

Priceless Baby 1141

Chapter 1141: Worried For Her

Xu Xiyan cried out to her mother as she looked at Jing Ruyue lying unconscious on the bed.

"Time's up! Hurry up and leave!" Mo Xie scolded, unable to stand the crying from Xu Xiyan.

"Why did you lock my mother here?" Xu Xiyan turned to Mo Xie and scolded. "You said you love her, but you still keep her locked in this place with no daylight! Do you even know that a human's body will shrink if they lie down for too long? She needs fresh air and sunlight! This is not love, it's torture!"

"If you keep locking her in here, she'll just grow weak, and no doctor in this world can save her!" Xu Xiyan continued. "Why don't you just kill her instead! Is this the love you meant? Don't you think you're too selfish?"

Xu Xiyan had no idea where she got the courage to stand up to the master of the castle, but she knew that Mo Xie was way crueler than Mo Yutian.

She wanted to save her mother, and she could not remain quiet any longer.

Mo Xie could feel the temperature dropping after Xu Xiyan screamed at him.

It had been too long since people showed emotion to him.

He wondered...when was the last time he was screamed at like she had just screamed at him?

The people who dared to do that were already dead.

The girl right in front of him was just the same as Jing Ruyue when she was still young.

Both of them would rather walk through hell than staying by his side.

They had the same stubbornness, the same personality.

"Do you even know what you're talking about?" Mo Xie asked in a dangerous tone.

"I'm sorry, father," Mo Yutian quickly apologized in Xu Xiyan's place, worried that he might retaliate.

"She's just too excited to be able to see her mother."

But Xu Xiyan was not even afraid of the man who looked like a vampire.

"You're a coward, just like a rat living in the sewers!" Xu Xiyan scolded again after she stood up. "You don't even dare to open the curtains and look at the outside world! That's how tainted your heart is! You are not fit for my mother, not even fit to fight to get her! You're a coward and a weakling! My mum will never fall for you even if she wakes up!"

"Stop it!" Mo Yutian whispered to her as he pulled her to his side.

Xu Xiyan did not continue, but she still stared at Mo Xie angrily, out of breath.

Surprisingly, Mo Xie did not even have the intention to punish her, and Mo Xie himself was even puzzled by his decision. He wondered if it was because Xu Xiyan had the same eyes as her mother.

"I'll give both of you one minute to get out of this place!" Mo Xie shouted.

"Then we'll leave now," Mo Yutian said and quickly dragged Xu Xiyan out from the castle.

Chapter 1142: Less Scary Than He Thought

Xu Xiyan was reluctant. She wanted to stay with her mother for longer. But Mo Yutian pulled her out.

When they left, Mo Xie turned from the crystal bed, stared at the heavy curtains for a while then pulled them open.

In a flash.

Mo Xie covered his eyes when sunshine broke in.

A wisp of light shed onto the crystal bed and lit up Jing Ruyue's face. He could even see the tiny fine hairs on her face.

Time was not harsh on her. It was the crystal bed that slowed down the aging and maintained her beauty.

She lay quietly in the castle for many years as if she was having an everlasting dream and was unable to come out of it.

There was no sound, nor light. It was always the same in her world.

But today was different. She seemed to have heard some voices and cries.

She tried hard to wake up to take a look. Yet weakness held her from opening her eyes.

She felt the dazzling light on her face and wanted to see if the sun had come up.

Mo Xie was facing the window and focusing on the views outside. He did not see that on the crystal bed behind him, the woman's fingered moved once, and her eyelashes trembled.

He saw the blue ocean and azure sky in the sunlight, as well as the scattered white sails.

Hmm... He could not remember when he'd last seen the ocean view.

The young lady was right. Only mice and snakes lived forever in the darkness.

He was the former emperor of Lstan. He used to reign over thousands of islands and fought countless battles. How could he be afraid of sunlight?

When the curtains were opened, it was not so scary as he'd thought.

