

Priceless Baby 1751

Chapter 1751: Something Very Unusual

Little Grape wasn't someone who could be deceived so easily. He had already asked Auntie Lan and she said Auntie Xiaoxi was taking care of dad.

He already saw Auntie Xiaoxi's shoes beside the bed but dad still said she wasn't here. Humph, lying to a child!

Little Grape sprinted over to the bed and pulled the blanket away. Sure enough, Auntie Xiaoxi was there.

It was as if the child had discovered a new land. His eyes lit up with excitement and then he sprinted out again.

Before Huo Yunshen could even let out a breath of relief, he heard Little Grape shouting as he ran out the door, "Sis, Brother Niuniu, come in here! Auntie Xiaoxi is here!"

Huo Yunshen: "..."

It wasn't just he who came to snatch her away, but it was a group of people!

Why was his life so hard?

Immediately after, Ying Bao brought Little Apple inside. The children had all finished drawing and they wanted to give their finished drawings to Jing Xi. They wanted to wake her up but Huo Yunshen stopped them.

"Shh! Don't be noisy. Your mother is very tired so let her sleep for a while!"

Ying Bao nodded and the two little fellas were also very obedient and didn't say anything.

Little Grape was the one with the most ideas. He pulled his brother and sister's hands and said, "Let's also sleep with mom and dad!"

Little Grape took the lead and got up. Ying Bao thought about it and then also got on the bed. Little Apple hesitated slightly but Little Grape also pulled him over.

This was just great, a family of five sleeping together on a big king-sized bed.

Oh, wait. It would be six people if the one inside Jing Xi's tummy was included.

It was already impossible for Huo Yunshen to be alone with his wife. However, being together with his wife and children also felt quite good.

The children were all squeezed in between mom and dad. Huo Yunshen shifted Jing Xi slightly to the side. He also moved backward slightly on the other side to let the children lie down in the middle.

Right now, Ying Bao was right in the middle. Little Apple and mom were on the left. Little Grape and dad were on the right.

This was such a joyous feeling!

It wasn't just the children who felt blessed. Huo Yunshen's heart was also filled with joy. He was with his wife and children and his family would never be separated again. He really wished time would stop at this moment.

Perhaps it wouldn't matter that Jing Xi couldn't remember her past. As long as they could be together, every day in the future would be the best day ever.

Jing Xi discovered something very unusual when she woke up.

She remembered she had been reading to the king last night. Why was she lying down when she opened her eyes?

Moreover, where was she?

She looked at the ceiling and at the decorations in the room. When she realized where she was, Jing Xi immediately became wide awake from fright.

Why was she lying on the king's bed?

She got up while quivering and then found another shocking discovery. It didn't seem like there was only one person lying beside her.

She looked closely and saw, starting from the one beside her, Niuniu, Princess Ying Bao, then Little Grape, and finally his majesty the king. They were all squeezing and sleeping together.

Jing Xi momentarily felt like this world was a dream. She was actually sleeping with the king, the princes, and the princess. What was going on?

No matter the reason, Jing Xi needed to quickly get up right now and leave the place.

Jing Xi took advantage of the fact that no one had woken up yet and quietly got out of bed. She found her own shoes and went out while carrying them in her hand.

She quietly opened the door and then closed it. She tried her best not to bother others with her actions. She initially thought she was being very sneaky but just as she went out the door, she ran into Yin Feng, who had been keeping guard.

"Good morning," he greeted cordially.

Jing Xi was given a fright. When she realized that she had bumped into Yin Feng, she had no choice but to force herself to greet him. "Yin Feng, good morning!"

Chapter 1752: Losing Control

Jing Xi ran.

She ran back to her room and quickly cleaned herself up before going to the kitchen to prepare breakfast.

When she finished preparing breakfast, she could hear the joyful voices of the kids outside. She went to take a look, and the kids were running around down the hallway.

The kids noticed Jing Xi standing by the door, and Little Apple was the first one to run to her.

