

Priceless Baby 1281

Chapter 1281: Is It Possible?

Xu Xiyan thought that, since her father had divorced his wife, he could continue his relationship with Jing Ruyue.

It was such good news that Xu Xiyan could not hold her urge and told her mother.

“Mum! I have good news! The President and Yun Xuerou are now divorced!”

“What?”

Jing Ruyue could not believe what she was hearing and wondered if it was because of her.

“Here. Look at it yourself,” Xu Xiyan said as she handed her phone to Jing Ruyue.

Jing Ruyue did not know how to use a smartphone and asked her daughter to help her put on the news.

Jing Ruyue only knew after reading the news that Helian Wei filed for divorce because Yun Xuerou had been doing things that brought harm to the Estan and its people.

She could not believe that, not only did Yun Xuerou not help Helian Wei while he was in office, but she even did things for her own benefit.

Not knowing what her mother was thinking, Xu Xiyan held her hands and asked, “Mum, I'm just saying, what if both you and the President could leave the hospital safely...are you willing to be with him again?”

“Stop it. Both of us are too old, it's not possible.”

But truth be told, Jing Ruyue had never thought of the question.

She was wary of her status and position and decided to stay silent.

Even though Helian Wei was single again, Jing Ruyue never thought of what would happen after that.

“Why is it impossible? Yun Xuerou was the one who should have left from the beginning!” Xu Xiyan scolded. “She's the one who interfered with both of you and made you suffer! You should think for yourself more. It's time for you to be happy too. Don't you want to be with the man you truly love?”

Xu Xiyan's words were like a bell waking Jing Ruyue.

Jing Ruyue could not help but wonder if they were still able to be together or not after all those years.

She knew that the hardest part would be to overcome herself.

Xu Xiyan did not continue the conversation as she had decided that once her parents left the hospital, she would create the chance for them to be together.

In Xu Xiyan's mind, people who loved each other dearly should be together no matter what happened.

The day Yun Xuerou was sent into the National Prison, Jing Ruyue underwent her surgery at 8 a.m.

Everything had been prepared before the scheduled time.

When Jing Ruyue was pushed into the operating theater, Helian Wei was in there with her too.

But a white sheet separated them from each other and Jing Ruyue had no idea that Helian Wei was on the other side.

The doctors removed one of Helian Wei's healthy kidneys and transplanted it into Jing Ruyue's body.

After four hours had passed, Jing Ruyue was moved to the ICU.

Xu Xiyan and Huo Yunshen both got up when they saw Jing Ruyue being pushed out of the theater.

The doctor told them that the surgery was a success. Upon hearing the good news, Xu Xiyan hugged her husband and cried.

"Hey, it was a success," Huo Yunshen comforted. "The doctor said she only needs to stay in ICU to be monitored for a couple of days and she'll be fine."

Chapter 1282: Unable To Turn A Blind Eye

Two days later Jing Ruyue was transferred from ICU to the regular care unit. The operation was a success and no rejection was recorded.

While things went well with her mother, Xu Xiyan heard from Huo Yunshen that Helian Wei was not in good shape.

It was said that Mr. President had another heart attack and even showed signs of cardiac failure. He had been in a coma after intensive treatments and was being kept in the ICU.

It made Xu Xiyan very worried.

Her mother was barely recovering and her father was in danger now. Why did they have to go through all of this?

He was finally freed from the tragic marriage after all these years. She had not had a chance to bring them together. Are they going to be parted forever?

Xu Xiyan decided to keep it from her mother for the time being, in case it would jeopardize her recovery.

Instead, she went to the ICU to see her father. From outside the window, she saw Helian Wei lying there in a coma with tubes all over his chest and oxygen going into his nose.

Xu Xiyan could not help from weeping. Their blood ties made her unable to turn a blind eye on him.

Even if her father had been absent for over twenty years, she still could not help feeling worried for him.

It made her heartbroken to see him lying there in a coma.

She could do nothing but pray for a miracle.

