

Priceless Baby 1511

Chapter 1511: Let Her Pay

"No idea."

Jing Xi shook her head. She had no plan at all. Nothing seemed exciting anymore.

If it was not for her family and friends she might have committed suicide.

"Do you remember how depressed I was when Dazhi passed away? I was down to hell. Everything seemed grey. I almost tried to kill myself."

"Yes. You were strong and managed to get over it."

"No! It was not me getting over it, but you saving me from it."

Fang Xiaocheng held Jing Xi's hands and continued, "Do you remember how you did that? You found me something to do. You asked me to make your novel into a movie script.

"That was how I got engaged in working and barely had any time to mourn Dazhi. As time passed I eventually got over the loss of him.

"Yanyan, I think you should go back to acting. Choose a script you like. Only when you engage yourself in work will you have no time to grieve.

"And you are a born actress. You were born for the stage and screen. It would be such a pity if you stop here."

"..." Jing Xi said nothing but pondered her words carefully.

"Or you could try singing. You have a lovely voice and you sing well. With Mr. Huo's support, you could definitely make a career of singing."

"True. You are so right. But I have to discuss it with Yunshen before making any decision."

Hearing her reply, Fang Xiaocheng felt somewhat relieved. No one but herself could help her make the leap and step out of the darkness.

"Yanyan, remember, I'll always be with you no matter what you do."

"Thank you."

They had not seen each other for a long time and chatted until midnight.

When Fang Xiaocheng went to sleep, Jing Xi was still sleepless. She tried to think through Fang Xiaocheng's advice again.

Getting back to her acting career could be an option. While she was pregnant the famous director Mr. Hanson had come to her and offered her a role. She had nothing to worry about if she would like to start again.

She could go back whenever she was ready.

She could also try singing. But the baby was still too small. She did not want him to be parted from his mother now.

Maybe later!

When Little Grape grew up she might be willing to start over again.

Currently, she just wanted to find Yun Xuerou as soon as possible.

And let her pay.

In the following days, Fang Xiaocheng stayed with Jing Xi while Yi Xiao went with Huo Yunshen to the Dragon Kingdom.

There were increasingly more things waiting for Huo Yunshen to take care of in the Dragon Kingdom.

According to the current schedule, the Dragon Kingdom would be reestablished in no more than three years.

In the afternoon Huo Yunshen and Yi Xiao returned to Yunjing Villa and heard the children's giggling coming from the garden.

They went over and saw Ying Bao running joyfully with Yi Bei on the lawn.

The two women sat aside and watched them play.

Fang Xiaocheng kept calling Yi Bai to run more slowly and be careful not to fall.

Jing Xi bent over the crib and teased Little Grape with a bell. She looked at the lawn from time to time to check on the children.

Seeing them running around happily she also put on a faint smile.

Huo Yunshen stood not far from them and finally felt relieved upon seeing her smile again.

That was what he wished for. If Fang Xiaocheng could stay a little while longer, Jing Xi would have no time to engage herself in sorrow again.

When night came they sent the baby to the nanny and finally had some time for each other.

Chapter 1512: Love Me

The couple had not lived a happy day since what had happened to Little Apple.

Jing Xi even had to take pills to help her sleep at night due to the pain.

Huo Yunshen would choose his words carefully whenever he talked to Jing Xi. He was worried that certain words might remind her of their lost son.

“Yunshen, we have to catch Lady White Tea! We're not letting her off this easily. We won't be able to have a stable life as long as she's still alive,” Jing Xi said.

In Jing Xi's eyes, Yun Xuerou was the epitome of evil; she was the devil.

"She's on every wanted list in the world right now. We suspect that she might change her looks. But don't worry, we are all doing our best to find her," Huo Yunshen replied.

Yun Xuerou had been a spy from the beginning and was really good in counterintelligence. Catching her would be a huge challenge.

"No matter where she hides, she'll definitely be caught one day."