“Mommy! You were gone when I woke up this morning!”

“Yes. I had to prepare breakfast.”

“Auntie Xiaoxi,” Little Grape greeted. “Why are you here?”

Jing Xi rubbed both of the little boys' heads and asked, “Have you two brushed your teeth?”

“Yes! Grandma Lan helped us!”

“Is daddy up?”

“Yes!” the two little boys replied in unison.

“But daddy wants Auntie Xiaoxi to help him get dressed,” Little Grape added.

“Okay. I'll call you when we are ready to eat then.” Jing Xi smiled and then left for the king's room.

The man was already up. He was in his bathrobe alone in his room.

“Good Morning. I'll go and fetch your clothes,” Jing Xi greeted and went straight for the wardrobe.

She got the clothes out for Huo Yunshen and scanned through the wide selection of neckties. There were a lot of colors, but in the end, she chose one that she had bought last time with Huo Yunshen.

Huo Yunshen was surprised to see the combination when Jing Xi got him the clothes.

Jing Xi got him a wine red suit with a brightly colored necktie.

“Am I wearing these today?”

“Do you not like them? I'll get something else for you then.”

“Put them down! Who said I didn't like them?”

Anything Jing Xi chose, Huo Yunshen would like.

“Help me put them on,” Huo Yunshen then ordered.

“Okay.”

Jing Xi helped Huo Yunshen take off his bathrobe and put on his white shirt. She slowly buttoned the shirt up and then proceeded to help him put on his pants.

Jing Xi tried to pull the zipper up but failed to do so.

She raised her head and asked, “Are the pants too small? The zipper is kind of stuck.”

You moron! Huo Yunshen scolded in his head. It wasn't because the pants were too small, but because he was aroused by her.

He could not keep his calm when Jing Xi's soft hands were going up and down his body.

“It's fine,” Huo Yunshen said and pulled the zipper up himself.

Jing Xi sighed and continued to help Huo Yunshen put on his coat and necktie.

The suit instantly elevated Huo Yunshen's look.

He looked dashing even with the cast on his arm.

Jing Xi then took Huo Yunshen to the bathroom for him to brush his teeth.

"Help me shave too," Huo Yunshen then said.

"I don't know how..."

"I can teach you."

Jing Xi then helped apply shaving foam to Huo Yunshen's face as instructed by him and began to shave.

Before Jing Xi could even finish half of the shaving, she felt something grab her waist, and she was pushed to the wall. Huo Yunshen took the razor away from her hand and kissed her.

"Wha..."

Jing Xi could not react to the sudden movement.

Huo Yunshen lifted her up a little, and she was struggling to balance herself by grabbing a corner of his suit.

Chapter 1753: Deep Into Her Bones

Jing Xi could feel the dangerous breaths he emitted and it made her entire body tense up.

This kiss carried with it a sweet scent of bubbles on his beard and it went deep into her bones.

A scene where two people were entangled together appeared in the mirror. Jing Xi's mind was completely blank. Her heart filled with fear and uneasiness.

She wanted to push him away but she was worried she might injure his arm. However, if she didn't push him away, she would be forced to bear his kiss.

The passionate kiss lasted for a long time. It was so long that his breath started to get chaotic and he wanted to take it one step further.

"Jing Xi..."

He felt slightly enthralled and he called her name next to her ear.

Jing Xi knew very clearly he might've seen her as his dead wife again. This would not do. She could not have messy relations with his majesty the king again.

"Your majesty... don't do this!"

She still chose to push him away in the end. She wiped the bubbles around her mouth and ran away in fear.

Huo Yunshen looked at her back through the mirror as she ran away frantically and he became so angry that he made a fist. His heart was too anxious. Why couldn't he hold back again? Damn it!

He clearly knew he might scare her away if he did this but he still just couldn't control how much he wanted her in his heart.

She was his Jing Xi!

He only wanted to be with her all the time.

