The Peremptory Casey Davies Chapter 11 TY Manor

Albie was stunned briefly, but he immediately pouted at Edith and said, “Edith, even if you want to lie to me, you should try to come up with something better. You have never leave the door of the villa, yet you said that you are able to borrow TY Manor? How did you do that? With your imagination?”

Everybody burst into laughter.

“I think there’s something wrong with her head, she must be imagining things lately.” Nyla scoffed.

Edith didn’t care about these people’s reaction as she showed Francis her phone. She said, “Grandpa, the general manager of TY Real Estate Inc. has just sent me a message saying that the company could lend us TY Manor.”

Francis peeked at Edith’s phone for a while and then immediately caressed his beard while saying, “I have predicted that TY Real Estate Inc. will show us some respect and I’m right. Since they are willing to lend us TY Manor, then this matter is settled. Edith, I will leave the organizing of the antique exhibition to you, and I’ll pay you half a year’s worth of salary as remuneration.” “Thanks, grandpa.” Edith hastily replied.

Albie and the others were stunned by what they had just witnessed. Judging from Francis’s reaction, he didn’t look like he was joking at all. What Edith had claimed was actually real.

“So that’s it for this matter today. You guys must help Edith in the preparation for the exhibition and you must know that Edith is a talented member of the Patel family. You must learn from her from time to time.” Francis finished his words and got up, preparing to go upstairs to rest for the night.

Edith looked at Albie and Nyla with a smile on her face, and she immediately turned around and left the Patel family villa with Casey.

Albie was so furious right now that he punched hard on the sofa.

“This damn bitch, how could she be so lucky? She is even able to borrow the TY Manor, I think she is way too lucky for her own good.” Albie said while gritting his teeth.

“Humph, she’s just lucky, that’s all. Who knows whether she has used any despicable means to achieve something like this.” Nyla was unwilling to acknowledge her too.

A cold light flashed in Albie’s eyes as he said coldly, “Even though she was able to borrow the TY Manor, that won’t stop me from targeting her. I still have a lot of tricks up my sleeve. Nyla, you just wait, I will let her die a terrible death this time!”

On the way back, Edith was still contemplating something, but in the end she decided to bring it up,

“Was it you who asked the general manager of TY Real Estate Inc. to send that message?”

“What message are you talking about? I don’t know anything about that.” Casey replied with a smile.

“Humph, you better not hide anything from me. Although the fact that grandpa is planning to organize an antique exhibition is not a secret, but there was no way the TY Real Estate Inc. would know about this.

And besides, just seconds after grandpa had set the condition for me to borrow the TY Manor, their general manager immediately sent a message about this particular matter. I won’t believe that this is just a coincidence.” Edith said logically.

After hearing Edith’s reasoning, Casey replied with a smile, “Then there is no reason for me to hide anything from you anymore. Actually, I’m the owner of TY Manor.”

Edith poked Casey in his waist and scolded him, “I’m being serious about this, stop fooling around with me.”

Casey realized that Edith wouldn't believe him, so he continued helplessly, "I have told you before that I have friends working in TY Real Estate Inc., so it's not a big deal to ask for his help."

Edith finally believed him as she replied, "Casey, it's not easy for you to have such a friend. You must thank him later on. Since your reputation is not good all the while, you should try your best to keep this important friend."

"Alright, you don't need to tell me that," Casey replied casually.

That afternoon, the whole Patel family finally learned of the news about the owner of TY Manor willing to lend the place to the Patel family. Somebody had even paid a visit to pass the key of TY Manor to Edith.

This incident successfully made those who didn't believe Edith shut their mouths.

What the members of the Patel family never thought of was that in addition to the owner of TY Manor confirming the lending of the place, he was also looking to invite the prettiest girl in the Patel family to have a meal together during the antique exhibition. This was a piece of breaking news.

A 25-Year-Old Becomes The Richest Man In His City

It Must Have Been A Kind Of Hell For A Little Chrissy Metz

This news was like a bomb for the people from the Patel family.

Everybody started to guess which lucky girl would be invited by the owner of TY Manor.

At first, all the female members of the Patel family assumed that the owner of TY Manor would invite them.

But shortly after, they realized that the owner of TY Manor only wanted to invite the prettiest girl from the Patel family.

And among those in the Patel family who was still single and had an outstanding appearance, Nyla was the obvious choice.

Although Edith was prettier than Nyla, nobody would expect the owner of TY Manor to invite a married woman.

Some even made a wild guess that the owner of TY Manor must have fallen for Nyla. That was the reason he was sending out this invitation.

After learning of this news, Nyla felt like she was on cloud nine. She was sure that the owner of TY Manor was coming for her.

She even told everyone that she was the reason the owner of TY Manor was willing to sell off the office building at half the price and lend them the TY Manor.

The people from the Patel family all believed Nyla, since among everyone from the Patel family, she had the highest chance to get invited.

She took this opportunity to brag about this in front of Edith as well as belittle her. She had to vent her anger on Edith.

“It’s too bad, if you’re not married to Casey that good-for-nothing, the owner of TY Manor would probably invite you to have a meal together.”

“You are good-looking and capable yet you are going to waste all of this. You are stuck with Casey that good-for-nothing for your whole life. Perhaps I should thank you for this too.”

When Edith recalled how Nyla had been spouting nonsense in front of her recently, a silent rage started to rise in her heart.

She thought that being assigned by her grandfather to organize the antique exhibition meant that she was being valued in the family, but now it looked more like she was working for Nyla.

“It is precisely because of you, you good-for-nothing, that my daughter’s future is ruined. If you’re not here to mess up my daughter’s life, she would be the one who is invited by the owner of TY Manor!”

Amara said this while glaring at him on the sofa.

“If it is not because of you, such a good thing wouldn’t happen to Nyla in the first place. That girl is always incompatible with Edith, and if she is married into the TY Manor, she will definitely not let us go. I blame all of this on you, you unlucky bastard!”

Casey looked at Amara speechlessly as he replied, "How do you know that the owner is going to invite Nyla? He didn't even state who he is going to invite yet. Why can't that person be Edith?"

"Why can't it be Edith? Don't you know the reason all along? It is because you are in her way, you good-for-nothing, and you even dare to complain!" Amara couldn't help but scold him.

Casey was slightly irked by her and he almost revealed that he was the owner of TY Manor. The person he was going to invite was definitely Edith. He was never going to invite Nyla.

"Enough, you two should stop quarreling." Edith came over while feeling irritated as she saw them quarreling. Her mind was already preoccupied with something else at the moment.

"Daughter, why do you speak up for this good-for-nothing? If it was not because of him, you would have the chance to marry into a wealthy family!" Amara was still adamant. Edith didn't want to continue this conversation with Amara, so she dragged Casey and returned to her room.

Casey watched Edith closely while thinking that he must give Edith a surprise this time. On the day of the antique exhibition, he would let Nyla know the feeling of suffering from utter humiliation! _____ The Peremptory Casey Davies

Chapter 12 Heart Of Venus

In the room, Edith was exhausted as she lied on the bed. She started to play with her phone.

"My wife, the owner of TY Manor didn't mention that he would invite Nyla. Since she is so proud of herself now, she might suffer from humiliation if things don't work in her favor." Casey tried to comfort her.

"No matter who he's inviting, it's definitely not me, so you should stop talking about this. It's annoying." Edith replied.

When Casey heard that, he didn't continue the conversation for now. He started to imagine how big a surprise she would receive on the day of the antique exhibition. "Wow, this necklace looks so pretty." When Casey was spreading out the mat, Edith suddenly broke the silence.

