The Peremptory Casey Davies

Chapter 1 Good-for-Nothing

"Young Master, please come back with us to B City to inherit the Davies family's assets."

"Your mother would like to apologize to you for the mistakes she made back then, and I also hope that you will ignore the past and focus on the greater good."

"As the top family of H Country, the Davies family can't be without a person-in-charge."

Casey Davies looked at the bowing, respectful old man in front of him with a sneer on his face.

"That evil-hearted woman went so far as to drive me out of the family in order to take control of the Davies family in the first place. She even blamed me for being a traitor to the family. She was afraid that I would take revenge on her so she forced me to become a useless wimp that everyone mocked in this small place of J City."

"Don't you think it's too late for you to remember me now that she's seriously ill?"

"I'm getting used to being the useless son-in-law of the Patel family in J City, I'm used to people saying that I'm a man who relies on my wife, I can't control Davies family's affairs, you guys should go back."

After saying that, Casey turned around immediately and left the place after throwing the garbage bag in his hand into the trash bin.

Despite the fact that his identity of being the heir of the Davies family could shock the world, Casey had no thoughts about revealing it.

Back when he was kicked out of the Davies family, he had lost all feelings for the Davies family.

He was now a useless son-in-law of a second-class family, the Patel family, and a well-known good-for-nothing wimp in J City. No one knew that he had once been the powerful young master of the Davies family in B City. But all of this was in the past. Although Casey was now living a miserable life, not having even four digits in his savings, he had no regrets. Casey took the fruit in his hand to the Patel family's old villa, today was the birthday banquet of the elderly master of the Patel family, a whole bunch of the Patel family's relatives would be there. It would be normal for mutual comparisons in occasions like this, and Casey made Edith Patel's family a joke to laugh about. The banquet began, and everyone in the Patel family began to present gifts to the elderly Master Francis Patel.

"Grandpa, I know you like antiques, this is the original calligraphy of a famous painter I found for you. Hope you can like it." The eldest grandson, Albie grinned as he presented the scroll. "Grandpa, I asked a friend from abroad to buy this jade, it cost a lot of money." The youngest and most favoured granddaughter, Nyla handed over a piece of jade.

Everyone was rushing to present their gifts, just to coax and make Master Francis happy. "Grandpa, can you... lend me half a million, PY Welfare House didn't raise any donations from people this year, it's already about to collapse, if this continues, the children inside will be homeless..." Right at this moment, Casey who was sitting at the very end of the table spoke up. The audience was in an uproar.

Mother-in-law Amara Stevens stood up directly and stretched out her hand to point at Casey's nose, cursing: "You idiot, do you know what you're talking about?"

J City's number one beauty and wife of Casey, Edith did not expect Casey to ask the old man for money at this time. She was so anxious that she stood up directly from her chair and spoke, "Grandpa, Casey is still half-asleep, you shouldn't take his words seriously." After saying that, she reached out and pinched Casey's arm mercilessly. Three years ago, when the elderly wife of Master Francis, Stella Martin was on her deathbed, she sought Casey and forced Edith to marry him. The goddess who was initially glorious to the eyes of everyone suddenly fell rock bottom. For three years, Casey didn't work but spent his days washing, cooking and throwing garbage. The reputation of this good-for-nothing had spread throughout J City, and the proud goddess back then had become a complete joke. But now, Casey was dragging himself down at Master Francis's birthday party.

"What a joke, it's grandpa's birthday banquet. It's fine if you don't give a gift, you even dared to ask grandpa for half a million. Casey, haven't you embarrassed the Patel family enough in the past few years? It's grandpa's birthday banquet and you came to borrow money, do you want to make grandpa die of anger?"

The one who spoke was Albie, who had always been regarded as the most complimentary young heir by Master Francis.

"I see that this idiot is being intentional, PY Welfare House is just an excuse, he's trying to dig grandpa's money to spend for himself. With his terrible IQ, I'm afraid maybe he can't even think of such a way, maybe this was Edith's orders."

Master Francis's favourite granddaughter, Nyla continued the insult, she had always been discordant and would do everything she can to tarnish Edith's name whenever she had the chance.

Seeing someone dragging Edith into this, Casey quickly explained, "No, no, no, I'm just borrowing from grandpa, I've been facing some financial problems lately, I can't come up with this much money, I'll definitely return it to grandpa in a few days."

"Don't talk nonsense here, you're just a useless wimp, you don't even have a job. If it was really lent to you, how are you going to return it?" Albie despised.

"That's right, you're just a good-for-nothing wimp from that bullshit PY Welfare House, do you want grandpa to raise a bunch of losers just like you? I think it's best for that PY Welfare House of yours to close down quickly." Nyla said with anger.

Casey bit his teeth as he listened to the people's accusations against him, back when he was homeless on the streets, it was PY Welfare House that took him in and he was able to grow up. Now that PY Welfare House was in trouble, he wanted to contribute. However, it was a bit too sudden and he didn't have that much money, that's why he thought of borrowing money.

Initially, he thought that everyone will each contribute a bit to help PY Welfare House. He did not expect to be treated in such a terrible way. He kept his thoughts on PY Welfare House, that was probably why he did not react much.

Master Francis was already livid at this moment, he glared at Casey and said: "How insolent, is your family is here to celebrate my birthday or to create more problems? Hurry up and get out of here, my birthday banquet will not tolerate a good-for-nothing trash like you. From now on, you are not allowed to participate in all banquets of the Patel family!"

"Grandpa, PY Welfare House is really having a hard time nowadays, those children need your help."

Casey gritted his teeth and refused to give up, his face full of sincerity. When Edith saw Casey's serious face, she sighed helplessly and said to Francis, "Grandpa, Casey really wants to help PY Welfare House, he grew up in PY Welfare House and has a deep affection for it, please help him."

Francis snorted cold-heartedly and spoke, "I think you've also been fooled by this wimp, get out with him and don't embarrass yourself in front of me!"

Amara saw the situation and quickly said to Edith, "What are you waiting for, hurry up and take this loser away, if you make grandpa angry again, our family will be finished."

Edith was helpless, she bowed to Francis and said: "Grandpa, I'm sorry."

Then, she dragged Casey outside.

"You have to keep an eye on this idling wimp, don't let him go out to tarnish the Patel family's reputation!" Albie's jeers could still be heard from the back.

Outside the villa, Edith let go of Casey like she was releasing a piece of trash.

"Edith, I'm sorry, the PY Welfare House is having a really difficult time right now, I have no choice, that's why I asked to borrow money from grandpa," Casey stated.

With disappointment in her eyes, Edith spoke, "What's the use of apologizing, you've already offended grandpa."

"Recently, grandpa wanted to buy an office building from TY Real Estate Company. This matter was very tough, TY Real Estate Company despised my family and wouldn't sell.

Now all I can do is find a way to make this matter successful to make up for your wrongdoings."

"I'm going to the office, you can go back by yourself."

After saying that, she walked away right towards the front.

"Edith," Casey shouted.

Edith stopped for a moment but did not turn back, "Casey, you've disappointed me too much."

After saying that, she walked away without looking back.

Casey looked at the back of Edith's desperate figure and took a deep breath, feeling a trace of guilt in his heart.

He did not stay where he was. After Edith left, he went straight to PY Welfare House.

Looking at the rusty door of PY Welfare House, Casey's heart was filled with emotion, he walked inside and saw many children squatting on the ground, not knowing what they were doing, so he walked over and asked, "What are you guys doing."

