

Priceless Baby 1891

Chapter 1891: This Was All In Her Imagination

“Do you want to get in the car? I will bring you to see him.”

“Okay!” Huo Sanyan got in and said with a smile. “I'm in, go ahead and drive! Take me to see him!”

Huo Sanyan thought Ye Xun would definitely have many affairs to handle since he just came back. He was definitely at the palace right now giving reports on the war.

She was full of anticipation while going to see him with Jing Xi. However, she realized Jing Xi drove to the hospital.

She stopped downstairs at the hospital and Huo Sanyan found it odd. “Jing Xi, aren't you taking me to see Ye Xun? Why are we at the hospital?”

Jing Xi looked at Huo Sanyan and didn't reply. Huo Sanyan became aware she was silent and sensed something was wrong.

“What is it, Jing Xi? Did something happen?” Huo Sanyan continued to ask.

Jing Xi took a deep breath and said, “Sanyan, I came to pick you up personally today because I hope you can prepare yourself.”

“Why do I need to prepare myself” Her smile froze and her heart tensed up.

“Ye Xun... he... something happened to him!” Jing Xi told her with great difficulty. After she finished, both her eyes were red.

“Something happened? What happened? Quickly tell me!” Huo Sanyan grabbed Jing Xi's wrist and begged.

“Ye Xun, while he was on the battlefield... he got hurt. We initially wanted to tell you once he wakes up but I can't bear to hide it from you, so...”

Jing Xi didn't continue to speak. Huo Sanyan would be able to understand it even if she didn't say it.

Huo Sanyan heard Ye Xun was heavily injured and she was completely shocked. An explosive went off in her head and it went blank, her tears falling almost instantly.

This was completely not what she had imagined!

She had already prepared everything and was just waiting for Ye Xun to come back to have the marriage. However, she now told her that Ye Xun was heavily injured. How was she supposed to accept this!

“How did he get injured? How severe are his injuries?” She asked but couldn't get answers. Images of Ye Xun being bloodied and injured appeared in Huo Sanyan's head and she cried, “Where is he?! Bring me to see him!”

She came to the patient room where Ye Xun was. There were guards at the entrance. When they saw Jing Xi coming with Huo Sanyan, they greeted her respectfully and gave way.

Huo Sanyan pushed open the patient room door and then walked in, seeing a scene where he was lying on the hospital bed.

His head was wrapped in bandages and his arms were also fully wrapped in bandages. When Huo Sanyan saw this scene with her own eyes, tears came falling out of her eyes like floodwater. She could no longer hold it anymore, her tears flowing out silently.

“Ye Xun! Prince Ye...”

She lunged towards the bedside and started to cry bitterly.

Jing Xi then came in. When she saw the sad look on her, she could only pat her shoulder in silence to comfort her.

After Huo Sanyan cried for a while, she lifted her teary eyes to look at his unconscious face. She felt so much pain in her heart that it was about to shatter.

However, this was not her saddest moment. When she saw his left arm was missing, her entire being collapsed and she screamed, “Ahh! Ye Xun! His arm...”

She couldn't believe her eyes. She turned to look at Jing Xi, begging for help. Hoping she could tell her that this was all in her imagination, that she saw it wrong, that Ye Xun was actually fine. He was fine. His hand was fine!

“The advanced party was surrounded and Ye Xun led people to go save them. In order to save his officers, he, unfortunately, was hit by enemy artillery. He helped save others but his arm was broken from the blast.”

“He was later saved and was recently treated at a hospital at the border. They thought he could come back once his injuries improved but his wounds were severely infected. They had no choice but to send him back to the hospital in Mo City. To save his life, the doctor had no choice but to amputate.”

Chapter 1892: Fall Asleep Together

Huo Sanyan couldn't hear what Jing Xi had to say later. All she knew was that her heart was dying.

She was heartbroken.

She looked at Ye Xun lying on the bed with one less arm. The sight of that hurt her even more than it could hurt Ye Xun himself.