Casey was curious about it so he took a glance at the screen of her phone and saw that she was talking about a magnificent necklace named 'Heart of Venus'. This necklace was going to be auctioned off tomorrow.

An idea suddenly sprang up in Casey's mind. He was planning to set a romantic setting on the day of the antique exhibition and confess his gratitude towards her for the past three years. And it seemed like he was lacking a present now.

"This necklace looks quite pretty, do you like it?" Casey tried to gauge her desire.

Edith replied helplessly, "No woman can resist this at all, but it's too expensive for me. The lowest bidding price for it starts at ten million Yuan, so it is not something I can even imagine to own."

"Actually, you can dream about having it sometimes, doing that doesn't cost you anything at all." Casey continued.

Edith immediately rolled her eyes at him as she retorted, "What can I gain from dreaming about that?

Are you going to give me as a present? Let's not think about unrealistic stuff, you should sleep now."

After saying that, Edith switched off her phone and went to sleep on the bed.

A faint smile appeared at the corner of Casey's mouth. He had decided to win the bid for this "Heart of Venus" necklace and give it to Edith as a present.

The next morning, Edith was busy preparing for the antique exhibition while Casey went to the city center of J City, where the “Heart of Venus” necklace was going to be auctioned off in an auction house.

Casey bought a cap from some roadside stall and tried to disguise his attire so that nobody would recognize him.

Shortly after, the auction house was slowly filled up with a crowd and there were a lot of expensive cars parked near the entrance. Those who were joining this auction were all from a noble or wealthy background. Everybody was wearing elegant and beautiful clothes except Casey, who was wearing cheap clothes bought at roadside stalls. He was pretty out of place there.

When he reached the entrance of the auction house, a few men in black suits were examining the people entering the auction house.

Casey went straight towards the entrance but he was stopped by those men instantly.

“You should pick up rubbish somewhere else, this is a high-end auction event. You should look at yourself in the mirror and see what kind of ridiculous clothes you’re wearing now. Do you think you can simply enter this kind of place?” One of them shouted at Casey.

Casey looked at him and said, “I’m here to join the auction.”

The two men were stunned briefly by his words before bursting into laughter.

“Do you think we are blind? Look at your attire, they probably cost at most a hundred Yuan. This is a high-end auction event where every item’s starting price is at least a million Yuan. Do you really think you can afford them?”

“Enough, let’s not talk nonsense with this fool. We should get him out of here so that he won’t affect other guests.” One of them suggested.

At this moment, a smart-looking woman who was wearing sexy clothes approached them. She probed,

“What is happening here?”

Those two men saw her and bowed politely in front of her. One of them said, "Miss Burgess, this beggar wants to enter the auction event but we have stopped him here. We are having a difficult time getting him out of this place."

The woman called Sawyer Burgess scanned Casey from his head to his toes and snickered while thinking that more fools were appearing out of nowhere these days.

Despite that, she didn't drive him away immediately. Instead, she asked Casey, "You have a bench mark to meet if you want to enter our auction event. Your net worth must be at least ten million Yuan to qualify yourself for this event. Lower than that, you won't be allowed to enter. Are you sure you're qualified to enter?"

Casey immediately whipped out his world-class black card and handed it to Sawyer while saying, "You can check the amount in this card. If it is less than ten million Yuan, I will immediately get lost."

Sawyer was surprised that Casey looked quite serious when he said that. She pouted and replied, "If that's the case, then I will bring you to check on your assets now. But let me warn you, if you're wasting our time, just know that all the brawlers here are not the kindest type."

Casey shrugged to indicate that he didn't care about that.

Sawyer immediately led Casey into a room to validate his assets. She was already making up her mind that she would call in some brawlers to beat him up if she found out that there wasn't much in this card.

When they were inside the room, Sawyer handed over Casey's card to an employee to let him check the balance.

After that, she studied Casey carefully and showed a look of disgust after seeing what he was wearing at the moment.

"To be honest, I can't understand why a fool like you likes to pretend to be rich. You know that you would get exposed in the end, but you still want to continue pretending.

I can't understand what are you trying to achieve by doing that?" Sawyer said.

Casey smiled at her while replying, "I am not pretending to be anybody else at all. Since you have a bench mark to meet here, it is natural for me to let you check the balance of my card."

"Humph, you should stop bluffing now. Let's not talk about ten million Yuan, if this card contains even ten thousand Yuan, you can do whatever you want with me!" Sawyer said confidently.

Casey ignored her as he thought that it was pointless to argue with her.

"Enter your password here." The employee said to Casey.

Casey typed his password and waited for the employee to announce the result.

When that employee saw the balance contained in Casey's card, his mouth was so wide open that you could stuff an egg into his mouth.

Sawyer saw that employee's reaction and asked quickly, "What's wrong with you? Is it because there's too little money in it that it has shocked you?"

"One... One hundred... One hundred..." The employee was stammering right now.

Sawyer glared at him and said, "You're shocked because there's only one hundred Yuan inside that card?"

"Are you serious?"

Sawyer was about to summon some brawlers here to beat Casey up when that employee suddenly shouted, "The amount is not one hundred Yuan!"

"Then what is it? Why are you stuttering when you're talking about a poor guy's card?" Sawyer was getting impatient now.

That employee took a deep breath and said, "Ten billion Yuan! There's ten billion Yuan in his card!"

When Sawyer heard the amount, her eyes widened in disbelief. She thought there was something wrong with her hearing ability, so she quickly checked the computer screen. "Ones, tens, hundreds... Ten million, one hundred million, one billion, ten... Ten billion!"

Sawyer was shocked beyond belief. She almost jumped up after confirming the amount.

“You... you actually have ten billion Yuan in your card!” Sawyer felt that her breathing had sped up, and her hands were trembling.

Casey retrieved the card and said, “Now, am I qualified to enter the venue?”

Sawyer swallowed hard and said with a regretful face, “Yes, yes, sir, I’m really sorry about what happened previously. I couldn’t recognize your worth and has treated you rudely. I hope that you will forgive my rudeness. I will personally bring you in through the VIP lane and arrange a private room for you.”

Casey didn’t say anything in response as he followed Sawyer through the VIP lane into a private room that was usually reserved for the most distinguished guests. He could bid his price by pressing a button in the room. That way, his identity could be hidden. It was a privilege provided by the auction house to protect these distinguished guests.

After making sure that Casey had settled down in the private room, Sawyer emerged from the room and heaved a huge sigh of relief. When he was leading Casey just now, her hands were soaked with cold sweat.

The two men who had stopped Casey from entering previously walked towards Sawyer with a confused expression on their faces.

“Sawyer, why did you let that beggar enter the auction house? You have even brought him in through the VIP lane. Did he bribe you?” One of them asked.

Sawyer immediately slapped him in the face and shouted angrily, “Watch your mouth! That man is our distinguished guest. If somebody refers to him as a beggar again, I will make sure you are fired from your job!”

There were a lot of expensive and luxurious items being auctioned today, but Casey was not interested in most of them.

His only goal was to get his hands on the main attraction of this auction, which was the “Heart of Venus”.

As time went on, the items were slowly auctioned off one by one until the “Heart of Venus” finally took center stage.

Casey, who almost fell asleep, suddenly snapped himself awake. He watched the host introducing the “Heart of Venus” and vowed that no matter how much he had to spend, he would bring this necklace home today.

“Ladies and gentlemen, the “Heart of Venus” was designed by a top international designer and it is a valuable accessories. This necklace was made from one hundred and eight top-grade diamonds, and...”

“Now, the starting price is ten million Yuan. You can start the bidding now.”