The group of children all raised their heads and smiled innocently when they saw that it was Casey.

In the past few years, Casey would come to PY Welfare House whenever he had time to help, and many of the children here knew him.

"Brother, we're digging for vegetables, Emelia Ward said we're running out of food, let's dig some wild herbs to eat so we can save food for our siblings." A slightly older child spoke up.

Casey stared at the "wild herbs" dug out by these children, it was simply some weeds, how can these children distinguish the wild herbs.

The more he saw them like this, the more painful Casey's heart felt. After instructing those children, Casey walked inside and came to the door of Emelia's room, somewhat hesitant. He couldn't borrow the money, he didn't know how to face Emelia.

He was taken in by PY Welfare House back then, and the one who had been taking care of him was Emelia, he had always regarded her as his saviour.

At this time the door opened by itself, Emelia came out. Seeing Casey, she immediately revealed a loving smile and said: "Casey, you came greeting, come in and sit down."

"Emelia, I won't sit down, I know that PY Welfare House is in difficult times, I'm still borrowing money, but don't worry, I'll definitely get the money," Casey stated.

"You don't have to worry about the money, a great benefactor donated two million today and gave us a lot of food, we managed to go through the difficult times." Emelia looked somewhat relieved.

Casey was stunned and asked, "A great benefactor? Who is it?"

"It's me." an old voice sounded.

Casey turned around and found an old man appearing behind him out of the blue.

"How come it's you again?"

Casey's face sank immediately, "Didn't I tell you guys to stay away from me?"

The old man's name was Jordan Lane, he was the butler of the Davies family, he sighed helplessly and spoke, "Young Master, I didn't finish my sentence in the morning. I know you might not be able to accept it at this moment, but the Davies family can wait until you come back to your senses."

After saying that, Jordan took out a black bank card from his pocket and handed it to Casey.

"This card is the black card from the World Bank, you can have unlimited withdrawals, there are only ten in this world, it's the Davies family's compensation for all these years."

"In addition to that, your mother bought TY Real Estate Company in J City. As long as you sign this contract, TY Real Estate Company will be yours in the future."

"I don't want it, go back and tell that woman that I'm not interested in anything from the Davies family."

"Don't bother me again."

Jordan said, "But young master, PY Welfare House won't be able to sustain itself without this money, and after it closes down, these children, they won't have a home to go back to."

Casey frowned, although he didn't want to use the Davies family's money, the children in PY Welfare House had to live right now.

In response to Jordan's words, Casey thought about it and said in a deep voice, "How much money is in this card?"

"Come back, Young Master, it's enough to buy all of the properties in J City."

"Cut the crap, how much is it?"

"Ten billion..." _____

Chapter 2 My Woman Must not be Insulted

Casey was shocked, he did not expect the Davies family to be so generous to give him ten billion. Maybe not even a single company in J City would be able to provide such an amount.

Indeed, the Davies family proved to be the elite family of B City.

"Young Master, the money in this card is just a compensation for the past years, whether you agree to come back with me, this money belongs to you."

"Besides, there is still a need for you to go over to TY Real Estate Company to complete the handover. I have already instructed the people there, as long as you go over, they will help you complete the handover right away."

"Here's my phone number, young master, think it over. After you have thought it through, ring me up. I'll be waiting at all times."

Jordan handed Casey a card with only his phone number written on it before turning around and leaving the place, not giving Casey another chance to speak.

Casey stared at both the bank card and business card in his hand for a while and remained silent for a long time.

"It's just that after all these years the Davies family owes me too much, much more than money can buy.

Besides, PY Welfare House is really in a dire need for money, and I can't fork out the money for some reason. I'll just keep this card." Casey muttered to himself.

After taking another look at the children in PY Welfare House to make sure that the money donated by Jordan was received and that there was also enough to eat, Casey left and headed home.

Edith's family lived in an old neighbourhood far away from the urban area. It was a two-room shabby hut.

Casey's father-in-law, Nicolas Patel was not a favourite in the Patel family, and since Nicolas's daughter was married to a loser like Casey, Francis was even more displeased with their family.

Nicolas could not get anything from the Patel family. In the past few years, they relied on Edith to stay alive.

When Casey arrived home, Amara and Nicolas were both sitting on the sofa with gloomy faces. Edith had also returned from the office, standing in front of the bookshelf, lost in thoughts.

"You rascal, you still have the nerve to come back, our family can't afford to support you anymore, so get out and never come back!"

Amara's long-accumulated anger instantly erupted, picking up a teacup on the table and throwing it at Casey.

Casey dodged quickly and the teacup fell to the ground. If it wasn't for his quick reaction, he would have left a hole in his head.

Amara glared at him and shouted, "You broke my cup, you must pay for it, ten times more."

"Got it, mom. I'll pay for it," Casey said, now that he was a man with ten billion dollars, not to mention a cup, even if it was ten gold cups, he could buy it back.

Amara thought that Casey was provoking her and blew her top, roaring, "Daughter, look at this shameless thing, he even dared to talk back, and you still don't care about that?"

"Mom, I didn't mean that," Casey explained quickly. He couldn't tell Amara that he had 10 billion directly now, these few years of concealment had made him understand the importance of hiding his own strength.

He understood that it takes time and pain to build a stronger self, so he couldn't say anything about his worth yet.

Edith turned to look at Casey, sighed and said, "Mom, don't make it difficult for Casey. It's getting late, let's all go back to our rooms and sleep."

"Sleep? This wimp has cost us so much today, do you think we'll be able to sleep? Now that he's back, I'm going to talk things straight! Both of you have to get a divorce, or you can't live on like this!" Amara shrieked aggressively.

Edith stared at her, not expecting Amara to force her to leave Casey.

Casey became a little nervous and looked at Edith.

"I won't file a divorce with him, so don't mention this matter again in the future," Edith said firmly.

Casey let out a sigh of relief.

Amara, who was filled with anger pointed at Casey and scolded, "What's so good about this rascal that can't do anything else but rely on his wife? Why won't you divorce him when our family is having such a bad time because of him?"

"Alright mom, I'm a bit tired, I'll go back to sleep first." After saying that, she looked at Casey, Casey understood her and immediately followed her back to her room.

Although marrying Casey was her dying grandmother's will, and Casey was having such a bad reputation to his name, Casey had always been serious when washing, cooking and cleaning the house in the past three years. He was able to provide two hundred percent of his efforts to be good husband to Edith. This was the reason why Edith couldn't divorce Casey.

Everyone had feelings. Three years was not long nor short, Edith has already accepted Casey deep down in her heart.

Amara watched the couple enter the room and stomped her feet in anger, "This family of ours, sooner or later, will fall in the hands of this rascal!"

In the room, Casey had already set up the beddings on the floor. For the past three years, he had been sleeping on the floor and had never gotten into the same blanket with Edith.

Edith laid on the bed and after a long time, spoke up and said: "I still have 20,000 yuan here, although it's not much, take it as a small token from me, you can bring it to PY Welfare House tomorrow."

Casey was touched when he heard this, he quickly replied, "No need, there are already kind-hearted people funding PY Welfare House, those children won't go hungry anymore."

"That's good, you grew up in PY Welfare House, you will definitely have feelings for those children, now you can also feel relieved."

