

Priceless Baby 1291

Chapter 1291: Tricked

“You're still alive?”

Helian Xiong did not expect Helian Qingyu to be alive. He then realized that the news about Helian Qingyu's death might have been faked to trick him.

“Yes, I'm still alive so that I can uncover your conspiracy!” Helian Qingyu scolded as he took his gun out. “How dare you try to take over the country while my father is still alive! I should have shot you when I had the chance!”

Helian Xiong quickly grabbed Jing Xi, who was standing next to him, and used her as his shield while pointing his gun to her head.

“You better stop right where you are! I'll shoot if I have to!” Helian Xiong shouted.

“Jing Xi!”

Helian Qingyu had not expected that Helian Xiong would try to use Xu Xiyan.

Helian Xiong was sure that the woman he had in his hands could help him escape.

“Just shoot!” Xu Xiyan shouted.

But there was no way Helian Qingyu would fire if it put her at risk.

Just as Helian Xiong was trying to escape, Helian Qingyu ordered his men to bring Helian Chen up.

Looking at his son being captured, Helian Xiong was stunned for a while. Xu Xiyan took the chance and threw him over to the ground.

Helian Xiong tried to fire his gun, but Xu Xiyan was faster. She quickly stepped on his hand, releasing the weapon from Helian Xiong's grip.

Xu Xiyan kicked the gun up and grabbed it, pointing it at Helian Xiong.

If people knew, they would not believe that all of this was done by a pregnant lady.

Helian Xiong and his son were finally apprehended and were brought away.

Helian Qingyu exchanged looks with Jing Xi and walked on stage.

“I would like to thank everyone who stood by my father's side until the end. So, does anyone still think that we should vote for the next president?” Helian Qingyu asked as he stared through the crowd.

With what had just happened to Helian Xiong, the people who were making a scene remained quiet.

“I have a list of names here,” Helian Qingyu said while bringing a list up. “In it are people who sided with Helian Xiong.”

Upon seeing the list, people who had chosen to side with Helian Xiong became restless.

"I finally realized something after what happened today," Helian Qingyu continued. "I realized that anyone who tried to overthrow the government must not be spared!"

Helian Qingyu slammed his fist on the table and silenced the crowd.

"Capture everyone who's on this list!" Helian Qingyu ordered.

His men stormed into the meeting room and apprehended six people.

"Here is another list, a list of people who had no choice but to side with Helian Xiong," Helian Qingyu said as he took another list out. "But because all of you were loyal to my father in the past, I've decided not to take action. But mark my words, if this happens again, I'll definitely not let any one of you go!"

After taking care of everything, Helian Qingyu invited another person into the meeting. That person was his father's attorney, Qi Fang.

"My father wrote his will before he was in critical condition! I'll now have his attorney, Mr. Qi, announce it!"

Chapter 1292: Meant To Be

Helian Wei had made two testaments previously, one for presidential succession, the other for his legacy.

Qi Fang was about to announce the presidential succession testament.

People were eager to hear it. Qi Fang came up to the stage, opened his briefcase and took out the confidential documents.

"Gentlemen, it is with great horror that I, Qi Fang, shall make this announcement on behalf of President Helian Wei as his private attorney.

"This is the presidential succession testament Mr. President made seven days ago. And now I will read it to you.

"I, Helian Wei, as the current President of Estan, am fully conscious when making this testament.

"With immediate effect, I shall hand over the presidency, together with the chief military and political executive power, to my son Helian Qingyu.

"I sincerely hope that the Secretary of State, and all the ministers and senators, will extend the same level of support to the new president, and make Estan thrive and prosper. I, Helian Wei, am truly grateful for you all.

"That is the end of the testament. Thank you."

Upon finishing reading it, Qi Fang stepped down and Helian Qingyu came onto the stage again. He stated calmly, "With my father's testament announced, with immediate effect I shall succeed my father to be the president of Estan and serve as the chief military and political executive. Is there any objection?"