While the doctors issued a critical condition notice, the news of President Helian Wei being seriously ill was immediately spread to the Blue House.

It brought the parliament members into a heated debate.

Different parties argued fiercely about whether Chief Commander Helian Qingyu should be the successor to the presidency or if the succession plan should be aborted.

Helian Xiong and Helian Chen sat back and watched them arguing.

When the parliament meeting was over, Helian Xiong left the Blue House and started planning with his son Helian Chen. "If we push for an election now, what do you think my odds are?"

Helian Chen analyzed the current political situation and concluded, "If we could win over the Secretary of State, I'd guess we would have an 80% chance of winning."

Helian Xiong asked after a pause, "How is it going with his daughter?"

"I almost won her over last time. But someone ruined it."

"If that's not practical, let's look for an alternative. Tell the Dark Zone to arrange accordingly. We have to take over before Helian Wei can recover."

"Yes. I'm already in touch with the Dark Zone."

Helian Xiong smiled tacitly to his son. Once Helian Wei was gone, he would be the next president.

In Lstan.

Mo Yutian got the news and sailed to the castle on Ghost Island.

Upon seeing Mo Xie, he reported, "Father, our chance has finally come."

Mo Xie read through the message from Estan while a trace of excitement flashed in his dark eyes. "Very well. Helian Wei is finally dying. It's now-or-never for us. Once we succeed, we will not only take revenge but also win my Yue-Er back."

"Yes, father. Let's make a detailed plan."

Mo Yutian had his men open a map and started planning with Mo Xie.

"Helian Wei would never expect his own brother to betray him for us," Mo Xie sneered.

Chapter 1283: Bad News

“We know from Helian Xiong's letter that Estan will gather their parliament soon,” Mo Yutian said. “We can attack Estan then. We'll take care of Helian Qingyu's army while Helian Xiong will take care of Helian Wei. When he's taken care of, Helian Xiong will be in power, and Estan will be ours!”

“I see. It's a great plan!”

Mo Xie was already waiting for the day to attack Estan. He planned to join the attack himself and take Jing Ruyue back.

The news of the President lying in the hospital had spread throughout the country,

When everyone heard about it, they were prepared for the worst. But most of the people were also worried about whether Helian Qingyu could succeed as the next President or not.

The country had been divided into different powers and some supported voting for the next President instead.

A week after the surgery, Jing Ruyue was finally able to leave her bed.

The surgery was a huge success and her body was recovering at a steady pace.

Jing Ruyue was getting stronger ever since she got a new kidney.

With Xu Xiyan and Huo Yunshen taking good care of her, Jing Ruyue felt that it was time to go home.

“Yanyan, can I leave the hospital now?”

“No. The doctor said that you have to stay here for another week.”

Xu Xiyan was glad to see that her mother was getting better day by day.

“I really want to thank the person who gave me this kidney personally...” Jing Ruyue sighed.

By receiving the kidney, Jing Ruyue was able to live longer, and she wanted to repay the favor.

“I'll let Yunshen find out who he is. You can thank him then.”

“Okay.” Jing Ruyue nodded and looked out the window. “The sun is up. I want to take a stroll outside.”

“I'll go with you.”

Both of them walked to the garden. As they were bathing in the warm sunlight, they overheard other patients talking about the President's critical condition.

“I think the President might not make it...” one of the patients said.

“Any problem related to the heart is hard to cure... The doctors even issued a statement saying that he's in critical condition.”

Jing Ruyue turned to look at his daughter and asked, “Yanyan, what's happening here? I thought you said he has already left the hospital?”

"I'm sorry... I was afraid that you might get too worked up after hearing this, so I didn't tell you. He's... he's still in the hospital, and it's not looking very good."

Tears began to fog up Xu Xiyan's eyes.

"..."

Jing Ruyue did not say anything while the patients next to them continued to talk about the President.

"We don't even know if the General could succeed the President or not. There are so many powers dividing the parliament now. One side supports the idea that the General should be the next President while the other side wants a vote. And let's not forget the one that just wants to join the winning side. The only party that's in the middle ground is the Secretary of State..."

