

Priceless Baby 1871

Chapter 1871: They Were Done For!

Huo Sanyan also wanted to go to the frontlines to get first-hand information for the group so she agreed to go with the cameraman. They took a risk and went through the shrubbery to take a look at the other side.

The frontlines were very quiet up until now. However, that was just a superficial appearance. Fei Country scouts had been hiding in the shrubbery all this while to observe every one of the Dragon Kingdom's movements.

But Huo Sanyan and the cameraman were not aware of it. From the moment they stepped foot over the border, they had already fallen into the enemy's scopes.

All of the enemies were lying in wait in the shrubbery. They could see each of their movements very clearly using binoculars.

The Fei Country soldiers saw that one of them was carrying a camera and didn't look like a soldier. They kept on observing them and decided to capture them alive to use them as hostages.

Just as the cameraman found a suitable place to start recording, Huo Sanyan heard sounds coming from the shrubbery. As she had sharp eyes, she realized someone seemed to be coming from over there. She quickly told the cameraman to run away.

“Not good! We have been discovered! Run quickly!”

They broke into a run and the Fei Country scouts gave chase and were not willing to let them go. Moreover, they had already split up and some of them were already going to the front, preparing to outflank them.

“Throw the camera away!”

Huo Sanyan turned around and saw that the cameraman was still carrying the camera and quickly reminded him to get rid of it.

The camera was too heavy so the cameraman had no choice but to throw it away and run frantically with her.

Her eyes could almost see the border but a few people suddenly emerged in front of her. They were holding weapons and blocked their way.

Huo Sanyan and the cameraman had no choice but to stop. They turned around and saw that the people behind them had also caught up.

Right now, their path had been blocked and they were surrounded. The Fei Country's scout was speaking the Fei language and they couldn't understand him.

They used their guns to signal for them to raise their hands. Huo Sanyan raised her hand and, at the same time, raised her journalist pass to show it to them.

As international treaties included protection for journalists and doctors during war, every country needed to follow them.

If they killed them during the war, it meant they had violated the international treaty.

Huo Sanyan and the cameraman could only hold onto this hope to see whether or not they could be pardoned.

They saw their journalist passes and cross-checked their faces. They then communicated with each other for a while.

Although Huo Sanyan couldn't understand what they were saying, from looking at them, she could somewhat guess that some of them supported letting them go, and some were determined to keep them captive.

Huo Sanyan took advantage of the situation while they were arguing and gave the cameraman a glance. The two of them then took the opportunity to start running.

The soldiers saw them escape and started chasing after them out of conditional reflex. They might have decided not to let them go and chased them to the border again.

They were afraid of alerting the Dragon Kingdom's soldiers so they didn't fire their guns. Instead, they tried their best to chase after them. While at an important moment, the cameraman fell down. Huo Sanyan had no choice but to turn back to help him up.

However, before they even got up, the soldiers already had their weapons pointed at them.

They were really done for!

Huo Sanyan felt regret. She really shouldn't have snuck over the border!

Now that they had been captured by the enemy country, how could they still possibly live?

Just as Huo Sanyan started to think they definitely wouldn't be able to escape today, a few gunshots cut through the sky, breaking the temporary silence at the border.

Three Fei scouts fell down immediately. The other three realized something was happening. When they turned around and lifted their weapons to resist, it was already too late.

A dark figure appeared in front of them as quick as lightning. What followed were a few swift kicks that knocked them down.

Chapter 1872: Reluctant

Before the enemies could react, the person took them down in a swift manner.

All six enemies were taken down in an instant. Huo Sanyan and the cameraman were still hugging their heads worriedly.

When Huo Sanyan raised her head and saw who had come, she knew she was in huge trouble.

It was Ye Xun. Now that Ye Xun knew that both she and the cameraman broke the rules and went into the warzone, they would have to get punished for it.

Ye Xun wore a black uniform, and he was breathing heavily from rage. His stare would make others mistake him for Satan himself.

After taking care of the six enemies, Ye Xun ran to Huo Sanyan's side to check if she was hurt or not.