After the host had finished its introduction, someone immediately raised the bidding amount, but they were increasing it by a million Yuan at a time, and some even only increased five hundred thousand Yuan.

Casey thought that this was a drag, so he immediately stood up and went to the window and shouted, “I bid thirty million Yuan!”

Everybody was shocked by his words as they turned around to look in the direction of Casey’s private room. But due to the specially made window, nobody could discern Casey’s appearance.

“This guy must be crazy! He bids thirty million Yuan in one shot, and this amount far exceeds the necklace’s original price.”

“Who is that person who bid this amount? He’s too generous. Is he the richest man in J City?”

“My god, I initially thought that I could buy this necklace with fifteen million Yuan as a gift for my wife.

But now, I think I can only dream about it.”

“This is really frustrating! This is how a wealthy person sound like. The total amount of our assets are just enough for someone like him to spend it on luxury items.”

...

“First call for thirty million Yuan! Is there anybody who wants to raise the bid?” The host shouted excitedly. This was the first time he had seen somebody bid for such a huge amount.

At this moment, a voice suddenly sounded from another private room.

This person sounded like he had made up his mind after contemplating for some time, “I bid for thirty-five million Yuan!”

“Forty-five million Yuan!” Casey raised his bid without thinking. In his eyes, money was just a string of numbers. He must obtain this necklace so that he could give it to Edith. The other private room immediately became silent. Someone was sighing faintly behind the window.

The guests who were present were astonished at Casey’s bidding price of forty-five million Yuan. This amount was enough to buy several commercial buildings, but he was willing to spend so much money on just a necklace.

He was really wealthy beyond imagination!

In the end, nobody dared to compete with Casey, so Casey became the owner of “Heart of Venus” at a staggering price of forty-five million Yuan.

Everybody was curious about the identity of this person who had spent so much on “Heart of Venus”.

But due to the protection policy set by the auction house, nobody knew that it was Casey who had done this.

After going through the procedures and paying the full amount, Casey took the necklace and left the auction house through the VIP lane.

When he stepped out of the venue, someone blocked his way. It was none other than Sawyer who had sent him in before the auction started.

Compared to previously, Sawyer was looking even more coquettish now, and she even unbuttoned two of the buttons on her shirt. She obviously had made herself look good. She looked at Casey with passionate eyes while saying, "Sir, I'm here to sincerely apologize for offending you previously."

"There's no need for that." Casey continued to move forward while he replied to her.

Sawyer quickly caught up to him and added, "Sir, please don't be so cold, I was careless just now and I have learned my lesson. In order to make up for my mistake, I will do whatever you wish."

"This is my name card. After I have finished work, you can call me any time and I will immediately come to you. You can do whatever you want with me and I won't even resist one bit."

After saying this, Sawyer winked at Casey before leaving shyly.

Casey held the name card and continued walking until he saw a rubbish bin. He looked at the card momentarily before throwing it into the rubbish bin with a smile.

After buying the "Heart of Venus" necklace, Casey didn't return to his home immediately. He hailed a taxi and headed to the Starry Night Club.

The Starry Night Club was a very famous entertainment center in J City and it was dubbed the men's heaven. All the lonely men or youngsters in the city would flock that place to seek some fun.

The reason this place was famous was not only because they had a large number of pretty girls working here, but because this place was owned by Morgan Byrne, who was one of the three underground kings of J City.

Morgan was one of the underground sensation in J City in recent years. He was very competitive and he had the skills that lived up to his name. He alone could fight dozens of strong hunks simultaneously.

In just a few years, Morgan was able to become one of the underground kings of J City using his own efforts. There were a lot of loyal underlings that swore to serve under him too.

His power and influence could even give Alfred Frost and Jayden Marsh, the other two underground kings a run for their money.

Casey stood in front of the entrance to Starry Night Club as two huge hunks walked towards him and stopped him there.

“Little kid, what are you doing here? The place is not open for business yet, so you should get lost now.

Don’t disturb me.” The hunk warned him.

Casey looked at them coldly and said, “Ask Morgan to come out and meet me now.”

The Peremptory Casey Davies

Chapter 14 The Profoundly Unpredictable Casey Davies

“Motherfucker, are you here to pick a fight?”

When the two brawny men heard what Casey said, they both showed their faces full of anger and started to curse at Casey.

“You have three minutes, or suffer the consequences.” Casey did not care about the attitude of those two people.

“Who the fuck do you think you are, spreading your fury at our turf, are you tired of living?” One of the strong men spoke up.

“Isn’t this man that useless son-in-law of the Patel family, damn it, he dared to come to Starry Night Club and make a ruckus, it really seems like he does not want to live anymore.” The other man stared at Casey and spoke.

“The live-in son-in-law of the Patel family? The one who’s home all day doing the dishes and laundry, whose position is considered lower than a dog?”

“Yes, that’s him.”

After the two men realized Casey’s identity, their gazes towards him became even more contemptuous.

“Wimp, get the hell out of here, you should not have come to this place.”

Casey sighed helplessly and started to walk towards the night club.

“Damn, you are shameless, time to let you see what we are made out of today!”

The two strong men were about to make a move on Casey, but at that moment, a twenty-eight or twenty-nine-year-old man with a buzz cut walked out from the night club.

He saw Casey standing at the doorway, his eyes lit up again, and when he saw that the two strong men were about to make a move, he began to be in a cold sweat.

“What the fuck are you guys doing, stop it now!” Morgan shouted and immediately rushed over, knocking each of the strong men once on their heads.

The two strong men covered their heads, looking at Morgan in puzzlement.

“Boss, the brat does not know any better, he dared to call you out to meet him, we just want to help you teach him a lesson.” The strong man stated.

After hearing the strong man’s explanation, Morgan immediately glared at the two of them, as he thought to himself if they really had made a move just now, they will have to prepare to live the rest of their lives lying in beds.

“This is now none of you guys matter, get out of here, the next time you guys meet him again, just let him go, and if you dared to block him, I am going to break your legs!” Morgan scolded.

After kicking the two men away, Morgan hurriedly approached Casey and respectfully said, “Mr. Davies, what brings you here. Those two men of mine are quite short-sighted and offended you, I will deal with them later on.”

Casey smiled, and decided not to pursue this matter any further.

The reason why Morgan was so respectful to Casey was that everything he had now could be said to have been given to him by Casey.

Four years ago, when Morgan was hunted down by his enemies, he fled all the way to J City, it was Casey who stepped in and took care of his enemies. He also passed down the Starry Night Club to Morgan as well.

Without Casey, Morgan will not be known as one of three underworld Kings, thus Morgan was very grateful to Casey, and he was also aware that Casey was not the trash people said he is, he was unfathomable and simply beyond the imagination of ordinary people. Even though he was now one of the underworld kings of J City, he was also clear that Casey could easily destroy him.

“In a few days, the Patel family will organize an exhibition at the TY Real Estate Inc, so find me some people and make sure the exhibition can be carried out safely.” Casey did not want to waste any more time and directly stated his request.

“No problem, the task given by Mr. Davies, I will definitely complete it successfully.” Morgan promised with a smile.

When facing Casey, his usual kind of ruthlessness could not be shown at all.

“Mr. Davies, please come in and take a seat, let’s have a drink.” Morgan saw Casey had just finished explaining things, so he spoke.

“No, I still have to get back quickly, remember what I explained to you, if you mess up, you going to be greeted by my fist.” Casey stated.

Morgan immediately stood up straight, full of seriousness, not daring to let Casey down.

He had tasted Casey’s fist before, and that feeling was a nightmare for him.

