

Priceless Baby 1201

Chapter 1201: Planning Something Behind His Back

Ye Xun remembered how Xu Xiyan had pretended to be him and gotten him mixed up with Huo Sanyan. He was giving Jun Yan a heads-up so that he could be prepared.

Jun Yan laughed wryly as he finally knew why he had been restless for the past few days.

This little girl is planning something behind my back... Jun Yan scolded in his head.

They quickly got changed and were ready to leave.

With Helian Qingyu's badge in his hand, he left through the border quickly.

Xu Xiyan wore a thick fleece jacket, and it kept her warm in the snowy field. She thought that they were going to climb a mountain, but they weren't.

They got themselves a sled and sledged themselves towards an island.

But calling it an island was an understatement. Ever since the surroundings had been frozen in ice, the island has now become a miniature iceberg.

"This is Ling Island. It used to be one of the Dragon Kingdom's territory," Jun Yan said. "Ye Xun, you're from the Dragon Kingdom, right?"

"Yes," Ye Xun replied firmly.

Even though the kingdom was long gone, Ye Xun had not forgotten where he came from.

Huo Yunshen and Xu Xiyan could not help but stare at Ye Xun as he confirmed that he was from the Dragon Kingdom.

They wondered what Ye Xun was thinking at the moment as they were about to stop at a place he once called home.

"Even though the kingdom was destroyed, it still remains in my heart," Ye Xun said, unable to forget the place he grew up in, and his family that was buried there.

Many people died in the war that destroyed the kingdom. Whenever Ye Xun closed his eyes, he could still hear the battle cry that the traitorous group, the Dark Zone, shouted during the war.

Those who follow us will prosper, while those who oppose us will perish!

Going back to his homeland was hard for him, and he would not have gone if Huo Yunshen did not ask him to.

"Boss, what are we doing here?" Ye Xun asked.

"Meeting my master."

"Your master? Who is he?"

“His name is Qi Zhengming; he was the one who guided me to build the JS,” Huo Yunshen explained. “He’s also a survivor of the Dragon Kingdom and has been living on this island ever since the war. A true patriot to his country.”

Huo Yunshen knew that Ye Xun would understand what he meant as most of the remaining survivors had fled to other countries.

Estan was the country that sheltered most survivors while others fled to other nearby countries.

Qin Zhengming was one of the survivors, but he was different.

He was a guardian, a protector of the former kingdom.

He remained on Ling Island, protecting the frozen land and believing that the kingdom would rise one day again.

They finally arrived at the island, and Huo Yunshen helped Xu Xiyan off the sled.

They walked towards the entrance and were stopped by a massive gate with no bell.

“How are we supposed to get in?” Ye Xun asked, wondering if anyone could really survive the extreme temperature behind the gate.

Chapter 1202: Something Weird

Everyone else was wondering how they could get in, while Huo Yunshen kept wiping the snow off the door with his glove. Soon enough the ice surface was revealed.

They all saw the letters on it.

Others could not read the language of the Dragon Kingdom, but Ye Xun could because he was from here. He read them out subconsciously.

“Given for any smooth directed closed surface S there is $\oint_S x f(y) dy dz + y f(x) dz dx - z [b + f(x + y)] dx dy$. What would be $f(2010)$.”

When he had finished reading, he could not help yelling, “What the f... This is freaky! How are we supposed to solve a Further Maths problem before we can get in?”

Ye Xun could not imagine what kind of person Qi Zhengming was. But in terms of posting a math question on the door, he must be unprecedented.

What a freak!

Jun Yan frowned. “I know the answer to one plus one. But Further Maths? No way!”

He supposed Xu Xiyan was better at this and turned to her. “Little Xi, could you do this?”

Xu Xiyan had forgotten all these things from way back. How could she be able to solve such a complicated problem now?

While everyone else felt desperate, Huo Yunshen had already started solving the problem on the ice surface with his dagger.

By applying the gauss formula, he got the result $f(2010)=20102009b$.

While he was focusing on solving the problem, the rest were all amazed.

That was the bitter fact of the difference between a star student and a poor one.

