

The Peremptory Casey Davies

Chapter 381

I Come Here to Meet Mr.

Davies

Seeing that Casey was being so tough, the principal became even unhappier.

Casey was a stranger. He even didn't know Casey's name. Being scolded in this school, it was impossible for him to listen to Casey.

"Don't go too far. I'm the person who have the right to decide how to handle it. It has nothing to do with you. You'll only put Georgia on a more embarrassed position by doing so." The principal frowned and said.

"Principal, you're right. He has no right to interfere with this issue. Rufus has to contract Georgia for some reason. I'll explain it to you in private later. We had better ask the security guard to drive him out now. He comes here to make trouble for us." Joey said.

Rufus kept nodding.

The principal didn't retort. Obviously, he agreed with Joey.

"Ho, ho. You want to talk about it in private? If you're really given the chance to talk about it in private, I'm afraid that you'll stand facts on your heads.

Principal, are you going to cover for them?" Casey looked at the principal with cold eyes.

"Don't try to interfere with my decision. It's my business." The principal said with absolute certainty.

"And both of you are not going to admit your mistake, are you?" Casey turned to Joey and Rufus.

"What mistake did we make? Don't slander us!" Joey retorted.

"There must be something wrong with your mind, otherwise you wouldn't have tried to involve the principal in this issue. Who do you think you are? How dare you challenge the principal?" Rufus said with disdain.

Seeing their reaction, Casey nodded, saying, "Well, this is your answer. Don't regret it."

After saying that, Casey took out his mobile phone and made a phone call to the people Jordan had told him to contact before.

Seeing this, Joey immediately sneered and said, "Could it be that you want to ask someone to deal with it for you? Are you out of your mind? Do you know how well-connected the principal is in S City? People like you should try to ask someone to deal with it for you. Be realistic."

Casey ignored him and waited quietly for the call to be answered.

"Hello? Who is that?"

"Casey Davies."

It was obvious that that person gasped. Then that person said with a slightly trembling voice, "Lord Davies, is it really you? Before, TL informed me that you were coming to S City. Where are you now? I'm going to pick you up."

"I'm at SC University now. Do you know the principal of this university?" Casey asked.

"Yes. I just endowed two hundred million dollars to SC University and the principal is eager to make friends with me. Lord Davies, what happens?"

"Good. Now, come to SC University. I'm waiting for you in the principal's office."
After saying that, Casey hung up the phone.

"You're serious. Do you think that you'll become eligible to negotiate with the principal by just asking several people to come here? Let me tell you. You're at a college. You can't threaten others with violence here. If you dare to harm us, you'll be punished by law!" Joey shouted at Casey.

Casey smiled at them and said, "I'll reason with you. I hope that you won't be shameless and that you won't deny everything."

"What are you talking about?" Rufus shouted at Casey angrily.

The principal impatiently sat down on his chair. He wanted to know who would come to help Casey. He had just made friends with Jeremiah, the richest businessman in S City. Therefore, in this city, he was not afraid of anyone.

Georgia didn't expect that this issue would become more and more serious. The current situation was beyond her imagination.

She came close to Casey, asking with worry, "Brother Casey, shall we really continue to confront them like this?"

Casey smiled and said, "I'm not confronting them. I just want them to be aware of their mistakes. Don't worry. Since I've promised to deal with it for you, I'll do as what I said."

Georgia had to nod, stood aside and waited quietly.

About twenty minutes later, there was a sound of footsteps coming from outside.

Then, there was a knock on the door. Casey went to open the door, seeing Jeremiah. There were five or six strong bodyguards behind Jeremiah.

"Mr. Davies, I'm late. Forgive me, please." Previously, Jeremiah wanted to call Casey Lord Davies. However, he called Casey Mr. Davies after he saw Casey's eyes.

"Come in." Casey said casually.

"Humph, who could come to help a stupid villager like you? I won't agree to your request." After saying this, the principal looked up at the door.

When he saw the people coming in, the principal was stunned.

Joey and Rufus were also stunned.

Jeremiah was a well-known entrepreneur in S City and was reported by TV almost every day. Therefore, they naturally knew what Jeremiah looked like.

"This guy asked Jeremiah to help him. Is there anything wrong with my eyes? Could it be that my eyes deceive me?" Joey said in disbelief.

"How is it possible that Jeremiah, a rich businessman, would take the time to come here? Besides, who is that guy? Why would Jeremiah come here after receiving his phone call?" Rufus also said with a trembling voice.

After seeing Jeremiah, both of them already felt uneasy.

After being stunned for a few seconds, the principal hurriedly stood up, went close to Jeremiah and said with a smile, "Mr. Jeremiah, you're here. We've just talked on the phone. Why didn't you tell me that you were coming?"

"I come to meet Mr. Davies. There is no need for me to inform you." Jeremiah said indifferently.

The principal, Joey and Rufus all gasped after hearing Jeremiah call Casey Mr. Davies.

Mr. Davies?

Jeremiah should call this seemingly ordinary man, who helped Georgia, Mr. Davies?

Who on earth was this guy? Which family was he from?

They three had countless questions in their minds, but Jeremiah wouldn't tell them the answers.

Jeremiah turned his head, looked at Casey and asked, "Mr. Davies, what trouble did you get in here?"

Casey gave the principal, Joey and Rufus a glance, speaking coldly, "These two men cheated my younger sister into signing a problematic contract. At the same time, they slandered her. Just now, they denied it when I asked them. Therefore, I need you to look into this issue and find all the evidence."

"Yes, Mr. Davies. I'll take care of it."

Jeremiah answered.

Joey's and Rufus's expression all changed. They knew how powerful Jeremiah was in S City. If CY wanted to investigate this matter, he would be able to find enough evidence in less than a day.

At the beginning, they considered Georgia to be a fool who had no one to help her, so they ignored a lot of details. After all, it never occurred to them that Jeremiah, who was powerful, would investigate this matter.

"Of course, I don't want to waste so much time. I'll give both of you a chance to confess. If you voluntarily confess your crimes, you'll be in less pain. Otherwise, I'll deal with you in a way that would cause a lot of pain. You wouldn't want to experience it." Casey went on. Hearing this, both Joey and Rufus shivered.

"Sir, Mr. Joey is an asset of our school. It's impossible for him to do something like that. If you want to find out the fact, our school will assist you. It's fair to everyone." The principal said in a much polite way while staring at Casey. Until now, the principal still believed Joey.

Both Joey and Rufus put on a strange expression. Now, they were in a dilemma. Their eyes met once. It seemed as if they were asking each other what they should do.

Rufus made a decision. It was unnecessary that they would find out anything even if they looked into it. It would be fine as long as they refused to admit it.

When he was about to make his attitude clear, Joey admitted, "I admit that I was wrong. However, Rufus should shoulder most liability. I just helped him in threatening Georgia. He is the prime culprit."

Rufus was immediately dumbfounded. To his astonishment, Joey not only admitted that they had done it, but also told others that he was the prime culprit. Hearing what Joey said, the principal was also stunned. Joey, who he had always trusted very much, should have really done such a shameless thing?

Just now, he tried to protect him. He had egg on his face for protecting Joey!
"You sun of bitch. I'm the prime culprit?
Didn't you want to sleep with Georgia?
Are you not going to have half of the money if she really gives us 300000 dollars?" Rufus stared at Joey with red eyes and was nearly going to hit him.
"Rufus, show some consideration for me. If my wife knows it, she would definitely kill me. So I can't risk it." Joey said.
"I'll tell your wife this matter later. You won't be able to conceal it from her!"
Rufus shouted angrily.
"Enough!" Casey sneered.
Both of them stopped immediately. Joey turned around, looked at Casey and knelt down before Casey, "Fella, you're the bigger person. Spare me! I've got parents and kids to support. If others knew it, my reputation would be ruined.
Then, I'll be too ashamed to see anyone."
"You know that you should cherish your reputation? Why didn't you take my younger sister's reputation into consideration when you and Rufus slandered her?" Casey shouted.
Joey immediately became silent, knowing that he wouldn't be able to get away with it.
Then Rufus also knelt down before Casey and pleaded, "Bro, I know that I was wrong. I shouldn't treat Georgia in this way. I'll repent in the future. Spare me, please. I'll destroy the contract now and I won't do something like this anymore."

Casey looked coldly at them and said, "You have caused a great influence on Georgia's reputation. You have to make up for it. If you explain it clearly in the presence of all teachers and students tomorrow, I'll spare you. Otherwise, I'll send you to prison."

Joey's and Rufus's face grew pale, knowing that Casey had showed mercy to them.

After saying that, Casey turned his head, looked at the principal and asked coldly, "What do you want to say now?"

Chapter 382 In Her Name

The principal froze. After quite a while, he still didn't gather his wits. Looking at Joey in a daze, he felt an impulse to rush to him and beat him up.

Previously, he considered Casey to be just a troublemaker, so he always spoke for Joey. Now, both Joey and Rufus admitted that they had done it. Then, he could be said to be covering for Joey just now.

Most importantly, Jeremiah was the richest entrepreneur in S City. With the social status of Jeremiah, Jeremiah was more powerful than anyone could imagine. It was fair to say that he was the most powerful person in S City. Moreover, not long ago, Jeremiah promised to endow two hundred million dollars to the school. He couldn't conduct some projects of the school without these two hundred million dollars. If he failed to conduct these projects well, he wouldn't be able to be promoted to a higher position. Now, his future was under the control of Jeremiah. If he annoyed Jeremiah, he would definitely suffer a lot.

"Joey! As the Director of Students' Affairs Division, you should do such a shameless thing! Why would we employ a scum like you?" The principal shouted angrily at Joey.

Joey drew back his neck. Now, he dared not lose any temper. He just stood still. No matter how the principal scolded him, he dared not retort.

"You, as a student of SC University, didn't study hard. Instead, you only thought of making money in illegal ways! Georgia is an excellent student of our school. Daring to do such a thing to her, you don't deserve to study in our school!" The principal shouted at Rufus. Like Joey, Rufus had long been scared by Casey and Jeremiah. Hearing what the principal said, he even took two steps back.

After scolding Joey and Rufus, the principal turned around and looked at Casey and Georgia with a guilty expression on his face.

"I'm really sorry. It never occurs to me that there are such scums in my school. Joey was such a hypocrite that I was deceived by him. Don't worry. I'll handle this issue in a fair manner. And I won't let such scums get away with it." The principal said with a guilty face.

Casey's lips twitched. He said, "You're no better than them. If you really want to handle this issue in a fair manner, you won't listen to only one side of the story."

The principal sighed. He knew that he had really done something wrong this time.

Casey turned his head, looked at Jeremiah and asked, "Just now, you told me that you were going to endow two hundred million dollars to SC University?"

Jeremiah nodded, saying hurriedly, "Previously, I wanted to promote the education of S City. I didn't know that the principal of SC University was such a bad person. I'll withdraw the endowment."

"You don't have to." Casey said, "It's right to promote the development of education. You don't need to withdraw the money. However, there couldn't be any relationship between the principal and the money. Set up a fund with the money in the name of Georgia to help the poor excellent students to complete their studies. Remember that there couldn't be any relationship between the money and the principal."

"Yes, Mr. Davies." Jeremiah immediately agreed.

The face of the principal grew pale. Casey didn't ask Jeremiah to withdraw the money, but he stressed that there couldn't be any relationship between the money and him. Moreover, he asked Jeremiah to set up a fund in the name of Georgia. As a result, it couldn't improve his performance.

He had been a principal for many years, and he had the last chance of promotion in this year. If he failed to get promotion, it was impossible for him to get any promotion in the future.

However, he could do nothing. After all, it was himself that did something wrong. No one could help him.

Hearing what Casey said, Georgia was so scared that she hurriedly said, "Brother Casey, I just want them to explain this issue clearly. You don't have to set up a fund in my name."

Casey smiled at Georgia and said, "It's a compensation for you. It's somewhat beneficial to your studies. Don't refuse it."

Hearing him say so, Georgia could only nod.

After that, Casey warned Joey and Rufus that they had to clarify this issue in the presence of all teachers and students tomorrow. If they didn't do that, Casey would catch them wherever they went.

With Jeremiah deterring them, Joey and Rufus would not dare to run away, no matter how bold they were. They knew clearly that they would be caught by Jeremiah even if they did run away.

After settling this issue, Casey left the office with Georgia. It was already noon. Casey planned to have lunch with Georgia first.

Jeremiah had intended to make arrangements for Casey. However, seeing that Georgia was a little embarrassed, Casey asked Jeremiah to go first and he would have lunch with Georgia on his own.

Before leaving, Jeremiah invited Casey to attend the charity dinner he held tonight.

Casey agreed. In his opinion, he was new here, so he had to ask Jeremiah for information about this city. Anyway, he had nothing to do at night. It was fine for him to attend the dinner party.

Jeremiah immediately gave the address of the dinner party. He also told Casey to call him when he was there and he would come out to welcome him after receiving the call.

After saying these, Jeremiah left the college.

Casey went to the place where he parked his car with Georgia.

Considering that Georgia lived a poor life in school, Casey guessed that she hadn't eaten something good.

Therefore, he planned to have a big meal with her. By the way, he could comfort her.

On the way, Georgia kept her head down and clasped her hands. It appeared that she was somewhat nervous. Considering that even the famous entrepreneur Jeremiah treated Casey respectfully, she was also nervous when she was beside Casey.

"You don't need to be so nervous. Just be natural. I've told you that I treat you as my younger sister. Jennifer has been a member of my family, so you could be said to be a member of my family. Don't treat me as a stranger." Casey said with a smile.

Georgia took a deep breath, nodded at Casey and said, "Brother Casey, thank you. I'll definitely study hard and find an opportunity to repay you in the future."

"You don't have to repay me. Just treat your mother well."

Many people paid attention to them when they were walking. Recently, Georgia had become a celebrity in the college because of the rumors.

"Look! Isn't that Georgia? Who is the man beside her? Is he a whoremaster?"

"My god. How dare Georgia come out with the whoremaster? Shame on her. She indeed brings disgrace to our school."

"Tut-tut, people like her should be expelled. After all, our school is famous. There shouldn't be people like her in our school."

.....

Hearing their comments, Georgia was immediately upset and embarrassed. Casey turned his head, looked at her and said, "Don't care about their comments. Tomorrow, they'll all know the fact. You just need to know that you're innocent."

Georgia nodded, followed Casey and left the school.

Many people followed them to the place where Casey parked his car.

At this moment, a girl in the crowd came close to them. She was Georgia's roommate, Nancy.

Looking at Casey up and down, Nancy spoke in a mean way, "Oh, Georgia, are you going to make money? It seems that you don't care about the photos in Rufus's phone at all. You're really a shameless bitch."

Chapter 383 I'm a Person You Can't Offend

Georgia didn't expect that she would meet Nancy here. After hearing what she said, Georgia unconsciously clenched her hands into fists.

"Nancy, are photos in Rufus's mobile phone taken by you?" Georgia questioned.

"You're so coquettish. I can absolutely take a few pictures of you. Anyway, you're a prostitute. To some extent, you become more popular because of it. You should thank me for it." Nancy completely didn't think it wrong for her to take a picture of others when they were taking a bath.

"You!" Georgia was so angry that she shivered all over. Her face became red. It could be seen that she was angrier with Nancy, compared with Joey and Rufus.

Looking at Nancy, Casey stood in front of Georgia and said coldly, "Are you a wild girl? Why're you so impolite? Could it be that you don't have parents to educate you?"

Hearing Casey call her wild girl, Nancy's face was immediately dark. Just now, considering Casey to be just a whoremaster, she paid no attention to Casey. She didn't expect that Casey would spoke for Georgia.

"Who is impolite? You go whoring. Could it be that you're very polite? You not only go whoring, but also speak for her. Could it be that you think that you're the hero of a movie? Idiot." Nancy cursed.

"I warn you not to talk to me like that. Georgia is my younger sister. The rumors about her will be quashed tomorrow. If you dare to speak rudely, I'll teach you a lesson." Casey said in a cold voice.

Nancy immediately became angry and shouted, "Who the fuck do you think you are? How dare you talk to me like this? I'm from the Murray family. Go and ask if there is anyone who dares to talk to me like that in S City!"

"No matter which family you are from, I'm someone you can't afford to offend. I'm not kidding you."

There was slowly a hint of danger in Casey's voice. An invisible forcefulness air appeared, making Nancy under an indescribable pressure.

Nancy looked at Casey with some surprise. Not knowing the reason, she became instinctively afraid, as if he would kill her after she said one more word.

Feeling scared, she dared not shout at Casey anymore. For a while, she didn't know what to do.

Georgia pulled Casey's clothes and said, "Brother Casey, don't be angry with her. She's my roommate and she is just such a person. Aren't you going to have something to eat with me? Let's go."

She knew that Nancy was from a powerful family. If Casey went on arguing with her, things might get worse. It was only then did Casey look away from Nancy. He turned around, opened the door and got on the car with Georgia.

After they got on the car, Nancy was finally not afraid. Seeing Casey's old Santana, she immediately became furious.

"A guy who drives such an old car should dare to threaten me! Do you really consider yourself to be a big shot? I'm so angry. You're but a loser. How dare you act like that!" Nancy shouted. Casey ignored her and drove away. Nancy stamped his foot with her hands clenched into fists. Then she picked up a stone on the ground, throwing it towards the car. Unfortunately, the car had been far away from her, so she failed to hit the car with the stone.

"Wait and see. Damn it. You had better prey that you won't meet me in the future. Georgia, you bitch, you won't be able to study in school as long as I'm here!"

"Tonight, my father will attend the charity dinner held by Mr. Jeremiah. Later, he will cooperate with Mr. Jeremiah. In the future, the Murray family would have a close relationship with Mr. Jeremiah. In S City, Mr. Jeremiah can do anything to a person easily. At that time, you'll definitely know the consequence of annoying me!"

.....

After leaving school, Casey drove to the center of S City, found a big shopping mall and had a big meal inside with Georgia.

It could be seen that Georgia couldn't afford to eating, shopping or having fun here. Therefore, she was curious when she arrived at the mall.

After having a meal, Casey went to play in the Game Center with Georgia for a while and played with the Claw machine with her for a while.

Georgia had never played with Claw machine before. It took only two dollars to play with it once, but that was the money Georgia used to buy a breakfast. She couldn't bear to use two dollars to play with the Claw machine, especially when she knew that it was difficult to catch a doll.

Casey got a lot of game coins for Georgia, so that she could have fun. Casey spent several hundred dollars in getting those game coins, but Georgia caught only three dolls. However, seeing that Georgia no longer frowned, Casey thought that it was worth the money.