"The meeting is in two days, we'll know the answer then. The General could win as long as he attends it..."

Chapter 1284: Something Had Changed

Jing Ruyue gathered from their conversation that, since Helian Wei was sick, the Helian family was put in danger.

There were people looking covetously at the presidency.

What should they do now?

Even if Helian Qingyu was Yun Xuerou's son, he had a completely different character.

More like his father, he was honest and courageous, and a man of justice.

To some extent, Jing Ruyue hoped that he could succeed in the presidency. After all, he was Helian Wei's child.

Now that their regime was endangered, Jing Ruyue had to put aside her concerns. She got hold of her daughter and said, "Yanyan, let's go."

"Where to?"

"I want... to see him," Jing Ruyue said calmly.

When he had a wife she had tried to stay away. But the situation was different now. He was single, hence she had nothing to worry about.

Xu Xiyan had never seen her mother being so resolute. It seemed that something had changed in her just now.

She even proposed to see her father.

"Sure. I'll go with you."

From outside the window, Jing Ruyue saw the man lying inside the ward.

They'd had a talk in the rooftop garden just a few days ago. And now he was lying there in the ICU.

Xu Xiyan called Helian Qingyu and got his permission for her mother to get into the ICU.

Jing Yuyue put on the smock and entered.

She stood by the door. Seeing the man lying there in a coma, she felt like something was stuck in her throat, and she could no longer hold her feelings.

At a single glance, she burst into tears.

The love she had been hiding deeply in her heart was eventually exploding.

It was only a few steps from the door to the bed. But it almost took all her strength to make it.

She sat down by his side and looked carefully at his face.

She remembered every detail of that face distinctively, and painfully.

She got hold of his hand gently. His palm was warm, and his slim fingers seemed no less charming.

“Feng...”

It took a lot of courage for her to finally utter the name.

“Feng, get well soon, do you hear me?”

“You promised not to leave me. Did you forget?”

“You said you would find our son and bring him to me. You have to keep your promise.”

Jing Ruyue sat by Helian Wei and kept talking and weeping.

She told him a lot, which she would have never said if he was sober.

Now she hoped for nothing but for him to get well soon.

She did not want to be left alone.

Outside the room, Xu Xiyan also burst into tears upon seeing her mother whispering and weeping by her father.

She left quietly to give them some privacy.

She called Huo Yunshen to check on the situation in Estan.

Huo Yunshen told her to take good care of her parents.

It was critical in Estan now. Ever since they heard about Helian Wei's condition, the Northland had started planning for an invasion, and had finally launched the war yesterday.

Now Helian Qingyu was on the way with his troops to defeat the enemies in the northern frontier.

Chapter 1285: Think Of Another Way

Huo Yunshen also ordered a handful of his JS mercenaries to go and help Helian Qingyu.

“Can Qingyu make it back in time for the meeting?” Xu Xiyan asked.

Since the border was far from Lin City, Xu Xiyan was worried that Helian Qingyu might not be able to attend the meeting. The parliament could take him out of the picture if he cannot participate.

“We have to take care of the war first. Take care of yourself. I've asked Ye Xun to help look after Ying Bao,” Huo Yunshen said.

“Okay. Please be careful.”

“I will.”

After they hung up, Xu Xiyan could feel her heart tightening up.

People who had powers in the country were trying to take over while Helian Wei was sick.

Estan was in a state where they had to be wary of enemies from outside and troublemakers on the inside.

Xu Xiyan went back to her mother's room on the 8th floor.

“Yanyan,” Jing Ruyue said when she saw her daughter coming in. “Help me dress up, I need to meet someone.”

Xu Xiyan could not guess who her mother wanted to meet, but after staring at her mother for a few seconds, she nodded.

“Okay, one minute.”

Xu Xiyan found her mother a set of clean clothes and helped her put on some light makeup.

“All done.”