Perhaps he should take his Yue-Er outside to enjoy some sunshine.

How he used to wish for a life together with her out there in the sunshine!

"Yue-Er, shall I take you out now?"

Mo Xie came to her and asked gently.

Upon finishing the words he was surprised that the woman's eyelashes trembled and her eyes opened for a second. Then they were closed again.

“Yue-Er! Are you awake? Are you?”

Mo Xie was overjoyed. However, the woman never reacted again despite his cries. Was it his illusion that she had opened her eyes for a second just now?

No Way! It was definitely not an illusion!

Jing Ruyue had been sleeping throughout the years until today, until just now.

Mo Xie wondered whether it was because of Jing Xi. Perhaps it was her crying and calling that had stimulated Jing Ruyue.

She was, after all, her daughter. It was not rare that a person was awoken from a vegetative state by his or her relatives.

How come he never tried this before?

Upon this thought, Mo Xie found some hope. Perhaps his Yue-Er would wake up soon!

Outside the castle, the gate was closed again.

Mo Yutian tried to pull Xu Xiyan away. But she kept looking back and was reluctant to leave.

She was not sure whether she could come back again once she left.

It was heartbreaking to see her mother lying in the dark basement forever. She wanted to save her and take her out of here.

But how could she get into the castle again?

“Mo Yutian, I don't want to leave. Can you get me into the castle again?” Xu Xiyan asked anxiously.

Mo Yutian stared at her for a while, and finally grasped the perfect moment. “There's only one way.”

Chapter 1143: The Ends Justify The Means

“And what's that?” Xu Xiyan asked.

“Marry me and be my queen,” Mo Yutian said.

“...” Xu Xiyan could not believe that Mo Yutian would suggest something like that to her.

“if you be my queen, every island in the Blacks Sea will belong to you,” Mo Yutian smiled. “You can go anywhere you want, and no one could stop you.”

“...”

Xu Xiyan had to admit that Mo Yutian was good at negotiating and persuading.

She was nervous and worried after she had learned that her mother was still alive.

She would even try to break down the castle door if she could.

But the reality was that she could not do anything

The only choice that was left for her was to marry Mo Yutian.

But she was worried about Huo Yunshen if she did so.

She couldn't help but wonder why God would present her and Jing Ruyue with such hardship, where both of them could not be with the one they truly loved the most.

Xu Xiyan was standing at a crossroads now; either she agreed to marry Mo Yutian and save her mother, or refused him and waited for a chance to save her mother.

But Xu Xiyan also remembered how weak her mother felt when she touched her and couldn't help but wonder how long her mother still had to live.

In the end, she had to choose to betray Huo Yunshen.

Hubby... Xu Xiyan cried in her head. You are the only one I've ever loved, even if my body belongs to another person, my soul will always be yours. The love I have for you will never change with time...

After her head had gone through a roller coaster, Xu Xiyan finally raised her head as tears rolled down her cheeks.

"Fine! I'll marry you! But with one condition! You'll have to get my mother out from that castle," Xu Xiyan said.

Mo Yutian had no idea how to express his happiness when he heard Xu Xiyan accepting his proposal.

He knew that he would get what he wanted one day: the girl he'd always dreamt of.

But he wondered why the girl was crying.

Are the tears for Huo Yunshen? Mo Yutian thought. Well, no matter, as long as she's mine, nothing changes.

"No problem! I'll give you my promise! I'll talk to my father and get your mother out after the wedding!"

Chapter 1144: Concerns

"Deal! I promise. After our wedding I will talk to my father and try my best to free your mother."

"Fine. I'll trust you for the last time!"

Mo Yutian took Xu Xiyan off of the Ghost Island and returned to the Central Island. He immediately gave orders nationwide to get ready for his grand wedding ceremony.

In ten days he would marry his queen.

Huo Yunshen had decided to sneak into the Black Sea via Estan in order to save Jing Xi.

