

Priceless Baby 1711

Chapter 1711: Heart Felt Very Weak

Her sister simply did not know how much his majesty the king loved his wife. If he realized someone was pretending to be Jing Xi, he would definitely want them dead.

Jing Xi was very worried Jin Hua would cause some disaster. After thinking about it, she decided to go tell her the stakes and to advise her to leave this place immediately.

After she found out which room Jin Hua was in, she pushed open the door and went in.

When Jing Xi entered, Jin Hua was happily eating grapes while lying down on the sofa. The look of enjoyment on her face was as if she was on a vacation.

"Sister!" Jing Xi shouted. Truth be told, she was really not used to how Jin Hua looked since her surgery. She no longer looked like the old Jin Hua.

Jin Hua jumped up immediately when she heard Xiaoxi's voice. "Huh? Why are you here?"

She remembered that Jin Xiaoxi said she had already lost her job at the palace and no longer worked here. So why did she turn up here now?

Right now, her heart felt very weak. After all, Jin Hua was an imposter. Now that Xiaoxi was here, she could only tell herself to calm down. She needed to be calm and not shoot herself in the foot. Everything would be fine as long as she could fool Jin Xiaoxi.

"I came back to work here again. I am responsible for taking care of the prince in his daily life. Sis, why did you come to the palace? What did you come to do?" Jing Xi walked over and asked.

"Don't bother me! Let me tell you, I am no longer Jin Hua. I am Jing Xi, remember that. When the king or anyone else asks, you just tell them I am Jing Xi. Ok?"

Jin Hua started to instruct her.

Jing Xi did not understand her. "Sis, how are you Jing Xi? You are lying and you even want me to lie for you! Do you know what you are doing right now? If his majesty the king finds out you are pretending to be Jing Xi, he will definitely punish you!"

"Enough, stop being so noisy!" Jin Hua quickly came over and covered her mouth. "Do you really want me to get caught so much? Let me tell you, I am doing everything for the family. Think about it. When I become queen, you also won't have to be a nanny at the palace anymore in the future. Our family will be able to live well."

"Sis! You really went crazy! Have you thought about the consequences?"

"That's enough. Stop speaking! I've already reached this stage right now and there is no going back! You will be the cause of my death if you disclose who I am! Do you really want to see me dead that badly?"

"That's not..."

"If not, then stop talking. If worse comes to worst, you can just pretend not to know who I am. I will be Jing Xi, and you just keep on being the nanny, okay?"

"But..."

"Okay, okay. You should head out quickly. Don't let other people see us together and also don't let others learn of our relation."

Jin Hua basically just buried her head in the sand. She thought that no one would find out about their relationship if Jin Xiaoxi didn't say it out loud.

She stretched out her hand to push Jing Xi, wanting to push her out. However, Jing Xi accidentally saw the ring on her finger and recognized it immediately. "Sis! Isn't this my ring? Didn't you say you didn't see it when I asked you back then? How could you steal my things?"

"I..." Jin Hua looked at the ring and anxiously held it with her hand. "I didn't steal your stuff."

"Then why is that ring on your hand?"

Jin Hua couldn't explain clearly. "Sigh, in any case, I didn't steal it. I only borrowed it! Let me wear it for a few more days. Once I have something better, I will return this to you."

Jin Hua thought she would be able to have any kind of gems and diamonds she wanted when she became queen. She wouldn't need this lousy ring.

"You..."

"Stop being so fussy. Are you really my sister? Don't be so stingy and let me wear it for a few more days. I guarantee I will return it to you."

Jin Hua pushed Jing Xi out straight away. She closed the door and let out a deep sigh of relief.

Chapter 1712: A Trick

Jing Xi was pushed out from the room, and Jin Hua slammed the door behind her. Jing Xi turned to look at the now shut door and let out a sigh.

She could not believe that her sister would do something as crazy as impersonating the queen.

Jing Xi then shook her head and decided that it was Jin Hua's choice. Even the Gods could not help her if her identity was exposed to the king.

And as for the ring, Jing Xi now knew where it was, and she only had to look for a chance to take it back.

