

Priceless Baby 1721

Chapter 1721: Verify Her Identity

“That Jin Hua is your older sister?”

“Yeah, that's right.”

“You guys always lived on that small island in Starstan in the past?”

“Yes.”

The two of them just chatted normally like this until they reached the palace's entrance.

They were within the sights of all the servants. They all found this to be very strange. His majesty the king hated Jin Xiaoxi the most so why did he walk with her to the gate today?

After they entered, Jing Xi looked for an excuse to leave and she walked in another direction. Huo Yunshen stood in the hallway and stared at her back.

He was in deep thought.

Since she came back to the palace, Jing Xi kept on working busily until the night. She took care of the two princes until they fell asleep before she also finally entered deep into her dreamland on the bed from exhaustion.

The palace was silent at night.

Faint footsteps came closer and closer until they slowly stopped in front of the children's room.

Huo Yunshen was a bit tipsy tonight. He had drunk some alcohol to give himself courage. At that moment, he took a deep breath as he stood in front of the door. It was as if he was a burglar in his own home.

The question he would have to face after this was a severe one.

He thought about it for a long time and decided he would inspect and verify Jin Xiaoxi's identity tonight.

He would know in a moment if she was Jing Xi or not!

In the end, he reached out with his hand and turned the doorknob. This was a small movement, but it felt as though he exhausted all of his strength. He had never felt a door being so unexpectedly heavy before. He felt as though there was a heavy weight pressing down on his heart.

The door was finally opened.

A ray of light leaked into the room.

Huo Yunshen walked over and closed the door with the hand behind his back. The light from the outside was all blocked outside the door.

While standing in the room, he could see a dimly lit moon-shaped night lamp.

The children's bed was crowded with three people. One woman sleeping with two children who were in deep sleep.

The children were both tucked in her embrace. She, on the other hand, was leaning all the way to the side of the bed. It looked as though she would fall off at any moment.

The children relied on her very much. Could it be telepathy between a mother and her children?

Otherwise, how else could it be explained?

Huo Yunshen suddenly thought of the past, during the ceremony where Little Grape had to choose his gift. When he was asked to choose his gift, he didn't take anything. He just kept on grabbing his mother many times.

Ever since this child was young, it felt as though he had the acute ability to sense his mother. He was able to quickly distinguish if someone was his mother or not.

Could the reason why Little Grape chose Jin Xiaoxi later on be because of this innate ability?

He looked at the back of the woman he was familiar with on the bed and recalled that messy night. The feeling she gave him was undoubtedly similar to Jing Xi.

Jing Xi...was she really Jing Xi?

Huo Yunshen took heavy steps towards the bed. He came over behind Jin Xiaoxi's back and stood there.

The woman was fast asleep. The side of her face looked peaceful. Her breath was well-balanced.

Huo Yunshen took a deep breath and closed his eyes. He could still imagine Jing Xi's appearance.

Her every frown, every smile. Her each and every move. They were all deeply engraved in his mind.

He opened his eyes again and tried very hard to chase away Jing Xi's image. He couldn't help but reach out with his hand and lightly stroke Jin Xiaoxi's face.

He thought about what kind of appearance was hiding underneath those scars.

Could it be she was originally very beautiful?

And that she was like a pearl covered in dust right now?

Jin Xiaoxi was lying down in front of him. Her figure was perfect and she only wore thin pajamas to sleep. Just looking at such a figure was enough to ignite a person's heart with lust.

However, his heart was in a mess at this moment.

Chapter 1722: Regret

Huo Yunshen bent down a little and gently grabbed Jing Xi's shirt. He was hesitating. If the king of a country was found out to have secretly pulled up the shirt of a sleeping woman up in the middle of the night, he would lose all of his pride and respect.

Yet, he still decided to do it. He closed his eyes, took a deep breath, and pulled it up a little.

Luckily, the woman was still asleep. He opened his eyes and slowly looked towards her waist.

There it was, a tattoo on Jing Xi's waist.

It was the same tattoo that he was familiar with.

The moment Huo Yunshen saw what he wanted to know, he felt like his brain was exploding.

The woman right in front of him was Jing Xi.

She was the real one.

That explained why she always looked so familiar from behind, why every inch of her reminded him of Jing Xi.