In the dining hall, Jing Xi had already finished preparing breakfast and placed it on the table. All three of the children came over not long after.

After a while, the king also came in.

When he appeared in the dining hall, he looked dignified and wise as if the person who had acted as a hooligan just now wasn't him.

Everyone was very much aware of where their seats were and went over. They also didn't forget to ask Jing Xi to also sit down at the end.

Jing Xi didn't want to stay here initially. However, since the king gave an order, she had no choice but to sit down.

Jing Xi felt extremely awkward because of what had happened in the morning. She didn't dare to lift her head to look at him. After a while, she sneaked a peek at the king's expression. Coincidentally, she saw he was also looking at her.

She frantically lowered her head again and continued to eat.

"Jing Xiaoxi, what happened? Why are your ears so red?" Huo Yunshen suddenly asked while they were having their meal.

He even dared to ask!

Wasn't it all caused by him!?

He had embarrassed her so much that even her ears went red!

"It is because of the heat from cooking." Jing Xi made up an excuse in front of the children.

Huo Yunshen looked indifferent as he asked again, "You fell asleep in my bed last night. What time did you wake up in the morning?"

Jing Xi really didn't want to talk about this topic. However, she had no choice but to smile apologetically and reply, "It was before you guys woke up. I'm really sorry..."

She felt really apologetic for carelessly falling asleep and also for occupying his big bed last night.

"It is fine. Our entire family slept very well last night," Huo Yunshen said while hiding the meaning in his heart. After he finished, he said, "Thank you for helping me shave my beard just now."

"..." What he meant was he did not feel embarrassed to bring it up!

“You are welcome. Your majesty, it is my honor to serve you!” Jing Xi replied out of etiquette.

“Very good. You will be responsible for shaving my beard from tomorrow onwards!” Huo Yunshen intentionally said mischievously.

Oh my goodness. Jing Xi almost fell forward into the dining table.

He actually asked her to be responsible to shave his beard from now on?

Wouldn't that mean she would be in danger every day?

She was right. This was his strategy of slowly boiling the frog in warm water!

He wanted to force her to slowly get used to him, to slowly accept him, and finally, slowly fall in love with him.

Today was a Sunday so there was no school. After breakfast, the children could go play in the garden.

Jing Xi stayed behind to tidy up the kitchen. However, Huo Yunshen instructed her, “Let the servants clean here. Follow me and help me tidy my room.”

Chapter 1754: Waiting For A Miracle

“Okay.”

Jing Xi put down the plates and followed Huo Yunshen out of the dining room.

Since Huo Yunshen wanted her to clean a room, Jing Xi went to fetch the cleaning trolley first.

What she did not expect was that the king wanted her to clean the golden room.

She thought that was the only place in the palace that no one could enter except for the king himself.

Jing Xi trembled as she recalled how angry Huo Yunshen got when she accidentally entered it last time.

He had almost choked her to her death.

Huo Yunshen opened the door and went in but then realized Jing Xi was not following him.

“What's wrong? Why are you not coming in?” Huo Yunshen asked.

“But, this room...” Jing Xi shook her head and wanted to confirm if she could go in or not.

“It's fine. I permit you to enter.”

Huo Yunshen quickly granted Jing Xi permission when he realized what she was thinking about.

Having the king's permission, Jing Xi let out a sigh of relief and entered the room.

The moment she set foot into the room, it was as if she was walking into a place that was really familiar to her.

She had always felt attracted to the room ever since she entered it once but could not explain why.

“What should I clean here? Is there anything I shouldn't touch?” Jing Xi asked as a precaution.

She did not want Huo Yunshen to get angry like last time.

“Clean everything in here. I'll come back and check later.”

Huo Yunshen wanted to let Jing Xi touch everything in the room and see if anything could help her regain her memories.

The king left, and Jing Xi stood in the room alone. She looked around wondering where she should start first.

The first thing she saw was the cabinet with a photo of the king's late wife on it. Jing Xi could not explain what she felt when she saw the smile on the face in the picture.

