Chapter 1861: She Really Was Thorough!

After Huo Sanyan finished speaking, she looked at Jing Xi with begging eyes, hoping she would help speak up for her.

Jing Xi also didn't know the situation at the border was getting more and more tense to the point where they were at a state of mutual hostility. She initially just wanted Ye Xun to have an excuse to go there for a while before returning.

However, under the current circumstances, it seemed Ye Xun wouldn't be able to come back for a while.

"Sanyan, you shouldn't be anxious! Just calmly wait for him! You have to believe Ye Xun will definitely be able to return triumphantly!" Jing Xi comforted her.

"Sigh..."

The only thing Huo Sanyan could do was to sigh.

As Kaidi and the TV station were cooperating on a project, Huo Sanyan needed to go to the TV station. Coincidentally, she ran into Ning Luoxiao.

Since the previous misunderstandings had already been cleared up, Huo Sanyan apologized for her previous behavior and sincerely invited her out. "Miss Ning, if you don't mind, let's have afternoon tea together!"

"Okay!" Ning Luoxiao gladly agreed.

The two women sat in an afternoon cafe. Huo Sanyan said, "I'm really sorry that I misunderstood you and Ye Xun before."

Ning Luoxiao was very generous. "It's fine. In any case, Ye Xun and I have been good friends for many years. Logically, I should be calling you sister-in-law. Since there were problems between the two of you, I should of course help."

"Thank you for your forgiveness." Huo Sanyan thanked her.

"You don't have to be so polite. Oh yeah, you and Ye Xun are okay now, right?" Ning Luoxiao asked, being gossipy.

Huo Sanyan shook her head and sighed.

"What's going on? You guys haven't cleared up the misunderstanding yet?"

"Yeah, it's all my fault. I got angry and then scolded him away. And now, he went to the border and hasn't come back yet. We haven't seen each other all this while. Sigh."

Huo Sanyan let out a deep sigh after she finished speaking.

"You can give him a call or message him, right?" Ning Luoxiao suggested.

"I called and messaged him. But you don't know that once they arrive at the frontlines, they have to change all of their telecommunication devices to not expose their whereabouts. I am not able to contact him."

"Oh!" After Ning Luoxiao understood the situation, she thought of another way. "Since he can't come back, you can go find him!"

"Me?" Huo Sanyan found it hard to believe. "If I run to him now, won't I just be giving him trouble?"

If it weren't for this, Huo Sanyan definitely would've gone to find Ye Xun long ago.

"Hmm..." Ning Luoxiao held her chin and went into deep thought. However, she suddenly had an excellent idea. "Right, I remembered Ye Xun saying that you were a reporter in the past, right?"

"Entertainment reporter. It was already many years ago."

"It is like this. Our network has a current affairs team who has recently been going to the border to do battlefield reports. You just so happen to have the skills of a reporter. You can join our interview group, and go to the frontlines together as a real reporter. You might have the chance to see him, right? What do you think?"

Huo Sanyan's eyes lit up in excitement when she heard Ning Luoxiao introduce her plan. She grabbed her hands in excitement, "Oh my, Xiaoxiao, this idea is too brilliant! I just happen to be familiar with doing interviews. I can even help you guys do interviews and write reports when the time comes. Then I will have to ask you for your help! Help me to ask when we will be going and what I need to prepare."

"Okay, okay. I will go back and ask about it and then contact you."

In order to guarantee she could succeed in going, Huo Sanyan said again, "If your network leadership doesn't agree, tell them that if they agree to let me go, Kaidi will sponsor the network for one year."

"Okay. You really are thorough. With this as a bargaining chip, I believe I can definitely help you get in. Wait for my good news!"

Chapter 1862: Efficient

She wasn't as depressed anymore and was now hoping that Ning Luoxiao could bring her some good news.

Ning Luoxiao was an efficient person, and she sent Huo Sanyan a message that night, saying that she'd already secured a spot.