The reason for the scar on her face and the change to her voice was probably because of the explosion. Yet Huo Yunshen avoided that explanation all the time and chose not to accept the truth.

The only thing Jing Xi had lost was her face and voice, and yet, it took Huo Yunshen such a long time to recognize her.

He scolded himself.

Tears clouded his vision as his breath became heavier. He kneeled in front of the sleeping woman as if he was being weighed down by his sense of guilt.

Jin Xiaoxi was Jing Xi.

Jing Xi had become Jin Xiaoxi.

Huo Yunshen could not believe that it could take so long for him to think of such a method to check if she was Jing Xi or not.

He then thought of how he had treated Jin Xiaoxi ever since he'd met her.

He had hurt the woman he loved again and again.

He sat on the floor, tasting all his regrets and pain alone.

The woman he had been looking for had been by his side for quite some time.

Huo Yunshen grabbed his hair as he blamed himself.

What should I do? How can I even begin to apologize? I'm so sorry...

Jing Xi woke up from hearing someone crying.

She followed the voice and turned around, only to see the king crying by the side of her bed.

Shocked by a person she did not expect to see, she wondered what was happening.

It took a few seconds for Jing Xi to calm down and then she caught a faint sweet aroma coming from Huo Yunshen.

It was alcohol.

The first thing she thought was that Huo Yunshen was drunk and was missing his queen.

“My liege...,” Jing Xi called out softly.

Huo Yunshen raised his head almost immediately after hearing Jing Xi calling out to him.

Looking at her face, Huo Yunshen regretted not recognizing her.

Ignoring the fact that she was barefoot, Jing Xi quickly got out from the bed and helped Huo Yunshen up from the floor.

“Are you okay? Let me take you back to your room.”

Huo Yunshen stood up with Jing Xi's help. He then grabbed her wrist suddenly and pulled her into his arms, hugging her tightly.

Jing Xi... My poor Jing Xi... How much have you endured for the past three years...

Chapter 1723: Hugged So Tightly By The Man

He initially thought she was already dead. Who would've thought she would have drifted to a small island, become the daughter in a fisherman's family, and had to work hard by running around every day to help them deliver seafood?

She should've been the president's daughter, a noble swan. In the entertainment industry, the queen of the international movie scene. The queen of the Dragon Kingdom. These were the things she should've been right now. However, she was just living an ordinary life with the Jin family.

She had to wake up early in the morning every day and go to sleep late every night, working as a nanny in the palace!

She even had to endure his torment and lashing out. Jing Xi, I feel ashamed to face you!

Huo Yunshen could not say out loud these words in his heart. At this time, he could only keep on hugging Jing Xi while his tears continued to fall, with him being unable to stop them.

He felt as sad as much as he missed her. And he felt as regretful as much as he loved her.

He was so sad, so sad that he didn't know what to do.

He didn't know she had always been by his side. She also didn't know that her own two children were also right beside her.

She definitely lost her memory. Did she forget about him?

How else would she not be able to recognize even him?

Jing Xi... poor woman...

The more Huo Yunshen thought about it, the more upset he became. His heart was in so much pain he couldn't breathe. The only thing he could do was to hug her tightly. He could not use words to describe the pain in his heart.

Jing Xi was hugged so tightly by the man that she almost couldn't breathe. She wanted to move a bit and ask him if he had encountered any trouble. Otherwise, why would he suddenly act slightly unusual?

"Your majesty..." Just when she turned her head, she felt a moist and cool feeling on her cheek.

It was his tears.

She didn't expect his majesty the king to be so sad!

Did he become so sad because he missed his late wife too much?

"Jing Xi, I'm sorry, I'm sorry..."

Huo Yunshen touched her ear with his lips. He kept muttering "I'm sorry" nonstop. Perhaps, he wouldn't even be able to make up for the harm he did to her and the regret he felt even after he said it a thousand or even hundreds of thousands of times.

He blamed himself for his stupidity and his conceit!

Jing Xi had a clearer understanding when she heard him call the queen's name. He was definitely confusing her for the queen again.

Sigh... what a pitiful man!

She initially wanted to push him away. However, in the end, she couldn't actually bear to do it. She just lifted her head subconsciously and lightly patted his back. She wanted to do this to comfort him, to see if it could make him feel better.

