"I came across this particular brand when I was a child and fell in love with it ever since due to its rich flavor, but I never managed to taste it again ever since I was taken away to live in the countryside.

"However, even after I tried to track down this particular brand of oat milk again in the future, I couldn't find it anymore." Bonnie curled her lips into a self-deprecating smile. "After I inherited the Craig family fortune, I spent a lot of time and effort trying to track down the brand that made this oat milk, and finally, I managed to obtain the rights to the recipe and started manufacturing it myself."

She shrugged and added, "However, the company has been losing money over this product ever since it launched, and I guess it's because no one out there likes this flavor anymore.

"The biggest buyer of this particular product is the owner itself: me."

Then, she turned around and strode into the kitchen to clean up.

Jim narrowed his eyes as he watched her leave.

Chapter 2152

Harvey's entire body froze when he heard Jim's words. He glanced first at Jim, then at Bonnie, his gaze filled with doubt. "Are...are you joking, Daddy?"

Even though he was still a child, he was already six years old, so he understood many things going on around him, especially among the adults.

Therefore, he knew fully well that even though Jim had broken off his engagement with Charlotte, it did not mean he would get back together with Bonnie immediately. Harvey understood that there would be many challenges and hurdles before his father and mother would get together.

This was why he had told Jim to work harder to win his wife's heart back, but all of a sudden...Jim declared that he and Bonnie would get married in a week.

According to his tone and expression, he did not sound like he was joking.

Besides, whether it was before or after losing his memories, Jim had never been one to joke about something as sacred as marriage.

As soon as he thought of this, Harvey pursed his lips and