The only problem was that it had to be a male reporter. Without giving it a second thought, Huo Sanyan agreed to it.

Since she had to leave in the evening the next day, Huo Sanyan began to prepare.

She went to the company the next morning and passed all her jobs onto the vice-president for the time being.

No one knew Huo Sanyan was going to the border. She'd asked her assistant to help her book a vacation to Phuket to cover it up.

Huo Sanyan then changed into some men's clothing and wore a wig with a baseball cap.

From that time onwards, she became a male internship reporter named Huo Yan.

She followed the crew all the way to the border.

The trip from Mo City to the border took more than 24 hours. After a day of driving, they finally arrived at a small town by the border called Mei City.

The army was stationed a dozen kilometers away from Mei City. Huo Sanyan became really excited when she arrived at Mei City, as she thought she could meet with Ye Xun right away, but she was wrong.

She learned from the people there that the army had already fought with the invading troops once.

The news made Huo Sanyan worried, as she has no idea if Ye Xun was safe or not.

The crew took shelter in one of the hotels in Mei City. The supervisor of the crew, Mr. Yang, had to go to the site where the army was stationed first so that they could get a pass to enter the border.

Hearing that Mr. Yang was going to the army base, Huo Sanyan went to look for him.

"Mr. Yang, can I go with you?"

"No, I'm just going there to get our passes."

Mr. Yang had no idea who Huo Sanyan really was and thought that she, or he, was just an intern.

"Please, take me with you! I need to find someone there," Huo Sanyan begged.

"No! We're at the border now, and there's danger everywhere. All of you have to listen to my orders, understood?"

Seeing how determined Mr. Yang was, Huo Sanyan could only return to her room. But now that she thought about it, she was already at Mei City and meeting Ye Xun was just a matter of days away.

When night fell, Huo Sanyan stood at the top of the hotel and could see the lights of the army base.

The news of the fight that had happened made Huo Sanyan even more worried about Ye Xun's safety.

She was tired of waiting.

All she could do was hope for the best.

Mr. Yang returned the next morning with the passes. The crew could finally approach the border for interviews.

Everything was going great with one small problem. Huo Sanyan was stationed in Mei City to interview the people there with a cameraman.

"Mr. Yang, can I go to the border too?" Huo Sanyan asked.

"Why do you want to go there?"

“Because... Because I think I'd be more useful there...”

Chapter 1863: The Particularities Of This Industry

Director Yang showed an unmistakable smile. “So what you mean is, just because you want to show your value, other people don't need to show theirs? Do you know what your position is right now? What is your identity?”

“Hou Yan, I am... an intern reporter,” Huo Sanyan replied.

“Since you are an intern, you need to listen to your leader's instructions. You will go do interviews wherever I send you to go. Don't complain, as it is no use. Look at the group; all of them have more experience than you. As a newcomer, is it appropriate for you to fight for news opportunities with your seniors?”

Director Yang had many complaints about this “newcomer.” Not only was she not sensible, but she also was not considerate either.

She was just a new intern reporter so why was she trying to steal the limelight?

Huo Sanyan couldn't respond. She was an entertainment reporter in the past so she knew the particularities of this industry very clearly.

Seniority in the occupation was based on experience. The juniors needed to respect the seniors.

Moreover, before she came here, Ning Luoxiao especially instructed her not to get on Director Yang's bad side. He did not care about a person's connections at all. If he found out Huo Sanyan was a fake journalist who came in through the backdoor, she would definitely have it bad.

That's why Huo Sanyan could only endure it for now. “Okay. I was impolite. Sorry, Director Yang.”

Director Yang didn't say anything. Instead, he asked the group members to take the passes that were issued by the government and for each of them to perform their duties.

Huo Sanyan went to do interviews at Mei City. This was an important city on the border. The average citizen was able to feel the direct impact of war in their daily lives.

As Huo Sanyan wanted to see Ye Xun soon, she had no choice but to work earnestly.