"The matter of buying TY Real Estate Company's office building is still unsettled, the other party still won't sell. They think that our bid is too low, and grandpa won't pay more. This matter will have to be worked out again. I'm a bit tired today, I'll go to bed first." Edith said and turned to the other side.

Casey's eyes lit up when he heard what Edith was agonizing over. TY Real Estate Company, isn't that the business that the Davies family bought for him?

He had not planned to go to TY Real Estate Company for the handover but seeing that his wife in distress over this matter, he decided to make a trip to TY Real Estate Company tomorrow.

"Honey, you have suffered a lot with me these past few years, I promise you that this situation will never happen again, I will make a great achievement to show you," Casey said. After a long silence, Edith spoke: "I don't want you to have any incredible achievements, I just want you to be upright and live like a man. At the very least, don't be mocked as a good-for-nothing wimp."

Casey nodded seriously and said: "From now on, I will never allow anyone to look down on you again."

"I hope so," Edith replied in a low voice.

Casey's was determined, Edith had suffered the mockery and insults from others because of him for the past three years, and now it was finally time for Casey to do something for Edith.

He wanted everyone to know that his woman must not be insulted.

The Peremptory Casey Davies

Chapter 3 The President

Early in the morning the next day, Casey finished the dishes, and took his electro car and left for TY Real Estate.

He stopped and parked his electro car in front of the building, and went inside.

TY was known in all of J City for their estates in higher class community. The houses they have are mainly villas, and anyone who was able to afford a house from them, must be really wealthy.

Casey hadn't even reached the gate yet, when a woman dressed in uniform with a lot of makeup came walking towards him, she looked him up to down, and said to him, "Wait, you are here for plumbing work right? Go from the back entrance, from here you get into our lobby."

Casey looked at the woman in an awkward manner, and said to her, "I am here to look for someone, not to repair the pipes."

The woman looked at him again, especially at his clothes, that must be from some cheap place, her eyes were showing disguise.

Just in that moment, the woman's eyes widened, and she said surprised, "Casey? You are Casey?"

Casey paused, and stared at the woman, asking her, "You know me?"

The woman started to laugh, "I am Violet, don't you remember me? I was in the same class with you in high school!"

Casey thought about her words doubting, and suddenly, he remembered a picture from high school, "Oh right, I remember now, Violet, we even shared a table together!"

She really was his classmate, but they haven't met in a few years, she started using makeup, which made her prettier than back then, so Casey couldn't recognize her for that reason.

After Violet noticed who this man was, her attitude towards him changed immediately, instead of disguise, it was now more mockingly.

When they were in school, Violet always made fun of Casey being a child no one wanted, coming from an orphanage. Then he was adopted by the Patel's, which resulted in him being the biggest joke of J City, and Violet often gossiped about him with her friends.

She stared at him another time, and said, "I heard you are going to marry some rich girl? I always said you wouldn't make it to anything, who would have known that I was right all this time! You are pretty well known in J City now, even my colleagues know that you are just a useless man, god, I am dying of laughter."

Casey's mood darkened immediately, he didn't expect that meeting his old classmate would result in being bullied by her.

"Oh, by the way, what are you doing here at our company? Don't tell me you are here to buy a house, you know the houses we have are really big ones, and with what you are doing, you wouldn't be able to afford it in your whole lifetime, maybe not even a stone in that house." Now that Violet found out this person in front of her is that useless guy Casey from school, she didn't care about her attitude at all anymore.

"I am here to talk to your manager." Casey said.

Violet laughed hard, and said, "Okay, now you can really stop pretending. Have you ever looked at yourself in the mirror? Look at yourself, and you wanna see our manager?"

"You haven't seen the real world yet have you? So that's why you want to get in our building and see some big houses? Let me tell you, these are all villas, even if you can see them, you will not be able to afford them. It's actually going to make you realize how useless you are, so I actually suggest you leave, because the way you are dressed, I think the guards will drag you out again."

"I gotta get inside to work, I don't want to talk to trash anymore."

When Violet finished her speech, she turned and left.

Casey was very speechless about this incident, he was truly here to talk to the manager of YT, especially since he was here to talk about the transition. He didn't expect for Violet to talk to him like that, she didn't even give her a chance to explain himself.

Well, it didn't matter, Casey didn't really want to spend much more thoughts on her, they were in different worlds, and that meant that they had different opinions. After Violet left, a person in suit arrived, he looked trained and smart, he walked to Casey, and immediately greeted him respectfully, "Mister Davies?" "You must be Mister Davies! Sorry to have kept you waiting, I am Aryan, TY's manager, please do follow me to the office."

Casey nodded his head, and followed Aryan into the building through the employee's entrance.

In the elevator, Aryan looked at Casey secretly, he thought that this young man looked a little boring, without anything that stood out, and he was wearing cheap clothes as well.

But he was not looking down on Casey in any way, because he knew that this person is now the owner of YT Real Estates.

That day, the old man came and bought YT with double the price than they asked for, without even blinking his eyes, and what he told them was this company was the gift for their son at home.

Aryan has never seen anyone buy a company as a gift, which is why he knows that the power in their hands, is not within his imagination.

Casey is the person who received this gift, even though he looked very normal from the outside, but Aryan would never dare to judge him from that.

The two of them went into the office together, where Aryan took out a document, on which Casey signed, then Aryan gave him a set of keys, and said to him, "Mister Davies, from now on, you are the president of TY Real Estates, these are the keys to TY manor, which stands for who you are for them, please keep them well."

Casey took over the keys, and nodded his head, "Please stay and keep everything managed here, I am here to talk to you that maybe the Patel's family will buy some office rooms here, and when it comes to that, just do as I say, just please don't neglect it."

“Please do not worry about that, I will make sure everything is done according to your demands, and if you need, we can even give them a whole building.” Casey only laughed a little, but didn’t reply to that, even though he could actually gift Edith the whole house, but he didn’t have that idea on his mind. His intentions were for others to look at Edith in a different way from that, so the only thing he will do in this situation is to help her out a little from his side.

“Mister Davies, why don’t we go to our sales lobby, there are a lot of models of our new villas, if you like any of them, you can surely have it as your own.” Aryan said. Casey thought about it, and since he didn’t have anything else on his schedule, he decided to go along with Aryan and look at the situation downstairs.

The two of them were almost downstairs, when suddenly Aryan’s stomach started to be uncomfortable, he apologized to Casey awkwardly, and ran towards the toilet, but told him to feel free to look around in the lobby.

Casey didn’t mind that, so he walked into the middle of the lobby alone, looking at the models of the villas.

These villas and the gardens were really pretty, that he had to admit, especially that TY Manor were well known buildings in J City, and he was looking right at the model if it. Just as Casey was walking around in the lobby, Violet caught sight of him, and immediately knitted her brows, she didn’t even think before yelling towards him, “Casey, I thought I told you to leave this place? This is not a place for you to be, so get the hell out of here!” _

Chapter 4 Equality

Violet’s voice has attracted everyone’s attention in the lobby, and everyone looked towards Casey. Violet walked towards him, and held her hands on her hips, demanding, “Aren’t you ashamed to put dirt on our floors? I could point to anything in this room, and it will be something you could never afford in your life, if it gets dirty, what are you gonna do?" Casey frowned, and asked coldly, "Why, aren't people allowed to come in and take a look around?"

"Do you think just because others are allowed to, so you can as well? Don't forget who you are, useless person, you are lucky that I am still talking to you patiently." Violet threw at him.