After playing in the mall for a while, Casey found a quiet place and talked about college life with Georgia.

From what Georgia said, Casey knew that she didn't live an easy life in school. It seemed that Georgia took this opportunity to confide her feelings and depression.

Casey listened to her for the whole afternoon.

When it was almost evening, Casey asked Georgia if she wanted to attend the charity dinner with him. There should be a lot of delicious food.

Georgia was a bit shy. After all, she had never been to that kind of place.

However, according to Casey, she didn't need to care about anything when she was there. She could focus on eating.

Being invited repeatedly by Casey, Georgia agreed. In Casey's opinion, it was not suitable for Georgia to attend a dinner party in the clothes she was wearing. Therefore, he and Georgia bought some beautiful clothes for her.

At about eight o'clock in the evening, Casey drove to the hotel where the charity dinner was held. He parked his car in a nearby parking lot. When they came out of the parking lot, the guard of the parking lot asked Casey why he came here and made a registration for them.

"I come to attend the charity dinner."

Casey said.

The guard immediately laughed and said, "Stop kidding me, bro. People who come to attend the charity dinner tonight are all big bugs in S City. Look at the luxury cars parked there. People who can attend this dinner party all come here in that kind of car. Look at the car you drive. Don't joke with me."

Casey smiled and said, "I really come here to attend the dinner party. I didn't lie to you."

Hearing this, the guard said impatiently, "Well, well, well. I got it. You're a very important person tonight. Leave hurriedly. Don't block the way."

Casey didn't say anything more. He walked towards the hotel where the dinner party was held with Georgia.

"Brother Casey, you're a big shot. Even Jeremiah treats you so respectfully. Why are you so low-key?" Georgia asked with curiosity.

"Am I very low-key?" Casey asked with some embarrassment.

Georgia nodded and said, "In my opinion, people like you shouldn't drive such a car."

"Cars are just cars. Only people who are not powerful enough need to use them to show their power." Casey said with a smile.

Georgia thoughtfully nodded, feeling that Casey was right. It seemed that Casey was the really powerful big shot. He talked and did things like a really powerful person.

They arrived at the door of the hotel.

Seeing Casey and Georgia, the waiter who checked the invitation said suspiciously, "I'm sorry. A charity dinner is being held here. Both of you might come to the wrong place. If you want to have dinner, you can go to the snack street opposite."

Casey sighed helplessly. It appeared that being too low-key wasn't always a good thing.

"We come to attend the charity dinner." Casey spoke.

"Oh? Show me your invitation, please."

The waiter looked at Casey up and down. Obviously, he didn't believe that Casey was eligible to attend this kind of dinner party.

It was only then did Casey remember that he didn't have an invitation.

Jeremiah invited him verbally.

He gave the waiter a glance, saying,

"Wait. I'm going to make a phone call first. It was Jeremiah who invited me to attend the charity dinner, but he didn't give me an invitation."

Hearing this, there was immediately a hint of disdain on his face. He thought: this guy is too pretentious. Jeremiah invited him to attend the charity party? Is people like him eligible to be a friend of Jeremiah?

"Don't joke with me. You obstruct the way, and the guests wouldn't be able to enter the hotel. Go away hurriedly.

Without an invitation, you can't enter the hotel, no matter you were invited by who." The waiter said rudely.

At this moment, Nancy arrived at the door of the hotel. Seeing that Casey and Georgia were standing at the door, she was stunned for a while first. Then she quickened her pace and came close to them.

Chapter 384 Can We Go Inside Now?

“Well, I wasn’t joking. Jeremiah did invite me. I just give him a call and you’ll know.” Casey explained patiently, didn’t snap at the server’s attitude.

But the server obviously didn’t take those word’s for real and thought, “Jeremiah is the biggest entrepreneur of S City, the sponsor of this charity dinner. A big shot like him definitely wouldn’t invite someone to the dinner party by word of mouth. An invitation, at least, would be sent to the guest.”

“On top of that, Casey and Georgia looks too ordinary for everyone attending the dinner are in full blow. And this two are really not at the same level of such kind of dinner.”

“Georgia, how you bitch show up here! And your lover, for tonight’s dinner, too? What are you doing here, trying to earn some dirty money from the men?”

Nancy walked up to Casey and Georgia, saying in a voice dripping with sarcasm. In huge embarrassment, Georgia turned to Nancy, the last person she thought she would ran into, especially at the situation when they were stopped by a server.

“Miss Murray, the two insist that they were at the invitation of Mr. Jeremiah while they didn’t have any invitation letter. Are you an acquaintance of them? I’ll let them in if they were truly invited by Mr. Jeremiah.” the server knew about Nancy and asked for confirmation.

After what the server had said, Nancy burst into loud laughter as if she had heard some really good jokes, which garbing the attention of the crowd nearby.

“Hey, everybody come and see this! These two dare to say they were at the invitation of Mr. Jeremiah but with no invitation letter at all. Very funny! These days really watch all kinds of frauds and the two at the dinner still might be the first of a new kind.” Nancy shouted. Instantly, more attention gathered. After a brief glimpse at Casey and Georgia, the crowd came to the conclusion that the two sure didn’t look like someone dressing up for the party.

“This man drove a nearly junked Santana. And check out his clothing, how such a person has the qualification for Mr. Jeremiah’s party.”

“That girl, my roommate. Words spread wildly on campus that she is a whore, only knowing things about seduction. Do you believe Mr. Jeremiah would invite this kind of people to the dinner?”

Nancy was introducing Casey and Georgia to the crowd with disdain in her face, trying to embarrass the two to leave.

With Nancy’s introduction, the people around began talking and looking at Casey and Georgia in a very strange way.

“Well, well. So ridiculous that someone even had the nerve to sneak into the dinner. Do they even know a invitation is required for such party?”

“Not anybody could get into this charity dinner, let alone someone driving a scrappy Santana. Deceiving themselves to get the way in the upper class.

Seriously?"

"Just get them out. These kind of person at dinner only lowers our level. Security! I don't want to be around by these person even for one more second."

.....

Nancy, on the other side, satisfied at the irony response from the crowd towards Casey and Georgia.

Georgia felt so awkward, having no idea how to cope with the situation, and the only thing she could do was looking towards Casey for help.

She was there when Jeremiah invited Casey to the party, so she knew Casey was telling the truth. But being talking about by so many people made her somewhat fluster.

Casey, too, felt a little angry. This Nancy coming out nowhere but disturbing crowd's mind like that made him uncomfortable.

Anyway, he brushed Nancy off and just made a call to Jeremiah.

As long as Jeremiah got here, all Nancy had say together with her arrogance would be scotched.

Nancy was going to make more fun of Casey and Georgia while some other young people waving at her in the hotel and signaling her to come over.

Nancy waved back at her friends, then turned around and said to the server,

"Just shoo them away before Mr. Jeremiah gets here, or I'm not sure what would happen to you."

Done talking, she hurried into the building.

Watching Nancy going inside, the server looking at them impatiently and informed in a cold voice, "You want me to show where the door is or you two walk yourselves out? If you still refuse to leave, don't blame me for being rude."

At this point Casey had got Jeremiah online and didn't answer the server.

"Brother Casey, have you got there? Sorry I've been caught up in some business stuff and can't personally be there to walk you in. You could give the phone to the server when you arrived, I'll get you in." Jeremiah answered.

"Well, We've arrived at the place for some time. But the server didn't believe we are qualified for the party and tried to throw us out." Casey replied.

Jeremiah soon got nervous and apologized, "My bad, Brother Casey. I'll give my apology personally later. Please give the phone to the server and let me fix this."

Casey darted a look at the server and said, "Jeremiah wants to speak to you." The server was in a shock for a moment but soon curled his lips in disdain and said, "You're still going with that? You think a call could make me believe that is Mr. Jeremiah? Free advice: don't waste your time here."

"You'd better hear him out." Casey said. The server took the phone in doubt and answered, "Just let you know, nobody can pass himself off as Mr. Jeremiah. I surely won't fall for your lousy tricks..."

"Tell me your name and then don't bother coming back to work here!"

Jeremiah's sulky voice emerged from the phone.

The server's mind went blank at the same second for the voice of Jeremiah was very easy to recognize. This server often watched his speech on TV and that voice was not an unfamiliar one. "Are... are you really Mr. Jeremiah?" the server checked in great caution.

"Yeah? Are you Mr. Jeremiah, too?! You think I'm that boring to play jokes on you? The person you've stopped is my most important guest today. Now, you'd better let him in quickly or you will not only lose your job but also feel my wrath!" Jeremiah yelled.

The server, shivering with fear, didn't expect Casey actually called Jeremiah and proved he himself was the most important guest tonight for Jeremiah.

"This... this was just some misunderstanding, Mr. Jeremiah. I'll let them in immediately. Please don't get mad at me. I really don't know he was your guest. I thought they were coming to get some benefits for the way they dressing..." the server answered in anxious.

"Cut the crap. Give the phone back to him, now!" Jeremiah sounded very serious.

The server returned the phone at once while two hands couldn't stop shaking.

"S... sir, here you are."

Casey took the phone and Jeremiah continued, "Brother Casey, please don't get angry. I'll get there as soon as I'm finished and offer my apology by myself."

Casey didn't say anything and just hung up the phone.

He took a look at the server and asked,

“Can we go inside now?”

The server was too scared to answer Casey and the words of Jeremiah all became the fear in his two eyes.

For a while he caught up the question and replied in great regret, “Sir, it’s all my fault. I beg for your help with Mr. Jeremiah. It’s all my fault. I shouldn’t stop you and say those words. All my bad.”

Seeing that attitude, Casey knew he was free to go inside. He brushed him off and just took Georgia with him entering towards inside.

Though the server was in much worry, he dared not to stand in Casey’s way, just begging again and again.

The crowd was in shock too after that scene. People thought the server was gonna to throw Casey out but didn’t expect that the expelling changed into begging after one call.

“Holy shit. How was that man’s attitude changing so fast and just let those two people in?”

“Wait! Could it be that the two person really are the friends of Mr. Jeremiah?!”

Chapter 385 The Charity Dinner

In the hotel.

Watching the sumptuous hall, Georgia was shocked.

At this moment, there were quite a lot of people in the hall. There were many tables round the hall. On the table were free food. Beside the table, there were cooks who specially cooked dishes.

In a corner, a band was playing lyric music. People who came to attend the charity dinner all looked very elegant.

Both Casey and Georgia wore rather casual clothes, so their appearance here was like a square peg in a round hole.

"Brother Casey, people here are too serious. We don't fit in when we stand among them." Georgia said.

Casey smiled at her and said, "Don't care about it. These so-called upper-class people are just pretending to be like that. What matters most is to make ourselves feel comfortable and at ease.

Look at the women in evening dress.

Many of them are pretending to be elegant. There is no need to suffer like that just to make others praise you."

Hearing it, Georgia thought that Casey was right. The reason why people attending the charity dinner were dressed up was that they wanted to make others feel that they were upper-class people. They attached more importance to being nice than being wise.

"Brother Casey, you're probably more powerful than these people, but you're very different from them." Georgia said.

"Are you saying that I don't belong among these upper-class people?"

Casey said with a smile.

"No. I'm saying that they aren't as wise as you are." Georgia smiled.

Casey smiled. Georgia was so shy. It never occurred to him that she knew how to praise someone.

"Come on. Let's have something to eat there." Casey went to the tables on which there was food.

Nancy stayed with several young people about her age. They were all acting like people of the upper class and were talking gracefully.

Judging from the fact that they were able to attend this charity dinner, people around Nancy were not ordinary people. However, they were all a little respectful to Nancy.

Nancy was a young lady from the Murray family, an old and famous family in S City. Therefore, she had a higher status than them all.

"Nancy, I heard that the company of your family is going to cooperate with Mr. Jeremiah. In this way, the company of your family would develop very fast."

"That's right, Nancy. If a company cooperates with Mr. Jeremiah, it is sure that that company would make great profits and suffers no losses. The Lee family had worked with Mr. Jeremiah a few years ago. Now, the company of their family is developing very well."

"In S City, everyone wants to cooperate with Mr. Jeremiah. They try hard, but still don't have such a chance. Nancy, your family is really enviable."

.....

Hearing the flatterer of people around her, Nancy was triumphant. She said, "In the cooperation between our family and Mr. Jeremiah, it's agreed that my family would go 50-50 with Mr. Jeremiah. According the contract between the Lee family and Mr. Jeremiah, the Lee family would go 40-60 with Mr. Jeremiah. The Lee family could only take 40% of the profits."

People around her were so shocked that their eyes were wide open. They never expected that Jeremiah would go 50-50 with the Murray family in this cooperation. It meant that Jeremiah treated the Murray family as an equal partner.

Jeremiah's going 50-50 with the Murray family meant that Jeremiah attached great importance to the Murray family. Besides, considering that Jeremiah did such a big business, by getting 50% of the profit instead of 40% of the profit, the Murray family would be able to earn much greater amount of money.

"Nancy, it seems that your family is going to achieve great success. At that time, you must treat us to a meal."

People around her immediately began to flatter Nancy.

Nancy waved to them with a smile and said, "Of course, I will."

As she spoke, she took out her mobile phone and said, "Let me show you something funny. There is a prostitute in my dormitory. She seems to be a straight A student, but she is actually a slut. It's most ridiculous that she wants to attend this charity dinner by fooling the guard. I have photos taken when she was taking a bath. She was quite coquettish. Let me show you."

After hearing what Nancy said, people around all felt curious. They completely didn't think it inappropriate for the so-called "upper-class people" to watch the photos taken when one was taking a bath at a charity dinner.

"It never occurs to me that there will be such kind of people in your school. It's really an eye-opener."

"As a matter of fact, there are many such people, and they are always pretending. I've seen many of them."

"Why would a straight A student become a prostitute? She is really stupid."

They all came close to Nancy, planning to see what the roommate Nancy mentioned looked like.

Nancy looked for the photos taken when Georgia was taking a bath excitedly as if she could get a lot of fun by destroying the reputation of Georgia.

However, when she just found the photo, someone directly took her mobile phone away.

After being stunned for a while, Nancy hurriedly turned her head and looked at the person beside her. Then, she found that it was the man who was with Georgia that took her mobile phone away.

How did he come in?

After that, she saw that Georgia was standing not far from Casey and was looking at this direction with a somewhat dark face.

Both of them came in? Shouldn't the waiter drive both of them out?

Nancy was stunned for a few seconds. During this time, Casey had deleted all the pictures of Georgia in her mobile phone.

"You took pictures of other people when she was taking a bath. It's ridiculous that you should claim yourself to be an upper-class person." Casey put the mobile phone in Nancy's hand.

After taking her mobile phone, Nancy finally realized what had happened and shouted at Casey, "You dared to rob me of my mobile phone! What did you do?" She hurriedly checked her mobile phone, finding that the photos she had taken were deleted. She became angry.

"You dared to delete my photos? Don't you want to live?" Nancy couldn't help shouting at Casey.

Noticing what was going on here, people, who were chatting around them, immediately gathered around them.

"How can you rob her of her cell phone like that? It's against the law!" Nancy's friends all scolded Casey for Nancy.

Casey smiled at them and said, "I want to give you a piece of advice. You had better think about if she has got something on you. She even took pictures of her roommate when her roommate was taking a bath. You're her friends. Wouldn't she get something on you?"

Hearing his words, Nancy's friends' heart all did a flip. They couldn't help casting a glance at Nancy. None of them continued to speak for Nancy. Nancy's face became extremely dark. She glared at Casey and said, "He is a lunatic and he is talking nonsense. Don't believe him. How is it possible that I would do such a thing? He is a whoremaster who is with my roommate. The girl over there is my roommate. They must have sneaked into the hall. Hurriedly call the security guard to drive them out."

They all nodded and said that Casey and Georgia must be driven out of the hall.

"Security guard, come here. Quick! There are two people sneaking in here. Hurriedly drive them out!" Nancy shouted.

After that, she turned her head, looked at Casey, gritted her teeth and said,

"Wait and see. You had made me very unhappy at noon today. Now, you even dared to rob me of my mobile phone. You dared to sneak in the charity dinner held by Mr. Jeremiah. He certainly won't let you get away with it!"

Casey smiled at her and said, "I entered the hall openly. You shouldn't say that I have sneaked into this hall. I've showed you mercy by not teaching you a lesson after you've done such a thing to my younger sister."

Seeing that Casey didn't take her words seriously, Nancy was anxious. She didn't see any security guard and no one came to handle this issue.

Nancy stared at Casey with malicious eyes and said coldly, "Let me tell you something. I'm from the Murray family. My family will soon cooperate with Mr. Jeremiah. Daring to offend me, you will suffer from it. Now, kneel down before me and apologize to me. In this way, I'm willing to spare you. Otherwise, even if I kill you, a poor loser, no one would help you!"

People around all looked at Casey with sympathy. In their opinion, Casey would get himself in great trouble after offending a young lady from the Murray family. Besides, Casey didn't look like someone who had powerful connections.

At another part of the hotel.

Jeremiah was heading towards the hall somewhat anxiously. He had become very anxious when Casey made a phone call to him. Therefore, he hurried towards the hall after dealing with the business.

There were several people around him. One of them was the head of the Lee family. The person walked beside him was the head of the Murray family, Elijah Murray.

Now, Elijah was triumphant. After the charity dinner, he would sign a contract with Jeremiah. Later, his family would cooperate with Jeremiah.

Although the Murray family was an old and famous family in S City, the Murray family was far from as powerful as Jeremiah. After all, Jeremiah was supported by the Davies family of B City. The Murray family couldn't compare with Jeremiah at all.

Seeing that the Lee family had cooperated with Jeremiah for several years, Elijah was very anxious. Now he finally had the opportunity to cooperate with Jeremiah, so he was of course very happy.

"Mr. Jeremiah, are you saying that there is another very important guest in this charity dinner?" Elijah asked.

Jeremiah nodded and said, "He has a very high status. When you see him later, you must be respectful to him. Before, that waiter dared to stop him. Later, I must teach him a lesson."

Elijah and people around Jeremiah all nodded. Seeing Jeremiah attach so much importance to that person, they knew that he was absolutely not an ordinary person. They naturally dared not to be disrespectful to him.

"It seems that I must figure out a way to make friends with the friend Mr. Jeremiah mentioned. Maybe I can get a lot of benefits from him in the future."

Elijah thought.

Soon, they arrived at the hall. Jeremiah looked around to find Casey. At a glance, he saw the crowd there and Casey who was shouted at angrily and loudly by Nancy.

Chapter 386 Kneel Down

"Kneel down and apologize to me!"

Nancy shouted at Casey again.