“Huo Yan!” Ye Xun shouted as he helped her up. “Are you hurt?”

Huo Sanyan shook her head and asked, “Why are you here?”

“Why else? Do you even know where this is? What in the world were you thinking?”

Ye Xun was really enraged. When he went back to the base just now and couldn't find Huo Sanyan, he got worried. After asking around, Ye Xun learned that Huo Sanyan and the cameraman had gone to the border.

With how tense the situation was, going to the border without any escort was a suicide mission.

After learning that, Ye Xun rushed to where Huo Sanyan was. The moment he got there, he saw Huo Sanyan and the cameraman being surrounded by enemies.

Without thinking twice, Ye Xun shot and killed three of the enemies before putting the remaining three to sleep.

After the danger was gone, Ye Xun looked at Huo Sanyan. Even though he was angry, he was more worried about her, and it made him reluctant to scold her.

“Well, whatever. As long as you're fine...” Ye Xun sighed as he hugged Huo Sanyan tightly.

If something were to happen to Huo Sanyan, Ye Xun would blame himself for the rest of his life since it would have happened inside his territory.

He was happy that Huo Sanyan wasn't hurt. There wasn't anything more important to him than her safety.

“I'm sorry... We thought we could get some good photos...” Huo Sanyan apologized. “We never thought there would still be enemies here...”

“You don't have to explain anymore. Let's go back,” Ye Xun said as he let Huo Sanyan go.

“Okay.” Huo Sanyan nodded.

But seconds after they turned to leave, the cameraman realized that he'd dropped his camera.

“General, I'm sorry... But can I go get my camera back?”

“Do you have a death wish?” Ye Xun scolded.

“No... But if I lose the camera now, I'll get fired...”

The cameraman had his own troubles too.

“Fine,” Ye Xun sighed. “I'll ask my men to look for the camera. We're going back to the base this instant!”

“Thank you so much.”

As the three of them left, none of them realized that one of the Fei Country soldiers had woken up. He sneakily took out a grenade and threw it towards them.

But he was already dying and couldn't throw the grenade far enough.

When Ye Xun turned and saw the grenade, he quickly turned back and shouted, “Grenade! Get down!”

He then pushed Huo Sanyan to the floor and protected her with his body.

Boom!

The grenade exploded and swept dust up into the air.

After everything calmed down, Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan slowly raised their heads to check the situation.

Chapter 1873: He Didn't Want To Experience It A Second Time

In a daze, Huo Sanyan stared at the smoke coming from the ground and the crater from the explosion. She was so stunned that she forgot to react.

The loud noise from the grenade almost shattered her brain. It was also at that moment that something seemed to have cracked open in her brain.

She saw flames splashing recklessly and thick smoke. It felt like she could remember some events from the past.

She remembered there was a brazen Three-Eyes Monster who would hang around Prince Ye all the time.

She remembered that her entire life at that time revolved around Prince Ye.

She remembered how she brazenly chased after the man of her dreams without shame.

She seemed to remember all of it...

She loved Ye Xun!

She loved him so much that almost every part of her life was used to passionately love him.

When Huo Sanyan remembered her past, she felt both joy and sadness. Tears couldn't help but come out. With smoke, fire, and tears separating them, she lifted up her head to look at his strong chin.

Ye Xun got up and patted the dirt that was on him. When he turned to look at her, he realized tears were all over her face.

“Yanyan, are you okay?”

Ye Xun felt anxious in his heart. He thought she was frightened by the explosion again.

“Ye Xun!”

Huo Sanyan's tears were falling but she suddenly smiled. “I remember it now!”

“What? What do you remember?”

Huo Sanyan stretched out her hand to touch his face. “I remember what happened three years ago. I remember all of it. You are my Prince Ye!”

“Really? That is wonderful!”

Ye Xun looked at her and then looked at the big crater behind him. He was unbelievably excited. Perhaps it was the explosion just now that had stimulated her. That's why she remembered the past.

This was simply too wonderful!

The original Huo Sanyan who loved him had finally returned!

The two kissed each other emotionally, their passionate tears mixing together.

