The Policewoman Chapter 41

With this thought in his mind, Lin Kai immediately walked up to Sun Li and asked in a cold voice.

“Are you Secretary Sun?”

“Yes, may I ask who you are?” Sun Li felt confused when she saw such a sunny and handsome boy in front of her, looking at herself with a cold gaze.

Lin Kai did not answer her words directly, but said in a deep voice, “Secretary Sun, there is a case that needs your assistance in our investigation.”

As he spoke, Lin Kai carefully observed the change in Sun Li’s expression.

“A case? What case?” Sun Li asked in surprise.

“Don’t ask so many questions first, just come with us and we’ll find out!” Just as Lin Kai finished his words, he threw a punch at Sun Li’s face.

When Sun Li saw Lin Kai’s fist coming towards her, she was dumbfounded for a moment, and then stared at him with wide eyes and a bewildered expression, without any sense of resistance at all.

When Lin Kai’s fist was less than 5cm from her face, he quickly withdrew his hand and raised his fist in the air.

“Ah!”

Only then did Sun Li react with a shriek, and then she put her own hands over her head and crouched on the ground, making a frightened face.

It turned out that Lin Kai was testing her.

If a person who practiced martial arts would naturally make an instinctive conditioned reflex when encountering an attack from an opponent, and Sun Li had no ability to resist at all.

From her very panicked facial expression, it didn’t look like she was faking it at all, which totally indicated that she didn’t know martial arts at all, and that the female flying thief wasn’t Sun Li at all.

“Secretary Sun, I’m sorry, I was just playing a joke with you,” Lin Kai apologised and hurriedly extended his hand, ready to help her up from the ground.

Sun Li heard that Lin Kai was joking with her, and only then did she stand up.

As she blocked Lin Kai’s hand away, she looked at him angrily and questioned loudly, “Sir, what do you mean by that? Why are you making such a joke with me?”

“Secretary Sun, I’m sorry, it was a complete misunderstanding just now” Lin Kai apologised.

“What misunderstanding?” Sun Li asked in disbelief.

“We detected from the chairman’s office that last night, after a burglar went upstairs and each killed and injured a security guard, the person who infiltrated the confidential room was a woman, and initially concluded that it was the person who was beside the chairman and most familiar with Song Dong, you, as the chairman's secretary, were the first to be suspected, therefore, I made a surprise attack on you to test you." Lin Kai replied truthfully.

Sun Li complained, "Even if you want to test me, you can't do it to me, it's weirdly scary now."

Liu Hao saw that Lin Kai had removed his suspicion of Sun Li and hurriedly stepped forward to defend him, "Secretary Sun, Mr. Lin did this for your own good."

"Why?" Sun Li asked curiously.

"It will remove everyone's suspicion of you and relieve you of the suspicion of committing the crime." Liu Hao said ingratiatingly.

Feeling that Liu Hao had a point, Sun Li said to Lin Kai, "Mr. Lin, I accept your apology, but I hope you can solve the case as soon as possible and uncover that dastardly thief"

"Don't worry, we'll do our best." Lin Kai smiled at Sun Li and said, "Secretary Sun, you go ahead and get busy, we won't bother you."

"Sir, don't be polite," Sun Li smiled at Lin Kai and said, "Mr. Lin, if there's anything I can help you with, please just ask!"

"Sure, I'll thank you in advance!" Lin Kai had a good feeling about the pretty woman in front of him and smiled at her before saying to Zhang Shuo, who was standing at the side, "Let's go!"

Zhang Shuo nodded and followed him out of the room.

After they had left, Sun Li enquired of Liu Hao, "Captain Liu, was it really a woman who killed and injured the security guard and stole the items from the chairman's office last night?"

"I think so, the instruments they brought with them were quite advanced." Liu Hao nodded his head and said.

"Then who do you think could be responsible for this incident?" Sun Li continued to ask testily.

"How do I know?" Liu Hao said helplessly, "If I knew, I would have led someone to arrest her and recover the stolen items, why would they need to suspect you?"

"Was Song Dong also on the 28th floor?" Sun Li asked again.

"Yes." Liu Hao answered truthfully.

"In that case, he was the one who sent someone to test me?" Sun Li raised her eyebrows.

"I suppose so!" Liu Hao said noncommittally.

"So, Song Dong doesn't trust me?" Sun Li asked in surprise.

"I'm not sure about this, but you're the one who usually goes closest to him, and it's normal for that female thief to suspect you since she's so familiar with the situation in the chairman's office." Liu Hao explained.

“Ai,” Sun Li sighed and said, “It seems that it’s really like accompanying a tiger with the king, I should be more careful in front of the chairman in the future.”

“Yes, yes, you should be more careful,” Liu Hao agreed and said, “Secretary Sun, you go ahead, I’m going upstairs, if he can’t find me later, they’ll still think I’m talking to you about something and tipped you off.”

“Okay, you go ahead!” Sun Li waved her hand at him.

“I usually do so many things for Song Mingyuan, and he actually doesn’t trust me?” After some trial and error and communication with Lin Kai, Sun Li felt a little depressed that she was being suspected and muttered to herself, “Which woman did it anyway? This woman is so abominable, killing and injuring people not to mention stealing things and making a scene that I am being suspected.”

“Just now Liu Hao mentioned to me the closest person around Song Dong, who else would it be but me?” Sun Li pondered darkly.

“Could it be her?”

Suddenly, Sun Li remembered someone, and her heart was a flutter.

.....

Elder Song was sitting on the sofa in the chairman’s office of the Mingyuan Group Company, and when he saw Lin Kai and Zhang Shuo return empty-handed, he asked eagerly.

“Why is it just the two of you, where are the people you were told to bring?”

“Master, I’m afraid we’ve misunderstood Secretary Sun,” Lin Kai replied truthfully, “I’ve just tested her and she doesn’t know any martial arts at all, let alone climbing up from downstairs, killing and injuring the security guard and stealing that laser piece.”

“Xiao Zhang, what do you think?” Elder Song shifted his gaze to Zhang Shuo.

“I think Captain Lin is right, judging from her performance and figure, it’s not even the same person as the person in black we saw on the satellite video footage.” Zhang Shuo replied.

Zhang Shuo accompanied me downstairs to catch Sun Li and was mainly responsible for identifying the person, his judgement was usually not wrong, and Elder Song had no doubt in his words.

“Mingyuan, recall carefully, apart from Secretary Sun, are there any other women around you who are familiar with your office?” Elder Song asked his son.

Song Mingyuan recalled carefully and shook his head helplessly.

Ta-da-da!

At this moment, a sound of high heels scraping against the floor came from the corridor of the office, followed by a woman’s voice coming from the doorway of the room.

“Chairman, I know who did this

The Policewoman Chapter 42

The people followed the voice and were all a little surprised to see Sun Li, who was dressed in a black professional suit and had a beautiful posture, standing at the entrance of the room.

Sun Li did not care about everyone's eyes, but after hurriedly walking into the office, she said, "Yesterday afternoon, Liu Tongshu came to the chairman's office, you can go and investigate her"

At these words, the crowd was greatly alarmed.

Once Song Mingyuan saw the sudden appearance of Sun Li, who had been suspected just a moment ago, and heard her mention her lover, he was in a bit of an unhappy mood, frowned a little and asked.

"Are you suspecting Liu Tongshu?"

"Chairman, I didn't mean to suspect her, I was just reminding everyone who had come to your office." Sun Li had just been inexplicably suspected by everyone and felt a little discontent in her heart, even though Song Mingyuan was the chairman of the board, she did not speak in a very friendly tone.

"How can that be?" Song Mingyuan said in a cold voice, "Last night, after I went home with Liu Tongshu, we had been together, she didn't have the time to commit the crime ah?"

The scene of last night appeared in Song Mingyuan's mind.

Daughter Song Lina and her lover Liu Tongshu had an argument, and when they saw their daughter making a show of being unforgiving, they counted her out.

Father and daughter also had an argument over Liu Tongshu.

When Song Linna returned to her room, he went into their bedroom with Liu Tongshu and after they had a bit of a cloudy night in bed, exhausted from each other, they cuddled up together and fell asleep.

This morning, when Song Mingyuan woke up with a start, Liu Tongshu was still asleep beside him, so where would she have had the motive and time to commit the crime?

In Song Mingyuan's mind, Liu Tongshu was a weak woman who did not know martial arts at all, so how could she be that flying female thief?

Thinking of this, Song Mingyuan immediately denied Sun Li's suspicion of Liu Tongshu.

