

Priceless Baby 1481

Chapter 1481: Had Been Waiting For This Moment

Huo Yijing never thought it could be for her. She assumed that the girl being proposed to must happen to have the same character, Jing, in her name.

Right then she heard some girls screaming. When she turned back she saw someone coming toward her with a huge bouquet of scarlet roses.

The huge bouquet completely blocked her sight. When the man stopped in front of her, he lowered the roses and unveiled his face.

“Zhannan?”

“Yes, it's me, Jingjing.”

While he stood right in front of her, a group of people showed up from nowhere. Each of them was holding two candles and walked closer and closer toward them.

Eventually, they placed the candles around them and formed a heart-shaped candlelit circle.

The proposal had officially started. Huo Yijing was stunned. His proposal had caught her completely unprepared.

“Jingjing, please forgive me for proposing to you abruptly under such a circumstance.

“But the only thing I can say is, this is what I have always wanted to do. I've been waiting for this moment for so long.

“Jingjing, I have no idea what you are thinking about. But I have to tell you what I am. I hope I can be with you every single day from now on.

“When you are happy, I want you to be happier. When you feel sad, I will wipe your tears.

“If you are tired, you can always rest on my shoulders.

“I hope I can be your shelter and your sky.

“Therefore I'm saying this wholeheartedly: I love you, Jingjing.

“Will you marry me? Will you give me the honor to take care of you for the rest of our lives?”

Jing Zhannan was no longer young. But he had tried his best to make a romantic proposal.

He felt extremely nervous and waited anxiously for her reply.

People were pouring into the square to witness this. Some were saying how romantic he was, and others were urging Huo Yijing to say, “Yes, I do.”

Huo Yijing was completely overwhelmed. But she managed to think it through and finally gave him a serious answer. "I'm sorry, Zhannan. I know you are good to me. But I'm sorry I cannot marry you. Please don't waste your time on me and go find a better girl for yourself!"

Upon saying so, she turned and ran into the crowd, leaving Jing Zhannan alone.

A romantic proposal had been turned into a joke. There were people laughing at his failure.

Jing Zhannan stood there looking at her disappearing figure and feeling desperate. He knew that he would never win her back.

The ring he had prepared was of no use now.

Then his men came to remove the candles.

A girl walked to him and patted him gently on his shoulder. "Boss, are you ok?"

Jing Zhannan turned and saw the girl, Mo Xiaonian. She was the newly appointed commander of JS First Squadron, replacing Jun Yan.

They had known each other for a long while and fought several fierce battles together.

Seeing that Mo Xiaonian was concerned for him, Jing Zhannan smiled awkwardly. "Never mind. How stupid I am."

Then he gave the roses to Mo Xiaonian and said, "Thank you. Take your men back. I need to be alone now."

Jing Zhannan left. Seeing him being lonely and desperate, Mo Xiaonian felt a sudden punch on her heart.

How come she felt somewhat heartbroken for him?

Chapter 1482: A Birthday Surprise

Mo Xiaonian sighed as she looked at the screen and the roses in her hand.

The first thing she did as soon as she was transferred to JS1 was to help her boss propose, but it had failed in the end. Such a waste... she thought.

Even though Jing Zhannan's words did not reach Huo Yijing's heart, they did move Mo Xiaonian.

She could feel how much Jing Zhannan really loved the woman he was proposing to and could not understand why that woman could not accept him.

The proposal was ended swiftly, and Huo Yijing left on the third day after Huo Yunshen was stable.

When Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi heard about the proposal from Ye Xun, both of them felt that Jing Zhannan might not be able to get Huo Yijing back again.

“Such a waste... Uncle has been waiting for her for such a long time, and it had to end like this...”

Jing Xi sighed.

“It might not be a bad thing. With this, he might be able to start a new life and meet the one he was meant to be with,” Huo Yunshen said.

“You're right.”

With Mo Yutian's stem cells and a decent amount of rest, Huo Yunshen was able to recover smoothly.