After hugging him for a while, Jing Xi lightly pushed him away. "Your majesty, I will bring you back!"

Huo Yunshen didn't say anything. He just looked at her silently and tearfully. She helped him out the door and he also allowed her to help him.

She brought the drunk Huo Yunshen back to his room. They arrived at the door and she stopped. "Your majesty, we are here."

She was very polite and she remembered very clearly that he had told her she was not allowed to even take half a step into his room.

Huo Yunshen saw how cautious the woman looked and it felt as though thousands of arrows had pierced through his heart. It hurt so much that it split open.

He opened his mouth, wanting to say something. However, Jing Xi was the first to speak. "Your majesty, you should go in quickly!"

She let go of him but he grabbed her hand tightly.

Jing Xi knew he was not just slightly drunk and that he had confused her with someone else. She asked, "Your majesty, do you want me to cook you some hangover soup?"

He shook his head.

He didn't want anything. He only wanted her to stay by his side!

“Since that is the case. I will head back. I still need to take care of the children.”

After she finished speaking, she pulled her hand back and ran away like a rabbit that was startled, leaving him an image of her back that was hard to touch.

This was what it felt like to be forgotten!

What was he to do now?

His Jing Xi had forgotten him. What did he have to do to bring her back?

He thought about the baby in Jing Xi's tummy, the child that was conceived on that messy night. Could it be heaven's will?

Chapter 1724: I Want You

Jing Xi had been impregnated by mistake, or was it not a mistake?

Huo Yunshen could still recall how angry he was when he learned that Jin Xiaoxi was pregnant. But now, he was rejoiced by the fact that he did not make her go through an abortion.

Or else he would have to live with another mistake.

Huo Yunshen could not sleep that night.

But not because of regret. He was thinking of the future that awaited him.

Jing Xi was back, and he had to work harder to make up for all the mistakes and sins he had committed.

He hoped that it wasn't too late.

Jing Xi woke up early to prepare breakfast for the children. She was too focused on the preparation and did not notice a man standing behind her.

When she turned around and saw Huo Yunshen standing by the door, her heart almost jumped out from her mouth.

“My liege!” Jing Xi exclaimed and quickly regained her composure.

Jing Xi stared at Huo Yunshen's face and realized he wasn't his usual self, especially his stare. It was as if he was preparing to eat her.

Judging from Huo Yunshen's face, she could tell that he did not have a good night's sleep.

“Are you hungry?” Jing Xi asked.

Huo Yunshen nodded.

“Then... Can you please wait at the dining table? The food will be done soon.”

Huo Yunshen shook his head.

“Then... Should I take you back to your room so you can clean yourself up first?”

“You'll be helping me,” Huo Yunshen finally said.

He sounded childish, and Jing Xi had already given up on conversing with him logically.

It was as if the king could be a devil for one day and a child for the next.

“Fine...” Jing Xi nodded and helped him back to his room. But on their way back, Jing Xi realized she should've asked one of the servants to help him instead.

“Should I ask for someone else to help you?” Jing Xi asked.

“No! I want you!” Huo Yunshen ordered.

Jing Xi had no choice but to follow him into his room.

She first helped him with shaving then she washed his face. After applying lotions and face creams, Huo Yunshen looked all freshened up.

“I'll go look for clothes that you can wear today.”

Jing Xi went to Huo Yunshen's closet and picked a set of clothes for him, leaving them on his bed.

“I left your clothes on your bed...”

“Help me put them on,” Huo Yunshen said, cutting Jing Xi off.

He then proceeded to take off his robe in front of Jing Xi.

In just one second, the man's perfectly shaped body was in full view of Jing Xi. Not expecting the king to strip so suddenly, Jing Xi quickly lowered her face to hide her embarrassment.

Chapter 1725: A Treasure That He Lost And Then Regained

“What is it?”

“No...nothing.”

Jing Xi waved her hand, took a deep breath, braced herself, and brought his clothes over to help him put them on.

Huo Yunshen stood in front of the mirror and could see her as she moved around him busily. He looked at her as she meticulously put on his tie with her head facing slightly upwards. He only needed to lower his head slightly to see her face and the tip of her nose.

He saw the scars on her face and he felt a burst of pain in his heart.

He remembered the questions she asked her three years ago. She asked him whether, if one day, she became old and ugly, her appearances ruined, he would still love her.