It was only after she finished her “job” that she would have time to look for him.

After three days of being in Mei City, Huo Sanyan and her partner had already gone to a lot of places. They were doing interviews every day and she didn't have time to look for Ye Xun.

She couldn't let it go on like this. After Huo Sanyan finished with her tasks tonight, she went back to the hotel with her partner and waited until everyone was resting before quietly leaving the hotel.

Since Director Yang didn't allow her to leave Mei City, it would be okay if she snuck out, right?

Huo Sanyan already figured out the situation in Mei City and had also figured out the location of the army base. She rushed over that very night.

She finally saw the barracks' lights. Huo Sanyan felt an indescribable excitement and really wanted to open her wings and fly in.

She basically ran the last thousand meters.

She ran until she arrived at the edge of the barracks. The place was fenced up and she went along the fence to search for the entrance.

Unfortunately, she was discovered by a patrolling soldier before she even found the entrance.

A searchlight pointed at her and a few soldiers aimed their guns at her, asking loudly, "Who are you? Why are you sneaking around? If you still don't come out we will shoot!"

"Don't! Don't shoot! I am a good guy!"

Huo Sanyan came out from the bushes and raised her hands. She was really afraid they would treat her as a bad guy and waste her.

The soldier pointed a flashlight at her face and saw it was a young man. She was sneaking around the barracks in the middle of the night. Nobody believed her when she said she was a good guy.

As she might be a spy in disguise from an enemy country, the head of the patrol ordered, "He might be a spy! Take him back to be questioned!"

"I am not a spy! I am a reporter! I have an identity card!"

Huo Sanyan announced her identity but they were still very suspicious. "What if the identity card is fake? Take her back!"

And just like that, Huo Sanyan was "honorably" brought back into the barracks.

Chapter 1864: Absurd

The base was huge, and Huo Sanyan was brought into one of the tents that was set up there. She was tied to the chair as two soldiers watched her while one other went to inform their commanding officer.

Not long after came a company commander.

"Where's the spy?" the commander asked.

"He's in there," the soldier replied as he pointed at the tent Huo Sanyan was in.

The commander, named Gu, nodded and went into the tent.

He looked at the so-called spy and started the interrogation.

"You better tell us the truth! What are you doing here?"

"Please, sir, it's all a mistake. I'm not a spy, I'm a reporter. You can check my ID!"

Huo Sanyan tried to explain.

The commander nodded at one of the soldiers, telling him to look for her ID card. The soldier searched Huo Sanyan and was surprised when Huo Sanyan felt soft to touch.

The soldier took out the ID card from Huo Sanyan's chest pocket and handed it to the commander while whispering something.

Commander Gu was surprised to learn what was told to him and threw the ID on the table.

"This is a fake ID! What's your intention?" Commander Gu scolded.

The soldier must've accidentally touched Huo Sanyan's chest when he was looking for her ID and instantly found out that the person that was tied to the chair was actually a woman.

Seeing that Huo Sanyan wasn't going to reply, Commander Gu ordered, "Execute her!"

"Yes, sir!" both soldiers that were guarding Huo Sanyan immediately replied.

"Wait! I really am not a spy!" Huo Sanyan shouted. "I'm here to look for someone!"

"Who?"

"Ye Xun!"

All that were present were surprised to hear their General's name. More so, they were surprised that the person could call the General by his full name.

"I'll give you one last chance. What's your relationship with the General?" Commander Gu asked.

"I... I'm his lover!"

"Bullshit! Our General isn't even married yet! Take her away!"

Commander Gu scolded her, as what Huo Sanyan said sounded too absurd.

"No! I mean, I'm his girlfriend! My name is Huo Sanyan! Ask him! If he says he doesn't know me, then you can do whatever you want!"

Huo Sanyan's words stunned Commander Gu as he remembered that the General did have a girlfriend, and her name started with Huo. The only thing he wasn't sure about was whether the woman who was pretending to be a man was that girlfriend or not.

