

PRETENDING TO BE POOR

Chapter 25

It amazed Rachel.

He put one hand on the steering wheel and leaned slightly to look at her. "You don't like it?"

"No... Shawn, is this pink diamond? Or is it fake?"

In her opinion, it was fake.

For Shawn, even if he sold himself, he might not be able to afford it.

Shawn answered in a low voice.

"Yes."

Rachel smiled and knew it was fake.

However, it didn't matter. She put on her ring finger and arched her eyebrow slightly.

"Does it look good?"

Shawn's deep eyes moved over the ring and her fingers.

"Pretty good."

Rachel was satisfied. "Now we don't need to buy the ring. Shall we go home?"

Shawn didn't start the car immediately. He just stared at Rachel.

"You don't care if it's fake?"

Rachel chuckled. "What does it matter? The ring is a symbol, regardless of its price. I'm married. That's the point. By the way, I have to buy it for you. You're my husband. Let's go to the mall."

Shawn's thin lips curled slightly before he started the car.

Rachel finally chose a simple gold ring for Shawn. It was only a circle without any embellishment. In her opinion, it made the fingers look more beautiful for a man with slender fingers.

Walking out of the store, Shawn habitually walked in front of her, the power vibe attracting the attention of girls.

The simple suit outlined his tall figure.

Rachel staggered behind him. When she noticed the gaze from the girls around her on Shawn, she quickly took a step forward and clutched Shawn's arm. She held his hands tightly and smiled at him affectionately.

Shawn paused, but Rachel asked as if nothing had happened, "Since we're out, let's find a place to have dinner."

Being in a good mood, after dinner, Rachel even took Shawn to the top floor to watch a romantic film.

They sat in the cinema and watched the love scene between the hero and heroine, which was greeted with loud boos from the audience.

Rachel moved a little to hide her awkwardness, but then she was immediately held unexpectedly.

The burning palm was pressed against hers. Rachel froze and turned to look at Shawn who watched the sex scene expressionless.

In the dark, Rachel suddenly put her hand over Shawn's eyes.

"Don't look at other women's bodies."

Shawn beamed with delight. Rachel felt his eyelashes tremble under her palm, but he did not take away her hand.

She didn't let go until the sex scene was over.

After the movie, when they walked out together, the couple beside them were discussing the body of the heroine.

"Jane is famous for her sexy figure. Her boyfriend is so lucky."

It seemed that the girl didn't mind discussing another woman's figure with her boyfriend.

That boy immediately showed his attitude. "We're looking at acting skills, not the figure. As a movie queen, she is outstanding at acting skill."

"Acting skills? I don't think so. Rumors have it that she has a sponsor. As soon as she debuts, she has all kinds of resources and the other major stars are peripheral in front of her. No one knows who her sponsor is."

“Who cares? Which entertainment industry sponsor?”

When Rachel came out of the shower, Shawn was already lying on the bed naked.

It took time for Rachel to get used to Shawn's naked sleep.

As soon as she got into bed, Shawn pulled her into his arms and kissed her. It was clear what he wanted to do. While having sex she suddenly seized a chance to ask.

“Do you like Jane's figure?”

Shawn leaned on Rachel, with his lips on her chest. He paused and said coldly.

not

“I haven't experienced it, and I'm interested.”

As he spoke, he continued.

Rachel had no time to think if the man on her was really not interested, or because he had not personally had it. She quickly immersed herself in the wild passion from Shawn.

Over the weekend, Rachel went to a law firm and met a lawyer.

It was for her lawsuit with her uncle. The office introduced her to a famous lawyer from Y City, who showed interest in Rachel's lawsuit.

Rachel was really surprised the moment she saw Ian, the famous lawyer, who was promising and handsome. She was flattered for such an outstanding man to take her case.

Rachel and Ian talked about the details of the case. In this regard, Ian gave Rachel great confidence.

“Miss Waldow, don't worry. With me, the case won't lose.”

Rachel appreciated, “Thank you.”

“You're welcome. I won't let you down.”

After the talk, Rachel was about to leave, but Ian had other questions to ask.

“Miss Waldow, I have a private question. Are you married?”

Rachel was surprised, and she nodded,

“That's right. Don't be surprised. As a lawyer, I only give basic advice. Of course, for free, When you get married, a prenuptial agreement is necessary. Since you're married, let your husband promise you.”

Rachel's mouth quirked up.

Ian smiled. "Don't be surprised. I'm always concerned about my client."

"Uh... Thank you. We've signed a prenuptial agreement."

"Oh? That's good. It will protect the interests of both of you."

"I understand."

After that, Rachel left the law firm.

As soon as she left, Ian called.

"Mr. Saffo, Miss Waldow just left. If I hadn't been curious about this Miss Waldow in Steve's mouth, I wouldn't have taken such a small case." But you're actually cheating on her. If you go to court in the future, do you think I'm going to help you embarrass the innocent girl, or do you think I have a conscience and help Miss Waldow? After all, you know my rules. I will always do my best to help my client, hahaha..."

Ian teased.

Shawn snorted coldly.

"Cheating?"

"Mr. Saffo, if you get a divorce in the future, Miss Waldow will sue you. Of course, you don't have to resort to any means. She might really be able to find a way to get half of your property. Most importantly, an excellent lawyer like me can still help her."

"Do you have nothing else to do?"

"Yes, I was taking time off, and only took Miss Waldow's case. It was too easy. Mr. Saffo, I was thinking... Beep, beep, beep.."

Ian kept rambling. He was indeed a lawyer.

Of course, Shawn ruthlessly hung up the phone.

This kind of situation had happened before.

Ian was a little sad. He came back from a vacation abroad for Mr. Saffo, Mr. Saffo didn't care about Ian at all.

But Ian still called Steve and chatted with him about what he hadn't finished.

On the way home, Rachel received a call from Molly.

Speaking of Ian, Molly almost screamed.

However, she quickly realized it.

“Is Ian the one I know you’re talking about?” He was a legend among lawyers. He had never lost, and he could turn the tide facing the thorny issues. The point was that he was very handsome. Oh my god, I couldn’t help but feel excited when I thought of him. But if he was my idol, he wouldn’t have gone to Q City to take your small case. Even I can win your case...”

“I don’t know if he’s your idol or not. He’s young and handsome, and from Y City.”

“I’ll send you a photo.”

After checking the photo, she replied to Molly, “It’s him.”

“Damn it, Rachel, I can’t believe that. How come he comes to help you?”

achel was speechless.

Molly couldn’t help screaming.

“I have to go to Q City and meet my idol. What kind of magic do you have to get him over?”

Rachel chuckled, got out of the car, and walked slowly upstairs. When she entered the house, she was still talking to Molly, “Maybe, I’m lucky, right? I’m on a lucky streak since I got married.”

“I’m not very comfortable with so much PDA. I know you’re in love now. I’m warning you not to be blinded by love. Never love a man more than you love yourself.”

Rachel just curled her lips.

She had never been in love before. Now, only when she fell in love with someone did she realize that she was the kind of person who would pour her heart out to the one she loved. She used to hate that kind of woman, but now she felt that she couldn’t help it.

But she enjoyed it!