The cameraman, on the other hand, was stunned when he saw this. Huo Yan was a man. It turned out his relationship with Commander Ye Xun was this sort of relationship?

After their emotional kiss ended, Ye Xun helped Huo Sanyan up from the ground and brought her to cross over the border, walking towards the military barracks.

The gunshots and sounds of the explosion alerted the Dragon Kingdom's military. Right now, military officers had already brought a squad to give immediate support.

The officer stopped to salute Ye Xun when they ran into them and then asked about the situation.

“There are six enemies over there that I have subdued. You guys go and take care of it.”

Ye Xun only told them this and didn't speak about Huo Sanyan and the cameraman going over the border.

“Yes, sir!” The officer brought the squad over and Ye Xun and the others went back to the military barracks.

After they returned, Ye Xun brought Huo Sanyan back to his own camp. His previous anger towards her had already now been diluted by the joyous news of her regaining her memory.

He held her hand and asked her to sit on his lap. He asked, “What do you remember. Can you tell me?”

“I remember how we met. Also, you had a very bad temper back then!”

“That was the past me. I won't ever be like that now or in the future.”

The two of them chatted about past events, their hearts touching closely with each other.

After they finished chatting, Ye Xun suggested at the end, “Yanyan, I think it is too dangerous for you to be at the border. I think you should return to Mo City!”

“No! I don't want to go back! It was so difficult to get here, to find you, and to regain my memory. Why do you want to chase me away? Do you know that I almost grew feathers while waiting for you in Mo City?”

After Huo Sanyan regained her memory, she became much more clingy. She really couldn't bear to be apart from him.

Since she temporarily wasn't willing to leave, Ye Xun didn't continue to say anything. However, he would continue to look for a chance to send her back.

With the danger they faced today, he didn't want to experience it a second time.

It was only when Huo Sanyan was safe that he could calm his heart and give his full attention to the current situation.

Chapter 1874: Don't Treat Me Differently

Ye Xun found the best camera for the cameraman the next day.

He also arranged for a few soldiers to accompany them to the border for new pictures.

When Huo Sanyan returned from the short trip, she couldn't find Ye Xun in the base. She then asked around to see if anyone knew where he was.

Ye Xun was at another part of the border overseeing the building of new trenches.

Not only was he overseeing it, but he even took off his uniform to help build the trenches.

With him among the builders, none of the soldiers dared to loaf on their jobs. There was no way they threatened to when their highest commanding officer worked twice as hard as they did.

Seeing how hard the soldiers were working, Huo Sanyan took up a shovel to help out.

One of the soldiers noticed Huo Sanyan coming down and nudged Ye Xun.

"General, your friend is here too."

Ye Xun raised his head up and noticed Huo Sanyan among the crowd. Seeing her work hurt him.

He agreed to let her stay but not to do that kind of hard work. There was no way a rich lady like her could take on such a job.

"Huo Yan, why are you here?" Ye Xun asked.

"To help." Huo Sanyan smiled.

"There's nothing you can help with here. Go back," Ye Xun ordered.

"I can help!"

Huo Sanyan really hoped that Ye Xun could think of her as a man so that he wouldn't treat her differently.

She was worried that the soldiers might start to laugh at him.

"No can do! Didn't I say you have to listen to my orders? Are you disobeying me now?"

"I just want to help! Look at me, I'm not as fragile as you think."

To prove herself, Huo Sanyan bent down and started digging.

Huo Sanyan was born into the wealthy Huo family. She never had to worry about bringing food to the table, nor did she have to do labor. But after arriving at the border, she learned how hard it was for the soldiers to live.

She also began to understand how hard Ye Xun's life was. When he was busy, he could only get less than four hours of sleep a day. But Huo Sanyan never cared about his life, what he had to go through every day.

Realizing how little she used to care about him, Huo Sanyan vowed that she would take better care of him and love him unconditionally.

Seeing how weak Huo Sanyan was at digging, Ye Xun jumped into the trench and took her shovel away.

He then picked her up and went straight back to the base.

