

Priceless Baby 1451

Chapter 1451: Never Forget Each Other

Huo Yunshen came over and kneeled down by her side. He took it and explained seriously, "It's a breast pump."

"Breast... what?"

Jing Xi took a second look at the cute little hopper. She was never expecting a breast pump.

Huo Yunshen placed it on Jing Xi's chest and explained, "It works like this. You pump it and feed the babies later. And you can store the extra instead of wasting it.

"..."

Fine. Jing Xi never used such things when she had Ying Bao. She was learning new things now.

She picked another cute little thing and asked, "Then what is this?"

"This is a bottle warmer, to make it warm."

"Oh my! How come you could find so many strange things? I've never seen them."

"Just in case. So that we won't be frantic when they come."

Huo Yunshen was very thoughtful. They were expecting two babies instead of one. Therefore the work must be double.

He bought whatever was available so that they would not be caught unprepared.

"Right. You are so thoughtful. I have been worrying about how we'll be able to take care of two babies at the same time."

There was no way that Jing Xi could handle this. When she had Ying Bao it was mostly Ye Xun who took care of the baby.

Huo Yunshen got hold of her hand and smiled. "No need to worry at all. In a worst case scenario, I could seek out Ye Xun's help. He is an experienced new dad. I can learn anything from him."

"Indeed! Second Brother is really good with babies. If your third sister marries him, she will be spoiled."

Jing Xi could picture their future if they got married. Ye Xun would probably be the baby-sitter while Huo Sanyan continued to play the queen and superwoman.

"Who knows. I doubt Ye Xun could ever become my brother-in-law."

Huo Yunshen told the truth. Based on their unique love/torture style, no one knew when they could eventually get married.

"Ever since third sister lost her memory, she seems to be switching to a torturing mode. My Second Brother is so miserable. I could never imagine what it feels like to forget the one you love."

Jing Xi held Huo Yunshen's face and stared into his eyes. "Honey, do you have any idea how worried I was when you went into a coma after coming back from Lstan? I was desperate. What if you had forgotten me when you woke up? If you ever did so, I would be so heartbroken!"

Speaking of that, Jing Xi almost burst into tears again.

Huo Yunshen was also grateful that he did not suffer from amnesia. "Me too, honey. If you ever forget me one day, I will be no less heartbroken. Therefore we have to promise never to forget each other throughout our lives and stay together forever. Shall we?"

"Yes, sure."

They looked into each other's eyes and their hearts stayed as close as they could.

Looking at his charming eyes and alluring lips, Jing Xi lowered her head and placed a kiss on them.

They caressed each other for a satisfyingly long while.

"Now do you want to take a walk in the garden? I'll come with you."

"Sure."

Huo Yunshen helped his wife stand up. But right then he lost his eyesight again for a split second and almost fell down.

Jing Xi got hold of him and asked anxiously, "Honey, are you OK?"

Chapter 1452: Worried

"I'm all right. I think I'm a little down on oxygen after the kiss," Huo Yunshen explained.

"Don't lie to me! Tell me! This has been happening quite a lot lately, hasn't it?"

Jing Xi had been noticing her husband would sometimes stumble suddenly.

"I don't really know what is happening either. Sometimes it's like everything will go black for a second for me."

"Could it be anemia?"

"I'm not sure."

"We should go to the hospital, just in case," Jing Xi said and pushed Huo Yunshen out to their car. "I'll go with you."

They sat in the back seat while their driver, Mo An, drove them to the hospital.

Gu Yici was shocked when both Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi came into his office.

"What's wrong? Coming here together," Gu Yici said.

“Tell him what's been happening,” Jing Xi said.

“Is something bothering you?” Gu Yici turned to ask Huo Yunshen.

“I think something is wrong with my eyes. I blackout for a few seconds sometimes.” Huo Yunshen explained his symptoms.

Gu Yici checked with Huo Yunshen's body but couldn't find anything right away. Remembering that Huo Yunshen had brain surgery recently, Gu Yici recommended that he retake a CT scan.

Jing Xi accompanied Huo Yunshen to take the scan.

When the report came out, Jing Xi quickly took a look at it, but it was all in English, and Jing Xi could barely understand it.

