

Priceless Baby 1651

Chapter 1651: Must Be Her Imagination!

On the following morning, they were both awoken by the alarm.

Huo Yunshen felt as if his head was splitting.

He turned off the alarm and turned to cuddle the woman more tightly.

Then he found something wrong. What was going on? Who was in his arms?

He felt an explosion in his head and pushed the woman away out of panic. Then he turned on the lamp.

Darkness was dispelled. He looked at the woman by his side, whose face seemed scary...

Upon seeing that, Huo Yunshen felt the hair on his body standing up.

How could this have happened?

How could it be Jin Xiaoxi?

How could he have slept with Jin Xiaoxi?

Huo Yunshen tried to search for an answer. He recalled returning to his room and sleeping till dark. He remembered ordering that no one could enter without his permission.

He also remembered that Yin Feng said Jin Xiaoxi had already gone home. But how come she ended up in his bed?

Huo Yunshen felt overwhelmed. He hurried to get up when the woman also woke up.

Jing Xi could still feel the hangover. But on top of that, it was painful all over her body, too painful for her to even make a single movement.

It felt like she was rolled over last night. Although she woke up, her body was still exhausted.

She wanted to sleep in. But had to open her eyes upon hearing some noises.

She reached to the quilt and felt something weird. It did not feel like she was at her own home.

She was immediately awakened and saw the man at her side. Seeing it was the king, she was almost scared to death.

No way!

It must be her imagination!

Or could it be the way she woke up?

Jing Xi closed her eyes and opened them again. But the man was still there. He was no illusion.

She looked at her own body and found nothing on it. Then it came back to her bit by bit what had happened last night.

Oh my! How could that have happened?

Why was she here?

Who could give her an explanation?

Huo Yunshen found his bathrobe, put it on and turned to her. "Jin Xiaoxi! How dare you!? How could you sneak into my bed?"

"I'm so sorry, Your Majesty, there must be some misunderstanding..."

Jing Xi covered herself with the quilt and tried to find an explanation.

"What misunderstanding? That you snuck into my bed while I was sleeping and seduced me?"

Huo Yunshen did misunderstand her. But that was the only possibility he could think of now.

"No! That's not true! Your Majesty, I was out there... then I was locked up... then I tried to escape... but I have no idea how I ended up here..."

Jing Xi could not think properly right now. The harder she tried the more awkward her explanation sounded.

"Bull shit!"

Huo Yunshen wanted no more from her, not even another glance at her.

"I thought you were different! It turned out you are just another scheming woman! Dreadful woman!"

Huo Yunshen turned against her and continued, "You have gone too far with your dirty plan!"

"No! That's not true! Your Majesty! I didn't plan this!" Jing Xi did not know how she could prove her innocence.

Chapter 1652: On Purpose

"I'm mistaken?" Huo Yunshen scolded. "Then how do you explain this?"

Huo Yunshen had ordered Yin Feng to guard the door and not let anyone in. And yet, Jin Xiaoxi was able to sneak into his room.

When Huo Yunshen thought of how he had betrayed Jing Xi, anger filled his eyes, so much that he wanted to kill Jin Xiaoxi right away.

"Do you know what awaits the people that try to use me?" Huo Yunshen scolded but couldn't make the harsh decision. "You're fired! Don't ever let me see your face again!"

Huo Yunshen smashed the glass vase as he scolded her.

Jing Xi knew that she was in huge trouble. She quickly picked her clothes up and left before Huo Yunshen changed his mind.

She accidentally stepped on the broken glass, and it cut her leg.

Blood began to stain the carpet, but Jing Xi did not stop.

Huo Yunshen looked at Jing Xi as she left while limping around, but his heart was hardened and stern and he did not take pity on her.

Yin Feng came in to check as he heard something being smashed in the room. Jing Xi came out from the door when he arrived, and it shocked him.

His jaw dropped as he thought Jing Xi had left early the day before.

Jin Xiaoxi wanted to explain to Yin Feng but decided to stay quiet and left.

Yin Feng quickly ran into the room and saw the king standing by the window.

“My liege!”

“Yin Feng! How dare you let Jin Xiaoxi in!?” Huo Yunshen scolded.

Yin Feng looked at the messy bed and could guess what had happened.

“But, my liege, I've been standing guard outside for the whole night and never saw Miss Jin come in.”