She had no idea what to do. Moments before that, she was happily thinking of their future. Now, it was as if she'd been thrown into hell.

Tears rolled down her cheeks as quietness filled the room.

She questioned God for the hardship they had to go through.

The jokes God had made on her.

She blamed God for taking her fiance's health away from him.

Why...

Seeing Huo Sanyan crying, Jing Xi could not hold back her tears either.

Jing Xi had hope for Huo Sanyan and Ye Xun's happy life more than anyone. Yet, the supposed happiness was ruined by the war.

She wondered what would happen after Ye Xun woke up.

Would he be able to accept the fact that he wouldn't be whole ever again?

No one could answer that question.

Ye Xun got his treatment in the best hospital. Even though there wasn't any life-threatening treatment, his brain was damaged, and one of his arms was amputated.

Ye Xun remained unconscious, and everyone was warned that he might stay a vegetable forever.

The news was a tragedy, too much for Huo Sanyan to bear.

She couldn't accept the fact that Ye Xun might never wake up.

All she could do was pray for him to wake and tell him everything she had kept to herself.

Even though Huo Sanyan was heartbroken, she still stayed in the hospital with him every day.

Jing Xi would join her, too, if she had the time.

"Cheer up." Jing Xi tried to comfort Huo Sanyan. "He could wake up tomorrow, right? Look at Yunshen, he was in the same state and managed to wake up. I have faith in him because he still has you here."

"I hope so too. But, I'm also prepared in case he never wakes up again. Even so, I'll stay by his side forever," Huo Sanyan said.

Ni Xuelin also heard about her brother's situation and rushed to the Dragon Kingdom from Estan with Qi Fang.

She was also deeply hurt when she saw Ye Xun lying on the bed, but she also tried to cheer Huo Sanyan up.

Ni Xuelin wasn't the only one visited. Most of Ye Xun's friends also came from all over the world.

Jing Zhannan, Jun Yan, and members of JS1 who had gone through everything with Ye Xun all came. They couldn't help but feel what a tragedy it was for Ye Xun to lose one arm, and prayed for his well-being.

Huo Sanyan steadied her heart after all the crying and sadness.

She knew that she couldn't fall because Ye Xun still depended on her.

Ye Xun was discharged a few weeks later, and Huo Sanyan brought him home. She had to clean the wound where his arm was amputated and apply herbs to help it heal.

The wound would take a long time to heal, but Huo Sanyan did it patiently every day.

She would talk to him daily, hoping her sound could one day wake him up.

And she would lie down beside him every night and fall asleep with him.

Chapter 1893: He Is A Hero!

During the time Ye Xun was unconscious, Huo Sanyan would care for him meticulously as he had cared for her in the past.

She had learned many things because she considered that in the future when she wouldn't have Ye Xun to shelter her, she would need to face many things by herself.

She asked Jing Xi to start teaching her how to massage acupuncture points. She hoped this would help him in the future.

She bought some tutorial books and started to seriously learn how to cook. She hoped she would be able to make the dishes he loved to eat the most.

Ning Luoxiao also came to visit Ye Xun today. She also expressed her sadness when she saw her good friend in such a state.

"He is a hero!"

Ning Luoxiao was touched by his willingness to spill blood for the country. At the same time, she also felt sorry that he lost his left arm. However, she didn't say anything as she was afraid it would make Huo Sanyan sad. "Did the doctor say when he might wake up?"

"They're not sure. His brain was severely injured so the doctors are unable to give an exact time. Everything depends on the heavens."

Huo Sanyan turned to look at Ye Xun, picked up his healthy right hand, and sighed.

However, at this moment, she felt as though Ye Xun's fingers moved. She immediately said happily to Ning Luoxiao, "Ning Luoxiao! I think his fingers moved just now."

Ning Luoxiao turned over to look in shock. "They moved?"

Huo Sanyan looked again and they didn't have another reaction. "Maybe it was in my imagination. Sigh..."