"It seems that I need to teach you a lesson. Do you really think you can say this to me casually?" Casey's tone also became cold.

Georgia came over and glanced at Casey with some worry. She wanted to persuade Casey. But after another thought, she felt Nancy had really gone a little too far this time. So Georgia didn't say anything.

"Huh, who do you think you are? Even if I yell at you, so what? Do you really think that I am afraid of you just because you are a bit fierce?" Nancy said coldly. At this moment, someone in the crowd shouted, "Mr. Jeremiah is here!"

Everyone immediately turned their heads to look over there. The people who were in the crowd immediately gave way to Jeremiah.

Nancy saw Jeremiah approaching while her father was following Jeremiah, her eyes lit up suddenly.

She immediately yelled at Casey, "Mr. Jeremiah is here. The one next to him is my father. Today is a charity dinner held by Mr. Jeremiah. If you provoke me, Mr. Jeremiah will definitely help me. You'll be screwed up today!"

"Oh? Really?" Casey showed a playful smile.

Seeing Nancy approaching, Georgia didn't worry at all. She knew very well that Jeremiah would definitely be on Casey's side.

But the people around didn't know it. After seeing Jeremiah's arrival, they all felt that Casey was going to suffer.

"This guy is really stupid. He dared to provoke Miss Nancy. The Murray family is going to cooperate with Jeremiah.

The Murray family has a high status in S City. He dares to offend Miss Nancy. I think he will be dead today!"

"He doesn't seem to be a powerful person. He even dared to talk back Miss Nancy. If Mr. Jeremiah helps Miss Nancy, he will be a dead meat."

"I really don't know how this guy got in. Logically, he shouldn't be let in. If Mr. Jeremiah knows about it, he probably wouldn't let him go."

...

Nancy ran towards Jeremiah and Elijah and said, "Dad, Mr. Jeremiah, you finally come here. Here are two people sneaking through the dinner party. They even robbed my mobile phone and yelled at me. Mr. Jeremiah, you must help me."

When Elijah heard Nancy's words, he immediately said, "There is such a person? Don't worry. Mr. Jeremiah will definitely help you."

Jeremiah frowned because he had just seen Nancy yelling at Casey.

"Mr. Jeremiah, it's him, and the woman. That woman is a bitch. She is not qualified to appear at your dinner party."

Nancy pointed at Casey and Georgia. After hearing what Nancy said, Jeremiah's face sank immediately. He hurriedly shouted at Nancy, "Shut up. Where's your manner? I don't think you are qualified to appear at my dinner party!"

After speaking, he quickly walked towards Casey, with a guilty expression on his face, "Mr. Casey, I'm late. I'm causing you trouble."

Nancy was dumbfounded at once. She didn't expect Jeremiah to yell at her and even showed such a respectful attitude towards Casey.

If she heard it right, Jeremiah called Casey Mr. Casey?

Elijah was also frightened by Jeremiah's sudden anger. He hurried over, frowned and looked at Nancy, and then asked Jeremiah, "Mr. Jeremiah, my daughter may have done something wrong. I will apologize to you. But I don't know what my daughter has done so that you are so angry."

Jeremiah snorted coldly, stared at Elijah, and said, "This is the most important guest at this dinner today. The one over there is his younger sister.

Your daughter dares to call her a bitch. Do you know what mistake she made?"

Elijah was shocked. He almost couldn't breathe. He didn't expect that his daughter had offended this kind of big shot and even insulted the big shot's sister like that. This was really a disaster.

He turned around directly, slapped Nancy and shouted, "Who made you talk nonsense? Hurry up and apologize to them!"

Nancy covered her face. She didn't expect that things would turn out to be like this. Jeremiah actually said that Casey was the most important guest at the dinner today. But he wore such an ordinary and drove such a shit Santana. How could he have such a high status? Jeremiah glared at Nancy. Seeing that she was still there, he said in a cold voice, "Why are you still standing here? Come over and apologize!"

At this time, Casey stepped forward and said, "Don't hurry to apologize. Since you are his father, I have to tell you what your daughter did to my sister in school."

Then Casey told them about Nancy's bullying of Georgia. Elijah stood aside and listened. His face gradually became gloomy and his fists were also clenched. He couldn't wait to beat up Nancy immediately.

Jeremiah didn't expect that Elijah's daughter would do such things to Casey's sister. He was also shocked. The people around looked at Nancy in surprise. They were not surprised that Nancy would do such things. They were only surprised that the person who offended Nancy was backed by Jeremiah. It seemed that Nancy was going to be screwed up today.

When Casey finished speaking, Elijah was ashamed. He wanted to find a hole to hide in right now.

He looked at his daughter angrily. He had never known that his daughter would be so arrogant in school.

"Elijah, I really didn't expect your daughter to be this kind of person. Like father, like daughter. I don't think you are a good guy." Jeremiah said coldly to Elijah.

Elijah hurriedly turned around, bent over and said to Jeremiah, "Mr. Jeremiah, I really didn't know that my daughter is so hateful in school. I will ask her to apologize to this gentleman's sister."

After speaking, he turned his head and glared at Nancy. Then he shouted, "What are you still doing here? Come over and apologize to her!"

Nancy was already frightened by Jeremiah at this time. So after hearing what Elijah said, she did not dare to refute. She walked up to Georgia and said in an extremely low voice, "I'm sorry."

Casey stared at her and said coldly, "Is this your apology?"

Elijah gritted his teeth, knowing that if Casey and Georgia were not satisfied today, his cooperation would probably be over.

He pushed Nancy a bit, and said, "Didn't you hear what he said? Since you have to apologize, you must be sincere.

Kneel down!"

Chapter 387 I Call Him Mr. Casey

Nancy took a small step towards Georgia, with an incredible expression on her face.

At that time, in front of everyone, she yelled at Casey and asked Casey to kneel down and apologize to her. After such a short while, her father even asked her to kneel down to apologize to Georgia.

Besides, she didn't have any excuses to refuse. Jeremiah was watching her. If she didn't do this, the whole Murray family would be affected by this incident. Georgia looked at Nancy with a calm face. If it was in the past, she might forgive Nancy. When things came to this point, everyone knew who was the one to be embarrassed tonight. Maybe she would just forgive Nancy.

But she did not say anything. When chatting with Casey this afternoon, she learned that if she showed mercy to those vicious people, they would not realize their mistakes, instead of indulging their arrogance.

Obviously, Nancy was such a person. If she forgave Nancy so easily, Nancy would retaliate against her in the future. So Georgia thought that she had to let Nancy keep it in the mind. Nancy did something wrong, so she had to apologize.

Nancy looked at Georgia's eyes. She felt Georgia was mocking herself. She wanted to pounce on Georgia to knock her down.

But Jeremiah was here. She didn't have the guts at all.

Seeing that Nancy didn't move, Elijah was anxious. He shouted, "If you don't kneel down and apologize to her today, in the future, you won't be my daughter. The Murray family will have nothing to do with you! "

The people around were surprised. They didn't expect that Elijah would have to sever ties with Nancy because of this incident. It was enough to show that Elijah paid much attention to this matter.

Nancy couldn't bear the pressure in the end. After staring at Georgia for a while, she slowly knelt down and said to Georgia, "I'm sorry. Please forgive me. I shouldn't treat you that way. It's all my fault. I will never do you in that way again in the future."

Seeing Nancy knelt down to apologize, Elijah was also relieved. He turned his head to look at Casey, and said, "Is it okay? If you have any dissatisfaction, you can tell me. I will definitely let my daughter try to satisfy your requirements."

At this time, Jeremiah turned his head to look at Casey, and said, "Mr. Casey, can I have a talk with you for a sec? I have something to tell you."

Casey nodded. He followed Jeremiah to a corner not far away. When Elijah saw the two people whispering, he suddenly became nervous again.

It could be seen that Jeremiah attached great importance to the ordinary person. If this person made Jeremiah give up cooperation with the Murray family, the hope of the Murray family's rise would be shattered.

"Mr. Casey, it is my negligence. I didn't expect that Elijah's daughter would treat your sister like this. I should give up cooperating with the Murray family now."

Jeremiah explained to Casey, "But this cooperation is also a huge opportunity for Davies family's industry in S City. The Murray family is a big family in S City and has a decisive say in some areas of S City. This time it seems that the Murray family is eager to cooperate with us, but in fact, we also get a lot of benefits from them."

This was why he was willing to agree to sign a 50-50 contract with the Murray family.

"So how about giving the Murray family some penalties? I would reduce the share that I promised to give them. Just give him 10 percent of the profit. If they disagree, the cooperation can be over. Even if I don't make this money, I will never increase any profit to them. Mr. Casey, what do you think?"

Hearing Jeremiah's words, Casey smiled and then he said, "You are planning to use the incident to take advantage of the Murray family. If the Murray family agrees, it will have endless benefits for you. Even if the Murray family doesn't agree, you won't have any loss."

Being seen through by Casey, Jeremiah also showed a trace of embarrassment on his face. He quickly said, "Mr. Casey, I am also for the development of Davies family in S City. If you do not agree, I will refuse to cooperate with the Murray family."

Jeremiah was right. Everything he did in S City was for Davies family. Even if he could get some benefits from it, he deserved it.

"No need. Just do as you said." Casey said.

Hearing Casey saying yes, Jeremiah also showed joy. If he could really get the Murray family to sign this contract with 10% of the profit, he would really make a lot of money.

If Elijah did not agree, Jeremiah would at most lose one opportunity for cooperation. As the best entrepreneur in S City, he was not lack of opportunities.

After discussing, the two walked back to Elijah's side.

Elijah's face was tense, as if he was waiting for the trial of fate.

Jeremiah's face turned cold again. He looked at Elijah and said coldly, "Elijah, do you know who my important guest is?"

Elijah was stunned for a moment. How did he know who Casey was? In S City, he had never heard of Casey.

"I just remind you. I call him Mr. Casey." Jeremiah continued.

When the people around heard Jeremiah's words, they were all shocked. They immediately began to wonder about the identity of Casey. Why could Casey make Jeremiah call him Mr. Casey?

Some of the people present who had a pivotal position in S City knew the connection between Jeremiah and Davies family in B City. Some knew that Jeremiah and Davies family were closely related. Some even knew that Jeremiah was the person in charge of Davies family in S City.

So after hearing what Jeremiah said, those who knew something about it immediately connected Casey with Davies family. Their faces showed deep horror.

Those who didn't know about it all had doubts on their faces. They really couldn't figure it out. He was Jeremiah! Who else could make him so humble? Could it be that Jeremiah was just a member of a big family?

If so, the family was too terrifying.

After Elijah heard Jeremiah's words, he immediately thought of Davies family.

Immediately, his face became pale.

His daughter actually offended Davies family. Davies family could crush the Murray family to death so easily!

The reason why Jeremiah said that was mainly to frighten Elijah, so as to pave the way for what he said next.

"The person your daughter provoked this time is his sister. Logically, I shouldn't continue to cooperate with you, but Mr. Casey let me spare you this time. Our cooperation can proceed normally, but you can only get 10% of the profit." Jeremiah continued.

When Elijah heard Jeremiah's words, he immediately hesitated. There was only 10% of the profit. Then the Murray family would not get much benefit from this cooperation, at most he was just Jeremiah's helper.

But he knew very well what this cooperation meant. He had been preparing for this cooperation for a long time. If he just gave up like this, he would not get anything.

Everyone could clearly see the current situation in S City. If he didn't cooperate with Jeremiah, he could only face the result of being eliminated by the wheel of history.

Even if it was only 10% of the profit, there was at least some benefits. If he really gave up cooperating with Jeremiah, there would be really nothing left.

Elijah gritted his teeth and nodded to Jeremiah. He said, "Deal. It is indeed my daughter's fault. I should bear the consequences."

Hearing Elijah saying yes, Jeremiah immediately laughed secretly. But he didn't show it out. It was really a good deal for him.

Elijah gritted his teeth and sighed.

Staring at his daughter who was kneeling on the ground, there was a burst of resentment in his heart. If she didn't cause this trouble, the situation wouldn't be like this!

Nancy really harmed the Murray family by herself.

Apart from Jeremiah, the head of the Lee family was the happiest one. The Murray family's cooperation with Jeremiah this time could only get 10% of the profit, which was almost negligible. This change would make the Murray family no longer able to catch up with the Lee family in the future. Soon, the Murray family would lose the equal opportunity to dialogue with the Lee family.

After the matter was settled, Jeremiah turned his head to look at the people around him, and said, "Enjoy yourselves, everyone. This is just a small episode. I hope it won't affect your mood for attending the dinner."

Everyone nodded, and continued to chat in groups. But now what they were talking about became Casey.

After guessing Casey's identity, many people wanted to come over to curry favor. Jeremiah glanced at the people around him, and then introduced Casey to them one by one.

"Mr. Casey, this is the dean of Jiren Hospital, Blake Barnes. Jiren Hospital is the best hospital in S City. Besides, he is also an excellent surgeon."

Blake Barnes immediately bent over and shook hands with Casey, showing a respectful attitude.

...

Nancy kept kneeling on the ground.

Casey didn't say to let her get up. Elijah didn't get Casey's instructions, so he didn't dare let her get up at all.

Nancy knelt like this until the end of the dinner. Her both feet were numb.

Although Elijah felt sorry for his daughter and wanted to ask Casey several times, when he thought of that Nancy got the Murray family lost a lot of benefits, he felt that she deserved it. So he ignored Nancy.

Until the dinner was over, after everyone left the hotel, Elijah walked over and helped Nancy get up.

Nancy burst into tears all of a sudden. It was the first time that she had suffered such a grievance since she was a child.

"Dad, you just let me kneel down like this? My leg was about to break. Am I your biological daughter?" Nancy blamed her father.

Elijah glared at Nancy. He said coldly, "You still dare to say this to me.

Because of you, our entire Murray family will not have any competitiveness in S City in the future. The Lee family will definitely take the opportunity to suppress us. The situation of our family is now precarious."

Nancy was dumbfounded. She immediately stopped crying, and asked, "Dad, who the hell is he? Why is even Jeremiah so afraid of him? Georgia is just a nanny's child. How could she have such a great brother?"

"Only people from Davies family can let Jeremiah be so humble. Whether Georgia is his sister or not, as long as she has something to do with him, we can't offend her." Elijah said seriously. "Davies, Davies family!" Nancy stood there blankly, as if she was struck by thunder. Her whole body froze in an instant.

Chapter 388 In the Name of Georgia
The next morning, Casey came to the SC University again.

Last night Jeremiah arranged an accommodation for Casey, while Georgia went back to the school dormitory.

When Casey saw Georgia, he found her more spirited than yesterday, so he smiled and asked, "How was it in the dormitory yesterday? Did Nancy bully you again?"

Georgia shook her head immediately and said: "Nancy did not go back to the dormitory last night, and our instructor notified in the chatting group this morning that she had dropped out of school."

"Drop out of school?" Casey was a bit surprised, but he was relieved immediately. He didn't expect Elijah to be so sensible.

This was a good thing for Georgia. She won't feel comfortable living in the dormitory with Nancy. And now that Nancy had dropped out, Casey didn't need to worry about Georgia being bullied again.

They walked towards the school playground together. Today, the principal was going to prove Georgia's innocence in front of the teachers and students and expose the black deeds of Joey and Rufus.

All the teachers and students had been notified to gather for a meeting on the playground before ten o'clock in the morning.

On the way to the playground, while seeing Casey and Georgia walking together, many people still showed contemptuous expressions and said something bad to belittle Georgia.

"That slut is still with the man. I saw them walking together yesterday. I heard that the man was a guest picked up by Georgia. What a cheek! She even took this kind of person to school."

"I heard that today's school meeting was going to talk about her. I guess she will be criticized by the principal in front of the school."

"This kind of person who discredited our school should be expelled directly. I hope the principal can expel her directly and mercilessly."

...

When Georgia heard that the people around her still bore the same attitude towards her, she was a little disappointed, but she dispelled her worry by taking a deep breath, because the principal would help her clarify soon. Before long, when they arrived at the playground, Casey and Georgia walked directly towards the high platform, and the principal was already waiting there. It could be seen that the principal looked dreadful. What happened yesterday was the worst decision in his life. He regretted it all night, but regretting was useless.

Standing behind the principal with pale faces, Joey and Rufus were nervous when they thought of being exposed to the whole school about what they had done.

If this was exposed, they would be too ashamed to stay in school in the future. When Joey returned home last night, he did not tell his wife about this. If his wife knew that he had done such dirty things with his nephew, then he would not be allowed to go home.

At this moment, the playground was full of people. All the teachers and students had gathered here, and were talking about what was going to talk about in the meeting today.

Among the students, there was a group of people who were hostile to Georgia, and most of them were girls. The basic reason for their hostility was the same as Nancy, out of jealousy.

So when Rufus spread the negative news about Georgia in school, they became the right-hand assistants.

They were eager to see Georgia get into trouble. The more disgraced she was, the more delighted they would be.

Some people just couldn't bear to see others live well. Once they found a chance to slander someone living better than them, they would often take the chance to maltreat him or her.

"Look, Georgia is coming with a man, and they are walking towards the principal. It seems that the meeting today is really going to talk about her."

"Look at the principal's face, so terrible.

He must have known Georgia's dirty deeds. She discredited our school so much. I'm sure she will be expelled in the meeting."

"This kind of slut should have been expelled a long time ago. Although she got high scores, it was shameless to do the dirty work."

...

Casey and Georgia walked towards the principal, and the principal came over to greet them respectfully.

"All has been arranged. Joey and Rufus will clarify what happened in front of the whole school, and then apologize to Georgia, Mr. Davies, do you have any other requests?" the principal asked.

"Since they are going to apologize, let them apologize sincerely on their knees." Casey said.

The principal was stunned for a moment, but he didn't dare to refute, and he walked to Joey and Rufus immediately to tell them Casey's requirements.

After hearing what the principal said, both of them went pale, but they didn't want to go to jail, so they could only agree to kneel.

After a while, Jeremiah arrived at the playground. Today he came not only to announce the establishment of the fund and but also to do Casey a favor.

"Look! Jeremiah is here. My God! What shameless thing has Georgia done to bother him to come!"

"It's really humiliating. Even Mr. Jeremiah knows about Georgia's dirty deeds. If this gets out, the reputation of our school will be ruined. It might also have had influence on our school's enrollment."

"What a slut she is! It's so troublesome that draws Mr. Jeremiah's attention. She should be driven out of our school as soon as possible!

Those hostile to Georgia tried their best to pour oil on the fire to make everyone around attack her.

They didn't expect that the incident would be so serious to attract Jeremiah here, so far more delighted.