How did he answer her back then?

He told her he would still love her. No matter how she changed, he would love her forever.

It was not only a promise. He really loved this woman. Now that he knew her appearance was ruined, he still loved her all the same.

After she finished putting on his tie, a handsome man with an impressive appearance appeared in the mirror. She looked at the king in the mirror as if admiring her own work.

The way he looked at her through the mirror was as if he was looking at a treasure that he lost and then regained.

After three years, Jing Xi could once again put his tie on for him. This feeling was truly wonderful.

“Your majesty, I should go take a look at the children. When breakfast is ready later, can you go and eat it by yourself?”

“Okay.”

Jing Xi could finally leave the king's room. She left speedily as she felt every second with the king was like torment.

Huo Yunshen turned his head to look at her back and his lips moved up slightly.

It turned out Jing Xi also had a cowardly side to her. Thinking about it now, he found it quite cute.

Jing Xi went back to the children's room and the two of them had already woken up. She had gotten the children's clothes ready beforehand by placing them beside the bed. The two of them were both putting on their new clothes after they woke up.

At this moment, the two brothers were making a competition out of putting on the clothes.

“Let's go have breakfast and go to school after you guys finish putting on your clothes.”

Niuniu had always been very independent. He quickly finished putting on his clothes. “Mom, I already finished putting on my clothes!”

“Ok, Niuniu is so good!” Jing Xi was still used to calling Little Apple Niuniu. It was only when they were in front of others that she called him prince.

Little Grape saw that his brother had finished putting on his clothes, but he still hadn't put on his pants. The more he hurried the more disorderly he became. In the end, a thump sounded out as he fell off the bed onto the carpet.

Jing Xi saw this and hurried over to help the child up. “Did the fall hurt you, little prince?”

“No.” After Little Grape got up, with Jing Xi's help, he quickly finished putting on his clothes.

The school uniform looked very good. It had the badge of the royal kindergarten on it and they looked very handsome after they put it on.

Jing Xi helped the two children tidy up their ties. She looked at their handsome little faces and said, "Okay, from today onwards, you guys are kindergarten students! Let's shake hands!"

The two little princes shook hands with each other and started to smile.

Little Grape looked at his brother and then looked at Auntie Xiaoxi. He asked, "Auntie Xiaoxi, can you also call me by my nickname?"

"What is your nickname?"

"I'm called Hengheng!" Little Grape even acted like a spoiled child.

"Haha. Okay then, Hengheng. Let's quickly go brush our teeth. You need to go to school after eating."

"Okay! We are going to school!"

The two children were very excited and happy.

It had already been quite some time since they moved from Starstan to the Dragon Kingdom.

Now that Little Apple had already spent some time living in the palace, his originally dark skin had already slowly turned fair. One could tell he was a handsome little prince with just one look. There was not much difference between him and Little Grape.

He was already used to living in the palace and no longer kept on asking for his dad. Instead, he had already placed his dad in his heart.

Chapter 1726: Everything Changed

Little Apple regained his hearing as school started. The little kid was glad, as he could finally go to school like every other child.

The two brothers got prepared, and Jing Xi took them to the dining room, leading them by their hands.

The king and the princess were already waiting by the dining table. The adult was reading the news while Ying Bao was staring blankly at the ceiling.

"Daddy! Sis! Why are you both here so early?" Little Grape asked.

Ying Bao did not reply while Huo Yunshen slowly lowered his newspaper and took a look at Jing Xi before he answered.

"I'm hungry." Huo Yunshen smiled.

"Me too!"

Little Grape climbed onto the chair and sat down next to his sister, waiting patiently to be fed.

Jing Xi helped Little Apple to the seat across from Little Grape and went to the kitchen to get the food.

"Breakfast is served," Jing Xi announced after plating all the foods on the table.

"Mommy! Join us!" Little Apple invited.

"I'll eat later," Jing Xi said, wary of her own status.

Little Apple did not like to eat in the palace's dining room. He hated it because his mother could not join him and had to wait until everyone had left.

"Daddy," Little Grape called out. "Why can't Auntie Xiaoxi join us?"

"There's no rule against that actually," Huo Yunshen said.

He was actually thinking of how to invite Jing Xi to join them, and the kids helped him out.

