, this time, they were well prepared. They cleared the monsters summoned by the wolf King in an orderly manner.

...

In less than five minutes, everyone had cleared the small monsters and continued to fight the boss.

Next, the wolf King released two more big moves, which were easily taken care of by them until it was blown up.

This was how bosses were like. The first time they fought a boss, they didn't have any strategy or experience. When facing the boss's skills, it was easy for all kinds of accidents to happen.

However, after fighting it once, it could no longer be considered as fighting a boss. It could only be considered as killing a boss.

it was no different from killing small monsters. the only difference was that the team had to be strong enough to kill bosses.

The wolf King fell to the ground, giving Zhang Shan another 500000 experience. However, this amount of experience was not of much use to him now.

It would take at least a day and a half to level up to level 26, which required 75 million experience.

Zhang Shan was looking forward to the wolf King dropping some good stuff. He did not dare to think about the divine weapon mission item, but it would be good if it dropped a divine material.

After Feng Yun realm displayed all the drops, he said, for the loot this time, six-barreled Bodhisattva will pick one first. The rest will be rolled according to the requirements. He's always the one who finds the BOSS and deals the most damage.

no problem. Every time we fight a BOSS, I feel like I'm taking advantage of the boss. It's embarrassing.

" yeah, godly equipment bro's damage alone is comparable to the seven of us. without him, the BOSS would have used a few more skills, which would have greatly increased the difficulty of the battle. "

" the key is that we can't find the red BOSS. we can't fight it even if we want to. brother divine equipment seems to be fated with the red BOSS, hehe. "