Ning Luoxiao comforted, "It might not have been your imagination. It might not be long before he wakes up. There is always a process when people wake up from vegetative states."

The sleeping Ye Xun already almost showed signs of waking up. He was feeling around in the darkness, searching nonstop.

It was as if there was something he hadn't completed in his memory. That's why he kept on trying to find a way to break open the cage in the darkness.

He felt as though he heard someone speaking. Where did this sound come from? He really wanted to find the source of this voice.

He kept trying, again and again. It was getting near, nearer and nearer...

When he got closer, the voice also became clearer and clearer. However, he couldn't see it and the only thing he could do was to stretch his hand to grab it.

He wanted to stretch out his hand to grab something, exhausting all of his energy.

Darkness, the borderless and boundless darkness. It felt the same as the darkness from when he was a baby hiding inside his mother.

It was as if he could hear bullets falling like hail next to his ear again and also the sound of her mother's heartbreaking screams...

And also the loud noises from explosions... his head really hurt...

It was as if he had sunk into a dark heavy nightmare. He struggled to open his eyes, wanting to escape from this terrifying dreamland.

He thought he saw a bottomless abyss in front of him. He growled and then jumped in.

Ahh!

"They moved again! This time it is real! Xiaoxiao, quickly come and look!"

Huo Sanyan felt Ye Xun's fingers move a second time and confirmed it wasn't her imagination. Instead, she saw it with her own eyes.

She shouted for Ning Luoxiao to come over to look. Ning Luoxiao saw it and was extremely happy. "It is true! He really is conscious! This is great! Let's call his name together and see if he can hear us. Ye Xun..."

"Ye Xun..." Huo Sanyan started tearing up from happiness. Excitedly, she started to call him over and over again.

After that, the two women saw with their own eyes that his eyes reacted.

"I think his eyes moved!"

"Yes, this is wonderful! He really is about to wake up! Ye Xun! Can you hear my voice? Prince Ye..."

The two women kept calling his name nonstop, attempting to wake him up.

Chapter 1894: Changed

Ye Xun heard it. He heard someone calling out to him, and he tried to open his eyes.

His eyes moved as his eyelids flickered.

"Ye Xun..." Huo Sanyan called out as she held Ye Xun's hand. "Please, open your eyes."

Ye Xun finally found a streak of light in the darkness he wandered in.

The light started out weak but gradually grew stronger. He ran towards the source without hesitation.

The man ran and ran. He fought through the darkness with his strong will. When he opened his eyes, his world was filled with light again.

Two things slowly appeared before him.

They were faces, not of strangers.

“Ye Xun! You're finally awake!” Ning Luoxiao shouted excitedly.

“Ye Gongzi...”

The next one who called out to him was the woman he loved the most.

Tears filled Huo Sanyan's eyes.

Ye Xun had heard the same cry from her when he was still unconscious.

He knew that she was crying for him.

Ye Xun already knew that he had lost his arm. He had woken up for a brief moment before his arm was amputated and learned it from the doctor before passing out again.

He couldn't feel his left arm anymore. He had become a man that wasn't whole.

He thought that Huo Sanyan was crying because of him losing an arm.

It broke Ye Xun.

He was expecting a perfect wedding when he returned. But now, there was nothing he could do or promise.

No one could understand the pain and struggle inside Ye Xun. He cursed God for letting him live through the explosion.

Thinking of how saddened Huo Sanyan was, he closed his eyes in pain.

“Ye Gongzi!” Huo Sanyan shouted when she saw Ye Xun closing his eyes. “Wake up! Please... Please don't keep me waiting anymore.”

Yet, no matter how much Huo Sanyan shook Ye Xun, he did not wake up.

“Sanyan, calm down,” Ning Luoxiao comforted. “He still needs some time to wake up fully. Look on the bright side. Him opening his eyes for a moment means that he's going to wake up soon, right?”

“You're right.” Huo Sanyan nodded. “He'll definitely come back to me. He will...”