After staying in the hospital for a few days, he was cleared to leave.

“You can go back now.” Gu Yici relayed the good news. “Make sure to not strain yourself. You still have another surgery in 20 days.”

Twenty days meant that the surgery would be scheduled for Christmas.

And the day before Christmas was Jing Xi's birthday.

The only thing Jing Xi wanted for her birthday was for her husband's surgery to go smoothly.

Huo Yunshen left the hospital and rested at home, leaving all his work to Ye Xun.

Since Ye Xun became busier than before, he rarely went back home and couldn't meet Huo Sanyan as much as he used to.

On the other hand, Huo Sanyan was happy about it. She had finally gained her freedom.

She really hoped that Ye Xun could become busier so that he wouldn't be a bother to her.

There was more good news. Qiao Ruoyi had recovered and was going back to class again.

After a while, Tang Yitan and his family came to Estan again. After Liang Lan's first session with Jing Huaduo, she could feel herself getting better. Her uterus had finally stopped bleeding.

That was why they had revisited Estan, so they could completely cure her illness.

Time flew, and it was Christmas Eve.

Huo Yunshen prepared an unforgettable birthday surprise for Jing Xi. He booked one of the best Three-Star restaurants in Lin City for a romantic dinner.

Even though it was so cold that it might snow that night, the decorations in the restaurant were enough to melt Jing Xi's heart.

Chapter 1483: Impressed

But they could not feel the coldness at all on the terrace. Instead, they even saw a starry midsummer night.

Jing Xi was surprised to see the stars in the sky and said, "Wow, this is unbelievable! How did you do it?"
"As long as I want, there's nothing I cannot do."

Huo Yunshen did not tell her the details. He enveloped Linshi with an artificial sky. It looked as real. But it could change into different times and seasons as he wanted.

Therefore the people throughout Linshi witnessed this marvelous midsummer starry night in the chilling winter.

Soon enough, the waiters served a candlelit dinner and charming melodies were played.

Huo Yunshen bowed to invite her for a dance. "It is old school. But I do want to take this beautiful lady for a dance."

"Who said it's old school? I couldn't be happier!"

Jing Xi placed her hand in Huo Yunshen's and started dancing with him.

They danced for a while then she said, "Honey, I appreciate whatever you did. But you should have not taken the trouble to celebrate my birthday. You are having the surgery tomorrow and I want you to get good rest."

Jing Xi knew that he must have planned so hard for this. But he was suffering from the clot in his brain and she did not want him to be worn out.

"It's not troublesome at all. I couldn't be more happy to do this for you. When you are happy, I'm even happier.

"I have no ambitions now. My only hope is to stay with you every single day from now on.

"And to watch every sunrise and sunset together, as well as every folding and unfolding of the clouds."

When he said so, the sky transformed into daybreak with the rosy color of dawn all over.

It had suddenly changed into a bright day.

All of Linshi was impressed by such a marvelous scene.

After the daylight, the night fell again. And light spots appeared around them.

"This is amazing! Are those fireflies?"

"They are, but not real."

They were all special visual effects. The countless dancing fireflies added to the romance.

They finished a perfect dance on a wonderful night. Then Huo Yunshen escorted her to her seat for the candlelit dinner.

In the end the waiter delivered a heart-shaped birthday cake, made by Huo Yunshen.

He lit two heart-shaped candles and asked Jing Xi to make a wish.

Jing Xi closed her eyes in front of the flickering candlelight and made her wish.

Her wish was also very simple. She wanted his surgery tomorrow to be a success.

When the candles were blown out, Huo Yunshen cut a small slice from the cake and asked her to try.

When Jing Xi tried the cake she seemed to have bit onto something. Spitting it out she found it to be a ring.

“No way! Did you hide a ring in the cake?”

“Yeah, is that boring?” He rested his chin in his hands and asked.