“Then how did she come in? Is she a magician?”

“No...” Yin Feng could not guess what had happened.

But when he looked at the fallen hatch, an assumption appeared in his mind.

“I think I know how she came in,” Yin Feng said as he pointed at the hatch.

Yin Feng guessed that Jin Xiaoxi came into the king's room through the vents on purpose.

“Get someone to clean up the mess,” Huo Yunshen ordered. “Make sure that this does not get out! And Jin Xiaoxi is not to be employed in the palace again, even if the prince asks for her!”

“Yes, my liege.”

Huo Yunshen then went into the bathroom and cleaned his body.

He still could not forgive himself for having intercourse with someone other than Jing Xi.

Jin Xiaoxi had left something ugly in his life that he could never forget.

Yao Zheng was able to notice Jing Xi running towards the door like a drowned rat. She thought that it was because Jing Xi had been staying in the cellar for the whole night and smirked.

Chapter 1653: The Result Of Offending Her!

“Jin Xiaoxi, what happened?”

Jing Xi did not want to talk and tried to bypass her. But Yao Zheng caught her by the wrist.

“Hey, didn't you hear me? Who are you to be so arrogant? I won't let you get away with it! Soon enough, His Majesty will see who you really are and kick you out of the palace!”

Yao Zheng cursed her.

Jing Xi suddenly realized something. “So was it you who had me locked up in the cellar yesterday?”

“Ha, finally you got it! What if I say yes? You've got no proof! I thought you would be frozen to death. Surprisingly you survived it!”

Yao Zheng did not even bother to lie.

“It was you! You framed me! You evil woman!” Jing Xi was outraged and shook her hand off.

“You should blame yourself. That's the result of offending me!” Yao Zheng said conceitedly.

Jing Xi was indeed angry this time. Because of her humble origins, she had been paying enough respect to Yao Zheng. But she had framed her once again.

And it cost her chasteness. She would no longer tolerate her.

“Yao Zheng! You've framed me many times! I've had enough!”

She was outraged.

Jing Xi pounded her on her face and followed it with a series of kicks and punches.

Yao Zheng was given a good beating. She fell on her knees and begged for mercy.

But Jing Xi would not let her go after what she had done!

Now that she was already fired, she did not have to tolerate her any longer. She deserved a good lesson!

After beating her up, Jing Xi twisted Yao Zheng's wrists and ankles.

Even if she could have her wrists and ankles healed, she would be nothing but a wastrel from now on!

Yes, that was the result of offending her!

Yao Zheng was half dead by then. Jing Xi got her by her hair and warned, “I'm telling you, you've cost me my job. So you deserve this. If you dare to call the police, I'll make sure we die together!”

Upon finishing her words, Jing Xi walked proudly out of the palace.

She had enjoyed none of it here. It was never her cup of tea.

She hated how they were scheming against each other!

The only one she would miss was the little prince. She prayed for the best for him.

When Jing Xi left the Triumph Palace, she happened to receive a message from a live streaming company.

They claimed to be Longwei Music Studio. The head of the studio had listened to her song and found her to be very talented. They asked if she would like to become a singer, and provided their contact information.

Jing Xi was surprised that they actually liked her singing. She tried to make a call and it seemed that it was not a fraud. So she decided to check it out since she had plenty of time today.

She took a few buses and finally arrived at the Longwei Music Studio. She told the receptionist about her purpose for being there and the girl called someone to confirm.

Before long the girl asked, "Are you Miss Jin? Come in please. Our director is expecting you."

"Ok, thanks."

Jing Xi followed her into the company and was escorted to a stylish office.

A smartly dressed man with a beard was sitting behind the desk. The receptionist introduced her and left with his consent.

Chapter 1654: A Treasure

The man with the untrimmed beard looked at Jing Xi, intrigued by the veil covering her face.

"You're Fanxing?" the man asked.

"Yes," Jing Xi replied.

"Nice to meet you. My name is David. I'm the music director here at Longwei Entertainment. Please, have a seat."

David waited until Jing Xi had sat down and continued, "I heard your live-stream accidentally. Your sound has a unique taste to it, and that's why I invited you over. How about it? Do you want to sign with Longwei and become our singer?"

Jing Xi's mouth was wide open.

She'd never thought that she would be invited to become a singer.