It turned out that their boss was also a math genius!

Xu Xiyan could not admire her man more. In short, he was a versatile genius who knew literally everything, even how to solve such a complicated problem. What a star!

When the answer was provided, the ice door was automatically opened. It was dazzlingly bright inside and they were all forced to squint.

“Let's get inside.”

Huo Yunshen got hold of Xu Xiyan's hand and stepped in.

Jun Yan followed. But it felt weird to see his boss holding the hand of someone identical to him.

Ye Xun followed, and so did the others.

They entered the Spirit Island and discovered a whole new world.

It seemed the island was enveloped by a huge glass shield. There was no wind nor snow, but rather a paradise with charming flora.

“What the f...”

Ye Xun could not help but cry out again, “How could it be possible?”

In the lush grassland cute rabbits were running around, and butterflies were dancing on the blossoms.

On the far-off peak, waterfalls flew straight down while gurgling streams traveled through the forest. It was beyond everyone's imagination.

“It must be our imagination!”

Jun Yan was completely surprised to find such a paradise under the ice world.

“Must be an illusion!”

Xu Xiyan could not trust her own eyes. It was a world of snow out there. How could it be like this now?

It felt like they had entered a world of magic.

It was warm and cozy here while freezing cold outside.

Xu Xiyan felt hot and took off her down jacket.

Huo Yunshen led them further toward a cottage where his master used to live.

Chapter 1203: Miracle

“Why do I have the feeling that this feels like something that came out from the Three Kingdoms?” Ye Xun said as he looked at the house.

“Maybe the person in there is actually a genius, like Zhuge Liang?” Jun Yan said.

“Uncle Ming, are you there?” Huo Yunshen asked as he knocked on the door.

“Yunshen? Come on in,” a deep voice said from inside the house.

Huo Yunshen pushed the wooden door open and in it was a messy room.

Huo Yunshen was already used to the scene, but others were stunned when they saw what was lying everywhere in the house.

They were blueprints and sketches of different weapon designs.

A white-haired old man was at the table drawing on something.

He was Qi Zhengming, Huo Yunshen's master. If no one knew, they would've thought that the old man was some kind of mad scientist.

“Uncle Ming!” Huo Yunshen shouted and did not go in, as there was no place to step.

“I've already prepared some food,” Qi Zhengming said, raising his head to look at his visitors. “Why don't you get something for your friends to eat first?”

Qi Zhengming turned back to what he was drawing after finishing his sentence.

Huo Yunshen did not want to interrupt him and went to the back of the house from the outside.

Behind the house was a small wooden 3-floor hut.

“Your master is kind of weird...” Ye Xun whispered.

“How so?”

“Why is he drawing those weapons here alone?”

“Do you even know where we get our weapons from?” Huo Yunshen asked. “Have you ever wondered who invented the JS-56 bombardment aircraft that you love the most?”

Huo Yunshen was implying that every high-tech weapons that the JS had was designed by Qi Zhengming.

Ye Xun could not hide his excitement the moment Huo Yunshen told him that, so much that he wanted to be Qi Zhengming's disciple right away.

“Are you serious? Do you think your master would take me in as his disciple too?” Ye Xun asked.

“It all depends on you,” Huo Yunshen said and pointed at a stone wall. “If you can solve all the questions on the wall, you might have a chance.”

Ye Xun quickly jogged over to the wall but almost fainted when he saw the questions.

They were all complicated mathematical questions that only a genius could solve. There was no way that Ye Xun could even answer one of them.

Ye Xun sighed and followed the others into the hut.

A 15 or 16-year-old boy was preparing the table when they entered the dining room.

“Dingding!” Huo Yunshen greeted.

“Dad!” Dingding greeted back. “You're back! Here! Have a seat!”

“...” Everyone was stunned when they heard the young boy address Huo Yunshen as his father.

Xu Xiyan stared at her husband, her eyes telling him to spit the truth out.

Chapter 1204: Too Lonely

Huo Yunshen put on a smile. He held Xu Xiyan's hand, walked to the table and took a seat.

Figuring out the boy's name, Ye Xun asked, “Dingding, do you know who I am?”