"Then it's okay, right?" Little Grape asked.

"Yes." Huo Yunshen nodded.

"Yay! Come on, join us!" Little Grape clapped and waved at Jing Xi.

But due to the difference in status, Jing Xi was wary of joining them.

"No, no. I'm fine. I'll eat after everyone is done." Jing Xi smiled.

"Just sit down!" Huo Yunshen ordered.

Stunned by the king's immediate order, Jing Xi stared at him before taking a seat beside Little Apple.

Huo Yunshen then ordered the servants to prepare a set of utensils for Jing Xi too.

And thus, Jing Xi had her meal with the royal family.

But she had no idea that things were changing slowly.

In the man's heart, she was not another nanny anymore but the wife he'd lost three years ago.

She had the right to sit at the same table as them.

The car was already waiting outside before the kids were finished with their breakfast.

Because of their royal status, the princess and princes were studying at the royal institution, providing them with the best of everything.

Ying Bao was already in the third grade while Little Grape and Little Apple were going to start their first year of pre-school.

Like every day, the king was supposed to be meeting representatives from other countries, but he pushed all meetings away just so he could take the kids to school himself.

The car was about to leave, and Jing Xi was getting ready to head to the company.

Yet, Huo Yunshen wanted her to join him and his children as they went to the school, but he had no idea how to ask her.

Chapter 1727: He Needed Her More

She thought about it for a while, then asked the child, “Hengheng, don't you guys want Auntie Xiaoxi to send you guys to school too?”

“We do, but Auntie Xiaoxi needs to go to work,” Little Grape said.

“She can take a leave, I'll allow it.” When it came to letting his people slack off, Huo Yunshen sure didn't cut corners.

After hearing that, the two children screamed in excitement and asked her to get in the car.

Jing Xi stood at the car door and said to the king, “Your Majesty, I must leave for the company soon or I won't make it.”

“It's alright, the children need you.”

He needed her more.

To ease her worries, he said, “I'll inform my third sister so she won't count this as skipping work.”

Well...since he put it this way, it would seem too pretentious if Jing Xi rejected his offer again.

She simply thanked him then got in the car and sat with the children.

The royal family car set out from Triumph Palace to the Dragon Kingdom Royal Academy.

When the car finally pulled to a stop at the school gates, the school staff were already waiting, ready to welcome them.

The king alighted with the princes and princesses in tow, while the crowds welcomed their arrival with reverence.

The five of them walked through the gates, Huo Yunshen holding Ying Bao's hand on the left, Little Grape's on the right, while Little Grape gripped Jing Xi close to him, as Jing Xi held Little Apple's hand in her right.

And just like this, the family of five walked through the Royal Academy's main entrance.

They looked over the new classroom and made their greetings to the headmaster and homeroom teacher. As the children picked out their seats, the two adults observed from outside the classroom for a while, making sure that the children would be able to adjust to the new environment before taking their leave.

Ying Bao was in the elementary school department and knew the teachers and students well, so she was definitely in her element. The adults didn't need to fret too much.

When they finally left the school, the school director himself escorted them out of the gates and bid them goodbye.

Then, Huo Yunshen ordered his men to head for Kaidi to send Jing Xi to her office.

Wait a minute, how could Jing Xi even dare to let his royal majesty send her to work? She immediately objected, “There's no need for that, your Majesty! You have so much work to deal with, you really don't have to go out of your way for me...”

“Get in the car!” Huo Yunshen did not even let her hesitate, but grabbed her wrist and yanked her inside.

Jing Xi lost her balance and toppled in, landing right in his arms.

What an awkward position!

She scrambled up and hastily breathed out, “Sorry,” before retreating to her spot by the side, keeping a distance from him.

Sigh...

Huo Yunshen sighed inwardly. She had forgotten him. Now she was treating him like the ruler of a kingdom, tiptoeing around him with so much meekness.

She didn't even know how much it hurt for him to see her like this.

How he longed to embrace her and tell her the pain he endured all these years in her absence. Yet now, he could only watch her sit in front of him, like strangers who once knew each other.

This feeling was about to drive him crazy!

The royal family car pulled up near the door of Kaidi.

Jing Xi thanked him then stepped out of the car. To her surprise, the king slipped on a pair of oversized shades and got out with her.