Both of them went to Xu Xiyan's car, and Xu Xiyan drove while her mother pointed out the directions. They finally stopped in front of the Guangming Residence.

Xu Xiyan could not hide her surprise as she knew it was the Secretary of State's residence.

She followed her mother down from the car and rang the doorbell. A guard came out not long after.

“I'm looking for Mr. Ouyang, could you please...”

But before Jing Ruyue could even finish her sentence, the guard shook his head.

“My apologies, madam, but he's not home.”

Ouyang Qing had ordered his guard to not allow any visitors.

He did not want to participate in the fight over power and decided to stay at home.

Jing Ruyue also knew of Ouyang Qing's temperament. There was no way that Ouyang Qing would allow anyone who wanted to pull him to their side to visit him.

"Let's go back," Jing Ruyue said.

"Mum, wait, someone will come and get us in."

Xu Xiyan thought of a way and had her mother wait.

Jing Ruyue was confused. She had no idea what trick Xu Xiyan had up her sleeves until a young girl came out.

She ran towards the gate and opened it.

But to her disappointment, only two beautiful women were standing outside, and Jun Yan was nowhere to be found.

"Nice to meet you, Miss Fefei. I'm the one who messaged you," Xu Xiyan greeted.

"Who are you?" Ouyang Feifei asked as she scanned Xu Xiyan up and down. She felt like she had met Xu Xiyan before but could not tell where.

"I'm Jun Yan's junior. He was the one who told me to message you."

"I see!" Ouyang Feifei said excitedly as soon as she heard Jun Yan's name. "Do you need anything?"

"It's like this..."

Chapter 1286: Never Failed Me

Xu Xiyan told the reason why her mother wanted to see Mr. Ouyang. So Ouyang Feifei escorted them in at once.

Luckily, Xu Xiyan had gotten to know Ouyang Feifei when she was disguised as a man. Otherwise they would not have entered the Guangming Residence so easily.

Ouyang Feifei took them directly to her father Ouyang Qing.

Inside Ouyang's study.

Hearing that he had some important guests visiting, Ouyang Qing refused directly. "I'm not seeing anyone."

Before he could finish the words, Jing Ruyue entered and asked, "Not even me?"

Upon hearing the familiar voice, Ouyang Qing suddenly raised his head and looked toward the entrance.

There came in the light a slim and fair figure, wearing a white dress. She seemed to be made of crystal.

Ouyang Qing was shocked and stood up slowly. He tried to look closely at this person in order to make sure it was not an illusion. How could he be seeing a person who was supposed to have died over a decade ago?

“Brother Ouyang, how have you been all these years?”

Seeing her old friend after so many years, Jing Ruyue could no longer hold in her feelings and almost burst into tears.

“You... Are you really Little Yue? Isn't this my imagination?”

Ouyang Qing came out from behind the desk to take a closer look at her.

Seeing that it was really her, he couldn't hold back his tears.

It was hard to define their relationship.

Perhaps they were like Jing Xi and Yexun, or Jing Xi and Ma Haodong. Jin Ruyue had come to him before she went back to her homeland many years ago. It was because of her that he stayed in Estan and helped Helian Wei with his regime.

But he was very disappointed in Helian Wei when he married another woman. It had been a thorn between them for years.

He was never interested in politics. It was merely for Jing Ruyue's sake that he had clung to the position of Secretary of State in Estan.

Although he had been involved in government affairs, he had always tried to be neutral, and stayed as far away as he could from Helian Wei.

In short, he would never harm Estan, nor would he dedicate himself to it.

Knowing that Helian Wei was seriously ill and the parties went into disputes, he remained an outsider.

But he never expected under such circumstances to see a person who had been dead for over a decade.

“What a surprise! What a surprise! I never thought I would see you alive again!”

Ouyang Qing escorted her to sit down on the couch and said, “I thought you died. How come you are here now? What happened?”

“I was not dead, but was kept imprisoned. It was not until recently that I managed to escape.”

Jing Ruyue made it brief.