Night fell and Lan Yi brought trays of daily necessities into Jin Hua's room with a dozen maids. The trays were filled with perfumes, bath bombs, towels, and even a luxurious set of pajamas.

They were ordered by the king to help Jin Hua shower.

There were also dresses that no normal person could ever get their hands on.

Jin Hua was flattered to see such a lineup of extravagant products.

Her eyes were literally brimming with excitement.

"I'm the head of maids here in the palace," Lan Yi said, introducing herself. "We were ordered by the king to help the queen shower."

Jin Hua was even more flattered when she heard Lan Yi calling her their queen.

She thought that she definitely had gotten the seat of the queen.

Jin Hua then proceeded to remove her clothes, and Lan Yi was just standing by her side, her eyes focused on Jin Hua's waist.

Jin Hua did not notice the stare and went into the bath. She was treated with a massage while other maids served her fruits.

After enjoying her time, Jin Hua got out of the bath and got dressed.

The maids then led her out from her room, and she thought that she was going for a meal.

Yet the moment she arrived at the main hall, she was shocked by the atmosphere there.

The king was sitting on his throne, staring at her like the devil himself. Two lines of guards stood beside her, and they all stared at her as if she had done something wrong.

The maids then threw Jin Hua to the floor, and she tripped over her dress. She quickly raised her head and was met with the king's angry stare.

"My... my liege..." Jin Hua stammered.

"Do you know what the punishment is for identity theft?" Huo Yunshen asked coldly. The shower was for Lan Yi to check if Jin Hua had a cloud tattoo on her waist or not.

But after inspecting Jin Hua's naked body, not only did Lan Yi not find the tattoo, but she also noticed that Jin Hua's body shape was too different from Jing Xi's.

It was clear as day that the woman before them was a fake.

Huo Yunshen was furious, furious with the fact that Jin Hua had the nerve to trick him using his wife's name.

"Wait... I'm really Jing Xi... You have to believe me! It's just that I can't remember much..." Jin Hua pleaded, unable to believe that her dream would end so soon.

"Can't remember much? Then how would you even remember your name then? This is probably one of the stupidest lies I've ever heard!" Huo Yunshen yelled. "I'll give you one last chance! Where did you get the ring from?"

"It's... It's mine!"

"Still with all the lies, are we? Guards!"

Chapter 1713: Punish Her Again

Once Huo Yunshen gave the order, two guards came out from his side. They pressed Jin Hua down. One of them pressed her left hand to the ground. He used a sharp dagger and with a thump, he cut off the ring finger on her left hand straight away.

“Ahhh!!!” Jin Hua wailed in pain.

The guard removed the ring from her chopped-off finger, wiped it clean, put it on a towel, and handed it to the king.

Huo Yunshen took back the ring and held it in the palm of his hand. He said furiously, “You are not worthy to have this ring!”

After he finished speaking, he said to the guard, “If she is not willing to talk, punish her again!”

The guard received the command and looked like he was about to cut off her other fingers. Jin Hua's entire body trembled from the pain. At this moment, she had a deep realization that she had angered a person she shouldn't have. She no longer dared to impersonate Jing Xi.

She had no choice but to speak the truth. “I will speak... I will speak... don't kill me...”

The guard let go of her hand. Jin Hua crawled on the floor and cried heavily. She said while her lips trembled, “I... I am an imposter... I had plastic surgery... that ring... is not mine...”

“Where did the ring come from?” Huo Yunshen asked again.

Since Jin Hua couldn't become the queen, she also didn't want to let Jin Xiaoxi have that life. That's why when the king asked her, she lied again. “I picked it up on the beach in the past... I don't know who it belongs to!”

“I will chop off your head if I find out you muttered even half a lie!”

“I...I... wouldn't dare... your majesty... forgive me please, your majesty...”

“You should've known this would be the result when you were impersonating Jing Xi. If I forgave you, how would I be able to face Jing Xi? Guards! Lock this lying wench in prison!”

At this time, Jing Xi frantically ran in from the outside. She begged for mercy. “Your majesty, please forgive her!”