With Jeremiah here, the principal would definitely not cover for Georgia, and he might even regard her as a negative example for students. Her previous achievements would become worthless. The principal and Casey went up to the platform together. Joey and Rufus began to tremble, with their faces as white as sheet.

"Today, I'm going to make an announcement. I never thought that such kind of person would appear in our school."

The principal spoke in gloomy tones.

"I mistook him as a promising talent, and was confused by his appearance. I didn't know how disgusting he was until I saw through him."

"I won't allow anybody like him to stay in our school, and he is too disgraceful to stay here anymore."

The principal didn't target on anyone. But people off the stage guessed that he was talking about Georgia.

"I don't expect that the principal hates Georgia so much. It is so funny. The previous merit student could also come to no good end."

"She deserves it. No matter how well she studies, and how beautiful she looks, she will finally be expelled. Although I am not as good as her in study and not as good-looking as her, I don't have to worry about being expelled."

"I really want to laugh now. Inevitably, Someone as outstanding as her will not end well."

...

Those who were jealous of Georgia were all looking forward to her exclusion.

"It's turn for them to state their crimes."

The principal continued.

Many eyes were focused on Georgia. However, in the next second, what happened made everyone dumbfounded.

Both Joey and Rufus took a step forward, and then knelt down in front of all.

Silence!

The whole playground became silent! No one expected that Joey and Rufus would kneel down directly at this time.

"What...what are they doing?"

The principal handed the microphone to Joey directly.

As Joey took over the microphone, he trembled and said, "I'm sorry for the school, for the principal, and for Georgia. I'm guilty, and so is my nephew. He is the real damned one!"

Everyone was shocked by his words, and they all listened to his crimes with ears pricked up.

Because Jeremiah was aside, Joey didn't dare to conceal anything, and told what happened honestly.

And in order to make everyone believe that he didn't do anything too nasty, he even exaggerated Rufus' crimes to set off his insignificance.

Rufus' face turned purple with rage, but he couldn't haggle with Joey right now. If he had a fight with Joey now, it would become a joke in everyone's eyes.

After Joey finished speaking, the principal glanced at Rufus and asked, "Rufus, do you have any problem with what he said?"

Rufus gritted his teeth and finally shook his head helplessly.

There was uproar among the people off stage, and none of them expected that the truth would turn out to be like this. After hearing what Joey said, those who were very jealous of Georgia put on gloomy expressions.

"Georgia suffered a lot in the school because of Joey and Rufus' slander. The main purpose of today's meeting is to clarify what actually happened. Georgia, as an outstanding student in our school, is a good example for you all. I hope everyone can learn from her and strive for a better future."

"And Joey and Rufus will be expelled from our school forever, and they will never be allowed to return!"

Then the principal switched the topic and said: "Today we are honored to have Mr. Jeremiah here with us.

Because Mr. Jeremiah has seen our school's attitude towards the sinister ones, he is willing to set up a fund in our school to support students with excellent grades and poor family conditions. Now

I'll give the floor to Mr. Jeremiah to announce the results of the fund." Jeremiah walked to the stage, took over the microphone, and said loudly: "I will set up a fund in your school in the name of Georgia. The amount of this fund is 200 million. I hope that all students can study hard and strive to become an excellent student like her."

The people present became astir.

Two hundred million...in the name of Georgia...

Those who were jealous of Georgia felt a sense of powerlessness. Inevitably, jealousy couldn't change anything. Only those who worked hard would become more and more shining.

Chapter 389 Casey's First Love

In J City, at CZ Community.

Jennifer was cleaning the room. At this time, the doorbell rang. Jennifer put down the stuff and then walked to the door. After opening the door, she found that there was no one outside.

She poked her head out to look outside puzzledly. There was still no one outside.

"Which kids are doing pranks again?"

Jennifer murmured. Then she was about to close the door. At this moment, she noticed an envelope on the ground. She stooped to pick it up and then saw Edith's name on it.

It should be a letter to Edith, but she didn't know who sent the letter. Besides, mobile phone communication was so advanced nowadays. A call or a text message could solve everything. It was very rare to send letters like this secretly.

Although Jennifer was so puzzled, she did not open the envelope to read the contents. After all, this was Edith's letter. Jennifer respected the privacy of others very much.

After taking the letter in, Jennifer walked to the table and put the letter on the table.

At this time, her mobile phone rang. It was Georgia's call. Jennifer was very excited, so she quickly picked it up.

"Georgia, how is the situation on your side? Have you seen Casey?" Jennifer asked anxiously.

"Mom, I'm okay here. Casey helped me settle all the troubles. I don't need to pay 300,000 dollars anymore. What's more, the school also gave me a full scholarship. You don't need to give me money anymore in the future. Now, my current scholarship is enough for me to live for a long time." Georgia was in a good mood, so her tone sounded a lot easier.

"Really? That's really great. I knew that Casey would definitely help you settle the trouble. You have to thank Casey. He helps us a lot. He is our benefactor. You should keep it in the mind and express your gratitude to him." Jennifer became excited when she heard that the trouble was resolved. As long as her daughter's trouble was resolved, that would be a great thing.

"Got it, Mom. I will remember Casey's favor."

"Okay, I have to hang up. I have to cook some soup for Casey's wife. She should be back soon. She is also busy these days, so I want to make some delicious food to let her relax." Jennifer said.

"Ah? Is Casey married?" It was obvious that Georgia was surprised by Jennifer's words.

"Yes, Casey's wife is very beautiful. Casey just re-hosted a wedding with her not long ago, and the whole J City was in uproar. The wedding was really fantastic. Many big shots attended that wedding." Jennifer experienced the wedding personally, so she was a little proud of it.

It seemed that Georgia was a little lost on the phone.

"Georgia, why don't you speak anymore? I feel you a little weird." A suspicion appeared on Jennifer's face.

"I'm fine, Mom. I have to hang up. Say hello to Casey's wife. Go ahead your own business." Georgia said quickly. Jennifer didn't say much, but felt relieved. After hanging up the phone, she went to make soup.

After a while, Edith came back, looking tired.

She stretched herself. Smelling the aroma of the food scent, she relaxed a lot.

"Jennifer, you are making soup again." Edith said.

When Jennifer heard Edith's voice, she immediately responded, "You're back. The soup is almost ready. Go to the break first."

"By the way, there is a letter to you on the table." Jennifer paused and then said.

Edith put down her handbag. Hearing what Jennifer said, she was a little confused. She didn't expect someone to send her a letter.

She walked to the front of the table, saw the envelope on the table and then picked it up to have a look. Except her name on it, there was no other information, and no stamps. It seemed that the letter was not from a distance. At this time, Jennifer came out with a bowl of soup. She put it on the table, and said, "Drink while it's hot. It can keep your health. You don't look good recently. You must be very tired at work, right? Drink some soup. It can relieve your fatigue."

Edith smiled at Jennifer, thanked her, and then asked, "Jennifer, where did you get this letter? There is no stamp on it."

"There was a knock on the door at that time. I opened the door but I didn't see anyone. I just saw this letter. I don't know who put it. I saw your name written on it, so I took it in." Jennifer explained.

Edith nodded, wondering who sent this letter.

She opened the envelope directly. There was only a thin piece of paper inside. There were not many words written on it, only a short sentence. "If you can, tomorrow afternoon, come to the third booth of Feiteng Bar to find me. I will be there all afternoon."

Seeing this, Edith was still a little confused. She thought, 'I don't know who you are. If I just go there like this, what if it is a trap?'

Edith, who had experienced many troubles, was alert. Now, she generally ignored this kind of invitation.

However, when she saw the signature under this sentence, she was shocked. "Your rival in love, Casey's first love." "How is it possible? Casey told me that he has never been in a relationship before. This guy has no experience in love. If he had been in a relationship before, he would definitely not be what he is now." Edith muttered. She thought this should be a prank.

Her gaze continued to move downward. There was a sketch drawn below. It was a little man sleeping in bed.

After seeing this man's sleeping posture, Edith was completely stunned. Wasn't this exactly what Casey looked like when he was sleeping?

There was also a line of small words next to the painting, "You may doubt me, but ordinary people shouldn't see that guy's sleeping posture. I hope he has not changed this habit in the past few years."

Edith's face suddenly sank. Countless thoughts suddenly popped into her mind.

The sleeping posture of the man painted above was indeed unique to Casey. It may be due to Casey experience some things when he was a child. So when he was sleeping, he would always cross his hands on his chest unconsciously, as if he was on guard.

Before, when Edith got up to go to the bathroom at night, she found Casey would maintain this posture, which looked very funny.

Later, she gradually found that although Casey would not maintain this posture all the time, it appeared a lot of times.

She had never seen anyone keep this posture while sleeping.

Later, when she heard Casey tell her his story, she realized that Casey slept like this, probably because some experiences in his childhood made him remain vigilant even in his dreams.

So after seeing Casey sleep in this posture, Edith felt a little distressed.

Logically, only those who slept with Casey in the same bed would know Casey's sleeping position. Edith had always felt that only she knew Casey's habit, so she regarded it as a secret between her and Casey.

But now there was a second person who knew Casey's sleeping position and claimed to be Casey's first love, which naturally made Edith guess a lot.

Did Casey lie to her? It turned out that he had the first love. He just lied to her when she asked him.

This guy was really bad! 'Why did he lie to me? Does he think that I will be angry with to him just because he had the first love?'

'Or is there a lot of things between him and his first love that he can't tell me, so he concealed it?'

If Casey didn't sleep with her, how could she know Casey's sleeping posture?

As a woman, Edith's imagination was also extremely rich. In an instant, she imagined many possibilities why Casey did not tell her about his first love.

'He didn't tell me that, which means there are some things he can't tell me.

Is there something that Casey hides from me, right?'

"Edith, what's the matter? You seem to be worried. What did that letter say?" Seeing Edith didn't move, Jennifer asked.

Edith came to her senses. She hurriedly put the letter away, cleared her throat slightly, and said, "Nothing. It's just a friend's greeting."

Jennifer nodded and didn't ask much. Until the evening, Edith had been thinking about the letter. She felt that the other party didn't lie to her. As for why that woman wanted to see her, based on women's first instinct, Edith could easily guess it just.

Casey's first love wanted to get Casey back.

Edith took out her mobile phone and called Casey.

"Casey, tell me honestly, are you hiding anything from me?" Edith said irritably.

"No, what's the matter?" Casey, who was sleeping, looked dumbfounded.

"Are you sure?" Edith asked.

Casey suddenly felt a little guilty. He didn't tell Edith about his father's entry into Guanling. This was a kind of concealment. Did Edith know that he was investigating Guanling?

"No...no, what's the matter with you?" Casey asked.

"Nothing. I just had a dream. I dreamed of your first love."

"How come? My first love is you..."

Before Casey had finished speaking, Edith had hung up the phone.

Casey, who was in S City, didn't think too much. He believed that Edith was just having a dream, so she was a bit grumpy.

This guy fluttered! Did he really have the first love?

Edith clenched her small fist angrily, wondering why Casey's first love suddenly came to her.

It was probably because of the wedding in the crystal castle.

Taking a deep breath, Edith made a decision. She decided to meet Casey's first love tomorrow to see what the woman wanted to do.

If she didn't go, wouldn't it mean that she was afraid of the woman?

In this regard, Edith did not want to lose to anyone.

Chapter 390 Are You Good Enough for Casey?

The next afternoon.

Edith arrived at the door of Feiteng Bar. Conor and his men came with her.

Because Edith wasn't sure if this was a trap, she called Conor to come with her, just in case.

"Do you know if Casey has other girlfriends before he came to J City?"

After hesitating, Edith looked at Conor and asked.

Conor was stunned when he heard Edith's question, and then he laughed and said, "I came to J City later than him. How could I know his past? He never mentioned his past, but I think he is a dedicated guy. If he falls in love with a woman, he will love her forever. So I feel that he hasn't had any girlfriends before."

Edith nodded, then took a deep breath and said, "Then I will go in first. You only need to pay attention to the situation on my side. Don't be too deliberate."

Hearing Conor's answer, Edith turned to walk in Feiteng Bar.

Not long after Edith went in, Conor also walked in with some of his men.

Feiteng Bar was a bar with soothing music. People here enjoyed the music. Each of them was sitting in their own place and drinking.

After Edith went in, she found the third booth. She saw that there was already sitting a woman with a slim figure and outstanding temperament. This woman wore a black veil on her face, which covered the upper part of her face, making others unable to see her face clearly. Because of this veil, it made others have a hazy feeling.

All the men in the bar would look at this side from time to time. There were appreciate looks in their eyes.

Although Edith was the most beautiful in J City, when she saw this woman, she was also amazed by this woman's temperament.

The woman looked so elegant. Ordinary families couldn't cultivate such an elegance. Edith was just a child of a second-rate family in J City. Naturally she couldn't compare with that woman. Carefully staring at the black veil on the woman's face for a while, Edith suddenly felt ashamed of herself.

Although she couldn't see the woman's face, she could know that there must be a stunning face under the black veil.

Maybe the woman chose to cover her face with a veil just to not attract too much attention, but even so, no one could take his eyes away from her.

Edith sat down directly opposite the woman. When Edith saw the woman, she felt that she was weak in momentum. Everyone in the bar looked towards the two of them. Edith felt a little uncomfortable.

Even if she was lack of some confidence, she had no way to shrink back. Now, she could only bite the bullet and dealt with this woman in front of her.

"Hello, I'm Edith. I have received your letter..." Edith stretched out a hand, planning to say hello to her politely. The woman just sat there, motionlessly. She didn't want to shake Edith's hands. The corners of her mouth also curled up slightly. Under the veil, there seemed to be a pair of clear eyes carefully looking at Edith.

Edith's hands froze in midair for a while. She was so embarrassed. She didn't expect the other party to give her a slap in the face.

Then Edith thought, 'Since the woman claimed to be my rival in love, she doesn't have to be polite to me.'

Edith took her hand back to relieve the embarrassment, and then tried to make herself look more natural. She said, "I have never heard Casey say that he has the first love. I also checked with him, so I want to know who you are and your true purpose."

"He didn't tell you, but it doesn't mean it is not important. Casey didn't tell you, because he was afraid that after thinking of me, he could not help but leave you to come to me." The woman said softly.

Her voice was very pleasant to ears. Edith frowned, feeling a strong hostility. "You are too narcissistic. I don't think Casey will do that. Maybe it's just because you are insignificant to him that he will forget you." Edith countered.

The woman smiled and said, "Are you deceiving yourself? Do you think that how bad a person's memory is, so that he might completely forget someone who has slept with him for so long? He didn't tell you. It only shows that I still have a pivotal position in his heart."

Edith's chest was up and down. She felt that she was not the woman's match. What she said just now was indeed a bit self-deceitful. The words "sleep with him for so long" almost drove her mad.

'Casey, you really hide a lot of things from me.'

"What is your purpose? If you just want to show off in front of me, I don't think we need to have the talk anymore."

Edith became a little gloomy.

The woman changed her posture. The smile on her face indicated that she had achieved her goal.

"The purpose of my coming here is very simple. Just let you leave Casey. You don't deserve to be by his side. The person lying on the bed with him should be me." The woman said her own purpose without hesitation.

By this time Edith felt that she had no need to be polite in front of this woman.

She felt that this woman was a self-righteous guy.

"You think too much. Casey and I are a legal couple. He loves me very much. You want me to leave him just because of your bullshits? Are you insane? Even if Casey hasn't told me about you, it's impossible for him to have anything to do with you anymore." Edith said angrily.

"Oh? You sound very confident, but I want to ask you, do you really think you are good enough for Casey?" the woman said.

Edith only felt that her body was like struck by lightning. She froze.

The question the woman asked was also the question Edith had been asking herself during this period of time. After experiencing the events of this period of time, Edith had realized the gap between herself and Casey.

Although she had been working hard and wanted to make herself better, after knowing Casey's various identities, she knew clearly that no matter how hard she tried, she would not be able to catch up with Casey's pace.

She had been comforting herself from the bottom of her heart that identity was not important in a relationship. But whenever she thought about this question, she actually knew the answer. Now for the first time someone asked this question in front of her. The woman claimed to be Casey's first love. She seemed to have an unusual family background and she was so stunning.

"I heard about the wedding in the crystal castle some time ago. Since Casey has held such a wedding for you, you should also have some understanding of his identity. Those big shots who appeared at the wedding can be invited by you? Your relatives are all petty townspeople, right?"

Seeing Edith didn't speak, the woman continued talking.

"I think you should be aware of the term

'rank'. It does not mean that you're as rich as him. At the very least, you have to be the same level with him in terms of knowledge and vision. You think you're the same level with Casey? After all, you have been living in a small place like J City for so many years."

"Those people over there should be here to protect you. They are Casey's men, right? You are just a poor worm in my eyes now. You don't even have the ability to protect yourself. Your everything depends on Casey. Do you really feel qualified to stay by Casey?"

The woman's words made Edith lower her head unconsciously. Edith didn't know how to refute the aggressive woman.

"I came to you this time just to make you understand that you are not good enough for Casey. I am his best choice. If you really love Casey, you should leave him as soon as possible. Don't put him under too much pressure. You think it is love for him to let him protect a woman who needs him to worry about everything every day?"

"In addition to getting from him, what else can you give him?"

The smile on the woman's face was getting bigger. She didn't seem to take Edith seriously at all. This time, she came to Edith purely to pronounce Edith's crime. It was a crime if Edith still stayed by Casey's side.

"Enough!" Edith finally couldn't bear the woman's mocking words. She directly reached out and smashed the table.

The woman did not go on, but showed a smile and said, "As a woman of an excellent man, it is the most basic cultivation not to get angry."

Edith looked up at the woman, with resentment in her eyes. She said, "I won't leave Casey. You wish. I don't allow anyone to snatch him away from me."

After speaking, Edith stood up and walked towards the entrance of the bar. Upon seeing this, Conor hurriedly led his men out.

The woman didn't move. She took a sip of wine with a mysterious smile on her face.

Outside the bar, Edith's emotions were obviously out of control. She walked quickly toward the front. Her face was gloomy. Her fists were clenched tightly. Conor noticed Edith's abnormality, so he hurriedly stepped forward and asked what had happened just now.

Edith told Conor that she was okay and wanted to be alone for a while. She let Conor go back first.

Hearing Edith saying this, Conor didn't ask too much. He and his men just followed Edith, instead of going back directly.

When Edith saw that Conor was still leading his men to follow her, she became even more irritated. She felt that Conor followed her in this way, which proved the woman's words even more.

In front of Casey, she was a person who needed protection. She couldn't even stay alone for a while.

She secretly speeded up, trying to get rid of Conor and his men. But unfortunately, she found that it was impossible to get rid of these powerful guys.