Ouyang Qing did not ask anything further. It was already the best news that she had come back alive.

She seemed much slimmer than she used to be, but still as charming.

Speaking of the current situation in Estan, Jing Ruyue brought it up directly. “Brother Ouyang, I came to ask for your help. Please do help Helian Wei again. Help them get through the crisis. I will give whatever I have to pay back your kindness, even in my next life.”

Ouyang Qing sighed and frowned. “After all he has done, you are still pleading for him.”

He thought that Jing Ruyue was seriously the most stupid woman in the world. She had no control over her own future. Yet she was still thinking of that man.

“You misunderstand him. He never failed me. Please, do help him now. They are in jeopardy.”

Jing Ruyue kneeled down in front of him by the couch.

How could Ouyang Qing afford this? He rushed to lift her up. “Stand up, Little Yue, get up.”

Chapter 1287: Changes

“All right, I promise you!” Ouyang Qing nodded as he tried to hold back his tears. “I’ll do my best to protect Helian’s power.”

“Thank you! Thank you so much!”

“You haven’t greeted my wife yet, right? She will be glad to see you alive and well too! Come, I’ll bring you to her.”

Jing Ruyue was led to the living room where she met with Ren Meixin.

“Wait... Am I seeing things?”

Ren Meixin was stunned for a long time, unable to believe who she was seeing.

“No, she’s real! She’s Xiao Yue! She’s still alive!” Ouyang Qing exclaimed.

“Oh, my god! It’s really you! You really are still alive!” Ren Meixin ran forward and hugged Jing Ruyue.

A lot had changed after they were separated for more than 20 years, and they had a lot to catch up on.

After hearing Jing Ruyue’s story, Ren Meixin was enraged by it.

“That bastard, Mo Xie!” ren Meixin scolded.

“Let’s talk about something else. I met a cute girl on my way in, is she your daughter?”

“Yes, Feifei,” Ren Meixin nodded. “I know you have one too, Jing Xi. I saw her on the television on several occasions.”

“Yes, she came with me today.”

Just as they were talking about their daughters, Xu Xiyao and Ouyang Feifei walked into the living room.

They quickly became friends while talking about Jun Yan. Ouyang Feifei looked upon Xu Xiyao as her own sister.

“Jing Xi is prettier than what I saw on TV,” Ren Meixin complimented.

“I think Feifei is much prettier.”

“Look at them, they are already best friends now.”

“Just like we used to be.”

Xu Xiyan finally got the chance to introduce herself to the Ouyang family instead of Jun Yan.

They had lunch at the Guangming Residence before going back. Ouyang Qing was about to have his personal driver send them back, but Xu Xiyan declined politely.

“Thank you, but we brought our own car. Thank you for lunch,” Xu Xiyan said.

“Feel free to come over anytime,” Ouyang Qing smiled.

“Don't forget about our promise!” Ouyang Feifei reminded.

“I won't,” Xu Xiyan smiled.

After saying their goodbyes, Xu Xiyan drove Jing Ruyue back to the hospital.

“What promise did you make?” Jing Ruyue asked.

“I promised to get her a handsome boyfriend,” Xu Xiyan smiled. “Did you get what you wanted from Uncle Ouyang?”

“Yes. He promised me that he'd make the right choices in critical times; he gave me his word.”

Even though Jing Ruyue was not sure whether Ouyang Qing's decision could keep the Helian family in power, that was all that she could do for Helian Wei.

A huge change occurred just after one night.

The meeting, which was scheduled for three days later, was forwarded two days.

The parliament attended the meeting but everyone was unsure why the date had been changed.

Chapter 1288: You'd Better Behave Yourself!

Ouyang Qing, the Secretary of State, was also informed that he should come to the Blue House for a parliament meeting. Upon his arrival, a few asked if it was he who had called for a meeting ahead of schedule.

How could it be him?

While the officials were talking, a group of people came in from a side gate.

People found them to be the Chancellor of Finance, Helian Xiong, and his men.

He was in his uniform wearing a sword, and he paraded into the chamber, accompanied by his men.