"I think that any woman who has entered this office should be suspect!" Lin Kai had heard of Liu Tongshu from Song Lina's mouth and had little good feeling towards this woman, seeing that Song Mingyuan was defending his beloved, he said, "Dong Song, this matter is very simple, as long as we find a way to pull out the CCTV footage from your district last night, and see if your beloved went out, won't it be clear?"

"I think Lin Kai has a point," Elder Song took over and said, "In order to prevent us from suspecting Liu Tongshu, this is a good way."

Song Mingyuan had no choice but to reluctantly agree to this suggestion from Lin Kai.

After listening to the conversation between the few people at the entrance of the room, Liu Hao hurriedly walked in and asked Song Mingyuan, "Song Dong, do we need to bring our company's security guards there?"

"No need, there are many people talking," Song Mingyuan shook his head, "If Liu Tongshu knows that we are suspecting her, it will affect our relationship as a couple not to mention that it will cause a stir in the city."

"So am I still going with you guys?" Liu Hao asked tentatively.

"No," Song Mingyuan shook his head and said, "You lead the security personnel to protect the security of the Mingyuan Group office building, and I will inform you if anything happens."

"Okay, you guys are busy, I'm going down!" Liu Hao excused himself and left.

Lin Kai was afraid that word would leak out and wanted to leave Liu Hao behind, but Song Mingyuan had already given the word for him to leave and it was not good to stop him, but fearing that things would leak out, he hurriedly said.

"It's not too late, let's go to the district where Song Dong lives now and take a look."

"OK!"

Although Song Mingyuan was a hundred times reluctant in his heart, Lin Kai had already said it to this extent, so he was too embarrassed to refute it and could only nod his head in agreement.

So, Song Mingyuan led Elder Song, Lin Kai and Zhang Shuo to leave the Mingyuan Group Company together and take a car towards the Fragrant Hill Villa Community.

.....

That's right, the female flying thief who injured and strangled a security guard to death respectively and stole the laser piece was Liu Tongshu!

She was originally an undercover agent, codenamed "Mountain Eagle", arranged by Zhao Wenlong, the chairman of Dragon Python Group, to work beside Song Mingyuan. Zhao Wenlong sent her to get close to Song Mingyuan and lurk beside him in order to get to the laser piece.

Yesterday afternoon, Liu Tong Shu overheard at the door of the chairman's office that the laser tablet just developed by the Mingyuan Group was hidden in Song Mingyuan's safe, so she contacted Zhao Wen Long privately.

Zhao Wenlong instructed her to do it.

So, after lingering with Song Mingyuan at her home, she dropped a large amount of sleeping pills into Song Mingyuan's drink cup before he went to bed.

When Song Mingyuan finished his drink and was asleep, she left her home by climbing over the wall through the window and then, leaving the Fragrant Hill Villa area, headed for the Mingyuan Group of Companies.

When she climbed the wall and reached the 28th floor of the office building of the Mingyuan Group, she strangled a security guard and then injured another one, entered Song Mingyuan's office and stole the laser tablet.

After Liu Tongshu succeeded, he handed over the laser piece to the man Zhao Wenlong had sent to meet him in a green belt near the office building of the Mingyuan Group.

After returning home, Song Mingyuan was still asleep, so he went under the covers to give the illusion that he had never left home.

This morning, when Song Mingyuan woke up, he hurriedly left the house after receiving a call from Liu Hao, the head of security of the Mingyuan Group of Companies, who had learned that his office had been burgled.

Liu Tongshu hurriedly dressed and got up, opening the door to his room.

When she passed by Song Linna's bedroom door, she saw that it was closed and knew that she had gone to school, so she ran to the bathroom to wash her face, brush her teeth and urinate.

Afterwards, she sat down at the dressing table to freshen up, pretended that nothing had happened and went downstairs to the living room on the ground floor.

Nanny Xiaoqin greeted her warmly and said, "Auntie, I've already heated up the food, you can eat."

"Okay," Liu Tongshu looked at the food on the table, fished out two hundred yuan from her pocket and handed it to the nanny, saying, "Xiaoqin, go and buy some ribs, I want to have sweet and sour ribs for lunch."

"OK, I'll go now." The nanny nodded and took the money and left the house.

After Liu Tongshu had sent the nanny away, she saw that no one was around before she took out her mobile phone and dialed out a phone number.

The call was quickly answered, and Liu Tongshu deliberately asked over the phone, "Was the chairman's office of the Mingyuan Group Company burgled?"

"Yes, how did you know about it?" A man's voice came through the microphone.

"Just now, after receiving a phone call, my husband didn't even have time to eat breakfast before he hurriedly exited the door, I got it from him, " Liu Tongshu hurriedly explained.

The man replied, "Not only was Song Dong's office burglarized, a security guard was also strangled to death, and another security guard was seriously injured and sent to the hospital by us."

"Huh? Something like that could happen?" Liu Tongshu asked in mock surprise.

"Yes, that thief is too powerful, we have no clues at all now, and we still don't know what treasures have been stolen from Song Dong's office." The man complained.

"Well, I know," Liu Tongshu paused for a moment and instructed the man, "How about this, you keep a close eye on the company for me, if anything happens, tell me in time, you have to listen to me"

“Okay,” the man said curtly, “I am all yours, of course I listen to you in everything, how can I not listen to what you tell me?”

“Greasy, nasty!” Liu Tongshu pouted and hurriedly hung up the phone.

.....

After breakfast, Liu Tongshu was a bit panicked, always feeling that something was going on, so she sat bored in the living room of her house watching TV.

The first thing that happened was that the phone rang.

Suddenly, an ear-splitting mobile phone rang.

Liu Tongshu was startled and picked up the phone to see a familiar name and mobile phone number displayed on it, so she hurriedly picked up the phone.

When she picked it up, a man’s voice came from inside: “It’s not good, you are suspected, they are preparing to rush to your home and go ahead to catch you

The Policewoman Chapter 43

“Huh?” Liu Tongshu was shocked and deliberately asked, “What exactly happened?”

“Last night, the security guard was killed and the theft from Chairman Song’s office was suspected to be your doing,” the man said anxiously.

Feeling that things were not good, Liu Tongshu asked, “Where are you now?”

“I just left the company and am heading towards the villa you purchased in the suburbs, we’ll talk about the specific matter when we meet, you hurry up or else it will be too late.” The man urged.

“Okay, I’ll come over right away!” Liu Tongshu hurriedly stood up from the sofa, rushed upstairs, ran into her room, and left the house after packing her important items into a suitcase.

After walking into the garage, she drove her white BMW towards the outside of the neighbourhood.

After killing the company’s security guard and stealing the laser film, Liu Tongshu knew she would have this day, but she never thought that it would be so soon.

If she hadn’t used her beauty to drag the man into the water and he tipped her off, she still wouldn’t have known that things would fall apart.

For fear of being captured by the cameras on the street and finding the route of this BMW of hers, and finding her private purchase of that villa in the suburbs to come, Liu Tong Shu drove the BMW to the busiest downtown in one breath, parked it in a car park and took a taxi to the villa.

The taxi raced around the busy street several times before arriving in the suburbs and pulling up in front of the community where Liu Tong Shu had purchased the villa.

After paying the fare, she walked into the neighbourhood and arrived at the door of her villa. When she opened the door with the key, she saw that the man she had spoken to on the phone was already sitting on the sofa in the living room.

So she dodged into the house and closed the door behind her with her backhand.

“Honey, you’re back?” As soon as he saw Liu Tongshu, Liu Hao stood up from the sofa and pounced towards her, sweeping her into his arms.

“Dead man, what are you doing in such a hurry?” Liu Tongshu hurriedly broke away from his embrace and asked, “Tell me, what is going on here?”

“You answer me first, what happened last night, was it you who did it?” Liu Hao asked with a serious face.

Liu Tongshu replied noncommittally, “So what if it was, so what if it wasn’t?”

“Huh? It’s really you?” Liu Hao looked at Liu Tongshu with a pair of critical eyes and said, “I really can’t tell, you’re so skilled, you can climb up such a high floor!”

“There are still more things you can’t see!” Liu Tongshu glanced at Liu Hao and asked, “Tell me, how did they know so quickly that I did that thing?”

“The thing is like this

In one breath, Liu Hao invited Song Mingyuan to bring in Lin Kai and Zhang Shuo, and used special instruments to detect the footprints Liu Tongshu left at the crime scene, as well as the video footage detected by military satellites to confirm that a woman did it, and then through some probing of Sun Li, the chairman’s secretary, Sun Li spilled her suspicions about Liu Tongshu.