“Wait... What's happening now? What's their relationship?” one of the soldiers asked after Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan left.

“I heard they are best friends.”

“Really? Are they actually gay?”

“What? I always thought the General was straight!”

It was clear as to why the soldiers would think that Ye Xun and Huo Yan were in a gay relationship. Plus, Huo Sanyan was a woman from the beginning. Her dressing up as a man had made her, or him, look weak, and it would make any man want to protect him.

Huo Sanyan was hung on Ye Xun's shoulder, and it was too awkward for her. She struggled hard, trying to get down.

“Hey! Let me down! I'm not a sack of flour, you know! What if other people see us?”

“Then let them see us! What's wrong with carrying my wife around?”

To stop Huo Sanyan from struggling, Ye Xun slapped Huo Sanyan on her ass.

What embarrassed Huo Sanyan the most was that on their way back, a lot of soldiers saluted Ye Xun.

Chapter 1875: Use Strength To Subdue Her

Huo Sanyan felt uncomfortable all over. She could imagine how shocked they were when they saw Ye Xun carrying her. They really looked shameful.

Since Huo Sanyan couldn't get down, she had no choice but to just close her eyes.

With great difficulty, they finally arrived back at the barracks. It was only after they went through the door that Ye Xun finally put her down. She finally had a chance to gasp for air and massage her tummy. His hard elbows really made her ache.

She was so angry that she shot a glance at him and said, “You are so annoying!”

“How am I annoying again? Explain it to me!”

Ye Xun straightened his collar straight away and led her back into the barracks. Moreover, he ordered the guards that no one was to disturb them unless he gave his permission.

After they went in, the guards at the door exchanged glances. They were both thinking the same thing and knew clearly in their hearts that their commander-in-chief and that little fella didn't have a normal kind of relationship.

They would definitely guard their secret well!

Within the camp, Huo Sanyan pulled him with two hands. “Hey! You can let go of me now, right?”

Ye Xun didn't say anything. He pulled her directly into the resting room and pressed her down on the bed.

Huo Sanyan sensed something bad when she saw him take off his belt. “It can't be that you want it right now, right? You are too free in your behavior!”

“It is your fault for running away for no reason! You won't be obedient unless I bring up my trump card!”

Ye Xun took off his clothes and lunged at her like a lion hunting its prey.

Right now, he wanted to use a man's strength to subdue this disobedient woman. He wanted to let her know the consequences of not obeying orders.

He was about to knock Huo Sanyan's soul away. When she thought about how it was daytime right now and there were soldiers everywhere outside, she couldn't even dare to scream.

The only thing she could do was to bite the pillow tightly to stop herself from making any sort of noise.

Huo Sanyan realized that while in bed, Ye Xun would always be like a hungry wolf that was avaricious and insatiable. He would eat her up over and over again. In the end, he would even gnaw until none of her bones were left.

No matter how much she begged, he would not let her go. In the end, she would pass out from tiredness.

After that, Huo Sanyan would be living in a world without justice for three days. She had to stay in the barracks all day. Ye Xun simply did not give her any chance to go out.

Because of this, it caused day and night to be reversed for her. She would be so tired in the day that she would sleep till night. When he came back at night, they would continue drilling again. In short, it was already three days later when Huo Sanyan could really sleep properly.

Being able to see the sunlight outside again was such a wonderful feeling!

Huo Sanyan didn't know that in the three days since she disappeared, many of the soldiers were all curious as to where she went.

Only a few soldiers knew she had been kept in a secret room by their commander-in-chief. He hid her for a whole three days when he hid her away.

Huo Sanyan almost couldn't take Ye Xun's behavior anymore. He would be drilling soldiers in the day and come back to drill her at night.

If she continued to stay at the camp, by the time she went back, she reckoned that she would really die.

On the fourth night, Huo Sanyan waited until Ye Xun came back and discussed it with him. "Prince Ye, I've decided to go back to Mo City."

"Oh? Came around to it?"

Not only did Ye Xun not try to get her to stay, he actually felt a tinge of happiness.