Since Ning Luoxiao had to return to the studio, Huo Sanyan escorted her out.

As soon as the ladies left, Ye Xun opened his eyes again.

He was in his room but it was redecorated for the wedding. It was a pretty sight to see, but to Ye Xun, it was psychological torture.

He raised his right hand and touched the wound left on his left shoulder.

He then punched the bed, trying to vent his anger.

He sat up and looked around, but everything he saw only brought more pain to him.

God had taken away a whole body from him and it had cost him his happiness.

He was an imperfect man now.

From that moment onwards, something inside Ye Xun had changed.

Just as he got out from total darkness, his heart sank back into the dark again.

Chapter 1895: How Could There Be Such A Coincidence?

Huo Sanyan came back again and was shocked when she saw a man sitting up on the bed.

Ye Xun sat there quietly, his head hanging low as if he was thinking about something. His expression looked lifeless and stupefied.

Huo Sanyan didn't notice his "unusual" appearance. When she saw he was awake, she immediately rushed forward, throwing herself into his embrace.

Ye Xun saw her rush forward while crying sadly and his heart bled and trembled. However, he didn't show any reaction on the outside.

"Ye Xun!"

After Huo Sanyan finished crying, she got up and held up his face. Feeling emotional, she looked at him carefully over and over again.

"Ye Xun, I am really happy you are awake. Do you know how worried I was..."

"You are finally awake. This is wonderful, so wonderful! I initially thought I would have to wait for a long time!"

"It is fine now. You are finally back. We can be together again and won't have to be apart."

"Ye Xun, say something..."

Huo Sanyan really looked forward to him speaking. She looked forward to him saying her name. However, the first words out of Ye Xun's mouth left her completely stunned.

"Who are you?"

Huo Sanyan widened her eyes to look at him and was filled with disbelief.

Could it be Ye Xun forgot her when he woke up?

That couldn't be possible!

"Prince Ye! I am Huo Sanyan! I am your Yanyan! I am your Three-Eyes Monster!"

Huo Sanyan tried her best to remind him. She wanted him to remember her. She wanted to see herself from the expression in his eyes.

However, she couldn't. Ye Xun just kept on staring at her coldly. He glanced at his surroundings and asked again, "Where is this?"

"This is your own house!"

Huo Sanyan was really about to fall apart. She couldn't believe Ye Xun would forget her!

“Who am I?”

Not only did he not remember her, but did he even forget who he was as well?

“You are Ye Xun! You are the commander-in-chief of the Dragon Kingdom's military. You are... you are the owner of this house!” Huo Sanyan started to explain tearfully.

Ye Xun appeared to be trying hard to remember something. He examined his surroundings again but he still couldn't remember anything.

His gaze landed on Huo Sanyan's body again and he asked, “And who are you?”

Huo Sanyan held back her tears, held his hand and asked, “Prince Ye! Don't you remember me? I am Huo Sanyan! I am your Yanyan!”

Ye Xun shook his head and pulled his hand back as well.

Huo Sanyan was deeply hurt. She dropped down into the chair and started to cry bitter tears.

She never would've imagined Ye Xun would be like this when he woke up. She comforted herself after crying for a while. Perhaps he hadn't adjusted because he just woke up.

Ye Xun would remember if she gave him some more time!

After waiting for quite a while, she anxiously asked him again, “Have you remembered it? Take a good look, who am I?”

Ye Xun glanced at her and then shook his head again.

This reaction was probably the same as when Huo Sanyan woke up after getting injured in Hawaii. However, how could there be such a coincidence where the same thing happened to both of them?

Huo Sanyan couldn't accept it. She suddenly fell apart and shouted, “That's enough Ye Xun! Stop pretending! I know you are teasing me! But can you please not play such a joke on me?”

She had only just recovered her memory and was planning on living a good life with him. Pretending to lose his memory like this was too much!

“I don't know what you are talking about.”

Ye Xun's eyes were full of suspicion. He also got up and wanted to get out of bed.