She never could have imagined that starting her own live-stream would bring her such a surprise.

She'd already googled Longwei online on her way to the company. She learned that the company was established after the Dragon Kingdom was rebuilt and was trying to expand its singers' genre.

Longwei and Kaidi were the two largest music production companies in the Dragon Kingdom. Perhaps because Kaidi was better than them, but not by much, Longwei had been trying to look for new talent.

"Thank you. May I ask what it means to be a singer?" Jing Xi asked.

"Let me shorten it for you. You will be able to enjoy our company's benefits if you join us. We'll also be providing training and publicity for our new talents."

David gave a simple explanation for Jing Xi.

Jing Xi nodded. From what she'd heard, it sounded like if her songs became famous and helped the company, she could gain a hefty amount of money too.

After thinking for a while, she realized that she could earn a lot of money by being a singer.

There was no reason to decline since the company was willing to give her a chance.

"I got it." Jing Xi nodded. "I'll join Longwei."

David's eyes lit up as if he was looking at a treasure.

"Good! Can you take off your veil? We'll have to decide on your genre based on your look."

Jing Xi slowly took off her veil and showed her face.

"My God... Your face..." David gasped as he saw Jing Xi's scarred face.

"I'm sorry!" Jing Xi apologized as she quickly put her veil back on. "I got the scar from a fire...."

David calmed himself down and sighed. "That's too bad. Your perfect sound will go to waste... You could've gained fame instantly and gone on tour. It looks like we have to take another approach."

"Then... Can I still stay with Longwei?" Jing Xi asked anxiously. "I really like to sing."

"Of course you can! I'm not the type who will judge a book by its cover. I'll think of a plan specifically for you!"

"Thank you... Thank you so much!"

After a lengthy discussion and explanation, Jing Xi finally signed a two-year contract with Longwei.

The contract mentioned that as long as Jing Xi followed the company's rule, she would be able to obtain a certain amount of payment.

Chapter 1655: A Ghost Singer

Jing Xi was officially a signed singer now. She was very excited and thanked David again and again. Then she left Longwei Music Studio.

With her gone, David called in another female singer right away.

In a short while, a woman in a very tight skirt with long curly burgundy hair showed up in his office. "David, what's up?"

"Angela, come on in. I've got something to tell you." David escorted her inside.

This young singer was named Angela, another signed singer with Longwei who was pretty close with David.

Angela was hot and David was very fond of her. But unfortunately, she was never popular no matter how they marketed her.

Angela closed the door and went behind the desk to sit on David's thigh. She asked, "Is there an emergency?"

David looked at her and said, "I've got a better idea to promote you."

"What is it?"

"Take a look at this contract. It was just signed today."

Angela looked at the name on the contract and found it familiar. "Starry? Sounds familiar."

"She's got live streaming. It was an English song."

Reminded by David, Angela remembered her immediately. "Right, I know it. It was quite popular. How did you get her signed? What are you going to do for her?"

Angela thought that David had found his new favorite and sounded jealous.

"No, no, no. I'm not doing anything for her. Instead, I'll make use of her singing to promote you."

Angela was surprised. She stared at him for a while then realized. "Do you mean..."

Before she had finished her words, David nodded and they seemed to have reached some secret agreement.

Angela realized that David was going to make Starry a ghost singer for her.

But she felt worried. "Will she agree? What if it was found out?"

"She would not have a chance! You have no idea how ugly she looks. She could never show her real face."

That being decided, David and Angela went on caressing each other.

With her new contract, Jing Xi went home joyfully. She had no idea what they were planning to do with her.

But before she entered the house, she heard little Tieniu crying. She was shocked and rushed in.

There she found her foster mother Ge Juhua spanking the boy. Heiniu was trying to protect his son and Ge Juhua beat him as well.

“Mother! What are you doing?”

Jing Xi ran to them and got Ge Juhua's broom. Then she shielded the father and son behind her.

Upon seeing her, Ge Juhua seemed even angrier. “What am I supposed to do? This little bastard stole my cardboard and sold it all. Why can't I spank him?”

Ge Juhua used to collect and sell cardboard.

Jing Xi saw that her cardboard was gone. So she said, “Mother, how much could that make? How could you spank a little boy for that?”

Ge Yuhua continued assertively, “I'm not only spanking him, but his father too! It must have been him who taught the boy to steal! I'm teaching them a lesson!”