Upon that decision, he instructed that the clone woman, Alice, was brought with them.

He planned to replace Jing Xi with Alice secretly.

Before setting off, Huo Yunshen entrusted his daughter with Ye Xun. He squatted and kissed her goodbye.

“Sweetheart, promise me you will be a good girl and listen to Uncle Ye. Will you?”

Ying Bo cuddled her daddy in reluctance and asked, “Daddy, where are you going?”

“Daddy is going to find mommy.”

“Can't you take me with you daddy?”

Ying Bao tried to win over her daddy to bring her along so as to see her mom sooner.

“Sweetheart, daddy cannot bring you this time. Because we will fight against a lot of monsters along the way and cannot take good care of you.”

Huo Yunshen had to make a kind lie.

Ying Bao was a sensible kid. She kissed her dad hard and said, “Daddy, take care. Your sweetheart just empowered you and you will defeat the monsters for sure.”

“Yeah, I got it. Daddy is fully charged and ready to go. Bye, sweetheart.” Then he turned to Ye Xun. “Ye Xun, please take good care of my girl.”

“Boss, can't I go with you?”

Ye Xun wanted to join. People in the Dark Zone were his sworn enemies. He could never wait to wipe them out.

“I can't. You are taking a greater responsibility than fighting against the Dark Zone. Ying Bao is my only daughter. I can only be assured and free from concerns when she is in your good hands.”

Ye Xun nodded. “Got you, Boss. Take care.”

Huo Yunshen waved goodbye to Ye Xun and his daughter and set off.

After a long flight, they arrived at Estan. Nightfall and Jun Yan came to pick them up.

They took some rest on the following day, then got in touch with Helian Qingyu and headed for the military station of Estan.

“Bro, we've been expecting you.”

Helian Qingyu came out to welcome Huo Yunshen.

“Thank you.” Huo Yunshen shook hands with him and entered the meeting room.

“Bro, I've heard about what happened to your family. My deepest condolences. My father has informed me that you are going into the Dark Zone. Are you well prepared?”

Helian Qingyu had heard from his father about what happened in the Huo Mansion and knew that people from the Dark Zone had taken Jing Xi.

Therefore he had been expecting Huo Yunshen in the station ever since he heard that he was coming to Estan.

“Not really. Mr. President told me that we could get into the Dark Zone via Estan. Therefore we need to cross your border.”

Huo Yunshen told him about his plan.

“No problem. But you have to get into the Dark Zone by strategy, not force.”

“What strategy?”

“You have to know their uniqueness. Let me walk you through.”

Huolian Qingyu told Huo Yunshen about every detail from throughout his encounters with the Dark Zone over the years.

Chapter 1145: Charm His Way Through Her

Lstan was a country that was protected by a natural magnetic force in the middle of the ocean.

Almost all boats and planes that tried to enter the country experienced problems with their hardware.

That was why the Black Sea was as famous as the Bermuda Triangle.

Ever since Helian Wei went to war with them and drove them back to Lstan, the Black Sea was marked like a border that neither party would cross.

But when Helian Wei fought with some of the pirates affiliated with the Dark Zone, he noticed a loophole in the magnetic field.

That was the famed magnetic field not working to its fullest the whole year-round.

Its power would be dampened when the full moon hung in the sky, which was also the day where the followers of Dragonism had their ceremony. Lstan would always go into a full alert mode during the full moon of each month.

“So, you're saying that even if the magnetic field is weakened, it would still be hard to get in because of the heightened security?” Huo Yunshen asked.

“Yes,” Helian Qingyu answered.

“What date is today?”

“It's the 24th.”

“Then, we have to wait for the next full moon?”

“No, I have a better idea. A way to get into Lstan without mobilizing any of our troops.”

“And what's your idea?”

“I have someone that can help us,” Helian Qingyu smiled confidently.

“Who?”

“Lan Ling'er.”