Oh my God, she thought as she frantically looked around, You are just standing out here in public? Are you not worried that something might happen? She wanted to ask him.

“Don't you have to go to work? Not leaving?” He peered at her through his shades.

Her eyes filled with confusion and panic. “Your Majesty, I'm going to work, but what are you doing?”

She noticed that his royal majesty seemed to be behaving differently from usual. Wasn't there a guest coming today? He left the guest in the hotel and instead came downtown to observe the mood of the people?

“I'm meeting my sister for something.”

Chapter 1728: Taking Advantage

There was no way Jing Xi could stop Huo Yunshen from visiting his sister.

“I see. Then I'll leave now,” Jing Xi said.

She did not want to go together with the king. She took the chance and ran.

“Hey!”

Huo Yunshen wanted to stop her and told her to slow down. He was worried about the baby in her belly.

But Jing Xi had already run into the building.

Huo Yunshen could only let out a disappointing sigh as he walked into Kaidi with Yin Feng and his guards.

Jing Xi ran as fast as she could away from the king and could not stop herself when someone suddenly appeared in front of her.

"I'm sorry!" Jing Xi apologized after running into that person.

She raised her head and realized the person she ran into was Lin Xianjing.

Lin Xianjing was staring furiously at Jing Xi as the coffee in her hand had been turned over, and her dress was turning brown because of the spill.

"Ye Fanxing! What do you think you're doing?" Lin Xianjing scolded.

"I'm so sorry! It was an accident..." Jing Xi apologized and took out a handkerchief. "Let me help you..."

"Do you think this stain can be cleaned easily?"

"Then... Let me help you take it to the dry cleaner."

It was the only solution Jing Xi could think of.

"Dry cleaner? Are you going to pay me if the dress is ruined? Do you know how many of my fans are waiting for me now? You're wasting a lot of my precious time!"

"I'm really sorry..."

Jing Xi felt apologetic and was looking for a way to solve the problem.

Lin Xianjing was already angry at the company for giving all of her resources to Ye Fanxing. She was a potential rival.

Lin Xianjing was thinking of ways to make Jing Xi look bad, and the spilled coffee was a great chance to shame her.

"You're sorry, are you? Why don't you try how this coffee tastes?"

Lin Xianjing scolded and splashed the remaining coffee towards Jing Xi.

Jing Xi turned her head around, preparing to be showered by coffee. It was then that a person appeared before her and protected her.

The first thing Huo Yunshen saw when he entered the building was someone having her way with Jing Xi.

He had no idea what was happening, but when he saw the other party was trying to spill coffee over Jing Xi, he ran towards her instinctively.

The coffee was spilled on Huo Yunshen's suit, and Lin Xianjing gasped while taking a step back.

Not only was she shocked by Huo Yunshen's sudden appearance, but she was also surprised to see such a handsome man.

Priceless Baby's Super Daddy Chapter 1729

Chapter 1729: An Eighty Percent Chance That He Fancied Her

He was wearing a pair of sunglasses, revealing only his perfect profile: straight nose, sexy thin lips. Even by just looking at his sharp cheekbones, one could tell this was an extremely handsome man.

Looking at his apparel, the custom handmade well-tailored suit with sapphire cufflinks...every detail showed exquisite personal taste. One could tell this was a man with status.

However, she still did not know who this gentleman was!

Lin Xianjing felt her heart skip a beat. Subconsciously, she put away her ruthlessness, became more restrained, and said, "Pardon me, sir!"

Even though she was still not sure why the gentleman took the hit for Evening Star, when she saw his expensive suit had been splashed by her coffee, she was feeling rather sorry.

Lin Xianjing held up the napkin given by Jing Xi, and asked, "Sir, perhaps I can help you to clean the stain?"

"There is no need for that."

Huo Yunshen rejected her coldly. He took a glance at her, and asked, "Why did you throw coffee at this lady?"

Hearing this, Lin Xianjing now confirmed that this man with taste was just a passerby, not an acquaintance of Evening Star.

So, Lin Xianjing pretended she'd been wronged. "She bumped into me, and stained my gown!"

After hearing what she said, Huo Yunshen instructed his assistant next to him. "Give 100 sets of gowns from the same brand to this lady!"

Lin Xianjing heard that the gentleman wanted to give her not only one but one hundred gowns. She felt as if she could faint from the excitement. This was more exciting than winning the lotto!