Jing Xi smiled sincerely and said, “It is, a little bit. But I like it. I like whatever you prepared for me.”

Huo Yunshen smiled at her and wiped the cream off the ring.

Immediately a shining ring was unveiled.

“May I have your hand.”

Jing Xi reached out her hand and Huo Yunshen helped her put the ring on her fair finger.

Then he kissed her hand and said, “Honey, happy birthday!”

Chapter 1484: With All Of His Heart

“Thank you! It's perfect!”

After taking a good look at the ring, Jing Xi finally realized how special it was.

She had seen a lot of diamonds in different shapes and sizes, from an octagon to a droplet or even the basic shapes, but it was her first time seeing a diamond that took the form of a cloud.

Huo Yunshen had it specially made for Jing Xi.

It looked really great on Jing Xi's finger, and it even made her look younger when she wore it.

“Thank God you like it.”

Huo Yunshen wanted to give Jing Xi a special present for her birthday, something that she could remember forever.

He had thought of a lot of things initially and couldn't decide on which was more romantic than the other. In the end, he chose something timeless and expressed his love with it.

They had their dinner, and they left hand in hand. It wasn't until Jing Xi walked out of the restaurant that she realized the projection was gone.

It was freezing outside, and Huo Yunshen helped Jing Xi put on her jacket and scarf. He then put on his own coat and left with Jing Xi.

Since they did not drive to the restaurant, they took a stroll on the street.

Huo Yunshen even prepared masks for Jing Xi and himself so that they wouldn't be disturbed.

After putting on the masks, they looked like an average couple walking down the busy street.

“Hey, where are the stars and fireflies?” the couple suddenly heard one of the pedestrians ask.

“They were fake, weren't they? It was really magnificent!”

“How much would it cost to do something like that?”

As they continued their walk, Jing Xi suddenly felt something cold touch her nose.

“Hubby, look! It's snowing!” Jing Xi exclaimed.

“Yup.”

Jing Xi raised her arms up to try and catch the snow, but Huo Yunshen quickly pulled one of her arms back and shoved it into his pocket.

“Hey! You'll catch a cold!”

Even though it sounded as if Huo Yunshen was scolding her, the only thing Jing Xi could feel was warmth.

The snow became heavier, and the street was soon covered in white. Walking on such a road with the person you loved the most was the most romantic thing one can experience.

They stopped at the city plaza, where a lot of street performers were singing despite the cold.

One of the speakers was playing Huo Yunshen's Maybe. Even though it was a romantic song, the singer's scream made it feel like it was a sad song.

“Oh my... I really want to punch him in the face!”

Jing Xi couldn't help but get angry at the singer for ruining such a great song.

But Huo Yunshen stopped her and approached the singer. After exchanging a few words with the singer, Huo Yunshen took the microphone over from him.

The singer then replayed the melody, and Huo Yunshen began to sing. As soon as he started, the singer looked at Huo Yunshen with his mouth wide open.

The singer thought he was listening to the original.

Huo Yunshen turned to look at Jing Xi and sang the song that he had written for her.

His voice was perfect as he switched between high and low notes.

People began to gather around as the plaza was filled with an angelic voice.

Jing Xi stared affectionately at her husband as he sang.

She couldn't help but suspect that Huo Yunshen must've had his voice blessed by an angel, or else there would be no explanation for his talent.

Chapter 1485: Asking For Her Opinion

He sang so well that many people placed their money in the young man's hat.

Ten dollars, twenty, fifty, a hundred...

After he finished the song, the young man's hat was filled with enough money for him to survive the freezing winter.

Huo Yunshen handed the microphone back to the young man who was already stunned. He watched Huo Yunshen walk to his pregnant wife and take her away.

"Thank you..." he said to them. There was a moment that he even wanted to ask if he was the famous Ni Yun himself.

On their way back, Jing Xi laughed, "Now I understand why they say some people sing for a living while others sing to kill. You helped him make a fortune just now."

"Well, I meant to sing just for you."