“Dad.”

He pointed at Jun Yan and asked again, “And him?”

Oh my god!

After a while, they realized that Dingding was a robot created by Qi Zhengming, who could only say “dad.”

Qi Zhengming probably felt too lonely here. Therefore he created a robot son.

After lunch, Xu Xiyan stayed with her brothers and Dingding, while Huo Yunshen went to talk to his master.

Inside the cottage, Qi Zhengming finally dropped the pen. He nodded satisfyingly at the newly finished drawing.

Then Huo Yunshen came in and placed his lunch on the table. “Uncle Ming, time for lunch.”

“OK.”

Qi Zhengming put down the drawing and started eating.

Huo Yunshen helped him clean up the drawings in the room while he had his lunch.

The room was almost done, and Qi Zhengming was halfway through his lunch. Then he turned to Huo Yunshen and asked, "What brought you here?"

They had agreed that he would never come to him. In the case of any urgent matter, Qi Zhengming would come for him.

"Uncle Ming, it was my father's last wish for me to come to you."

Huo Yunshen told the reason.

Upon hearing that the old man stopped eating and put down the bowl. "What happened to your father?"

"He's already passed away."

Huo Yunshen seemed extremely pained when saying this and pushed his forehead against his hands. "My father, mother and grandfather... they were all killed by Long Xiao... It was my fault."

"Gosh..." Qi Zhengming felt shocked. He patted Huo Yunshen on his shoulder and said, "My condolences, Yunshen."

After a long silence, Qi Zhengming tried to ask, "Did your father tell you anything before he died?"

"No. They died in an explosion. It was sudden and he never had a chance to say his last words."

Huo Yunshen then realized something and took out a red silk pouch. "But when I was collecting their things I found this. Uncle Ming, do you recognize this?"

Qi Zhengming's pupils constricted upon the sight of the red silk pouch. He knew it was the thing he had handed to Huo Zhen when he entrusted the orphan to his friend.

It was the imperial jade seal of the Dragon Kingdom, as well as the gem to restore their kingdom.

Seeing this again Qi Zhengming could not help being sensational. He opened the pouch and held the jade seal in his hand.

He could almost see their former king, Long Rui, sealing the documents again. It was like it was only yesterday.

Qi Zhengming held the jade seal while recalling the past, and he burst into tears.

"Uncle Ming, are you OK?"

Huo Yunshen had no idea what this piece of jade meant to his master. He had never heard his father mention anything about it.

"No worries. I'm just too excited to see this."

Qi Zhengming blinked in tears.

“What is it?” Huo Yunshen was curious.

“It is the imperial jade seal of Dragon Kingdom.”

“Imperial jade seal? How could it have been with my father?”

Huo Yunshen was completely confused and tried hard to recall any connection between his father and the Dragon Kingdom. Was his father from here?

“It is a long story. Follow me, Yunshen. I'll show you something.”

Chapter 1205: Responsible

Qi Zhengming got up and went to the mountain behind his hut with Huo Yunshen. He flicked a switch, and a hidden door opened, leading to a secret passage.

Even though Huo Yunshen had been to Ling Island quite a few times, he had no idea that such a door existed.

Qi Zhengming handed Huo Yunshen a flashlight and turned his own on. They walked through the long-hidden passage until they reached the exit.

From the exit, Huo Yunshen could see an enormous space when Qi Zhengming lit up the oil lamp. In the middle of the area was a palace.

Even though it was a palace, to Huo Yunshen's eyes, it looked more like an underground tomb.

It actually was a palace, but because it was covered by ice, the castle looked like it was resting in an underground tomb.

Huo Yunshen looked at the weird drawings on the wall and asked, “Uncle Ming, what is this place?”

“This is the Dragon Kingdom's emperor's resting place, a palace to remember the fallen emperors,” Qi Zhengming explained. “The drawings on the wall are the kingdom's history. You should be able to understand everything once you go through them.”

Qi Zhengming sat down and began to smoke while Huo Yunshen started to go through the paintings on the wall.