Jing Xi believed that all evil, in the end, will get the punishment they deserve.

She wanted to avenge her son and those who were used by her.

"I see it now...," Jing Xi suddenly said.

"See what?" Huo Yunshen asked as he lowered his head and kissed her on her forehead.

"I think Little Apple fell down the canyon because fate decided that he should not be our son but an angel. He has returned to God's side," Jing Xi said with a smile. "I think if we have another child in another two years, Little Apple might choose to be our son again."

Jing Xi did not want to give up on Little Apple and put her hopes on something unimaginable.

"All right, let's have another son. We'll name him Little Apple too." Huo Yunshen smiled, hiding the sadness inside him.

"We are lucky that Little Grape is still with us," Jing Xi nodded. "I'm still a mother, and I can't stay like this forever."

Others had been telling Jing Xi to look at that future but failed to guide her on the right path, until Jing Xi finally realized it herself. She finally walked out of the darkness.

"Yunshen, I've decided to continue my path as an actress," Jing Xi said. "At least I won't overthink when I'm busy."

"And I'll support you all the way," Huo Yunshen smiled.

Seeing Jing Xi walking back on the right path, Huo Yunshen felt relieved.

He always believed that she had the strongest will in the world and would not fall that easily.

"Come on, it's time to sleep. Goodnight, my love," Huo Yunshen said and turned off the night lamp.

Even though the room was dark, Jing Xi did not close her eyes. Thinking back, she realized that she had also ignored her husband most of the time.

Jing Xi turned and crawl onto Huo Yunshen like a cat.

"Yunshen, love me, will you?"

Chapter 1513: Giving Her Whatever She Wanted

She wanted to have a good sleep without the pills, and hoped that her husband could help.

Hearing her asking for it all of a sudden, Huo Yunshen felt surprised and encouraged. He cuddled her and placed a kiss on her lips. "Honey, I'll give you whatever you want."

He had not touched her ever since the later stage of her pregnancy.

Then she had been very depressed and never in the mood for it.

Now Jing Xi seemed to be ready to move on. Since she had already asked for it, he would definitely give her whatever she wanted.

The two souls got reunited. Huo Yunshen tried his best to console her pain with his passion and love.

He loved her dearly and madly.

Until she was too tired to grieve over the loss.

That night Jing Xi finally got rid of the pills and had a good sleep in Huo Yunshen's arms. She slept tight until the next morning.

Fang Xiaocheng and Yi Xiao had spent two weeks in Linshi. They had to head back now. Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi took their daughter to send them to the airport.

Before they left Jing Xi and Fang Xiaocheng hugged and promised each other to meet again soon.

With them gone, Huo Yunshen drove his wife and daughter back to Yunjing Villa.

When they arrived they heard that an important guest had been waiting for a long while.

Hearing that Mr. Hanson had come to visit her, Jing Xi was surprised and wondered how he had found out where she lived.

"Let's get inside, honey. I invited him over."

She said she wanted to act again. Therefore Huo Yunshe would definitely plan it well for her.

They entered the room and greeted Hanson.

With everybody seated, Hanson got straight to the point. "It's my pleasure that Elvis invited me to your home. I do want to talk about our new production with you, Jing Xi."

"Sure. When will you start filming?"

"In May. You can take a look at our script first."

It was February. There were a couple of months for her to get ready before May.

Hanson handed Jing Xi the script and she saw the name: Brilliant Stars.

It was a beautiful name and she fell in love with it at first sight.

Skimming through it, Jing Xi was surprised that it was an ethical rather than romantic story.

It talked about a Chinese woman who accompanied her son studying abroad. The son was killed in a school bullying incident. The mother felt heartbroken and outraged by the school muddling over the death of her son, and took it to the court.

During the trial, she was constantly attacked and retaliated against. They tried hard to force her to withdraw.

