Chapter 494 – Survival!

The plane is less than 100 meters from the water!

Although the pilot is trying to pull up the plane, it is not slowing down!

Dong Xuebing does not want to sit there and wait for his death. He pulled his oxygen mask off and unfastened his seatbelt before jumping up onto his seat. He stepped on the backrest of the seats in front and tried to get onto the aisle. The plane jolt, and he fell face-down on the aisle.

“Get back to your seats!”

“The plane is making an emergency landing! Don’t leave your seat!”

Two stewardesses shouted at Dong Xuebing and others who are trying to open the emergency exit doors.

Dong Xuebing ignored them and started running towards the door!

A few others are doing the same as none of them felt the plane could land safely. Everyone felt jumping off the plane is the best option now. But the plane is still almost 100 meters from the waters, and it is equivalent to more than ten stories high. They might not survive from the impact even if they land in the sea. However... there is still a slim chance of survival.

Bam! Bam!

A black person is using his shoulder to bang against the emergency exit!

One time! Two times! Three times! The door is not bulging! There’s no way they can escape!

“Hurry up!”

“There’s no more time! Break down the door!”

“We can’t open it! The door had malfunction!”

Dong Xuebing reached the exit and looked at the instructions written on the door before shouting. “Step aside!” He kicked the door with all his strength!

Bam!

The door is still locked!

A Japanese couple and a few middle-aged men are trying to open another exit door, but they also failed to open it! Dong Xuebing gave the door a few kicks and cursed. How is this still considered an emergency exit?! It can’t even be opened in an emergency! Dong Xuebing does not know if it is a malfunction or the aircrew had locked it. He looked out of the windows and knew there’s no more time!

Ten meters.....

Five meters.....

One meter.....

Kaboom!

The cabin shook! Dong Xuebing and those who did not have their seatbelts on were flunked out!

The plane had landed! The pilot should be thinking of landing on the water to slow the plane before sliding onto the reef island!

Boom!

The luggage in the overhead compartment fell, and the plane felt like it’s going to break into pieces!

Dong Xuebing held on to a seat to steady himself. One second... two seconds... three seconds... a loud explosion happened! Before he died, he saw a fireball engulfed everyone in the cabin!

It’s pitch-black, and Dong Xuebing felt he had entered into a dream.

Dong Xuebing is very familiar with this feeling, as he knows he is dead. He did not feel any pain and died instantly.

The plane did not land successfully! It hit the reef island and exploded! The sea did not slow the plane down!

Damn! I cannot die like this!

BACK 60 Seconds!

“Argh!”

“It’s going to hit the water!”

Dong Xuebing felt a hint of giddiness and found himself back in his seat. His seatbelt is still fastened, and he is wearing the oxygen mask. He had returned to the moment before the crash!

Since the doors cannot be opened, then I shall break the windows!

Dong Xuebing did not wait and used his elbow to hit the window!

Bam! A crack immediately appears from the impact! Aircraft windows’ glass is less brittle compared to normal glass, but it can still be damaged!

Two hits!

Three hits!

Four hits!

The glass shattered!

Dong Xuebing immediately unfastened his seatbelt and grabbed an iPad from a piece of luggage, fallen off the overhead cabin. He used it to hit against the second layer of glass. Crack! The glass shattered from one impact. He quickly cleans the remaining glass shards sticking from the sides of the windows and sticks his head out. Shoosh! A strong suction almost tore his head off his neck!

Pain!

Dong Xuebing could not even breathe!

Dong Xuebing clenched his teeth and tried to squeeze his body out through the small window. But his life jacket is too big, and he had no choice but to remove it before trying again. Luckily, he is not fat and could climb out of the window!

When Dong Xuebing finally got half of his body out of the window, he was blown off by the strong winds!

Swoosh!

Dong Xuebing felt the world is spinning!

The burning wings, aircraft body, sky, sea, etc., are spinning around Dong Xuebing. He could not even make out his body's position and can only feel he is falling. This is a terrible feeling worse than death, and he has difficulties breathing!

