

Passive Skills 89

Chapter 89 the heart of nature

The wolf King had dropped a total of four pieces of equipment, two red and two orange, a special item, and a skill book.

One of the red-colored equipment was a pair of strength-type boots, while the other was a bow. There was no need to consider the orange-colored equipment.

it was a skill book for berserkers and was very powerful.

Berserker's Fury.

this was the first time zhang shan had seen this skill book. it was extremely powerful.

[Berserker's Fury: Level 1. Increases attack by 10% for 10 seconds. Class requirement: Berserker.]

a level 1 skill would increase 10%, and if the skill was maxed out, it would increase attack by 100%, which was very powerful.

It also had a duration of ten seconds, which was much better than the Hunter's fanatic skill. Fanatic increased attack speed, but it only lasted for six seconds.

When these two skills were compared, they were on a completely different level.

It was definitely something that could be sold at a high price.

if not for that special item, which was a little special, zhang shan would not even need to consider. he would definitely choose the skill book.

Although he couldn't use it, he could sell it. Whether he put it up for auction or sold it to other people in the Guild, he would still earn a lot of gold coins.

However, that special item seemed to be more suitable for him.

[Nature's heart: special item. When used on a pet or summoned creature, it can strengthen it in a certain aspect.]

Zhang Shan was a little conflicted. The description of the special item was a little unclear. Didn't special items have different levels?

For example, the hand of maedas that he was equipped with was a spirit-level special item. This heart of nature actually had no level description. Could it be a blank slate?

if this was a white grade, even if he used it on the panda baby, it wouldn't increase his attributes by much.

It's a bit of a scam, it's not easy to choose.

"Brother six steward, have you thought about what you want? if you choose a skill book, you must sell it to me. I'll pay a high price."

"Get lost. I'll add whatever he offers."

“Don’t worry, I haven’t decided which one to choose yet.”

“Do you still need to consider this? These are all things that you can’t use, so of course you’d choose the most valuable one. This skill book is the most valuable one.”

“I can use it. The heart of nature can be used on the Panda baby.”

“You want a normal special item? are you kidding me?”

“Are you sure it’s a whiteboard? How can a red BOSS drop a white grade boss? it doesn’t make sense.”

“Eh? That’s a problem, but if the item isn’t labeled, aren’t they all white boards?”

Zhang Shan didn’t want to think about it anymore. Anyway, he wasn’t short of money now. The ten million in his card was still lying there and he had not touched it.

he still had more than seven million gold coins. there was no need to give up something useful for him just to sell it for money.

No matter what level this heart of nature was, it was enough to increase the Panda baby’s strength.

Even if it could only be improved by a little.

The Panda baby was very important to him, especially when fighting bosses alone. Now, if he wanted to fight an orange-colored boss of the same level, he was still a little lacking.

the main thing was that the panda baby’s health was not high enough, and it could not recover quickly enough. without a support to heal it, it could not hold off the orange boss the entire time.

If he strengthened it, he might be able to solo an orange-colored BOSS in the future. It would be a dream.

If he wanted to solo a Demon God, he would have to start working hard by soloing an orange-colored BOSS.

“I want this heart of nature. You guys can roll for the rest.”

brother divine weapon is so generous. Are we going to bet on this? ”

I’ll give it a try. I can’t use the others anyway, so there’s no need to sell them.

After Feng Yun realm gave the heart of nature to Zhang Shan, he organized the ROLL for the other equipment.

the four pieces of equipment were rolled for. although the equipment was of the highest quality, everyone was more concerned about the ownership of the skill book.

One by one, the Berserkers rolled their dice.

80?67?91?53.....

Windcloud blade prayed as he rolled the dice. 92.

“Haha, this skill book is mine.”

what are you happy about? I haven't even thrown the dice yet. Let's see the rebirth of the dice God.

After a certain person finished speaking, he rolled the die first, 1.

what the f * ck, do you have to be so face-smacking? even if you can't roll, at least give me a higher number.

loser, you still have the nerve to compete with me in points? this is mine, right? boss, quickly give me the skill book.

Windcloud blade took the skill book and immediately learned it.

it's a pity that I don't have enough skill points. If only I could Max out my skills. I'll be able to activate Berserker's wrath, charge, and two-blade stream, dealing four times the damage. I'll be able to slash whoever I see.

don't be so smug. Can someone comfort my broken heart? I was so close.

"Find a corner and cry."

Zhang Shan did not have time to care about these idiots. He took out the heart of nature and read the description carefully.

...

How do I use this? If it was used on a pet, could it be for the Panda baby?

let's give it a try.

zhang shan took the heart of nature and fed the panda baby. it was really okay.

I didn't notice any changes after feeding it. Could it be a fake?

He checked the pet's attributes.

The Panda baby now had more than 110000 HP. It was practically a mini-boss.

Zhang Shan remembered that the Panda baby's HP was around 40000 before. This heart of nature had directly doubled the pet's HP.

Damn, the effect was a little too good.

With a pet with 100000 health points, tanking the damage of an orange boss was a piece of cake. If there was a healer, the red boss could be easily held back.

The Panda baby's other attributes did not change. The heart of nature purely strengthened the pet's health.

At first, he thought it was just a common special item. What level was this effect? It wasn't easy to be sure.

...

It was definitely above red.

“Brother Liu Guan, did you give the heart of nature to the Panda baby?”

“I’ve used it,”

“What attribute did you strengthen?”

“Increase the pet’s health points.”

“the heart of nature. from the name, it should be related to health points. not bad. it’s good for the baby’s health points to increase a little.”

the problem is how much it has been strengthened. It’s useless to increase a few hundred HP.

“This, the increase is a little too much.”

“what do you mean? A little too much, how much is it?”

it’s probably twice as much. The baby Panda’s HP is now 110000.

“what the f * ck, can you not be so perverted? isn’t it a white item? How can the effect be so good? it’s too unscientific.”

maybe it’s not a white item. There might be some mechanism to the item, but it’s something we don’t understand.

the little Secretary is going to lose her job. She has brother divine weapon’s Panda baby. What’s the use of having a useless person like him? ”

Feng Yun’s little Secretary was in tears. As a tank, he was actually inferior to a pet.

Although he could forcefully pull the aggro, Zhang Shan’s damage output was so high. If he used his pet to tank the BOSS, he did not have to worry about others stealing the aggro.

there was no use for him in the future. when fighting bosses, he could only watch and couldn’t go up to fight them. otherwise, he would mess up the aggro and be of no help.

” i think it’s not the secretary who’s going to lose her job, it’s us who are going to lose our jobs. godly equipment bro can take on most of the bosses with a few support players, so why do we need to be here? ”

“Humans are inferior to beasts.”

Let’s go, let’s go, sadness.