But the mother stood strong in order to claim justice for her son. She never withdrew. However, the authorities delayed the trial again and again until it reached the limitation of prosecution.

She was heartbroken, outraged, and desperate.

But she never gave up.

She fought till the end when the case was finally heard by the president. The president received her and helped her uphold justice. Eventually, she won the suit ten years after the death of her son.

It was a provoking story, told from a very realistic angle of the mother.

Hanson had been famous for typical Hollywood commercial movies. But this time he was taking on a completely different approach with a literary film.

“Mr. Hanson, are you going to do a literary and ethical story?”

Chapter 1514: I'm Not Sure If I Can Leave

“That's right. I want to challenge myself with something new. This will be a new milestone for me if it succeeds,” Hanson said.

It might be a milestone for Hanson, but it was also a chance for Jing Xi to take on the path to become a worldwide superstar.

Hanson held high hope for his new film. The reason he chose Jing Xi as the leading actress was because the main female protagonist was a Chinese mother.

Hanson has been looking for an Asian actress that could play the role, and An Xianming introduced Jing Xi to him. After going through all of Jing Xi's work, Hanson quickly decided that he wanted her to take the role.

“That's about it. Do you have anything you would like to know?” Hanson asked.

“No, not really. I really like this character a lot. But it might be hard for me to leave Estan.” Jing Xi voiced her worries.

She still had to worry about her family and children.

Hanson also knew that Jing Xi had just given birth to a new baby, and he congratulated her.

“Don't worry about that. We've decided to film it in Estan. That won't be a problem then, right?” Hanson said, giving his assurance.

“Yes, thank you,” Jing Xi said, looking at her husband.

Huo Yunshen nodded and began to talk terms with Hanson.

With everything settled, Jing Xi began to use her free time in between taking care of the new baby to study the script.

Huo Yunshen was delighted to see his wife starting to do things that she liked.

Jing Xi started to train again for the new job, and her life was getting better.

She had two new goals added to her list. To prepare for the new film and to find out where Lady White Tea was.

Jing Xi had met with Lan Ling'er a few times in private. She wanted to see if Lady White Tea had contacted Lan Ling'er, but to her disappointment, Lady White Tea had not.

It was as if Lady White Tea had vanished from the surface of the planet.

It would be best if she were, Jing Xi thought, but she was also worried that she might change her identity and strike again.

The most worrying part was her parents because they were the two people Lady White Tea hated the most.

It had been three months since the accident, and there was still no news on Lady White Tea.

Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi brought their children over to Moon Castle during the weekend.

The car stopped at the Rose Garden. Huo Yunshen got out of the car and took the stroller out from the back. He then took Little Grape over from Jing Xi and settled him down in the stroller.

“Daddy, can I push him?” Ying Bao asked.

Huo Yunshen let go of the stroller, and Ying Bao took over.

With a few things in the couple's hands, the family walked towards the castle.

Huo Yunshen took back control of the stroller when they were about to cross the bridge in the Rose Garden.

Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei had already been waiting at the front door for their arrival.

When the old couple saw them crossing the bridge, they raised their hands up and waved.

“Grandpa! Grandma!” Ying Bao greeted as she ran towards them with her arms open.

Chapter 1515: Finally Got It

When they came closer, Jing Ruyue squatted down, opened her arms to the little girl and cuddled her.

“Grandma, I missed you so much!”

Ying Bao also cuddled and kissed her grandmother.

“Indeed, grandma missed you too.”

But Ying Bao had something to ask first. “Grandma, they say since mommy has a new baby now, you will love him instead of me. Is that true?”

Jing Ruyue was dumbfounded. “Who said that? Grandma loves Cherry and Little Grape. You and your brother are both my dearest sweethearts.”

Ying Bao felt relieved and clapped. “Great! I knew grandma would love me the same.”

Jing Ruyue poked her gently on her little nose and said, “You are always grandma's favorite.”