But based on Jing Xi's medical knowledge, it seemed to her that something was wrong with Huo Yunshen's central nervous system.

Gu Yici took a look at the report and said, “The wound is closing up perfectly, but there's a shadow near his central nervous system. I suspect it might be extravasated blood. If my suspicion is true and if that clot is pressing against the central nervous system, it will cause CNSL.”

“It means Central Nervous System Leukemia.”

“Leukemia?” Jing Xi panicked. “What should we do?”

She couldn't believe that they would be burdened with another problem just days after their happy lives had begun.

Huo Yunshen was also shocked by the news, but what worried him the most was Jing Xi. He was afraid that it might be a burden to her emotions.

If he'd known that it was leukemia, he would've never brought her to the hospital with him.

“Don't worry, it might not be as bad as it sounds.” Huo Yunshen quickly comforted his wife.

“What do you mean, ‘not bad as it sounds?’ It's leukemia! It wouldn't be this bad if you had come to the hospital sooner!” Jing Xi scolded and turned to Gu Yici. “Will he be okay if we take the clot out?”

Huo Yunshen had a feeling that the condition wasn't as simple as it seemed. He quickly gave Gu Yici a look, telling him to not say too much in front of Jing Xi.

But Gu Yici was too focused on the report and didn't notice Huo Yunshen's signal.

“It's not that simple. We have to control his leukemia first before we can remove the clot. I can see two possible risks here.”

“How big are the risks?”

Chapter 1453: Being An Alarmist

"It's very risky to operate on the central nervous system and the rate of success is very low. Any single fault could lead to a permanent coma, or even death."

Upon hearing this Huo Yunshen said to himself, "Damn it."

As expected, Jing Xi was shocked by his words and passed out right away. Luckily Huo Yunshen got her in time.

Gu Yici turned back and saw Jing Xi pass out. He asked anxiously, "What's wrong with her?"

Huo Yunshen gnashed and glared at Gu Yici. "Didn't you get my hint? How could you just say it?"

Gu Yici: "..."

How innocent he was!

As a doctor, he had to explain it clearly to the patient. Right?

And in his opinion, it was not incurable. So there was no need to hide anything from them!

Huo Yunshen placed his wife on the couch and asked, "If we don't do anything, will this clot disappear by itself?"

"No way! If you don't take proper treatments, you will gradually lose your eyesight until you go completely blind."

"What treatments do you suggest?"

"First of all, we have to deal with your CNSL. You'd better come to the hospital as soon as possible. Come back tomorrow morning. I'll get you inpatient support and arrange an expert consultation."

"Can't we wait until she gives birth?"

Huo Yunshen hoped that he could stay with his wife until she gave birth. So he did not want to be hospitalized immediately.

"Can you wait? You could lose your eyesight anytime, or even your life. You'd better listen to me. For the sake of your wife and kids, you have to get the operation as soon as possible."

Indeed. Huo Yunshen could not risk his life.

He only had one chance and he had already promised his wife that he would be fine.

Therefore he could only follow Gu Yici's advice.

"Fine. I see. But you have to mind your words. When Jing Xi wakes up, don't be an alarmist again. If anything ever happens to her I won't let you walk away from it!"

Gu Yici scratched his head and said, "OK! I won't say anything harsh."

After some while Jing Xi woke up in the lounge. Huo Yunshen stayed by her side and had his hand in hers.

“Honey...”

Jing Xi immediately burst into tears again.

“Don't cry, don't cry, honey. It's really nothing serious. Gu Yici was just being an alarmist. Don't listen to him.”

“Don't lie to me anymore! How could that be nothing serious?”

Jing Xi held Huo Yunshen's hands and cried, “Honey, I don't want anything to ever happen to you again! Otherwise, what could our kids and I do?”

“Don't be silly, sweetheart.”

Huo Yunshen wiped her tears and comforted her. “I already discussed it with him. As long as I come to the hospital and have the operation in time, everything will be fine. Gu asked me to come tomorrow morning and he will arrange a consultation.”

“Good. Let's do whatever he suggests. I won't be free of worries unless you come as soon as possible.”