After hearing Liu Hao’s account, Liu Tongshu was shocked.

“Honey, thank you... I have to thank you so much!” Liu Tongshu said and threw herself into Liu Hao’s arms.

Peach-coloured lipstick was imprinted on Liu Hao’s hot cheeks, his palms could not resist rubbing her body and breasts, her arms hooked around his neck, and the torrent of passion had slowly overwhelmed the two of them.

Liu Hao picked Liu Tongshu up and walked step by step into the bedroom, lowering her onto the bed, the clean white sheets instantly wrinkled from their passion.

.....

Song Mingyuan treated Liu Hao, the head of the security team, as his own beloved, and was a hundred percent assured of him, therefore, Liu Hao often went in and out of Song Mingyuan’s house.

As Song Mingyuan was busy with his work, Liu Hao often accompanied Liu Tongshu on the street to buy things in his capacity as a security team leader, and in the long run, they became acquainted with each other.

Liu Tong Shu saw that Liu Hao was physically fit and talented, so she had long been attracted to him, and on a romantic night, she offered herself to him.

The two of them often hang out together, and for fear of being discovered, Liu Tong Shu simply bought the villa with the money she asked for from Song Mingyuan on various excuses.

From then on, the two of them often fooled around in the villa.

When they entered and left the neighbourhood, they always held hands and appeared to be very much in love, so that no one could see any flaw at all. In the eyes of outsiders, they were more like a legal couple.

.....

A Mercedes bullet-proof car and a military jeep pulled into the neighborhood where Song Mingyuan's house was located, one after the other, and then pulled up at the entrance of the gatehouse.

Song Mingyuan led Elder Song, Lin Kai and Zhang Shuo into the doorman's room together.

"Song Dong, is there something wrong?" The gatekeeper seemed to be familiar with Song Mingyuan and greeted him warmly.

Song Mingyuan pointed at Lin Kai and the others and introduced them, "These are comrades from the State Security Bureau, and they are here to investigate a case in our community."

"A case? What case?" The gatekeeper asked in confusion.

"You don't need to know that much about this," Lin Kai said as he took out his ID from his pocket and handed it to the gatekeeper, "You just need to pull out the CCTV footage from the neighbourhood last night and we'll take a look at it."

"Okay." After reading the documents, the door guard returned them to Lin Kai's hand and said, "Please follow me!"

The gate guard led them to the district surveillance room.

He asked a security guard sitting in front of a computer wearing a community security uniform to say, "You can pull up the CCTV footage from last night so that a few of you can take a look."

The security guard skillfully operated the keyboard a few times, but found that last night's CCTV footage was a snowflake, feeling a bit puzzled, and said in a panic.

"What's going on, why is the CCTV footage from last night gone?"

It turned out that last night, Liu Tongshu had gone to the Mingyuan Group of Companies to steal the laser piece and handed it over to the two men Zhao Wenlong had sent to meet her, and then turned back to the district.

Fearing that the incident would be exposed, she sneaked to the entrance of the district's surveillance room and saw the security guard on duty sleeping in front of the computer, dodged into the room and secretly destroyed the surveillance screen.

"I guess it was sabotaged," Lin Kai understood at once and said to Song Mingyuan, "Come, let's go to your house first and see if Madam Song is home?"

Song Mingyuan nodded and led us out of the surveillance room.

After getting in the car, the driver drove along the district road and drove the car to the entrance of his house.

After the group got out of the car, Song Mingyuan used the key to open the door to his own house.

“Liu Tongshu, Liu Tongshu” Song Mingyuan shouted a few times, but no one in the villa answered, and hurried up the stairs towards their bedroom.

When he opened the bedroom door, he found that the wardrobe in the room was open, and when he went up to take a look, Liu Tongshu’s clothes were gone, and a black pair of underwear had fallen on the floor.

When Lin Kai rushed into the bedroom after Song Mingyuan, he saw the seductive black lingerie, and his mind immediately recalled the time he had stolen his sister-in-law’s black lingerie and black bra and was caught by her.

In order to hide his panic, Lin Kai asked in a panic.

“Song Dong, what’s the situation?”

“She’s not at home and the clothes have been packed away,” Song Mingyuan said with a dejected look on his face, “It seems that the incident was really her doing”

“You should call her quickly and see where she really is?” Lin Kai said to Song Mingyuan and said to Zhang Shuo who was following him, “Hurry up and turn on the satellite positioning system to see where she really is?”

Song Mingyuan took out his mobile phone and called up Liu Tongshu’s number to dial out

The Policewoman Chapter 44

“Sorry, the user you have called is temporarily unavailable, please dial again later” came the soft announcing voice of the computer operator on the phone.

It seemed that the woman had taken the phone card out of the phone and thrown it away, and the fact that she couldn’t be found at all was enough to show that the laser piece had been stolen by her.

To confirm his judgement, Lin Kai asked Zhang Shuo to get the detector out and probe in this bedroom. When Zhang Shuo used the detector to probe in the room, he found a pair of footprints left on the windowsill.

When the computer was opened for verification and analysis, it was found that the pair of footprints matched exactly those found in Song Mingyuan’s chairman’s office.

Thus, it could be concluded that Liu Tongshu was the female flying thief who killed one security guard, injured another and stole the laser chip.

“I’m usually so nice to her, how could she do this to me?” Only then did Song Mingyuan wake up and hung his head in anger.

He had never thought that Liu Tongshu was actually the female flying thief lurking around him, but he himself was in the dark. He really regretted that he had not listened to his daughter last night, so that Liu Tongshu had sneaked out to steal his things while he was asleep.

Suddenly, he remembered that last night, after making out with Liu Tongshu, he drank that drink, which made him realise that Liu Tongshu had tampered with his drink.

“No wonder, I slept so hard and when I woke up, I found her sleeping beside me.” Thinking of this, Song Mingyuan gritted his teeth and said, “After I catch this woman, I will definitely cut her into pieces!”

“Ming Yuan, at this time, you must not get excited,” Elder Song said with relief when he went upstairs and entered Song Mingyuan’s bedroom, seeing his look of rage, “Think about it, where would Liu Tongshu go?”

Song Mingyuan considered for a moment and said, “I’m busy with work all day, I don’t really know how she usually passes her time, where would she go?”

“Last night, after you guys went home, what did Liu Tongshu do?” Lin Kai asked.

“She argued with Lina, and Lina even told me not to trust Liu Tongshu, or else I would fall into her hands sooner or later, and because of this, I even gave Lina a lecture, saying that she didn’t know how to be polite.” Song Mingyuan reported truthfully to his father.

“Is it possible that Song Lina knows something about Liu Tongshu?” Lin Kai asked eagerly.

“I’m not sure about that, Lina didn’t say, and I didn’t ask.” Song Mingyuan shook his head blankly.

Remembering that he had once been kidnapped by the bald man and others in front of Yanjing University, Lin Kai asked worriedly, “Since Liu Tongshu’s identity has been exposed, do you think that she will make a move on Song Lina?”

“What are you saying? Liu Tongshu will make a move on my daughter?” Song Mingyuan was shocked, looking at the time, it was already time for school to end and still no sign of his daughter, he hurriedly took out his phone and dialed Song Lina’s mobile phone.

“Sorry, the mobile phone you have dialed is switched off, please dial again later!” The same nice announcing voice of the operator came from the phone.

.....

After a burst of hearty passion, Liu Tongshu snuggled into Liu Hao’s arms like a bird and said softly.

“Honey, there is one thing that I have been relieved about.”

“What is it?” Liu Hao hurriedly asked.

Liu Tongshu replied, “Last night, Song Linna and I had a fight, and although she didn’t say it explicitly, I can guess that she has already found out about us being together, and now that my identity is exposed, once she tells the truth about what happened between us, you will definitely be involved.”

“Huh? How could this happen?” Liu Hao hurriedly pushed Liu Tongshu away from his arms and asked eagerly, “Then what do you say, what should we do now?”

Liu Tongshu suggested, "In that case, we might as well make the first move and trick that dead girl Song Lina into coming here, what do you think?"

"How can we trick her into coming here?" Liu Hao asked worriedly.

"Idiot," Liu Tongshu reminded, "Do you need me to teach you this little thing?"

"Hey," Liu Hao gave a naive laugh and said, "I know what to do!"

.....

RING RING RING!

Song Lina had just finished her class and was about to drive home when a pleasant ringtone rang in her schoolbag.