She could feel her heart tighten, and she had no idea why.

Without giving it much thought, Jing Xi started to clean the room.

While she was working, Huo Yunshen was looking at her through the cameras that were set up in the room.

He was hoping for a miracle to happen.

He saw her clean the bed and take up the half-knitted sweater.

Huo Yunshen hoped that the sweater could remind her of something, as it was knitted by her in the past.

He even hoped that she could finish it.

But Jing Xi only tidied up the yarn and placed it back on the bed.

She only stared at the sweater for a few seconds, and she raised her hand to her throat.

Huo Yunshen understood what she was thinking about. The fear that had been instilled in her when Huo Yunshen tried to choke her for touching the sweater made her reach for her own neck unintentionally.

Chapter 1755: He Also Needed Someone To Listen To Him

He continued to observe. However, from start to finish, she was very cautious and meticulous; she didn't touch any of the things inside willy-nilly. She also worked earnestly and in a very orderly way.

It was only after she finished cleaning that she exited the room and closed the door.

Jing Xi pushed the cart back to the cleaning supply room. She then ran into the king in the hallway. She immediately reported, “Your majesty, the room has been cleaned. You can go examine it.”

“Okay.”

Huo Yunshen nodded and instructed her, “Follow me there.”

“Oh, okay.”

Jing Xi followed him back to the golden-colored room. After they went in, Huo Yunshen looked at everything inside. It was clean, polished, and everything looked like it was where it was supposed to be.

“Do you know what this is?”

Huo Yunshen went in front of the bed, picked up a half-knitted sweater, and then asked.

“A half-knitted sweater,” Jing Xi replied.

“Yes, this is the sweater my wife Jing Xi knitted for Little Apple. She was halfway through knitting it when the child died. She couldn't continue knitting because she was too sad. That's why it was placed here until now.”

Huo Yunshen slowly started to talk about the past. Jing Xi found it hard to believe he actually started to talk about the sorrow in his heart with such a calm tone.

What did this mean?

Did it mean he also needed someone to listen to him?

Did it mean he was willing to share the sorrow in his heart?

“Jing Xiaoxi, I saw you pick up this sweater the last time. Do you know how to knit a sweater?” He tried inquiring again.

“Err... I'm also not sure. I only knitted two knots while I was passing by. I'm sorry your majesty. I must've been possessed by a ghost for me to do something stupid like touching your things. I'm really sorry!”

Jing Xi apologized sincerely for her previous stupid behavior once again.

“It is fine. Can you take this and try to see if you can continue knitting it? I hope this sweater can be completed,” Huo Yunshen said.

She understood what he meant but she still didn't know why, “Your majesty, even if this sweater is finished, it would be too small. The prince simply won't be able to put it on.”

“I know. I can keep it as a memento. It would definitely be better than it being knitted with just two knots. With it in this state, I'm always worried I might accidentally loosen the threads.” He gave a very good reason.

Jing Xi thought about it in detail for a while and then nodded to agree. “Okay then. I will try.”

Jing Xi took the half-knitted sweater.

After that, Huo Yunshen introduced some of the things in the room that carried significant memories. He started talking about his life with Jing Xi, sharing everything. Jing Xi listened attentively. Sometimes, she could even imagine the scenes he described.

Jing Xi listened to the king talk a lot that morning and it was all about his late wife.

Sometimes, he would gaze emotionally. Sometimes, he would be lost in thought. Sometimes, his eyes would get wet. Sometimes, he would choke with emotion...

Perhaps it was from his words but Jing Xi could feel how much he loved his wife. The pain from his longing penetrated deep into his soul.

Jing Xi's impression of the king changed slightly after she got to know him through this experience.

She listened to his orders and she started trying to knit the half-finished sweater while she was accompanying the children as they played in the garden.

She also couldn't explain how she knew how to do it but when she picked up the needle and saw the lines on the sweater, she started to automatically knit along the lines.