At the same time, in one of the KTV’s in J City, Albie was sitting drinking with a chubby man, this person was Jayden, one of the Three Underworld Kings of J City.

“Mr. Marsh, this time you send me two good men to steal a few antiques from my grandfather at the exhibition, and then I will frame everything on Casey, let him get kick out from the Patel family forever, and we split the antiques fifty-fifty, what you do think?" Albie said with a smirk.

Jayden smoked a cigarette and said, "I can lend you those men, but as for those antiques, all of them belong to me, you give me another hundred thousand, otherwise there is no deal."

Albie immediately gritted his teeth, not expecting Jayden to be so greedy, not only did he want all the antiques, he even asked him to pay another hundred thousand. But thinking about the time Casey making him knelt down in front of Edith to apologize, Albie gritted his teeth in hatred, he took a deep breath and said to Jayden, "Fine, I will listen to Mr. Marsh, as long as Mr. Marsh's men does not let me down."

"Then there is nothing to worry about, I, Jayden Marsh, have never failed to do anything." said Jayden as he patted his chest.

At night, in the living room.

"Daughter, come and see, the Heart of Venus has been bought for forty-five million yuan!" Amara stared at the news on the television and shouted.

She had also been concerned about this necklace for the past few days, and Amara had a great desire for these luxuries.

"I cannot understand how these rich people think, spending so much money on a necklace, what a waste." Nicolas muttered.

"Do not look at people with those incapable eyes of yours, they bought it for enjoyment, at least they are not as wimpy as you, I think you are just a little better than that trash Casey." Amara immediately nagged back at Nicolas.

Nicolas was taken aback and did not dare to say anything else.

"I get angry when talking about Casey, if it was not for him, our Edith would have a chance to marry into a rich family, until then, getting the Heart of Venus will just be a piece of cake, but unfortunately it is all ruined by that useless trash.”

No matter what Amara did, she could always find a way to curse Casey a few times, Casey had almost become the person whom she will use to vent her anger with.

Edith came over and took a glance at the TV, full of emotion and sadness, thinking that someone who was willing to spend so much money on a necklace should also be very romantic, however she would not be able to experience it in this lifetime.

She noticed that the TV crew members had filmed the one who bought the Heart of Venus and he was wearing a cap, although they only captured his backside, for some reason, she felt that this back was familiar.

“Why does it feel a bit like Casey?” Edith muttered.

“Maybe I am over-thinking it.” Edith shook her head, feeling a bit ridiculous about a certain thought she had just now.

Casey watched Edith’s reaction from the kitchen doorway, a smile on his face, before touching his pocket.

By waiting for few days, he would be able to give Edith the Heart of Venus as a gift.

At the same time in Nyla’s house, Nyla was staring at the television with a florid face, she was also concerned that the Heart of Venus had been auctioned off at a high price of forty-five million yuan.

In her imagination, this necklace was most likely bought by the master of TY Manor to be presented as a gift to her.

“This necklace must have been specially bought for me by my future husband in order to purpose to me, with my future husband’s capabilities, buying the necklace must have been very easy.”

For the past two days, she had already considered the master of TY Manor as her future husband.

“I am really looking forward to it, although I still have no idea who he is, but I believe that he will come looking for me soon.”

“Humph, Edith Patel, what is the use of being so beautiful, as in the end you are still married to a useless husband, that trash Casey will never be able to buy you such an expensive necklace .”

“When I am married into a rich family, I will definitely trample all of you down so hard that you will beg me to give you alms!” _The Peremptory Casey Davies
Chapter 15 A Grand Invitation for Miss Edith!

A few days later, it was the day of Francis Patel’s exhibition, Edith woke up early in the morning and went to work at TY Manor.

Since Francis had left the preparation of the exhibition to her, she was extraordinarily busy these days.

Francis had invited many people to come to his exhibition, most of them consisted of people who have worked with the Patel family’s industry, he also thought of inviting some of the top-notch families in J City, but unfortunately, they did not appreciate the thought.

In fact, many people who had promised to come to the exhibition were coming for the TY Manor, and there were also some people who wanted to see which girl from the Patel family that had caught the eye of the master of TY Manor.

As the day of the exhibition came, people’s discussion about the master of TY Manor became more and more intense.

A few days ago, all the Carola roses in J City were acquired away by a person, and everyone suspected this matter was also done by the master of TY Manor.

All signs indicated that, the master of TY Manor will confess to the girl he liked at the exhibition.

And the one who had the most hope was naturally Nyla.

Many people were comparing the owner of TY Manor with Casey, and in their opinion, their difference is like comparing heaven with earth.

When the Patel family heard others mention that Casey was coming, they were filled with disgust, as if Casey is going to embarrassed them a lot.

“It is all Casey’s fault, these days when I am outside, I always hear people saying that our Patel family is not good enough to have a connection with TY Manor, it must be because of that useless Casey that made others look down on us.

“That is right, look at someone like Nyla, she is the one who will be married into the TY Manor, someone as useless as Casey does not have the qualifications to be compared with others.

“Do not mention that wimp’s name again, it causes bad luck.”

TY Manor, in the middle of a beautifully landscaped garden.

Edith was giving orders to the people of the Patel family to set up Francis antiques, Francis had already arrived early on to look at them, and he looked quite pleased.

At that time, there were already people who had come to watch the exhibition inside the TY Manor, Edith was very busy as she was entertaining the guests while arranging the exhibition.

“Where did that brat, Casey, ran off to, he disappeared early in the morning, I am almost worked to death.” Edith complained, Casey would help her a few days before, but today, he was nowhere to be seen.

At the time, a few muscular strong men were patrolling around the garden, these people were arranged by Casey, Edith was a little bit scared of these people at first, but Casey explained that there were security guards, responsible for the safety of the exhibition.

After a short while, the garden gradually became more and more crowded, and the exhibition officially started, Francis personally came down to talk and laugh with those who came by to see the exhibition.

Many people were not interested in the antiques, they were waiting for the master of TY Manor to show up, wanting to see who that lucky girl from the Patel family was.

Edith was also relieved to see that the exhibition was proceeding smoothly, not wasting any time and effort she had put during those days.

As she was resting behind rockwork, she suddenly heard a few women discussing not far away for here.

“Ladies, they are all from the Patel family, so why did Edith marry a wimp? I heard that her husband does not know how to do anything except being a deadbeat, compared to the master of TY Manor, it is a world of a difference.”

“That is right, Edith is quite good looking, but she is married to a loser, who knows if there is something wrong with herself.”

“I heard that the master of TY Manor is interested in Nyla of the Patel family, Edith is actually no worse than Nyla, but unfortunately she is married to a loser, her life is ruined.”

“The master of TY Manor will never be interested in her as she is already married, so what the point of being good looking.”

As Edith listened to these people’s discussion, she could not help but clench her fists, a flicker of darkness can also be seen in her eyes.

She did not want to stay here any longer, and as she was about to turn and leave, she came face to face with two people, Nyla and Albie.

A 25-Year-Old Becomes The Richest Man In His City

No Wonder She’s Always In The Top 10 Of These Lists

Nyla was dressed quite beautifully today, it would not be an exaggeration to describe her as gorgeous, but of course, compared to Edith, she was still a little bit behind.

“Yo, sister, why are you hiding here all along, where is the loser Casey?” Nyla shouted loudly.

“That trash Casey would not dare to appear on such an occasion, I guess he knows that he will just be an embarrassment to be here.” Albie added on.

The people who were discussing over there immediately looked over towards them, with their eyes staring at Edith.

It was clear that Nyla and Albie were doing this just to embarrass Edith.