Letting go of her grandmother, Ying Bao went for a hug from her grandfather. Helian Wei lifted her up and smiled. “It seems our little Cherry has put on some weight!”

Ying Bao nodded. “Yes! I put on some weight, and I grew taller too!”

“So grandpa won't be able to lift you up sooner or later.”

Ying Bao was always honey-lipped. “When I grow up I can lift up grandpa!”

“Haha, well, let's wait for you to grow up then.”

He patted her on her little head. Then Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen came with the baby in the stroller.

They greeted them and Jing Ruyue bent over the carriage to tease the little baby. “Wow, it's been a while. Little Grape is much bigger now. See how sweet he smiles.”

“Over three months, almost four. But he still can't roll over by himself!” Jing Xi said.

“Don't worry, he will be able to roll soon.”

Jing Ruyue took the stroller and walked toward the door. “Let's get inside. It's a bit windy today.”

Inside the castle, Jing Ruyue had already had the butler prepare a rich lunch for them.

After lunch, the two men went off to tea.

Jing Ruyue had someone place a hug mat in the living room and line up a variety of toys they had prepared for the baby.

Jing Xi put him on the mat and let Little Grape play on it.

In order to help him learn to roll, Jing Ruyue had an idea. She asked Ying Bao to lie down beside her brother and show him how to roll over.

After Ying Bao showed him three or four times, Little Grape started to try with his little legs and arms moving up and down.

“Cherry, show him once again,” Jing Ruyue said.

Ying Bao did it again. Then Little Grape seemed to have finally got it.

He straightened his legs, lifted his arms and leaned to one side. And he tried very hard.

“Yes! He rolled! He did it! He did it!”

Jing Ruyue clapped excitedly.

Jing Xi recorded a video of it and called her husband to come. “Honey, Little Grape just rolled over!”

“Really?” Huo Yunshen rushed to them and saw the video. Then he turned to the baby. “Son, roll again for daddy.”

“Try it again, baby!” Jing Xi encouraged him.

But they had no luck this time. The baby seemed to be intimidated and would never try it even with Ying Bao showing it once again.

“Why is he not rolling again?” Jing Xi wondered.

“He already learned it, but is not willing to do it again. He’s got some character!” Jing Ruyue laughed.

“Who did he get that character from?” Jing Xi complained.

Huo Yunshen smiled and turned to his wife. Who else could that be? It’s definitely his mother.

Chapter 1516: A Huge Difference

Jing Xi talked to Jing Ruyue about her new job while the others played with the baby.

“You have my full support. Your father and I can help you take care of the baby,” Jing Ruyue said.

Jing Ruyue wholeheartedly supported Jing Xi’s decision. She hoped that her daughter could slowly forget about the sad past by having a busy schedule.

Time flew, and Little Grape was already five months old.

Huo Yunshen has redecorated the floor in the living room with soft mats so that his son could crawl on the floor as much as he wanted to.

He also prepared a small but exciting indoor playground for when Little Grape could walk.

The couple waited until Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei came over to look after the baby before leaving.

It was Jing Xi's first day at her new job. They boarded a luxurious van with her assistant, manager, and four other bodyguards and went to the filming location.

The filming for Brilliant Stars was scheduled to take place in the south of Estan, in the headquarters of New Star Film. The crews were busily moving in and out when Jing Xi arrived.

After greeting the crews, Jing Xi went to look for Hanson.

Hanson held a small welcoming party for Jing Xi before they began their first test shoot.

The makeup artist helped put Jing Xi's makeup on. Since she was playing a 37-year-old mother, her makeup was much more mature than what she would usually put on.

When the makeup was done, Jing Xi saw what she would look like in 10 years through the mirror.

Hanson stuck his thumb up when he saw how Jing Xi looked with the makeup and dress on. It was exactly what he'd pictured she would look like.

The first test shoot was a success. Jing Xi had gotten familiar with the crews quickly. After a day's work was completed, Huo Yunshen came to pick his wife up.