There was nothing but silence throughout the spacious chamber.

No one objected. Instead, someone spoke aloud, "We support President Qingyu!"

Immediately after him, everyone raised their fists and yelled out their support for the new president.

With their warm acclaims, Helian Qingyu succeeded the presidency.

When the meeting was over, everyone left except Helian Qingyu, Jing Xi and Qi Fang.

Qi Fang did not leave because he had another announcement to make. "President Qingyu, His Excellence Helian Wei has another testament to be announced."

"What for?"

Qi Fang opened the files again and read, "His Excellence Helian Wei has amended the legacy testament. He will donate the assets previously assigned to Ms. Yun Xuerou to charity instead.

"In addition, he will grant his daughter, Jing Xi, ownership of the Star Island as well as his three private manors."

Then Qi Fang closed the files. Helian Qingyu was left stunned, and he stared at Jing Xi for a long while.

What did he miss?

What was his father keeping from him?

How come he never knew that he had a half-blooded sister?

And that sister happened to be Jing Xi?

Even Jing Xi herself was shocked. She did not expect Helian Wei to know that she was his daughter.

And she hadn't expected that he had made a legacy testament for her.

The president's Star Island was the largest in Estan. It was priceless.

Together with his other manors, it was a great fortune. How could he have left them to her?

Helian Qingyu stood in front of her and looked her up and down. He was indeed surprised. "Jing Xi, I never expected I could have a sister. When did you find it out?"

"Not until recently. I'm so sorry. My mother and I did not mean to interrupt."

Xu Xiyao felt really sorry.

"Nonsense! It's probably how it was meant to be. Do you know, Jing Xi, that I thought you looked familiar ever since I first met you in Zstan. But I never thought you could be my half-blooded sister."

"Neither did I."

"How amazing. Anyway, thank you for what you did just now."

Chapter 1293: A Huge Mess

Xu Xiyan did not need Helian Qingyu to thank her; she had done it all for her mother and father.

Even though she still could not address Helian Wei as her father yet, she knew that he was a great person.

“Where's Yunshen? Do you know where he is?”

Xu Xiyan had heard from Huo Yunshen that he would be helping Helian Qingyu with the war. Even though Helian Qingyu had returned, she did not see Huo Yunshen with him, and it made her worry.

“He should be at the Southern Border now trying to prevent Lstan from invading,” Helian Qingyu said.

With how Helian Xiong planned a coup d'etat, Helian Qingyu was sure that Lstan would try to invade Estan from the south.

“We still have a war to fight there,” Helian Qingyu said, patting Xu Xiyan's shoulder. “I'll go to the border after this and fight with my bro. Let's go back to the hospital first.”

Xu Xiyan understood the situation. With the news of Helian Wei being sick in bed spreading to Lstan, Mo Yutian would take the chance to attack Estan.

“Then I wish you good luck,” Xu Xiyan prayed.

After Helian Qingyu dropped Xu Xiyan off at the hospital, he rushed straight to the Southern Border.

The fight had already started when Helian Qingyu arrived, as he could hear explosions near the port.

Huo Yunshen was the acting General, leading Helian Qingyu's troops to fight against their enemy.

Lstan had brought most of its military powers and the ocean was filled with battleships.

Helian Qingyu rushed to the frontline and met up with Huo Yunshen to defend his country.

With the geographical advantage that Estan had, they were able to prevent Lstan from boarding their ships. Lstan's invasion did not succeed in the end.

Almost half of Lstan's ships were sunk and they could only escape back to where they came from.

Even though Estan had successfully defended their lands, they also suffered huge losses.

Huo Yunshen handed the General badge back to Helian Qingyu after the war.

“Thank you so much, bro. If you weren't here today, the situation would be very different. It would be a huge mess!”

“Don't celebrate yet. If I'm right, they will find a chance to attack again.”

“I know.”

“We walked straight into their trap!” Mo Yutian scolded.

Mo Yutian suspected that the news about Helian Qingyu's death had been faked just so they could lure them out from the Dark Zone.