Those women did not feel that there is anything wrong with what was said at that moment, as all of it was the truth, they were also selfish human beings, and when they saw Nyla was here, they all immediately approached and greeted her.

“Miss Nyla, you are really beautiful today, I heard that the master of TY Manor will give you special hospitality today, I am really envious.”

“The Patel family really has a lot of talented people, it is no wonder that the master of TY Manor is interested in you, Miss Nyla’s looks, it is truly astonishing.”

“Yeah, Miss Nyla is so excellent, she is much better than a certain someone.”

Hearing these people complimenting Nyla, Edith clenched her fists even tighter.

When Nyla noticed Edith’s appearance, she was even more proud of herself, she even talked in a more superior tone to Edith, saying, “Sister, what a pity, you are definitely the prettiest one in our Patel family, but too bad you are married to the loser Casey, there is no use in regretting it.”

“Birds of a feather flock together, I am afraid it is not a coincidence that she married that useless Casey.”

Albie added fuel to the fire.

Edith was annoyed, she stared at Nyla with both eyes and gritted her teeth, “Nyla Patel, do not take this too far.”

Nyla looked indifferent and shrugged her shoulders, “I took it too far? Sister, that is not right, I am about to be married into the TY Manor, it is a bit inappropriate for you to say that about me.”

“Sister Nyla, you will be the mistress of the TY Manor in the future anyway, so if you want to get rid of anyone you do not like, there should not be any problems.” Albie sneered.

Edith was on the verge of exploding, she really wanted to teach both Nyla and Albie a lesson.

However, reality calmed her, she took a deep breath, no longer paying attention to both of them, and immediately turned and left.

“Edith Patel, when my future husband appears later, you will know that you will never be able to compare with me”

As the exhibition continued, Nyla was feeling like a queen, enjoying being worshiped by the crowd.

As for Edith, she sat at a corner feeling full of grievances.

When it was time for lunch, the Patel family wanted to bring everyone there to eat.

At this moment, a group of people ran over from inside of the mountain estate.

Nyla immediately became excited as she knew that those people were here to pick her up.

The crowd was also casting envious glances at her.

The one who led those people are none other than Aryan, after he positioned himself well, he swept a glance at the crowd and shouted in a neutral voice,

“The master of TY Manor grandly invites Miss Edith from the Patel family to enter the interior of the Villa and have lunch with the master!” _____

Chapter 16 The Master of TY Manor

Nyla was about to walk towards Aryan. She had a smile on her face; she was secretly excited but kept her cool. She wanted to show her best to her future husband.

Everyone in the garden was watching Nyla. These women were full of envy, and they secretly hated that the people of TY Manor did not choose them instead.

Just as everyone thought that the master of TY Manor was going to call on Nyla, Aryan called out Edith's name.

Everyone was taken by surprise, and immediately began to look around for Edith.

"The master of TY Manor picked Edith? Wasn't it Nyla?"

"Yeah, how could it be Edith? Isn't she already married?"

"How could this be? It's not Nyla? A few days ago, everyone said it would be Nyla. I even gave her a lot of gifts to get on her good side. Now it's all for nothing."

"Me too. When I heard that it was going to be Nyla, I immediately went over to suck up to her. I can't believe it's not her. What a waste of my efforts."

Nyla had already taken a step out. Just now, she was still pondering what kind of pace she should take to highlight her dignity.

But her foot did not even touch the ground yet when Aryan called out Edith's name. This made her freeze in place, and that foot remained in the air for a long time. She felt her face turn red hot, and embarrassment rushed all over her body.

"How... How could it be that slut Edith! The master of TY Manor should pick me!"

Nyla still couldn't believe it, and resentment towards Edith swelled up in her heart.

Albie, who stood next to Nyla, also had a puzzled look. He looked at Aryan and asked loudly, "Is there a mistake? The person your master wants to see should be Nyla, no?"

Aryan glanced at Albie and Nyla, and said loudly, "No mistake; the master will receive Miss Edith. As for Nyla, the master never mentioned her."

Aryan's words caused an uproar, and it made Nyla even more embarrassed. Now she wanted to find a crack in the wall to hide inside.

"Edith, you bitch, what drugs did you use to make the master of TY Manor choose you?" Nyla gritted her teeth; she firmly believed that Edith used some demeaning methods to steal her opportunity.

Edith stood in place with a look of ignorance; she had not yet processed what just happened. She didn't expect that the master of TY Manor was going to pick her.

Those who once mocked her were regretting their actions right now, and they all wished they could slap themselves.

It didn't matter why the owner of the TY Manor chose Edith; she now had ties to the master of TY Manor. It would be difficult for them to ask Edith for favors in the future. Francis always thought that the master of TY Manor would pick Nyla. After he heard Aryan call out Edith's name, even he was a little surprised. No matter; whoever the master chose, that person would be a member of his family, so he was not as surprised as the rest. Besides, he thought that Casey was useless. Edith was wrong to have married Casey. He opposed the marriage before, but in the end, he didn't blame his wife. Now if the master of TY Manor could accept that Edith had married, he hoped that Edith will leave Casey and maintain a good relationship with the owner of the TY Manor. "Well, Edith, don't just stand there. The master of TY Manor wants to see you, so hurry up." Francis said. Edith returned to her senses. Aryan looked on Edith with respect, and gestured an invitation, "Miss Edith, please come with us." Edith took a deep breath and followed Aryan nervously.

A 25-Year-Old Becomes The Richest Man In His City

Angelina Jolie Health Struggles - Talk About A Dramatic Change

The crowd around her was envious. Of course they were jealous. In their opinion, Edith, a married woman, was not worthy to be selected by the master of TY Manor. "What a shameless woman, she's already married, and yet she still dared to seduce the master of TY Manor."

"Looks like Casey really is good for nothing. His wife is going to cuckold him, so he won't even show his face."

Under the guidance of Aryan and others, Edith soon walked into the villa. A magnificent, dazzling castle appeared before them. Aryan led Edith along a small, quiet path. Both sides of the path were covered with Carola roses, and the fragrance of flowers filled the air.

In the distance, Edith saw the castle that was surrounded by flowers; it was a sight to behold.

She heard the news that the roses in J City had all been bought out over the past few days; now she was certain it was done by the master of TY Manor.

Yet she still didn't know why the master of TY Manor invited her.

Soon, Edith arrived before the castle gates, and Aryan and the others stopped.

"Miss, our master is inside, please enter." Aryan said with a smile.

Edith nodded, then nervously walked into the castle.

As soon as she entered, Edith saw a bed of roses spread in a heart shape on the ground, and the castle walls were also decorated with bouquets in various shapes.

She saw a tall man in a suit standing in the middle of the castle, with his back towards her.

Was he the master of TY Manor? Why did he look vaguely familiar?

She continued to walk, and her eyes landed on the wall that was directly opposite of her.

The wall was full of roses of different sizes and different shapes. From the way they were positioned, the roses looked like an image of Edith!

Though she was already married, Edith was still deeply touched when she saw this.

The master of TY Manor was way too romantic.

Oh, what am I thinking, I'm married; even if the master of TY Manor has feelings for me, I cannot do something immoral.

Edith calmed herself down and walked towards the man with his back to her.

Edith stopped a few meters away from him, took a deep breath, and said, "Hello..."

The figure immediately turned around, with a gentle smile on his face, and looked at Edith.

"Wife, you're here." Casey said.

Edith was stunned for a moment. Looking at Casey's smile, she felt as if she was dreaming.

"Casey...? Why are you here?"

"Have you forgotten? Today is our wedding anniversary. I prepared these especially for you."