“OK.”

On the following day, they came back together at nine o'clock and the experts gathered for a consultation for Huo Yunshen.

The result was to carry out the operation in two phases. The first would be to deal with CNSL, and the second to remove the blood clot.

They all agreed that the best way to cure CNSL was to do a bone marrow transplant.

Chapter 1454: Results of Consultation

Gu Yici came out from the conference room and told the details to the couple.

“The most important thing we need to do right now is to find him matching marrow. We should start with his relatives.”

Jing Xi nodded in understanding.

Gu Yici suggested that Huo Yunshen stay in the hospital, but Huo Yunshen rejected this idea.

“Can I not stay here now? I'll wait until we find my donor,” Huo Yunshen requested.

He still had a lot of things to do. If he were to stay in the hospital, he would become worried.

Jing Xi understood that Huo Yunshen was busy, but there was no way she could let him drag it out.

“Just stay here and let your people take care of your business!” Jing Xi scolded.

“But I have an appointment with my mentor today. Can I at least postpone until I come back from the border?”

“But...”

Seeing that the couple couldn't agree with each other, Gu Yici settled it for them.

“You can go back after you leave a blood sample. I'll prepare your room for you now.”

“Thank you,” Huo Yunshen said.

Huo Yunshen had his blood taken, and they went back to Yunjing Manor. Since Jing Xi would not let Huo Yunshen drive, they left it to Mo An.

Jing Xi got out of the car after they reached the Yunjing Manor.

“Be careful, okay?” Jing Xi said as she rested her arm on the window.

“I will.”

“Mo An, don't drive too fast,” Jing Xi said.

“I won't, ma'am.”

After seeing Jing Xi off, Mo An drove Huo Yunshen to the border.

Jing Xi went into the manor to look for Su Wanqin so that she could tell her Huo Yunshen's condition. But no matter how hard she looked, she couldn't find Su Wanqin.

Jing Xi guessed that Su Wanqin had gone to visit Mo Yutian.

It was actually a good thing for Jing Xi since she needed to look for a donor for Huo Yunshen among his relatives.

Jing Xi went to look for them. Su Wanqin was indeed at Mo Yutian's apartment just as Jing Xi had guessed.

Mo Yutian was still the same, playing with toys like a little kid.

Jing Xi knocked on the open door and Su Wanqin raised her head.

“Jing Xi? Come on in,” Su Wanqin greeted.

Jing Xi sat down next to Su Wanqin and glanced at Mo Yutian.

“What brings you here?” Su Wanqin asked.

Su Wanqin had learned about what had happened between both of her sons and Jing Xi and knew that Jing Xi hated Mo Yutian.

She would not have visited Mo Yutian's apartment if she didn't need something.

"Mom, I have something to ask from both of you," Jing Xi said, calling Su Wanqin Mom for the first time.

"What's going on? Tell me."

Su Wanqin could feel that something was wrong and became anxious.

"Do you still remember when Yunshen tried to save Long Xiao back in Lstan? He got hit in his head. Even though he was saved, it caused a huge clot to form in his brain..."

Chapter 1455: Time To Pay Him Back

"Now the clot is causing pressure on his central nervous system and has triggered CNSL. The doctor said he will need a bone marrow transplantation. But you know we have to find matching bone marrow first. The doctor's suggestion is to try to look for someone from his immediate family."

Speaking of that, Jing Xi almost burst into tears again and could no longer talk properly.

Su Wanqing got it. Her elder son was suffering from CNSL, hence needed a bone marrow transplant. Her daughter-in-law had come for her help to find the matching bone marrow.

"How come it turned out to be serious." Su Wanqin could not help worrying. She held Jing Xi's hand and said, "I'll go for the match selection. When shall we do it?"

"Thank you, mother. I'm worried it will be too much for you, and that it might not work. Therefore I would like him to try. But will he be willing to do it?"

Jing Xi turned to Mo Yutian. There was no point in discussing with someone with dementia. She had to talk to Su Wanqin first.

Su Wanqin decided for him. "No problem. Xiao-Er was saved by his brother. If only he could donate his bone marrow to his brother, I'm sure he would have no objection."