The commander had to make sure that he didn't accidentally kill the General's girlfriend. He ordered the soldiers to continue monitoring Huo Sanyan while he went to look for Ye Xun.

Ye Xun was in the main tent, discussing the defense line with other commanders.

"Sir, Commander Gu said he has something to report!" a soldier came in and reported.

"Didn't I say no interruptions?" Ye Xun scolded.

"My apologies, sir, but he said it was urgent..."

"Let him in!"

"Sir!"

Commander Gu came in not long after the soldier had left.

“Sir, we caught a suspicious person lurking around our base. When we interrogated said person, we found out that she was pretending to be a man, and she said she's...”

Chapter 1865: She Was So Mad That She Wanted To Curse

“Who is she?”

Commander Gu cut to the chase. “She said she is your lover, her last name is Huo.”

Huo? His lover?

Could it be Huo Sanyan?

When Ye Xun heard this, he was completely shaken up. “Where is she? Take me to see her!”

Before leaving, he waved towards the stunned officers and said, “You guys study it for now. I will be back later.”

Company Commander Gu led Ye Xun to the camp where Huo Sanyan was kept just now. He saw a man tied to a chair.

He saw that the outfit was that of a man's, but when he saw her countenance, Ye Xun was able to immediately recognize her.

It really was Huo Sanyan!

He never would've thought she would pretend to be a man and come look for him at the border. Didn't she know how dangerous it was to come here?

At this moment, Hou Sanyan's wait for Ye Xun finally ended. She saw him wearing his outfit, standing impressively at the camp's entrance. She felt like her heart had skipped a beat and she was so excited that her heart was going to jump out of her chest.

Ye Xun!

I finally found you, boohoo...

Huo Sanyan was so touched that she couldn't say anything. She could only just stare at the man at the entrance while wet in the eyes.

Ye Xun was also similarly excited, so excited that he forgot to react. Right now, it was as Jing Xi had predicted. After giving him the cold shoulder for a while, Huo Sanyan finally forgave him.

However, her coming personally to the battlefield to look for him really surprised him!

Seeing his most beloved being tied up like a dumpling made Ye Xun annoyed at these people for not knowing how to act. They clearly knew she was a girl but they still tied her up so tightly.

Company Commander Gu didn't understand the situation and said to Ye Xun, “Commander, do you know her?”

Huo Sanyan stared at him with wide eyes and waited for him to say her name. If he did so, they definitely wouldn't shoot her.

However, he didn't say anything. He only just examined her with a majestic gaze. He said without moving, "All of you get out! I want to interrogate the spy personally!"

Shit! What does he mean by that?

Could it be that he didn't recognize her? He even wanted to interrogate her personally?

Company Commander Gu followed the order and brought the soldiers out. Ye Xun walked in.

If Huo Sanyan's hands and legs weren't tied right now, she would definitely take off her hat and let him have a good look.

She really was Huo Sanyan!

The one and only Three-Eyed Monster!

Ye Xun came in front of her and walked two steps towards her with his hands clasped behind his back. He intentionally asked, "Who are you? Why did you come to our barracks? Why are you pretending to be my girlfriend?"

When Huo Sanyan initially saw him, she was so touched that her eyes were wet and she was about to cry. But now that she saw he was so stubborn and couldn't actually recognize her, she was so mad that she wanted to curse.

"Ye Xun! It is me! I am Huo Sanyan! Don't you recognize me?"

"You are a man but you dare to impersonate Huo Sanyan? You are quite brave!"

Ye Xun suddenly reached out with his hands to grab her chin. He forced her to lift up her head to look him in the eye.

"I am not impersonating anyone! I am Huo Sanyan! Untie me! Or you can take off my hat! I am wearing fake hair! Try it if you don't believe me!"