They surrounded the chamber right away. Seeing their inappropriate actions, Ouyang Qing blocked his way and asked, “Helian Xiong, what are you doing?”

Helian Xiong was not intimidated at all. "Mr. Ouyang, please be seated. I have something to tell the gentlemen here."

Ouyang Qing knew exactly what Helian Xiong was planning. He lowered his voice and warned him, "Helian Xiong, it is a critical moment for this country. You'd better behave yourself!"

Helian Xiong had come well-prepared and warned back in a lower voice, "Ouyang Qing, I suggest you behave yourself instead. Otherwise, I'm not sure if you will be able to leave here and see your wife and daughter again."

"How could you..."

Ouyang Qing was shocked. Did that mean that Helian Xiong already had his family to blackmail him so as to take certain actions today?

"You'd better be seated now, Mr. Ouyang."

Helian Xiong bypassed Ouyang Qing, headed to the platform and spoke out. "Gentlemen! I am calling this meeting on behalf of Mr. President. We are undergoing a tough time. And Mr. President is seriously ill. As a member of the Helian family, I have no option but to take my responsibility to guard our country. Now I suggest we vote to elect a new president. What do you think?"

People went into an uproar upon hearing this.

How could Helian Xiong propose a presidential election without the authorization of Mr. President?

The Opposition was immediately against it. "Our president is still alive. If we have to have a successor now, it should be General Helian Qingyu. You, as a Chancellor of Finance...how could you come here with your armed men and propose an election? Are you planning an uprising?"

"How would that be an uprising?" Helian Xiong seemed extremely rampant. "As the cousin of Mr. President and a member of the Helian Family, I have every right to do so. Well, if you want a succession, I have no objection, if Helian Qingyu can attend the meeting today."

Helian Xiong said this because he was emboldened knowing that Helian Qingyu was still at the border and would never be able to make it.

Seeing through his wild ambition, Ouyang Qing stood up and spoke to his fellow officials. "Gentlemen, do not be blinded by his words. At such a time of national crisis, we should at least wait for Helian Qingyu to come back from the border before we have further discussions."

Many echoed. But a few still insisted. "Election is essential to democracy. Even if Helian Qingyu is not here, he could still be a candidate and we can make our votes. If he has more votes, he can definitely succeed. Otherwise we should select our new president through the election."

They were mostly people from other parties and Helian Wei's followers.

Upon hearing their suggestion, Helian Xiong asked Ouyang Qing, "Mr. Ouyang, what do you say now?"

Ouyang Qing upheld his own principles, saying, "I suggest we wait for General Helian Qingyu and discuss this further when he is back."

Right then, one of Helian Xiong's men brought him very important news.

Chapter 1289: Seize

“Ouyang, Helian Qingyu might not come back,” Helian Xiong laughed after he got the news.

“What do you mean?” Ouyang Qing asked, seconds before his phone, and others', rang.

[Bad news from the border, General Qingyu perished in the war.]

Everyone was shocked to see the story, while one of the parties could not believe that their successor would die.

“How is this possible...”

Ouyang Qing could not believe the news either. If Helian Qingyu had died, then there would be no successor to the Helian family. There wouldn't be anyone to challenge Helian Xiong to seize power.

Helian Xiong stood tall and looked at everyone.

“Too bad our General died in the war! This is unfortunate news,” Helian Xiong announced. “I would like everyone to stand up and grieve for three minutes.”

Some stood while some didn't. Those who remained seated were people who still could not accept Helian Qingyu's fate.

“I don't believe it!” Ouyang Qing scolded. “This has to be fake! Do you think you can take control with this?”

“I don't want to believe it either, but it's true,” Helian Xiong said. “We can't have a country without a leader. If Helian Qingyu cannot come back, then I'll have to act as the acting President for now.”

“Helian Xiong! You bastard! How dare you try to seize power while our country is facing foreign danger! People will not follow you even if you've become the President!”

