

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2711

Chapter 2711 What Kate said was too absurd and way out of Gwen's imagination. At that moment, Gwen did not know how to respond to that. Wordless, she looked at Kate incredulously.

At first, the doctor thought Gwen only wanted to snatch Steven to be her boyfriend because he was a handsome-looking guy. It was unethical, but it was understandable because Steven's appearance and background were something all women desired.

As she listened in more, however, this was not the first time this woman tried to snatch someone else's boyfriend. Thus, the doctor sighed, took the consent letter Kate passed over, and looked at Gwen with disgust. "Young lady, you should show respect to yourself and others. It's not a good habit to snatch someone else's boyfriend. You'll receive karma for it in the future."

After saying that, the doctor went back into the emergency room.

Gwen bit her lip and looked at the doctor.

"Did you hear that?" Kate sneered and repeated the doctor's words once again when she saw how stupefied Gwen looked in the direction of the emergency room. Gwen came to her senses and looked at Kate. She curled up her lip and coldly retorted, "You should be the one hearing this."

Her eyes were cold when she looked at Kate. "Ms. Kate Miller, it's not a good habit to snatch someone else's boyfriend. You'll go to hell if you break a couple's relationship."

Kate narrowed her eyes, probably because she never expected Gwen to use the words from the doctor to fight back. As her gaze darkened, she scoffed, "What? Do you think I was the one who caused you and Luke to break up?"

She smirked. "Don't forget that in the very first place, Luke sacrificed his life to save you. It was always his intention to use his life in exchange for yours. Besides, he said if he's still alive, you'd be the talk of everyone because of him. If he's dead, then you'd be free. In addition, his heart could always be with you and never be separated."

She sneered, "Do you think that without the influence from the Hughes family and the Miller family, you and Luke can still be together now? Even without us, he and you will still be apart with one being dead and the other alive, so how dare you say we were the ones who broke you two? This is your fate and his!

"You're just saying we broke up the two of you because you're unsatisfied—bitter that Luke didn't die and become another person. You're unsatisfied that I can live happily ever after with Steven. You're jealous of me!"

Gwen laughed. She squinted her eyes and said indifferently, "You're right. I'm jealous. Do you have a problem with that?" As she said, she was jealous of Kate. She could not let go of Luke. Her heart throbbed painfully when she knew Luke's body was possessed by another person, and that person was in love with Kate, was going to marry Kate, and would have children with her.

Why? Was there anything wrong with her being jealous? She had already lost him. How could she possibly see his body being used by someone else and do the thing he was reluctant to do? "I'll find Luke," vowed Gwen coldly before leaving. Just after taking a few steps, she remembered something. Thus, she stopped walking and turned back around to look at the evidently surprised Kate.

"Kate, you said you love Steven. But if you really love him, you should at least take good care of him. At least..."

Her eyes turned in the direction of the emergency room. "At least, you should take care of him after he was hurt."

Kate's eyes flashed with coldness and crossed her arms at her chest. "You want me to take good care of him? Gwen, do you want to know how Steven got hurt?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2712

Chapter 2712 Gwen was startled. "How did he get hurt?"

"It's because of you." Kate sneered and looked at Gwen. The image of a vehemently determined Steven during the early morning in the Hughes family residence appeared in Kate's mind.

"If Gwen Larson came to look for me, then the very least I need to do is to meet with her and clear the air with her," was what he said.

At that time, Steven's father wanted to stop him from meeting with Gwen. He did not want Steven to be affiliated or had connections with the people Luke knew. Thus, he ordered the bodyguard to encircle him in the middle.

A bodyguard took out a military knife to threaten Steven, asking him to calm down and to not meet with Gwen. Kate knew it was wrong to use violence to stop Steven from meeting Gwen. Nonetheless, she would use that method too if she was Steven's father in that situation.

Steven had a phobia of knives, most likely due to the trauma he experienced when he was a kid. He had been scared of knives and similar sharp objects. To this extent, he did not dare to touch the knife that was identical to the custom-made military knife that Luke had. He just left it in a corner of the house.

Therefore, Steven's father thought it was the most efficient way to stop Steven. What he did not anticipate was that the new Steven was far from the gentle Steven from five years ago. He pushed away the people around him with great strength, and amid the struggle, the bodyguard accidentally stabbed him in the waist with the knife.

Steven's parents panicked and sent him back to his room while calling the family doctor to treat Steven's wound. In spite of that, Steven jumped out the window and escaped before the family doctor arrived.

The Hughes family went to look for Steven's whereabouts through the surveillance camera, but Steven eluded everyone effectively. After switching his body to Luke's, Steven's stamina and anti-reconnaissance capability were on a totally different level from the past. Fortunately, Kate had installed a tracking app on his phone when Steven found out she was following him. Otherwise, they would have had a hard time tracking him down.