Casey pressed his lips together, he usually didn't bother to talk to people like Violet, especially now that he was TY's president. If Violet behaved this way to customers, it will definitely have an effect on his business, he couldn't afford to keep her."

"If this is your attitude towards customers, I am afraid you won't be able to keep your job anymore."

Casey spoke to her in a cold manner.

Violet looked at him full of despise, and started laughing after she heard his words.

"Oh my, come over everyone, look at this fucker telling me that my attitude is not right, and he's even saying I might lose my job, this is too funny!"

Everyone came to surround them, most of them were Violet's colleagues, because most of them just started their job, so there weren't many people coming to look at the houses.

"Let me tell you guys, this is the idiot that is famous in all of J City, Casey Davies, he is the one who was with the Patel's, you know he was only cooking and washing laundry all day every day, just like a servant, and you know what, he was my high school classmate! So shameful, I don't even wanna mention it!"

When the crowd heard what Violet just said, all of them started to look and point at Casey, they have all heard about Casey before, and they all knew that he was a useless dumb person.

“Oh, so this guy is Casey Davies, I was wondering why he looked so cheap, you know if you didn’t mention, I thought he was here to pick up trash.”

“Look at this guy, and now he is here to disturb Violet at work, she is going to be promoted next week, who are you to say that she will lose her job?”

“I really think we need to get rid of him. Today our new president will take over, imagine if he runs into him, that’s gonna be a lot of trouble.”

Everyone nodded along, they all heard their manager talk about today’s event yesterday.

Violet stared at Casey, she really wanted to see her colleagues go on mocking him, to feel that she stood above him, she felt that it was already a good achievement to work in the position that she was working at now, at the YT’s company.

And if she compared herself with a snob like Casey, she felt even more superior

She was even daydreaming about the new president of the company seeing her and falling in love with her at first sight, this way, she would achieve all of her goals in just one day.

But she was also afraid that the president will see someone like Casey, which will really embarrass her, so she told Casey, “Did you hear that, our president is coming today, stop standing there, you are going to affect his mood, I don’t think you wanna be responsible for that.”

She stepped closer to Casey and pulled on his shirt, trying to get him out. Casey on the other hand didn’t move an inch, he only stared at her with his cold eyes.

“What is it? Are you deaf? I asked you to leave!” Now Violet was getting anxious.

“This is my company, why should I leave?” Casey said.

“You are mad, I think you really are mad, how can you say this is your company, why don’t you just say that you are the heir of some super rich family? Stop dreaming Casey, you are nothing, just get the hell out of here!” Violet stared at him as if he was crazy.

“I am not dreaming, you will know in a minute.” Casey said very calm. Violet couldn’t move Casey by herself, and she was getting more anxious, afraid that the president will see him here, so she went to call for guards.

“This guy, he came to our building and now he is acting up, he even pretends to be our boss, please just get him out!” Violet pointed at Casey and told the guards angrily. The guards looked at Casey and thought that he didn’t look like a boss, so they walked towards him, and grabbed him.

Casey looked back at the guards, and squinted his eyes, then he clenched his fists.

That’s the moment when Aryan came out of the toilet, he saw the guards about to throw themselves on Casey, and was shocked.

He ran towards the crowd, and yelled, “Oh my god, what are you guys doing! Stop it right now!”

Violet saw their manager coming, and said to him, “Aryan, this is that guy, he is known all over J City for being stupid and useless, and now he went totally nuts, and tells us he was our boss. Today is the day for our new president to visit, we are afraid he might embarrass the president, so we want him to leave.”

“He is my high school classmate, and he is jealous because I am living a better life than him now, he doesn’t feel good about it and wants to ruin our day! It’s good I saw him, otherwise god only knows what could have happened!” Violet said, still thinking she had the upper hand. After Aryan heard what Violet had to tell him, his face went pale he didn’t think twice before raising his hand to slap her on the cheek.

“This is our new president, he came to look at your work, and you are saying that he was nuts! You wanted to kick him out! Do you still want your job?” Aryan said angrily. Violet’s eyes went blank, just like every one else who was present.

“He... he is our new president? But how can this be? He is nothing!” Violet was perplex.

“You are nothing! You are dumb and stupid!” Aryan was so angry, he wished he could tape her mouth shut.

He quickly turned around and bowed towards Casey, "Sir, I am so sorry, I never thought they would treat you like this, this is all my fault, please sanction me for it."

Casey waved him off, and looked at Violet, "You are not to be sanctioned, but those who are too overly confident."

"Our company should treat clients like equals, anyone who looks down on them like she just did, doesn't deserve to keep working for us." __

The Peremptory Casey Davies Chapter 5 Conspiracy

"That's impossible..."

Violet stared at Casey like a deer in headlights, she couldn't believe her eyes that her once useless classmate was now the president of the board.

She was going to get promoted as the head of her department, she was so proud of it that she had already told her family that she would be treating everyone including all of her relatives to a meal next week, to show off her achievement.

But now the promotion was gone with the wind because of her arrogance, not only she couldn't be promoted, but she might also lose her job.

"Casey, I'm sorry, I was full of myself and I shouldn't have talked down to you like that. Please forgive me, we were once so close as deskmates weren't we?" Violet pleaded desperately.

Aryan glared at her and said coldly, "It's too late for regrets now, you dug your own grave. Security, get her out of the place!"

The securities hurriedly came over and grabbed Violet by the arm, forcefully removing her from the hall.

The people in the hall looked at Casey nervously, they all regretted their actions.

Casey glanced at them and said, "Those who ridiculed me along with Violet just now are to go back and write an apology report, and your salary will be reduced by half."

"Also, the fact that I am the new president of the TY Real Estate Inc. is not to be spoken of. Whoever leaks the news will be fired, understand?"

"Understood!"

The people replied in unison, nobody dared to say anything back.

Casey lost interest in visiting the company, he requested a few things of Aryan and proceeded to leave the hall.

Everyone stood up to see Casey off, they lamented seeing Casey leaving in a very old motorcycle.

"Our new president is a humble person and this is how a president's demeanour should be. All of you should remember this as a life lesson, don't judge a book from its cover and that eagles don't catch flies!" Aryan said.

The people nodded their heads repeatedly.

Casey was in a good mood on his way home, he thought of hinting Edith later to buy the office from the TY Real Estate Inc.

At this moment, he saw Albie and Nyla going into a cafe all secretively, just like thieves.

He was curious, the two were always conspiring something against Edith and nothing good would come out from seeing both of them together. Casey needed to find out what they were planning and hence he parked his bike by the street and put on a simple disguise, he then went into the cafe.

His back was facing the two and was a few tables away from them.

Careful about not being discovered, he used a newspaper to hide his face.

Albie and Nyla were talking in low voices but Casey could hear them well and clear.

"Albie, why did you call me here in such a rush, is it something important?" Nyla looked all puzzled.

Albie snickered, "Of course it's something important, and it's something that you will be interested in."

"Really? What is it about?" Nyla cried.

"You dislike Edith, don't you? I've got an idea of how to deal with her and if the plan succeeds, she will fall in disfavor of grandfather, maybe he would even cut her off from the Patel family," said Albie excitedly.

Nyla's eyes brighten up, "Tell me quickly, what do we do?"

Casey listened attentively, these two troublemakers were really scheming something to get Edith in trouble, really hateful people.