“Mo Yutian's sister?” Huo Yunshen replied in shock. “I thought that Mo Yutian was protecting her, but who knew that she's actually in your hands...”

“Yes, let's just say I did something to ensure that.”

Helian Qingyu had to charm his way through her so that he could take her into custody.

But he felt that his sacrifice was worth it if it was meant to save Jing Xi.

“As soon as I heard from my father that Jing Xi was abducted by Mo Yutian, I quickly captured Lan Ling'er,” Helian Qingyu explained. “At first, I thought of using her to get Jing Xi back, but I have a feeling that it won't work. Now that you are here, we should use her to get into Lstan.”

Even though Lan Ling'er was a famous celebrity in Estan, in truth, she was using her mother's last name and was a citizen of Lstan.

“I've got to say, it's a good plan!”

“Let's get prepared and leave as soon as we can!”

They both drove to a private apartment where Helian Qingyu asked Huo Yunshen to stay in the army jeep while he went up to get Lan Ling'er.

“General! You're here!” Lan Ling'er greeted happily when she saw Helian Qingyu coming into the apartment.

When Mo Yutian got Lan Ling'er back to Estan, he'd warned her to stay indoors. But life was too boring for her, and she kept participating in her company's events.

She was also in love with Helian Qingyu. Thus when Helian Qingyu asked her out as a trap to capture her, she agreed without hesitating.

Chapter 1146: The Real Reason

“Hum, Miss Lan, sorry for keeping you waiting.”

Helian Qingyu greeted her with a faint smile upon entering the room.

Lan Ling-Er was fascinated by him as always. She seemed shy and asked hesitantly, “What brought you here, General?”

Helian Qingyu approached her deliberately. His male energy overwhelmed her while he said, “I am here to seek Miss Lan's help over a very important matter.”

Lan Ling-Er felt dizzy and answered without thinking, “Name it. I'll do whatever I can to help.”

“I know Miss Lan is from Lstan. Therefore I would like you to take me into Lstan. Could you?”

“Er...”

Lan Ling-Er seemed to be in a dilemma. The strict regulations of Lstan forbade her from bringing any foreigner into the kingdom. Otherwise she would be sentenced to death by hanging.

When she was hesitating, Helian Qingyu suddenly lifted her chin and asked, "So you've been faking your affection for me all these years? Can't you do me such a tiny favor?"

"No no no... I'm just wondering why you want to go to Lstan all of a sudden."

"I heard lately that your brother Mo Yutian took Jing Xi. I have to go there to take her back so that she can join her husband again. You probably don't know that Jing Xi saved me once. Therefore I have to save her."

When Helian Qingyu told the real reason, Lan Ling-Er went into silence.

Even Helian Qingyu came to her for Jing Xi!

She could not help from becoming jealous. Why did Jing Xi have so many male admirers?

By instinct she did not want to help. "General, you probably haven't heard that Jing Xi was about to marry my brother. He has been watching her closely. There's no way you could get her out!"

In fact Lan Ling-Er was against the marriage too.

She could not bear the thought of Jing Xi becoming the queen and her sister-in-law.

She had been dreaming of kicking Jing Xi out of Lstan!

"When is the wedding?"

Helian Qingyu was shocked. They would never know that Jing Xi was to marry Mo Yutian if it was not because of his conversation with Lan Ling-Er.

"Tomorrow, the 25th. I am going back for their wedding," Lan Ling-Er said reluctantly.

In order to convince Lan Ling-Er, Helian Qingyu had to try pleasing her. "Just take me there and leave everything else in my good hands. Once we succeed, I'll bring you to my parents."

"For sure?"

"Absolutely!"

The honey trap won.

The innocent woman believed Helian Qingyu and agreed to help him sneak into Lstan.

Then Helian Qingyu returned to the station together with Huo Yunshen to carry out further planning.

That night, Huo Yunshen lost sleep.

He stood by the window, looked at the bright moon above and thought about Jing Xi.