She was earnestly knitting the sweater while the children played happily. Not far away, Huo Yunshen was quietly looking at her.

Such a tranquil afternoon would put one in a cozy and warm mood.

Chapter 1756: Planned

Jing Xi finished the sweater a few days later and took it to the king.

"Here's the sweater. How is it?"

Huo Yunshen took the sweater up and was happy with how good it turned out.

He took out the other one that was made for Little Grape and compared them. They were completely identical.

This meant that Jing Xi still had her memory lying dormant somewhere within her.

It was not impossible to regain her memories.

"This is really well made!" Huo Yunshen complimented.

Jing Xi let out a sigh of relief when she heard the man's joyful voice.

"Then I'll take my leave," Jing Xi said, ready to leave.

"Wait!"

The man suddenly stopped her as Jing Xi looked at him, baffled.

"Can you make new ones for the kids?" Huo Yunshen requested.

"Will they even wear handmade sweaters now?" Jing Xi asked. "Won't store-bought sweaters look better on them?"

Jing Xi was afraid to accept the request. She could finish the sweater only because it was already half-done. She'd never made one from scratch, and she was scared to do it.

“The weather is getting colder, and they've outgrown their previous sweaters. Hand-knitted ones are better than store-bought, no?” Huo Yunshen argued.

“Fine... I'll try and see... I'll have to get some yarn then,” Jing Xi agreed.

“You don't have to. I've already gotten some. It's all in your room now,” Huo Yunshen said with a smile.

“...”

Jing Xi felt like she was being set up from the beginning. It was as if she'd fallen into a planned trap.

Jing Xi sighed as she now had to do more research on knitting a sweater.

She came out from the king's room and went back to her own room only to be greeted by boxes on the floor. She opened one of the boxes, and in it was yarn of different colors.

The quality of the yarn was top-notch.

She could find all kinds of yarn in the box, so much that she could make a few dozen sweaters.

Without any way to back out, Jing Xi frowned as she started to check on which yarn would be better. There were even books on knitting in one of the boxes.

She went through the guide books to look for patterns she could work on.

She needed to make one for each of the kids. Not only did she have to think of which patterns they would like, but she also needed to take their measurements too.

Just as she was pondering, she heard a knock on the door and turned around to find the king standing by it.

“What's wrong?” Jing Xi asked.

“Is the yarn enough?” Huo Yunshen asked.

“Yes! A little too much, maybe.” Jing Xi replied.

“Since there's a lot, can you make me one too?” Huo Yunshen asked as he walked into the room.

“What?” Jing Xi could not believe her ears as her jaw dropped.

“What's wrong? Don't feel like doing it?”

Chapter 1757: Hoping He Would Exercise Restraint

Huo Yunshen turned around and walked towards her until he cornered her in front of the door. He asked, looking very serious, “Or do you mean that I am not worthy to wear the sweaters you knit?”

He was too close to her and the pressure was too strong. Jing Xi's heart panicked. “No, no, no. I didn't mean that. I only...”

“Then knit one for me. It can either be a sweater or a sleeveless shirt.” Huo Yunshen was also very easygoing.

“Oh, okay. I will try my best.”

Jing Xi hoped the king would move slightly further away from her and not come so close. It made her feel that even breathing was difficult.

However, he had no intention of letting her go. He stared into her eyes and said, “Jing Xiaoxi, it seems you forgot to shave my beard today.”

Jing Xi's heart started getting scared immediately when he mentioned shaving his beard. “I'm sorry, your majesty. Should I help you shave it right now?”

“Yes.”

He let her go and then led the way out of the room. Jing Xi had no choice but to force herself to follow him.

Although he had kissed her the first time she helped him shave his beard, he had been relatively well-behaved in the past few days, as he didn't try any funny business.

Carrying an attitude of just trying to get through it, Jing Xi came to the bathroom in the king's bedroom to help him shave his beard.