Huo Sanyan was about to die from gloominess. She had only dressed as a man for convenience. It wasn't like she was afraid that she was too beautiful and that coming to this chaotic place would attract the attention of bad guys.

"Is that so?"

Ye Xun's face still remained stern as if he didn't believe what she said at all.

Huo Sanyan saw he wasn't going to untie her. Left with no choice, she immediately bit down hard on the area between the thumb and forefinger.

Using a lot of strength, she bit down fiercely until Ye Xun screamed in pain and frowned those handsome brows of his.

"Ssssss...." It hurt. It hurt so much that he needed to take a big breath.

Chapter 1866: The Chance

Huo Sanyan quickly loosened her bite when she heard Ye Xun scream in pain. Ye Xun lowered his head and could see that teeth marks were left on his hand.

Being able to feel the pain meant that Ye Xun wasn't dreaming.

Huo Sanyan was really there.

"Ye Xun! How dare you! I came all the way here to find you, and now you doubt it's me?" Huo Sanyan scolded. "Let me go! I'm going home!"

Hearing his woman getting angry at him, Ye Xun smiled. He grabbed Huo Sanyan's head gently and kissed her.

A hard and unforgettable kiss.

He even bit her lips until they bled, and he could smell the blood.

Ye Xun then took his lips away from Huo Sanyan's and stared at her.

Huo Sanyan was really stunned by the kiss. She had thought that Ye Xun did not recognize her, but the kiss told her otherwise.

As the anger inside her started to fade, tears filled Huo Sanyan's eyes.

"When are you going to let me go..." Huo Sanyan sobbed.

"Oh..."

Ye Xun looked at Huo Sanyan, who was still tied up. There was no way he was going to let such a great chance go.

He undid the rope on her legs, but not those on her upper body.

He then picked her up and left the tent, where he met Commander Gu and other soldiers waiting outside.

"General, you can leave her to us!" Commander Gu offered, as he thought Huo Sanyan was indeed a spy, seeing how she was still tied up.

"Leave her to me!" Ye Xun stopped Commander Gu. "This woman might be a high-level spy. I'll have to interrogate her personally."

Hearing what Ye Xun said, Huo Sanyan stared at him as if she was going to swallow him up.

With Huo Sanyan struggling on his shoulder, Ye Xun brought Huo Sanyan back to the main tent. When the commanders in it saw their General come back with a person on his shoulder, they all looked at him, wondering what was happening.

"He's a spy. Leave us. I'll have to interrogate him," Ye Xun explained.

"Yes, sir!"

The commanders left, leaving Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan alone in the tent.

Huo Sanyan kept on staring at Ye Xun while cursing him quietly.

“You! Take my hat and wig off and see if I'm really a spy or not!” Huo Sanyan scolded as she kicked Ye Xun's leg.

A broad smile appeared on Ye Xun's face as he hugged Huo Sanyan tightly.

“You're a spy. A spy that's good at stealing other people's hearts. You'll have to give mine back.”

It was only then that Ye Xun finally calmed down. He could feel the happiness that he yearned for.

“I get it now. You're not going to let me go since I'm all tied up, are you?”

Huo Sanyan tried to knee Ye Xun in the stomach, but Ye Xun was faster than her and clamped her knee with his legs.

Huo Sanyan struggled, trying to get away from Ye Xun, but fell backward instead.

But before she could hit the floor, Ye Xun caught her from behind.

Chapter 1867: Missed Him So Much That She Was About To Go Crazy!

“Little scoundrel! Right now, it is you who came to me! I won't hold back!”

Ye Xun changed posture and lifted her up horizontally straight away. He walked towards the rest area behind the camp.

“Hey! What are you trying to do? Bastard! Let me go!”

She struggled in his embrace. Unfortunately, struggling was of no use.

“I won't! Today, I want to show you clearly what a bastard is!”

Ye Xun put her down on the couch in the rest area. Huo Sanyan lay on top and wanted to get up but it was a bit difficult.