The cigarette faded in his fingers but did not take away his worries.

It felt painful and heartbreaking to know that she was getting married to Mo Yutian tomorrow.

Jing Xi, how I miss you...

I know you must have been forced into this. Mo Yutian must have trapped you with the dirtiest tricks.

Wait for me. I'm coming for you tomorrow.

I won't let him succeed!

Meanwhile...

In Lstan, every single island was ablaze with lights.

Chapter 1147: I Want Her So Much!

A lot of people did not get enough rest from preparing for the emperor's wedding.

Servants kept going in and out from Xu Xiyang's room, presenting her with various dresses and accessories to choose from.

Yet, Xu Xiyang had no interest in those things as she sat by the window staring at the moon, thinking about her husband and daughter.

She was wondering what her husband was doing at that moment.

Is he staring at the moon like I am? And Ying Bao too... She must miss her mother so much...

She scolded herself for not being good at swimming, or else if she was, she would've swum back to Peijing.

But even if she really was good at swimming, her condition prevented her from doing so.

She placed her hand on her belly and asked her unborn babies, "What should I do?"

How can I get them out of here safely? Are they really doomed?

Xu Xiyang was too busy thinking of options, and she did not notice Mo Yutian coming in.

Mo Yutian had just finished working and come back. The servants were bowing to him when he signaled them to leave him alone.

He raised his head and looked at Jing Xi before walking slowly to her back and hugging her from behind.

The hug woke Xu Xiyang from her thought, not even giving her enough time to wipe the tears off her face.

"Don't!" Xu Xiyang frowned as she turned to push Mo Yutian away.

She could smell the alcohol coming from Mo Yutian's breath.

It seemed to Xu Xiyang that he was drunk.

"Jing Xi..." Mo Yutian mumbled as he pushed Xu Xiyang back, trying to kiss her.

He had been holding it in for very long, and he wanted her very much.

Xu Xiyang quickly averted her head, and Mo Yutian's lips kissed her neck. The touch was so chilly that it sent a shiver down Xu Xiyang's spine.

She pushed Mo Yutian away and slapped him.

“What are you doing?” Xu Xiyan scolded.

“What's wrong with wanting to kiss my wife?” Mo Yutian asked, feeling a little better from the slap.

“It seems like you've forgotten that I'm still Huo Yunshen's wife by law.”

“By Zstan's law. This is Lstan, and I'm the law here,” Mo Yutian said and closed in on Xu Xiyan once again.

Since Xu Xiyan was pregnant, she could not fight like she always did and was cornered by Mo Yutian.

There was only one thing that Mo Yutian could think of at that moment, and that was feasting on the girl in front of him.

As Mo Yutian inched closer towards Xu Xiyan, the fear in her heart rose.

There was nothing she could do if Mo Yutian forced his way with her.

Chapter 1148: Always Wanted To Conquer You

His fervent lips came again onto her cheeks and ears.

Xu Xiyan cried in fear, “Mo Yutian! Let go of me! Our wedding is tomorrow. I'm not yet your wife. You cannot touch me now. If you dare I will kill myself by chewing off my tongue!”

Mo Yutian covered her mouth immediately upon hearing about her chewing off her tongue. He tried to calm her down. “Don't be silly, Jing Xi. Be my wife and I'll make you happy forever...”

Stop dreaming!

Xu Xiyan threw the back of her head onto his nose and bit him on the hand while he was in shock.

The pain caught Mo Yutian by surprise. He took a deep breath and had to let go of her.

Xu Xyan ran immediately away from him and stood as far as she could by the wall.

She was very hostile, as a young beast in a hunter's trap. She stared vigilantly at him and was afraid that he would force her into intimacy again.

“How dare you?” Mo Yutian looked at the wound on his hand. But instead of being annoyed he seemed pleased. “You know, Jing Xi, that's exactly what I love about you. You are like a wild mare. It stimulates me and makes me always want to conquer you. Do you have any idea how many times I have dreamed of our fiercely romantic intercourse?”