He wasn't trying to trick her?

It seemed that he had really lost his memory and forgotten about her!

When Huo Sanyan thought of this, she suddenly felt as though a thousand arrows had pierced through her heart. It was so painful that she couldn't breathe.

However, when she saw he wanted to leave, she still rushed over to him. “Prince Ye, where are you going?”

Chapter 1896: Caring For Him

Ye Xun did not reply. He got up and walked around the room.

But he rocked back and forth as he walked. Losing an arm for him was like a fish losing its tail, as he couldn't find his balance.

Huo Sanyan tried to help Ye Xun. But the moment she touched him, he shoved her back.

"Don't touch me!" Ye Xun scolded.

He fell down to the floor because he shoved Huo Sanyan too hard.

He turned to look at his left arm and frowned.

The more he looked at himself, the more determined he was to leave Huo Sanyan.

"Ye Gongzi..."

Huo Sanyan was deeply hurt by Ye Xun's action.

Not only had Ye Xun forgotten about her, but it also seemed like she disgusted him too.

This made her recall all she'd done when she had lost her memories.

She did the same thing to him too.

She wondered if this was her karma for mistreating Ye Xun for the past three years.

Looking at how broken Ye Xun was, Huo Sanyan's heart was shattered too. She had no idea what to do.

The man she loved profoundly had woken up from a coma, but he couldn't recognize her, nor did he want her help.

But no matter how Ye Xun had changed, Huo Sanyan had decided not to leave him. She wanted to touch him by caring for him.

"Are you hungry?" Huo Sanyan asked softly. "I've learned how to make some simple dishes recently. Do you wanna try them?"

"I don't! Get out!"

Ye Xun scolded her as he struggled to get up and pointed at the door.

Huo Sanyan tried to hold back her tears. She thought that he would at least have some feelings for her, but she was wrong. It was as if Ye Xun had completely changed, as if she was his enemy.

"Are you deaf? Go away!" Ye Xun roared. "I don't want to see your face ever again!"

Tears broke out as Huo Sanyan was saddened by his words.

No one could understand the pain of being chased away by the person they loved until they'd experienced it like Huo Sanyan.

She didn't want to leave.

She wanted to stay by his side.

But Ye Xun didn't want her near him, to the point where she was a pain for him to see.

Huo Sanyan hesitated before leaving.

When Ye Xun heard the door close behind him, he crumbled to the floor and cried with his hand over his eyes.

He was lonely and scared. He felt as if he was enveloped by darkness and depression. He felt like a living corpse.

While he cried silently in his room, Huo Sanyan was also crying outside the door.

They were both broken by the recent event.

After sobbing for a while, Huo Sanyan went downstairs.

She then called Jing Xi. Jing Xi was her last hope of mending the situation.

Jing Xi rushed to Ye Manor the moment she heard what had happened and saw Huo Sanyan sitting alone in the living room.

"How's the situation?" Jing Xi asked.

Huo Sanyan only shook her head. She'd been sitting on the couch after calling Jing Xi.

"Wait here. I'll go check," Jing Xi said as she patted Huo Sanyan's shoulder.

Jing Xi pushed open the door to the master bedroom and found Ye Xun sitting on the floor.

Chapter 1897: Was Really Worried About Him

Ye Xun's back was filled with grievance. The empty sleeve left behind by the amputated left hand was trembling slightly.

Jing Xi felt a deep choking in her heart and she also really wanted to cry. However, she needed to endure the sadness. She walked over and said, "Ye Xun! Are you well?"

She came over beside him and knelt down gently, gazing at his drooping face.

"Go away! All of you go away! Get out!"

Ye Xun didn't look at her and only just waved his hand to ask her to leave.

Jing Xi's body leaned back and fell down on the floor. She put her hands on the floor to support herself to get up. After she got up, she said, "Ye Xun! Can you face reality? I know you definitely find it hard to accept your current state! You are upset, but so are we. I hope you don't abandon yourself to despair. Can you please pull yourself together?"