Right now, it felt as though she was a fish and he was a chef. She was a little lamb that could be slaughtered at any moment.

Ye Xun started to undress. After he took off the hooks, he started to undo the buttons one by one and then took off his coat.

She saw he was for real and Huo Sanyan was at a loss of words. This scum kept on not wanting to untie her. It turned out he wanted to role play with uniforms and BDSM... motherfker!

Ye Xun threw himself at her after he took off his coat. However, it wasn't to do anything to her but instead, to untie her.

After she was untied, he saw red marks around her wrists and it made his heart hurt.

Huo Sanyan was still angry. She was so angry that she wanted to pull her hands back. However, he didn't let go. Not only did he not let go, he even pulled her into his embrace straightaway.

Hugging her once again.

It was so tight that it was as if he wanted to shove her into his body.

“Yanyan...”

His voice sounded raspy and muffled. His chin was carefully caressing the top of her head, showing the longing he felt through his actions.

This scum finally called her Yanyan!

Calling her this caused Huo Sanyan's eyes to immediately get wet and she just lay down on his chest and started to cry.

“I'm sorry. I'm sorry... It was I who caused you to suffer so much. Even if I say sorry ten thousand times, it still wouldn't be enough of an apology to you. Yanyan...”

He let her go, lowered his head, and looked at her small, tear-covered face. He then took off the fake hair on her head. A streak of long black hair fell out. She was the Huo Sanyan he recognized once again.

“Ye Xun! You are detestable! Do you know that you are detestable!?” she said as she cried.

“I know. You can hit me, scold me, and be angry at me. I can take it. Come, use your fist to hit me! Hit me fiercely! As long as it can help you vent!”

He held her hand and used it to hit him.

How could Huo Sanyan be willing to hit him?

She already forgave him long ago. Moreover, it was only recently that she realized how much she loved him. She missed him so much that she was about to go crazy!

“I won't hit you! What would I do if I hit and broke you?”

Huo Sanyan pulled her hand back and said tearfully, “You detestable fella. Why did you make me so upset?! Why did you make me miss you so much? Why did I feel this world became dark when I left you? You huge pervert! Don't you know... I love you!”

Ye Xun finally heard Huo Sanyan say she loved him. He truly was ecstatic.

It was probably because he was too happy that his eyes also started to get wet. The two of them looked at each other while red in the eyes.

And then, the two of them hugged each other tightly, their lips kissed, and they fell into the bed.

To prevent the people in the camp from seeing, Ye Xun stretched out his hand and switched off the light. The entire place was filled with darkness.

While in the dark, Huo Sanyan bit his ear and said, “Don't you like to tie me up? We have rope right now. Tie me up again.”

This was something she had hated the most in the past but now, she was willing to change and try it on his behalf.

"I am not willing. Your wrists are already so red."

This was something that he was the most obsessed with, but now, he was willing to change and give it up for her.

Chapter 1868: Strong Feelings

"Then, you have to repay me! Look at the scars on my forehead and the stomach flu that you caused! You've also made me so worried... You owe me!" Huo Sanyan scolded.

"I will. I'll make sure that you have the best night ever," Ye Xun said softly and kissed Huo Sanyan.

Huo Sanyan felt as if she was a sail being engulfed by the raging torrent.

But she was willing to give in to the waves, ready to drown in happiness.

Not only did they show each other love for the whole night, but they also talked about things they'd kept to themselves.

Their relationship had mended, and it had even become better than it used to be. It was as if they were in the honeymoon period, having strong feelings for each other.

Ye Xun woke Huo Sanyan up the next morning and helped her clean herself up. Since there was no women's clothing in the base, Huo Sanyan could only continue to pretend to be a man.

After cleaning themselves up, they went to the canteen for breakfast.

The soldiers almost dropped their jaws when they saw their General coming in hand in hand with another man.