While shaving his beard, he didn't do anything inappropriate. This greatly relieved Jing Xi and she let out a sigh of relief in secret.

However, when she went to clean the razor and placed it back in its spot, just as she turned around, he suddenly grabbed her hands and pressed her against the wall straight away.

“Your majesty! No!” Jing Xi was so frightened her heart was throbbing.

“No what?”

Huo Yunshen pressed against her and teased her intentionally.

“Your majesty, doing this would ruin your reputation! Everybody knows how much you love your late wife. However, what you are doing now is dishonoring her. If you really love someone, how can you say you love her with your mouth but get tangled up with another woman?”

Jing Xi controlled her chaotic heart and looked at him, hoping he would exercise restraint.

If this kept on continuing, she felt she wouldn't be able to continue living in the palace.

“Another woman? Have you never thought that you are my woman? That you are my Jing Xi?”

Huo Yunshen wanted to tell her the truth and tell her the actual situation. However, Jing Xi could not accept it at all.

“Your majesty! I know I look similar to the queen from the back but this doesn't mean we are the same person. Moreover, I already have my own life and I will not be a stand-in for someone else! Please just let me go!”

After she finished saying this, her hands broke free and she passed underneath his arm, running as if she was escaping.

Huo Yunshen let out a sigh and touched his clean chin. He wondered if he should change his strategy.

A woman who lost her memory meant she was someone with an independent personality. It seemed it would be a bit difficult if he wanted to retake her heart.

After Huo Yunshen thought things through carefully, he came up with an idea. He wanted to find an opportunity to bring Jing Xi together to Estan, to Zstan, to the places they used to live in the past and visit old friends.

He wanted to see if it would help her remember her past. They could also slowly deepen their relationship through their interactions with each other.

Yes, perhaps this was a good idea!

Jing Xi lived a very orderly life in the following period of time. In the day, she would go to the company to record and have lessons. During other times, she would always stay in the palace and knit sweaters for the children.

She followed the knitting book and researched some good-looking patterns, found threads with colors that match, and drew up a nice looking drawing.

She looked at each of the details on the sweater and she felt a sense of accomplishment in her heart.

She felt that everything was good. However, the only thing that was not particularly pleasant was her interactions with the king.

Chapter 1758: Time Wasted

Jing Xi tried her best to avoid meeting or talking with Huo Yunshen.

But one day, Huo Yunshen asked her to meet him in his room and told her, "Jing Xiaoxi, I'll have to visit Zstan tomorrow."

Jing Xi was literally clapping in her head when she heard the news. She was excited that he wouldn't be around for at least a few days.

But it was too early for her to celebrate as Huo Yunshen continued to say, "Since my arm is like this, I need you to follow me too."

It was as if the sky came down on Jing Xi.

Huo Yunshen shook his arm, and Jing Xi was utterly speechless. She was the one who was responsible for injuring his arm, so it was natural that she had to take care of him.

With the trip set in motion, Jing Xi started to pack that night.

Not only did she have to pack her own stuff, but Jing Xi also had to help Huo Yunshen pack too.

In the end, she packed three big pieces of luggage for Huo Yunshen.

“Am I going to a fashion show? Why are you bringing so many clothes?” Huo Yunshen asked.

“But aren't you attending different events and meetings? There's no way you're just going to wear one suit, right?”

“Four is enough,” Huo Yunshen said.

If he only needed four outfits, one piece of luggage was more than enough. Jing Xi had just wasted almost half a day for nothing.

Since they were departing the next day, Jing Xi slept with the kids that night and told them about the trip.

She thought the kids would want her to stay and would beg their father to not take her with him, but surprisingly, they strongly agreed with her going on the trip too.

“I'll leave daddy to you,” Little Grape said.

“I'll take care of myself too,” Little Apple said.

“Auntie Xiaoxi should enjoy the trip,” Ying Bao said. “Can you please tell Auntie Orange and Brother Feimo that I miss them if you see them?”