It seemed like this gentleman was an extremely wealthy man. There was an eighty percent chance that he fancied her.

The brand of the gown she was wearing cost no less than six figures each. How much would that be for one hundred gowns?

Oh gosh! He must be a tycoon!

After giving instructions, Huo Yunshen walked towards the escalator, and his assistant left to get the gowns.

Lin Xianjing lost her interest in Evening Star. She asked to release her, and warned her, "Evening Star, consider yourself lucky today. If I ever catch you when I'm in a bad mood, I will not let you off this easily! Watch your step! Do you hear me?"

"Yes, ma'am!"

Jing Xi nodded.

“Why are you still blocking my way? Get away!” scolded Lin Xianjing.

Jing Xi walked away, heading towards the escalator entrance. She had to clock in very soon.

On this end, the two assistants of Huo Yunshen were waiting on the side. They stopped Lin Xianjing when she was about to leave. “Madam, please stay, we will bring you the gowns in a short while.”

“Oh, alright.”

Lin Xianjing was no longer in a hurry to meet her fans. She even planned to stay a little longer. If the gentleman ever came out again, he might even invite her for a meal!

On the other end, Jing Xi ran to the escalator waiting area. All of the escalators were ascending, except the one reserved for the president. Coincidentally, the doors were open.

She dared not to go in but took a peek into the elevator. As she expected, His Highness was in the elevator.

The person inside saw that her head was peeking in, but that she did not come in. He commanded in low voice, “Still not coming in?”

Jing Xi stared at him surprisingly. Did he just call her in?

But she just got into trouble. Furthermore, shouldn't he keep a distance from her, and continue to pretend to be a stranger?

Like just now, even though he took the hit for her from the coffee, he did not acknowledge her at all, not even a glance, as if she was a wisp of air. Wasn't that good?

Huo Yunshen realized, the Jing Xi who lost her memory had already become a cute, even a little silly thing.

Chapter 1730: Heartwarming

Huo Yunshen decided to take matters into his own hands as Jing Xi was hesitating.

He extended his arm and pulled Jing Xi into the elevator by her collar.

Jing Xi shrieked as she ran into Huo Yunshen's arm.

Huo Yunshen did not let go of her and hugged her instead.

The door closed, and the guards turned around to give their king his personal space.

Huo Yunshen was excited as he got to hug his woman again in the tight space. His heart was like a drifting boat that had finally found a place to stop.

He felt like he was finally home.

It felt calming to be able to hug Jing Xi again.

Jing Xi was utterly stupefied by what was happening.

“Can... Can you please let go of me?” Jing Xi asked as she felt Huo Yunshen resting his chin on her head. They were so close to each other that she could hear his heartbeat and smell the faint cologne on his body.

It was heartwarming and nerve-wracking at the same time. The only thing Jing Xi could think of at that time was to hurry up and separate from Huo Yunshen.

Huo Yunshen took a deep breath and let Jing Xi go.

Jing Xi took a step back and looked at the stain on Huo Yunshen's shirt.

“Your shirt! What should we do?”

“You should take responsibility.” Huo Yunshen smiled

“Should... should I go back and get you a new one?”

The truth was that Huo Yunshen had a spare shirt in his car, but he wasn't planning to tell Jing Xi since he could use the chance to spend more time with her.

“No, you're coming shopping with me later.”

“... Okay.” Jing Xi nodded. “But, thank you so much for what happened just now. You saved me from a lot of trouble.”

Huo Yunshen did not reply and just stared at Jing Xi through his sunglasses.

Since Huo Yunshen was quiet, Jing Xi did not continue the conversation. But she was still feeling bad that Huo Yunshen had to spend all that money to help her.

Yet, she had no idea Huo Yunshen was actually planning to punish that woman.

Lin Xianjing was waiting in the lobby with her guards when a few vans arrived and rack after rack of dresses were unloaded from them.

Lin Xianjing could instantly recognize the brands on the dresses, as they were all brands that she liked.

She quickly asked her assistant to record what was happening.

There were at least 20 dresses on each rack, and all of those racks were placed before her.

“These are all the 100 dresses for you, Miss Lin,” one of the workers said.

“Oh my! Please thank your master for giving all these to me!”