OK!

Dong Xuebing felt it's time and shouted STOP!

His thinking is simple. He will use STOP to stop time and freeze himself in midair to lessen the impact of falling. After that, he will use STOP again to land safely into the waters.

Time stopped!

But two seconds later, Dong Xuebing felt excruciating pain throughout his body, and everything turns black again!

Dong Xuebing could tell the difference between fainting and dying. He paused for a second and knew he died again!

Why?

Is STOP not effective?! Why did he continue to fall?

Dong Xuebing thought about it and remembered his STOP could stop time for everyone and everything in the world, except for himself. When he used this power in the past, he could walk around, and gravity still affects him. He cannot apply the STOP effect on himself!

Is this not working?!

Am I going to die like this?!

BACK 70 seconds!

Time returned!

The plane is going to hit the water, and the passengers are screaming and crying!

Dong Xuebing is sitting in his seat, and he sighed. What should he do if everything did not work?! Is he going to sit there and wait for his death?!

Yes! Let me try this!

If this still doesn't work, then it's the end!

Dong Xuebing did not unfasten his seatbelt and took a few deep breaths to brace himself for the final escape plan. He must try it no matter what. He lifted his elbow and started banging against the window. One hit! Two hits! Three hits!

Very soon, both layer of glasses is broken!

A strong suction almost pulled Dong Xuebing out of the window!

“What are you doing?!”

“Don't break the glass! Are you mad?!”

A few passengers shouted as they could feel the strong air suction. They felt this is more dangerous!

Dong Xuebing didn't understand Japanese and ignored them. He is staring at the sea outside of the window!

Fifteen meters...

Ten meters....

Five meters....

One meter....

Crash! The plane dived onto the water! It is making the emergency landing!

Right now!

Dong Xuebing shouted STOP!

The moment Dong Xuebing shouted the command, a large explosion and fire engulfed the cabin and passengers!

Then... time stopped!

A bright flame solidified in front of Dong Xuebing. He could feel the heat, and most of the passengers are engulfed in the explosion. Some passengers' bodies are dismembered from the impact, and the flame swallows some. The aircraft debris pierced through some of the passengers' bodies, and the world is silent after STOP is used. He had seen many deaths, but the scene in front of him is too tragic, making him shiver.

Most of the passengers are dead!

They had died a tragic death!

A glass shard is hanging in the air just five to six centimeters away from Dong Xuebing's left temple. If he was one second late, he might be swallowed by the raging flames and died!

Dong Xuebing did not look at other passengers, as he doesn't even know if he can survive this air crash. The plane is no longer shaking, and he immediately unfastens his seatbelt to climb out of the window. He squeezed himself out of the window, and he had his life jacket on this time. The explosion had caused a large crack above the window, and a person's body can go through it. He lowered his head and jumped onto the burning wing! Only a small portion of the wing is left!

The aircraft had disintegrated. The front half of the plane had disappeared in the raging flames.

The sea is below the wing, and the noise of the plane had reached the reef island. The island is small and could not fit the plane. The pilot had made a mistake by trying to land on the reef island.

Dong Xuebing looked around and did not choose to go towards the reef island. If the plane exploded, the island might disappear from the impact. His only option is to jump into the sea and swim away to avoid getting caught up in the explosions!

Huff!

Dong Xuebing jumped off the plane.

Suddenly, Dong Xuebing found himself standing on the water! The raging waves had frozen, and it felt like he was standing on a concrete floor. He was stunned for a second. But he knew this is not the time to be amazed. He quickly runs on the sea, away from the plane and the reef island!

Ten meters....

Fifty meters....

Hundred meters....

Dong Xuebing doesn't have much time left, and he mumbled STOP!

Boom!

The plane exploded, and even the reef island is blown to bits by the impact! The island disappeared and sunk into the sea with the aircraft debris!

The explosion was so big that it created a ten meters wave!

Splash! Dong Xuebing, who had fallen into the water, was swallowed by the huge wave!

After that, he lost consciousness!