There was no other explanation that Mo Yutian could find to explain why the Southern Border was still heavily guarded when their powers should have been directed to the north.

And he could faintly see from his warship that Estan's General was leading the war from the command center.

“But we did not leave with nothing. At least we got to learn about Estan's situation. The news about Helian Wei being in critical condition is true, and Helian Qingyu is now the new President of Estan. We also have to save Lady White Tea from imprisonment.”

Chapter 1294: Some Inking

“Right. We need to plan well.”

While they were planning for an invasion by the sand table, someone rushed in and reported, “Your Majesty, the Queen's condition is getting worse.”

Hearing that Jing Xi's health was going downhill, Mo Yutian stopped the conversation and hastened to leave.

Mo Xie called to stop him. “Xiao-Er, there's one more thing I need to tell you.”

“What is it?”

“Your aunt found out they might have replaced your Jing Xi before they took my Yue-Er.”

Mo Xie looked at him sympathetically. Mo Yutian was shocked. He doubted it. “How could that be possible?”

With such doubts, he left for their palace immediately.

Alice was lying on the bed with her eyes closed. She looked extremely pale and even weaker than ever.

Mo Yutian and Alice got along even better these days. Yet her health kept going downhill.

Despite the medication she had been taking, she still showed signs of a miscarriage.

The doctors suggested that she was too weak to give birth. But Alice insisted on keeping the baby.

Mo Yutian came to her side and stared carefully at her.

Is she Jing Xi?

She seemed to be like Jing Xi in every way.

She had the tattoo on the waist. He had been so certain that she was Jing Xi.

Mo Yutian recalled what had happened previously. When the doctor said that it was her first time conceiving, he called him a quack.

Now he wondered if she was indeed a fake Jing Xi.

Mo Yutian sent her to the doctors to make sure if it was her first time.

When he saw the result, Mo Yutian almost passed out. It showed that this so-called Jing Xi was indeed conceiving for the first time. She had never given birth to any baby previously.

Which meant his Jing Xi had been replaced.

No wonder Jing Xi had stopped rejecting him since the night of their wedding.

So was she replaced on the day of their wedding?

Could this extremely weak woman be the clone he made himself?

Thinking of that, Mo Yutian felt his brain almost blowing. He could not bear the thought of having been living with a fake Jing Xi for such a long while without finding any inkling.

He stood up with his fists clenched and his eyes burning in rage.

He had to figure out what had happened.

Who had replaced his woman?

Alice was sent back to the palace after the examination. She woke up to see the familiar figure.

“Yutian.”

The dark figure turned around. But he seemed chilling and brutal.

Alice was scared seeing him like this. She asked, “What happened?”

“I should have asked that question. You tell me, who are you?”

Alice was shocked. Could he have found out my secret?

Despite her fear, Alice tried to smile back. “Yutian, what's wrong with you? I'm Jing Xi.”

“Humph...”

Mo Yutian sneered and threw the report in her face. It clearly stated that she was conceiving for the first time.

“Now you tell me. If you were Jing Xi, you should have given birth to a baby. But you haven't! So you are Alice, the clone I made. Yet you betrayed me for them!”

Chapter 1295: A Kiss First

Alice had prepared for this day to come, but she did not expect it to be so soon.

"Yutian, I'm really sorry..." Alice sobbed as she dropped her head and raised it up again. "I did this all because I want to be with you."

Mo Yutian closed his eyes angrily as he tried to control his urge to kill Alice.

"I know what I did was unforgivable, but please forgive me for the sake of our child," Alice begged as she kneeled and hugged Mo Yutian's leg.

"How am I supposed to forgive you?" Mo Yutian scolded as he kicked Alice away. "You're just a clone!"

"You're right, I am a clone, but I also have feelings like normal people! I love you, and I need you. All I wanted was to be by your side, is that wrong?"

Tears rolled down Alice's cheeks as she stared at Mo Yutian.

"No, I'm the one who's in the wrong."