"How was the first day?" Huo Yunshen asked on their way back.

"It went smoothly. There wasn't a lot of pauses between shots."

Jing Xi smiled confidently, and Huo Yunshen was happy to see that his wife wasn't blaming herself anymore.

When the couple was thinking of where to get their dinner, they got a call from the manor saying that something was wrong with Little Grape. Upon hearing that, they quickly rushed back to the manor.

Jing Xi could hear Little Grape's cries as soon as she entered the manor. Without even taking off her shoes, she rushed into the baby's room.

Little Grape was crying in her grandmother's arms when Jing Xi got there.

"Mom, what's wrong?"

"I don't know. He's not drinking milk, and he's been crying for an hour."

Jing Ruyue was worried that something might be wrong with Little Grape's body and quickly called one of the servants to call their masters back.

"Okay. Give me a moment."

Jing Xi took off her coat and washed her hands before taking her son over.

"What's wrong, my little one? Your mommy's here," Jing Xi said softly as she hugged her son.

"What's wrong?" Huo Yunshen asked as he came into the room.

“We don't know either.”

“Let me try.”

Huo Yunshen tried to calm Little Grape down, but nothing seemed to be working.

“Put him down,” Jing Xi said. “I'll take a look.”

Chapter 1517: Sweet Moment

Jing Xi asked her husband to put down the baby. She took off his clothes and found that it might be stomach cramps.

Little Grape was born premature and his organs were not well developed. Therefore his weak digestion system had always been creating problems.

Seeing how serious it was, Jing Xi decided to take him to her grandfather. “Mother, I think it is stomach cramps. We have to take him to grandfather now.”

“OK. Shall I come with you?”

“No need. You stay home and rest. I'll go with Yunshen.”

Jing Xi took her baby down with Huo Yunshen and hurried off.

Coming to Renjing Clinic, they had the baby checked by Jing Huoado. He confirmed that it was indeed stomach cramps.

Jing Huoado made some doses in the clinic and Jing Xi gave it to the baby.

On their way home Little Grape gradually stopped crying and went to sleep in his mother's arms.

“Honey, he is no long crying and finally having some sleep.”

“Good. I guess it no longer hurts.”

Jing Xi looked at his little cheeks and felt worried. “Honey, can I still continue? I've just been away for one day and he is sick now.”

“Little babies get sick from time to time. And our Little Grape is a weak boy. He might be sick more often. But don't worry too much. With your grandfather's help, it won't be a big deal.”

“OK.”

Because the baby was sick, Jing Xi rushed home very early after the filming every day.

She appeared increasingly frequently in the news in Estan as well as in other countries.

After a pause from her acting career, Jing Xi had showed up again in the public with a film directed by an internationally renowned director, which was definitely a leap in her career.

Her fans in Zstan finally heard some news from their idol and formed a fan club to support her.

The first thing she posted on her Weibo after coming back was not a promotion for the new film. But rather, it was a sweet moment of a baby's chubby hand holding his mother's finger.

A simple photo showed that she had given birth to a baby again.

All their friends and fans sent them best regards for her second child with Huo Yunshen.

They thought that there was only one baby. Only those close to the family knew what this mother had just gone through.

She had almost died in the difficult delivery. But before she could even hug her babies, one of them was taken away forever. How hard that had been for Jing Xi.

Therefore, when she played in Brilliant Stars, she made it very convincing when her son died because of school bullying.

Her grief was not something pretended. For her, the loss of a child that made a mother almost collapse was from her own experience. She expressed it vividly.

It was a very important scene. The profound grief of losing her son led to the over ten years of seeking justice throughout the film.

Jing Xi had no idea if she did it well. But she knew when she finished that most of the crew members were shedding tears.

Chapter 1518: Bring Them Harm

Jing Xi could not stop her tears even during the filming process because it reminded her of Little Apple.