"Grandfather mentioned that he wanted to buy an office building, a place from the TY Real Estate Inc.

caught his eyes, but that is a really big company and they aren't willing to settle on the sum that grandfather is willing to give. Grandfather is only willing to pay 8 million while the real estate company wants 13 million and hence the deal is still in negotiation."

"But you know how stubborn grandfather is, he nagged me several times to talk to the people at the TY Real Estate Inc., I went there several times but I couldn't even meet their manager."

"So I was thinking that we could make Edith our scapegoat, we'll make her go negotiate. If I can't handle this there is no way that Edith can succeed, and when she fails the task, we can seize the chance and get grandfather to chase her out."

Nyla was not convinced after listening to Albie, "But, how are we supposed to make her take over the tasks. she's not that dumb."

"I heard that Edith felt very sorry about the incident at the banquet where Casey asked for money from our grandfather, and she wanted to apologize by closing the deal about the office building for him. She hasn't said anything yet but if we repeat a lie often enough, it becomes the truth. We can ask a few relatives to join our force and turn the lie into the truth, Edith will not even have the chance to say no," Albie explained in detail.

Nyla laughed happily, she praised Albie for his craftiness.

"This wench Edith has been stealing my thunder ever since we were young, I never liked her one bit, we must succeed and drive her out of the Patel family!" Nyla muttered to herself.

"You're right, and there's also Casey, that useless bugger. We must show them how it is done," Albie smiled creepily.

"Alright, there is no time to waste, let's go talk to grandfather about this, " they left the cafe as soon as they were done with their discussion.

Casey slowly put the newspaper down, his gaze frosty, the corner of his mouth arched and he was then smiling confidently.

"Small tricks like that are not enough to dig a pit for my wife, such a joke!"

Casey rode his bike home, Edith said to him the moment he entered the house, "You have to get ready to leave, grandfather just announced that we all have to go to his place for a family meeting."

Casey was dazed for a brief moment, he thought to himself, the two troublemakers sure moved fast, if it went according to what they planned, this family meeting had to be about the purchasing of the office building.

He nodded and quickly proceeded to change into fresh clothing.

Amara glared at Casey, "No, you don't have to get ready. This is a family meeting and you don't have to come with us, you'll just be a bother."

Edith frowned upon hearing that, "Mom, Casey is my husband, he is a part of the Patel family, why couldn't he join us in the meeting?"

"He is not part of the Patel family, did you forget what he did at your grandfather's banquet? How could you still let him come along?" Amara gawked at Casey unpleasantly.

Edith pursed her lips, she didn't answer Amara and said to Casey, "Go get ready."

Casey quickly nodded again and went to the room to change.

Amara was still scolding and nagging, but she couldn't stop Edith from bringing Casey along to the meeting.

The family of four walked towards the entrance of the Patel family's mansion, the mansion was already all filled up, with Francis sitting on the sofa in the middle.

The people exchanged glances as the family of four approached, they all sneered at them, having inexplicable expressions on their faces.

Nyla wore a shrewd expression, she muttered to herself, "Well, let the show begin, Edith. You're dead meat this time!" _____

_The Peremptory Casey Davies Chapter 6 Negotiating

Edith felt shivers down her spine the moment she stepped into the living room, she was uneasy.

The family of four stood at the sidelines of the living room, the family always had to stand during a family meeting.

"The meeting will be set in motion since everybody is here now. I'll get straight to the point, the point of this meeting is none other than about the purchasing of the office building."

"The Patel family's business is now developing steadily and hence the location of our office shouldn't be in such a shabby place anymore and should be upgraded. An office building from the TY Real Estate Inc.

caught my eyes and I wanted the purchase to be a success. Does anybody want to volunteer to negotiate with TY Real Estate?"

Francis glanced over the crowd.

Everybody lowered their heads hurriedly, afraid of meeting Francis's eyes. They didn't want to take over the task.

They all knew deep inside at which level the Patel family stood at, TY Real Estate wouldn't give a damn about negotiating with them. A few even went to the real estate office already and were given the cold shoulder, nobody was willing to take up the task.

"Hmph, nobody wants to shoulder the responsibility for a proper task and all of you are staying quiet. You guys are only proactive when it comes to fun and feasting. What's wrong, do you guys think that we are not on their level to purchase a building from them?" Francis snorted coldly.

The crowd lowered their heads even more.

Edith didn't dare to say anything, she really wanted to help the family to purchase this building, but she also knew very well that this wouldn't be an easy task. She could only think of a way silently in her head, and she wasn't 100% confident about it, volunteering for the task half-heartedly like that would be no different than death itself.

At this moment, Albie glanced at Edith, he smiled sheepishly and said out loud, "Grandfather, the other day I heard Edith mentioned something about she is capable of negotiating with TY Real Estate and purchasing the office building. How about we give the task to her?"

Edith's eyes were now wide open, she wasn't expecting Albie to say that. She wanted to refute but Nyla chimed in and said, "Yes, grandfather. Edith told us herself the other day, that if she were to take on the task she will be done with the negotiation in no time, and she might even get us a 50% discount."

Francis's eyes brightened up, he was prideful yet stingy, it would be a great thing if Edith was able to get him that discount for purchasing the office building.

"Edith, is that true?" Francis asked.

Edith quickly tried to explain, "Grandfather, I have said no such thing..." Nyla interrupted her and said, "My dear Edith, no need to be so humble, we all heard you loud and clear the other day."

Nyla gave the crowd a signal as she finished her sentence. The people got the hint and echoed what she said.

"Nyla is right, we all heard the same thing as well, it is true."

"Francis, it would be perfect if Edith can negotiate the office building's price into a good five million, we must let her handle the task."

"That's absolutely right, the Patel family brought her up so well and it is her time to show her gratitude.

We must let her handle this task, otherwise, it will be all talk and no action."

Edith was speechless, though she immediately understood what was going on when she saw the snicker on Albie's face, he had to be the mastermind behind this.

Amara and Nicolas never thought that all these people would chime in and concluded that Edith could buy the office building for 5 million, they had butterflies in their stomach.

Not Casey though, he was all relaxed and chill, it was like the danger had not dawned upon him at all.

Amara was furious seeing Casey like that, she scolded, "It must be because of you, you good for nothing.

Otherwise, something like this wouldn't have happened."

Francis stared at Edith, he then said, "Edith, if you are up to it I will officially hand you this task. I will transfer you the 5 million in a bit, and of course, if you succeed there will be rewards awaiting."

Albie and Nyla smiled wickedly upon hearing Francis, they were sure that their plan was all set in motion.

Edith grimaced, she said helplessly, "Grandfather, the office building's price was set at more than 10 million, I'm afraid that 5 million..."

"Edith, you said it yourself that you can purchase the building from TY Real Estate for 5 million, you were gleaming with confidence when you told us about it. Why are you denying it in front of our grandfather, are you scheming to keep the leftover money for yourself?" Nyla abruptly cut off Edith's sentence.

Amara knew that Edith was in a tight spot, she quickly smiled and explained, "Nyla, maybe you heard it wrong, I don't believe that Edith will say something like that. We all know very well that she doesn't lie, please don't place her in a difficult position."

"Amara, you are very wrong about her. Everybody was there when Edith said that, we all heard it, and by denying it you guys are just planning to let Edith keep grandfather's money to her own, and not helping the Patel family's business," Albie said with a confronting tone.

Amara choked on her words and couldn't retort.