With that said, Casey took out a necklace from his clothes; it was the Heart of Venus, worth over 45 million!The Peremptory Casey Davies
Chapter 17 It Turned Out to be Him!

The second Edith saw the Heart of Venus, her eyes grew wide. She had admired this necklace for a long time, and she was almost certain that this was the exact one on TV. How did Casey have such an expensive necklace? And shouldn't it be the master of TY Manor to come meet her? Why was Casey here? Even now, Edith still did not realize that Casey was the master of TY Manor.

Casey held the necklace and walked towards Edith. He had prepared so long for this day, to repay Edith for all the grievances she had suffered over the years. As Casey approached her, Edith subconsciously took two steps back. "You... don't come over, first, tell me, what's going on? Casey, I know you want to make me happy, but you can't do something illegal." Edith said nervously.

She suddenly suspected that Casey might have stolen the necklace. Casey burst into laughter; to think that Edith thought that he had done something illegal to get this necklace. "I didn't break the law. I bought this necklace. As for this manor... my friend let me borrow it. I wanted to surprise you by using his name." Casey said lightly. He originally wanted to say that TY Manor was also his, but considering that Edith might not be able to accept the news, he said instead that the master TY Manor was a friend. "Why would I lie to you? If I really did do something illegal, I won't even be here in TY Manor." Casey added. Edith was not stupid, even though she still had trouble accepting all of this, and she couldn't help to think that Casey might have illegally used the castle of TY Manor. But the entire venue had obviously been arranged very carefully. Casey would definitely not have been able to pull it off without permission from the master of TY Manor.

And it was the staff of TY Manor who led her here, so Casey must have planned all of this.

If these were true, then Casey may actually have bought that Venus necklace.

Although she had been indifferent to Casey in recent years, they have been together long enough for her to know Casey's personality quite well. She knew that he would not be stupid enough to do something illegal just for a necklace.

As these thoughts raced through her mind, Edith started to feel uneasy. It turned out that Casey was not as useless as she thought. This man, a good-for-nothing in public, was probably putting on an act.

But because of him, she suffered through so many grievances. In the past few years, she had to endure harsh stares from others, and silently bore all their criticism...

As she thought of this, all of Edith's repressed grievance burst out instantly, and her nose began to sting.

Tears formed in her eyes, and she bit her lip; the sight of her would make anyone pity her.

Casey didn't expect Edith to act like this, and he was at a loss. He stepped forward and wanted to pass the Heart of Venus to Edith. He saw Edith staring at the necklace that day, so Casey knew that if Edith got this necklace, she would definitely be very overjoyed.

Edith stretched out her hand and pushed Casey away, as tears streamed out uncontrollably.

"Casey, you have been lying to me, right? You're not what everyone says, right?" Edith asked.

Casey sighed, but did not deny it.

"Do you know how much I have suffered because of you these past few years?"

"Do you know how painful it was for me to hear all those people talking about me?"

A 25-Year-Old Becomes The Richest Man In His City

It Must Have Been A Kind Of Hell For A Little Chrissy Metz

"I had to put up with their icy gazes everyday..."

Edith became more and more hysterical, releasing all her pent up emotions from the past few years.

Casey listened carefully to Edith's words and said anything, then he reached out and took Edith into his arms.

Edith did not resist, but leaned on Casey's shoulder and cried.

"I promise you that I will never let anything like that happen to you again in the future. I told you, I would change for you." Casey said firmly.

Edith didn't say anything. At this moment, she realized that she had a shoulder to depend on.

After a while, Edith calmed down and glanced at Casey with a bit of resentment.

Casey laughed at Edith, then walked behind her and put the Heart of Venus on her neck.

At this moment, countless pink petals rained from above. Casey and Edith were like a pair of statues frozen in place, and the picturesque setting was incredibly romantic.

"Do you like it?" Casey said softly.

Edith stared at the Heart of Venus on her neck, and a sense of satisfaction arose in her heart.

Never had she imagined that this precious necklace would be around her neck.

"I like it."

In the garden of TY Manor.

Nyla stood by the edge of the pool, filled with anger. The murderous look in her eyes was deadly enough to kill all the fish in the pool.

"Humph, I thought the master of TY Manor was my future husband.

Turns out to be a mistake, but now that I think about it, my real future husband would be able to buy this TY Manor with any random antique he gifts me. The master of TY Manor can't even compare to my future husband at all."

Nyla made a vow to herself. Now, she was quite certain that the person who sent gifts to the Patel family and the master of TY Manor was not the same person.

"Besides, the master of TY manor must have poor taste. He must be blind to fancy a married woman like Edith."

Since she lost her dignity at TY Manor today, Nyla secretly blacklisted the master of TY Manor.

Edith was also on her blacklist. When she becomes married into a wealthy family in the future, she would definitely exact revenge on those on her blacklist.

"You're absolutely right. TY Manor's master must be out of his mind to pick Edith." Albie chimed in, "It seems that my speculations that day was correct. Edith must have some dirty secrets with the master of TY Manor, otherwise, why else would they be willing to lend the venue." "Humph, no wonder Casey didn't dare show up today. He probably knew Edith was going to cheat on him, so he just chose to hide. This fool is really useless to tolerate Edith." Nyla said viciously.

"Fools like Casey are infamous for their worthlessness; even if Edith cheated on him, what can he do?"

Albie said.

Nyla still had a frown on her face: "Today that slut Edith really showed off. If it weren't for her, I wouldn't have been so embarrassed."

A sinister smile crept onto Albie's face as he said, "Don't worry, even if she is in the limelight today, I will make her miserable."

"She's the one in charge of today's exhibition. If an antique goes missing, grandpa will definitely hold her responsible. The person I arranged for will be here soon."__The

Peremptory Casey Davies

Chapter 18 Laughable

Outside the walls of TY Manor, two slim men walked suspiciously along the wall.

The two were looking about and reacting to all the surrounding sounds, it was obvious that they were experienced burglars.

Albie borrowed the two of them from Jayden and they were renowned burglars in J City. Their skills in stealing were unmatched.

"Bro, will the TY Manor be heavily guarded today? Although we are going to steal antiques, the guests can be a cover, but I have a strange feeling that something isn't right.”

The shorter man said.

“Bad feeling? Haven't you heard that the exhibition was organized by the Patel Family's Edith? The husband of Edith is renowned in J City to be a useless person. How could an exhibition organized by them manage to attract any important persons?”

“Furthermore I suspect that they never expect the antiques to be stolen. And even if the useless Casey asked for help, no one will come to help them watch over those antiques.”

When he heard this, the person who asked the question nodded and said, “That's true, what formidable persons does the Patel Family have? We should only worry about Morgan's subordinates. Based on the Patel Family's reputation, they wouldn't be able to hire Morgan's men. Not to mention it's that useless Casey's exhibition.”

Not worried anymore, the two scaled over the walls of TY Manor and proceeded towards the exhibition area.

Edith and Casey were having lunch at the castle and he specially hired a French Michelin three stars Chef to cook for them.

After lunch, Edith kept the Heart of Venus, after all, it was a priceless necklace and she didn't dare to take it out casually.

If she lost it, that would be a loss of forty-five million!

Furthermore, Casey kept reminding her not to publicize their wealth.

Not revealing their wealth was a smart thing to do.

The two of them left the castle and walked towards the garden.

Till now, Edith still felt that she was dreaming.

They started to attract numerous people's attention as soon as they reached the garden.

“Look, Edith is here.”

“Why is that useless Casey here, where’s the owner of TY Manor? Isn’t he coming out to grace the event?”

“Have you noticed? It looked like Edith just cried, why do her eyes seem red?”