"Thank you. Then let's go after lunch. I'll arrange for you to take the match selection. Shall we?"

"Sure, sure. Let's go after lunch."

Getting the permission from Su Wanqin, Jing Xi was very relieved. She did not stay for long and left with Su Wanqin shortly after.

With the two women gone, Mo Yutian sat on the floor and looked at the sky outside. Then he looked down at the veins on his wrist.

He and Huo Yunshen had the same blood, the blood of the Dragon Kingdom.

They came from the same race and the same family. There was no way he could turn a blind eye to him.

When he closed his eyes he could still recall the moment when Huo Yunshen darted to cover him with his own body when the huge pillar collapsed in the Palace Fillieres.

It was Huo Yunshen who had saved him back then. So now it was his turn to pay him back.

Mo Yutian suddenly felt so lucky that he could still be of some use.

After a simple lunch, Jing Xi arranged for a car to take Su Wanqin and Mo Yutian to the hospital for a match selection.

It was again Gu Yici who helped to arrange everything.

Their blood samples were sent to the lab for a DNA matching with Huo Yunshen's. It would take a few days and they had to wait patiently.

Coming out of the hospital, it was time to pick up Ying Bao. Jing Xi suggested, "Mother, shall I ask the driver to take you home first? I can go pick up Ying Bao afterward."

Su Wanqin was not in a hurry. So she said, "No need. Let's go pick her up together."

"OK."

Jing Xi took a glance at Mo Yutian. She could still not trust him wholeheartedly.

Yet through her observations lately, she found nothing but dullness in him. So she said nothing further.

The driver took them to Ying Bao's kindergarten. There were many parents waiting outside.

They pulled over nearby and Jing Xi got out of the car. Su Wanqin was worried about her and said, "Jing Xi, let me come with you."

"Mother, no worries. You stay here with him. I'm fine."

Jing Xi did not want to exhaust Su Wanqin. She was still weak and had to stay in a wheelchair wherever she went. It would be too demanding for her to walk.

Chapter 1456: Terrified

"Okay, be careful," Su Wanqin said.

"I will."

Jing Xi waited outside the pre-school for 15 minutes until school was over.

When Ying Bao saw her mother waiting at the gate, she said goodbye to her teacher and ran towards Jing Xi.

"Mommy! Why are you here?" Ying Bao asked.

"To get you. Daddy and Uncle Treeleaf are both busy today," Jing Xi explained.

"I see!" Ying Bao smiled and showed her mother her drawing. "Look! This is what I drew today!"

Jing Xi looked at the drawing and noticed Ying Bao had drawn her family and a lot of people surrounding them.

“Who are they?” Jing Xi asked.

“This is daddy, this is mommy, this is me, this is grandpa and grandma, great-grandpa, Brother Feimo, Uncle Prince...,” Ying Bao explained as she pointed at the people in the picture.

“So, everyone is in it?”

“Yup!” the little girl nodded.

“Okay!” Jing Xi laughed. “Come on, let's go home.”

Jing Xi held Ying Bao's hand, and they crossed the road. Suddenly a wind blew, blowing Ying Bao's drawing away. Ying Bao struggled off her mother's side and chased after it.

“My drawing...”

Ying Bao ran to the middle of the road, and Jing Xi noticed that a car was speeding towards the little girl.

“Ying Bao! Run!”

Ying Bao caught her drawing and heard her mother shouting at her. She raised her head and saw a car closing in.

Jing Xi ran towards Ying Bao, but the babies in her belly were slowing her down. Before she could even reach her daughter, the car had already hit the little girl.

Jing Xi saw someone rolling in the middle of the road, and she was terrified.

“Ying Bao!”

When Jing Xi caught up, she could see someone lying not far from the car.

“Ying Bao! Ying Bao!”

The driver also got out of the car and checked on the person.

“Are you okay?”

When the person turned around, people could see him holding a kid in his arms.

Jing Xi was completely shocked, as the person was Mo Yutian.

He was able to grab the little girl and save her just in time.

Ying Bao was completely unharmed, while Mo Yutian was injured.