"What a pity it would be if you never sang again."

"If you want, I can sing for you every day."

"Will you also write songs?"

"If you want to sing, I'll write only for you."

"Great! But I think we should name our babies before we compose any new songs."

"No worries. I already have them. If they are both boys, let's call them Long Qinghan and Huo Qingheng. For girls, we can call them Long Qingyue and Huo Qingxue. If a boy and a girl, we can pick either one from there."

Huo Yunshen considered both the Huo and Long families, and therefore he came up with different surnames for the babies.

He looked at his wife for her opinion.

"Sounds good. You are very considerate. Then what about their nicknames?"

"I'll leave that to you!"

"I'll make it simple. Let's call them Tiantian and Lele. I wish them to be happy every day." [1]

"I like them."

They had prepared enough names for the babies. Now they could enjoy strolling in the snowy night.

It was not a heavy snow. On the following morning, it had already melted. The roads were wet and it felt more like Christmas.

Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan came very early in the morning to pick up Ying Bao so that they could get well prepared for the surgery.

The second surgery was the most important and dangerous. Jing Xi had already cried several times secretly.

She was so worried about him.

But Huo Yunshen had been acting very relaxed. He did not want his wife and family to be put under great pressure.

Before they headed for the hospital, Huo Yunshen lifted up Ying Bao and looked carefully at her for a long while. He kissed her again and again and was so reluctant to let her go.

He wanted to see her as clearly as possible while he was still sober and able to see.

“Daddy, what's wrong with your eyes?”

Ying Bao saw that her father's eyes had turned slightly red and something was shining in them.

“It was some sand.”

Huo Yunshen cuddled his daughter again and asked gently, “Sweetheart, do you love daddy?”

“Of course I love you, daddy! I'll always love you!”

Ying Bao placed a firm kiss on her father's cheek while saying so.

“Sweetheart, daddy loves you too. Daddy loves you so much!”

Huo Yunshen felt satisfied. He had just wanted to hear her saying again that she loved him.

He had no idea if the surgery would be successful. But he could only wish for the best.

Chapter 1486: An Important Day

Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan were touched by the interactions between the father and daughter.

“Leave Ying Bao to us,” Ye Xun approached Huo Yunshen and said. “We'll take care of her until your surgery ends.”

Huo Yunshen nodded and turned to rub Ying Bao's head.

“Don't be a naughty kid, okay?”

“Okay!”

Ying Bao nodded. She then left with Ye Xun, leaving Huo Sanyan and Jing Xi to accompany Huo Yunshen. Everything was already prepared at the hospital for Huo Yunshen's arrival.

Some of his friends and family were also there to cheer him up.

The doctor in charge of the surgery was a famous specialist, and Gu Yici was also one of the team members that would be performing the operation.

"This is my mentor." Gu Yici introduced the doctor in charge to Huo Yunshen. "He's one of the best in neural surgery. He's also a recipient of the Nobel Prize in Medicine. You have nothing to worry about if he's the one overseeing the operation."

Gu Yici was trying to calm his patient and the family members down.

The truth was that the procedure was far more complicated than what the present medical could handle. They could only take a risk and treat the surgery as an experiment.

"See? They got the best to treat you. You have nothing to worry about," Jing Xi said to Huo Yunshen.

"You're right." Huo Yunshen nodded.

Only two hours were left before the operation, and the couple was hugging each other tightly.

They stayed like that until the nurse told them it was time.

Huo Yunshen then knelt down to talk to the babies in Jing Xi's belly.

"My children, wait for me, okay? And don't bully your mother too much."

He then got back up and kissed Jing Xi.

"Jing Xi, I love you, always..."

"I love you too."

Both of them shed tears as Huo Yunshen went into the operating room.

As soon as Huo Yunshen disappeared from Jing Xi's side, tears began to roll down her cheeks like waterfalls.

She prayed in her heart for her husband's safe recovery.