Huo Yunshen turned around and saw a panting woman at the front of the floor. He said coldly, “What right do you have to beg mercy for her?”

“Your majesty! I know my sister had plastic surgery to look like Jing Xi. It is unforgivable for her to impersonate Jing Xi. However, as you are wise and brilliant, don't punish her. She only became mad from wanting to become the queen!”

The reason why Jing Xi begged forgiveness for her was mainly that she wanted to show the last bit of kindness to Jin Laohan by protecting his daughter on their behalf. She also hoped to use this chance to educate Jin Hua properly. That she should live with the proper attitude from today onwards and stop indulging in daydreams.

It wasn't clear what Huo Yunshen was thinking when he heard what she said. He stayed silent for a while before agreeing unexpectedly.

"Then I will spare her from death. However, from today onwards, her entire family will have to leave the Dragon Kingdom and return to Starstan. They can never come back again."

This was the greatest forgiveness Huo Yunshen showed to the Jin family on Jin Xiaoxi's behalf.

Jing Xi immediately knelt down when she heard the king wanted the entire Jin family to leave the Dragon Kingdom. "Your majesty, do you mean I have to go back to Starstan as well?"

Jing Xi was finally able to have a career in the Dragon Kingdom after great difficulty. She wanted to keep on singing and didn't want to leave!

Huo Yunshen already got up and was about to leave. At that moment, he turned his head and glanced at her. He said, sounding indifferent, "You are exempt."

Jing Xi let out a sigh of relief. "Thank you! Thank you, your majesty, for your mercy!"

After the king left, Jing Xi helped Jin Hua up from the floor. She picked up her finger and sent her out of the palace.

Jin Hua was completely scared stiff and even her nerves were shattered from being scared. All the while, she looked expressionless and didn't recover.

Her finger had been chopped off and she was still bleeding. She looked completely battered and exhausted.

Outside the palace door, Jing Xi sat Jin Hua down first and then called an ambulance.

When the ambulance arrived, Jing Xi took the opportunity to say, "Sis, return the ring to me!"

"Gone... it's gone...," Jin Hua murmured as if her soul had left her. Jing Xi looked at her chopped-off finger and guessed the ring might have fallen off when they chopped off her finger. She would look for it later once she returned.

Chapter 1714: Chase After

Jing Xi let out a sigh and used her handkerchief to help patch up Jin Hua's wound.

"What did I tell you? You should've listened to my warnings! Look at you now!" Jing Xi scolded.

Jin Hua nodded quietly, telling Jing Xi that she had learned her lesson.

"Go and find a good job after you get back, okay? Don't live like you used to. Remember, everything in life takes effort," Jing Xi said and took out a pile of cash for Jin Hua. "Take this and see if you can do something with it."

Realizing that Jing Xi had not only helped her, but she was even willing to give her cash, Jin Hua burst into tears.

“Xiaoxi... I'm so sorry... I'm such an idiot... I'm so sorry... It should've been you...”

Jin Hua had finally learned her lesson. She was also trying to tell Jing Xi that she was actually the queen.

But Jing Xi did not think much about Jin Hua's words. She only thought of them as apologies.

It was then that the ambulance arrived, and Jing Xi helped Jin Hua into it.

She watched as the ambulance left her sight, and she bid farewell to her foster sister.

The Jin family would be chased out from the Dragon Kingdom and sent back to the Star Country. Jing Xi was the only one allowed to continue her stay in the country.

Her story with the Jin family finally came to an end. She did not owe them anything in the end. All she could hope for was that they lived a peaceful life after returning to their own country.

Jing Xi then went straight to the main hall to look for the ring. The floor had already been cleaned by the servants, and the ring was nowhere to be found. She asked the servants if they had seen a ring lying around but all of them shook their heads.

And just like that, the ring went missing again.

Jing Xi sighed. At least she wouldn't have to hope for anything since the ring was gone.

The case of Jin Hua pretending to be queen ended quietly. It did not stir up any huge scandals in the Dragon Kingdom.

Life returned to normal, but Huo Yunshen's heart became even colder.

