Chapter 90 Boss Wu enters the game

After the boss was defeated, the others read the return Channel to the city. Only Zhang Shan, with a big red name, continued to bitterly farm monsters.

Red names couldn't return to the city.

It felt good to kill people, and it felt good to kill people.

However, red names were a different story. After being red-named, one couldn't die passively and couldn't return to the city. Otherwise, one would be doomed if they were locked in a small black room.

He could take his time, he was just an emotionless brush anyway.

After killing monsters for an hour, he could clear about 100 sin points. By 7 or 8 pm, he should be able to clear his name.

Time passed by slowly.

Damn, the red name was finally gone.

Channeling back to the city, Zhang Shan didn't want to farm here for even a second.

Although he had been grinding here for a few days and had never felt impatient, he still felt uncomfortable when he was grinding red names.

The feeling of being bound by a red name was really unpleasant.

I'll put the axe up for auction when I get back, and I hope it can be sold for a good price.

After returning to the city, he teleported to the auction house and put up the Red Axe dropped by the Dragon King of the eastern sea for auction.

The starting price was one copper coin, with no upper limit.

The starting price was one copper coin. It was not that Zhang Shan looked down on the Dragon King of the East Sea, but he was only worth this price.

As for his axe, since it had been affected, he decided to give it a copper coin as a token of appreciation.

A billionaire is nothing. If you're not happy, come and cut me down.

Let's set the auction to last for two hours. It just so happens to be during this time. It was within a day.

When the number of players online was at its peak, regardless of whether they were just playing casually or playing professionally.

From eight to ten at night, who wouldn't go online and play a few rounds in the game?

After setting up the item auction, he confirmed.

With another wave of advertisements, even the fragrance of wine was afraid of the depths of the alley.

after all, it had been more than half a day since the incident, and those big shots might have forgotten about it. they had better not let someone really take away a copper coin.

The world Channel:

the Dragon King battleaxe has been put up for auction. The starting bid will be one copper coin, and the auction will last for two hours. Friends who are interested, you can go to the auction house to find out more.

“F * ck, one copper coin? The cheapest red equipment in history, do you have it?”

don't fight over it. I'll take this axe for one copper.

the boss of the divine weapon is trying to offend the Dragon King of the East Sea. What a slap to the face. Is the weapon used by the president of vertical and horizontal only worth one copper? ” so what if I offend him? who would the divine artifact boss be afraid of? ”

that's right. He's a ruthless character who's chasing and killing more than a hundred people. Would he be afraid of offending people? ” the Dragon King of the East Sea is not a good person either. He deserves it.

“he deserves it. he just established his guild, yet he doesn't know how high the sky is. he even dared to run wild in dangyang city.”

yeah, even if the divine weapon boss can't kill them, the wind and cloud Guild can easily crush them.

maybe he's played too many Capital Games. He thinks that playing games is the same as playing with capital, that he's the boss with some money.

the commenter above is right. Work hard, young man. We can't be defeated by these big shots in the future.

“no water, let's go and farm monsters. i'll go and farm monsters after i get the axe.”

“What the f * ck, we still have to get the axe first before farming monsters? Can't we kill some monsters first before bidding for the axe?”

After the advertisement was out, the effect was not bad. It immediately attracted the attention of the big shots.

After the axe was put up for auction, Zhang Shan did not leave immediately. Since he had returned to the city, of course, he had to check out the auction house first. Who knows, he might be able to pick up some scraps.

He didn't need to look at his equipment. He wasn't going to change his level 20 purple equipment for the time being.

The main thing was to see if there were any divine materials.

Zhang Shan carefully selected the materials.

What? Someone was really selling divine materials?

[material: a mysterious substance]

The starting price is 100 gold coins, and the buyout price is 1000 gold coins.

The player who sold this item couldn't have gotten it from killing small monsters, right? Otherwise, it wouldn't be sold at such a cheap price.

Fortunately, this item had just been put up for auction not long ago. Otherwise, even if others didn't know what this material was used for, they would still be able to obtain it.

After all, the buyout price was only 1000 gold coins, which was a lot for the big shots.

It's good to spend a little money to buy it and save it first. Who knows, it might be useful in the future.

Hurry up and buy it at the buyout price, don't let someone else beat you to it.

The item had been won. Now, Zhang Shan already had two divine materials on hand. He would slowly integrate them, and try to integrate more before the others made divine artifacts.

He stored the divine materials in the warehouse and went offline to eat.

Taking off his gaming helmet, Zhang Shan quietly lay on his bed for a while.

today was a good day. the dragon king of the east sea had given him a red axe to beat the wolf king and get the heart of nature.

Greatly increases the Panda baby's HP.

Also, he had actually picked up a bargain in the auction. He could not believe that he had bought a divine material with 1000 gold coins.

The New World was indeed filled with endless possibilities and was filled with all sorts of colors.

It had been more than a week since the game started. He wondered if boss Wu had plans to come and play. He would give him a call to ask.

The call connected.

"Boss Wu, are you off work yet?"

"You got off work early. We don't get overtime pay. I always leave on time."

"Have you played the New World yet?"

"No, the helmet is too expensive. I can't bear to buy it."

...

Hearing these words again, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh. The pressure of an ordinary worker, after having a family, was really not the usual kind of big.

Zhang Shan was single. He could not feel it himself, but from the changes in his friends around him, he could still feel the pressure of their lives.

It was difficult to beat up workers.

“I’ll buy one for you and send it to your house.”

“There’s no need. You’re pretty miserable yourself.”

“I’m doing alright. I’m doing pretty well in the new world and made some money.”

“F * ck, it’s only been a few days and you’ve already made money in the game?”

“Hehe, I’m lucky.”

“Really?”

of course it’s true. You can go to the forum and look around. You’ll see my real name. My character is called six-pipe Bodhisattva.

“F * ck, I’ve seen the forum. You’re the big boss of the divine artifact? When did you become so powerful?”

I’m lucky. I got a good talent at the start and then got a divine weapon. Otherwise, I’d just be a loser.

“This luck, your ancestral grave must be smoking, how can you encounter so many good things?”

“Maybe I was too unlucky in the past. My luck has changed recently, hehe.”

alright, then you can help me buy it. Just treat it as beating up a nouveau riche.

it’s a small matter. I’ll place the order later. The express delivery will arrive in half an hour.

“Alright, I’ll add you as a friend after we enter the game. I’ve already thought of the name, Daoist priest with a sword. Remember to pass it.”

“I’ll add you later. I’ve turned off my friend function, so I can’t add anyone else. Otherwise, I’ll have too many people to add and it’ll be endless.”

“Niubo, the treatment of a big celebrity.”

hehe, I’ll hang up first. I still have to go eat. I’ll add you in half an hour.