Gu Yici's mentor began the operation while the former assisted as much as he could.

The surgery required optimal focus as one mistake could ruin everything.

Jing Xi, Huo Sanyan, Huo Erqi, and Su Wanqin were waiting outside the operating theater.

Mo Yutian was there too. Even though he still acted like an idiot, he knew that Lady White Tea would make her move that day.

The only thing he had to do was stay near Huo Yunshen and his family to make sure nothing would happen.

One hour passed.

Then came a male nurse pushing a trolley. He wore a pair of black rubber-soled boots and a string of beads on his arm. He completely matched the description that Lady White Tea had told him about her assassin.

“Be careful!”

Chapter 1487: Most Critical Moment

The previously ignorant Mo Yutian had become fully vigilant. He shouted and leaped toward that person.

Seeing him coming, that person immediately pushed the cart forward.

Mo Yutian took him down and beat him hard.

When Jing Xi and the rest heard the noise and turned back, they could only see a cart rushing toward them.

“Ah...”

Jing Xi was hit on the belly and felt sharp pain. Huo Sanyan kicked the cart to the side immediately.

But they had never expected that the cart was loaded with a bomb. The knocking and kicking made it explode.

There was a huge bang and flames.

The explosion shook the entire building. People inside the operating room felt it too.

The nurses heard the bang. They were scared and wondered what had happened.

But the supervisor, Gu Yici and the other doctors were never disturbed. It was the most critical moment and nothing could have distracted them even if the sky collapsed.

Seeing them keeping focused on the operation, the others had to try to stay calm as well.

It was a mess in the hallway after the explosion. Su Wanqin had been knocked away.

Huo Erqi and Huo Sanyan covered Jing Xi so that she was not hurt by the bomb. But the hit to her belly was bad.

She started bleeding and her water broke. Jing Xi held her belly in pain and cried, “It’s painful... so painful...”

“Shit, are you in labor?” Huo Sanyan cried anxiously.

“It seems yes. We have to get Jing Xi to the labor room!” Huo Erqi said.

She tried to get Jing Xi up. But the woman carrying two babies was too heavy for her.

While they were feeling helpless, Mo Yutian put down the attacker and rushed to them. He lifted up Jing Xi and said, "You stay here. I'll send her to the labor room."

Huo Sanyan was shocked by Mo Yutian suddenly becoming normal. But she had no time to ask further questions.

They had to let Mo Yutian take Jing Xi under such an emergency.

Then Huo Sanyan asked Huo Erqi to stay outside the operation room, while she followed Mo Yutian to take care of Jing Xi.

Soon enough, the guards of the hospital all came to check it out. The police arrived too.

The attacker was arrested and the mess was taken care of. The operation carried on intensively.

Inside the labor room.

Mo Yutian took Jing Xi here and she was immediately sent into the labor room.

Because she had been hit by the cart, Jing Xi suffered tremendously from the labor.

The pain was overwhelming. But she had to try her best to give birth to the babies.

At the same time that her husband was undergoing a dangerous operation, Jing Xi suffered from the most difficult delivery.

Mo Yutian heard her screaming inside the labor room and felt extremely worried. But there was nothing he could do to help.

Now he could only stay here and guard Jing Xi. He chose to stay because he was not sure whether Lady White Tea had any further plans.

Huo Sanyan had been staring at Mo Yutian. She was seriously confused.

Wasn't he an idiot? How come he's acting normal all of a sudden?

Chapter 1488: A Change of Heart

"Mo Yutian, you were pretending to be sick all this time, weren't you?" Huo Sanyan questioned, suddenly worried that Mo Yutian might try to take Jing Xi and her sons away amid the danger. "What are you planning?"

Mo Yutian looked at Huo Sanyan and remained quiet for a while.

"My plan...", he suddenly opened his mouth and said, "is to protect Jing Xi."

"..."

Huo Sanyan was thoroughly surprised as she could see the pure yet resolved look on the face of the person who was once known as the devil's reincarnation.