Ying Bao climbed out from Mo Yutian's arms with her drawing still in her hand. When she realized she was lying in Uncle Dragonbeard's arms, she was utterly shocked.

“Ying Bao! Are you okay?”

Jing Xi picked her daughter up and hugged her tightly.

"I'm okay, but Uncle Dragonbeard..."

Ying Bao shook her head and looked at Mo Yutian.

Mo Yutian passed out for a few seconds from the impact. When he woke up, he realized his arm was bleeding.

"Sir, are you okay?" the driver asked, worried that he might've gravely injured someone.

But no matter how the driver asked, Mo Yutian gave him no response as if he did not understand the question.

There was no way he could. He had to pretend to be an idiot. Even though it hurt a lot, he still had to act like it didn't matter to him.

Chapter 1457: His Best Salvation

Jing Xi had to help. "He is injured. Could you help take him to the hospital?"

"Sure." The driver opened the door and helped them get in.

Jing Xi took Ying Bao and accompanied Mo Yutian to the hospital. She also called their own driver to follow them.

At the hospital, Mo Yutian was taken for a full-body CT scan. The result showed that there was no bone injury but only some minor wounds. The nurses attended to his wounds and Jing Xi let the driver go.

Su Wanqin and their driver waited outside until the three of them came out. Then they headed home together.

Su Wanqin had no idea what happened. Upon hearing from Jing Xi the reason why they came back to the hospital, she turned to ask Mo Yutian, "Xiao-Er, how do you feel? Were you hurt?"

Mo Yutian still seemed ignorant. He wagged his head and seems to have no idea about what Su Wanqin was talking about.

Jing Xi sighed and answered for him. "Mother, he is fine. There were some minor wounds and they were properly bound up. No worries."

"OK. How about Ying Bao? Is my granddaughter OK?"

"She is also fine." Jing Xi was relieved. "Thanks to him. Otherwise, who knows what would have happened."

For what Mo Yutian did today, Jing Xi found it hard to make any comments.

She was reluctant to thank him because he owed them too much. It would never be enough, even if he paid them back with his own life.

However, he had saved Ying Bao.

At least it suggested that the ignorant Mo Yutian was no longer a heinous devil.

He had gotten some conscience now, good enough to protect the children.

That is good!

As long as he would not harm anyone, he was at least of some use.

Fortunately, there was no real danger. When they arrived at Yunjing Villa, Su Wanqin suggested thoughtfully, "I'll take Xiao-Er back."

Seeing her stumbling on with the ignorant Mo Yutian, Jing Xi thought for a while then said, "How about staying for dinner?"

It was the first time that Jing Xi asked Mo Yutian to stay for dinner. Su Wanqin was surprised. "Is that OK? I'm worried he will annoy you again later on."

"No worries. I just don't want to owe him anything. After all, he saved Ying Bao. I have every reason to treat him to dinner."

Although Jing Xi asked them to stay for dinner, she still acted indifferently.

But it was already a great favor for Mo Yutian. It would be his best salvation if they could forgive him.

"OK, OK." Su Wanqin accepted her invitation joyfully. She held Mo Yutian's hand and said, "Xiao-Er, your sister-in-law is inviting you for dinner. You have to behave yourself and not make any troubles."

Mo Yutian seemed to have understood her. He wagged then nodded.

Ying Bao bounded happily to Mo Yutian and dragged him inside. "Uncle Dragonbeard, hurry up!"

In order to show her appreciation, the little girl dragged him into the room and seated him on the couch. Then she ran upstairs to get her drawing set and got prepared to draw.

Ying Bao knelt by the table and placed a piece of paper in front of her. She said seriously, "Uncle Dragonbeard, you saved my life today. Therefore I'm going to draw you a nice portrait. Thank you."

The cute little girl picked up her crayons and started drawing carefully.

Jing Xi helped Su Wanqin get inside and settled her down. Then she went to arrange for dinner.

Chapter 1458: Late To Realize It

The dinner was almost ready when Ying Bao finished her drawing. She signed the picture with two cherries on a corner and gave it to Mo Yutian.

"Here!" Ying Bao smiled.

Mo Yutian looked at the picture. It was a portrait of him, but it was a little too abstract.