Helian Xiong did not refute, but he took out a gun and shot Ouyang Qing in his leg instead.

Ouyang Qing screamed in pain as he fell to the ground.

“Is there anyone who would like to stand with Ouyang Qing?” Helian Xiong asked.

By shooting the Secretary of State in front of everyone, Helian Xiong managed to scare them.

“Don't waver!” Ouyang Qing shouted. “If our country falls into his hands, Estan will be doomed! Don't let him get what he wants!”

As soon as Ouyang Qing finished, Helian Xiong's men ran up and knocked him unconscious.

Most of the people who stood with Ouyang Qing wanted to help, but they couldn't do anything.

All of them came without backup and were now trapped inside the Blue Palace.

“Then I would like to announce that I'll be Estan's next President!” Helian Xiong said. “Does anyone object?”

Some stared at Helian Xiong angrily, but they could not do anything.

Just as Helian Xiong thought that he had won, someone kicked the door open.

“I reject!” a female voice shouted.

Everyone turned to the source of the voice and saw a pretty young girl walking in.

Chapter 1290: An Abrupt Imposter

If they had watched her movies they would have known this girl. But barely any of the officials here knew her.

Helian Xiong was amazed at the sight of the charming girl. He asked, “Hey, young girl, are you sure you meant to come here?”

Xu Xiyan did mean to come here. She had been encouraged by her mother to come here, in order to help her father defend his country.

Slowly she came to the stage and answered, “Absolutely. I came here for my father.”

“Your father? Who is he?”

Xu Xiyan then turned to the crowd and said, “My father...he is the chief executive of Estan, President Helian Wei.”

Upon hearing her words, Helian Wei burst into laughter and a few others followed.

Everyone knew that Helian Wei only had one son named Helian Qingyu.

Everyone knew that their president had absolutely no scandals since he had been assigned to be the president more than a decade ago.

How could he have a grown-up daughter? What a joke!

“I know you probably can't believe it. But me being his biological daughter is something that none of you can deny,” Xu Xiyan stated.

Helian Xiong finally stopped laughing and said, “Fine, fine. Even if you are his daughter, you should have gone to the hospital instead of coming here for him.”

Helian Wei was not the only one who found it hard to believe. Barely anyone at the scene could be convinced. They all thought she was merely a fraud.

“Helian Xiong!”

Xu Xiyan suddenly challenged him. "Aren't you aware that, according to the presidential succession regulations of Estan, either the son or daughter of the president can be his legal successor? Even if Helian Qingyu were dead, my father still has a daughter. It will never be your turn!"

Helian Xiong was slightly stunned by her words. Upon taking a second glance he put on a more serious look and answered, "It is indeed so according to the regulation. But how can we know you are not some random imposter? How can you just come out of nowhere and claim to be the daughter of the president? Stop daydreaming! Go get her!"

Helian Xiong was almost out of his mind and could no longer care about the regulations. He ordered his men to arrest Xu Xiyan.

Right then someone shouted from outside the chamber, "Stop it!"

It was a very familiar voice. People looked outside and were shocked.

Was that... Helian Qingyu, who was said to be dead?

Was he still alive?

Indeed, Helian Qingyu had not died.

Shortly after his father was hospitalized, he had found out that Helian Xiong was conspiring for an uprising with Lstan and the Northland. That was why he had visited the Northland previously.

The president of Northland met with him and stated clearly that he was not going to help the rebels. Instead, he agreed to work with Helian Qingyu to get Helian Xiong.

Therefore, from Helian Xiong's conspiracy to Helian Qingyu's fake death, everything was under the control of Helian Qingyu and Helian Wei.

Today, Jing Xi had shown up to buy Helian Qingyu enough time to return to the Blue House.

While Helian Qingyu entered the chamber, his men immediately got hold of Helian Xiong's.

He stood in confrontation with Helian Xiong.

Helian Qingyu appeared awe-inspiring in his black military uniform. He gazed at Helian Xiong on the stage and challenged, "Helian Xiong, if she is not qualified, what about me?"