Mo Yutian knew that even by killing Alice, he could not calm his anger. He just couldn't do it.

Mo Yutian called his men into his room and ordered, "Lock her up in the dungeon. Don't let me see her again."

"Yutian! Please! The child..."

"There's no way a clone could give birth to a healthy baby!"

Mo Yutian finally realized why the queen's body was getting weaker every day. It was because she was a clone, and her body could not last.

And he had never even suspected anything.

He really thought he'd gotten his hands on Jing Xi.

Mo Yutian became even more depressed after Alice was locked up.

He could even hear her cries every night, and it was making his life even harder.

All he could tell himself every day was that he must not forgive those who betrayed him.

Mo Yutian had already learned that it was his sister, Lan Ling'er, who had brought the outsiders into his palace on the day of his wedding and swapped his bride.

The first thing Huo Yunshen did when he returned to the hospital was to meet his wife.

The moment Jing Xi saw Huo Yunshen coming into her mother's room, she ran up and hugged him.

"Hubby!"

"Jing Xi!"

They hugged each other as if there were no other people around them.

"How's the south?" Xu Xiyao asked after they had separated from each other.

“We won. The enemy has retreated back to the Dark Zone.”

“I knew my husband would win!”

Xu Xiyan wrapped her arms around Huo Yunshen and tried to kiss him.

“Don't worry, she's asleep.”

All Xu Xiyan wanted to do at that moment was to give her husband a kiss as encouragement.

She pulled Huo Yunshen's head forward and kissed him hard.

Jing Ruyue was actually still awake when everything happened and said, “Don't stop. I'm already sleeping. Just ignore me.”

1

“...” Huo Yunshen was already speechless, but before he could do anything, Xu Xiyan's lips touched his again.

“Oh, right, you came back just in time. Let's go take a look at Uncle Ouyang, he should be awake now,” Xu Xiyan said.

“Okay.

“Wait, I'm coming too,” said the woman who had pretended to be asleep.

Ouyang Qing had already had the bullet removed from his leg in the hospital.

When he woke up and saw Helian Qingyu in front of him, he tried to get up.

Chapter 1296: A Younger Sister

“Hey, you shouldn't move,” Helian Qingyu shouted when he saw Ouyang Qing trying to get up. “Your wound is closed now, but you need to rest. I've already asked someone to inform Mrs. Ouyang and your daughter, and they will arrive anytime soon.”

“What happened after I was unconscious?” Ouyang Qing asked as he thought of what Helian Xiong had done. “Did Helian Xiong overtake the Blue Palace?”

“No. I've got him in custody now,” Helian Qingyu replied.

“I see.”

Ouyang Qing let out a sigh of relief.

After talking for a while, in came three other people. They were Xu Xiyan, Huo Yunshen, and Jing Ruyue.

“Brother Ouyang, thank you so much,” Jing Ruyue said. “You even got hurt for it.”

“I didn't do anything. You didn't have to come all the way to visit me.”

“No, if you had not stood with my father when Helian Xiong was attempting the coup d'etat, we could've never taken him down,” Helian Qingyu said. “We don't even know how to thank you for that.”

“You better thank Jing Xi and her mother. They were the ones who talked me into it.”

Helian Qingyu looked at Jing Xi and Jing Ruyue, and he smiled.

“Of course I do. But did you know that because of this coup d'etat, I was finally able to find myself a little sister?”

Helian Qingyu had already been friends with Jing Xi before everything happened. Their relationship wouldn't waver even if they were half-siblings.

“For real?”

Ouyang Qing only knew about Helian Wei's romance with Jing Ruyue, but he did not realize that they had a child together.

“Wait,” Huo Yunshen asked as he looked at Jing Xi. “Is he telling the truth? Why didn't you tell me about it?”

“I've also just learned about it myself. Mum's the one who wanted me to keep it a secret.” Xu Xiyan smiled awkwardly.