The filming for that day ended, and Jing Xi was about to return when Lan Ling'er came to meet her.

Lan Ling'er was also working on a new drama at the headquarters. When she heard that Jing Xi was also there filming her new movie, she came to greet her.

Lan Ling'er was no longer the arrogant princess she used to be. Now, she was trying to live her life as an actress to the fullest.

They went to a café nearby and sat down. Jing Xi was willing to befriend Lan Ling'er after everything that had happened.

"I saw that scene you shot just now! It was so touching!" Lan Ling'er complimented.

"You could do that too," Jing Xi smiled. "How have you been doing lately? Do you need any help?"

"No, I'm perfectly fine. I'm here to tell you something.

"What's that?"

"Lady White Tea, my aunt, has contacted me."

“What? Do you know where she is?” Jing Xi asked excitedly, almost jumping up from her seat.

“Jing Xi, calm down and listen to what I have to say first.”

Lan Ling'er told Jing Xi that Lady White Tea finally came out from hiding and contacted her after going missing for a few months.

Lady White Tea was trying to get to Jing Xi through Lan Ling'er and bring harm to her family.

“She's trying to take her revenge through me, but there's no way I want to see you or your family getting hurt after all that you've done for me,” Lan Ling'er said. “I just want to warn you. You should be extra careful.”

“Thank you. So this means that you have no way to contact her or find out where she is?”

“Yes. She called me with a prepaid card. When I tried to call back after that, the phone was shut off.”

Switching contact methods was one of the basic rules in spying. With what Lady White Tea was doing, there was no way they could track her.

“Ling'er, can you help me?” Jing Xi asked after thinking for some time. “I need you to pretend to work with her so that we can lure her out.”

“Of course! Anything you need!”

Jing Xi had Lan Ling'er's complete trust. If Lan Ling'er were to choose, she would rather stand with Jing Xi and not with her aunt.

“Just agree to whatever she asks you to do first. That way, we can learn what she's planning,” Jing Xi said.

“Sure thing. I'll contact you if I learn anything.”

After they came to an agreement, they left the café. Jing Xi went back home while Lan Ling'er returned to the studio.

With her job on the way, Jing Xi would always come back and forth from her home and the studio.

Little Grape also grew in the loving arms of the adults. Since he had a weak body, he would get sick almost once every month.

It meant that Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi had to take extra effort to take care of their son.

Their lives began to stabilize as their friends were also leading happy lives one after another.

Yet the comfortable life did not soothe Jing Xi's worries. It felt like the calm before the storm to her.

Chapter end

Chapter 1519: Intensified

And that was right. Lady White Tea was finally up to something again after a few months.

She picked a perfect time — when the cast of Brilliant Stars was filming their final scene.

The mother Jing Xi played in the film had fought for ten years over the school bullying tragedy. And eventually, it intensified and spread out with a butterfly effect.

It caught the attention of the former president Helian Wei.

He welcomed this perseverant mother in the Blue House and heard her story. Knowing what had happened, he ordered the authorities to handle it properly.

The over-delayed case was finally brought back to the court. And the bureaucrats who had covered for each other had to pay for what they did.

Eventually, the mother won the case and claimed justice for her dead boy.

When the president asked if there was anything else she needed, she said no.

She just wanted to take her son's ashes back to their home.

The last scene of the film was this weather-worn mother sitting on a ship sailing toward their hometown, with an urn of her son's ashes beside her.

With her sailing away, the camera lifted up to capture a charming night sky lit up by brilliant stars.

“Cut!”

With Director Hanson's final call, the filming of Brilliant Stars was completed.

The crew stood up and cheered. They suggested a wrap party and Director Hanson had reserved an appreciation dinner for the crew.

But Jing Xi declined them with thanks and headed home with her father.

No one knew the relationship between Jing Xi and Helian Wei. Hanson was never expecting that they could have the real former president to star in their film.