Huo Sanyan felt upset at this display. "Are you really so eager to have me leave?"

"It is really not safe for you to stay here. Moreover, it would disturb the military's focus."

Ye Xun came over and sniffed the light fragrance on her body. Truth be told, if she stayed at the military barracks, he wouldn't be able to help but give half his heart to her.

That's why it was only if she went back to Mo City that he wouldn't have any worries.

This was also the main reason why he had been fiercely "punishing" her in the last few days. He made it so she couldn't take in anymore and would feel afraid. Let's see if she still dares to stay here...

Huo Sanyan pouted and stared at him. After thinking for a while, she gave in to a compromise. "Fine! I will go back to Mo City to wait for you."

Chapter 1876: I'll Marry You

"Good." Ye Xun smiled and turned to take a small notebook from his drawer. "Take this. When I return from the war, I'll marry you."

Ye Xun had been proposing for three years, asking Huo Sanyan when she wanted to get married. Yet, Huo Sanyan had only been avoiding the question in the past. But now, when she heard that Ye Xun wished to marry her, tears instantly filled her eyes.

Being able to marry the man she loved brought her happiness.

"What's wrong? Do you not want to marry me?" Ye Xun asked as he wiped the tears from Huo Sanyan's face.

"No... I'm just too happy right now..."

Huo Sanyan took the notebook from Ye Xun and opened it. In the notebook were names of different stores for wedding preparation.

"When did you start writing these down?" Huo Sanyan asked.

Ye Xun sat down beside Huo Sanyan and explained, "Quite some time ago. These are some of the best stores in Mo City. Ask Jing Xi to accompany you to these places when you get back. Choose the ones you like so you can get ready to be my wife."

"Okay."

Huo Sanyan held the notebook tightly. Seeing how Ye Xun had a role in protecting the country, Huo Sanyan decided to take on the task of preparing the wedding.

Ye Xun should be able to return from the war when the preparation was completed.

Huo Sanyan could hear her heart thumping loudly as she thought of them getting married soon.

After taking care of everything, Huo Sanyan left the base the next day.

Ye Xun took her to Mei City and had his most trusted guard take her back to Mo City.

Before Huo Sanyan left, she cuddled herself in Ye Xun's arms as he hugged her tightly.

They looked at each other and kissed.

People who walked past them kept staring at them since what they saw was two men kissing in public.

They all had the same question in their minds.

Since when are people so open in Mei City?

After the kiss, Ye Xun helped Huo Sanyan into the car and ordered his guard to keep her safe at all costs.

“Don't worry, General. I'll protect her with my life!”

“Don't forget to eat three meals a day, okay?” Ye Xun turned to Huo Sanyan and said. “You can ask the maids to make food or go to the palace for meals. Don't drink too much either and rest more. Take good care of yourself.”

“I will.”

Huo Sanyan nodded as she tried to hold back her tears. Words that used to sound annoying were words that warmed her heart now.

She then took off the jade necklace and gave it to Ye Xun.

“This is my protection charm, something that I've used forever. I hope it can protect you too.”

“Thank you.” Ye Xun smiled and put the necklace around his neck.

He then let go of Huo Sanyan's hands and turned to the guard.

“It's time.”

“Huo Sanyan!” Ye Xun shouted. “Wait for me!”

Even when the car was already far from where they'd left, Huo Sanyan could still see Ye Xun standing where he was seeing them off.

Huo Sanyan finally turned her head to the front after Ye Xun disappeared from view, and she felt lonely again.

Chapter 1877: Filled With The Heart Of A Young Maiden

They had only just separated but she started to miss him right after she turned her eyes.

Sigh... She really hoped he could come back soon!

After a bumpy journey, Huo Sanyan finally arrived safely back at Mo City.

The soldier who sent her back didn't waste any time and quickly returned.

Huo Sanyan returned to Ye Residence and she was in a joyous mood, as she was home. She cleaned up all the filth and mess that had accumulated for many days. She then changed into clean clothes and had a good rest.

She had a very long sleep. It was already the next day by the time she slept enough. After she woke up, she asked the servant to make breakfast. Once she finished breakfast, she dolled herself up pretty and then went to the company.