He pulled it out and saw that it was an unfamiliar phone number, so he picked up the phone.

"Are you Missy?" A man's eager voice came from the phone.

"Who are you?" Song Lina asked in return.

The other party replied, "Missy, I'm Liu Hao, the security chief of the Mingyuan Group Company, Master Song has fallen seriously ill and is being rescued in the hospital, Dong Song asked me to come and pick you up at the school gate!"

"Ah? My grandfather is seriously ill, which hospital is he in for resuscitation?" Song Linna asked eagerly.

Liu Hao said eagerly, "I'm not too sure, the chairman only told me to drive over and pick you up at the entrance of Yanjing University to take you to the military sanatorium."

"Okay, I'll go there right away!" Song Lina was so concerned about Elder Song's condition that she didn't even think about it that much, not bothering to drive her Ferrari sports car, she hurried to the entrance of the university.

A black Audi sedan slowly drove by and pulled up in front of Song Linna.

Liu Hao opened the door, stuck his head out and shouted to Song Linna.

"Missy, get in!"

Song Linna quickly pulled open the door, got into the sedan, sat on her butt in the passenger seat of the car and asked Liu Hao who was sitting in the back seat.

"Captain Liu, what kind of illness did my grandfather have?"

"Not quite sure, we'll know when we get to the military sanatorium." Liu Hao said without showing his face.

The driver quickly drove the car away from the entrance of Yanjing University.

It was during the rush hour when there was more traffic on the street and it seemed rather crowded, and the driver drove the Audi for a long time before it went through the city.

Feeling that something was wrong, Song Linna glanced at the driver driving the car and asked in a panic: "Master, this is not the way to the military sanatorium, right? Where are you taking me?"

Liu Hao hurriedly answered for the driver, "Miss, as you can see, there is a lot of traffic in the city, so I had to ask the driver to take a detour."

"You lie," Song Lina felt bad and said to the driver in a panic, "Master, quickly stop, I want to get off"

"Don't scream," Liu Hao changed his obsequious face in front of Song Lina and said sternly, "If you scream again, we'll throw you out of the car!"

Song Lina's heart tightened and she asked, "What are you doing? Where the hell do you want me to go?"

"To tell you the truth, your grandfather wasn't sick at all, and your father didn't send me over to pick you up, it was your stepmother Liu Tongshu who wanted us to take you to her." Liu Hao sneered.

"Why isn't she at home when she sees me, and why did she call me here?" Song Lina asked in a panic.

"Haha," Liu Hao laughed and said, "She said that she couldn't communicate with you at home and could only find a quiet place to have a good chat with you!"

"Huh?" Song Lina asked in surprise, "So the two of you have been together for a long time?"

"Yes. Unfortunately, it's too late for you to know now," Liu Hao said smugly, "I advise you to behave and listen to us, otherwise, you will be in a lot of pain."

Knowing that she and Liu Tongshu could not but shine, and that if they fell into the hands of this pair of dogs, they would surely only die, Song Lina reached out her hand, pulled open the car door, and prepared to jump out of the car.

The Policewoman Chapter 45

Liu Hao reached out and held her in place and put a towel with a pungent smell over her mouth and nose.

Unsuspecting, Song Lina's eyes widened in horror and she inhaled violently, the strong smell of medicine invading her body smoothly.

Her consciousness immediately blurred, everything in front of her eyes began to float like water ripples, the sound of Liu Hao's smug laughter ringing in her ears also seemed to fade away and disappear, while she herself was all of a sudden completely devoid of strength and slowly went limp on the car seat

When she woke up, Song Lina found herself in an unfamiliar room, her limbs tied to a wooden stool and a towel stuffed in her mouth.

On the opposite side of a leather sofa sat a woman.

This woman was Liu Tongshu, who could be seen holding a lady's cigarette in her mouth, crossing her legs and exhaling a large amount of smoke.

Liu Hao was standing beside her.

“My good daughter, you’re awake?” Liu Tongshu looked at her with a sneer on her face and said, “Last night, when you scolded people, weren’t you very feisty? How come you’ve become like this all of a sudden?”

As Song Linna’s mouth was gagged with a towel, she could only open her eyes wide and struggle continuously, making a “woo-woo” sound from her mouth.

Liu Tongshu instructed Liu Hao, “Honey, go and pull the towel off her mouth, I want to hear what our little princess wants to say.”

Liu Hao walked over to Song Linna and pulled the towel out of her mouth.

Only then did Song Linna let out a long breath and looked angrily at Liu Tongshu, saying in a stern voice, “Liu Tongshu, why did you kidnap me? What the hell do you want?”

“Good daughter, take it easy,” Liu Tongshu said shamelessly, “Since we have lived together for so long, we are still a family, don’t you think so?”

“Since we are family, why did you tie me up to come here?” Song Lina questioned.

“I did it because I wanted to have a good talk with you, didn’t I?” Liu Tongshu said without smugness, “Don’t forget, we haven’t talked like this when we were at home!”

“What do you want to talk about?” Song Lina forced down the anger in her heart.

“I had commiserated in front of you and suffered all your insults, and I asked you to come here only to make you return the words you had scolded me.” Liu Tongshu said smugly.

“Liu Tongshu, you shameless woman, you will not be allowed to die for good if you treat me like this!” Upon hearing Liu Tongshu’s words, Song Lina finally snapped.

“How can I die so easily, I still want to live a long life,” Liu Tongshu said with a smile, “Even if I want to die, I still want to use you as a cushion, don’t you think so?”

Song Lina cursed angrily, “Liu Tongshu, you vixen, you pair of dogs, even if I die, I won’t let you go even as a ghost

“Look, how foul this little girl’s mouth stinks and how hard she curses,” Liu Tongshu looked at Liu Hao sideways and said, “Honey, it’s better to gag her, I don’t want to hear it.”

Liu Hao nodded and walked forward again, using a towel to gag Song Linna’s mouth.

.....

Night falls.

Liu Tongshu and Liu Hao sat across a rectangular solid wood coffee table, facing each other on a pair of soft sofas in a bedroom on the first floor.

On the coffee table, there were two tall glasses with two glasses of Lan Gui Ren white wine poured into them. This wine was Liu Tongshu's favourite and she would usually drink a glass of it beautifully when she had nothing else to do.

After the two clinked glasses and finished their glasses of wine, Liu Tongshu asked worriedly, "Darling, how did you bring Song Linna into our neighbourhood?"

"I brought her in by car, didn't I?" Liu Hao answered truthfully.

"What kind of car?" Liu Tongshu asked.

"It's our company's Audi." Liu Hao replied.

"How could you be so careless as to bring her in with your company's car, weren't you afraid that the CCTV cameras on the street and in the district would film this car of yours and let them trace it here?" Liu Tongshu asked in amazement.

"Don't worry, they won't be able to find this place." Liu Hao said smugly.

"Why?" Liu Tongshu asked, staring straight at him in disbelief.

"Because, after we drove the car to a secluded place, we put up a set license plate number, there are so many Audi cars in Yanjing city, can they find this place if my license plate number is changed?" Liu Hao said with a smile on his face.

"Oh, so it's like that," Liu Tongshu then relaxed slightly and reminded, "Even so, we still need to be careful"

"Then what do you think we should do?" Liu Hao remembered how Zhang Shuo had used advanced instruments to quickly find out that the perpetrator was a woman, and was also a little worried.

"I think we should get Song Linna into our room, only when she is in our hands will our safety be guaranteed," Liu Tong Shu said hatefully, "Ever since I married Song Mingyuan and lived in their house, Song Linna has been working against me, I have hated her for a long time, this time when she falls into our hands, I will not let her off easily"

Said Liu Tongshu attached to Liu Hao's ear and said.

After hearing this, Liu Hao was shocked and said, "How can this work? If this matter is known by Song Mingyuan, it's strange that he won't break my body into pieces!"

"With me around, what are you afraid of?" Liu Tongshu said in a soft voice, "Besides, I agree with you doing this, I'm fine with it, what else do you have to worry about?"

"Then okay!" Liu Hao hesitantly stood up and walked into the room where Song Lina was being held.

Song Linna's limbs were still tied to a stool, and her mouth was gagged with a towel. As soon as she saw Liu Hao enter the room, she struggled desperately, and her mouth let out a "whimpering" sound.

"Miss, don't be afraid, it will be fine in a moment!" Liu Hao went up and ripped the towel out of her mouth and said with a bad smile on his face.