Huo Yunshen grabbed his wife's hand as he stared at her, unable to believe that she was the daughter of Estan's President.

He was happy that his wife was finally able to find her long lost father.

When Huo Yunshen thought about how Helian Wei had visited Jing Xi in Zstan and how he had helped them, he guessed that Helian Wei must've known about the secret since then.

Some of them turned to look at Jing Ruyue, which made her feel uncomfortable.

Jing Ruyue had tried to keep it a secret but everyone found out in the end.

“All right, let's stop talking about that.” Jing Ruyue smiled awkwardly. “If there's nothing else, then I'll go back to my room now.”

After Jing Ruyue left, it was Xu Xiyan's turn to smile awkwardly.

“My mum's embarrassed about it, let's not talk about it in front of her in the future. Oh, right, Uncle Ouyang, did you know that General Qingyu is now the President?”

“Really? Then I should address you as Mr. President in the future,” Ouyang Qing turned to Helian Qingyu and said.

“No, you can just call me Qingyu like you always do.” Helian Qingyu smiled and turned to Xu Xiyan. “Hey, Jing Xi, are you still calling me General Qingyu? Shouldn't you change the way you address me too?”

"I get it, Mr. President."

"Nope, not that."

"Big bro?"

"That's more like it."

Chapter 1297: Calling Him Father

Helian Qingyu was very satisfied. He turned to Huo Yunshen with his brows slightly lifted. "So what should you call me now?"

He had been calling Huo Yunshen big brother all these years. Now that Jing Xi had become his sister, he could finally win a round.

Huo Yunshen punched him in the shoulder while he held Jing Xi and snorted, "Only if you can win against me in shooting."

Helian Qingyu: "..."

How could he make fun of him for that?

In that case he could only be his little brother throughout their lives.

They waited until Ouyang Qing's wife and daughter arrived, then left.

Xu Xiyan and Huo Yunshen were about to go to her mother when Helian Qingyu stopped them and proposed, "Let's go check on our father."

Instead of echoing his proposal, Xu Xiyan took a glance at Huo Yunshen first. Huo Yunshen suggested, "You go with Qingyu. I'll go and take care of mother."

"OK."

Xu Xiyan followed Helian Qingyu to Helian Wei's ward. He had been transferred from the ICU to a VIP ward now but was still in a coma.

Looking at his pale face Xu Xiyan felt overwhelmingly sad.

Their blood ties overrode anything else.

Even if he had been absent throughout her life, he was still her father.

"Jing Xi, actually, our father was not seriously sick."

Helian Qingyu finally decided to tell her the truth.

Xu Xiyan looked confused at him, while he continued. "It was our strategy to cope with the rebels. He did not have another heart attack, nor was he seriously sick. Instead, he had given one of his kidneys to Aunt Jing. It is probably because of the transplant surgery that he is still in a coma."

"..."

Xu Xiyan was speechless and found it hard to swallow.

If she had not been told by Helian Qingyu, she would never have known that the donor was her own father.

Xu Xiyan was deeply touched by his love. How selfless he must have been to risk his own life to give a kidney to her mother!

He suffered from heart troubles. It could have easily taken his life.

No one knew if he would wake up again.

Xu Xiyan lost control of her feelings and burst into tears.

Her mother had just barely survived. Now it was her father's turn. Would they ever be together again?

Helian Qingyu went to his father and whispered, "Father, open your eyes, please. I brought my sister to you."

He did not react. Helian Qingyu turned to Jing Xi. "Jing Xi, come to father. You should try calling him. Perhaps he will hear you and wake up."

Xu Xiyan came to his side with her tears falling like pouring rain.

She looked at her father's handsome face and uttered the word with a trembling voice, "Father..."

Upon saying that she bent over him and cried.

It had been so long since she had said that word.

It was probably when she had lost her mother at the age of six. She never called Xu Jinshan "dad" after that.

It had been over a decade. She had been wondering what her real father was like since she found out that Xu Jinshan was not her biological father.