Nyla and Albie also looked towards Edith and they noticed that Edith’s face had signs of her crying.

Nyla’s eyes lit up as if she knew what had happened.

“This slut must have wanted to cling onto TY Manor but the owner must have just toyed with her and just kicked her out.”

“I was wondering why did the owner of TY Manor receive her personally. From the looks of it, he must have shown his cards and from her looks, she must have cried for a long time.” Nyla said confidently.

“You have a point there, sister. This must have been because the master had seen Cathy, who, after much forbearance, had finally come out and disturbed them. I wonder if Edith will divorce him after ruining Edith’s chances.” Albie added.

They didn’t think about other possibilities and thought that that was the situation.

After all, in their opinion, the good for nothing Casey could never have ties to this TY Manor.

When Casey and Edith were having lunch, Nyla said a lot of bad things about Edith causing some people to suspect that Edith was having an affair with the owner of TY Manor. Now that they saw that Edith had cried, numerous people felt that the owner of TY Manor was just toying with her.

“How pitiful, this Edith must have wanted to latch onto TY Manor but it’s a pity she married the useless Casey.”

“It was said that the Heart of Venus was bought by the owner of TY Manor. I wonder who he gave it to.”

“It definitely isn’t Edith and that’s why she cried. Maybe she wanted the necklace but he didn’t give it to her.”

Nyla and Albie walked towards Casey and Nyla said sarcastically, “Hey sister, did you cry? Why? Did the owner of TY Manor give you the cold shoulder for you being with this good for nothing Casey and kicked you out?”

Edith scoffed and disregarded what she said.

Now she knew that Casey wasn’t as bad as what people said about him and that’s why no matter what others say about Casey, she wouldn’t feel upset.

On the contrary, she felt that these people were laughable.

“Edith, I will let you remember this day forever because you don’t have to suffer at the hands of the owner of TY Manor. This exhibition you also didn’t do well. Grandpa will soon drive you and that useless

Casey out of the Patel family.

Albie laughed coldly as she looked at Edith. She looked pleased with herself.

He was contented with Jayden’s abilities. Being one of three underworld kings of J City, Jayden’s reputation wasn’t simply hot air.

As long as Alfred and Morgan’s men didn’t come to cause any trouble, this matter can be settled.

But can Casey and Edith hire Alfred and Morgan’s men?

It was obvious that they couldn’t.

Just as Albie finished saying, a commotion can be heard not far from the garden.

Everyone quickly turned to look in that direction.

“Hurry and run, we’ve been spotted, they were prepared and we are not their match!”

“Bro, didn’t you say that the Patel family didn’t send anyone to watch over the antiques, how did they spot us?”

“How the hell do I know! Ah... hey... bro... gentler please!”

Morgan’s men swiftly pinned the two antique burglars onto the ground.

The people gathered around and looked curiously at the two who were on the ground.

“Aren’t they the infamous burglars of J City? Why are they here?”

“That goes without saying, of course, they are here to steal the antiques.”

“I didn’t expect Edith to be so capable to arrange guards for the antiques.”

...

Morgan’s men captured the burglars and brought to Casey and Edith.

“Behave yourself, if you struggle again, I’ll break your legs!” A burly guard shouted and turned his head towards Casey, “Sir, these two tried to steal the antique and we caught them, how do you want to punish them?”

This man was Jax Hanson, one of Morgan’s most trusted men and the leader of the men sent by Morgan.

Casey stared at the two of them and turned towards Albie and asked coldly, “Just now you said that this exhibition won’t be perfect, these two must have been sent by you?”

____ The Peremptory Casey Davies
Chapter 19 Break the Fingers

Albie saw that Casey guessed so easily that the two were sent by him and became very nervous.

His eyes glared furiously at Casey and yelled, “Casey, has your head been clamped by the door? What proof do you have to say that they were sent by me?”

“Furthermore, this is my grandfather’s exhibition, am I crazy to send someone to steal from my grandfather?”

The crowd noticed the situation and gathered curiously.

Francis walked to the front of the crowd and saw the two burglars and asked coldly, “What’s the matter?”

Edith wanted to explain to Francis when Albie rushed to Francis’s side and said, “Grandpa, these two are burglars. Just now I saw that they wanted to steal something and I immediately got some people to catch them.”

“But this Casey this fool has no evidence and accuse me of sending these two, what motives does he have?”

Albie’s shamelessness knows no bounds. Not only he didn’t admit that those two burglars were sent by him, he even said that they were caught by his men.

Francis has always believed Albie unconditionally and that’s why he looked at Casey with discontent,

“Casey, how dare you, why do you want to slander Albie?”

“I didn’t slander him. He should know clearly in his heart. Furthermore, the two weren’t caught by you.

You are shameless for even claiming that.” Casey calmly said.

“Fuck you! I saw the two of them trying to steal grandpa’s things and informed the security guard. Even if I didn’t do it myself, I had contributed to their capture. If you don’t believe, ask those few guards.” Albie quibbled.

He gave Jax and the few of them a look. He thought that everyone knows that Casey was a useless person and no one would speak up for Casey.

Although he didn’t know these guards, as long as he gave a signal, they would speak up for him.

Francis looked towards Jax and the few guards and asked, “Was Albie telling the truth?”

Jax laughed coldly and looked at Albie, Casey was a person respected by Morgan, they definitely wouldn’t dare to go against Casey.

“We were sent by Casey and have nothing to do with this man. Just now he didn’t inform us of the suspicious activities.” Jax answered.

The crowd started to talk and didn’t expect Albie to lie and everyone felt that Albie was shameless.

Albie also didn’t expect Jax not to go along with him. He cursed in his heart all of his subsequent generations.

Francis’s expression also changed but he didn’t believe that the burglars were sent by his grandson.

“No matter who caught them, they are definitely not sent by Albie, furthermore these security guards must have been sent by Edith. I'm fully aware of what kind of person Casey is. He definitely is incapable of arranging for this."

"Edith, I know that you want to gain some face for Casey but that should be done by him. He still wants to depend on a woman, what a worthless person. Now he even wanted to slander Albie. I think the person who has dirty tricks up his sleeve is him!" Francis said coldly. "Grandpa, that's not how it is..." Edith became agitated and wanted to explain for Casey.

But Francis wouldn't listen. He looked at the two on the ground and asked, "Say, who sent you two?"

Albie glared at the two of them, Jax and his men won't listen to him but these two burglars will.

The two immediately understood the situation and looked at Casey, "It was Casey who sent us. He said that the Patel family doesn't treat him well and wanted us to steal several antiques as revenge against the Patel family."

Everyone looked towards Casey and started to mumble.

"Didn't expect Casey to be such a person, he is the son-in-law of the family and sent people to steal from his own family."

"This Casey is really useless, though he suffers at home but he used such means to retaliate against the Patel family."

No Wonder She's Always In The Top 10 Of These Lists

"This useless thing, he won't be able to achieve anything in his life."

Albie suddenly laughed coldly, he bantered and looked at Casey, now with some confidence, "Casey, what have you to say for yourself now?"

"Humph, what can he say? No wonder this good for nothing remained in the Patel family. He was eyeing on grandfather's things. I see that Edith is together with him, the two of them want to grab the Patel family fortunes." Nyla said.

Francis became furious and wanted so much to drive Casey away.

“This is infuriating, you are good for nothing, and even want to steal my things. From now on, get out of the Patel family! And Edith, this matter you are also implicated!”

Edith was anxious and she believed Casey wouldn't do such a thing. But the two burglars had already confessed and she didn't even have a chance to explain.