The picture was done roughly, but that was what made it cute.

Mo Yutian could feel his heart warming up, as it was the first time he had received such a cute gift.

He looked at the cute little girl and couldn't help but remember Alice, and their unborn child.

Mo Yutian wondered whether, if he hadn't been that obsessed in the past about if Alice was a clone or a normal girl, and if she had been able to give birth to their baby safely, the child would have been as cute and likable as Ying Bao.

He started to feel regret.

He regretted realizing everything too late.

He had disappointed a woman who loved him as much as he loved Jing Xi.

The lights in the manor lit up as night fell.

Huo Yunshen came back and felt warmth in his heart when he saw the lights in the manor.

He went into the house and took off his shoes.

"I'm back!" Huo Yunshen announced.

But when he walked into the living room, he almost could not believe his own eyes.

Mo Yutian was sitting in his living room while playing games with Ying Bao.

Su Wanqin was sitting close to them. She was looking at her son and granddaughter with a kind look.

Huo Yunshen suddenly felt like this was not his own home.

He really didn't want to meet with Mo Yutian. He did not wish for Mo Yutian to get anywhere close to Jing Xi.

The warmth in his heart instantly died down.

"Daddy! You're back!"

The little girl ran to Huo Yunshen's side when she noticed him coming in.

Huo Yunshen picked his daughter up and kissed her cheek.

"Did you miss me?" Huo Yunshen asked.

"Of course! I was just thinking about you!" Ying Bao smiled as she hugged her father's neck. "Oh, right, Uncle Dragonbeard is here!"

Huo Yunshen looked at Mo Yutian, who was sitting on the couch and turned to greet his mother.

"Mom."

"Yunshen, I heard about your symptoms from Jing Xi. How are you feeling?" Su Wanqin asked.

"I'm fine, don't worry."

Huo Yunshen guessed that Jing Xi had brought Mo Yutian over so that they could check if he was suitable to be his donor.

"Where's mommy?" Huo Yunshen asked Ying Bao.

"Upstairs!"

"Okay, I'll go get her. Stay with grandma, okay?"

"Okay!"

Huo Yunshen put the little girl down and went to the master bedroom. When he entered, he saw that his wife was standing on a stool looking for something in the wardrobe.

"What are you doing?" Huo Yunshen shouted, running to hold his wife's leg.

Chapter 1459: Could Not Help Feeling Jealous

Jing Xi suddenly felt someone holding her legs. She looked down and found it was Huo Yunshen. "Honey, you're back. I'm looking for a dress."

"Get down. Let me help you."

Huo Yunshen got her down and placed her by the bed. Then he asked, "What dress are you looking for? Tell me. I'll get it."

"It's a turquoise dress. I've only worn it once but could not find it now. I want to wear it tomorrow."

"OK."

Huo Yunshen did not need to step on a bench. He reached out and found what she wanted with barely any effort. "Is this the one?"

"Yes, yes."

Having gotten her dress, Jing Xi asked, "Did you see them downstairs?"

"Yes. Why did you let them in again?"

Huo Yunshen did not want to see Mo Yutian. He could never get rid of his hostility toward him.

"Oh, let me tell you why. I took him and mother to the hospital for a match selection. Then something happened when we went to pick up Ying Bao afterward."

"What happened?" Huo Yunshen got anxious.

"When I was going across the street with Ying Bao, she was almost hit by a car. I was almost scared to death. Fortunately, Mo Yutian came and saved Ying Bao. That was why I asked them to stay for dinner. He was injured."

Jing Xi explained it in detail so that he would not have any misunderstanding.

“Fine. For my daughter's sake.”

Huo Yunshen was no longer bothered after hearing what had happened. Instead, he felt sorry. “It's my fault. If I had not gone across the border today, I would have been able to come to pick her up. I'm so worried about you.”

“We're fine. We'll be more careful next time. How is everything over there?”

“Good. It went well.”

Huo Yunshen had visited several major places in the Dragon Kingdom, accompanied by Qi Zhengming and a few others.

“That's good. Dinner is almost ready. Let's get downstairs.”

Jing Xi held his arm and they went downstairs together.