Ge Juhua took off her shoe and was about to beat them harder. Jing Xi stopped her again.

“Mother! Enough! How could you? So they are no longer welcome here, right?”

Chapter 1656: Leave Together

Ge Juhua was angry and spoke without restraint.

“So what? One of them is useless trash, and the other one is just annoying!”

“Useless? Were they useless when you used them to get the money for moving here?” Jing Xi scolded.

“You want them to leave? Fine! Give them back their money!”

“What money? I'd rather give my life than money!”

“You're just plain evil! That's it! I'm taking them with me, and we'll leave this house!”

Jing Xi had already made her decision. There was no way she was going to leave them with her foster family.

“What? Then who's going to work?”

“What work? I was fired! Are you happy now? I'm also a piece of trash now, an ugly one at that! Are you still going to keep me?”

Ge Juhua became afraid when she realized that Jing Xi was planning to not work or live with them.

“You... Fine! Leave if you want! I'm not stopping you!”

“Great! You will at least give us some money since I've earned a lot for this family, right?”

“What money? I told you I don't have it!” Ge Juhua scolded.

“Hey! Are you just going to throw us on the street like this?”

“You're the one who wanted to leave!” Ge Juhua said and ran back into the house.

Jing Xi sighed and turned around. She picked Xiao Tieniu up and went back to the warehouse.

“Xiaoxi... I'm so sorry... I should've been stricter to Niuniu...” Mo Yutian apologized.

“Niuniu just wants to help grandma...” Xiao Tieniu sobbed.

Xiao Tieniu had taken all the recycled materials because he wanted to help Ge Juhua sell them.

But Ge Juhua noticed him doing that and thought that he was stealing them.

“It's not your fault,” Jing Xi said as she hugged Xiao Tieniu tightly. “Don't call her grandma anymore. She's not your grandma.”

“Okay...” the little boy nodded.

“Are you serious about leaving?” Mo Yutian asked.

“Yes. I've thought it through. I'm not going to let the two of you stay here with that vile woman anymore. Leaving here is the best choice.”

Mo Yutian was okay with going anywhere. The problem was that he had to rely on Jin Xiaoxi for money, and he felt terrible because of that.

“What if I move away with Niuniu? You can still stay here.”

Mo Yutian thought that living with him would be too harsh to Jin Xiaoxi.

“And where are you going to stay? Have you ever thought of that?” Jing Xi asked. “We are a family now, and I'm not going to abandon my family.”

Jing Xi had already decided they would leave together.

Chapter 1657: It Was Amazing

She said that deliberately to Ge Juhua so that she would not squeeze her anymore.

Mo Yutian was touched, for she was not giving up on them. But he still felt worried about their future. “But you lost the job. If we move out the rent will be high. How are we supposed to make a living?”

“No worries! I got another job!” Jing Xi told him about the music studio signing her as a signer.

Mo Yutian was surprised. “Seriously?”

“Of course! They found me through my live streaming. I went to their company today. It seemed nice and grand. So I signed the contract.”

Jing Xi sounded happy.

Mo Yutian thought it seemed like winning a lottery and felt worried. "Are they decent? Not fraudulent?"

"No way! I'm not that silly, ok? I showed them my face, and they still signed me. It means they are not investing in my face, but rather in my talent."

Jing Xi smiled with confidence and added, "They asked me to record a demo tomorrow. If I can start singing, we'll have nothing to worry about. Trust me, I'll never let you suffer from hunger."

Mo Yutian was overwhelmed with gratitude. He could only hold her hand and stare into her eyes gratefully.

Jing Xi still had some savings, the amount that the palace prepaid which had now become her severance.

She'd spent a little on the cellphone. And there was still enough for renting a new home.

She decided that she would go to an agent and find a home after her recording tomorrow. So that they could move out at the soonest time possible.

On the following morning, Jing Xi went to Longwei Music Studio and was led to the recording room.

David and Angela were both there. They picked a song and asked Jing Xi to record it.

Jing Xi put on a headset and started singing with the music.

Once she started singing, Angela was completely stunned. She sounded even better than in the video. It was amazing.

She had a very unique voice. It was husky, textured and charming.

David was also very pleased and shared a look with Angela. They both felt certain that the voice would make Angela a superstar!