“Liu Hao, my father hasn’t treated you badly, he treats you like a member of his family, why are you hanging out with that stinking woman Liu Tongshu and collaborating to harm me?” Song Lina asked as she let out a breath of air.

“Your father usually treats me like a slave, shouting at me, and I’ve had enough of that for a long time,” Liu Hao said with a bad smile, “Don’t you usually boss me around too? I brought you here today because I want to taste what it’s like to be a thousand-year-old lady like you?”

With that, he moved his hand to tear the clothes that Song Lina was wearing on her body.

“Ah! No, let go! Ah!” Song Lina never expected that this guy who usually whispered in front of her would treat her like this, and with a look of shock on her face, she fought to struggle.

Ugh!

In her desperation, Song Linna spat fiercely at Liu Hao’s face.

Liu Hao wiped the spittle off his face with his hand and was furious, raising his hand to slap Song Linna.

Slap!

With a crunching sound, a slap hit Song Linna’s face hard, causing her to feel dizzy and her struggle weakened at once.

Slap! Slap! Slap!

Three claps later, Liu Tongshu pushed open the door to the room and walked in from outside with a smug look on her face.

The Policewoman Chapter 46

Liu Tongshu closed the door of the room with her backhand and came to Song Lina, smiling, “My good daughter, I didn’t expect you to fall into our hands and have this day’s end, did you?”

“Liu Tongshu, you vixen, you stinking woman, you will not be allowed to die for good if you treat me like this!” Song Lina looked at Liu Tongshu angrily and cursed in a stern voice.

“I originally wanted Liu Hao to treat you gently, but I didn’t expect that you would be so insensitive, so don’t blame me for being a heartless stepmother,” Liu Tongshu said loudly to Liu Hao with some annoyance, “Liu Hao, what are you still standing there for, why don’t you do it now?”

Liu Hao once again picked up the towel that had fallen on the floor and gagged Song Linna, then, using his hands to tear the clothes she was wearing, he stroked over her body.

Song Lina felt like she had a fly in her mouth, feeling a wave of nausea and wanting to vomit, but with her limbs bound and a towel stuffed in her mouth, she could only open her eyes wide and struggle desperately.

.....

Brush! Brush!

In the night, two dark shadows tumbled over the villa's fence like lightning, making no sound as they landed gently like feathers.

When they passed through the green belt of the district and groped along the wall to the door of Liu Tong Shu's villa, one of them took out a special tool and gently opened the door with a "click".

"Who is it?" The driver who had been arranged by Liu Hao to stand guard at the entrance of the room suddenly let out a shriek, and just as the words left his mouth, a flying knife with a cold light went straight to his throat.

Pfft!

With a muffled sound, the driver's body fell heavily to the ground.

"No good, someone's there!" Liu Hao's ears were very sharp, and when he heard the sound, he hurriedly stopped his aggression against Song Lina, and exclaimed like an enemy.

"Didn't you say that no one could find this place? What's going on here?" Liu Tongshu complained.

"I I don't know," Liu Hao said in a panic, "What should we do now?"

"What are you panicking about?" Liu Tongshu saw Liu Hao looking flustered, gave him a fierce glare and said to Song Linna, who was tied to the stool, "Your friend seems to have come to your rescue, which is bad and we don't like it, but please don't worry, as long as you are honest and obey us, we won't hurt you... .."

With that, he pushed Song Lina behind the curtain and hid with Liu Hao in a hidden corner.

Liu Tongshu knew clearly in his heart that since someone had felt their way into this villa, it meant that their whereabouts had been exposed and they must have been surrounded by people.

If they jumped out of the window, they would definitely be caught by the other side, so it would be better to hide in the room and use Song Linna as a shield to resist, and there might be a chance of survival.

The two people who felt their way into the villa were Lin Kai and Zhang Shuo.

It turns out that Elder Song was simply furious after learning that the laser piece was stolen by his daughter-in-law Liu Tongshu and that his granddaughter had been kidnapped by his daughter-in-law.

He used military satellites through the Ministry of Military Affairs and made several attempts to target the place

Although Lin Kai and Zhang Shuo made extremely little noise when they opened the door and felt their way into the room, they were still spotted by the driver standing on the first floor and let out a shout.

Lin Kai casually threw the flying dagger in his hand and took care of the guy in one go.

After the two of them felt their way upstairs together, they were not stopped in any way and immediately realised that Song Lina might have been kidnapped into this room where someone was standing guard.

“Let’s split up, you go to the next room and see if Song Linna was kidnapped there by them?” Lin Kai instructed to Zhang Shuo.

Zhang Shuo nodded and rushed to the door of the next room with ghostly speed.

Bump!

With a kick, he kicked the door of the room open and rolled on the ground.

Bang!

Liu Tong Shu raised his gun and aimed it at Lin Kai’s eyebrow.

This shot was just a finishing touch, if Lin Kai hadn’t moved fast enough, he would have been killed.

Bang!

The bullet would have caught his right chest if he had moved to the left to avoid it.

It seemed that Liu Tongshu and Liu Hao had a good understanding of each other.

Lin Kai did not dare to be rash and leaned back a hundred and eighty degrees to dodge the two bullets, then stood up from the ground like a non-invertible man, then ran towards the position of the two men with a ghostly speed in an S-shaped pace.

Liu Hao finished shooting and saw Lin Kai fall to the ground in response, thinking that they had gotten away so easily, and was gloating when he suddenly saw a black shadow had arrived in front of them.

Liu Hao raised his gun and was about to fire a second shot when his pistol was kicked away by Lin Kai and his wrist, which was holding the gun, was caught in a deadly grip.

Click!

With a crunching sound the arm was broken and the back of his neck was chopped off by his palm, he fell straight to the ground, unable to move at all, and then passed out.

“Don’t move, put the gun down, or I’ll kill her!” Liu Tongshu saw Liu Hao miss and then hid behind the curtain, holding the gun against Song Lina’s head and uncovering the curtain.

Seeing that Song Lina’s limbs were bound and a towel was gagged in her mouth, Lin Kai was afraid that Liu Tong Shu might hurt her, and no longer dared to make any rash moves.

When Song Lina saw Lin Kai, her eyes were full of joy and filled with tears, but she could only make whimpering sounds as her mouth was gagged.

“Fine, fine, I’ll put the gun down,” Lin Kai saw the begging eyes of Song Lina, threw the pistol to the ground, looked at Liu Tongshu and said, “Please don’t make things difficult for her, let her go

As he spoke, Lin Kai already had a short knife in his hand, ready to use the flying knife technique that his instructor Zhang Tianhu had handed down to him to excel at in the special forces.

“Let go?” Liu Tongshu laughed coldly, “Young man, that’s too easy for you to say, isn’t it? We have worked hard to bring Song Linna here, and to release her on your word, do you think that’s possible?”

“Then what do you want?” Lin Kai snorted coldly.

“It’s simple, move out of the way and let me take Song Lina to another place.” Liu Tongshu knew that he was no match for Lin Kai and could only use the hostages as cover to escape from here.

“It’s fine to let you leave here, but you have to guarantee Song Lina’s safety.” Lin Kai hesitated for a moment and said.

Liu Tongshu nodded and said, “Don’t worry, she’s Song Mingyuan’s daughter and I’m her stepmother, I won’t do anything to her.”

“Alright then, I’ll trust you just this once, you take Song Lina and go!” Lin Kai automatically flashed his body to the side and made way, ready to let them walk out of this room.

“This isn’t like a hero saving a beautiful woman, this is clearly a negotiation!” As soon as Song Lina heard the conversation between the two, her gaze dimmed.

She knew that if she was taken to another place by Liu Tongshu, this bad woman would definitely not let her go, cursing Lin Kai for being a coward who had thought she had been saved, but had left her with a

The Policewoman Chapter 47

Liu Tongshu saw that Lin Kai did not have a gun in his hand and gave way to her, and momentarily let his guard down.

The moment she moved her gun from Song Linna’s head and was about to aim it at Lin Kai, Lin Kai raised his hand and the short knife in his hand flew out.

As if it had eyes, the flying knife plunged directly into her wrist.

Clang!

There was a crunching sound and the pistol landed on the ground.

Lin Kai’s body scurried in front of Song Linna and Liu Tongshu like lightning, grabbed her injured arm and pulled it forward with all his strength.

Liu Tongshu then moved some distance away from Song Linna.

Lin Kai then threw her down heavily onto the floor with another over-the-shoulder slam.

Then, leaping up in the air, he stomped on her head and asked in a stern voice: “Tell me, who sent you here? Where did you put that laser piece?”