Francis was also starting to get annoyed at Edith and her family for pushing the matter around, his expression darkened and he said with a deep voice, "Why are you denying it in front of me when everybody heard your claim?"

"Is what Albie says true, that you just wanted the money and wouldn't help out with the family's business?"

Edith hurriedly explained herself, "No, grandfather. I want to help the family, but..."

"But what? If you are willing to do it for the family then don't make up any more excuses, the task of purchasing the office building is now in your hands. If you are not willing to, then there is no need to stay in this family, I'm not a person that only takes and doesn't get back." Francis said sternly.

Edith was worried, she couldn't disobey her grandfather's words, but the Patel family was really not all that great, Francis was just full of himself and thought themselves as better. The TY Real Estate Inc.

wouldn't bat an eye at Francis's mere 5 million, and only 5 million for an office building with a good location? It was way too far fetched.

"Grandfather, I promise you that I will complete the task, but 5 million for an office building is not enough at all, could you raise your price? I can only negotiate with TY Real Estate at a price more than that," said Edith.

"You dare to bargain with grandfather after you said that you can get the deal for 5 million? Why should he give you more money?" Nyla said aggressively.

Francis gave Edith a look, he obviously was unwilling to pay more than that. In his eyes, TY Real Estate should be happy that he would even give them some face and buy the building from them, and it went without saying that TY Real Estate should at least give him a 50% discount.

Edith was panicking and millions of thoughts were running through her head, at this very moment, Casey stepped up and said out loud, "It's a deal. Edith will buy the office building with 5 million!" _____

The Peremptory Casey Davies Chapter 7 Win the Cooperation

Everyone in the villa hall became quiet because of Casey's words. Then there was a burst of laughter, and everyone looked mockingly at him.

"Is this man really stupid or not? Can't he see that we said this on purpose? He even took it."

"He is really a magic assist. No one has taken this task. I am laughing to death. Edith is really married to a 'good' husband."

"I'm afraid he's the only one who thinks that 5 million yuan can buy the office building of TY Real Estate Inc. Edith tends to hate him."

"Keep your voice down, don't let the Patel hear you. Since Casey took that, they deserve it."

Amara Stevens was the first to realize that conspiracy. She grabbed Casey's arm and shouted, "Are you crazy? Who told you to give such a promise? the Patel only gives 5 million yuan. Do you have the ability to pay for the extra money? "

Edith Patel didn't expect Casey to promise for her at this time, although she also knew that she couldn't get rid of this matter today. She looked at Casey with a puzzled look on her face, and showed him an inquiring expression. Casey looked serious and said to Edith, "I said, I won't let you suffer from other people's cold eyes again. Do you believe me?" Edith hesitated, but nodded to Casey.

"I will help you to get the office building and what you need to do is to promise grandpa." Casey said. Although Edith didn't know where Casey got the confidence to promise such a thing, she could feel that Casey was not joking with her. Anyway, the situation was already like this, so it's better to trust him. So Edith nodded her head. When Amara heard the words of these two people, she immediately widened her eyes and quickly said, "Edith, don't be stupid, you can't listen to this loser!" Edith ignored Amara, but turned around and looked at Francis and said, "Grandpa, since you gave me your order, I will do it according to your request." Albie and Nyla were a little surprised to hear what Edith promised. Albie felt that it was a good chance to set them up. Her eyes turned and she said, "It is not enough for you to promise. Who knows if you are making trouble with the future of the company? Five million is not a small amount for the company. If you waste this money, it will have a great impact on the company." Edith immediately looked at Albie with a frown and asked, "Albie, I have promised Grandpa that I will find a way to buy that office building. What else do you want?" "Is not what I want, I'm just thinking about grandpa. We give five million to you but what should we do if you have money and spend it yourself? And who can guarantee that you will be able to buy the office building? If you can't buy it, isn't it a waste of grandpa's time?" Albie argued.

Edith was very angry. Albie said that Edith could buy the office building just now, but now she is worried that she might not buy it. This guy has done everything she can to deal with her.

"Albie's concern is not unreasonable. You said that you can buy the office building for 5 million yuan.

Who can guarantee it?" Francis also said.

"I can guarantee that Edith will definitely buy the office building back." Casey spoke again.

Albie immediately laughed and said, "You? Everyone knows that you are a loser, your guarantee is not as good as shit! "

Casey was not angry at all, but smiled and said, "Since you don't believe it, why don't you make a bet with me in front of Grandpa?"

Albie immediately laughed. Casey was sent by God to help her. She was thinking about how to mention that if Edith could not buy the office building, she has to leave this family. Now Casey gave her a chance.

"Well, bet on it. If Edith can't buy the office building back, you and Edith have to get out of Patel family early and never come back!" Albie said with a cruel face.

"Yes, but if Edith does it, you need to kowtow to Edith in front of Grandpa. Do you dare to bet?" Casey stared at Albie and asked.

Albie doesn't believe Edith can buy back the villas of TY Real Estate Inc with 5 million yuan. If she really wants to gamble, she will definitely win, so she swears: "I have nothing to dare to, in this case, it's a deal.

Grandpa will testify that. If you can't buy the office building, you could just wait to get out of Patel family!"

Casey stopped talking and walked to Edith.

Francis saw that the matter had been settled, and announced that the family meeting was over, and gave Edith five days to buy an office building.

Community gate.

Amara reached out and stopped Casey, and refused to let him in.
"You are such a loser to kill our whole family! Why did you bet with Albie?
Great. If Edith can't buy that office building, our family will have to be driven out to have nothing. Do you just want to make our family as cowardly as you? "
On the way back, Amara was very angry she scolded Casey all the way, and even refused to let Casey in.
Edith and Nicolas Patel both stopped Amara, otherwise Amara would have rushed to fight Casey.
"Mom, Albie and Nyla deliberately did everything today. Even if Casey didn't say that, it would fall on me in the end. Don't blame Casey." Edith persuaded.
"Fart! All this is because of this loser. If it weren't for him, how could our family be looked down upon and bullied everywhere? Today, I must never let him step into our house again." Amara said hysterically.
"Mom, don't worry. I bet with Albie because I believe Edith can buy the office building. When Edith buys the office building, Albie can do nothing with us." Casey explained to Amara.
"Is your belief useful? Will the building which deserves ten million be sold to you with just five million?
Do you think TY Real Estate Inc is doing charity?" Amara resented.
Casey was helpless and didn't know how to explain it to Amara.
"Come on, mom, with so many people watching, do you have to make everyone know that?" Edith said with a frown.
Amara looked around, and found that there were many people watching and then stopped.
She gave Casey a vicious look and said, "You only have five days left.
After five days, if Edith doesn't buy the office building, you two have to get divorced!"
Amara walked toward the inside after finished her words.
Casey's eyes narrowed and murmured, "It won't take five days.
Tomorrow, I will let you know whether what I promised is true." _____

The Peremptory Casey Davies
Chapter 8 Lucky Customer

Early the next morning, Edith got up, put on light makeup and a clean work suit, and arranged her appearance in front of the mirror.

Casey looked at Edith's serious face smiling, and said, "Don't be so nervous, didn't I tell you? I have friends in TY Real Estate Inc, and I have already said our situation to him."

"Even if you really know the people inside that building, they can't sell the office building to us at a price of 5 million. I can only try to talk to them about this matter. I hope that they will not drive me out when I am there." Edith doesn't distrust Casey, but it is too difficult for people like Casey to do it.