Ye Xun couldn't take any of it in at all. His entire body was possessed by a vicious and murderous spirit, sending a warning for all strangers to not come close. "Get out..."

His growl showed obvious helplessness and fragileness.

“What's the point of you trying to run away from this? Can you be defeated just by losing an arm? Ye Xun! You need to think about how many people are waiting for you! It wasn't easy for you and Sanyan to come this far. Are you willing to continue to let her be hurt?” Jing Xi roared back at him.

“Stop talking! Get out! Didn't you hear me?!”

Ye Xun got up from the floor and glanced fiercely at Jing Xi, wanting to force her out of the bedroom.

“Ye Xun! You should calm down!”

“I am not this Ye Xun! I don't know what you are talking about! I don't want to hear any sound. Please get out of here!”

Ye Xun roared as he walked over, forcing her to step back.

“I asked you to leave! Why aren't you listening?!”

Ye Xun was full of hatred. He suddenly stretched out his hands to hold her neck. Jing Xi quickly retreated to the door and her back bumped into the wall.

She wouldn't have ever imagined Ye Xun would lose control of his emotions like this and do something like this that would hurt her.

Although he was holding her, his fingers didn't have any strength. After squeezing her for a while, the only thing he felt was a headache.

His heartbeat also started to get faster, his hands trembling intensely.

A cold sweat broke out on his forehead. The color on his face also looked slightly unusual.

After his whole body shook for a while, he collapsed straight down.

“Ye Xun!!!”

Huo Sanyan was downstairs and she heard Jing Xi's scream. She hurriedly ran upstairs to take a look.

She realized Ye Xun was lying on the floor and Jing Xi was currently pressing down on his chest.

She saw Huo Sanyan come and immediately ordered her, “Sanyan! Quickly call an ambulance! Ye Xun is showing symptoms of going into shock right now!”

“Okay...”

Huo Sanyan instantly started to panic. Her hands trembled as she dialed the number on her phone.

Even if Ye Xun was faking his memory loss, going into shock right now was definitely real.

Once the ambulance arrived, they sent him to the hospital. The doctor conducted an examination on Ye Xun.

The results from the examination came out not long after. The doctor said, “His injuries are recovering, but he received intense mental stimulation and shock. That's why he became violent and aggressive towards others, his heartbeat increased, his body trembled, and he broke out in a cold sweat. Right now, he needs to stay in the hospital to be observed for some time. If such a thing continues to happen, then we can confirm that he has post-traumatic stress disorder.”

When Huo Sanyan heard this, she looked at Ye Xun lying in bed, her heart full of pain. She was really worried about him.

Jing Xi asked again, “Then what about his brain? He can't remember who he is and who his friends are. Does he have amnesia?”

“Mr. Ye's brain was damaged. Amnesia is one of the sequelae. That's why the only thing that can be done is for the family to care for him and give him time to recover.”

“I understand, doctor. We will take care of him well.”

Chapter 1898: A Pain To See

The doctor left after that, leaving Jing Xi and Huo Sanyan in the hospital room with Ye Xun.

“Don't worry. Give him some time to get used to what has happened,” Jing Xi comforted as she hugged Huo Sanyan.

“Okay...” Huo Sanyan nodded.

Huo Sanyan stayed in the hospital with Ye Xun every day and took good care of him.

When Ye Xun woke up two days later, he looked around and asked, “Where am I?”

“The hospital,” Huo Sanyan replied.

Ye Xun turned around and saw Huo Sanyan's face.

“Why are you still here?” Ye Xun asked with a disdainful look.

“Where else could I be? I have to take care of you.” Huo Sanyan smiled wryly. “The doctor said you might be suffering from PTSD...”

“Who wants you to take care of me? Didn't I say I don't want to see your face ever again?” Ye Xun scolded before Huo Sanyan could even finish.

“Then who's going to take care of you? I'm your only family left...”

“I want to go home!”

“But... the doctor said you have to stay here for a couple more days...”