She walked to the edge of the moat and stood in front of the guardrail. After being blew by the wind, she only felt that her emotions eased a little.

At this time, there were many lovers by the moat. These people walked by Edith hand in hand, looking very happy. Edith could clearly feel from these people that they were all good match.

"Look at it, isn't that Edith, the bride of the crystal castle wedding? I didn't expect to meet her here."

"That is Edith! She is really beautiful. She deserves to be the prettiest in J City."

"What's the use of being beautiful? There are more beautiful women in the world. Haven't you heard about the wedding of the crystal castle that day? There were quite a few big shots. Even some people from Davies family in B City attended the wedding. Many people doubted Casey is from Davies family. From this point of view, Edith doesn't deserve to be Casey's side."

"If it is true, Casey will be too good for Edith. The person in Davies family actually married a woman from a second-rate family in J City. Edith is really lucky."

"Yeah, luck is something that makes people envious and enviable. Without this, Edith would have never met someone with a powerful background like Casey."

...

The comments of the people around reached Edith's ears. She could not help but clenched her fists and clenched her teeth, not allowing herself to behave abnormally.

Even the people in J City felt that she didn't match Casey?

Edith took a deep breath, lowered her head, turned around to walk towards the home.

This time, she really didn't know what she should do.

Chapter 391 Why Do I Have to Pay It Back?

In the old town of S City, in front of a house that looked a little dilapidated. Standing at the door of the house, Casey narrowed his eyes, looking at the rusty house number.

Logan told Casey that the person who knew the news about Guanling lived here. After two days of observation, Casey had confirmed that someone lived here.

Moreover, with Jeremiah's strength in S City, Casey found out the information of the person living here.

The owner of this house was named Freddie, who moved to S City 20 years ago. Before coming to S City, Freddie used to be a well-known businessman in a first-tier city in the south.

At that time, Freddie was very excellent and got married with a very famous actress in the entertainment industry at that time.

But the good days didn't last long. Not long after the two got married, one day, the actress finished filming and went home. Then she died in a car accident on the way home. Because the car was on fire, Freddie didn't even get his wife's body.

Later, based on the situation at the time, someone speculated that the actress might not have died in the car, but was taken away. Because nothing like ashes was found on the car, which basically proved that there was no one on the car at that time. The accident was deliberately forged.

At that time, the incident became a hot spot in society. The police dispatched a lot of people to look for the whereabouts of the actress. They searched for half a year but still didn't get any clues. Many people would rather believe that the actress was burned in the car. No ashes were found at that time just because the technology at that time was not so good enough.

Of course, some people suspected that this actress was abducted into a poor place by human traffickers. But the surveillance technology and detection technology 20 years ago were not good, so the possibility of finding this actress was slim.

As the husband of this actress, Freddie was naturally anxious. He deeply loved his wife. He had always believed that his wife was not dead but was arrested. He spent a lot of money searching his wife's whereabouts.

It was precisely because of the search regardless of the cost that the originally rich Freddie faced a break in the capital chain. His company's business was unable to continue. He had to sell his company and all his property to come to S City. Then he bought a decent house in this area and used the remaining money to continue looking for his wife.

It was a pity that after 20 years, Freddie still had not found any clues about his wife. Because of this incident, he had become grumpy, which was quite different from the previous him. This was the information about Freddie that Jeremiah collected. This information was not different from what Logan told Casey at the time, but was more detailed.

At that time, Logan said that Guanling was like a paradise for the rich. There were various entertainment methods to satisfy these rich people. There must be many people who were very interested in those famous female stars. It was normal that they sent some people to catch a few female stars.

Freddie searched for so many years. He should know something. At least what Logan knew about Guanling was that he heard from Freddie.

As long as these were not made up by Freddie himself, he should have been to Guanling or had contact with people in Guanling.

But Casey was more inclined to the second possibility. After all, Logan also said that none of the people who entered Guanling came out alive. Freddie was still alive now, which clearly showed that he had never been to Guanling.

In any case, Casey must see Freddie and communicate effectively with him. Only then did Casey know whether Freddie knew where Guanling was. Casey walked up to knock on the door. After a while, a low and hoarse voice came from inside.

"Who is it?"

"I have something to ask Freddie."

Casey said.

"Get out of here. Don't use your clumsy acting skills to fool me. I won't open the door. You are loan sharks and are not protected by the law. I borrowed it by myself. Why do I have to pay it back?"

The person inside seemed to be fearless.

After Casey heard this, he was a little bit dumbfounded. He didn't expect to be treated as a loan shark.

Why did this person sound cheeky?

"I think you have misunderstood. I'm not a loan shark. I heard about you from my friend. I want to ask you about something." Casey said.

There was a hole in the door. Casey noticed that there was one eye looking outside from the hole, and then the door was opened.

Inside stood a sloppy man with messy hair and beard. It seemed that the man hadn't shaved his beard for months. He looked haggard, but his eyes shone with shrewd light.

"Are you Freddie?" Casey asked.

"It's me. What's up?" Freddie took a look at Casey and said impatiently.

"Hear is the thing..." Casey was about to speak.

At this moment, a group of people rushed out of the alley nearby and rushed towards the door of Freddie's house.

When Freddie saw this, he was so frightened that he wanted to close the door. At this moment, a man who ran quickly held the door and shouted at the people behind, "Come here. I get the door. Damn it! He can't run away this time!"

The people behind soon followed and rushed into Freddie's house.

Freddie hurriedly turned around and ran towards the back, but those people immediately pressed him to the ground. Several of them took out the rope and directly tied him up.

"Fuck off. Let me go. You broke in my house. I'll call the police!" Freddie shouted hysterically.

"You fucking have a face to call the police? You owe us 300,000 dollars. It's us who should call the police, right?" A man slapped Freddie on the face.

"You are loan sharks. I'm just collecting evidence for the police to expose you. I tell you that I have become an informant for the police. If you don't let me go, just wait to be a dead meat!" Freddie exclaimed.

"Bluffing. Become a police informant? So funny. They will only think that you are crazy!"

Casey looked at the situation inside and guessed that these people should be loan sharks.

Casey couldn't help but feel funny. Freddie really dared to say anything in order not to repay the loan shark.

At this moment, a bald guy with a scar on his face came here, holding a machete in his hand.

When the bald guy came to the door, he gave a glance at Casey. But he just walked directly inside without say anything.

"Boss, this idiot still refuses to repay the money. Just chop off his arms directly. He is so crazy. I'm afraid he won't repay our money in this life."

When the people inside saw the bald guy coming in, they immediately began to talk.

"Why are you asking me to pay back the money? I have already given the money to the hospital. They charged me with the money. If you want the money, I will give you the receipt and you can go to the hospital to ask them to repay you the money." Freddie shouted again.

Hearing what Freddie said, the bald guy sneered. He directly put the machete on Freddie's neck.

"Freddie, everyone thinks you are insane, but I know you know it clearly. You just don't want to pay back the money, do you? There is no need to make up so many excuses. You gave the money to the hospital, because your daughter is sick, right? Come on, do you think it is difficult for me to find out which hospital your daughter is in?" The bald guy said with a smile.

Freddie's face sank abruptly. He couldn't help but tremble. The expression on his face became more serious.

"If you dare to do this, I'll really call the police. The worst situation is that I have to go to jail, but I'll let you go to the jail with me!" Freddie gritted his teeth and said.

The bald guy snorted and said, "What do you think I rely on for daring to do this business? Is it timid?"

"If I don't see the money today, not only will your daughter be in trouble, but your two arms will break!"

The bald guy frightened Freddie with a machete and waited for Freddie to speak.

At this moment, someone patted him on the shoulder. He turned his head to look over. Then he found that it was the person standing outside.

"Let him go." Casey said lightly.

The bald guy turned around, pointed the machete at Casey, and said, "Who the hell are you? Mind your own business."

"I can repay the money he owes you."

Casey continued.

Freddie did not expect Casey to say such words, so he was a little surprised. But since there was someone who was willing to pay back the money for him, he was of course happy. He hurriedly shouted, "Have you heard it? This guy is willing to help me pay back the money. Let me go!"

The bald guy took a look at Casey. He felt Casey didn't look like a rich man, so he said, "Are you sure you can pay back? He owes us 300,000 dollars."

"Just three hundred thousand. I'll give you a phone number. You can get the money after you give the call."

Casey said, handing a note to the bald guy.

This note said that a phone number of one of Jeremiah's men. His nickname was Dylan. He was Jeremiah's helper in dealing with some issues in the underground of S City. Jeremiah gave this phone number to Casey. He said if Casey was in trouble, he could call this guy.

The bald guy took the note, had a look, and said, "What if I can't get the money after giving the call?"

"I won't lie to you. You can leave now. I still have something to ask him." Casey said.

The bald guy felt that Casey was playing tricks on him, so he waved his machete in front of Casey and cursed, "Holy shit! Do you think you can fool me with a phone number? Tell you, I must get money today. Otherwise, neither of you can get out of here!"

Casey suddenly became a little impatient. Seeing that the bald guy all wanted to hit him, Casey just took a move directly and threw all of them out of the door.

Those men were thrown out one by one. They were quickly piled up into a small hill.

The bald guy was at the bottom, almost out of breath.

"The phone number I gave you is real. You only need to say that Casey owes you money, and let him pay it back." Casey said to the outside, and then closed the door.

A group of people got up from the ground, staring at the door of Freddie's house with angrily faces, wishing to rush back again.

But this time everyone knew that Casey was good at fighting, so no one dared to step forward.

"Boss, what should we do? We can't just let it go, right?" a man asked.

The bald guy also gritted his teeth, and then said, "The man inside is too powerful. We are not his match. I'm afraid I have to find Dylan to solve this problem. You go back first. I'll go to Dylan and talk about this thing."

When those men heard the bald guy's words, they nodded and turned back. The bald guy took a taxi and rushed to the city.

In a KTV, Dylan and the bald guy were sitting together. Dylan was singing, and the bald guy was sitting on the side with a respectful face and didn't dare to interrupt.

After waiting for a long time, Dylan finished singing a song. The bald guy found the opportunity to tell Dylan about his affairs.

"That person gave me a phone number and said that I could get money after calling it. I think he must be fooling me, so I can only come to you for help." The bald guy said, and handed the note to Dylan.

Dylan stared at the note carelessly, and then his both eyes widened. 'Isn't this my personal phone number?'

"What else did the person who gave you this note say?" Dylan asked quickly.

"The man said that as long as we said it's Casey who owed us money, we could get the money." The bald guy said again.

Dylan stared at the bald guy, and then said, "You don't need to make this phone call. You can't get the money."

"Huh?" The bald guy immediately widened his eyes. He looked puzzled, and then he asked, "Why?"

Dylan glanced at him and said coldly, "Because this is my phone number. Do you want me to repay the money?"

The bald guy was astonished, and did not respond for a long time.

Chapter 392 Rent A House

In Freddie's house.

Casey untied all the ropes from Freddie.

Freddie rubbed his face and said, "I didn't expect you would be so great. The bald guy has so many people, but they can't defeat you."

"Since you saved me, I won't kick you out, but I don't know you or what your purpose is. If you want to ask me something, you have to give me money. As long as you give me money, I am willing to tell you everything."

Casey laughed. He really couldn't think of how the powerful boss had become such a rogue step by step.

"Are you sure you will tell me everything as long as I give you the money?"

Casey asked.

"Of course, I am very short of money now. How could I dislike money?"

Freddie looked like a miser.

"Okay. I want to know about Guanling.

As long as you are willing to tell me, money is not problem." Casey said.

Freddie, who was still staring at Casey as if he was a miser, suddenly stiffened after hearing what Casey said. After that, his entire face sank. There was an indescribable cold feeling from his body. He stared at Casey indifferently, then directly pushed Casey directly out of the house.

Casey looked at Freddie with a confused expression on his face, and said, "Didn't you say you will tell me everything as long as I give you the money?"

Freddie gave Casey a cold look and yelled, "Get out of here, I don't know Guanling. Don't come to me anymore."

After speaking, Freddie slammed the door closed directly.

Looking at the closed door, Casey stepped forward again, and knocked twice. But this time, there was no sound from inside.

Casey shook his head helplessly. It seemed that it was not easy to ask anything about Guanling from Freddie.

"I can only try again after two days."

Casey muttered, then turned around to walk towards the places in the old town where the houses could be rented.

He had to live closer to Freddie these days, lest Freddie run away. Otherwise, he couldn't find Freddie.

When Casey was on the way to Freddie's house, he saw the two-story house in front of Freddie's house with the notes on it, saying the second floor could be rented. So Casey wanted to ask.

Although the houses in this old town were a bit dilapidated, and many of them were similar to those in the village, Casey didn't mind living conditions. His main task now was to ask Freddie about Guanling. So he could accept to live in this kind of place for a few days.

As he walked toward the front, his cell phone rang. It was Edith who called.

"Honey, what's the matter?" Casey asked.

"I can't call you?" Edith seemed to be very angry. She was irritable now.

"You can. Of course you can. But I still have something to do. You see..."

Casey said with a smile, not knowing what happened to Edith.

"You are implying that all your things are important, and that I am the only idler who has nothing to do, right?" Edith said irritably.

Edith was greatly discouraged by what the woman said in the bar. After leaving the bar, Edith could always hear people in various places saying that she was not good enough for Casey.

Originally, she could still stick herself. But after listening to other people's words, even she herself began to wonder whether she could match Casey.

Casey felt that Edith's mood was very unstable, so he cautiously asked, "Honey, are you having any trouble? If so, I will call Conor and ask him to help you. "

Edith was almost about to burn up. In her opinion, no matter what Casey said, it was implying that she was useless and that she needed someone else to help no matter what.

"I'm okay, okay, okay! Did you hear that? I am not a person who needs you to take care of everything. I have the ability to solve the problems that I encounter by myself!" Edith shouted directly at Casey.

"Then...what's wrong with you?" Casey was a little confused, not understanding why Edith yelled at him.

"Nothing. I'm on my period."

After speaking, Edith hung up the phone directly.

Casey suddenly figured it out. No wonder she would have such a bad temper for no reason. It turned out to be because she was on her period. Now, he knew that the girls who were on their period would always lose their temper for no reason.

After thinking about it, Casey did not call Edith back. Calling her back at this time would only make her more irritable.

So he called Jennifer and asked Jennifer to make some body-warming food for Edith and to sooth her emotions by the way.

After finishing the call, Casey continued to walk towards the house in front.

He walked up to knock on the door.

After a while, a girl with an ordinary appearance in her twenties came out.

"Can I rent the second floor? I plan to stay here for a few days." Casey asked.

The girl nodded immediately and said, "It's still renting, but we want a person who can rent it for a long time. If you only rent for a few days, the price will be high."

Casey smiled and said, "It's okay. Can I go in and have a look now?"

The girl nodded, then led Casey into the house and took a look on the second floor.

There was a room on the second floor facing Freddie's home. A window was opened over there. He could see the door of Freddie's house from the window at a glance. If Casey lived here, he could observe Freddie's actions well.

After taking a look at the room, Casey signed a simple agreement with the girl.

Then he paid the money, and bought some simple daily necessities from the girl.

When the agreement was signed,

Casey knew that this girl was named Eliana. She had several houses in the old town. She made a living by renting out these houses. By the way, she also made short-term rentals and sold daily necessities.

After getting everything done, Eliana glanced at Casey and asked, "What do you do for work?"

Casey thought for a while and said, "I'm a worker on a nearby construction site. Now the construction site is closed and I have no place to live, so I came here to rent a house for a few days."

Eliana nodded. She was not worried about what would be wrong with renting the room upstairs to a man. The old town police station was a dozen meters ahead of this house. She didn't think anyone would commit crimes in such a place.

Of course, she thought Casey looked not bad, so he shouldn't be a bad person.

The next afternoon, Casey kept observing Freddie's house in the room. Freddie did not come out all afternoon, which made Casey feel a little bored. In the evening, he went downstairs to go to the toilet. There was only a toilet on the first floor in this house, which was connected to the bathroom. He could only go downstairs if he wanted to go to the toilet.

When Casey walked to the door of the toilet, he pushed the door directly in. At this moment, he noticed that there was an undressed girl inside who was taking a shower.

The girl was not Eliana. But she was much more beautiful than Eliana. When she saw the door being pushed open, she was taken aback. Then she screamed and shouted, "Bastard! Catch the bastard!"

Chapter 393 Play Hard to Get

"I'm sorry. I don't know someone is inside." Casey said to the girl inside with some embarrassment, and then quickly closed the door again.

At this time, Eliana ran out of the room, still holding a baseball bat in her hand. She shouted nervously, "Where is the bastard? He dares to come to my house! Doesn't he know the police station is in front of my house?"

Casey turned to look at Eliana. He was a little bit speechless. When he moved in today, Eliana didn't tell him that there was another girl in this house.

Eliana was also taken aback after seeing Casey, and asked suspiciously, "Casey? Why are you here?"

"Um, I went to the bathroom, but I didn't expect someone in it. It was a misunderstanding." Casey explained.

At this time, the girl inside came out wrapped in a bath towel. Her hair was wet, and the water drops on her body were not dry. Seeing Casey still standing at the door, she immediately showed a wary expression.

"Eliana, call the police. This guy is a pervert. He actually watched me take a shower just now. I didn't expect that someone would dare to break in and do this kind of thing. We have to call the police and let the police punish him severely!" The girl said angrily.

"Ophelia, this may be a misunderstanding. He is a tenant who moved in today. I forgot to tell him that you are also in this house. Maybe he didn't pay attention and accidentally went into the bathroom." Eliana put down the baseball bat.

Ophelia looked at Casey up and down, with a hint of contempt on her face, and then she said, "Even if he's the tenants here, he may be the pervert. It's impossible that he can't hear me taking a shower inside. Maybe he just wanted to peek. He saw my naked just now."

Casey said apologetically to Ophelia, "I'm really sorry. I didn't pay attention to the sound inside at the time. I saw the door open, so I thought there was no one inside. I apologize to you and promise that such a thing won't happen again in the future."

Eliana walked over, dragged Ophelia over, and said with a smile, "Ophelia, don't blame him. You don't shut the door when you take a shower. So it's not his fault. Don't you think Casey looks handsome? Don't you always like to fantasize about there will be a handsome guy breaking into your bathroom while you are taking a shower?"

Ophelia rolled her eyes at Eliana, then looked at Casey up and down. She found that although this person was a little sloppy, he was indeed handsome. "Hmph, I can forgive you this time. If it happens next time, I will definitely call the police and let them arrest you!"

Ophelia murmured, and then followed Eliana into the room.