“Of course. I'll tell them that when I see them.”

Jing Xi felt baffled. She thought the kids would want her to stay like they always did.

She had to leave for a few days, and the kids weren't even trying to ask her not to go.

Jing Xi woke up early the next day to prepare breakfast. She then woke the kids up and had Lan Yi bring them to school.

After saying goodbye to the kids, she left for the airport with the king.

Jing Xi boarded the royal private jet and realized how different it was compared to a standard aircraft. It was as if she had entered a very luxurious room instead of a plane.

The king sat down and asked Jing Xi to sit beside him.

There were only two seats per row and all other rows were taken by assistants and guards. Jing Xi had no choice but to sit down beside Huo Yunshen.

The pilot announced they would be taking off soon not long after they were seated.

Huo Yunshen shifted towards Jing Xi a little, and it scared her to death.

“What... what are you doing?” Jing Xi scolded.

Huo Yunshen only stared at her, and Jing Xi realized that he was helping her with her seatbelt.

Jing Xi felt so awkward that she wanted to dig a hole and hide in it.

The plane finally took off, and Huo Yunshen lay back to rest a little.

Realizing that Huo Yunshen's eyes were closed, Jing Xi finally calmed down a little and laid her seat back.

Chapter 1759: Living Together Like A Couple

The two of them didn't talk with each other from the beginning to the end. They could hear the low rumble from the plane's engine and, after they entered the stratosphere, that sound was the best sort of lullaby.

Jing Xi fell asleep not long after. While she was sleeping, her head leaned to the side from time to time.

The temperature in the plane was a bit lower so Jing Xi felt a bit cold. She unconsciously hugged her arm and her body curled up.

She now feared the cold even more than before. Perhaps it was the aftermath from a few years ago where she had to spend chilly winter nights after she fell off the cliff into an ice-cold canyon.

Huo Yunshun only opened his eyes after she fell asleep. He turned around to look at her and saw she was curled up and she looked like she was shivering.

Huo Yunshen was quite surprised that she was so afraid of the cold and it made his heart tremble. He took out the blanket he had prepared beforehand and gently placed it on her body.

It was only after Jing Xi suddenly felt warmth around her that her shivering lessened slightly. He could feel that the temperature of her body was very low.

Huo Yunshen then helped her adjust her seat so that she could lie down more comfortably.

The seats were all custom made and they could turn into beds when they were reclined. And just like this, Huo Yunshen lay down and slept with her, using his body to give her warmth.

The two of them slept through the journey until the plane safely landed at Peijing Airport.

Jing Xi felt some bumps and woke up. It was only after she opened her eyes that she realized she was actually in the king's embrace. Moreover, he was even hugging her very tightly.

What the hell? Did he have no shame?

Jing Xi simply couldn't look at herself anymore. How did she get tangled up with the king again?

She frantically pulled the blanket away and Huo Yunshen also woke up. He saw that she got up so he also got up and then restored the seats back to their original position.

"Did you sleep well through the journey?" Huo Yunshen tilted his head and asked her.

It was fortunate Jing Xi had scars on her face. Even if her face turned red, it wouldn't be visible. She answered awkwardly, "Quite well. I'm sorry. I didn't do it on purpose..."

"It is fine. I also slept very well. I had a free pillow." Huo Yunshen's lips pulled up into a smile.

Jing Xi: "..."

After they got off the plane, cars that were prepared in advance were waiting outside. The guards and assistants were all already waiting below.

Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi took their things and then got off the plane together.

It was only after she came out that, even though the time and season were the same, she realized the Dragon Kingdom was much colder than Peijing. The weather in Peijing was even a little bit hot.

Didn't he say this was a state visit?

From watching television, Jing Xi thought that when a country's leader visited another country, it was usually the host country's leader who was supposed to receive the visitors.

However, she didn't see anyone from Zstan.

Huo Yunshen kept a low-profile as he led her in the car. A convoy of low-profile luxury cars directly drove out of the airport. It looked more like when a high-profile celebrity wished to travel discreetly.