As Huo Sanyan was in a good mood, she was happy no matter what she saw. She would even take the initiative to smile and greet the company's employees when she saw them.

The employees who saw that she had returned all felt she had undergone a very big change. The biggest change was she had a type of sweet blessed smile on her face.

She'd never had such an expression in the past. She always had a cold expression whenever she was at the company, showing the cold attitude of a strong woman.

However, right now, she had a warmth to her and none of the employees were used to it.

After she stepped into the exclusive president elevator and went upstairs, the employees all gathered and started to discuss it.

"What happened to our president?"

"It looks to me like she is in a very good mood, as if she is in love!"

"Yes, she has such a pleasant facial expression. She wasn't like this in the past."

"Could it be President Huo met prince charming while she was in Phuket?"

"Yeah, that is very likely!"

While the employees were gossiping, Huo Sanyan was already sitting in the president's office and working.

She asked the vice-president to come in first to give a full report on what had happened recently. After she understood the situation, Huo Sanyan had an executive meeting in the morning.

She was in a highly excited state the entire day. She was patient no matter what she did and she also didn't lose her temper easily.

In any case, the impression she gave the employees right now caused complete confusion. It was as if she had changed into an entirely different person.

After a busy day, Huo Sanyan went to the palace to have dinner at night.

Jing Xi saw her appearing after such a long time and asked curiously, "Why did you go for a vacation for so long on your own?"

"Hehe. Jing Xi, I will tell you the truth. I didn't go on vacation."

"Where did you go?"

Huo Sanyan thought about the experience she had throughout many days and couldn't help but smile beautifully. Jing Xi saw she was filled with the heart of a young maiden and guessed, "You don't need to tell me. You went looking for Ye Xun! Moreover, you guys made up now, right?"

"Correct! I did go find him!"

Huo Sanyan smiled as she nodded and even looked a bit embarrassed.

"Oh my god! You scare people too much. Why didn't you tell me? I could've helped to arrange it for you. Why did you go running off on your own? What would you have done if you happened to run into danger?"

Jing Xi felt frightened just thinking about it. The border was in such chaos. Going there alone as a woman and managing to find Ye Xun really showed her capabilities.

"In order to find Prince Ye, it is normal for me to make some sacrifices. Moreover, I gained a lot from going."

Huo Sanyan held Jing Xi's hand. "I will now tell you everything that happened."

Huo Sanyan told her about all of her miraculous experiences. It was only after Jing Xi listened that she understood clearly what happened. Just thinking about it made her feel that her experiences were dangerous and interesting.

"I say! You really are too dangerous! It is lucky nothing bad happened!" Jing Xi laughed.

"Yeah. Moreover, I regained my memory!" Huo Sanyan told her this at the end.

Jing Xi was extremely surprised. "Really? You've already remembered everything from the past?"

Chapter 1878: Explanation

"Yes, but that's not the important thing," Huo Sanyan nodded. "I've realized how important Ye Xun is to me and have decided to be with him for the rest of my life. We are going to get married once he comes back from the war."

"Really?" Jing Xi exclaimed. "Then we have to get ready!"

"You're right. I'll make sure everything is well-prepared when he returns."

Huo Sanyan used to not believe in marriage, but now, she was looking forward to it. She now had someone she had to marry, no matter what happened.

“Congratulations!” Jing Xi smiled. “I’m going to help you with your preparations too. I’ll have to make a list of what we need to prepare.”

“Oh, about that. Ye Gongzi already made one,” Huo Sanyan said. “He gave me a notebook with the names of a few stores inside. Are you free tomorrow? I want to get a wedding dress ready first.”

“Of course! Can you come and pick me up tomorrow?”

“Sure thing.”

Huo Sanyan stayed at the palace for dinner after that.

Jing Xi conveyed the good news to Huo Yunshen and the children at the dining table.

Huo Yunshen was surprised to hear the news but felt relieved at the same time.