“Kill me, I won’t tell!” Liu Tongshu opened her mouth and gritted her teeth, ready to shut it.

“No good!” Lin Kai knew that this woman wanted to kill herself, and exclaimed in shock, lifting his foot towards her mouth, ready to kick her unconscious before he did so.

Poof!

There was a muffled sound.

Liu Tongshu then fainted and tilted her head to the side.

Despite this, there was still some blood seeping out of the corner of her mouth, not knowing whether it was caused by Lin Kai's kick or by her gritting her teeth.

Lin Kai put a hand on her nose and found that there was still air, and then said to Zhang Shuo, who had rushed in from outside.

"This woman is very important to us, only she knows the whereabouts of that laser piece, get her to the hospital and save her no matter what."

Zhang Shuo immediately picked Liu Tongshu up from the floor, rushed out of the room and down the stairs.

.....

Lin Kai ran forward and hurriedly ripped the towel that was stuffed in Song Linna's mouth and asked with concern, "Song Linna, what's wrong with you, are you alright?"

"Oooh", Song Lina cried out in agitation.

Tick tock, tick tock

Lin Kai was about to reach out to untie the rope tied around Song Linna's body when a slight sound came out from Song Linna's body.

Lin Kai keenly smelled an aura of danger and ran his hand over Song Linna's body, only to discover that she had a time bomb strapped to her.

.....

Liu Tongshu was a spy carefully trained by Zhao Wenlong, she was extremely good at lightning and had good hands, but compared to today's Lin Kai, she was a far cry.

As a result, Lin Kai subdued her without much effort.

However, spies have no feelings, and Liu Tongshu was no exception. Even if Song Lina was a nice girl like a flower and her own stepmother, she would not show any mercy and would not be merciless.

As a spy, while killing people, there was always the possibility of being killed, and in order to complete their mission, they had put their own lives and deaths at risk.

Seeing that Lin Kai had taken care of the driver and Liu Hao outside, Liu Tongshu could smell a breath of death, and if she was going to die, she would have to take someone on her back, so she would die together.

So, she strapped a time bomb to Song Linna's body for five minutes.

If she could leave the building with the hostage in five minutes, drive the Audi that Liu Hao had parked downstairs and leave at terminal speed, there was still a chance of escape, but she herself had been exposed, and even if she escaped, she would be removed by Master Long or sent to kill her.

Of course, they could not easily reveal the identity of Zhao Wenlong as the real boss of the Black Dragon Gang, and again, they would rather take the medicine and kill themselves than be caught and subjected to a brutal interrogation.

Lin Kai gently untied the ropes around Song Lina's body and lifted up her clothes to find that the time bomb had less than a minute left before it exploded.

Luckily, when he was training in the Special Forces, defusing time bombs was a compulsory lesson for them, and he was so nimble and clean that he finished off Liu Hao and Liu Tong Shu at the door in a few minutes' time, otherwise, Song Lina would have been blown to bloody bits and fragrant death.

"Song Linna, are you afraid?" Lin Kai asked with concern.

"I am afraid,," Song Lina's face showed a frightened look.

"Am I still scared with you?" Lin Kai said jokingly.

"Afraid,,"

"Why?"

"I'm afraid we'll get blown up together." Song Linna had a panicked look on her face, fearing that the bomb was about to explode, it was already this time, Lin Kai still had the heart to joke about it, making Song Linna cry and laugh.

"Don't worry, you won't die, and neither will I." Lin Kai said comfortingly.

It was less than ten seconds before the bomb exploded before Lin Kai fished a sharp short knife out of his pocket and cut a power cable, defusing it without much effort.

Lin Kai looked relieved, while Song Lina broke out in a cold sweat.

"Lin Kai, I thought I'd never see you again, oooh,," As the danger passed, Song Lina threw herself into Lin Kai's arms and sobbed softly.

.....

Zhang Shuo carried Liu Tongshu downstairs to the living room and was ready to go out when a noisy footsteps came from outside the door.

Song Mingyuan barged in through the door with several bodyguards and members of the special forces, and seeing Liu Tongshu's mouth stained with blood, asked urgently.

"What happened to her?"

Even though Liu Tongshu had betrayed him, the couple had been kind for a hundred days, Song Mingyuan still had feelings for her and was a little distressed at the sight of her in such a state.

"She's probably poisoned, I'm sending her to the hospital now." Zhang Shuo answered truthfully.

When Liu Tongshu heard Song Mingyuan's voice, she suddenly opened her eyes, opened her mouth wide and said, dying.

“I I can’t, put me down, I want to talk to my husband”

Zhang Shuo looked at Song Mingyuan with a solicitous gaze, Song Mingyuan took Liu Tongshu from Zhang Shuo’s arms, carried her into his arms, and sat down on the sofa in the living room.

Seeing Liu Tongshu’s face turning blue and her lips turning purple, Elder Song knew that she would not last long and that even if she was taken to the hospital, it would not help.

So, he hurriedly waved his hand to the bodyguards and team members behind him, signalling for everyone to leave Song Mingyuan and Liu Tongshu some distance away, so that they could say their final goodbyes.

“Tong Shu, are you trying to tell me that the laser piece was stolen by you and where you put it?” Song Mingyuan said anxiously.

“I’m sorry, it’s my fault, I’m sorry for not doing my duty as a wife, but I can’t tell you” said Liu Tongshu, who was dying.

“Tong Shu, it’s me who’s sorry, it’s me who doesn’t have time to spend with you properly,” Song Mingyuan apologized to Liu Tongshu and said, “You also know that I’m a workaholic and that laser piece is as important as my life, if you don’t tell me, I’ll hate you for the rest of my life”

“Okay well, I I’ll tell you, that that laser piece has been sent out of town... ..” Liu Tongshu seemed to be moved by Song Mingyuan’s words and said with all the strength she could muster.

At this moment, from her mouth and nostrils, crimson blood emerged.

“And then?” Song Mingyuan asked after her.

“Since Free Island Island” Liu Tongshu had just finished these words, she hung her head and gulped.

The Policewoman Chapter 48

“Tong Shu, what’s wrong with you, wake up, wake up” Song Mingyuan hugged her, desperately shaking her body and calling out her name.

However, Liu Tongshu had already gone to another world and could no longer hear his voice.

Song Mingyuan’s mind recalled Liu Tongshu’s appearance on the first day he met her when she applied for a job at the company, remembering the romantic times they had spent together and the vows they had made under the moon and flowers.

Unexpectedly, Liu Tongshu was actually an undercover agent hiding beside himself, betraying himself and fooling around with the security chief, not to mention stealing the laser LCD piece that the company had just developed.

However, somehow, he could not hate this woman at all now.

He knew that even when a person is about to die, his words are good, and Song Mingyuan knew that Liu Tongshu would not lie to him at this time.

As long as he followed this clue provided by Liu Tongshu just now and followed the trail, he would definitely find the laser piece and successfully take it back from others.

“Before she died, what did she say?” Elder Song asked when he saw his son holding his daughter-in-law’s corpse and acting like he was grief-stricken.

“She said that the laser piece had been sent out of town, and at the end, she somehow uttered the words ‘Liberty Island’,” Song Mingyuan said in grief.

“Huh? Liberty Island?” Elder Song frowned for a moment and couldn’t help but boo backwards.

“Lina, Lina!” Song Mingyuan suddenly remembered his daughter, and as soon as he threw Liu Tongshu’s corpse onto the sofa, he hurriedly turned around and rushed down the stairs towards the upper floors.

.....

A rush of footsteps reached the doorway of the room where Song Lina was being held.

“No good, there’s someone!” Lin Kai didn’t know if it was an enemy or a friend, and hurriedly pulled Song Linna behind the door to hide.

There was a crash!

A group of people rushed into the room from outside.

At the head of the group were Song Mingyuan, Zhang Shuo and several special forces soldiers dressed in camouflage uniforms and loaded with guns.

“Dad,”

Song Lina’s eyes became a little moist when she looked at her father who was breathing heavily, his face covered with beads of sweat, and he ran out from behind the door at once and jumped into Song Mingyuan’s arms.

“I’m glad it’s okay, I’m glad it’s okay!” Song Mingyuan ran over and hugged his baby daughter, gently patting her back and comforting her.

“Dad, where’s that vixen Liu Tongshu?” Song Lina asked hurriedly.

“She, she died,” Song Mingyuan’s expression was a little sad, his mood very complicated.

Song Linina had advised him many times not to trust Liu Tongshu too much, but he just didn’t listen, so much so that the laser piece in the company was stolen by her, not to mention that it almost got his daughter killed.