The paintings began with the establishment of the kingdom, followed by the stories of different emperors, and ending with the civil war.

The last few paintings depicted how Long Xie overthrow the kingdom with his Dark Zone army while the empress was about to give birth. While Long Rui was with his wife, Long Xie took the chance and bombarded the castle walls.

When the empress successfully gave birth to their heir, Long Rui went to defend his home with his guards but was wounded in the battle.

To protect the emperor's bloodline, Long Rui had his son sent away from the kingdom.

In the end, a massive number of the kingdom's people, along with their emperor and empress, died in that battle.

After he overthrew the throne, Long Xie planned to establish a new government in the kingdom. Yet his plan was put to a halt when the kingdom's self-defense mechanism started and made the whole country a huge freezer.

In just a few days, ice and snow covered the kingdom, forcing the Dark Zone back into the Dark Sea.

After that, Long Xie also tried to attack Estan but was defeated by Helian Wei with his army.

That was how Long Xie decided to build Lstan in the Dark Sea, among the thousand islands.

Huo Yunshen could only feel rage and anger towards Long Xie and Long Xiao after he learned the whole story.

He thought of all the innocent people that were killed by them.

Jing Xi's mother, who was still held prisoner by Long Xie.

His parents and grandfather, who had been murdered.

And his wife, who had almost been taken away from him forever.

They were also responsible for destroying his master's country.

“Uncle Ming,” Huo Yunshen turned and said. “Long Xie destroyed your country, and Long Xiao has been going against me for ages. I'll definitely take down Lstan myself and put a stop to their menace!”

Huo Yunshen finally understood why Qi Zhengming asked him to create the JS. It was so that he could take down the Dark Zone and restore peace to the world.

Chapter 1206: His Hidden Identity

“Very well!”

Finishing his cigarette, Qi Zhengming stood up and said, “To destroy the Dark power and restore the Dragon Kingdom...it has always been your destiny.”

“What? My destiny?”

He was absolutely determined to destroy the Dark Zone. But how did he have anything to do with restoring the Dragon Kingdom?

Qi Zhengming gazed at him with flames in his eyes and said, “Yunshen, do you know where the child in the mural was sent after the queen gave birth to him?”

Huo Yunshen was confused and shook his head.

“His Majesty entrusted his son to me during the crisis. I went through a lot but finally managed to get him out of the Dragon Kingdom.”

“What happened then?”

“Then I gave him to my best friend, whom you know well.”

“Who”

“His name is...Huo Zhen.”

When he said this Qi Zhengmin's eyes were filled with tears. He put on a more complicated look when he gazed at Huo Yunshen.

He said that he took the son of the former king of Dragon Kingdom to Estan and gave him to his father. He also said that it was his destiny to restore the Dragon Kingdom. What does that mean?

Could that mean...

Huo Yunshen was almost speechless. “Uncle Ming, do you mean...”

“Absolutely right! You are the child who was sent away!”

Huo Yunshen: “...”

He could not describe his feeling now. His master just told him that he was the child that was sent away.

Which meant he was adopted by the Huo Family?

But he was undoubtedly given birth to by his mother after the long labor. How could he be adopted?

Huo Yunshen could not figure it out.

Qi Zhengming continued, “His Majesty asked me to take you away and made me promise to keep your identity a secret forever. He wanted to give you an ordinary life, being away from the cruelty and conflicts. When I found Huo Zhen, his wife was giving birth to a dead baby. In order to prevent his wife from being heartbroken, he treated you as their own son. Therefore no one ever had any doubt over your identity.”

No wonder. No wonder the Huo family cherished him so much.

Probably even his mother was not aware that he was adopted.

“So why have you waited all these years to tell me the truth now?”

Huo Yunshen still found it hard to believe. With his father gone, he could confirm it from no one else. It was merely Qi Zhengming's claim.

“Because you came to me with the imperial jade seal of the Dragon Kingdom, which means it's time.”

Qi Zhengming suddenly kneeled in front of Huo Yunshen.

“Uncle Ming, get up! What are you doing?”

Seeing his master kneeling in front of him, Huo Yunshen could only try to get him up.

