The Policewoman Chapter 4

RING RING RING!

Suddenly, a sharp ringing of her mobile phone brought Tang Huimin back to reality.

The call was from Yan Zhengkuan, Deputy Director of the Municipal Public Security Bureau, asking her to rush to the bureau as soon as possible.

After hanging up the phone, Tang Huimin hurriedly changed into a police uniform and left her home, driving a police car to the Municipal Public Security Bureau.

It didn't take long for the Yanjing Municipal Public Security Bureau to arrive. As Tang Huimin walked through the corridor and walked quickly towards her office, from time to time, some police officers greeted her with.

"Team Tang, good morning to you."

"Team Tang, how are you."

"Sister Tang, you're so pretty today."

Tang Huimin responded enthusiastically as she walked.

She was in a particularly good mood, and what had just happened with Lin Kai at home reverberated from time to time. It was a bit unbelievable that she, who was strict in her style and cold on the outside but hot on the inside, should have had something like that with her late husband's young nephew.

It was the first time she had been so close to a man since her husband was killed in the line of duty, and she knew in her heart that Lin Kai bore a slight resemblance to her late husband, so she had a different kind of emotion.

Just then, Zhou Peng, a subordinate, greeted her quickly and said, "Team Tang, the chief is waiting for you in your office."

"Oh, I see," Tang Huimin slowed down, "By the way, Xiao Zhou, how is the task I gave you yesterday going?"

"Not much progress still checking!" Zhou Peng replied.

"Good, keep a close eye on it, and contact me in time if there are any new developments." Tang Huimin admonished.

"Yes, Team Tang." Zhou Peng nodded his head and left.

The leader Zhou Peng spoke of was Yan Zhengkuan, the deputy director of the Yanjing Public Security Bureau in charge of public security and criminal investigation.

This man was in his fifties, medium-sized, with a somewhat fat body. Although he took good care of Tang Huimin at work, she felt that this guy was not right-minded and had no good intentions towards him.

Tang Huimin pushed the door into her office and saw Bureau Yan sitting in front of her wide desk, contemplating.

“Bureau Yan, you’re here, you called me to come to the bureau, what do you want from me?” Tang Huimin walked quickly to her office and stood across the desk, asking nervously, “It’s not another call, is it?”

Yan Zhengkuan said with a smile on his face, “Yes, I’m here to call for orders, and it’s the same case.

Tang Huimin replied, “According to the investigation, the suspect Wang Jianqiang is a businessman, must be very shrewd, mainly because the victim molested his wife, only to vent his anger to kill, if this alone concludes that Wang Jianqiang is the murderer, this motive is not clear, can not be established, I think there must be something fishy... ..”

“I believe in your ability and the members of your criminal investigation team, I hope to solve the case as soon as possible, and report to me directly on any progress. If you have any difficulties, just mention them.”

“Thank you Yan Bureau, we will try our best,” Tang Huimin hesitated and said, “What we lack now is money, it takes funds to run the case, see if you can give us a solution.”

“Little Tang, you really know how to find the time to get stuck in oil,” Yan Zhengkuan looked at her and said, “No problem, you make a report first, I will solve it immediately, but”

“But what?” Tang Huimin asked, puzzled.

Yan Zhengkuan said with a cheerful bang, “As long as the murderer is brought to justice, I will be able to meet the request you made!”

“Sure, let’s make a deal!” Tang Huimin smiled charmingly.

“Okay, it’s a deal!” Deputy Director Yan nodded heavily.