He had held high hopes that Jing Xi would return but was deeply disappointed in the end.

But Huo Yunshen did learn of something important. The ring had been found at a beach in the Star Kingdom, which meant that there was a high chance that Jing Xi had ended up there too.

“Jing Xi...,” Huo Yunshen whispered. “Wait for me. I'll definitely put the ring back on your finger personally.”

Huo Yunshen then left the room and ran into Jin Xiaoxi.

“What are you doing here?” Huo Yunshen asked as he had explicitly ordered everyone to keep their distance from that particular room.

“I'm here to apologize for my sister,” Jing Xi replied. She wanted to apologize officially to the king for what her foster family did.

She was a part of the family too, and she had to take responsibility for it.

Huo Yunshen did not say anything and walked away.

But Jing Xi was not going to give up and chased after Huo Yunshen.

“I know that what my sister did was wrong, and it caused you a lot of troubles. I hope that you won't get too angry because of her and ignore your meals. If you keep staying in a state like this, your body might fail you...”

Chapter 1715: That Familiar Taste Came Back To Him!

Feeling depressed, Jing Xi followed his steps and kept on nagging as she walked.

Huo Yunshen really never would've thought she would nag so much. He immediately stopped and turned around.

Jing Xi didn't notice this as she still kept talking by herself. Her head knocked into his bosom. An “ah” sounded out, and her body bounced back.

Jing Xi realized she had knocked rashly into him again and the unbearable feeling intensified. “I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I didn't notice just now. It wasn't intentional, I...”

Huo Yunshen couldn't give a clear reason why but he just couldn't bear to get angry at Jin Xiaoxi. Her nagging and impudence made him feel like she was actually very interesting.

“Is the meal ready?” Huo Yunshen suddenly asked.

“Huh?”

Jing Xi was confused by his sudden jump in thinking and was completely caught off guard.

He wasn't going to rebuke her for being presumptuous?

He unexpectedly asked if she had prepared the meal yet. Could it be he wanted to eat?

However, it wasn't time for a meal right now.

But it wasn't a problem for Jing Xi. She nodded and said, “It is ready. You can eat at any time. Your majesty, are you hungry?”

Huo Yunshen didn't say anything. Instead, he walked to the dining hall by himself. Jing Xi quickly followed.

Huo Yunshen sat at the dining table and waited for the food to be served. Jing Xi said hurriedly, “Your majesty, wait for a while. I will come back very soon.”

After she finished speaking, she quickly ran to the kitchen. It was way past mealtime right now. Cooking up a big meal would definitely waste a lot of time. That's why Jing Xi could only quickly get the ingredients and cook up a simple dish, a bowl of noodles.

Once the noodles were done, she added a few delicate and appetizing side dishes to the tray before taking it to the dining hall.

“Your majesty, noodles are the only things I could cook quickly right now. Please eat them to fill your stomach for now! I will make more dishes for dinner.”

Huo Yunshen didn't say anything but just looked at the noodles with his head lowered. The bowl of noodles was so average that it couldn't possibly be more average. It was topped with some finely chopped spring onions.

It didn't look like anything special but it did smell quite good.

The fragrance woke up his taste buds and he couldn't help but pick up the chopsticks and start trying the noodles.

He used the chopsticks to stir the bottom first. However, when he started mixing the bottom of the bowl, he was shocked to discover there were things covered up under the noodles.

There was a poached egg, some green vegetables, shredded mushrooms, and there was even savory braised pork.

"Are these braised pork noodles?"

Huo Yunshen's first reaction was to say this when he saw the braised pork noodles.

"Yes, that is correct."

Huo Yunshen felt a strange emotion as he had a bite of noodles and then took a bite of the braised pork.

That familiar taste came back to him!

Wasn't this the braised pork noodle that Jing Xi was best at making?

One would not be able to forget the taste in their entire lives once they ate it once.

"These noodles... did you cook them?" Huo Yunshen couldn't help but ask when he tasted it.

"Yes."

"The braised pork?"

"I marinated it myself. Your majesty, how does it taste?"