Casey smiled and shook his head. He thought that he wouldn't live in this place for too long. He didn't care about whether he was misunderstood. It didn't affect him much.

After that, he went into the toilet. There was only one toilet here. Anyway, he had to pee.

There was still the rising steam in the toilet and the fragrance of shampoo.

Casey walked to the closetool and saw that there were two lingerie pieces thrown on it. It was very sexy. He knew that they must be that girl's.

If he wanted to pee, he must pick up the lingerie on the closetool lid and then he could pee.

Staring at the two pieces of lingerie for a while, Casey planned to turn around and told Eliana, asking the girl to come over and took the clothes. He had better not touch this kind of thing.

Just when he was about to turn around, the door opened again. Ophelia walked in and saw Casey staring at her lingerie. She immediately shouted, "You are just a bastard. Why are you staring at my underwear?"

She hurried over, picked up the two pieces of lingerie on the closetool, and hurried out of the bathroom.

Casey shook his head helplessly, and then locked the door. Ophelia didn't even think about whether there was anyone inside. If he was peeing just now and Ophelia just came in directly, she would definitely see his stuff.

Outside, Ophelia held her clothes and walked to her room angrily. After coming in the room, she didn't care about Eliana who was beside her. She just took the bath towel off and began to change her clothes.

"I just said that the man was a pervert, but you were still speaking for him. The guy was staring at my underwear. He seemed to want to pick it up and smell it. So freak! Eliana, you can't rent the house to him. We are two girls. What if he wants to do something to us?"

Ophelia said while changing clothes. Eliana laughed and said, "Aren't you horny lately? It just so happens that Casey is handsome. Don't you like to hook up with those handsome tenants? Why are you pretending to be reserved now?"

Ophelia immediately showed a smirk on her face, and said, "I'm playing hard to get. Do you know? When I hook up with him, he will be more likely to get the bait."

Eliana glanced at Ophelia. This woman still showed her real face. She knew that Ophelia was not a reserved woman at all. They had known each other for so long, so Eliana knew Ophelia well.

After getting dressed, Ophelia sat down by the bed and said to Eliana with a smile, "Quickly tell me that man's job. If he is a rich guy, I can really seduce him."

"It may disappoint you. That guy is a worker on the construction site. The construction site has been suspended these days, so he came here to find a house to live for a few days." Eliana said.

Hearing Eliana's words, Ophelia immediately showed a disappointed expression on her face. All the interests she had just shown disappeared instantly.

"It turned out to be just a worker. Why did you tell me that? This kind of person is not qualified to let me seduce. It is really disappointing." Ophelia was disappointed.

"Isn't he handsome? As long as he can meet your needs, why do you care about whether he has money or not?" Eliana quipped.

"No. My current goal is to get a rich guy. Even if it is not a rich guy, at least he can't be a worker. I still want to rely on my beautiful face to marry into a rich family. That guy is just a poor. What's the use of being handsome? He is not my type." Ophelia said with disdain.

"You still have to think about what to do if the bald guy comes to make trouble tomorrow. The police station is right in front of our house, but the bald guy is not afraid at all. Therefore, in this society, money is king. Money can settle everything." Ophelia said again.

Eliana suddenly felt a little lost. She rented a house to the bald guy, but the bald guy didn't want to pay for rent at all. He even threatened her.

She was angry and called the police. Not only did no one punish the bald guy, but the bald guy knew about it. He threatened to come over and talked to her tomorrow.

"It's really a society where it needs money and people's connections. I hope that bald guy tomorrow can be a little reasonable." Eliana said to herself. Until the next morning, Freddie still didn't come out. It was almost noon that Casey planned to go to Freddie's house and knocked on the door again.

As soon as he came downstairs, he saw Eliana standing at the door with a worried expression on her face, as if worrying about something.

Seeing Casey come down, Eliana's eyes lit up. She quickly asked, "Casey, are you free now?"

Casey stared at Eliana, then said, "Yeah, what's the matter?"

"Here is the thing, some people may come to me for trouble later. I'm not sure what they will do then. I'm a girl. I'm definitely not be able to defeat them. So I want to ask you a favor. If there is something wrong, please go to call the police. Okay?" Eliana said.

"Oh? Someone will come over and make trouble for you?" Casey asked.

Eliana nodded and said, "It shouldn't be too much trouble. It's just some rascals who rent my house and don't want to pay money. They just want to get some money from me. If I can solve the problem by giving him some money, you won't need to call the police."

"If you agree to help me, you can go outside for a while and observe the situation, so that you can run away. Then they can't catch you."

Casey smiled at Eliana and said, "Then I'll just wait here. Your house is so close to the police station. But there are people who dare to do this kind of thing. I want to see who is so bold."

Casey had a pretty good impression of Eliana. Since he lived here and saw Eliana in trouble, he could help her if he could. After all, solving a few hooligans was just a piece of cake for him. Seeing that Casey wanted to stay in the house and it seemed that he was going to help her, Eliana couldn't help but frown.

"Why don't you go out? That guy has a lot of influence on the old town side. He has a lot of subordinates. If you stay inside, you won't be able to get out."

Eliana euphemistically hinted that Casey could not help her out.

"It doesn't matter. I am strong. If we really fight, I won't be afraid even if he has a lot of people." Casey said with a smile.

Eliana suddenly felt speechless, thinking that Casey was really stubborn. Why did he have to stay and confront those people? Go to the front and call the police. Wasn't it good?

Although she knew it would be useless even if she called the police over.

She wanted to explain to Casey, let Casey go outside and wait, and then call the police. But at this moment, there was a sudden roar of motorcycles outside the house.

Eliana's face sank. She knew it must be the bald guy's men came.

She glanced at Casey, and then quickly walked towards the door.

The bald guy and his men got off the motorcycle. He subconsciously glanced at Freddie's house, wanting to see if the big shot was here today.

After looking for Dylan yesterday, the bald guy knew that the man was a big shot who Dylan didn't dare to provoke. So the bald guy could only avoid to meet Casey.

Seeing that there was no one at Freddie's house, the bald guy breathed a sigh of relief. He knocked hard on the door of Eliana's house, and shouted, "Open the door quickly. I'm here to talk to you. Dare to go to the police station to report me? How dare you!"

Chapter 394 Mend My Way

Eliana opened the door and saw Walter and others outside the door. He was a little scared and involuntarily stepped back two steps.

"Obviously, you are in arrears with my rent. Is it wrong for me to go to the police? Why are you so arrogant?

You're being utterly unreasonable,"

Although afraid, Eliana summoned up the courage to shout at the bald man.

Walter and his men laughed immediately, as if they thought Eliana's words were funny.

"Don't you know how great our boss is? Do you reason with us? Aren't you funny?"

"In old town, everyone has to give compliment to him. It is your honor that we rent your house. Dare you ask our boss for money."

"I advise you to give our boss money as soon as possible to express your respect for him, otherwise no one will dare to rent out your house in old town."

....

Eliana was even more angry when she heard the words of Walter's. He didn't expect these people to be so shameless and even want her to give them money.

"You rent my house and ask me for money, you are really too much!" Eliana shouted at Walter.

"I am too much? You may..." A sullen smile appeared on Walter's face.

At this time Casey walked to the door, and Walter saw Casey, the smile on his face stopped abruptly.

'Fuck! How could he come out from inside?'

'Could it be that he has something to do with this landlady? No matter what the relationship is, as he can enter Eliana's home, he must be very close to her.'

Walter thought.

Casey was the one Dylan didn't dare to mess with. Yesterday in KTV, Dylan clearly told him not to provoke this person, otherwise he might die.

He originally thought that Casey came here yesterday to find Freddie, and today he didn't come to trouble Freddie, but a weak landlady. He didn't expect to run into Casey again.

Leaving aside the words Dylan warned him, the man in front of him could beat up a group of people. People came with him yesterday were still lying on the bed, and he was okay as he was strong.

Casey didn't expect that the one who came to trouble Eliana was Walter. It seemed that Walter was an active figure in old town.

Walter stared at Casey, swallowed, then bit back the words he would like to have said, and then quickly changed his tone, "You are right. We are a bit too much, and even I feel sorry for you."

Eliana was taken aback for a moment.

She originally thought that Walter would say something cruel, but she did not expect him to admit that he was wrong.

The men came with Walter also didn't understand what was going on. They weren't the people who came with Walter yesterday, and they didn't know how powerful Casey was.

"Boss, why are you so polite with her? In old town, no matter how much we are, no one else has the right to blame us," a little boy beside Walter said.

Walter guy kicked him directly, and cursed, "Get the hell out of here, there is no place for you to talk. If you dare to say something nonsense, I will sew your mouth!"

When the rest of the people saw Walter suddenly get angry, although they didn't know why, but they dared not say anything.

Walter finished teaching his subordinates and turned to look at Casey and Eliana again, with a smile on his face.

"I'm really sorry, my subordinates were so rude. To be honest, the main purpose of my coming here today is to make up the rent owed to you. My previous attitude may be a little bit bad. That's because I was in bad mood at that time, I hope you can forgive me. Tell me how much the rent is, and I will give it to you," Walter said to Eliana.

Seeing Walter's reaction, Casey guessed that Walter should have called the Dylan, and knew that he was not easy to mess with, so after seeing him, he quickly changed his words.

Eliana looked at Walter with a stunned expression, wondering why he suddenly wanted to pay the rent to her? Didn't he even threatened to give her a hard lesson?

Could it be that she pricked his consciences?

At this time, Eliana noticed that Walter glanced at Casey, and she also glance at Casey, thinking that Walter's attitude had only changed after Casey came out. Was Walter afraid of Casey?

Eliana was confused. Wasn't Casey just a worker in construction site? Why was Walter so afraid of him?

"Are you sure you want to pay me the rent?" Eliana confirmed with Walter again.

Walter nodded quickly and said, "Yes, yes. If I don't pay the rent to you, I can't sleep well at night. I've already planned to mend my way, and I won't do such shameless things in the future."

Eliana rolled her eyes and said, "You can pay the rent, but there must be a reason. You must first tell me why you suddenly change your attitude."

Walter glanced at Casey again and saw Casey making a look at him. He immediately understood what Casey meant and said, "I was primed with good advice yesterday, which made me understand the meaning of being a human being, so I decided to mend my way."

"Girl, what I am giving you is rent, not something harmful to you, how come you question me instead?"

Eliana obviously didn't believe the Walter's words, but she had already determined that this matter must have something to do with Casey. Since he didn't want to say it, she shouldn't want to ask too much.

She told Walter the amount of rent, and Walter took out the money without hesitation and gave it to Eliana.

After that, Walter left here as soon as possible. When he left, he secretly glanced at Casey a few times.

When Walter left, Eliana was also relieved, feeling that what happened today was a bit dreamy. She turned to look at Casey on the side and asked, "Did you know Walter? I always feel that he gave me money readily because of you."

Casey smiled and said, "I just stood there without talking. How could it be because of me? I'm just a worker."

Eliana thought so. But thinking about it from another angle, Casey made Walter so scared without saying a word. Didn't it prove his power?

Casey didn't explain to Eliana again. Seeing that the so-called trouble was solved so easily, he walked directly towards Freddie.

He went and knocked on the door again, Freddie came over and asked who was it. As soon as Casey spoke, a voice came from inside, "Get out!"

Casey had no choice but to return to the rented house.

In the afternoon, Freddie went out once, and Casey quickly followed up, but found that Freddie was only going out to buy things needed for cooking.

Freddie found Casey following him, and said to Casey specifically, "It's useless for you to follow me. I won't tell you anything."

In the evening, when Ophelia came back from work, Eliana directly dragged her into her room.

"Why are you so excited, did Walter bother you today?" Ophelia asked Eliana when she saw Eliana's appearance.

"What I want to tell you is about it. Walter not only didn't trouble me, but also made up the rent owed to me," Eliana said.

Ophelia was taken aback for a moment, and said with some suspicion, "Impossible, isn't Walter very arrogant? How could he make up the rent for you? Eliana, have you promised him certain conditions, then he pay the rent to you."

"What do you think about? Walter really paid me the rent, and he was very respectful today, and he left after giving the money," Eliana said.

"It is reasonable. It stands to reason that Walter is not such a person. Does he have any conspiracy?" Ophelia frowned.

"Probably not, if I'm right, Walter should be afraid of Casey," Eliana said.

"Casey? That's loser? How could it be possible that Walter would be afraid of construction worker," Ophelia retorted immediately.

Eliana told Ophelia what happened today, and mentioned to Ophelia what she felt puzzled.

After listening, a scornful smile appeared on Ophelia's face immediately, and she said, "Eliana, I think you really think too much. No matter who Walter is afraid of, he can't be afraid of that loser. Maybe it's because you called the police, the police went to educate Walter, and Walter came to pay you."

Eliana felt that it was not unreasonable, but the attitude of Walter was obviously changed because of Casey. Otherwise, how could he look so scared when he saw Casey.

Forget it, stop thinking. Anyway, nothing terrible happened.

"Eliana, don't think about the loser upstairs, he has nothing special. You think too much." Ophelia sat next to Eliana, with a hint of excitement on her face and she said, "Our hospital has a new director. Although he is more than 40 years old, he is very masculine. I think he must be very handsome when he was young. I tell you, I have already planned to seduce him. He seems to be interesting to me according to his attitude towards me."

"I think you think that the director is handsome because of his high authority. In my impression, Those people who are at a higher level in the hospital, are bald. Your director is no exception, right?" Eliana smiled.

Ophelia snorted and said, "Well, what's wrong with baldness. Bald men are masculine. I don't care, the important thing is that he has money and status."

Eliana looked helpless, and she didn't know what to do with her good friend. Casey observed Freddie's house for two days, knocking on the door every day, and following Freddie when he went out, but Freddie didn't pay attention to him, and scolded him every time.

This morning, Casey was sitting in front of the window, looking at Freddie's house, thinking that he should keep waiting and he must ask Freddie about the location of Guanling as soon as possible.

At this moment, Freddie came out, and Casey noticed that he had changed into clean clothes, his hair was also taken care of, and the messy beard on his face was shaved.

Seeing Freddie's changes, Casey came up with a thought and quickly got up and went downstairs.

Freddie, a sloppy person, would even think about taking care of himself, which only showed that the place he was going today was important.

Casey didn't know what Freddie was going to do. But he thought he may be able to find opportunities to let Freddie tell the things about Guanling from this view.

Chapter 395 You Have No Medical Ethics

After Freddie went out, he took a taxi. When Casey saw it, he quickly took a taxi and followed.

Not long afterwards, Freddie's car stopped at the door of a hospital. Freddie got out of the car, and his expression was a bit solemn.

Casey followed and got out of the car, staring at the hospital, and found that it had four characters "Jiren Hospital" written on it.

He immediately remembered that at Jeremiah's charity dinner that day, Jeremiah introduced him to a man named Blake, who seemed to be the dean of Jiren Hospital.

Jiren Hospital could be regarded as the best hospital in S City. Freddie should come to this place to visit patients.

Casey thought of Walter going to Freddie to collect the debt that day, as if he had said that Freddie was borrowing usury to get her daughter to receive treatment .

He quickly followed Freddie in, and followed Freddie all the way to the front of a ward. Freddie stood at the door of the ward and looked inside through the glass with a melancholy expression.

This was a single patient room with only one hospital bed. Various instruments were placed on the side of the bed. On the bed lay a girl who looked like her in her twenties. The girl's eyes were tightly closed. Except that her chest was slightly undulating, there was no sign that there was a living person lying there.

Casey glanced into the ward, confirming that this girl should be Freddie's daughter, and if he guessed correctly, the girl should have been at a vegetable state.

"What happened to her?" Casey walked to Freddie's side and asked.

Freddie was not surprised. His eyes were fixed on the poor girl in the ward, and his look was full of affection.

"A car accident a few years ago," Freddie said coldly, "You shouldn't come here with me. My daughter got into a car accident because she was looking for the shit place you mentioned, and she became what she is now, so I won't tell you anything about that place."

Casey sighed helplessly and felt Freddie's resentment towards Guanling. It turned out that not only his wife was arrested by people in Guanling, but even his daughter became a vegetable because of this place.

Just when Casey wanted to comfort Freddie, several people in white coats suddenly walked over not far away. These people directly ignored Casey and Freddie, opened the door of the ward, and walked in.

"Stop the equipment here, and later find a few people to send this vegetative girl to the ordinary three-person ward. Her family only paid her for the ordinary ward, and she lived in a single room and received the treatment of advanced equipment. Do they regard the hospital as a welfare institution? We also need the cost. This kind of situation will not be allowed to happen again in the future."

The person who took the lead was directing the few people who followed, as an arrogant leader. There were not a few hairs left on the top of this person's head, and he had a big belly, as if he was pregnant.

This person was the new director of the hospital, named Aarav. He was in charge of the hospital's finances, and all the money approved was distributed by. In order to get some benefits from it, he began to allocate the hospital's finances as soon as he came. He wouldn't let go of anything that could save him money. Freddie saw that these people were actually going to send his daughters to the general ward, he was immediately anxious, he rushed into the ward, and shouted at those people, "What are you doing, I have paid the money. Why do you send my daughter to the general ward!"

Aarav stared at Freddie and said, "You paid, but you only paid for the general ward. Don't we need money for our advanced instruments? The record says that you have always paid for the general ward, but your daughter has been lying in this single room for three years. It's good that I didn't ask you for the money you owed before!"

"Go and ask Dean Tristan to come over. I am friends with him. He promised that he will keep my daughter in this room," Freddie said angrily.

Aarav gave Freddie a sneer and said, "So this is why your daughter can live in this single room when you just pay for the general ward. It turned out that Tristan allowed it. Tristan has retired. Now the finances of the hospital are under my control, so where your daughter lives, you have to listen to me!" He had some problems with Dean Tristan. When Dean Tristan had not retired, he would often suppress him. Now that Dean Tristan had retired, he certainly wouldn't be polite to Dean Tristan's friends.

Freddie was stunned all of a sudden. He didn't expect Dean Tristan to retire. When he was on his sell-by date, he spent a lot of effort to help Dean Tristan. Therefore, after Freddie's daughter had an accident, the hospital was willing to give her a single room.

A large part of the money that Dean Tristan took from Freddie was used by Dean Tristan for the construction of the hospital, so Dean Tristan felt that giving Freddie a single room was not too much.

However, now that Dean Tristan was retired, Aarav, the new director, didn't care about Dean Tristan at all. He even had a tendency to avenge Dean Tristan's friend through this. Freddie immediately didn't know what to do.

"I have funded a lot of construction for your hospital at the beginning. Dean Tristan must have a record. Some of the credit for Jiren Hospital's good development goes to me. Now although I am down, you can't treat me this way. My daughter should live in this room!" Freddie said to Aarav anxiously.