When the recording was over, David applauded and said, "Well done! Jin Xiaoxi! You've got a unique voice. Very good. You will start the official recording tomorrow and we'll get prepared for your new release. Are you ready?"

"Absolutely! I'm so ready." Jing Xi was flattered. But she asked, "Do I need to attend any training?"

"Er... not now. I'll let you know should there be any."

"Sure. Thank you."

Getting out of Longwei, Jing Xi went to see some real estate agents. She visited a few listings and eventually found a suitable place in terms of cost and location. Then she signed the rental agreement.

One of the advantages of staying in the Dragon Kingdom was that they offered a great housing allowance and made it very cheap to rent.

Jing Xi prepaid a small amount for three months as well as a deposit. Then she went to a moving company to schedule a vehicle for the following morning.

She got everything settled and went home later that day to inform Heiniu and Niuniu about their moving. Then they started packing right away.

Chapter 1658: The Smart and Right Choice

The moving truck came to pick up Jing Xi's stuff the next day. Jin Hongsheng even came to help and they moved most of the necessary things into the car, leaving the unnecessary stuff behind.

Ge Juhua monitored them the whole time, afraid that they would take something that did not belong to them.

Jing Xi bid her farewell to Jin Hongsheng before leaving. Jin Hongsheng told Jing Xi that she was free to come back and visit whenever she wanted.

The truck left and drove them towards Wutong Residential Area.

The moving company helped them moved their things to their rented apartment as Jing Xi showed Mo Yutian and Xiao Tieniu around.

Since the government would provide its people with minimum necessities, the apartment was furnished with simple furniture such as tables and beds.

The apartment had two bedrooms and one living room, and it was cozy to live in.

"Brother Heiniu, what do you think of this place?" Jing Xi asked.

"It's perfect," Mo Yutian replied. Even though the apartment looked dull if compared to the palace, a little tidying up could make it a great place to live in.

Xiao Tieniu was excited since he was finally able to live with his parents.

"Yay! I can finally live with daddy and mommy!" the little boy exclaimed as he jumped around the apartment.

Jing Xi couldn't help but smile.

She helped Mo Yutian to the couch and said, "Take some rest now. I'll go and unpack all of our stuff."

"Okay." Mo Yutian nodded.

Even though he could not move around easily, he would still help with some of the little things.

It did not take long before Jing Xi finished tidying up the place.

She left a few plants by the window and packed all the clothes into the wardrobe. She then cleaned the house, and the apartment took on a new look.

"It's finally done," Jing Xi told Mo Yutian. "All that's left is mopping the floor and buying some ingredients for dinner."

“Okay.” Mo Yutian nodded as he looked at Jing Xi. He knew that it was the right decision to move out with Jing Xi.

At least he wasn't living under other people's roof anymore.

Jing Xi then took Xiao Tieniu out for lunch and bought take-out back for Mo Yutian.

She then went to the nearby mall to purchase ingredients for dinner.

Since a whole sack of rice would be too heavy for them to carry, Jing Xi only bought a few cups of rice first.

When night fell, Mo Yutian asked Jing Xi to get some rest as he prepared dinner.

Since Jing Xi was really worn out, she did not decline as Mo Yutian started to cook the food.

The three of them sat down at the dining table and enjoyed dinner together.

“Mommy, is Little Prince still sleeping?” Xiao Tieniu asked during dinner.

“I'm not sure... He might've woke up by now.”

Jing Xi was also worried about Little Grape since she had no way of knowing how the little prince was. All she could do was hope.

The moment Little Grape opened his eyes, familiar faces came into view. There was his father, grandparents, and uncle.

Only Auntie Xiaoxi was nowhere to be found.

hapter 1659: Had to Wait Patiently

The boy finally woke up. Huo Yunshen got hold of his hand and said excitedly, “Hengheng, you are finally awake!”

“Daddy...” Little Grapes was still weak and his voice could barely be heard.

“Oh my, I'm finally relieved.” Jing Ruyue was weeping while talking to her grandson. “Grape, how do you feel now?”

While everyone was asking about how he felt, Little Grape seemed to be looking for someone else.

“What are you looking for? Tell grandma.” Jing Ruyue patted him on the head and spoke gently.

“Grandma... Auntie Xiaoxi...,” Little Grape murmured.