But Qi Zhengming refused. He raised his head with tears in his eyes and said, “Your Highness, if His Majesty could see you grow up into a responsible man, he would definitely smile in his grave.”

Qi Zhengming felt so grateful for the Huo family who gave Huo Yunshen the best upbringing and the best qualities.

Although the former king made him promise never to tell the child about his identity or to get him involved in the conflicts, he could not help telling him now.

Whenever he recalled those who had died for the Dragon Kingdom and the evil deeds of the Dark power from Lstan, he found himself responsible for identifying the new king and helping him restore the Dragon Kingdom and destroy the Dark Zone.

Chapter 1207: Coping With The New Information

Qi Zhengming had been secretly guiding Huo Yunshen towards the path of leading people, and JS was proof that he was a great leader.

The mercenary group had grown into an international organization and was recognized by a lot of countries.

Qi Zhengming believed that the Dragon Kingdom would definitely rise again under him.

Huo Yunshen remained silent as he was trying to cope with the new information.

He was a little kid that grew up in a wealthy family, but now his master was telling him that he had another identity.

He was the heir to a kingdom's throne, and he found it hard to believe.

“My liege, I know you will need time to accept this, but everything I have said is the truth,” Qi Zhengming said. “You are the next Dragon Kingdom's emperor, heir to Long Rui. It's all up to you now if you can gather all of our people that are scattered throughout the world and revive the fallen kingdom.”

“Uncle Ming, even if you did not tell me these things, taking down Lstan is still my responsibility,” Huo Yunshen said as he helped Qi Zhengming up. “Taking down Lstan is one thing, but reviving the Dragon Kingdom is another. We have to take care of the ice that's covering the whole country first.”

Huo Yunshen suddenly felt that a huge responsibility was on his shoulders and it was pushing him down.

He wondered if he could revive the kingdom with just him and Qi Zhengming.

"I've already thought of that," Qi Zhengming said. "Did you know that the Dragon Kingdom used to be an energy superpower? And that we had very advanced technology? Our previous emperor was worried that something like this would happen and he perfected a self-protecting system."

"Go on."

"Once the system goes online, the whole country will be frozen to prevent any enemies from taking our land. The country is basically an enormous freezer right now, and the only way to revive the country is to melt the ice."

"And how are we supposed to do that?"

"You must've heard that the Dragon Kingdom has the best technology in geothermal energy in the world, right?"

"Yes."

"The self-defense system has one of the geothermal energies built into it. Once the technology goes online, the ice will start to melt."

"And how do we start it up?"

"Follow me."

Qi Zhengming took Huo Yunshen to the kingdom's central control hub.

Qi Zhengming turned on the power and lit up the hub. In it were machines and computers that began to run.

Qi Zhengming pointed at the control panel and said, "The geothermal energy system is locked since the self-protect system is online so that people from the outside cannot use it. I've tried a lot of times, but I still can't unlock it. Why don't you try it?"

Huo Yunshen sat down in front of the control panel and began to study it.

He realized that even after two dozens years had passed, the Dragon Kingdom's technology was still much more advanced.

With his knowledge and expertise, Huo Yunshen began to attempt to unlock the geothermal energy system.

Chapter 1208: A Pretty Girl

Huo Yunshen was typing fast and focusing on hacking the system, while Qi Zhengming looked at him and nodded from time to time in satisfaction.

The day had finally come. Soon enough their Dragon Kingdom would regain its glory.

Huo Yunshen kept trying and researching for more than half an hour, and eventually hacked into the system.

The auto-defense system was shut down, and the geothermal energy system was launched.

Thundering sounds were heard around them.

“You did it! Your Highness!”

Qi Zhengming burst into tears of joy.

Huo Yunshen stood up and hugged Qi Zhengming. Then he said, “Uncle Ming, please just call me Yunshen, OK?”

It felt weird to be called “Your Highness.” And the Dragon Kingdom was far from being restored. It was too early for that title.

“I see. Yunshen.”

“Uncle Ming, now the geothermal energy system is launched. How long will it take to melt the ice?”

“It depends. It could take a couple of months, or years... It's hard to predict.”