Casey didn't mind either, smiled and helped Edith get her coat and went out toward the outside.

These two people rode trams and Casey took Edith all the way to TY Real Estate Inc.

At a tea shop opposite the office building of TY Real Estate Inc., Nyla and Albie are sitting by the window with their eyes staring at the door of TY Real Estate Inc.

"Albie, to what extent do you think they will talk today? Is it really impossible for TY Real Estate Inc. to sell office buildings with 5 million to Edith?" Nyla asked.

"Of course, I'm afraid they both have difficulty entering the company's doors today. Some time ago, Grandpa asked me to come here to talk about the office building. When they heard that I could only pay 8 million, they directly drove me out. Not to mention Edith has only 5 million." Albie promised.

"What if all of a sudden the nerves of people in TY Real Estate Inc. are out of order, and Edith really buy the office building with 5 million?" Nyla asked again.

Albie immediately laughed and said: "This possibility is as small as the possibility that Casey is the boss of TY Real Estate Inc, so don't worry about it, they can't do that."

"That's right, Casey, if he were the boss of TY Real Estate Inc, sows would be able to climb trees."Nyla laughed.

After a while, Casey rode a tram and took Edith to the door of TY Real Estate Inc.

"It is very funny. They even came by riding a tram. They are really shabby." Nyla saw Casey and Edith and immediately burst into laughing.

Albie sneered, too, and was ready to watch the jokes of Casey and Edith. After Casey stopped the tram, he smiled and said to Edith, "Go in, people should have been waiting for you."

Edith said, "If I go in like this, will people kick me out?"

"Don't worry, they will absolutely not. The employees of TY Real Estate Inc. are now of good quality and will not do such a thing as knocking people out." Casey, talk.

"It seems that TY Real Estate Inc is yours. How do you know about the employees?" Edith rolled her eyes at Casey.

"Actually... TY Real Estate Inc. is really mine." Casey laughed.

"Come on, don't brag with me here. If only Real Estate Inc. were yours. It's better to do less daydreaming. Go with me."

Edith was a little speechless, and then she went inside TY Real Estate Inc. Casey looked at Edith's back and thought he could swear to God that he was not daydreaming just now.

Edith entered the hall of TY Real Estate Inc, and immediately a woman came up, smiled and asked,

"Hello, can I help you?"

"Well, I'm from Patel family. I came to talk to your general manager about buying an office building."

Edith spoke with some trepidation.

"It turned out to be Mrs. Patel. Our general manager is waiting for you in the office. Please come with me." The woman was still very polite.

Edith was a little surprised. She didn't expect the staff here to be as qualified as Casey said.

She followed the woman toward the inside, and after a while, the two people arrived at the door of the general manager's office.

"The general manager is waiting for you inside." The woman said, and left here.

Edith reached out and knocked on the door, and immediately there came a voice: "Please come in!"

Edith pushed the door and went in. Aryan Lloyd, who had received Casey's order, immediately greeted her and let Edith sit on the sofa.

Edith didn't expect him to talk about buying an office building today. The general manager seemed to be easy to talk to, which made her feel at a loss.

"Hello, I'm ..." Edith began.

"I know you, Mrs. Patel, are you here to buy an office building? Patel family has sent people here before, but for some reasons, they did not buy that office building."

"You are just coming today. Our company has a lucky activity now. The first person to buy a house here today, no matter what he buys, we will sell it at 50%. I have to say that you are really lucky."

Aryan explained it with a smile. Casey told him this statement in order not to make Edith suspicious.

When Edith heard Aryan's words, she immediately widened her eyes and exclaimed, "Lucky activity? Really? "

"Of course, it is true. Do you want to sign the purchase contract now?"

After signing the contract, the office building you saw before belongs to Patel family. "Aryan said with a smile.

Edith couldn't say any words. She thought she had to spend a lot of time talking with the general manager today, but she didn't expect to meet this lucky activity.

"But I haven't heard of any lucky activities here before." Edith said.

"Since it is a lucky activity, it can't be said naturally. Otherwise, I am afraid that a large group of people will compete for the first place in the company." Aryan explained.

Edith felt speechless for a moment.

This lucky activity sounded so unreliable, but there was nothing wrong with Aryan's explanation.

Then, under the guidance of Aryan, Edith successfully signed the contract, and then transferred the money that Francis gave her to buy the office building of TY Real Estate Inc.

When they left, Aryan also took a group of employees to bid farewell to this "lucky" customer.

From the beginning to the end, Edith felt as if she was dreaming, and was a bit dull.

She took the contract and went outside, but she still didn't come out from the atmosphere just now.

She walked straight in front of Casey and murmured, "Casey, I was chosen as their lucky customer. The first person to come to their company today can enjoy a 50% discount no matter what they buy. Did you know this in advance? You deliberately let me come here so early?"

Casey smiled bitterly at Edith, then put a finger on his lips and said,

"Keep the inside information confidential." _____

The Peremptory Casey Davies Chapter 9 Keep Promise

Edith blinked and watched Casey with some special feeling in mind that she never had before.

Yesterday, in front of so many people, Casey said she would buy the office building at a price with 50% off. Today she achieved it.

Although she bought it due to a lucky-draw activity held by TY Real Estate Inc., she would not know anything about the activity without Casey.

Edith got the sense of security from Casey for the first time. He did as well as she expected.

Edith said, "Well. I will keep the secret. Go to ride your bike."

Casey smiled and went to ride his battery bike. Edith sat on the back seat and held his waist after a few seconds of hesitation.

Casey sat straight at that moment of his waist being held by Edith. It was the first time for Edith to hold him, which made him a little bit nervous.

Right now, Edith was the same nervous as Casey since she touched the strong muscles on his belly.

Edith was surprised, "This guy...has muscle?"

In a milk tea shop.

Nyla doubtfully looked at Edith and Casey outside the shop; she did not expect Edith to get out in such short time.

Nyla asked Albie, "She comes back so soon. You see something in her hands. She made it?"

Albie answered, "Impossible. Did you see she looks so upset? She would not act like this if she really made it. I think, she was already got rid of before talking more."

Nyla agreed with him and nodded, "Yes. How soon! She cannot do it."

"Let's go. I am sure they failed. Wait to see what she will explain to Francis grandpa?" Albie sneered at them and left the shop with Nyla.

In the afternoon.

In Patel family's villa.

After getting Edith's call in the morning, Francis asked the family to get together again and informed them he would have an important message to all.

"What do you think about it? Only one day passed."

"Anything else? It must be she cannot buy the office building with five million yuan."

"Sure. I guess it. I think, this time she and the useless Casey will be excluded from our family."

"Correct. They cannot handle so easy case. Our family does not allow such rubbish in."

Albie and Nyla listened to what other people were discussing, with pleased smile. Both of them witnessed how Edith was upset when coming out of TY Real Estate Inc. and they were certain that Edith failed to buy the building, so Francis called family here for her problem. "Grandpa, you allowed Edith five days to do it. But she gave it up only one day later; even did not try to carry on. For these persons easy to give up, our family could not let them stay further.” Albie whispered to Francis.

Hearing this, Francis was also some of embarrassed. He knew what they were discussing and also believed, Edith asked all family to gather here to tell them that she was unable to buy the building but only to give it up.

No Wonder She’s Always In The Top 10 Of These Lists

He’s Using This Secret Trick To Make Millions

He thought it, “Hum. Edith, you are a lemon. If you don’t go on, I would not keep you in our family.”