Huo Yunshen: "..."

It tasted unbelievably good. It tasted the same as the braised pork noodles Jing Xi made. Eating this made it feel like he went back to the past, to the time when Jing Xi was still here.

He still remembered the first time he had the braised pork noodles she made a few years ago in Peijing. It was an unforgettable scene.

As Huo Yunshen ate the familiar tasting noodles, his eyes couldn't help but get wet.

This was Jing Xi's cooking!

That was definitely it!

His taste buds would not lie to him.

He finished eating all of the noodles in one breath. He even drank all of the soup, not leaving one drop. After he wiped his mouth, Huo Yunshen lifted his head to look at the woman beside him.

Jing Xi saw that he had finished the noodles and even drank all the soup and knew he definitely was very hungry.

Now that the king had finished his meal, it seemed as though her mood also improved as well.

Jing Xi came over to clear the dishes. Just when she reached out with her hand, Huo Yunshen grabbed her wrist.

Chapter 1716: Trying to Understand

“My liege!”

Jing Xi shrieked as she jumped away from Huo Yunshen.

Huo Yunshen just kept staring at her as if he was reevaluating the woman in front of him.

It would make sense if the woman in front of him had the same body shape and vibe as Jing Xi, but what made Huo Yunshen curious was that the foods she made tasted like Jing Xi's too.

“Where did you learn how to make this dish?” Huo Yunshen asked as he stood up.

“It's... it's my own recipe...”

Jing Xi stammered, as she was intimidated by Huo Yunshen's stare.

Did I just insult him with a bowl of noodles?

“Can... Can you let go of my arm? You're hurting me...” Jing Xi pleaded.

Huo Yunshen finally realized that he was grabbing Jing Xi's arm and quickly let her go.

But he still continued to stare at her, thinking about how she had mentioned that the braised meat noodle was her own recipe.

He was finally interested in Jin Xiaoxi and wanted to know more about her.

Huo Yunshen had been avoiding her ever since she came to work at the palace so that he would not be distracted.

But now that he was finally looking into her eyes, he realized how bright her eyes were, just like Jing Xi's.

He was starting to have doubts about the woman in front of him.

He then slowly approached Jing Xi as Jing Xi began to take a few steps back every time Huo Yunshen advanced.

Jing Xi kept moving backward until she hit the wall.

Huo Yunshen then extended his arm and took her veil off.

He started to question the origin of the scar on Jin Xiaoxi's face.

She said it was because of a fire, but she never said how the fire occurred.

Like... An explosion?

The more he questioned it, the more he wanted to know.

Huo Yunshen's other hand was already at Jing Xi's waist. He was tempted to pull her shirt up and check if she had the tattoo on her waist or not.

“Stop!”

Jing Xi screamed the instant Huo Yunshen's finger touched her skin.

She then pushed him away with all her might and ran away.

Huo Yunshen watched as the woman escaped and began to think of every possibility.

The paternity test result arrived seven days later.

Both Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan went to the test center together.

Huo Sanyan parked the car and turned to look at Ye Xun.

“I'm scared... What if it's not the result we wanted?” Huo Sanyan asked.

“Then there's nothing we can do but to accept the fact,” Ye Xun replied as he got down from the passenger seat.

Huo Sanyan took a few deep breathes the moment she got her hand on the report.

“What are you waiting for? Let me do it if you don't want to!” Ye Xun scolded.

Chapter 1717: Most Unique Feature

Ye Xun reached out with his hand and wanted to take it. However, Huo Sanyan didn't give it to him. She wanted to see it with her own eyes.

She started to look through the report. Huo Sanyan's eyes were opened wide from the start to the finish. She covered her mouth with her hands and, in a flash, tears started rolling down her cheeks.

She lifted her head to look at Ye Xun. Ye Xun saw her reaction and asked anxiously, “Is it her? Is it her?”

Huo Sanyan was so emotional that she couldn't speak. She threw herself forward straight away and hugged him tightly.

The two of them hugged each other and were so moved that they stayed silent for a long time.