“You freak!” Xu Xiyan cursed.

“Oh... it's nothing freaky. It's what every man wants from a woman. With what I have and who I am now, I am more than qualified to be your husband. You have nothing to lose in marrying me.”

Mo Yutian wanted her to know that it was her honor to have him, the emperor of a kingdom, as a husband.

Xu Xiyao had to admit that this man had an equally pretty face and peerless background.

If only Xu Xiyao had met Mo Yutian first, she might have been attracted to this man.

However, she was destined to be with Huo Yunshen.

No matter how outstanding the others were, she would never fall in love again.

The woman was cold and resolute. And it killed Mo Yutian's mood.

He did not force her any further, but said before he left, “There are only a few hours to go. Take your time, my queen. After our wedding tomorrow, I will make you my wife.”

God knew how badly and desperately he had been longing for her. He was about to lose control.

From tomorrow night on, they would be officially married. And he would never be gentle again, no matter how reluctant she was.

Mo Yutian was gone. Xu Xiyao sank slowly onto the ground.

She crouched and started weeping.

How she missed Huo Yunshen...

Where are you, honey?

It was almost dawn.

A cruise was waiting by a port in Estan.

Lan Ling-Er and her attendants waited by the cruise for Helian Qingyu.

In a short while, a military jeep stopped by the port and several people got out of the vehicle.

Lan Ling-Er was pleased to see Helian Qingyu, but rather annoyed by the sight of two other people coming with him.

It was Huo Yunshen and... Is that Alice, who looks identical to Jing Xi?

“Ling-Er, here I am.”

Helian Qingyu greeted her as if they were intimate.

Lan Ling-Er frowned and asked, “You said only you. What are they doing here?”

“They are coming with me to save Jing Xi. You know Huo Yunshen. And this is Alice, you should know her too. We want to replace Jing Xi with Alice so that your brother will not be annoyed. It would be a disaster if we simply took Jing Xi away. We don't want to get you into any trouble, my dear!”

Chapter 1149: Not A Good Option

Helian Qingyu was pretending to be worried about Lan Ling'er.

It was clear that she knew of the risk. If she were to lead them to the island to save Jing Xi, her brother would kill her for sure.

But Helian Qingyu's proposal sounded interesting to her.

"It would work, but all of you have to disguise as my bodyguards, and she could be my assistant," Lan Ling'er said.

There was no way that they could even cross the border if they were to go in like that.

"All right," Helian Qingyu said. "We'll prepare some wigs."

All of them boarded the ship and disguised themselves according to the pictures Lan Ling'er provided them with.

It took them just a dozen minutes to prepare themselves.

After Lan Ling'er confirmed that they could fake their ways through the guards, she ordered the captain to proceed to Lstan.

As the boat got closer to the Black Sea, the crew could clearly feel that it was harder to control the ship's mechanics.

The waves were more than 10 meters tall, forming a natural wall that shielded Lstan from the outside world.

Most ships would've been turned over by a wave of that degree, and even Helian Qingyu had experienced the power of the wave himself in the past.

Helian Qingyu was really curious as to how they should proceed through the waves.

As time passed, they realized that most of the radars on the boat had gone haywire and they were facing waves of tsunami level.

But then the captain pushed a button on the control board, and the magnetic force that was pushing them outside of the Black Sea began to pull them in.

It pulled them through the barrier, and everyone on the boat survived the trip.

They turned back and saw that the wave-barrier was still up, still protecting Lstan from intruders.

The button and the sudden pull-force was the secret to how boats from Lstan could go in and out of the country safely.

The next obstacle presented in front of them was the patrolling guards. Every boat that tried to enter the country would have to go through heavy inspection.

The guards boarded their ship and asked for every person's identification.

But Lan Ling'er was different; she held exclusive access into the country and could skip through this stage.