“I said I want to go home!” Ye Xun raised his voice.

Ye Xun was losing control again as his breathing intensified.

Seeing Ye Xun suffering, Huo Sanyan quickly called the doctor.

After checking Ye Xun's condition, the doctor was certain that Ye Xun had PTSD.

The only cure for such psychological symptoms was giving enough care for the patient. Anything that would provoke Ye Xun would only make the situation worse.

“Doctor, he's insisting on going back...,” Huo Sanyan said.

“Yeah, he can go. Just bring him back if anything happens.” The doctor nodded.

With the doctor's approval, Huo Sanyan took Ye Xun back Ye Manor.

Returning to the decorated mansion only hurt Ye Xun even more. The beautiful house was a pain for Ye Xun to see.

He started pulling down all the decorations he passed by. And when he returned to the main bedroom, the red-themed design angered him.

He took a stool and started to trash everything apart.

He was sure that he could not marry Huo Sanyan anymore.

Sure that he could not give her happiness.

He wanted her to leave him so that she could find a better person to be with, not a disabled person like he was.

Huo Sanyan only stood next to the door quietly as she watched Ye Xun pull down the decorations she had put up. It hurt her, but she endured it.

Ye Xun almost destroyed the whole room as he stood in the middle of the chaos.

He then turned to the wardrobe and opened it, only to see Huo Sanyan's clothes in it too. He took them out and threw them at Huo Sanyan.

“Take them all away! I want you out from here in half an hour!”

Ye Xun's roar woke Huo Sanyan up from sadness. She quickly picked her stuff up and ran to the guest room.

A few minutes later, Huo Sanyan heard a bang on the door.

“Hey! Are you done? Hurry up and leave!” Ye Xun's voice could be heard from the other side of the door.

Huo Sanyan wiped her tears away and started to pack.

Chapter 1899: Gave The Word To Expel Her

She opened the door and dragged her luggage in front of him. It was only after this that Ye Xun stopped shouting.

Huo Sanyan's heart was filled with grievances. However, she didn't dare to say anything. She didn't even have the courage to shout back at him as she was really afraid it might aggravate him.

While being stared at by his cold gaze, she carried her luggage downstairs.

When she had almost arrived downstairs, Ye Xun stood upstairs and looked at her from up high.

She turned back to look at him and thought in her heart, how good would it be if he suddenly asked her to stay.

But he didn't!

He finally opened his mouth. His voice sounded distant as if he were the grim reaper giving out judgment.

“You! You are Huo Sanyan, right!? From today onwards, you are not allowed to take even one step into Ye Residence! I don't care what our previous relationship was. From today onwards, our relations will be cut and we are completely unrelated to each other! Quickly leave!”

Huo Sanyan was deeply affected after she heard this. It felt as though there was a split in her heart. Her body swayed and she felt so sad that she almost fainted.

Ye Xun wanted to completely part ways with her!

Where did the Prince Ye who loved her go?

He already gave the word to expel her so Huo Sanyan had no choice but to painfully leave the Ye Residence for now. A gust of cold wind blew in when the door opened, bringing in some fallen leaves.

The sky outside was gloomy with thunder and lightning above. It looked like heavy rain was about to come.

A 'thump' sounded out behind her as he slammed the door, dividing her and Ye Xun into two different worlds.

She thought about how much she'd prepared recently so that she could marry him.

She didn't even have the time to tell him what she looked like when she put on her wedding dress.

She didn't even have the time to tell him how astonished she was when she saw the ring.

She didn't even have the time to say, Ye Xun, you are about to become a father!

Right now, everything was destroyed!

Happiness was clearly already within reach but, within the blink of an eye, all of it had turned into nothing.

The man she deeply loved chased her out the door. However, where could she go? She didn't want to go anywhere. She only wanted to be where he was!

Huo Sanyan didn't go anywhere. Instead, she leaned on the wall and sat down, helplessly hugging her knees.