Chapter 1298: A Favor

Xu Xiyan had always thought of what would happen when she was able to finally meet her real father.

But she had never thought that it would be in the hospital where he was in a critical condition.

"Don't be too sad, the doctor said that dad still has a high chance of waking up," Helian Qingyu said while he patted Xu Xiyan's back.

"Big bro, I need a favor."

"What's that?"

“My mum and dad have loved each other for a very long time but they never really had the chance to be together. They've been through too much. I really hope that in the remainder of their lives, my mum can be with dad. I hope you don't mind...”

Xu Xiyan wanted Helian Qingyu's approval because they both had different mothers and Helian Qingyu would still stand on his mother's side if he needed to.

But Helian Qingyu also knew that his parents had never really loved each other. Plus when he found out that his mother had been endangering the country, he knew his father would never forgive her.

They were both divorced, and Helian Qingyu had nothing to worry about.

He also hoped that his father could live happily.

Helian Qingyu thought that Jing Xi's request might actually benefit Helian Wei.

“All right! I don't mind. Do as you like,” Helian Qingyu said in approval.

Xu Xiyan was really glad to get her brother's approval. After staying by her father's side for a little while longer, she went back to her mother's room.

When Xu Xiyan walked into the room, Huo Yunshen noticed that her eyes were red and guessed that she'd just been crying.

Huo Yunshen pulled Xu Xiyan into his arms and hugged her quietly.

“The doctor told us that mum can leave the hospital tomorrow,” Huo Yunshen said, breaking the silence.

“Okay.”

Xu Xiyan was already planning out how to let her mother and father meet.

Jing Ruyue also heard what Huo Yunshen had said and turned around.

“I can leave tomorrow?”

“Yes, the doctor told me that.”

But Jing Ruyue did not want to leave the hospital because Helian Wei was still lying unconsciously in it.

“Mum, we've been here for too long, it's time to go home.”

Xu Xiyan did not tell her mother of her plan so that she could give her a surprise.

Jing Ruyue did not argue with her daughter and agreed to leave.

Huo Yunshen came back to fetch Jing Ruyue the next day with Ying Bao.

“Grandma!” Ying Bao greeted with a huge lily and carnation bouquet. “These are for you! I hope you can stay healthy every day!”

“Thank you, my little one.” Jing Ruyue smiled as she kissed Ying Bao on her cheek.

“Come on, mum, let's go,” Xu Xiyan said.

“Okay.” Jing Ruyue nodded and followed them out of the hospital.

Before she got into the car, Jing Ruyue turned to look at the room that Helian Wei was staying in.

She sighed in her heart, praying for a miracle to save him.

On the way back, Jing Ruyue noticed that the car was going in the wrong direction, away from Lin City.

“Where are we going? I thought we were going home?” Jing Ruyue asked.

“We are, mum. We are going home.” Xu Xiyan smiled.

Chapter 1299: Uncovering The Truth

Jing Ruyue thought it was the place her brother had prepared for her and that she would probably live here with her father Jing Huaduo from now on.

In a short while, a romantic rose garden appeared in front of them. Jing Ruyue looked through the blossoming roses and became amazed.

It reminded her of the best time she had with Feng. He used to say, “Xiao Yueliang, I'll make you a rose garden and collect all the beautiful roses in it. Whenever you open your eyes you will see them blooming, and smell their charming scents.”

It felt like yesterday when he'd said this.

However, the person who had said this was lying in the hospital now.

While Jing Ruyue was grieving over their past, the car pulled over in the rose garden.

Her daughter opened the door and said, “Mother, it's such a nice garden. Let's take a walk inside!”

“OK.”

Jing Ruyue got out of the car and strolled along the road with her daughter and the others.

There were all kinds of rose blossoms in various colors, like rainbows painted on the ground.

Ying Bao held her grandmother's hand and yelled all of a sudden, “Grandma! Look! There's a huge castle!”

Bypassing the rose garden, they saw a magnificent white castle located in the heart of the lake.

“Indeed! What a huge castle!”