After all, the Dragon Kingdom was a vast country and the ice field had covered it for such a long time. It was not realistic to have it uncovered in a short period of time.

“Well then, shall we get out of here now?”

Huo Yunshen wanted to get out right away. He did not want his wife to be worried outside.

“Sure. Let's go.”

The two of them left the underground control room together.

In front of the building.

Xu Xiyan and her two brothers had been waiting for them. It was not so boring with Dingding's company.

But a while ago they felt a slight quake from under the ground. It seemed like an earthquake, but disappeared in a few seconds.

“It shouldn't be an earthquake.”

According to his knowledge of the Dragon Kingdom, Ye Xun was pretty sure that they were not standing somewhere with frequent plate movement. There had never been an earthquake.

“Dad! Dad!”

Dingding was calling his dad again and ran toward the building.

Following Dingding, they saw Huo Yunshen and Qi Zhenmging coming out.

“Yunshen!”

Xu Xiyan came to him and asked, “What took you so long? We thought there was an earthquake.”

“No worries. Uncle Ming and I were figuring out something down there.”

Huo Yunshen got hold of Xu Xiyan's hands and looked into her eyes.

Seeing them holding hands, Qi Zhengming could not help staring at Huo Yunshen and feeling shocked.
“Yunshen, aren't you already married? You two...”

Huo Yunshen cuddled Xu Xiyan and said, “Uncle Ming, I should have introduced her properly. This is my wife, Jing Xi.”

“Hi, Uncle Ming.”

Xu Xiyan applied her normal voice to greet him.

Then Qi Zhengming realized that she was a girl disguised as a man.

“Good, good. I've heard a lot about you. Let's get inside.”

In Qi Zhengming's eyes, Jing Xi was already their future queen. He had heard about their story and liked Jing Xi too.

A few steps further, Qi Zhengming saw a man identical to Jing Xi. He was confused, “How come there is another one?”

Huo Yunshen laughed and explained, “Uncle Ming, they are my men. This is Jun Yan. And this is Ye Xun. He is also from the Dragon Kingdom.”

“Oh?”

“I guess Uncle Ming must have heard about my father, Ye Zifeng?”

“Ye Zifeng? Was that the famous Commander of the Ministry of National Defense?”

“That's right.”

“Oh my! Wonderful!”

Qi Zhengming was so pleased to see the descendant of the former Dragon Kingdom commander. He started planning to gather all these former connections and hoping that the Dark Zone would be overthrown in no time.

Chapter 1209: No Mistake

Huo Yunshen and his companion did not remain on the island for a long time. They returned on the path they'd come from in the evening.

They crossed Estan's border and went back to Lin City.

“Hubby, where did you and Uncle Ming go to just now?” Xu Xiyan asked on their way back.

She noticed that Qi Zhengming had taken Huo Yunshen into a secret door and did not come out for more than an hour.

“He brought me to see something that can help me defeat Mo Yutian,” Huo Yunshen replied, keeping his bloodline a secret, as he did not want to spread the news before he was sure that he could revive the kingdom.

Upon mentioning Mo Yutian, Xu Xiyan could not help but feel worried about Alice.

“I wonder how Alice is doing? And my mother...” Xu Xiyan said worriedly.

“Don't worry, Helian Qingyu and I are discussing infiltrating Lstan once again to get your mother out.”

“Can you bring me with you?” Xu Xiyan asked, thinking that she could be of use since she knew the structure of the castle.

“No! You can't! It's too dangerous! I can't allow anything to happen to you now!”

Huo Yunshen was worried about her, and he could not oversee the fact that her pregnancy was three months in.

“All right... Then I'll draw a map of the castle for you.”

“Good! It means we can cut our effort in half.”

Huo Yunshen decided that once they returned to Lin City, he would go to Helian Qingyu to discuss the second infiltration.

Mo Yutian hurried back to his room after he had finished his meeting.

He heard that his wife was sick and quickly ended the meeting so that he could be at her side.

The doctor that went to check up on the queen came out from her room just when Mo Yutian arrived.

