Chapter 98 The end

They watched as the meat shields on the outside were slowly peeled away by the wind and cloud Guild like bamboo shoots.

The Dragon King of the East Sea was anxious. He had originally wanted to stay under the battle flag. With the attribute bonus, he should be able to stay there until the time was up.

He would end this meaningless challenge with dignity.

However, things were going in another direction.

In fact, in a large team battle, using turtle tactics was just courting death. How could they defend if they just stood there and let others attack?

If this went on, they could not. If they all cowered and let the wind cloud Guild attack them like rabbits, it would be too hurtful.

“Disband the formation and fight with them. We’ll fight them to the death. One down is one.”

The members of vertical and horizontal quickly dispersed their formation. The Warriors launched death charge, and the other classes quickly followed.

Soon, both sides suffered casualties.

stay calm. Find your own teammates and form a small team. We’ll deal with them as soon as possible.

Seeing that his teammates were falling one after another, Feng Yun realm immediately ordered the battle to start in small teams.

They would compete in damage and cooperation.

After the Dragon King of the East Sea broke up his formation, he kept his eyes on Zhang Shan in the distance.

“A few meaty Warriors, we’ll charge and kill six-barreled Bodhisattva.”

After he finished speaking, he quickly ran towards Zhang Shan. When he was close enough, he used the charge skill and chopped at him with an axe.

This was the rhythm of seeking death. Zhang Shan had many teammates near him. It was simply a suicide.

f * ck, the Dragon King of the East Sea is charging at brother shenqi. Let’s kill him.

Zhang Shan did not even control the Panda baby and used his combo skills. All kinds of damage from his teammates nearby had already been dealt to the Dragon King of the East Sea.

With more than a dozen people attacking together, in addition to Zhang Shan’s damage, the boss of traversing Four Seas was dead once again.

haha, the head is mine. I cut down the Dragon King of the East Sea.

the wind cloud cannon shouted proudly.

call your ass. Pay attention to your positioning. Be careful of them charging at you.

sure enough, the wind and cloud cannon was targeted by a few warriors from the four seas guild before it could even get its head on.

f * ck, you dare to kill our boss? let's go together and chop him up.

Four to five Warriors charged at the wind Cloud Cannon together and hacked at it with their knives, instantly dying. The support didn't even have a chance to heal him.

he couldn't be handsome for more than three seconds.

They were both hunters, but did cannon think he was Zhang Shan? to dare to attract hatred, wasn't that just courting death?

Zhang Shan and his nearby teammates quickly defeated the few soldiers. It could be considered as revenge for the cannon.

The chaotic battle didn't last for long. As long as it wasn't a chase, the outcome of the battle between hundreds of people would be decided very quickly.

A large number of players from both sides fell to the ground. In general, the wind and cloud Guild still had the upper hand, with fewer players falling.

however, it was still very tragic. although guild leader feng yun realm was protected by a group of teammates, he was still cut down by all kinds of kitchen knives.

Even Zhang Shan was in danger from time to time. Fortunately, at the critical moment when he was controlling the Panda baby, he used a combo to kill one.

His other teammates helped him out and allowed him to last until the end.

Traversing Four Seas 'advantage had been lost, and only a dozen of them, big and small, had fled. Zhang Shan and the others did not chase after them.

Speed flag-cutting.

In the Guild challenge, killing people was secondary. Once the flag was cut, everything would be over. Why chase after people?

there were still 30 to 40 wind and cloud guild members left on the battlefield. they surrounded the enemy's war flag and attacked it non-stop.

Traversing Four Seas 'war flag had 1000000 HP and 1000 defense.

Zhang Shan could deal more than 3000 damage each time, and the other teammates could also deal a good amount of damage.

"cut quickly and try to cut down the flag before they revive and run back."

it seems a little difficult. The dozen or so that ran away just now have returned. They definitely won't let us cut the flag in peace.

"Don't worry about them. We can kill them at ease. There are only ten or so people. If they dare to rush over, we'll shoot them to death."

There were more than ten big and small cats, but Zhang Shan did not care at all. Only a team of tens or hundreds of people could make him retreat.

Would a dozen people dare to charge at him?

On this side, Zhang Shan was leading the team to quickly cut down the flag. The health of the battle flag was constantly decreasing. On the other side, the fish that escaped from the net of vertical and horizontal were also very conflicted.

It was uncomfortable to watch the other party cut down their flag, but if they rushed up, they would be sending themselves to death.

"boss dragon king, should we still attack?"

don't attack anymore. Let them attack. Let's end this quickly. It's my fault this time. From now on, we'll focus on leveling up and getting equipment. The game is still long.

[system notification: wind and cloud guild has cut down all of the enemy's battle flags. they have won the guild challenge.]

Please check the reward for winning in the Guild section.

After the notification, the challenge map closed. Zhang Shan and the rest were teleported back to the Guild base.

haha, he won just like that. He cut down all the flags in ten minutes. The opponent is a little weak.

it's a pity that the contribution points given by vertical and horizontal are too little. We only get a little over 1000 contribution points for 10% of the total contribution points. What a bunch of ghosts.

that's good enough. They've only established the Guild for a little over a day. Anyway, it's free. I'm envious of the big shots who participated in the war.

don't be envious of me. I'm just a bystander. I can do anything and the battle will be over.

" i got five contribution points. i'm just passing by with a hundred gold coins. "

"F * ck, there's a total of 500000 gold coins. Why are you only getting 100? are you a spectator? You didn't kill anyone?"

I've been killed twice. Where am I supposed to kill people? I'll have to run away after being resurrected. Sob sob sob.

holy sh * t, brother Liu Guan, you're almost 40% of the total combat power List. How many people have you killed? "

Windcloud blade asked in surprise.

I don't know. There should be around sixty to seventy of them.

Zhang Shan wasn't sure, but he just had to keep shooting. As for how many people he had killed, he had never really counted.

brother one blade, you're still alright. You killed a few people while you were on the side. We were on the middle lane and took damage from a scroll at the beginning. We all died. How could we kill anyone?"

that's right. At the end of the chaotic battle, the unlucky ones who are cut down first basically have no combat power to speak of.

hehe, our backup support team followed brother divine weapon and also got some combat strength.

"Dog shit luck."

zhang shan checked his own reward. he had received more than 180 thousand gold coins, and his personal contribution was less than 400.

It was a small gain.

now, the exchange rate of gold coins was close to one to one. a guild war had brought him about 200000 blue coins in profit.

It was a pity that guild challenges were rare. In the future, there should be very few stubborn people who would challenge their wind and cloud Guild.

This kind of benefit was hard to replicate.

Moreover, the wind and cloud Guild probably wouldn't challenge others. Firstly, there was a limit to the number of times they could challenge others. They could only challenge and be challenged once a week.

Secondly, those who took the initiative to challenge would have to pay a challenge fee. One million gold coins was not a small amount. Although Feng Yun realm was rich, he never spent money that was unnecessary.

The key was that the challenge was risky. This time, they were using the flag defense mode. The next time they came, it was uncertain if they would use another mode.

The announcement didn't say that the Guild challenge only had one mode.