“Grandma, let's go take a look inside!”

Ying Bao had enjoyed running around the castle when they came here last time. Now she could not wait to play inside again.

“Ying Bao, grandma cannot walk too fast. Slow down!” Xu Xiyan reminded her little girl.

Ying Bao turned back and grinned with her cute little teeth unveiled. "I know, mommy, I'll walk slowly with grandma!"

In order to practice the word slow, the little girl bent and started walking step by step. It seemed funny and cute.

They walked over the bridge and came to the castle. The guards opened the gates and they entered in sequence.

Once entering the castle, Ying Bao charged away like a rabbit released in a grassland. Huo Yunshen hurried to go after her.

Following them, Xu Xiyan led her mother in.

Jing Ruyue observed closely while they walked along. It felt completely different from when she was in the Ghost Castle.

It was gloomy and chill in the Ghost Castle, whereas this one was moderately luxurious, and felt as welcoming as a home.

"How come I have never heard of it? When was this castle built?" Jing Ruyue wondered.

Xu Xiyan cuddled on her mother's arm and explained, "Mother, it was secretly started over a decade ago and eventually finished only five years ago. That's why you never heard of it."

Walking through the corridor they ended in a lofty hall.

Seeing a portrait of a woman playing violin on stage on the wall, Jing Ruyue wondered why it looked like the young her from many years ago. "Why do I feel that the woman in the portrait looks like me?"

"Mother, it is you indeed!"

Xu Xiyan was about to uncover the truth. "Do you know the name of the castle?"

"No."

"It has a very special name: the Moon Castle. If we could take a look from above, the castle takes the shape of a moon located in the heart of lake."

"I see."

Xu Xiyan asked further, "Mother, do you have any idea who owns this place?"

Chapter 1300: A Shocking Truth

"You and Yunshen?" Jing Ruyue guessed.

"You are half correct," Xu Xiyan said. "This castle is now ours, but it used to be Helian Wei's."

After hearing her daughter's explanation, Jing Ruyue was too shocked to utter a word.

Since Helian Wei was once the castle owner, it meant that the rose garden was also his.

It also meant that he had fulfilled his promise to her and spent more than 10 years on building the castle and garden for Jing Ruyue.

Jing Ruyue suddenly felt a pain in her heart, scolding Helian Wei for being stupid.

“He left the castle to you?” Jing Ruyue asked.

“Yup,” Xu Xiyan nodded. “But I've given it back to dad.”

“You've already told him?”

“Yes, mum, this will be your home from now on.”

Jing Ruyue could not say anything further.

“Mum, I know you and dad still love each other but were separated due to many things,” Xu Xiyan said, without waiting for her mother's response. “I'm trying my best to let you live comfortably.”

“But what good is this? He's still in the hospital, how can I live here without worrying about him?”

“I know that. But do you know why he's in this state now?”

Jing Ruyue shook her head.

“Because he gave you one of his kidneys.”

“...”

It was a shocking truth for Jing Ruyue.

She always wanted to know who the one who gave her the new kidney was, but she never even suspected that it was from Helian Wei.

With Helian Wei's condition, he was definitely unfit for a transplant, but he insisted on doing it.

Jing Ruyue blamed Helian Wei for being stupid as tears rolled down. Jing Ruyue turned to hug her daughter and began to cry.

Xu Xiyan waited until her mother stopped crying and said, “Come on, mum, let's go to the top floor.”

Xu Xiyan led her mother to the master bedroom and let her go in.

When Jing Ruyue entered, she could see a man sleeping on the bed. It was Helian Wei.

“Isn't he in the hospital? Why is he here?” Jing Ruyue asked as she jumped in surprise.

“Big bro has already approved of it. Now you can be by his side every day,” Xu Xiyan explained. “I know you have a lot to say to dad, so I'll leave you two be.”

Xu Xiyan left, leaving Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei in the room.

Tears rolled down Jing Ruyue's face again as she ambled towards the bed.