It was only then that Huo Sanyan realized that she was in men's clothing, and it would cause a lot of misunderstanding. Huo Sanyan quickly pulled her hand back embarrassedly.

Ye Xun turned to stare at Huo Sanyan and grabbed her by her shoulder instead.

Ye Xun's action did leave the soldiers' mouths wide open this time. All of them had the same question in their heads: Who the hell is that guy?

Ye Xun found a spot to let Huo Sanyan sit, and then he went and fetched the food.

When the soldier that was in charge of handling the food saw that his General was grabbing his own portion, he quickly stopped Ye Xun.

"Ge... General, sir! You can wait by your seat, sir!"

"Don't worry about it. I can take care of this myself. Don't you have other things to do?"

Hearing Ye Xun's words, the soldier thought that Ye Xun was going to relocate him, and it scared him.

Ye Xun filled two plates swiftly and left the soldier shaking. He sat down in front of Huo Sanyan, and it was only then that he noticed everyone was staring at them.

"Close your eyes and eat!" Ye Xun ordered.

Everyone closed their eyes that instant and began to gobble down their food.

When Commander Gu and his soldiers came in, the sight made them think they were witnessing a group of blind people eating.

They were the only people who knew who Huo Sanyan really was. The thought of them almost killing the General's girlfriend sent chills down their spines.

After they'd mended their relationship, Ye Xun asked Huo Sanyan to return to Mo City.

“Wait for me at home, okay? The enemy might attack soon, and I can't have you here.”

Huo Sanyan understood that Ye Xun was worried about her, but she didn't want to leave his side.

“Don't tell me to leave! I'm going to stay by your side! I... I can help too!”

“Don't be absurd! Can you even carry a rifle?” Ye Xun scolded.

Even if Huo Sanyan could carry a weapon with her relatively weak body, there was no way Ye Xun was going to let her into the warzone.

Chapter 1869: Was Too Enticing

“I can't carry a gun but I can carry a microphone and a camera. Right now, I am here as a war correspondent. I have a duty to stay at the frontlines.”

Wanting to stay, Huo Sanyan even took out her journalist pass.

“Sigh. Why can't you just listen to what I say?” Ye Xun was at his wit's end with her.

Huo Sanyan went and hugged his waist straight away and started to act coquettish. “Master Ye, just let me stay! As long as you let me stay, in the future, my heart will be yours to do whatever you please with.”

“You...” Damn it. This was too enticing. He couldn't reject it!

And just like that, Ye Xun agreed to let her stay. Huo Sanyan wanted to go back to Mei City in the afternoon.

“I am going to go get something so wait for me to go and inform Director Yang of the interview group. I will then come back to find you.”

“Okay. Let Company Commander Gu send you there.”

Huo Sanyan agreed. Company Commander Gu drove a military car to send her back to Mei City. After Huo Sanyan got to know him, she learned his name was Gu Yong. He was a nice person and also very earnest.

Gu Yong apologized to her and expressed that he hadn't known who she was last night and hoped he didn't offend her.

“It's fine. You guys are just carrying out your duties. That is how a soldier should act!” Huo Sanyan expressed that she didn't take any offense.

Gu Yong felt very relieved. His impression of his commanding officer's missus also greatly improved. He felt that a woman who chased after a man to a military barracks at least showed how much she loved their commanding officer!

By the time Huo Sanyan arrived back at Mei City, the interview group had already long since taken attendance. The only one missing was Huo Sanyan.

When Huo Sanyan found Director Yang, he gave her a big scolding. "You! Huo Yan! You are an intern but you always disobey the rules! I told you that you needed to stay in Mei City. Where did you go? You didn't return last night and all of us had to wait for you. Do you think that is right?"

"I'm sorry, Director Yang! It just so happens that I want to tell you that from today onwards, I will be staying at the military barracks..."

"What do you mean staying...? Stop indulging in a fantasy. It is wartime right now and the situation is tense. Do you think the military barracks is a hotel? You want to live there? What kind of joke is that? They might even shoot you!"