The heart of the woman outside was in pain but the pain felt by the man in the house was thousands of times more intense.

Chasing the woman he deeply loved out with his own hands felt as though he used a knife to stab his own heart. So deep and so painful.

He really didn't want to hurt her!

He did it with good intentions. He hoped to use his own sickness to chase Huo Sanyan away!

How was a person like him who was missing a limb and also mentally ill supposed to take care of her in the future?

Ye Xun thought that as long as he could chase Huo Sanyan away, she would definitely drive away to another place.

She could go back to live in Mantingfang Garden and could also go to the palace to find her family.

However, even after waiting for a long time, he didn't hear the engine turn on. He also didn't hear the wheels of the luggage. Could it be she hadn't left?

The front door opened once again and Huo Sanyan immediately lifted up her head. The moment she saw him appear, traces of little bits of happiness appeared in her heart.

Did he come out to look for her?

However, his next sentence let her know she was overthinking again.

“Why haven't you left?” Ye Xun questioned sternly.

“It is about to rain!”

Huo Sanyan stood up and pointed at the weather outside. She found a really bad excuse to try to stay.

Ye Xun went in again and came out again after a while. He held an umbrella in his hand and he handed it to her. “Take it! Quickly leave!”

Could it be that Huo Sanyan wouldn't even be able to use her last excuse?

She saw him placing his hand on his waist, aggressively inspecting her actions. Huo Sanyan had no choice but to continue to pretend. She walked out while dragging her luggage.

Chapter 1900: Ignore It

Ye Xun noticed Huo Sanyan had walked past her car and asked, “Aren't you going to drive?”

“My car... It's broken...” Huo Sanyan lied. “I'll come and get it tomorrow.”

Ye Xun didn't say anything and just watched Huo Sanyan leave with her suitcase.

The moment she disappeared from his sight, his heart collapsed.

He hated himself, and he punched the wall.

The rain gradually became more intense five minutes later.

Ye Xun could even hear the thunder rumbling in the near distance.

He could still remember how Huo Sanyan would cuddle up in his arms whenever there was thunder. Even though Huo Sanyan looked strong on the outside, she was a timid person.

As Ye Xun looked at the rain hitting the ground, he began to worry if Huo Sanyan was soaked by the rain.

Five minutes was not enough for Huo Sanyan to get a cab.

Just ignore it!

Ye Xun heard his voice telling himself this. He forced himself to become cold.

Didn't you give her an umbrella? At least that idiot knows how to use one, right?

Ye Xun comforted himself and chose not to care about Huo Sanyan.

He stood by the door as puddles of water gathered on the ground just outside the mansion.

He became worried again.

There was no way the umbrella could hold itself against the strong wind that was rocking the trees back and forth.

Ye Xun sighed, as he was still determined.

Just as he was about to go in, a car drove in and stopped in front of him.

Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen had come to visit.

"Why are you standing here?" Jing Xi asked when she got out of the car.

Ye Xun remained silent for a few seconds before replying, "I just chased Huo Sanyan away..."

Hearing what Ye Xun had said, Jing Xi recalled seeing someone pulling a suitcase on the roadside when they were heading towards the mansion. Since the rain was falling so hard, she did not realize the person was Huo Sanyan.

"You chased her out? In this weather? Are you out of your mind?" Jing Xi scolded.

"I just wanted her to leave me... A person like me..."

Before Ye Xun could even finish his sentence, Huo Yunshen punched him in his face and threw him to the floor.

Ye Xun lay on the floor as the rain soaked his shirt.

Jing Xi did not stop Huo Yunshen. She also agreed with his method.

Huo Yunshen had thrown his umbrella to one side. All he wanted to do was to wake up the bastard in front of him.

"What's wrong with losing an arm? You fought for our country! It should be an honor!" Huo Yunshen scolded. "You have the people's gratitude, and yet here you are, wailing like a little kid!"

Ye Xun tried to get up from the floor. But with only one arm, Ye Xun had to struggle just to climb back up.