When their parents were still alive, they were always worried about Huo Sanyan not getting married. Now that she was, Huo Yunshen believed that their parents would give their blessings to her from heaven.

“Who is auntie going to marry?” Little Grape asked, worried that Huo Sanyan was not going to marry Ye Xun.

“Oh, you know him.” Jing Xi smiled. “It’s your Uncle Treeleaf.”

“Really?” Little Grape asked as his eyes widened. “I thought auntie always said that Uncle Treeleaf is a stone without feelings.”

“...” Huo Sanyan did not know how to explain to the little boy. She still remembered when the children were helping Ye Xun to propose, she told them she would never marry him because he was a stone.

“But there is a special stone,” Jing Xi smiled and explained. “It’s called a flint stone. When you hit two flint stones together, sparks can be produced. Your auntie and Uncle Treeleaf are like flint stones, and together, they produce sparks of love.”

Jing Xi’s easy explanation was able to convince her son.

Since Ying Bao was older and more mature than any of her siblings, she understood why her father looked glad.

“Looks like my auntie is getting married soon.” Ying Bao let out a sigh. “At least you won’t become an old maid or something.”

“...” Huo Sanyan was even more speechless after that. She wondered if the children had been looking at her like that for the whole time.

Realizing that even the kids were looking down on her, Huo Sanyan was relieved that she was going to get married soon.

Huo Sanyan woke up early the next day and went to pick Jing Xi up at the palace before heading to the bridal shop listed in Ye Xun’s notebook.

Jing Xi wore a mask so that she could hide her identity.

When they walked into the store, the friendly attendant first asked if they had a reservation.

“My husband... Ye Xun, he said he'd made a booking here,” Huo Sanyan said.

“Then, I presume you must be Miss Huo?”

Chapter 1879: Overflowing With Emotion

“Yes! Do you guys know me?”

“That's right. Mr. Ye already gave us all of your information and pictures. You are our store's honored VIP right now! Miss Huo, please follow me!”

The employee led them in enthusiastically. She then made coffee and brought out some snacks for them and asked them to wait for a while.

Not long after, the employee from just now came back to speak with Huo Sanyan. “Miss Huo, please take a look at this. This is the wedding dress Mr. Ye custom ordered for you.”

Huo Sanyan and Jing Xi both turned their heads to look. When the curtain was pulled, a gorgeous wedding dress appeared in front of them.

The moment Huo Sanyan saw it, she was so stunned that she covered her mouth. It was because the wedding dress was simply too beautiful.

It was so beautiful it was breathtaking. Its beauty radiated all around and dazzled the eyes.

It was so beautiful that she couldn't think of the right word to describe its uniqueness.

“Wow! What a beautiful wedding dress! Ye Xun is so considerate!” Jing Xi shook Huo Sanyan, who was in a daze.

Huo Sanyan was completely stunned. At this moment, her heart was extremely moved. An aching joy filled her chest and it made her want to cry.

She never really thought that Ye Xun would be so meticulous as to prepare a wedding dress for her beforehand. He had always been waiting for her.

She was so moved that tears started to fall. She couldn't control it no matter how hard she tried.

Jing Xi knew she was crying tears of joy. She held her and said, “Okay, okay. Ye Xun prepared such a huge surprise for you, you should be happy. Stop crying and quickly try it on! I can't wait to see what you look like after you put it on.”

“Okay.” It was only after Jing Xi's advice that Huo Sanyan stopped crying. After she wiped her tears, she followed the employee to the fitting room.

Once Huo Sanyan finished putting on the wedding dress, the curtain was pulled open again. A bride with beauty beyond compare appeared in front of her.

It was now Jing Xi's turn to have her breath taken away. She covered her mouth and looked at her in awe.

She then stood up to examine her. “Sanyan! This wedding dress is really so pretty. It is very well suited to your queen-like temperament. Perhaps you are the only person who can pull off this wedding dress. It really is so beautiful! It is so beautiful that it makes me want to get married one more time.”

Jing Xi's joke caused Huo Sanyan to laugh.

Huo Sanyan lowered her head to look at the gorgeous dress and her heart was overflowing with emotion.

