Chapter 97 roll call

Seeing Feng Yun realm's group appear and about to meet up with Zhang Shan, the members of traversing Four Seas broke down.

They had already resigned themselves to their fate if they couldn't win the Guild challenge.

But they only wanted to cut down Zhang Shan. Was this goal already impossible to achieve?

"Dragon King, what should we do now? Are we still going to chase?"

"Retreat! Defend our war banners!"

The Dragon King of the East Sea waved his hand weakly, turned around, and ran back.

there was no longer a chance to take down zhang shan. facing feng yun realm's 50-man team, even though the dragon king of the east sea still had some advantage in numbers, he was still in a disadvantageous position.

However, this advantage would not be of any use. Zhang Shan's damage output was too abnormal. He could suppress a group of people alone.

Just now, they had even more people. There were only about 30 people around Zhang Shan, and they had not been able to cut him down.

Now, with the 50 players that Feng Yun realm had revived, there was no chance.

It's better to return to the war banner and defend.

Although they might not be able to defend to the end, with the attribute bonus of the battle flag, at least they could fight with dignity.

The Dragon King of the East Sea had become a Buddhist.

What else could he do? if he couldn't win, he could only accept his fate.

The thing he regretted the most now was that he had been too arrogant after establishing the Guild. He had wanted to make a name for himself too much and had been too high-profile.

he should have kept a low profile and developed slowly.

By the time traversing Four Seas developed and expanded in the game, their fame would naturally rise as well.

He even dared to challenge the wind cloud Guild and cross cities to kill Zhang Shan. his brain must have been fried. he needed to wake up.

They spent a lot of money in the game not because they had more money, but because they wanted to make more money through the game.

therefore, it was impossible to invest an unlimited amount of money, if the game's revenue could not make up for it.

It wouldn't be long before he stopped investing a large amount of money. After all, no one's money came from nowhere.

The Dragon King of the East Sea ran back dejectedly while recalling his recent mistakes.

After Zhang Shan met up with Feng Yun realm and the rest, they were not in a hurry to give chase as they would not be able to catch up in a short time.

Just like how the Dragon King of the East Sea had not caught up with Zhang Shan before, if the starting distance was wide and the speed was not much different ...

Unless the other party made a mistake, it would be difficult to catch up.

However, it didn't matter if they didn't give chase. This was a guild challenge map, and their goal wasn't to kill people.

As long as they cut down the enemy's flag or dragged it out until the time was up, it would be fine.

where else could the players from traversing four seas run off to? at most, they would return to guard their flag.

the divine artifact boss is awesome. He didn't even die.

of course he won't die. How can a person with two lives die so easily? "

[rebirth] is such an overpowered skill. Two lives is really too much.

that's because I'm strong. Even if I give you two lives, you'll still die.

that's right. Look at the combat power rankings. The divine weapon boss just killed more than 30 of them. It hasn't been long.

"A Big Boss with six tubes is really strong."

"I was just lucky. At the start, I was a little further away, so they didn't realize that I wasn't dead. By the time they realized, I had already run away, hehe."

Zhang Shan said humbly.

don't explain. It's a Big Boss 'Cape.

"Do any of you know the name of the Thunder scroll that the Dragon King of the East Sea used? It's really fierce."

Zhang Shan still had a deep impression of that scroll. It was too powerful. Such a powerful damage, such a large area of effect.

I don't know. I've never heard of it. But it's really fierce. It's such a waste to use it for a Guild War.

the scrolls should be related to skills. I wonder if players will have such powerful skills in the future? "

"That's impossible. You saw the damage and range of the Thunder scroll. How can a player have that? Boss skills are more like it. "

“it would be great if it was a player’s skill. thunder must be a taoist’s skill. then, wouldn’t i be able to learn it in the future?”

Feng Ling had a look of yearning on her face, as if she was about to have such a powerful move.

little beauty, wake up. Stop dreaming. You’re only a support. Do you want to be a tyrant? ”

&Nbsp; Hmph.

The crowd blew water as they ran, quickly returning to their own side’s middle battle flag.

“Boss, what do we do now? do we continue to defend the flag or go directly to the other side’s flag?”

” wait a minute. let’s ask about the situation at the side first. one blade, how’s the situation over there? are you guys cutting their flag? ” we’re cutting them down. We were clearing out the people just now. They left about ten people to defend, but they’ve been cleared out. We’re cutting down the flag.

“Can you cut the flag?”

Feng Yun realm is afraid that the enemy’s Warflag has high defense. Although it only has 1000000 HP, it will be hard to kill it if its defense is too high.”

don’t worry, I can. Their flag only has 1000 defense points. I can deal more than 1000 damage with one hit.

“Doesn’t that mean it can be cut down in two minutes?”

we’ve started to cut down the flag on our side. We’ll take it down in two minutes. Don’t worry, wait for me for the mid-Lane battle.

windcloud cannon was currently leading a team to cut down the flags at the bottom lane, afraid that they would not be able to make it in time for the last wave of battle at the middle lane.

alright, then we’ll wait in the middle lane first. After you guys are done cutting down the flag, gather in the middle lane and take them all in one go. We don’t have to wait for an hour.

Feng Yun realm arranged for the bandits to keep an eye on the middle lane while the rest of them stood under the battle flag, waiting for the side Lane to be cleared before launching the final attack.

[system notification: the wind and cloud Guild has cut down one of the enemy’s battle flags. They have won the first battle.]

[system notification: wind and cloud Guild has cut down the opponent’s second Battle flag with an unstoppable momentum.]

After cutting down two of the enemy’s flags, all the Guild members gathered in the middle lane. The large team of 200 players pushed toward the opposite middle lane.

The members of traversing Four Seas that had died earlier had all been resurrected, and the two hundred players were gathered under their mid lane battle flag.

200 players against 200 players. The number of players was equal, so the overall strength of the wind and cloud Guild should be slightly stronger.

On the other hand, traversing Four Seas had the additional attribute bonus from the battle flag, so there was not much of a difference between them.

When Zhang Shan reached the position of the enemy's battle flag.

Only then did he realize that the Dragon King of the East Sea had formed a turtle formation and was all shrinking near the battle flag.

"Boss, how do we fight this?"

zongheng's outer circle was filled with meat shields, and there were dozens of support players in the middle. if they didn't have some tricks up their sleeves, it wouldn't be easy to deal with them.

this formation is easy to deal with. We're humans, not monsters. All long-ranged attackers, focus your fire on one of us. Attack at the same time and kill one with each attack.

hehe, this is a good idea. It's an instant kill. No matter how many support players there are, it's useless.

There were hundreds of long-ranged classes in the wind and cloud Guild. Under Feng Yun realm's command, they attacked one by one.

Meanwhile, the Warriors stood guard around them, preventing the other party from abandoning their formation and charging over to engage in a chaotic battle.

The crowd focused their fire on them and called their names one by one.

In the beginning, the fallen tanks of the Guild were quickly rejuvenated by the auxiliary classes.

However, as more and more of them fell, the resurrection skill went into cooldown. I can't pull people in anymore.