Right now, Director Yang thought she was a newly born calf who wasn't afraid of tigers and had a stubborn temperament.

"They won't. I have a friend there."

"Friend? What friend? Stop speaking nonsense over here!" Director Yang thought she was trying to find excuses to slip away so she could escape her work responsibilities.

And right at this moment, Gu Yong arrived. He knocked on the door and asked, "Huo Yan, are you ready?"

He did as Huo Sanyan requested and continued to treat her as a man and to call her by the name on her journalist pass.

"Oh, I am almost ready, Company Commander Gu." Huo Sanyan turned back and answered.

Director Yang saw a man wearing a military uniform come in and heard Huo Yan call him Company Commander Gu. He was stunned and momentarily couldn't speak. After all that fuss, Huo Yan really did know someone from the military. Moreover, he was even a company commander!

Director Yang put on a bold face and asked, "Huo Yan, this Company Commander Gu is your friend?"

"Err..." Just as Huo Sanyan was about to answer, Gu Yong spoke before she could and explained, "I am not friends with her. Huo Yan is a friend of our commander."

"Com..commander?" Director Yang felt like he might've heard wrong.

"That's right, he is our highest-ranking officer, Commander Ye Xun!"

After listening to his explanation, Director Yang almost fainted from fright. Who wouldn't know the name of the commander-in-chief, Ye Xun?

Their network had always wanted to do an interview with Ye Xun but he never gave them a chance. Now, this unimportant Huo Yan was actually Ye Xun's friend.

This was simply too wonderful!

Chapter 1870: Wear His Pants

“Are you really friends with General Ye?” Mr. Yang asked excitedly.

“Yes.” Huo Sanyan nodded.

“Why didn't you say so earlier?”

“I did, but you didn't believe me.”

Huo Sanyan did mention that she had a friend in the base. Yet, Mr. Yang never believed her.

“How close are you two?” Mr. Yang then asked.

“I wear his pants all the time.” Huo Sanyan smiled.

Mr. Yang immediately regretted not agreeing to the intern's request earlier.

Then, he had never expected that the intern had such a close relationship with the General either.

It was as if he'd found a treasure, and Mr. Yang quickly changed his mind and pulled Huo Sanyan to one side.

“Since you're so close with the General, then I'm sending you to the base. I need you to do a full interview with the General! Do you understand? I'm giving you the full authority on this job!” Mr. Yang said.

“Then, what about the interview in Mei City?”

“Others can take care of that! Chop, chop! Hurry up! We don't have time to lose out on such a huge interview! And send me everything the moment you get it.”

“Will do.”

Because of Ye Xun, Huo Sanyan got to stay at the base and managed to change Mr. Yang's opinion on her. She even got the best equipment the company had to offer.

Huo Sanyan packed her stuff and found the cameraman waiting for her outside the hotel.

After returning to the base, Huo Sanyan got to stay with Ye Xun in the main tent while the cameraman was put in a separate living tent.

After that, Huo Sanyan was like Ye Xun's personal assistant. Anywhere he went, she followed.

During the time at the base, Huo Sanyan noticed how handsome and charming Ye Xun was when he gave out orders.

A few days later, Huo Sanyan and the cameraman went to the warzone to see if they could find something worth reporting.

They stood at the border that overlooked the warzone. After being bombarded by missiles and canons, pits and burned ground could be seen all over the border. A faint wind was enough to blow up specks of dust all over them.

Since there wasn't any wire fence to stop them, Huo Sanyan and the cameraman stood outside the forest that connected the Dragon Kingdom with the Fei Country.

The cameraman then suggested entering the forest to see if they could find anything worth taking pictures of.

"But... Isn't that too dangerous?" Huo Sanyan voiced her concern.

"I don't think it will be. They said the fighting was put on hold for a few days. We just have to go in and take a few pictures of the effects of the fight, that's all," the cameraman said.