After that, Ye Xun looked at the report himself. When he saw the words “mother-child relationship” written out, he also covered his eyes and became so emotional that he couldn't hold back his tears.

She is Jing Xi!

She was definitely Jing Xi!

Jin Xiaoxi really was Jing Xi!

“I figured it out! Back then, she was definitely washed to Starstan and was brought in by the locals. There is also a good explanation for the scar on her face. It was because Lady White Tea injured her with the explosion.”

“Yeah. This is also the reason why she could live with Mo Yutian and Little Apple in the same place. She lost her memory. Otherwise, there was no way she wouldn't be able to recognize Mo Yutian.”

All the cause and effect could be explained. The two of them couldn't help but sigh.

“Heaven's will! This is the will of heaven!”

Both Huo Sanyan and Ye Xu felt it was heaven's will. It was destined to be!

It allowed Jing Xi not to die in such a huge disaster. And now, she was able to use such a quiet way to come back beside Huo Yunshen and her children.

Their family of five had been together for so long but they didn't know that she was the family member that they missed the most.

Thinking about it would really make one's heart break!

Whenever Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan thought about her scars and the wrongs she encountered, both of them felt extremely heartbroken.

If they let Huo Yunshen know about it, he definitely would feel so upset and blame himself so much that he would want to kill himself!

“Let's not tell brother about this yet. We need to bring Jing Xi back before we can tell him.” Ye Xun said as he wiped away his tears.

“I also had the same thoughts! Following this, we can find the world's best facial repair technology to help restore Jing Xi's appearance.”

The two of them decided they would help Jing Xi restore her appearance. Moreover, they'd send her back beside Huo Yunshen and send her back beside her children. To let her go back to her previous life once again...

Kaidi wrote three songs consecutively for Jing Xi and allowed her to retain her place at the number one spot for new artists.

Moreover, Jing Xi also became famous because of the scar on her face. The ugly scar now became her most unique feature.

Many of her fans who liked her songs gave her a new nickname, calling her “Scar Angel.”

Her Evening Star social media page exploded in popularity. Many fans left comments supporting how she currently looked. There were also some who suggested that she have plastic surgery to have a thorough transformation.

Jing Xi didn't really care about what people said. She was already used to her current looks and felt they were quite good.

After finishing a busy day of recording, she ran into the president. The president asked her, "Xiaoxi, do you have a moment?"

Right now, when Huo Sanyan saw Jin Xiaoxi again, she had a different feeling in her heart and her attitude had also changed. Whenever she remembered the person who stood in front of her was family she was once close with, her heart really felt very painful.

Jing Xi thought for a while. "Yes, today's lessons are already over."

"Good! Can you go shopping with me?" Huo Sanyan invited her.

"Me? Go shopping with you? Is that appropriate?"

Jing Xi felt she wasn't high enough in status to go shopping with the president.

And she didn't want to go around scaring people with this face of hers.

"It's fine. Let's go."

Huo Sanyan had already gotten up. She picked up her purse and car keys, held Jing Xi's hand, and led her out.

Chapter 1718: Jealous

Jing Xi ran into one of her colleagues as soon as she exited Huo Sanyan's office.

Jing Xi could instantly recognize her. She was Lin Xianjing, the top artist for Kandi Entertainment.

"Nice to meet you," Jing Xi said as she met one of her most influential seniors in the company.

Lin Xianjing just nodded back slightly and turned to smile at Huo Sanyan.

"President Huo, are you free now?" Lin Xianjing asked.

"Oh, it's you. I'm sorry, but I have some plans now. Let's talk when we get back."

Perhaps because Jing Xi was walking slower than her, Huo Sanyan grabbed her hand and pulled her to her side.

Lin Xianjing was left where she was standing as she looked at the president of the company walking hand in hand with Jin Xiaoxi. She was feeling salty because of it.

She thought of herself as one of the pillars that made the company what it was. She had earned quite a reputation for the company but was treated like a nobody by the president.

She'd heard that Huo Sanyan would get tired of old things quickly, and Lin Xianjing never really believed it until she saw how close Huo Sanyan was with Jin Xiaoxi.