Aarav snorted coldly, and said, "That is between you and Dean Tristan. It has nothing to do with me. Your support for the hospital has nothing to do with me. I am the owner of the hospital now. I only know that I have to do my job well. I can't spend any more money. Your daughter is not qualified to live here!"

"Hurry up, get his daughter to the general ward."

Several people immediately pushed the hospital bed in the room.

Freddie was so anxious that he went straight up to fight with these people. At this moment, a hand was placed on the armrest of the hospital bed, and those who were about to push the bed out realized that no matter how hard they tried, they couldn't move the bed.

"If anyone dares to move this bed, don't blame me for being rude," Casey said coldly.

His voice seemed to have magical power, as soon as he spoke, everyone in the ward was quiet.

Aarav stared at Casey and said coldly, "Who are you? What qualifications do you have to take care of the affairs of our hospital? I am the director of this hospital. Get out of the hospital quickly. You can't make trouble in the hospital!"

Casey sneered, and said, "You keep telling you are the director of the hospital all the time, but you didn't even care that there was a patient in this room. You have no medical ethics!"

Aarav's look turned to be quiet gloomy when Casey said this. He gritted his teeth and glanced at Casey, and said, "Dare you be so rude to me, I don't think you know who I am! What are you guys doing here? Hurry up and call the security guard to drive this arrogant and ignorant guy out!"

The people in white coats glanced at each other, and for a moment they didn't know what to do.

In fact, they all knew the situation of this ward. When Dean Tristan retired, he also told them that the family member of the patient in this ward had made contributions to the hospital, so they only needed to pay the money for the general ward.

But the newly appointed director, Aarav, didn't care about this at all. He insisted to transfer the patient to the general ward. Moreover, a new broom swept clean, so no one dared to oppose Aarav at this time.

However, what Casey said was right. If they really wanted to do so, they would really be against medical ethics.

"This hospital shouldn't be under your management, right? If you really want to find someone here, go find your dean and see if he dares to drive me out," Casey said coldly.

Hearing Casey's words, several thoughts flashed in Aarav's mind. Did he mean that he had some support? Was it possible that the dean knew this kid?

Just when he hesitated, a nurse ran over here, it was Ophelia who lived in the same house with Casey.

Ophelia was here to deliver the report to Aarav. As soon as she came in, she saw Casey and immediately said with a puzzled look, "Casey? Why are you, a loser, here?"

Chapter 396 He Doesn't Deserve Me to Apologize

Several people in the ward were all staring at Casey IN CONFUSION at this time. From what Casey had just said, they could guess that Casey should have something to rely on, so he dared to say such words.

He even felt that the dean of Jiren Hospital was afraid to kick him out. He should be no ordinary person.

Freddie also looked at Casey a little strangely, thinking that since Casey knew about Guanling, he must not be an ordinary person. If he could really help his daughter get the right to live in this ward today, he would tell Casey something about Guanling.

In his mind, the daughter was more than everything. He had no wife, and the daughter had become a vegetable.

What he could do now was to provide his daughter with adequate medical conditions. Only in this way could she have a chance to wake up again. However, at this moment, Ophelia arrived in the ward and said that Casey was a loser, which immediately stunned everyone present.

Aarav turned his head and glanced at Ophelia, then asked, "Do you know this person?"

Ophelia nodded immediately and said, "He rents a house where I live. He is a worker who works on the construction site."

After hearing Ophelia's words, Aarav immediately showed a sneer, and his gaze at Casey became contemptuous. "I thought you were capable. I didn't expect you were just a worker. How dare you say that our dean dare not drive you out? I think you are insane. Who do you think you are? Get out quickly, otherwise don't blame me for being impolite!" Aarav said viciously. He is the director of the hospital, and naturally has a considerable sense of superiority in front of a moving brick. The men in white coats around were also full of mockery. They thought that Casey was a bigwig. It turned out to be just a worker. This person was probably reading too many novels and thought that the dean of Jiren Hospital would be afraid of him, a worker.

There was also a trace of disappointment on Freddie's face. He didn't expect Casey to be a construction worker, but he didn't understand why a construction worker would know about Guanling.

Ophelia saw the reaction of the people in the ward, and vaguely guessed that

Casey might have pretended to be powerful just now. Since she and Casey were living in the same house anyway, she was obliged to prevent Casey from making a fool of himself in her hospital. Otherwise, when people mention Casey in the future, they might think of her. This was a pretty shameless thing.

"Casey, did you offend our director? Jiren Hospital is the best hospital in S City. The director here is not someone you can provoke. You quickly apologize to our director and get out of here, and the director will forgive you because of me. Apologize quickly," Ophelia shouted at Casey.

Casey looked at Ophelia and smiled, and said, "He doesn't deserve to make me apologize."

Ophelia frowned suddenly, thinking that Casey was a foolish fool.

"Ophelia, you have seen his attitude, even if you know him, today this matter can't be settled so easily. I will now let people get him out, send him to the security room, and fix him severely," Aarav said coldly.

"Director, this guy and I just happen to live in the same house. I don't know him well, and this guy is a pervert, and he wants to peek at me in the bath. Since he is so ignorant, you don't have to care about me. You can beat him up as you want." Ophelia hurriedly got rid of the relationship between herself and Casey. Several people all around laughed. They didn't expect a pervert who was peeking at others to take a bath now pretending to be coercive in front of their director. They really didn't know what Casey thought.

After Aarav listened to Ophelia's words, he no longer had the slightest fear of Casey, and completely regarded him as a fool who was not qualified to negotiate terms with him.

He turned his head and glanced at the few people next to him, and said, "You grab him and send it to the security room. Ask the security guard to teach him, so that he can be polite in the future."

The men in white coats also looked at Casey rather unpleasantly. After hearing Aarav's order, they immediately moved towards Casey.

Casey shook his head helplessly. There was still a patient lying in the ward, but Aarav seemed to have never noticed her from beginning to end, not only yelling, but also wanting to have a fight in the ward.

He didn't want to disturb Freddie's daughter, so he turned and walked outside.

Seeing this, Aarav laughed immediately and said, "I didn't expect him to be a cowardly wimp. After being dismantled, he became so timid, and he ran out before we started."

He still gave the three men in white coats a look. Casey dared to provoke him just now, of course he wouldn't let Casey off so easily.

Those men in white coats followed Casey out, and within a few seconds, there was a scream from outside. Then, Casey walked in again from outside and patted himself on the shoulder.

When Aarav saw Casey walk in again, he was surprised, and he asked, "Why did you come in again? Didn't they take you to the security room?"

Casey smiled at Aarav and said, "You may need to prepare a few more beds."

Aarav's expression froze, and then he hurriedly walked towards the outside of the ward. As soon as he got into the corridor, he saw the men in white coats lying on the ground, rolling constantly, all looked painful.

There was a horror in his heart. Casey went out just now, but in less than two minutes, he returned to the ward. These were four strong men who were knocked down by Casey so easily.

He turned around and walked to the door of the ward, staring at Casey in anger and fear, raised a hand, pointed at him in anger, and said, "You... dare you to beat the people in our hospital. Wait here, I will call the dean. Not only will you have to pay for your behavior, the patient in this ward will never be able to enter our hospital again!"

After speaking, he ran away quickly. Casey looked indifferent. The matter had reached this point, it was a good thing for him to call the dean over. In this way, he did not have to explain. Ophelia in the ward didn't know what was going on. She looked outside in confusion. After seeing the few people lying there, she looked at Casey in shock and said, "Casey, you are crazy. You actually beat people at Jiren Hospital. Don't you know how horrible our dean is?"

"When the time comes, don't say that you have anything to do with me. I don't want to be involved by you."

Casey glanced at her and said, "I have nothing to do with you."

Ophelia felt that Casey's words made it as if she was trying to get close to Casey. She gritted her teeth angrily, then sneered, thinking that Casey was too arrogant. When the dean came later, he would be in trouble.

Freddie didn't care that Casey could easily deal with those few people. He had seen Casey's skill before, but Aarav's words made his heart trembled. If it was because of Casey, his daughter could not continue to be hospitalized in Jiren Hospital, he would definitely not forgive Casey.

He walked up to Casey and said to Casey with a gloomy look, "Do you know that your behavior has affected my daughter. If my daughter can't stay here in the hospital, I will kill you!"

"Don't worry, they didn't dare to do so, and I was to protect your daughter at that time," Casey said.

How could Freddie not worry at this time, he almost went violently.

"I don't care what the hell you're doing. I only know that the director said that because of you. If something happens to my daughter, you have to bear the main responsibility!" Freddie's forehead violent bruised. Obviously, when it came to his daughter, he had no sense at all.

Ophelia also sneered and said, "What an arrogant man, who do you think you are? When the dean comes later, he will definitely help the director. Do you think he will help you, a useless worker? Stop dreaming here."

Casey didn't say anything more, and when the dean came later, they would know if he was pretending .

Soon, there was a sound of footsteps outside the ward, and then Aarav rushed into the ward, followed by a group of men in security uniforms. After these people came in, they drew aside, and then the dean with glasses, Blake, walked in with an ugly expression.

"Boy, our dean has already been here, now let's wait and see! You are the first to come to my Jiren Hospital to make trouble!" Aarav shouted at Casey.

Then he turned around and wanted to tell the dean about how hateful Casey was. However, after turning his head, he found that the dean was frozen in place, his expression was full of panic, and looked very cautious.

Ophelia sneered at Casey, thinking that the dean would definitely let the security guards clean up Casey.

Freddie was worried. If his daughter was really kicked out of Jiren Hospital, then he would no longer be able to find such a good hospital for his daughter.

Before Aarav spoke, the dean hurriedly walked towards Casey, then stretched out his hand nervously, and said, "Mr. Casey, I didn't expect you to be here. I'm really sorry. I don't know what happened here. If the hospital staff irritates you, I will definitely get even with them for you, Mr. Casey."

Everyone in the ward was stunned, looking at Blake in surprise. They never expected that he would have this attitude after seeing Casey.

Casey ignored Blake's outstretched hand. Instead, he gave Blake a cold look, pointed at Aarav over there, and said, "How did you become the Dean, and how did a person like him who didn't have any medical ethics get to the position of director?"

"Is this the level of Jiren Hospital?"

Chapter 397 Tell You What You Want to Know

Everyone stared at Casey scolding Blake. Casey looked like a superior who was scolding his servant.

The attitude the dean showed to Casey just now shocked everyone. They had never seen the Blake so polite to anyone.

After Aarav came back to his mind, he glared at Casey, and said, "How dare you talk to our dean in such a rude manner? Who do you think you are? Are you qualified to criticize our dean here?"

Blake turned his head directly and shouted at Aarav, "Shut up! There is no place for you to speak!"

Aarav was taken aback by the dean's sudden roar, and quickly closed his mouth, his face was full of puzzlement, and he didn't understand why the dean would be so polite to a construction worker.

Ophelia originally wanted to explain Casey's identity to the dean, but after seeing the dean's reaction, she suddenly dared not say anything, and cast a suspicious look at Casey.

Freddie was a little stunned. The dean of Jiren Hospital acted like a servant in front of Casey, which made him have a lot of doubts. No wonder Casey said that they did not dare to drive him out.

Did he really have some support?

After the dean roared Aarav, he turned to look at Casey again, showing respectful expression on his face, and said, "Mr. Casey, you are right. There are many problems in the hospital. It is indeed my responsibility. Please tell me the problems you know about our hospital, I will try to correct it.

Casey didn't talk nonsense, and told him that Aarav wanted to drive Freddie's daughter out of the ward.

When Blake heard that Freddie was a person who had contributed to Jiren Hospital, and Dean Tristan allowed his daughter to stay here, but Aarav insisted on kicking Freddie's daughter out, his look became extremely gloomy.

Aarav listened to in the side with a guilty conscience, and unconsciously moved his gazes away to avoid looking directly at Blake.

After listening to Casey's recount, Blake showed a guilty expression to Casey and said, "Mr. Casey, this is indeed my fault. I shouldn't have made him the director."

Then he walked up to Freddie, bowed deeply to Freddie, and apologized, "Dean Tristan told me about your affairs before. I know you have contributed to the hospital and let your daughter is supposed to live in this ward. What happened this time is my negligence. For this, I express my deep apologies to you and promise that your daughter can live in this ward for free in the future, and she will be able to receive the highest level of care in the hospital."

When Freddie heard the dean personally apologized to him, he couldn't react for a while. He turned his head and glanced at Casey, and a trace of self-blame suddenly arose in him. He understood that he had misunderstood Casey before.

After talking with Freddie, the dean turned his head and looked at Aarav. His look suddenly turned gloomy and angry.

"I really didn't expect you to be such a person. You did this kind of thing when you first took office. The conflict between you and Dean Tristan shouldn't involve the patient, let alone the family of the patient who has made contributions to the hospital! "

"Do you think that I don't know what you think? You want to send her to the general ward, don't you just want to put the money saved in your pocket?"

"Aarav, no matter in terms of character or medical ethics, you are not qualified for the position of director. From now on, you will no longer be an employee in my hospital. Go and find another job!"

After Aarav heard what the dean said, he immediately became anxious. He had just become the director for a few days. He didn't expect that he would be dismissed so soon, and he would still be fired directly. There was no room for negotiation.

He hurriedly walked to the dean and pleaded, "Dean, you can't expel me because of this. Anyway, I have been working for the hospital for so many years. And even if I want to transfer this patient to the general ward, it's just to save the hospital's expenses. I don't think I've done anything wrong"

The dean snorted coldly and said, "Even if you did nothing wrong, I still can't keep you in the hospital. Don't intercede with me here. No matter how you intercede, it will be of no use."

Aarav suddenly felt weak. It seemed there was no room for maneuver.

"Dean, even if you really make up your mind to expel me, you have to give me a reason. Did Dean Tristan tell you bad things about me, or do you hate me for a long time? You just take the opportunity to fire me?" Aarav asked unwillingly.

"If this is really the case, then I wouldn't fire you. You made the mistake of provoking someone who you shouldn't offend!" Blake said coldly.

"Provoked someone who I shouldn't offend?" Aarav quickly turned his head to look at Casey over there, feeling even more dissatisfied, and said, "How could he be the person I shouldn't offend. Isn't he just a construction worker? What can't I mess with him?"

Blake immediately stared, and said, "Who told you that he is a worker? Tell you, Mr. Casey is the one who even Jeremiah has to dance to his tune. Can you offend him?"

Aarav only felt a thunder exploding in his ears, his scalp began to numb, and the muscles on his face twitched slightly.

"Jeremiah dances to his tune ?

This...how is this possible? Didn't Ophelia say that he is just a construction worker?"

Aarav muttered, turned his head and glanced at Ophelia beside him, his heart was full of resentment, he was really in trouble because of this stupid woman this time.

Ophelia was also in shock at this time. She didn't even notice Aarav's gaze towards her. She couldn't understand how Casey became the person who even Jeremiah had to listen to.

Jeremiah was the number one entrepreneur in S City. He even had to listen to Casey. How terrifying was Casey's identity?

Aarav clenched his fist, turned his head and shouted at Ophelia, "Ophelia, I'm all murdered by you. Didn't you say that he was just a construction worker? Why now the dean says that Jeremiah has to listen to him?"

"My future has been ruined by you, stupid woman!"

Then he rushed to Ophelia and slapped Ophelia directly on the face.

Ophelia covered her face, still not recovering from the shock just now.

After that, Aarav planned to beg Casey for mercy, but Casey didn't want to see him again, so Blake hurriedly asked the security to drive Aarav out.

Ophelia stood there for a long time before realizing that she was slapped by Aarav, and she was angry. The bastard Aarav dared to hit her.

It was a pity that Aarav had been taken out by the security guard, and she had no chance to scold Aarav.

She took a deep breath, walked a few steps towards Casey, and said, "Casey, I was wrong before. I don't know you still have such an identity. Please forgive me. I apologize to you."

After knowing that Casey had such a terrifying identity, the first thing that came to Ophelia's mind was to find a way to restore the relationship with Casey.

Casey was the one who Jeremiah had to listen to. If she could get close to him, then she wouldn't have to worry in her life from now on.

"The patient needs a quiet environment, you should go out quickly," Casey said coldly.

Ophelia wanted to keep talking again, but the dean glared at her, and she was so scared that she couldn't speak immediately. As a result, she could only leave the ward in a desperate manner. The dean put the bed back, and then turned on the instruments beside the bed again to restore the ward to its original state.

He apologized to Freddie several times, and promised to Freddie that he would invite the highest level expert team to conduct a consultation on his daughter's condition, and strive to wake up his daughter as soon as possible.

Freddie was a little excited and didn't know what to say, but he knew that he should thank Casey instead of the dean. After packing everything in the ward, Casey asked the dean to go back to work. He and Freddie walked out of the ward. Freddie stood at the door and looked inside for a long time.

"This time... Thank you very much," Freddie said.

Casey smiled and said, "It's just a little work."

Freddie took a deep breath, turned and walked to the other side of the corridor, "Come with me. Go and find a quiet place, I will tell you what you want to know."

Chapter 398 The Way to Enter

Guanling

Downstairs of Jiren Hospital, beside a bench, Casey and Freddie were sitting here.

Freddie told Casey what he knew about Guanling, basically the same as Casey heard from Logan.

Over the years, although Freddie had inquired about many things about Guanling, he had never really been to Guanling. The news he knew about Guanling was sorted out bit by bit from others.

And Freddie had a deep fear of Guanling. The more he investigated Guanling, the more he felt the horror of Guanling. He even suspected that his daughter's car accident was caused by the people of Guanling.

"Last point, I want to know how to enter Guanling," Casey asked while staring at Freddie.

Freddie turned his head and looked at Casey with a complicated expression. After a while, he said, "Although I don't know why you want to go to a place like Guanling, I can tell you responsibly that none of those who entered Guanling could come out alive. Don't take any chances to yourself. That will only harm yourself."

A smile appeared on Casey's face and he said, "I've heard these many times. I know what I'm doing. If I really give up because of these rumors, I'm afraid I won't come to you."

Freddie sighed helplessly, and said, "I do know one way to enter Guanling. This is the only clue I have obtained since I searched Guanling for more than 20 years. The others are just rumors. What kind of Guanling really is, you will know only when you go in. None of the people who went in came out, so I guess that many of the rumors about Guanling were made up by people themselves."

"After getting the way to enter Guanling, I used to pay a very high price to commission a person who also has a great interest in Guanling and is willing to go in and take risks. I asked him to bring communication equipment and enter Guanling by the way I got, and try to pass back the information inside."