Soon later, the door of the villa was open. Edith and Casey came in.

All people became quiet and turned back to watch them.

They sneered, with great pleasure to see how miserable they would be.

Albie stood up with watching Edith, smiling to say, “Edith, though you failed today, have another try tomorrow. Give up for only one trial? Grandpa had taught you how to succeed from troubles before.

Right?”

Nyla continued, “Please. She is the right person to be talked about how to succeed from troubles? See who is staying with her. Casey Davies, a lemon, well-known as he is.

Edith, I am afraid you started to follow him.”

Edith walked grimly to Francis with the contract sighed in the morning in hand.

Albie said to her rudely, “Edith, don’t beg grandpa to forgive you. Get out now!”

Edith stared at him and said, “How do you know I failed?”

Albie talked back with great confidence, “How? Have you made it? In the morning, I saw you upset when out of their building. Not to say, it is a mission impossible for you.”

Edith said, “Sorry, I let you down. I called grandpa to gather you all here to make you know, I have already got the office building.”

Everyone was shocked by what Edith was saying.

Albie opened his eyes wide and shouted to Edith, “You made it? Edith, don’t make fool of us. How could you make it in one day?"

Nyla also shouted, "Yes, grandpa. Edith is not capable of doing it, but lie to you. She is making fool of you. Please let her go."

Edith did not care about what they talked and gave the contract to Francis.

"Grandpa, please check the contract."

The whole family was extremely surprised that she even had already got the contract.

Albie and Nyla were still doubtful about it. But if it was true, they could not say anything to humiliate her.

Francis read the contract carefully. He knew it was true with a stamp of TY Real Estate Inc. on it. Then smiled.

He was excited to say, "Well done, Edith. Finally, you get the building with only five million yuan. You are worth the reward; from now on, salary doubled and 10% more bonus."

Albie and Nyla still could not believe it. Albie said in a rush, "Grandpa, it might be a fake contract. Don't get cheated."

Francis glanced at Albie and said, "You think I am too old to know true or false?"

At this moment, Albie realized Edith did give a true contract. He was frustrated with the reality.

"Ok, stop. Edith did a good job. Keep up with her! Meeting finished."

Francis was ready to end all.

"One minute!" someone said. It was Casey.

Francis looked at Casey and asked, "What's the matter?"

Casey watched and smiled at Albie, "Mr. Francis, did you forget?"

Yesterday, I made a bet with Albie. If Edith buys the office building with five million, Albie has to kneel down to apologize to her. Now, Albie, you are a loser. Keep your promise." _____

The Peremptory Casey Davies

Chapter 10 Antique Exhibition

Now Albie became furiously and shouted to Casey with no hesitation, "What are you fucking talking about? It is a joke! Even now Edith bought the building, I have to kneel down to her? You an idiot take such a joke seriously.”

Casey showed his contempt to Albie and said in a high voice, “Yesterday you made this bet here and asked to be witnessed by grandpa. Now you lose the bet, say this is joking? Grandpa Francis is a joke?”

Albie hurried to explain, “Shout up! I did not say that!”

Casey questioned him again, “It is so easy for you to regret. It is you who asked to be witnessed by grandpa; now it is you who doesn’t want to keep it. Is it your way to take grandpa seriously? Are you joking? Albie, or you try to get over grandpa in the family?”

Albie looked pale. He did not know how to explain with such a blame for disobeying grandpa.

Usually what Francis cared about most was his power in the Patel family; what he hated most was someone in the family looked down on his power. Hearing what Casey said, he stared at Albie in anger.

Right now, all the family were here. As the most sophisticated man in the family, if he treated their bet as a joke, how would he get respect from them in the future?

So, he said, “Albie, do it! Men should take the responsibilities for their promise. You do the same!

Especially the men of Patel family, never break our promise.”

Albie was still reluctant to do it and said, “But...Grandpa.”

Francis interrupted him, “Don’t make excuse! Go to apologize to Edith now.”

Finally, Albie knew he could not escape from it. He had a look at Casey in resentment and then stepped to Edith.

Edith understood how hard Casey struggled for this moment and she should be positive about it. She raised her head proudly.

Watched by everyone, Albie kneeled down to Edith and yielded to say, “I am sorry.”

Edith replied, "I wish you remember it."

Albie suffered such humiliation. He resented to look at Edith and stood up with clenched fists, then walking back to Francis.

Absolutely, this was the most shameful day of his life.

Albie was in great rage. He would take revenge on them for sure.

Just the moment, something occurred to him. Albie laughed slyly and said to Francis, "Grandpa, now you are looking for some place for your antique exhibition. Right? Edith is able to buy the building at such a lower price. Actually, I do admire her competence, sincerely."

He went on to say, "How about asking her to borrow TY Manor for the exhibition? This is a really high-class space for you."

Nyla got his point immediately and followed him to say, "Yes, grandpa. Your antiques are genuine and priceless. We have to get somewhere outstanding for them. Looking all over the J City, it must be TY Manor. If she can buy the building, she should take the task to borrow TY Manor."

Edith was a little worried for their discussion. To her surprise, the revenge came so soon for such a demand!

No Wonder She's Always In The Top 10 Of These Lists

She completed that task regarding the office building of five million yuan thanks to some special activity organized by TY Real Estate Inc.. However, TY Manor was somewhere their CEO lives; how could she borrow it for Francis's antique exhibition?

As to Francis, he was a man keen to luxury and loved his antiques best.

Besides, in his mind, the antiques that he collected were first class in the world.

He planned an exhibition earlier before and would like to find some luxurious space. That would be sure to gain much more fame for him.

Through Albie and Nyla's discussion, he also agreed that TY Manor was the best option for exhibiting these treasures.

Seeing Edith with a smile, Francis said, "Edith, now we are talking about the exhibition. Please follow up.

As you can buy the building, go to talk about TY Manor. They will allow it."

Edith answered, "Grandpa, TY Manor is a private property. I am afraid the owner will not permit others' access."

But Francis ordered her, "Why? Our Patel family is their customer and also prestigious here. Even their CEO should take it into consideration. I believe you can do it."

Albie and Nyla were happy to see that. Both of them knew that Francis was too arrogant to think it was difficult. They talked it on purpose to involve Edith in the new trouble.

Albie said, "TY Manor is sure to be one property of their CEO. Never seen he lent it to others before. Now what will you do?"

Edith tried to talk more with Francis, but her phone got a message. She found it was from Aryan Lloyd, the general manager of TY Real Estate Inc..

They kept each other's contact numbers when she went to buy the building earlier today.

Edith was totally shocked at what she read in the message.

It said, "Miss. Edith Patel. This morning, I forgot to tell you that, our CEO heard Mr. Francis Patel is looking for a space for his antique exhibition; if you need it, as the owner of TY Manor, he is willing to offer you his property for a couple of days. To thank you to be our customer."

It was not a secret that Francis would like to hold an antique exhibition in the city and easy to know it. To her great astonishment, the owner was ready to lend TY Manor to them.

Edith could not understand what happened and had a look at Casey who gave her a mysterious smile.

Albie saw Edith was stunned there with nothing to say. He started,

"Edith, do it as soon as possible. If fail to make it, you will badly destroy our Patel's fame."

Edith raised her head and laughed at him.

"It's none of your business."

"I already got it!" _____