And the reason she wanted to meet with Huo Sanyan was to ask why most of the resources that were supposed to be hers were reallocated to Ye Fanxing.

She wanted to know why Huo Sanyan was investing so much in a new artist.

Lin Xianjing was jealous of Jin Xiaoxi.

“Jingjing.” Lin Xianjing's assistant nudged her. “You see it now, right? How the president treats the new girl? They must've known each other long before this! She's just ignoring you right now. But we shouldn't look down on Ye Fanxing either. She might just topple your legacy. I've even heard that the dinner tomorrow was set up specifically for her.”

“So what?” Lin Xianjing snorted. “What can an amateur do?”

On the other side, Huo Sanyan went shopping with Jing Xi. She treated Jing Xi as her own bestie and bought some pretty clothes and dresses for her.

But Jing Xi was feeling pressured around Huo Sanyan and kept rejecting all the gifts.

“Don't be so tense,” Huo Sanyan laughed. “You can even treat me as your girlfriend. You can even call me third sis if you want to.”

“But, that's bad, right? You're the king's sister. I think I should call you the third princess instead.”

“What...” Huo Sanyan laughed at Jing Xi's words, thinking that the Jing Xi that had lost her memories was impressive too.

Both of them were the center of attention at the mall. Huo Sanyan always dressed as a successful businesswoman and could still attract a lot of attention.

On the other hand, Jing Xi had a veil covering her face, which attracted attention too.

Even with the veil, a few of her fans managed to notice her since there was a poster of her right next to her.

The fans were taking photos with the poster when one of them noticed the real thing standing next to them.

“It's Ye Fanxing!” the fan shouted. “Can I have an autograph?”

Jing Xi was quickly surrounded by fans. It was her first time being in such a situation, and she promptly turned to Huo Sanyan, asking for help with her expression.

Chapter 1719: A State Of Extremely Bad Panic

It was only after she saw Huo Sanyan nodding at her to show she could that she gave her fans her autograph.

“We all like your songs very much!”

“We also support you restoring your appearance! Evening Star, good luck!”

Jing Xi could feel her fans' love and she felt very moved. She enthusiastically said, “Thank you, thank you.”

“Evening Star, can I take a picture with you?”

“Evening Star, can you take off your veil?”

Not only did they want her signature, but they also wanted to take pictures as souvenirs. Jing Xi laughed and said self-deprecatingly, “I'm scared you guys might have nightmares after you go back if I take a picture with you guys.”

“That won't happen! You are the Scar Angel! In our hearts, you are as beautiful as your music!”

The precious fans really didn't avoid her.

Jing Xi did as they wished and took off the veil and took a group photo with them.

All the girls went to hug her after they got the signature and group photo. It was only after that they left.

Jing Xi put on the veil again and looked at Huo Sanyan. She said gratefully, “Sister Sanyan, I really have to thank you and your company. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have so many fans who like me.”

“That is because you were already able to attract people in the first place. In the future, not only will you have fans of your music, but also fans of your movies as well.”

Huo Sanyan didn't tell her how much of a shining light Jing Xi was in the past and how much people liked her.

There were countless fans who had missed her during these past few years when she was not in the entertainment scene.

And the works she acted in and her songs had all already become timeless classics.

Jing Xi caught up to Huo Sanyan's pace. “It's fine as long as there are people who like my songs. I haven't thought that far yet.”

Huo Sanyan held up Jing Xi's hand again and said, “Xiaoxi, do you know who the one who wrote all of your songs is?”

“I don't know. Are they written by the company?” Jing Xi asked.

Huo Sanyan shook her head and answered, “They are by Ni Yun.”

“Huh?”

There was no one who didn't know who Ni Yun was. Jing Xi's eyes almost fell out from shock. “Isn't that our majesty the king? He wrote those songs...”

Jing Xi looked as though it was a big catastrophe. She said, feeling flustered, “I'm done for! Sister Sanyan, if he learned that I sang his songs, I reckon he would kill me.”

“Why would he?”

Huo Sanyan felt that if Huo Yunshen knew the songs he'd written in the past were still being sung by his own wife, he would definitely feel very happy.