Sitting at the same table again, Huo Yunshen tried hard to treat that person as natural as possible, just like he was a regular guest.

But he could never extend a warm welcome and have a good chat with him.

During dinner, Ying Bao interacted with her Uncle Dragonbeard frequently. Seeing his daughter offering Mo Yutian her food, Huo Yunshen could not help feeling jealous.

Before Mo Yutian had lost his mind, he tried whatever he could to take away his wife. Whereas now he was coming after his daughter.

How annoying!

He seriously did not want his daughter to get too close to Mo Yutian. So Huo Yunshen found a good excuse. “Cherry, I've got good news to tell you. Do you want to hear it?”

“What is it?”

“Your brother Feimo is coming tomorrow. Would you like to go pick him up at the airport?”

Ying Bao was super excited. “Seriously? Is brother Feimo coming? I'm definitely going!”

“OK. Then let's go together tomorrow morning. But you have to go to bed earlier today.”

“No problem, daddy.”

In order to get ready for tomorrow morning, Ying Bao finished her dinner more quickly. She wanted to have a good sleep and get up as early as she could tomorrow.

The dinner was finally finished. Su Wanqin proposed to take Mo Yutian back to his apartment. Huo Yunshen and his wife did not ask them to stay further.

They were thinking of the same thing – how could their daughter be so nice to Mo Yutian?

Chapter 1460: Little Devil

Huo Yunshen waited until his daughter fell asleep, and he scratched his head.

“I don't think this is a good idea,” Huo Yunshen said, “having Mo Yutian living so close to us. He's getting too much contact with Ying Bao. Should we move him to someplace far from here?”

Huo Yunshen was thinking of moving Mo Yutian to a place where he was not close to them.

“It really is kind of frustrating, but at least he's useful,” Jing Xi said. “He's being really nice to Ying Bao too. If he hadn't been there today, Ying Bao would've died in that accident. Plus, we have to wait and see if he has marrow that matches yours. Let's wait until you're fully healed.”

Jing Xi was willing to endure it since Mo Yutian might be able to save Huo Yunshen's life.

“All right,” Huo Yunshen said as he looked at his wife's face worriedly. “You won't fall for him, will you?”

“What are you even thinking about? You've already occupied my heart!”

Jing Xi knew that Huo Yunshen was getting jealous and tried to comfort him.

She lifted herself up a little and kissed her husband. She tried to hug him but let go seconds later.

“It really is hard to hug you now,” Jing Xi complained.

“You're right,” Huo Yunshen said and turned her around, hugging her from behind. “See, I can hug you now.”

When Huo Yunshen rested his palm on Jing Xi's belly, he could feel the babies kicking her stomach.

“I can feel them!”

“They're greeting you.”

“I know,” Huo Yunshen said and closed his eyes, feeling every movement the babies were making.

He was feeling hopeful since he was about to meet them in a few weeks.

Since Jing Xi was about to give birth, her huge belly was making her uncomfortable when she tried to sleep. Huo Yunshen brought her a huge body pillow to help with her sleep.

They slept together on the bed with a body pillow separating them.

“How do you feel? Is the pillow helping you sleep?”

“Of course! But hugging you is better...” Jing Xi said as she raised her head over the pillow.

“Come over,” Huo Yunshen laughed.

Jing Xi threw the pillow to one side and hugged Huo Yunshen.

“Yup, this is better,” Jing Xi said.

“Good for you,” Huo Yunshen replied as he kissed her forehead. “Looks like it won't be a comfortable night for me, you little devil.”

The little devil laughed and closed her eyes peacefully.

A shadow moved past the guards undetected and snuck out.

Mo Yutian came to the spot where he'd last met Yun Xuerou. She was already waiting for him.

“Xiao'er, do you know your mother is in custody right now?” Yun Xuerou said.

“She failed?”

In truth, Mo Yutian had already learned about it from the news.

“Yes. She's being locked up. I need your help to save her.”

Since Yun Xuerou lacked manpower, she could only look for help from Mo Yutian. Even though Mo Yutian wasn't what he used to be, a lot of the remaining Dark Zone members were still loyal to him.