She was starting to believe that Mo Yutian might have really had a change of heart, which then could explain how he would risk himself to save Jing Xi today.

They waited for nearly two hours until a nurse came out with a baby and asked, "Are there any relatives of Jing Xi here?"

"Y... yes!" Mo Yutian shouted before Huo Sanyan could respond.

The nurse thought Mo Yutian was Jing Xi's husband and congratulated him. "Congratulations, your wife has given birth to a pair of twins. They are both boys. This is the older brother."

"..."

The nurse gave the boy to Mo Yutian. It was Mo Yutian's first time handling such a small child, and he had no idea what to do.

He held the boy in his arms as instructed by the nurse.

He lowered his head and looked at the boy, a baby that still hadn't opened his eyes and had a head that was almost as big as his fist.

Mo Yutian looked at the baby and could not explain what he was feeling at that moment. His heart, which had become numb and couldn't feel anything from before, was warmed through.

Even though the boy was Huo Yunshen's son, Mo Yutian felt as if he was holding his own.

Huo Sanyan also looked at the boy and asked, "Where's the other one?"

"Because of the special circumstances, the boy suffered cerebral hypoxia when he came out. He's now being placed in the incubator for further observation."

"What?"

The news made Huo Sanyan worried as she was shocked to hear that one of the boys would have to go through such danger.

"How's the mother?" Mo Yutian asked. He was more worried about Jing Xi after learning that the boys were safe for the moment.

"She's a little weak and is still unconscious. But she'll wake up soon, so please be patient."

The nurse left after saying this.

Both Mo Yutian and Huo Sanyan were really worried, but they could only wait patiently outside.

Seeing that man holding the baby the whole time felt weird to Huo Sanyan, and she said, "Let me have the baby."

Mo Yutian wanted to hold the baby longer, but since Huo Sanyan requested it, he handed him over.

“What a beautiful child!” Huo Sanyan exclaimed.

Huo Sanyan had always heard that newborns were ugly, but her niece, Jing Xi's baby, was clean and white.

“Yup.” Mo Yutian nodded in agreement.

Mo Yutian also thought that the baby had excellent facial features even though he was just born.

“It's so sad that my little brother could not see this moment...” Huo Sanyan sighed. “I wonder how the surgery's going...”

Chapter 1489: Feeling Reborn

The operation on the central nervous system of his brain carried on for eight hours and finally came to an end.

Huo Yunshen was sent to the ICU for another 72-hour observation. Gu Yici, his supervisor, and other doctors and nurses finally came out of the operating room and heard about what had happened.

The family and friends including Jing Xi's parents, her grandfather, and uncle all came to the hospital.

Huo Yunshen was still in danger and they could only wait. Hearing that Jing Xi had already given birth to the babies, they all went to check on her.

Jing Xi had already been sent to the ward and put on a drip and oxygen. She was so weak and still in a coma.

They came to her room and asked about the babies.

The elder baby seemed okay at first. But later on, he was also sent back to the incubator because of choking.

Huo Sanyan told them, “Jing Xi gave birth to two boys. But they are both weak and currently being kept in the incubators.”

Jing Ruyue burst into tears hearing that her daughter had almost died during the delivery.

Helian Wei had to pat her constantly and said, “Don't cry, honey, she will wake up soon.”

“What happened today? Yanyan was not expected to give birth so quickly.” Jing Xi's grandfather, Jing Huaduo, asked.

Huo Sanyan had to tell everybody what had happened and they were all shocked.

No one would have expected that a terrorist could sneak into the Top Military District Hospital of Estan and create such a mess during Huo Yunshen's operation.

But luckily, Mo Yutian got the attacker. Otherwise, if the disguised attacker had gotten the bomb into the operating room, it would have been disastrous.

Now they all turned to Mo Yutian. But he seemed like an idiot again and sat quietly in the corner.