Having thought of that, the way Kate looked at Gwen became more resentful. She knew the brainwashing and hypnotizing were not as successful as they thought.

The reaction Steven had when he saw Gwen was not right, and so were most of Steven's habits and alertness. Therefore, it was important to stop Steven from meeting Gwen. That was indeed why Kate would take the risk after arranging a truck to create an accident to kill Gwen when she found out the location where Steven asked to meet with Gwen. In her thought, Steven would return to normalcy as long as Gwen was dead.

All of the abnormalities that Steven had only appeared when he saw Gwen! "Because of me?" Gwen furrowed her brow, not understanding what Kate was implying. "But the doctor said the wound on his waist wasn't from recently."

She had only met Steven after Steven was in the accident. How was it possible she was related to Steven getting hurt? Kate sneered. She had no intention to tell Gwen that Steven was hurt during the fight when he wanted to see Gwen.

She curled up her lips and smiled. "Because..."

She stared at Gwen's face and talked indifferently, "Because I told you the only reason you were bothering him is that your boyfriend's organs were in his body. So..."

Kate lowered her voice and got close to Gwen's ear. Her voice sounded so low and eerie. "He loves me so much that he didn't want to have anything to do with you. He was afraid that I'm unhappy because of that. Because of that, he stabbed himself with the knife, thinking of taking away the organs and handing them to you, not wanting anything to do with you anymore. If I didn't stop him, he would've taken out Luke's organs one by one and returned them back to you!"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2713

Chapter 2713 The air in the hallway turned silent as Gwen looked at Kate with surprise. Her jaw hung widely, but not a peep came from her. She placed her arms beside her body and clenched them into fists, clenching and unclenching them repeatedly. Was that truly the reason why he hurt himself? Was he that ashamed and uncomfortable using Luke's body, so much so that he rather be dead and returned Luke's organs to her?

Kate felt satisfied with the expression on Gwen's face. She curled up her lips and looked at her plainly. "If you have any dissatisfaction, just come find me. I was the one who made the decision because I want to let my boyfriend live. Put your anger all on me if you are unhappy, but stop bugging Steven. He didn't want anything from Luke. I think "

She raised the corner of her lips. "You don't want to see Steven opening himself up and take out Luke's organs and throw them to your face too, right?"

It was truly a cruel thing to say.

Gwen bit her lip vehemently and squinted. After a while, she curled up her lip into a smile." Don't try to threaten me with this. Do you really think I'd be threatened by you after what you said? Your family and Steven's family had spent so much effort to take Luke's body to save Steven's life. I don't believe you'll easily let go and let him die.

"Even if you're willing, there's nothing I can let go of. I prefer to see Steven give back everything that was Luke's, and I'm also willing to give back the heart in my chest to Steven and reunite with Luke."

With that, Gwen sneered and left the emergency department.

Kate was rooted on the spot as she watched Gwen leave.

She bit her lip. At first, she thought her words would intimidate Gwen so badly that Gwen would no longer dare to take any action. She knew Gwen cared about Luke the most and that she would not be willing to see the last of Luke totally disappear from this world.

However...it did not occur to her that Gwen could have such a determined attitude.

Shortly after Gwen left, the door of the emergency room opened. Kate retrieved her emotions and squeezed a few drops of tears from the corner of her eyes.

She rushed into the emergency room anxiously. "Steven! Are you alright?" She ran and buried her face in the side of Steven's bed. "You had me worried sick. How did you get hurt?" she hoarsely questioned. "How did you get yourself into an accident? I heard your father telling me that you ran away from home. I was So scared!"

Steven smiled. He was quite touched by Kate's reaction, so he reached out his hand to touch Kate's head and looked at her face. "Where's Gwen?" Suddenly, the tears in Kate's eyes stopped rolling down. She bit her lip and looked at him with a blurred look. "Gwen? Is she here? I don't know either. It was just you in the emergency room when I came here."

Steven's eyes looked disappointed.

He remembered how Gwen was the one who pulled him out of the car after the accident, and she was the one who sent him to the hospital. Did she...leave right after she sent him here?

He was disappointed. Perhaps Gwen only cared about this body after all. Once she knew there was nothing serious with his body, she thought she could leave. As it turned out, he was not really that important to Gwen at all.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2714

Chapter 2714 "Steven, I know how much you wanted to look for Gwen to tell her everything," said Kate as she took a deep breath and stared at Steven spacing out. "But no matter what, you shouldn't harm yourself."

As she talked, she reached out to hold Steven's hand, and her eyes gleamed with worry. "Your mother called me this morning, telling me that you've gone mad, had hurt yourself, and ran away. Do you know how worried I was?"

She looked at him as a teardrop slipped from the corner of her eye. "After I told you everything about Gwen last night, I was so scared that you'd leave me, so I didn't sleep well. Then, I heard that you were hurt and ran away from your house early in the morning. Later, I received news that you were in an accident and were sent to the hospital.