“What was that? Did you hear it? What does he want?” Jing Ruyue did not understand and asked around.

“No idea,” Helian Qingyu said.

Huo Yunshen got it. The boy was looking for his nanny Jin Xiaoxi as soon as he woke up.

But Jin Xiaoxi had already been fired. He would never let her get close to his son again.

He sighed secretly and had to make a kind lie. "Hengheng, good boy, Auntie Xiaoxi has something to take care of at home. She will be back in a few days."

Hearing his father's explanation, Little Grape said nothing further and had to wait patiently.

Since Little Grape woke up, Huo Yunshen went to Auntie Lan for a proposal.

He asked her to go back as the chief housekeeper for the palace.

Auntie Lan felt confused. "Your Majesty, I heard you assigned Yao Zheng as the chief housekeeper. Right?"

"She broke her wrists and is in the hospital now. I'm afraid she won't be able to come back again."

Huo Yunshen made it brief and did not mention why.

He had found out that it was Jin Xiaoxi who beat Yao Zheng and hurt her wrists. But he did not seek to punish Jin Xiaoxi because he wanted nothing more to do with her.

Huo Yunshen did not even want to mention her name again.

After settling down in their new place, Jing Xi went to Longwei Music Studio again on the following day to record a new song.

It was composed for her and Jing Xi just needed to sing it in her style.

In the meantime, Longwei had renamed Angela as Evening Star and worked out a new market plan for her.

After a week of recording and production, Jing Xi's first record, The Forgotten Sea, was officially completed.

Upon listening to the song, David highly praised her. "Jin Xiaoxi, I'm sure this song will bring a new climax to the pop music world."

"Thank you, Director. May I know when it will be released?" Jing Xi asked.

"Soon. It's scheduled for next week."

"Sorry, Director, may I ask when I will be paid? Is that right after the release?"

Jing Xi had a family to support. So she had to know this.

"Of course!" David promised her.

Jing Xi was very happy. Immediately after that, they started recording her second song.

In another week, The Forgotten Sea was finally released.

Its posters could be seen anywhere from online to offline music shops.

Longwei Music Studio had invested heavily in it as its annual theme song. It became incredibly popular and ranked at the top of the annual new release chart.

People fell in love with the song because of the singer's charming voice and her perfect and engaging singing.

Chapter 1660: Used

Jing Xi waited impatiently for her new song to be announced. The moment it was, she quickly checked it out on the internet.

The Forgotten Ocean, Ye Fanxing. [1]

“Brother Heiniu! Look!” Jing Xi exclaimed. “My song is finally out! They even gave me a great name!

Jing Xi looked as the views and downloads of the song increased. The higher they went, the more money she could get.

Jing Xi went to the company the following Monday. She could hear her own song playing everywhere as she was on her way there, and it made her proud of herself.

Jing Xi went to look for David and ran into Angela on her way.

Everyone was congratulating Angela for something, and it piqued Jing Xi's interest.

“Anan, congratulations on topping the charts!” one of the people surrounding Angela congratulated.

“Thank you, everyone!” Angela smiled. “But please do not forget that my name is not Angela from now on. It's Ye Fanxing.”

Jing Xi was shocked as she heard Angela calling herself Ye Fanxing.

“What happened to Angela?” Jing Xi asked.

The worker looked at Jing Xi's everyday attire and veil, thinking that she was their new janitor.

“You're new, aren't you? You should call her Ye Fanxing from now on,” the worker said. “Her new song just broke eight million downloads. Remember that, got it?”

“The Forgotten Ocean. Here, this is it.”

The company's speaker was playing the song at that moment, and it was the song that Jing Xi had worked really hard for.

Jing Xi could not believe that Angela was enjoying a success that was meant for her.

She noticed that the poster had changed too. Angela's face and the title of her new album were posted on the wall.

Jing Xi was confused and decided to ask David about it.

Jing Xi did not knock and pushed the door open because she was in a hurry. The moment she pushed it open, she ran into David, kissing Angela behind the desk.

Shocked by the sudden intrusion, their lips separated.

Angela quickly jumped off David's lap.

“Don't you know how to knock? Where's your manners?” David scolded when he realized it was Jin Xiaoxi.

“My apologies, but I'm here to ask what happened to my song? Why did it become her song?” Jing Xi asked as she pointed at Angela.