Huo Sanyan knew that he was faking it. But she said nothing. As long as he was trying to help, she would let him stay. After all, he could protect Jing Xi.

Jing Xi woke up after an hour or so. She opened her eyes to see all those familiar faces.

The sharp pain reminded her that she was still alive. It felt like being reborn.

“Mother...”

“Yanyan, I'm here.”

Jing Ruyue took her hand and looked at her with tears in her eyes.

Jing Xi looked around and saw her grandfather, her uncle and two sisters-in-law. Then she asked, “How is Yunshen's operation?”

Huo Erqi told her, “It's finished.”

“How is he? Was it successful? I have to see him!”

Despite her weakness, Jing Xi tried to get up and go to her husband. But Huo Erqi and the others stopped her. “You stay here. Yunshen's operation was successful. But he is being kept in the ICU now. You could not see him even if you went there. You just gave birth and are very weak. Take some good rest now.”

Speaking of the babies, Jing Xi looked around but did not see the babies or hear their cries. She felt worried. “Where are my babies?”

“They are in the incubators. Don't worry. You'll see them when they bring them out.”

Huo Sanyan did not tell her the truth. Instead she said, “They are both boys. One is 1.9 kg and the other is 1.8 kg. They are adorable.”

Jing Xi could not help bursting into tears. It had been such a difficult delivery and had almost killed her.

Chapter 1490: He Lied

The babies were born just in time. They were both the heirs to the Dragon Kingdom's Royal Family and the Huo family.

Jing Xi needed her rest, and most of the other people left, leaving Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei to take care of their daughter.

Huo Yunshen's sisters took turns taking care of Huo Yunshen while Mo Yutian was brought to Su Wanqin's side.

Su Wanqin had been hurt by shrapnel and had to be hospitalized. It gave Mo Yutian a chance to remain in the hospital to protect Jing Xi and her family.

The only thing Mo Yutian was worried about was Lady White Tea. Lady White Tea had requested that he help her from the inside.

But he did not do so and had stopped her attack instead.

He worried that it would cause Lady White Tea to be wary of Mo Yutian. If she were, he would lose the chance to understand her plan.

Yun Xuerou was enjoying her lavish dinner while waiting for her subordinates to report to her.

She didn't have to wait long, as one of her men, Ha De, returned.

"Ma'am, our people were caught!" Ha De reported. "Both Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen are still alive."

"What? Wasn't Long Xiao there to help you too?" Yun Xuerou asked with a look of disbelief on her face.

"He was there, but he didn't help us. Instead, he captured our men and stopped our attacks."

"What?"

Yun Xuerou had never thought that Mo Yutian would lie to her.

He had pretended to be working with her so that he could stop her revenge plot.

"That ungrateful bastard!" Yun Xuerou scolded as she hit the table.

Now that she thought of it, all of her plans before the attack had failed because of Mo Yutian.

As soon as she learned that Mo Yutian was not on her side, Yun Xuerou quickly changed her plan.

Just you wait, Long Xiao! Anyone who stands in my way is my enemy! Yun Xuerou scolded in her head.

Jing Xi became much more stable after resting for two days. She could leave the bed and walk freely.

Ye Xun also brought Ying Bao to visit Jing Xi. After leaving the little girl with her mother, Ye Xun went to visit Huo Yunshen.

"Mommy, where are my siblings?" Ying Bao asked as she noticed her mother's belly had shrunk.

"They are sleeping in another room. You have two baby brothers now," Jing Xi said.

"Really? Two brothers? Yay!" Ying Bao cheered.

The little girl was happy that she got two baby brothers at once.

"Can I go see them?" Ying Bao asked.

"Sure, I'm planning to go there too."

Jing Xi took Ying Bao together with her, and Jing Ruyue guided them to the babies' room.

The two little babies were sleeping soundly.

The nurse explained to Jing Xi which one was the older brother and which one was the younger one.

Ying Bao realized there were tubes in the babies' noses and asked, "What are those things in their noses?"