When the guards asked for her identification, she scolded, "You dare to check me? Your own princess?"

"My apologies, but the emperor has issued an order that every boat going in and out of the country has to undergo a heavy inspection," the leader of the guards apologized.

"..." Lan Ling'er was speechless, as her brother went far enough to even strip her of her special permission into the country for the wedding.

But she knew of her brother's personality and fighting her way through was a bad idea.

After checking the identifications of the original crew members, the guards stopped in front of Huo Yunshen and his accomplice.

Lan Ling'er had provided them with their own forged ID beforehand, and the guards did not suspect anything.

They let out sighs of relief as the guards left the boat and they proceeded onwards into Lstan.

"So this is the country in the middle of the ocean?" Huo Yunshen gasped as he stared at the countless islands scattered all around the region.

Chapter 1150: Unprecedentedly Hopeless

"Yes."

Lan Ling-Er answered with pride.

Huo Yunshen looked through the telescope on the cruise toward the islands around. He was stunned by the unexpectedly large number of islands Lstan was home to.

They were scattered randomly in the sea. It might take quite some forces to wipe them out.

He and Helian Qingyu were both looking carefully along their way, memorizing the shape and character of every island they passed, so as to get prepared for their future visit to Lstan.

These islands were highly modernized and populated with high-rises and skyscrapers. On some islands, there were even sky soaring castles.

This secluded kingdom was unexpectedly well-developed and no less civilized than the world outside.

The cruise finally arrived at the Central Island of Lstan, the capital of the kingdom and the largest one among all the islands. There was a huge complex of palace castles here.

The cruise stopped and they followed Lan Ling-Er ashore.

The Central Island was joyfully decorated and intensively crowded today. People were all dressed up and marching toward the palace.

Being the princess of Lstan, Lan Linger-Er was received by a dedicated limousine. Huo Yunshen and the others were taken toward the central palace with her.

A while later they came to the Fillieres Palace. All the subjects had to wait outside before they were let in to celebrate the emperor's wedding.

Huo Yunshen waited in the crowd while feeling extremely anxious upon seeing the vigorous scene. He wondered how Jing Xi and their children were.

Inside the palace.

A line of palace maidens were helping the queen get dressed.

Xu Xiyan was poker faced like a soulless doll. She sat blankly and let them play with her dress and make-up.

The wedding today was nothing exciting for her, but rather an unprecedentedly hopeless occasion.

Having her dressed up, the maidens reported, "Your Majesty, we are ready. Please move on to the hall."

They escorted her out of the room.

In the main hall of the palace, all the officials were gathered for the blessed moment.

Huo Yunshen and the others followed Lan Ling-Er inside to find Mo Yutian sitting high on the throne and being saluted by his people.

"Princess Lan has arrived."

With the announcement, Lan Ling-Er came into the court with her assistant and bodyguards, and bowed to her brother.

"My dearest brother, Your Majesty, congratulations on your wedding today."

"Congratulations on the Wedding, Your Majesty."

Huo Yunshen, Helian Qingyu, and Alice saluted to the emperor according to the Dragonism rituals Lan Ling-Er taught them earlier on.

"Ling-Er, don't stand on ceremony. Be seated."

Mo Yutian beckoned Lan Ling-Er into her seat and paid no attention to the ones following her.

Lan Ling-Er was seated close to the throne. Huo Yunshen and the other two stood behind her.

Huo Yunshen stared at Mo Yutian with hostility. He could have beaten him up right now.

Helian Qingyu sensed his anger and got hold of him in time. He whispered, "Bro, stay calm. Don't wreck the plan."

No one noticed that Alice had been looking devotedly at Mo Yutian. She was so happy to see her master again, yet extremely sad upon his wedding with Jing Xi.

In a short while, it was announced, "Her Majesty, the Queen, has arrived."

People followed the voice to see a familiar figure appear at the entrance of the hall.