If his precious daughter Song Linna was really killed by Liu Tongshu, he really did not know what he would do, and he did not know how he would explain to Elder Song.

“Ah? She died so quickly?” Song Lina opened her eyes wide and dropped her gaze to Liu Hao who was lying on the ground after being knocked unconscious by Lin Kai and said, “Dad, just now, if Lin Kai hadn’t arrived in time to save me, I would have been spoiled by this white-eyed wolf,”

“Huh?”

When Song Mingyuan heard that his most trusted Liu Hao had taken away his woman, not to mention that he was ready to defile his daughter, he was furious and let go of Song Lina and went up and kicked Liu Hao who was lying on the ground like a dead dog, unconscious.

“Ah!”

Liu Hao was awakened by his kick and stood up from the ground as if he had been electrocuted. Seeing Song Mingyuan looking at him in anger, his knees went weak and he fell to the ground.

“Song Dong, I’m sorry, I failed your trust in me, I was forced by Liu Tongshu, I had no choice, please forgive me ……” Liu Hao pleaded to Song Mingyuan.

“Put your damned bullshit!” Song Mingyuan raised his foot and kicked towards him.

“Song Dong, wait a moment, let me ask him.” Lin Kai pulled Song Mingyuan away and grabbed Liu Hao’s collar as he asked, “Where did you and Liu Tongshu put that laser piece?”

“I …… I don’t know ……” Liu Hao shook his head desperately and said, “After I learned from you guys that Liu Tongshu was the one who stole the LCD piece Then I secretly called her to inform her, she told me to come here and wait for her, and asked me to go to the entrance of Yanjing University to trick Song Lina into coming here ……”

POW! Slap!

Lin Kai slapped Liu Hao with two big mouths in a row and asked in a stern voice, “Tell me honestly, do you know where Liu Tongshu hid that laser piece?”

Lin Kai hit Liu Hao so hard that he was dizzy and his face was swollen like a pig’s face, he stammered and said.

“I …… I really don’t know ……”

“Then let me ask you, who owns this house?” Lin Kai continued to ask.

“It …… was bought by Liu Tong Shu, we often date here ……” Liu Hao answered truthfully.

Song Lina remembered the pain she suffered when she got into Liu Hao’s car in front of the school and Liu Hao tied her up in this room after charming her with wet wipes in the car, and lifted her foot and kicked Liu Hao’s crotch.

“Ouch!”

Liu Hao let out a miserable cry before curling up into a ball as Lin Kai lifted his entire body like he was grabbing a chicken and threw it to the floor.

“Lina, what’s wrong with you? Is everything alright?” Elder Song shouted as he came upstairs.

As soon as Song Lina saw her grandfather, she was heartbroken and threw herself into his arms, sobbing.

“Grandpa, it was all planned by that vixen Liu Tongshu, if you guys had come one step later, you wouldn’t have been able to see your granddaughter, whoops ……”

“Lina, don’t cry,” Elder Song was heartbroken to see his granddaughter’s pearly face, and stroked his hand through her hair in relief, “Liu Tongshu is dead, it’s all over!”

“This woman deserves to die,” Song Linna then dropped her gaze to her father Song Mingyuan and said in a cold voice, “Dad, I warned you a long time ago that Liu Tongshu, that vixen, was not right at heart and told you to stay away from her, but you just didn’t listen, you didn’t turn back until you hit the south wall, now it seems that I was right, right?”

Song Mingyuan looked embarrassed, not knowing how to reply.

Seeing that the family seemed to have something to talk about, Lin Kai said to the few members of the team who had accompanied Song Mingyuan upstairs and were dressed in camouflage uniforms.

“You guys arrest this man first and bring him back to the base for further interrogation!”

Upon receiving the order, the two team members immediately went up and dragged Liu Hao out of the room as if he was a dead dog.

“Old Master, I guess this guy doesn’t even know the whereabouts of that laser piece, let’s search the room first and see if we can find it.” Lin Kai asked Elder Song for instructions.

“Searching is the way to go, but I guess we won’t be able to find it!” Elder Song shook his head blankly and said, “Before Liu Tongshu died, he said that the laser piece had been sent to Liberty Island. As far as I know, that island is a military base of the Japanese invasion country, surrounded by the sea on all sides and heavily guarded by soldiers. It would be a problem.”

The Policewoman Chapter 49

Liberty Island is not only a military and scientific base for the Japanese state, it is also a ‘devil’s training camp’ for top assassins, bodyguards and spies.

It is a place where people are afraid to talk about.

According to incomplete statistics, 30% of the world’s assassins, 20% of the world’s secret agents, and 10% of the world’s rich and powerful bodyguards come from here, and according to the animal world’s principle of “survival of the fittest, elimination of the unfit”, the survival rate is only about 10%.

After being captured on Liberty Island, Tang Hui Min was forced to fight to the death against the other girls to survive.

She was put into a narrow house with four high and low bunks, where seven other girls of similar age lived in addition to her.

Every morning before dawn they were rudely awakened and scrambled to wash up.

After eating, it was time to start the busy day.

Just after dawn, they and more girls gather on the front lawn of the cottage.

Everyone stood in several lines according to height, under the direction of a few men, and kept marching in a straight line, turning forward, left or right, with the slightest mistake being met with a whipping.

Thanks to her previous rigorous training in the police force, Tang Huimin rarely had to be whipped, but the other sisters were miserable and had to fight back tears to keep up with the line.

The training lasted for a long time and was not over until sunrise.

After a meal and a rest, they have to go through a hard physical training session.

Some of them dance, some swim, some train on machines in the gym, and sometimes they have to do several exercises in one afternoon.

Most of the time, Tang Hui Min joins some of the taller girls in splits, kicks and some rehearsals for dance combinations. The intensity is not too high, but the slightest mistake results in fisticuffs and a lot of physical and mental exhaustion.

Tang Hui Min's dance training takes place in a round house by the pool. The house is round in appearance but rectangular in shape inside. It is not small in size and can accommodate 20 to 30 people dancing at the same time, and is luxuriously decorated with all the lights and sound, more like a stage for performances.

After the day's training, Tang Hui Min and the other girls came down to the public bathrooms on the ground floor to take a shower.

Unlike other public bathrooms, there was no bath or shower head, except for the roof, which was a smooth floor. When more people came in, it started to rain above.

The shower was full of men and women, but the number of people was fixed, usually with one person going out and another coming in.

The canteen is large enough for hundreds of people to eat at the same time, and the food is good and varied, lined up against the wall, so you can pick and choose.

After dinner, there was still no rest, as Tang Hui Min and some of the new girls had to go to the third floor for cultural studies, all of which were related to men and women.

Not only did the teacher speak vividly, but also, the trainees were constantly asked to do practical exercises on the spot.

During the lessons, no one dares not pay attention.

Questions and practical exercises were often asked and any hesitation or hesitation out of shame was punishable by a kneeling penalty or a beating.

At the very first class, Tang Huimin was punished by kneeling on the floor and listening to the lesson because she was ashamed and neglected to ask the teacher questions.

Every day was much the same, week in and week out, with the slight difference that as the days stretched on, the time spent on parade drills began to decrease, while the dancing became longer, more complex and more standardised.

To Vivian Tang, the choreography of the dance plot resembles an ancient mythological tale from a legend.

Of course, both training and study take place without clothes, and indeed, since entering the island, wearing clothes has been a long time coming for Tang Huimin.

She, like the others, had grown accustomed to being unclothed and doing everything like a savage, with the direct sunlight, the gentle breeze of the sea, the caress of the turquoise water and the gaze of strange men.

Having been specially trained before she was taken to the island, she had more self-control than the other sisters and was better at defending herself, so much so that she never showed her desire to escape from the island and acted as an absolute submissive, much to the liking of the men on the island.

Among these men on Liberty Island, apart from some of the staff and doctors, most of them were soldiers of the Japanese nation, and the warship docked on the shore with the Japanese national flag was provided exclusively for them, to serve them.

Liberty Island appears to be free on the surface, and it is possible to reach any place on this isolated island, except for a small white building at the back of the hill, which you cannot enter.

Because, all the people living there are weapons experts, researching advanced technology and equipment from countries all over the world based on the information and samples they have gathered, the place is heavily guarded, manned by loaded military personnel, and no one is allowed in or out except for a special pass.

The owner of Liberty Island is named Smith, a middle-aged man with blond hair and blue eyes, a senior general of the Japanese nation and the supreme commander here.