“Doctor! How's the queen?” Mo Yutian asked.

“Congratulations, my king, the queen is pregnant,” the doctor answered.

“Pregnant?”

It was great news to Mo Yutian, as he could not believe his own ears.

“Yes. The queen has been pregnant for more than a month, and her body is weak due to that. I've prepared some medicine for the queen. All she needs to do now is rest.”

“Good.”

Mo Yutian dismissed the doctor and went into his room happily.

His wife was lying on the bed, sound asleep.

Just as the servants were about to bow to Mo Yutian, he stopped them and signaled for them to leave.

Only he and Alice were left in the room. He sat down on the bed and took her hand, placing it on his face.

“Yutian...” Alice woke up and saw Mo Yutian looking at her affectionately.

“Hey... Don't move too much. The doctor said you're pregnant and need more rest.”

“I'm pregnant?” Alice asked, her face full of surprise.

“Yes, for more than a month. I'm going to be a father soon,” Mo Yutian said and gave her a soft kiss.

As Alice lay with Mo Yutian by her side, she was worried and slightly afraid.

She was afraid that since she was a clone, she might not be able to give birth.

Chapter 1210: That Merciless Woman

In a word, she lived in happiness and worry every day.

A while later, a guard reported, “Your Majesty, His Highness Long Xie would like to invite the Queen to the Ghost Island.”

Mo Yutian knew that his father wanted Jing Xi to meet Jing Ruyue again.

But Jing Xi should not travel much now. So he told his subordinate, “Tell my father that Jing Xi is not feeling well. We'll visit him another day.”

The guard left, and Mo Yutian stayed with his queen.

Since then, he'd spent most of his time with Jing Xi.

He treated her even more carefully and they felt even more deeply attached.

He waited for the birth of their child. Once the child was born, Jing Xi would never want to leave again. And there would be no need for him to take Ying Bao to her.

The day after they returned from the border, Helian Qingyu came to them.

Huo Yunshen was about to take her daughter to school.

“Morning, Bro!”

Helian Qingyu sat in his military jeep outside Yunjing Villa and waved at them.

“No more drinks today?”

Huo Yunshen taunted him deliberately.

“Ha, I couldn't be more sober!”

Helian Qingyu coughed awkwardly and jumped out of the car. He stood in Ying Bao's way and opened his arms, “Come here! Give uncle a hug!”

Ying Bao immediately held her arms and stood on alert, “Uncle, I know you are very good-looking. But don't you think that it's improper for a man and a woman to get too close in public?”

“...”

Helian Qingyu almost passed out. He felt shocked and wondered how such a little girl could know that much.

Helian Qingyu wiped his face and said, “Hey, little girl, uncle and your daddy are pals. I'm namely your second daddy. Can't you give second daddy a hug?”

Helian Qingyu played a honey trap with her in vain.

The little girl pouted and said, “I already have daddy and Uncle Tree-Leaf. I don't need another daddy. If uncle wants a girl, you should have your wife make one for you!”

“...”

Helian Qingyu felt like more than passing out.

How hurtful that was!

He had to have a wife first!

Well, he did have one previously. But they had divorced long ago. And that merciless woman went missing with the unborn baby.

“Well, well, well, you kiddy, I can never catch you.”

Helian Qingyu had to give up and turned to Huo Yunshen with a broken heart. “Bro, get in the car. I'll take you to school.”

Huo Yunshen did not decline his offer and took Ying Bao into the convertible jeep.

On their way to school, Ying Bao leaned on the window, enjoyed the wind and yelled in excitement, “Uncle, your car is so cool!”

“Do you want to come for a ride in uncle's car more frequently? I have bigger and cooler ones like tanks.”

Helian Qingyu seized the opportunity.

“Sure! Sure!”

“Then call me Third Daddy. And your Third Daddy will take you on another ride soon!”

Helian Qingyu would never give up.

Ying Bao turned to her own dad and asked, “Daddy, are you going to be sad if I have one more daddy?”

Huo Yunshen burst into laughter. His daughter seemed very serious and really cared about his feelings.

“Go ahead! As long as you are happy!”