"You don't know it, but once, when we went to the garden, I used a harmonica to play his song. It made him very mad. It's already fortunate he didn't kick me into a river. He already warned me that I am not allowed to hum his songs."

Jing Xi was in a state of extremely bad panic right now. What should she do right now?! If the king really heard it, she would definitely be done for!

"It's fine! Don't be scared! I will help you carry the sky even if it falls! He wouldn't do anything to you!"

Huo Sanyan comforted her. In actuality, she felt the reason why Huo Yunshen would get mad was that he didn't know her true identity.

Jing Xi felt slightly better with Huo Sanyan's support. Right now, she could only pray for luck!

The two women shopped together. Jing Xi accompanied Huo Sanyan as she shopped for clothes. However, after she bought the clothes, just when they were about to part ways, she gave all of the clothes to Jing Xi.

Jing Xi shook her hand. "Sister Sanyan. I can't take these clothes, you should wear them yourself! The clothes the company provides is already enough for me to wear."

She already owed her a lot of favors. She was grateful for her kindness in recognizing her worth and employing her. She was like her talent scout. Right now, Jing Xi was already extremely grateful that she was willing to become her sister and that she didn't avoid her.

How could she also accept her gifts?

"Take them! I bought them with the intention of giving them to you. There will be a dance at the company this weekend. I hope you can dress up nicely and join it."

"Oh, thank you Sister Sanyan."

Huo Sanyan sent her to the palace entrance and then left in a car.

Chapter 1720: Little By Little

Jing Xi walked towards the gate with the bags of new clothes in both of her hands. Just before she could enter the palace grounds, a group of cars approached from behind her.

She heard the engines and turned around to realize they were the king and his guards' cars, and she quickly moved away to let them pass.

Huo Yunshen was sitting casually in the car when she noticed Jin Xiaoxi standing outside. Without thinking, he asked his driver to stop.

He then rolled down the window and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Shocked by the king's voice, Jing Xi turned around and saw that Huo Yunshen was looking in her direction. She turned left and right to make sure that the king was actually addressing her.

"I'm talking to you!" Huo Yunshen scolded.

Before Jing Xi could even reply, Huo Yunshen had opened the door and gotten out of the car.

"My liege... Why... why are you here?" Jing Xi asked.

"This is my home, do I need a reason to be here?" Huo Yunshen replied.

"No! That's not what I meant!"

Realizing that her question was foolish, Jing Xi imagined slapping herself.

Huo Yunshen then turned to the driver and ordered him to drive the car back.

They waited until the cars were gone, and Jing Xi asked, "Why are they leaving you here?"

Since the distance from the gate to the actual palace was far, she was worried that the walk would tire the king.

"Is there anything wrong with taking a walk?"

N... no."

Huo Yunshen then began to walk towards the palace. But after taking a few steps, he noticed that Jing Xi was still standing where she was.

"What are you standing there for? Hurry up!"

The only difference between Jing Xi and Jin Xiaoxi was their personalities.

Jing Xi was a kind and talented person. She would help those in need without asking for anything in return.

While Jin Xiaoxi was a coward and would listen to every order she was given.

Upon hearing the king calling out to her, Jing Xi could only chase after him, even if she did not want to.

Huo Yunshen walked at a fast pace while Jing Xi followed behind him at a slower pace.

It forced Huo Yunshen to slow down to wait for her.

"Are you afraid of me?" Huo Yunshen then asked.

"No..."

Jing Xi raised her head and smiled. But the truth was the cold sweat was already running down her hands.

"Is that so?"

"Yes..."

Jing Xi had no idea how to reply to his questions. She really wanted to know what topics would interest the king so that she could at least make the conversation more comfortable.

“Were you a citizen of the Star Kingdom by birth?” Huo Yunshen suddenly asked.

“Yes and no. One of my relatives was from the Dragon Kingdom, so other blood runs in the family too.”

Since Huo Yunshen had no idea that Jin Xiaoxi was actually adopted by the Jin family, all he could do was probe into her background little by little.