"There must be many people who want to go in and explore, and then pass the information back. However, the outside world has not received any information about Guanling for so many years, so I am sure that there must be means to interfere with communication equipment in Guanling."

"So I paid a lot of money to ask someone to get a set of communication equipment that can avoid interference. I was silly when I think about it now. The people in Guanling can definitely think of what I can think of. However, for so many years, there is still no news coming out, which only shows that Guanling is not afraid of any anti-interference equipment."

"It may be to replenish new blood.

Guanling actually has a lot of strongholds in the outside world. They will have special people to look for targets in the outside world. At the same time, they will accept those who want to enter Guanling. Of course, if you want to enter Guanling, you also need to meet certain conditions. Not everyone can meet the conditions. Those people who want to go to Guanling would be screened according to certain conditions by the staff."

"The people of Guanling will send a group of people into Guanling on the 15th of every month. There will be this opportunity every month. Before that, you must find the staff of Guanling and pass the screening. On the 15th, the staff will gather these people and take them to Guanling together."

"The stronghold I know is in a bar on the outskirts of S City. There is an underground boxing arena and all kinds of people. If you want to find the staff of Guanling, you must have a secret sign with the boxing ring manager."

"The person I worked with went to the bar, and the code was right. Our communication equipment was normal until he found the clerk. However, the staff of Guanling will not disclose any information related to Guanling. From the feedback, I can only infer that he was communicating with people in the ring."

"And he seemed to have passed the screening, but since then, our contact has been broken, and our communication equipment no longer plays any role."

"Later I went to the bar and checked it, but I didn't find any information, and finally I couldn't muster the courage to check the code. For many years after that, I never saw the person who worked with me again."

After listening to Freddie, Casey probably understood the way to enter Guanling. Go to a bar on the outskirts of S, after checking the secret codes and pass the screening, they would be taken to Guanling.

Any communication equipment was useless in Guanling. Once people entered it, it was equivalent to being isolated from the outside world. There was no way for the outside world to know whether it was alive or dead. So it sounded, Guanling was indeed a very dangerous place.

Just to find his father's whereabouts, Casey would go no matter how dangerous it was.

Guanling may be extremely dangerous for others, but for Casey, he might be able to get out. After all, he also had special features, otherwise he would not have the guts to find a place where there was a one-way ticket to hell.

"Tell me the specific location and secret code of that bar. It's the end of the month, half a month before the 15th. I hope I can catch up," Casey smiled.

When he saw that Casey insisted on asking for an address and a secret code after hearing his clear explanation, he realized that his persuasion had no effect on Casey.

He told Casey the address and secret code of the bar, and wished Casey good luck.

After a few more conversations with him, Casey left the hospital.

Now that he knew the way to enter Guanling, he should prepare to enter this mysterious place.

However, before entering Guanling, Casey planned to return to J City first. In any case, entering Guanling this time was a very dangerous thing. He had to consider the possibility that he would not be able to come back and arrange things in J City properly..

Of course, he definitely couldn't go back today. At this time, it had turned dark, and he could only wait for tomorrow to go back.

old town, Eliana's house.

After getting off work, Ophelia rushed back as fast as she could. After opening the door, she rushed directly to Eliana's room, looking very excited.

Eliana, who was playing phone, was taken aback by Ophelia, then sat up, took a look at her, and asked, "What are you doing? Are you robbed?"

Ophelia's chest was up and down, she tried to calm herself down, and then asked, "Has...Has Casey come back?"

Eliana shook her head and said, "No, what's the matter?"

There was a trace of loss on Ophelia's face, and then she said to herself, "Could it be because of me, so he won't come back to live?"

Eliana stared at Ophelia with a strange expression, and said, "What's wrong with you, don't you think Casey is a loser, don't you look down on him? Why do you care about him now?"

Ophelia hurriedly covered Eliana's mouth, and then said in a very serious tone, "You must not say that he is a loser in the future. It is all your fault. If you hadn't told me he was just a construction worker, what happened today could be avoided."

"What's the matter? Did you run into Casey today? Tell me quickly," Eliana said quickly.

Ophelia sat down by the bed, sighed, and then told Eliana what happened in the hospital today.

When Eliana listened, her eyes widened, as if she had heard some shocking news.

"What are you talking about! Casey is the bigwig whom Jeremiah has to listen to!" Eliana exclaimed directly.

"Just keep your voice down. If Casey happens to be back and he hears it and gets angry, we will be in trouble," Ophelia said hurriedly.

Eliana couldn't calm down for a while.

The person who rented a house here would be such a bigwig. Didn't he say that he was just a construction worker? Was it to avoid trouble for him?

"Casey seems to be very upset with me, Eliana, do you think I still have a chance?" Ophelia asked.

Eliana laughed and said, "You had such a bad attitude towards him before, and this kind of thing happened again today, I guess it is very hard to change his attitude towards you."

Ophelia also knew that Eliana was not joking, but she made her mind and said, "No matter if there is hope or not, I have to give it a try. Tonight, let's watch my performance."

Chapter 399 Cooperation

Then the night fell, and Casey went to Eliana's in the old downtown.

After Casey had known how to get to Guanling, he didn't have to return here. However, it occurred to him that the local guides always threw them in jail on the fifteenth day of every month. He didn't have to worry about it.

Plus, he had to assure whether Freddie told him the truth. He didn't want it to be a wild goose chase.

After couple of days of deliberation, Casey decided not to return to the J City but to stay at the S City for a while. He wouldn't return until he was sure he'd have a chance to get into Guanling.

There were daily necessities and the old Santana in Eliana's house which was near the outskirts, so Casey chose to stay there.

The door was open when Casey got there. Eliana and Ophelia walked out and stared at Casey nervously like two servants welcoming their master.

Ignoring their reactions, Casey went right to the staircase.

Ophelia took a deep breath and walked up to Casey, sincerely apologized, "I'm...I'm so sorry. I shouldn't have treated you like that."

Without saying a word, Casey walked ahead, leaving Ophelia with regret and disappointment.

Eliana just silently stood there, dare not to say a word. Ophelia had told her what had happened in the hospital. Of course she could find the unusual air of Casey as she thought of Walter's showing up at her place.

After two steps ahead, Casey stopped and turned around, looking over his shoulder.

Hopefully, Ophelia thought Casey was about to forgive her when she found his eyes land on Eliana.

“I’ll stay another two days here. How much should I pay for you? I’ll give you later,” Casey said.

Eliana hastily answered, “It...it doesn’t matter. You’ve paid enough, and you can stay here as long as you need to. If it hadn’t been you, Walter wouldn’t have paid for his rent. I owe you.”

Casey didn’t reply as he walked upstairs.

Ophelia was like the air, ignored by Casey.

A strong disappointment coursed through Ophelia’s body as she never thought that Casey could resist her pretty face, even worse, showing no interests at all.

Then she sadly whined to Eliana, “How could he just walk away from my pretty face without saying ‘Hello’?”

Eliana sighed, “Just get off your high horse. If he was that powerful as you said, he must have seen tons of pretty girls, much more than the boys you’ve dated. Plus, you were too mean to him, you know?”

Taking a deep breath, Ophelia argued, “No way! After all, he’s just a male. I don’t believe he can actually leave out the chance of banging the only beauty in this house.”

It was ten at night. Lying in the bed, Casey was thinking about the stuff of entering Guanling. He wondered if he'd be lucky enough to get out of the place after entering it.

Why did Terence go there? If Guanling is really dangerous, is it possible that Terence is alive now?

He's got too many questions in his head, and all he needed were answers which he'd obtain after entering Guanling.

Then someone knocked at his door. Casey was confused and got up to open the door.

It was Ophelia who was standing at his door with wet hair. Wrapped in a towel, she came off quite charmingly sexy. She was trying hard to flirt with Casey with sexual body languages.

"Well...there's something wrong with my hair dryer. May I come to use yours to dry my hair?" Ophelia said gently. She was so experienced that she must have tempted many men in this way.

Casey just shot her with a cold glare and slammed the door.

Obviously, Ophelia didn't see it coming. Frozen and shocked, she found herself alone and pathetic.

Eliana sat in her room, imagining how happy she'd be if Ophelia successfully hooked up with Casey.

Ophelia was too beautiful to resist. Casey would definitely get a crush on her.

While she was thinking about their bright future, Ophelia came in with a gloomy face.

Eliana couldn't believe Ophelia has left for only five minutes, asking, "How come you show up in my room?"

Ophelia hugged Eliana and cried, "Am I not beautiful enough? How could he slam the door in my face?"

The truth was Casey only loved Edith.

In a café located in the J City.

Amara walked in and looked around.

Then she sat by the window.

Across from her was an elegant lady, whose face was hidden in a black veil, mysteriously beautiful.

Amara was amazed by the impressive air of the woman. She asked vigilantly, "Who the heck are you? Why do you wear a veil in the day? Are you a terrorist? For the record, I won't help you with illegal stuff."

The woman smiled and slid a cup of coffee to her, saying, "Relax. I just want to tell you something about your daughter."

Amara's face was filled with confusion as she asked, "What are you talking about?"

"If I'm right, I don't think you want your daughter to marry Casey, do you?" The woman asked Amara with a smile.

"So what? It's none of your business. Just so you know, Casey was a fucking jinx. Powerful as he might be, he'll bring endless hardships to my daughter. No one can talk me into marrying my sweetheart to him." Amara thought the woman was another helper of Casey.

"Nice. Actually, we want the same, and that's why I want to cooperate with you," said the woman.

Amara was dumbfounded and asked, "Why do you want to separate them?"

"Because Casey is mine, and I'm the only one he will marry in the world," the woman claimed.

Amara didn't understand how a jinx like Casey could attract a beauty like the woman. Had Casey cast a spell on her? Anyway, as long as the woman could help her daughter get rid of Casey, she was more than willing to cooperate with the woman.

"You'd better help us get rid of him. Pray tell, what's your plan?" Amara asked.

The woman smirked devilishly and said slowly, "But first, you have to tell me where he is now and when he will come back."

"I don't give a shit about his stuff, but my daughter told me he had gone to the S City, not knowing when he'd come back."

After deliberating for a while, the woman said to herself, "He won't come back soon."

"Well, my plan is quite simple. If you want to separate them, you have to make your daughter become the other man's woman."

Amara suddenly widened her eyes and stared at the woman with shock, yelling, "What the heck! Don't you dare ruin my daughter's reputation!"

"Relax. I don't mean it," the woman explained, "I can get you an unmarried man of the high society to marry your daughter. And we should make sure they'll have a coincidental sexual relationship."

"I've talked to your daughter and reminded her that she's not good enough for Casey. Luckily, she seemed to hold the same view as I did. If she loses her virtue to another man, she'll absolutely get away from Casey.”

“Then you’ll make her divorce and tell her to marry the rich man I prepare for her. Don’t you think it perfect?”

After deliberating, Amara asked, “Tell me more about the man of the high society.”

“As far as I’m concerned, he’s unbelievably filthy-rich. Moreover, he has a crush on your daughter.”

A bright smile lit up Amara’s face as she heard “Unbelievably filthy-rich”. She said, “Count me in.”

In Edith’s office.

After work, Edith stretched and glanced at the clock. It was time to go home.

She stood up to leave the office.

When she opened the door a little bit, she heard her other colleagues gossiping.

“I can’t believe Casey could be so fucking romantic. How I love the his idea of holding the wedding ceremony at Crystal Castle!”

“You bet. It turns out that the garbage Casey is powerfully resourceful and connected. Lots of men of the high society showed up at his wedding. That was really awesome!”

“Now I think that our chairwoman is no good for Casey. Compared with Casey’s ability and business value, our company is nothing.”

“Right. Edith is nothing but a pretty face. As far as I’m concerned, Casey deserves a better wife.”

“But Edith will never let it happen since she’s known how capable Casey is. Now Casey is her precious belongings she’ll never let go. If I were she, I would do that.”

“So what? After Casey realizes she’s nothing but a pretty face, he’ll abandon her and marry his true love...”

Their bitter speculations were like sharp knives, hurting Edith’s heart. It seemed that her marriage was not blessed, due to the gap between her and Casey.

Plus, what Casey’s ex-girlfriend had told her made her begin to question herself. She wondered if she was the perfect match for Casey.

Taking a deep breath, she pushed the door open and walked out of her office. The annoying gossiping instantly came to a stop.

Edith ignored all the eyes on her and walked straight out of the company. She didn’t show her desperation until she slid into her car.

“Is it true that I shouldn’t be with Casey? Why are they all gossiping about it? Maybe I should leave him before he dumps me.”

Finally, Edith couldn’t help but to cry over the steering wheel.

Chapter 400 Bar

In the CZ Community.

Edith parked her car by the building.

After wiping out her tears, Edith took a deep breath and went upstairs.

Jennifer greeted her as she got to the house, then Jennifer continued to prepare the dinner.

Amara was thinking about something happy when she noticed her daughter come home, and she quickly grabbed Edith to her side.

Edith flashed a smile to her mother and asked, “Mom, what’s up? You look so happy.”

Amara said, “Well, it occurred to me that Casey has got a huge number of wedding fund at the wedding ceremony, and he has saved it under your account. If I’m right, you are such a millionaire now!”

Edith was shocked and said, “I thought you’ve regarded as a jinx, and his money would bring us disasters. You told we shouldn’t use his money. Why do you bring it up now?”

“Oh my sweetheart, Money is not guilty. By the way, we should thank Casey and his money which can assure the living standard of our rest life.”

Edith leveled her mother with a confusing look and asked, “Mom, there’s something wrong with you.”

“What? I just figure out something. That’s all.”

“Enlighten me.”

“Well, just something about Casey’s true value. Even if he’s hateful, the truth is that he’s also very capable. He’s not that simple as we thought he’d be. We’re do lucky that you’ve married him.”

Suddenly, Amara didn’t despise Casey any more.

After hearing Amara’s comment, Edith’s face darkened as she could see that her mother thought her marriage has depended on her sheer luck.

Amara sensed the shift of Edith’s mood. Amusement started to dance behind her eyes.

“Edith, it was my bad that I’ve always wanted to kick Casey out of our house. However, now I find that he may be the best son-of-law in my life.”

“I’m afraid that your wedding ceremony is the most romantic one in the whole wide world. Plus, many people of the high society have attended your wedding, especially the people from the Davies family in the B City. Has Casey been already become the rightful heir?”
“Edith, compared with Casey’s wealthy family, our family is merely a normal one.”

“You’ve got to know that he’ll meet another woman better than you. You must hold him tight and keep him in your palm. Once he falls in love with another woman, our wealthy life will come to an end.”

It seemed like Amara wanted her daughter’s marriage to last as long as it could be.

But her tone implicated the message that Casey and her daughter weren’t meant to be together, and her daughter should make him stay by all means. Even Edith’s own mother began to tell her she wasn’t good enough for Casey. Sick and dizzy, Edith felt awful.

“Stop it, mom,” Edith said.

“Edith, I’ve reminded you. Don’t you dare to let Casey run away with another woman.”

“Enough! Casey and I are definitely equal in terms of love and marriage. Never will we abandon each other due to the background of our families. I don’t want to hear words like that again,” Edith yelled to calm down herself.

Amara was shocked by Edith abnormal reaction, but she was sure that Edith has begun to question her decision to marry Casey.

“Calm down, Edith. Are you sick or something?”

Edith rubbed her forehead and said, “I’m fine. It’s just the too much work these days.”

Amara instantly suggested, “Well, I happen to know a shrink who just come back from abroad. It’s said that he’s versed at mental disease treatment. Plus, he’s very healthy. What about having dinner with him and asking him to help you with your mental health?”

Edith wondered why her mother added that the shrink was wealthy, but she was too sick to ask more.

Also, she agreed that she really needed a shrink to help her out now.

“Okay, I hope it works,” Edith said.

A rare smile danced on Amara’s lips.

“What about tomorrow evening?” Amara proposed.

Edith nodded.

After Edith left the dining hall, Amara found her phone and texted to the mysterious woman...

“She agreed to meet the man tomorrow evening. Your turn to arrange for it.”

...

On the outskirts of the S City.

The streetlights were lit in the twilight, but only a few shops were open.

It was much quieter than the downtown. Even so, the low living expense still attracted lots of young people with a low salary.

With a certain aim, Casey walked in the street of the outskirts.

Where he was heading was the bar Freddie had told him.

The bar was located at the end of the lane. The deeper he was into the lane, the fewer people he could see. Before long he found himself at the end of the lane. Then he noticed an old advertisement board read "Bar", glowing in the dim light.

It seemed the bar has been here for quite long. Casey thought the local guides of Guanling would prefer somewhere lofty and luxury, but the bar just looked too old and shabby. Yet it was quite reasonable as Guanling has been a dangerously mysterious place whose guides were all desperadoes. They just didn't belong to the high society.

Plus, the bar was merely a one of their bases, not worth more decorations. Casey walked into the lane and pushed open a door next to him. It was so dim in the bar. Maybe due to its unfavorable location, there were a few customers in it.

Casey walked over to the counter and gave the bartender some money, asking, "A ticket for the boxing game." Then the bartender unlocked the door nearby and let Casey in.

Without any hesitation, Casey got straight through the door before hearing the noisy screams.

Taking in a giant boxing ring, Casey found lots of people gathering around the ring which he had seen in other underground rings.

Maybe it was for the promotion of the booze sale. Around the ring were counters for selling booze. At the small tables sat audience drinking booze. Casey couldn't believe that there were so many people living on the outskirts gathering here to watch the boxing game. Obviously, lacking in more interesting entertainment, almost all the nearby young people came here for the boxing game.

He did what Freddie had told him and went to find the man in charge of the ring. He'd give the man the secret signals and the man would tell him how to pass the test to enter Guanling.

On his way he saw several tattooed strong guys drinking, among which stood Aarav.

Casey was surprised to find Aarav here in some unknown bar.

Aarav also found Casey and directly smashed his bottle of wine at the table. "Fuck! This son of the bitch made me lose my job. Dudes, let's take him down here and now!"

Aarav was too drunk to register Casey's secret identity. All he knew was that it was Casey who made him lose the job. Aarav must take the revenge today.

Aarav planned to find some hitmen in the bar to beat Casey up. Who could've ever thought that Casey found him first. The tattooed guys all stood up and glared at Casey.

Aarav smirked, "Listen, you're lucky to see the best boxing king here, whose nick name is Marshall. Today he'll show you what will happen to one if he makes others lose the job."

Casey furrowed his brows and shot the so-called boxing king with a hard look, saying coldly, "You'd better get the fucking out of my way and continue to enjoy your fucking alcohol. I'm not in the mood today.”