Casey wasn't a single bit concerned and calmly said, “These security guards were found by Edith. If these two burglars are also sent by us, do you think that we will have the guards catch them?”

What he said was like a knock on the head and everyone present started to react. They too felt that Edith and Casey didn't need to do that.

Francis also realized this but due to saving face, he didn't want to admit that his judgment was wrong.

“Maybe Edith was also kept in the dark by you. These two burglars already confessed. It's useless however you try to explain!” Nyla shouted.

Casey pursed his lips and said, “You also know that they are burglars and you can't simply believe what they say. If you want the truth, there is only one way.”

He turned and looked at Jax and he immediately understood. Jax lowered his head to look at the two.

The crowd was curious how will Casey make the burglars speak the truth.

Jax grabbed one of the man's hand and coldly laughed, “I never liked to beat around the bush. If you speak the truth, I'll let you suffer less.”

“We are saying the truth!” One of them said.

Jax didn't say a word and broke his finger.

Crack, and everyone's goosebumps raised on their skin.

“Out with the truth!” Jax demanded again.

That man was writhing in pain and could only yell in pain.

Crack!

Jax broke another finger.

The other burglar who was watching this turned pale and broke out in cold sweat.

Crack! The third finger.

The man with the broken fingers was in such pain that he couldn't speak.

The other burglar couldn't resist and shouted out, "Truth, I'll say the truth!"

"We are Jayden's men, it's Albie who looked for Jayden and asked Jayden to find someone to steal the antiques and cause trouble for Casey. What I'm saying is a hundred percent the truth. If any of the words isn't the truth, you can break all my ten fingers!"
The Peremptory Casey Davies
Chapter 20 Is the Floor too Hard to Sleep well?

Jax stopped, after seeing that the man spoke the truth. Everyone was shocked by what this man said. No one ever expected that it was really Albie who arranged for it. No one expected that under that circumstances he would continue to lie. Had it been them, they would have spoken the truth after one broken finger.

Furthermore, that man even mentioned Jayden. Jayden was the top three underworld kings in J City. If what he said wasn't the truth, he wouldn't dare to say it. After all, Jayden wasn't someone to be trifled with. The burglars mentioned Jayden in the hope that Jax would show them mercy. Otherwise, with Jax's ruthlessness, he might very well have broken all of their ten fingers.

"That's the truth and everybody heard it for yourselves. I, Casey, has always been above board. I will never do something such as stealing." Casey said righteously. Everyone nodded and shifted their eyes towards Albie. Albie totally couldn't explain any further as everybody felt that the burglars were now speaking the truth. "You guys don't talk nonsense here. You stole the things, what does it have to do with me? Grandpa, they are blindly accusing me!" Albie said nervously. "We are not accusing you. Why don't you ask Jayden? We are so damn unlucky to work for someone like you!" The man with the broken fingers endured the pain and said. Albie swallowed some saliva and didn't know what to do.

Francis's face turned blue and obviously believed the two burglars. But he had always sided Albie. Even if the burglars were sent by Albie, he was helping him get rid of the useless Casey out of the Patel family.

"Enough, this matter will end here. I'm aware of my own grandson. He won't do such a thing. Send these two burglars to the police station. No one is to mention this matter." Francis ordered.

It was obvious that Francis was biased towards Albie but those present didn't dare to say anything.

Edith wanted some justice for Casey. Just now when the burglars said that they were sent by Casey, Francis wanted to drive Casey out of the Patel family.

Now that the burglars spoke the truth and told Francis that everything was arranged by Albie, Francis told everyone not to mention this matter.

This was too unfair to Casey.

But Francis was an authoritarian of the Patel family. If she were to speak up for Casey, it will only enrage Francis further.

"This exhibition was done very well by Edith and my collection wasn't stolen. You have done a huge contribution and deserve all the credit. Henceforth your salary will double and for your sake, I'll let Casey this good for nothing remain in the Patel family. Make sure he doesn't give me any problems."

Francis knew that Albie carried things too far and used the exhibition to praise Edith.

"Grandpa, this exhibition..." Edith wanted to say that the very reason why the antiques weren't stolen was because of Casey.

"Enough, the exhibition has concluded. Keep the things properly and help me thank the owner of TY Manor. Albie, stay at home with me these few days and don't go to the office."

Francis turned and began walking out of TY Manor.

Albie masterminded the theft of his antiques and he wanted to let Albie reflect on his actions at home.

Albie acknowledged what Francis said and then turned towards Casey and Edith and gave a cold laugh.

“So what if grandpa knows that this was orchestrated by me, I’m his grandson and he wouldn’t do anything to me. Accept the reality, in the Patel family, what I say matters!”

Edith’s expression was furious and wanted to shout at Albie.

Casey stretched out his hand to stop her, “Don’t get angry with such a conceited person. Sooner or later he will regret it.”

Edith nodded and felt that Casey was right and didn’t bother with Albie. Sometimes when you argue with a fool, in the end, you’ll turn into the fool.

When the people in the garden realize that the exhibition has concluded, they started to walk out of TY Manor.

From beginning to the end, they didn’t see the owner of TY Manor, and no one knew why the owner would receive Edith.

Nyla walked in front of Casey and Edith full of pride and arrogance and said, “You labored so much only to get a bit more salary. The owner of TY Manor is nothing compared to my future husband. When he comes to marry me, this Patel family will be run by me!”

Casey pursed his lips and thought to himself that her daydream was wildly exaggerated.

When they returned home, Amara was very happy that her daughter had successfully organized the exhibition for Francis and her pay had been doubled. This was a great achievement that was why she prepared a table of food for Edith.

“Daughter, you had made a huge contribution. I believe your grandfather would value you even more.

Giving you a raise was just the beginning.” Amara laughed.

“Yes, our daughter is more and more capable.” Nicolas laughed and said.

“Dad, mom, this exhibition, Casey’s efforts were also very big, if it isn’t for him...” Edith said.

“What has your success in organizing the exhibition got to do with this useless person. It’s entirely your own abilities. Casey went with you could only mess things up. That’s why it was good that you handed the security well otherwise the theft of the antiques may be blamed on our family.”

Once Amara heard about Casey, her mood immediately changed.

“But mom, those guards...”

“Enough, daughter, don’t speak for that useless bum. He is already fortunate that he wasn’t driven away from the family. Even if you speak for him, you can’t change the fact that he is useless.”

Edith looked at Casey helplessly and Casey laughed at her, “Eat, I won’t bother.”

After dinner, Casey went to wash the dishes, and thereafter he went to the bedroom.

He laid the mat on the ground and then realized that Edith was looking at him.

“Why?” Casey asked.

“I’m so sorry about today. I wanted to explain carefully but they will not listen.” Edith was very apologetic.

Casey didn’t take it to heart and laughed, “As long as the problem is resolved. Don’t bother about what others think, since they acknowledge your abilities, that’s the most important to me.”

Edith was very thankful in her heart. What happened today already cause her to have a very different opinion of Casey.

“Oh yes, that Heart of Venus, was it really bought by you?” Edith asked directly.

Casey nodded and didn’t hide it from her.

“You... how do you have so much money?” That necklace was worth forty-five million! Where did Casey get so much money?

“Heh, case-dough?” Casey replied.

Edith was speechless, isn’t your case-dough a bit too much?

She didn’t pursue any further. From the moment they married, she and Casey were clearly delineated.

She never asked about Casey's matters and didn't care how much money he has as long as it's legal, Edith wouldn't care.

Casey lay down on the floor and Edith looked at Casey and unexpectedly asked, "You, you... is it hard for you to sleep on the floor? Why don't you..." _