"I was worried sick! Who knew the first thing you ask when you woke up was about Gwen..."

She wiped away her tears and asked, "Is Gwen more important than me in your heart?"

Steven felt distressed and uneasy because of Kate's words and tears. All the things he wanted to say got stuck in his throat. Finally, he sighed and held Kate's hand. "Kate, I'm sorry for making you worry about me."

Once Steven started to comfort her, Kate cried bitterly as tears came out of her eyes like an opened tap water. Helplessly, Steven quickly helped her to wipe the tears off her face. That caused Steven to accidentally pull the wound that the doctor had just stitched up for him. His face turned pale immediately as he groaned in pain. "Are you alright?" Kate stopped crying. She bit her lip and pressed down on his shoulder. "Don't move."

Steven was slightly touched by Kate's worried voice. After a while, he looked up and stared at Kate's face.

"Kate, let's break up."

He could no longer keep holding Kate anymore. After she told him about the connection between him and Luke, he thought deeply. He kept asking if he had any feelings for Kate and if he really loved her.

Until now...he only felt nervous and anxious in his heart when he saw Kate crying. He did not want her to cry, but not because he was worried or feeling heartbroken. Instead, he felt guilty and that she should have not cried because of him.

He knew very well that the feeling he had for her was not love. He did not love Kate. Thus, even when Kate did so much for him and he owed her a great deal, he just could not find it in him to be with her. He could not give her what she wanted. If they continued to be together, they would only dance around in torment. It would also give Kate the impression that they were both in love with each other. Maybe it would also cause Kate to miss out on her Mr. Right! "What did you say?" Kate could not believe what she heard. Her eyes widened as she looked at Steven shockingly. "Steven, Did I... Did I hear it wrongly?" she hesitated. "Or was I hallucinating? You..."

"You heard it right; you didn't hallucinate." Steven took a deep breath and looked up at Kate's face with a solemn expression. "I said, let's break up. I don't want to hold you up anymore and let you have the impression that we're both in love with each other. "You and Gwen are the same. The person you like is Luke, not me."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2715

Chapter 2715 Kate stared at Steven with a stupefied expression as she fell silent for a good while. Then, she bit her lip, and her voice sounded vague. "Steven, what nonsense are you talking about? I've always loved you. When did I -"

"Is that so?" interjected Steven, his voice cold. "Kate, before my coma, and even before I had the accident, you and I have never met. We were only bound by the marriage agreement. When I woke up, people told me you are my girlfriend, my fiancée, and that you'd done many things for me. While I was touched, I was surprised too. After all, I don't remember us knowing each other. More importantly, I don't remember any promises that we made before.

"The first time we met should be after I had my accident. You keep saying that you love me, but why do you do so? Because you had one look at me after I was in a vegetative state. Were you attracted to my body so much that you'd do anything to get me?"

"Maybe there is such a love in this world, but this is obviously not the case between you and me. Every time when you look at me, I feel that you're looking at another person. Your look tells me that it isn't me that you are looking at."

Kate bit her lip vehemently and shook her head. "No, that's not it."

She reached out her hand to grab Steven's hand, her voice quivering as she pleaded, "Steven, that's not it! I love you. It's you that I love! Why would I do all those things if I don't love you? If I loved Luke, why would I turn Luke into you? I can just give your heart to Gwen and be together with Luke, can I?"

"No, you can't." Steven looked at her with a pair of calm eyes. "Because Luke doesn't like you. You know that no matter what you do for Luke, he'd never like you. Just to own Luke, you turned him into me."

He looked up and smiled at Kate. "I was curious why I'd have weird dreams and weird scars on my body. I didn't understand why you insist on me taking the military knife I didn't like and also buying clothing in the style that I don't like.

"However, I finally understand now after knowing that I'm actually Luke. You like me because you think of me as a replacement."

For a moment, Kate was startled by Steven's sensitivity and calm voice. She had the impression that the person in front of her was Luke instead of Steven, too.

Steven had always been a pure young adult. By right, he should remain in the same condition he was five years ago. How did he suddenly become so mature and smart to the extent that he could find the most useful information from all of the evidence, analyzing Kate's real intention in turn?

Kate quivered. As it turned out, even after Luke's mind was replaced with Steven's mind, logic, and also memory, Luke was still Luke. He was still the smart and sensitive person Kate could not control.

He curled up his lips into a mocking smile as he somewhat saw through Kate's thoughts. "So, Kate, let's break up. I'll either repay you in cash or others for the things I owe you. A lot more than what I owe you. I won't let your sacrifice and effort for the last five years be for nothing, but forget about us being together as a couple."

Kate bit her lip silently. She looked up and asked, "Then, are you breaking up with me to go look for Gwen?"