They arrived at their first stop. It wasn't a state-level guesthouse and it wasn't a five-star hotel. Instead, it was a neighborhood called Shengshi Yujing.

A large group got out of the vehicles and Jing Xi also followed. They stood at the neighborhood's entrance. When she looked inside, it was as though an indescribable familiarity came surging up within her.

Why did she feel like she had come back to her old home even though it was her first time here?

The guards carried the luggage and Jing Xi followed Huo Yunshen to room 101 in Shengshi Yujing.

Huo Yunshen opened the door and asked her to go in. Jing Xi asked curiously, "Your majesty, aren't you here on a state visit? Why did you come here?"

"Living here. Go on in!" Huo Yunshen said.

"Am I staying here by myself or are we both staying here?" Jing Xi asked for clarification.

"Me, and also you. We." Huo Yunshen's explanation couldn't possibly be more clear, right?

"Huh? That...but..."

The two of them living in a small house in a neighborhood. Didn't that mean they would be living together like a couple?

Just thinking about staying alone with him made the hair on Jing Xi's body stand on end. Her legs also wanted to run out and escape involuntarily.

Chapter 1760: Whole

Huo Yunshen had already predicted that Jing Xi would try to run. He grabbed her by her collar and pulled her back into the house.

Yin Feng helped them with their luggage and left after that. Only Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi remained in the house.

Jing Xi scanned her surroundings and was stunned by how similar the room was to Yunjing Manor.

"You can look around if you want to," Huo Yunshen said.

"This looks a lot like the Yunjing Manor in Estan!" Jing Xi exclaimed.

Everything was utterly identical down to the smallest details.

"Yes. This place and Yunjing Manor were where Jing Xi and I used to live. These are our homes," Huo Yunshen said as he looked at Jing Xi in her eyes.

"Then... I shouldn't be here! Forgive me! I'll go look for a hotel nearby!"

Jing Xi was about to leave when Huo Yunshen pulled her back into his arms.

Huo Yunshen hugged her tightly and said, "Where do you think you're going? This is your house. Our house."

"..."

Jing Xi lay in the man's arm and was rendered speechless.

It seemed to her that the king was mistaking her for his late wife again.

Huo Yunshen closed his eyes as he hugged his wife in their first home. He felt whole again.

Jing Xi, we're finally back.

Huo Yunshen could feel the woman in his arms struggling, and he let her go. Jing Xi jumped away from him to a safe distance.

"I have three rules if I am to stay here," Jing Xi said.

"And what are the three rules?"

"First, you're the king, and I'm just a servant. That's the extent of our relationship," Jing Xi stressed.

"And the second one?" Huo Yunshen asked as he smiled at her, wondering what she was planning this time.

"The second one, I'm just here to take care of you. There will be no physical contact between us..."

As Jing Xi was speaking, Huo Yunshen took off his jacket. He then took off his necktie and undid a few buttons on his shirt.

Jing Xi's heartrate began to elevate as she looked at his action.

"... and there can be no sex."

“Okay,” Huo Yunshen nodded and handed her the jacket he'd just taken off. “Hang this up for me.”

“...”

Jing Xi was surprised, as she thought the king was about to force his way with her again.

“And the third rule?” Huo Yunshen asked as he walked to the living room.

“The third one...” Jing Xi forgot what the third rule was.

“You can tell me when you remember,” Huo Yunshen laughed. “Help me fill the bathtub. I need a bath right now.”

“... Okay.” Jing Xi nodded and walked into the house but came back out to the living room a few minutes later. “Where is the bathroom?”

Huo Yunshen got up, and as he walked past Jing Xi, he whispered, “You little idiot.”

How could you forget where our bathroom is?

He showed her where the bathroom was. Jing Xi was surprised when she learned that the door was designed to be like a wardrobe.

She couldn't help but stare in awe at the beautiful design.