At this time, the employee promptly explained, “Miss Huo, this wedding dress was custom made by hand. Our lead designer spent about one year on it before finishing it. Each of the diamonds on this dress was handwoven onto it. It is the only one of its kind in the entire world. Moreover, it also has a very nice sounding name. It is called 'One True Love.' Mr. Ye wants to tell you through this wedding dress that his love for you is forever unchanging. You are the one true love in his life.”

After listening to the employee's explanation, the value of the wedding dress increased considerably again.

Right now, this wasn't just a wedding dress. Instead, it was the huge love Ye Xun had for her. It was the symbol of their happiness.

Huo Sanyan was unbelievably happy in her heart. She was so moved that she already showed a joyful smile on her face before her tears even dried.

The rotating platform slowly turned around and she saw her beautiful self in the full-length mirror. She was so beautiful that she was in awe of her own reflection in the mirror.

Looking at the diamonds on the wedding dress was like seeing thousands of stars on her body, shining brilliantly when light reflected off of them.

It could be said that this was the most beautiful piece of clothing she had ever worn in her life. She even felt a bit reluctant to take it off.

Jing Xi sat at the side and didn't stop praising her. “Sanyan, you see it now, right? Ye Xun is actually extremely meticulous. When he fell in love, he would without a doubt give his heart to you. You are lucky to marry him.”

Chapter 1880: Arrangement

“Yes...” Huo Sanyan nodded as she felt the same way too.

Now that Huo Sanyan thought of it, being able to meet Ye Xun was all because of Jing Xi.

“Jing Xi, I really have to thank you,” Huo Sanyan confessed. “If not for you, I would never have gotten the chance to meet him, and we could never be where we are now. You have been helping us a lot and...really, thank you so much.”

“Come on, aren't we a family?” Jing Xi smiled. “Plus, all of us are hoping that you can get married soon and lead a happy life. With this, Yunshen can stop worrying about you, and everyone in heaven can rest well too.”

"You're right." Huo Sanyan smiled back and turned to the attendant. "Can you help me take this off, I want to save it for the actual date."

The attendant nodded and asked, "Is there any alterations Miss Huo might want? We can alter the dress to suit any of your needs."

"No, thank you, it's perfect."

The dress was perfect in every aspect, and Huo Sanyan didn't see anything that needed to be changed.

"Very well. Please, follow me."

The attendant then took Huo Sanyan back to the changing room and helped take the dress off.

After they came out, the attendant then guided them to another room.

"Mr. Ye did tell us to let Miss take a look at the accessories and the veil he has chosen. Please have a look. Everything here can be changed according to your needs."

"Okay."

After taking a look at everything that Ye Xun had prepared, Huo Sanyan realized that Ye Xun did make everything.

There wasn't anything left for Huo Sanyan to do except to see if she needed to change anything.

But everything was perfect, especially the wedding invitation.

It was a letter that could be opened like a door. On the cover was a photo of Ye Xun kissing Huo Sanyan's cheek, both of them printed on each side of the door.

Even though the accessories weren't the main characters of the wedding, they were things that elevated it. With everything well prepared, Huo Sanyan couldn't find any fault in it.

Huo Sanyan then confirmed the number of invitation cards needed for the wedding.

"Then, we'll contact Miss Huo when the cards are printed," the attendant informed.

"Thank you."

After leaving the bridal shop, Jing Xi kept praising how detailed Ye Xun was with the preparation, and it was a delight for Huo Sanyan to hear.

They then had to go to the wedding planner to confirm the date of the wedding dinner.

While on their way there, Jing Xi got a call from Su Wanqin saying that Little Strawberry was sick.

The call made Jing Xi worried, and she quickly apologized to Huo Sanyan.

"I'm sorry, but I think Little Strawberry is sick! Why don't we find another date to go together?"

"It's fine. Come on, I'll drive you back," Huo Sanyan offered, since she was also worried about her little niece.

When they got back, Little Strawberry was crying in Su Wanqin's arms.

“Mom, what's wrong?” Jing Xi asked as she took the baby over.