When Tang Huimin had just been sent to the island and Scarface was conditioning her and the sisters who were with her, Smith spotted her on a screen in a surveillance centre and took a liking to her.

So after she had been starved of training and put through a life and death ordeal, Smith began to give her a special makeover in preparation for turning her into his woman.

Thanks to Smith's special care, Tang Hui Min was not spoiled by the men on the island like the other girls, even though she wore no clothes during her training and the men could only stare in disbelief.

.....

That night, Smith brought Vivian into his room and, while smoking a cigar, solemnly announced to her.

"Darling, I'm going to marry you!"

"What do you mean? You're going to marry me? You really want to marry me?" Although somewhat reluctantly, Tang Hui Min put on a very excited face.

Because, she knew that only by becoming Mrs. Smith could she escape from the island and be reunited with her family, and during these six months on the island, she thought of Lin Kai and her son all the time.

"Yes, I'm going to make you the happiest woman on Liberty Island!" Smith said seriously.

Tang Hui Min smiled charmingly, "I am very honoured to be your wife, it came so suddenly that I was not prepared, will you allow me to share this joy for two more days?"

Despite being a former iceberg beauty, Vivian Tang put on a glowing, springy face to please Smith.

"There's no need to share, we're having our wedding tomorrow, and we'll share it together afterwards!" Smith said in a non-negotiable tone.

"But,," said Vivian Tang, still trying to excuse herself from something.

Suddenly, Smith puffed a puff of smoke at her.

She felt an intense sensation of comfort spread throughout her body and was completely intoxicated, losing herself completely and falling into Smith's arms.

The Policewoman Chapter 50

When I woke up, it was already sunrise.

"Today is my big day, how could I have overslept?" Tang Hui Min felt a little chagrined as she remembered Smith's talk last night about having her wedding with her today.

She hurriedly got out of bed to go to the toilet, and when she washed up, she realised that she was sleeping in Smith's home.

She slowly recalled that last night Smith had told her that he would be welcoming her in the Chinese wedding custom, and therefore the itinerary for the mention was

They decided to skip the wedding ceremony, and Tang's "family" would go straight to the ceremony hall, while she would stay at Smith's house to get dressed and then go with him.

As soon as she opened the door to her room and was ready to go out, the make-up artist and a group of people who had been waiting outside swarmed around her and pushed her back into her room.

They all worked together to fix her hair and put on her make-up.

After a few shades of rouge and powder, Tang Hui Min, who was already naturally beautiful, shone brightly enough to turn people's heads, and after everyone had admired and praised her beauty, they began to put on her bridal gown.

Her gown was simple and elegant: a white strapless bodice with a floor-length skirt of tulle with a silk underlay, embellished with a few simple patterns of floating flowers.

When she had finished dressing, the crowd was silent, and no one made any more guttural compliments, for, of all people present, they were stunned by her beauty.

At that moment, Smith, a tall blonde man, also suited and booted, walked in with a large belly.

"OH MYGOD!" Smith looked so satisfied to see how Vivian Tang looked that he couldn't help but shout out.

He asked Vivian Tang to step into her high heels before she joined him in the limousine, which was followed by dozens of cars that circled around Liberty Island in a grand manner, and the motorcade pulled into the entrance of a large auditorium on the island and stopped.

After getting out of the car, Tang Huimin took Smith's hand and, surrounded by the crowd, slowly walked into the auditorium.

In addition to the "friends and relatives" of both parties, there were also some of the island's military officers and dignitaries from the surrounding islands and the Japanese kingdoms who had come to attend the wedding.

In this way, Smith's status and position was fully demonstrated.

Tang Hui Min had no intention of climbing up the ladder, she only hoped that one of these people would recognise her and spot something unusual, come forward and get her out.

However, what she wanted more than anything else was to meet the familiar face of her young nephew, Lin Kai.

The wedding ceremony began at 12.08pm.

The officiant announced that representatives from both sides of the family and friends and the witnesses would come on stage to make speeches.

The officiant was a middle-aged man with an oriental face, handsome in appearance, a well-fitted suit that made him look spirited, and speaking fluent Mandarin.

Tang Hui Min had never seen it before, and this guy did not seem to be from Liberty Island.

It looked like Smith had gone to some trouble to welcome his bride with Eastern etiquette and had specially invited him from China, from somewhere else, presumably a friend of Smith's.

Next, the MC asked Smith, "Mr Smith, do you take Ms Tang to be your wife? Do you willing that in good times and bad, in wealth and in poverty, in health and in sickness, in happiness and in sorrow, you will love her unreservedly and be faithful to her forever?"

"Willingly!" Smith said with an earnest nod as he gazed fondly at Vivian Tang.

"Do you, Mrs. Tang, take this man before you to be your lawful wedded husband and wife , in sickness and in health. Poor or rich, young and beautiful or old looking, are you always willing to be with him, to love each other, to cling to each other, to be with each other for the rest of your life, and never to leave him, do you so wish?"

"Willingly willingly" Although Tang Hui Min was very reluctant in her heart, she still followed the host and repeatedly recited these two words over and over again.

At this moment, the image of herself and Lin Kai walking into the wedding hall flashed in her mind.

In a trance, the man in front of her was not Smith, but Lin Kai. So, under the guidance of the officiant, Tang Hui Min took the initiative to exchange rings with Smith.

Smith smiled with satisfaction and said, "Darling, you know what? I love seeing this happy look on your face after you put on the ring."

"Groomsmen, you may kiss the bride." The celebrant announced loudly.

This meant the wedding was complete and Smith lifted up Vivian Tang's veil and kissed her passionately.

Finally, the wedding came to a successful conclusion in a grand atmosphere.

Smith and Vivian then went from table to table to toast their "friends and family".

As it was the wedding day of Smith, the highest officer on Liberty Island, the entire island staff, as well as the officers and men on the patrol ship with the Japanese flag, were given the day off, except for a dozen soldiers who stayed on the ship.

On Liberty Island, there were lights and decorations everywhere, and it was full of festivity.

To add to the grand atmosphere, a large wedding party was held at 8pm in a large auditorium on Liberty Island.

So it was not long before Vivian Tang returned to Smith's house to rest and hastily remove her bridal gown again to prepare for the evening party.

This time there was no make-up artist, she did everything herself, a compulsory part of her training on the island.

After putting on her make-up, to Tang's amazement, she made herself look more delicate and bright than she had ever done in her bridal make-up in the morning.

At 8pm, the auditorium was lit up.

Smooth marble floors, toughened glass walls, crystal glass ceiling lights and seven-coloured lights shone brightly, while soothing and pleasant music echoed through the hall.

Wave after wave of cadres, officers, soldiers and guests poured into the auditorium, the whole hall accommodating four to five hundred people.

Most of the men and women were in pairs, the men in suits, all courteous, the women in a variety of evening gowns, all elegant in their manners.

When Smith and Vivian Tang appeared in pairs at the reception, they were immediately applauded by the audience.

Smith looked very mature, handsome and dapper in his designer suit, always smiling and looking very gentlemanly.

The red "Sirte" evening gown brought out a proud figure and an elegant, charming face.

A rectangular glass coffee table, decorated with flowers and candlelight, was set up with a variety of food, wine, champagne and drinks, while ladies in form-fitting cheongsams held trays of drinks and weaved in and out of guests.

The most beautiful bride of the evening, Vivian Tang was naturally the star of the show, holding a goblet with red wine in her hand and holding Smith's hand as she toasted the guests one by one.

All the guests were impressed by Vivian's gorgeous face and figure, as well as her elegant mannerisms and appropriate manners.

Gradually, the lights in the auditorium suddenly dimmed and the sound of soothing music echoed through the room.

A waiter dressed in red and wearing a white hat pushed a trolley through the door and the crowd automatically parted to stand in two rows as the trolley slowly approached towards Vivian Tang.

The candles on the cake emitted a soft glow, illuminating the beautiful, pretty face of Vivian Tang.

A reserved smile was on her face, and a red evening gown set off her figure in a subtle, bumpy and sexy way.

.....

Suddenly, a bolt of lightning pierced the vast expanse of space.

Boom!

After a loud bang, another bolt of lightning streaked through, illuminating the darkness and reflecting the ghastly whiteness of the surrounding area.

Rumble!

Thunder rumbled and a torrential downpour poured down.

Several dark shadows appeared like ghosts on Liberty Island amidst the curtain of rain, the sound of jumbled footsteps, hidden in the dripping rain, like waves buried in the sea.