As for Helian Wei, although he had been on TV every day throughout his presidential career, it was his first time literally being on the screen as he played the role in his daughter's film.

On their way back, Jing Xi showed her appreciation again. “Father, thank you for starring in the film.”

“Well, it's all for your sake.” Helian Wei felt proud. “How was it? I hope I was not a pain for you.”

“Not at all! You did not need to act. With you sitting in the Blue House, it was nothing but reality.”

Jing Xi praised her father hard.

Helian Wei smiled and said, “Your mother is making dumplings tonight. Call Yunshen to come.”

“Sure. Let's go to Yunjing and pick up the kids.”

“OK.” Helian Wei headed for Yunjing Villa.

When they arrived, Huo Yunshen had also just returned home with Ying Bao. Jing Xi told him about having dinner in the Moon Castle and bringing the kids with them.

On their way back Helian Wei urged the driver to go faster and faster.

Jing Xi laughed, “Father, you've just been away for a couple of hours. Now you miss mother again?”

“Yes. I started missing her the moment I stepped out of the house.”

Helian Wei was not hiding it at all. Ever since they started living together they never parted.

It was only because of his daughter's last filming for Brilliant Starrs that he had to leave her for a moment.

It was finally done now and he only wished to go home sooner to rejoin his Xiao Yueliang.

The driver was speeding up. Helian Wei was excited to get a call from his dearest Xiao Yueliang on their way back. He showed it to his daughter. “See, your mother is calling.”

Chapter 1520: Bigger Than They Thought

Ever since Helian Wei had taught Jing Ruyue how to use the phone, she never even called him once because they were always together all the time.

“Hurry up and answer it! Mom must be missing you too,” Jing Xi smiled.

Helian Wei answered the phone with a smile. “Hello. Yue'er?”

“Feng... Where are you?” Jing Ruyue panted on the other side of the phone. “Please, come back... Fast...”

Helian Wei could hear something was wrong with his wife.

“The castle... It's on fire... I can't get out...” Jing Ruyue coughed.

The Moon Castle is on fire? She's trapped? Helian Wei could not believe it.

“Wait for me! I'm coming back right now!”

Helian Wei tried to keep the call connected, but it was cut.

“Dad, what's wrong?”

Jing Xi could hear something terrible was happening.

“The castle is on fire! Your mom's trapped in it!”

“What? Wait, calm down! I'll call the emergency services first!”

Helian Wei's hands were shaking, worrying that Jing Ruyue might have a heart attack again.

After hearing what was happening, Huo Yunshen quickly contacted JS and had them send helicopters to the castle.

Helian Wei urged the driver to speed up.

“But sir, it's a red light.”

“Ignore it!”

The driver then stepped on the paddle and rushed back to the castle.

The castle was engulfed by flames.

Jing Ruyue had been preparing dumplings in the kitchen when she caught the smell of something burning. When she went to check, the castle's front door was on fire.

She screamed, signaling to everyone that the castle was on fire, but she couldn't find anyone in the huge castle.

She noticed the fire was spreading towards her through a trail of gasoline, and she quickly ran upstairs.

When she looked down as she arrived on the third floor, the first floor was already covered in flames.

Smoke began to spread, and Jing Ruyue had a hard time breathing.

Without any other choice, she called her husband.

But just a few seconds into the call, the phone slipped from her hand and fell into the flames.

The fire was still spreading, and so she could only cover her nose and run to the balcony.

When Jing Xi and her father arrived back at the castle, they could see the first floor was burning vigorously as smoke exited from the windows.

The fire was bigger than they'd expected.

“Yue'er!” Helian Wei shouted, running out of the car.

“Please, you have to save my mom!” Jing Xi begged Huo Yunshen.

“Don't worry, I will!” Huo Yunshen assured her and ran towards the castle.

When they arrived at the front door, they realized they could not enter because every spot on the first floor was engulfed by fire.
