

Priceless Baby 1961

Chapter 1961: This Trick Was Quite Useful!

Ma Haodong threatened her and Xiao Yuqiao didn't dare to say another word. She had seen with her own eyes how Ma Haodong sorted out Li Dacheng. She knew how powerful his fists were.

She didn't want Guan Hao to get hit. She didn't want to get her colleague involved. That's why when Ma Haodong told her to get in the car, she had no choice but to listen to him.

“Guan Hao, he is my friend. I will get going now. Don't worry about me!”

After Xiao Yuqian finished saying this, the door was already closed. Ma Haodong turned on the engine and drove the car away quickly.

Once the car was on the road, he started to go faster. There weren't many cars on the road at night so Ma Haodong started speeding.

Xiao Yuqian simply couldn't stand how fast the car was going. She felt like her slow head was feeling pain from the trembling. She shouted, “Ma Haodong, can't you drive slower?”

Sigh. The moment her voice became loud, it caused the bone in her nose to tremble, causing pain.

He pretended not to hear and Xiao Yuqian was at her wit's end. She shouted at him again, “If you don't slow down, I will vomit all over you.”

This trick was quite useful!

This time, Ma Haodong was finally willing to slow down. Xiao Yuqian pressed down on her chest and she felt much better.

“It is already so late, why did you come?” Xiao Yuqian asked angrily.

“You already know it is late so why are you still with another man?” Ma Haodong questioned her back.

“I was working and I got off work at the same time as my colleague. That is very normal!”

Xiao Yuqian rolled her eyes. Talking with a little brat simply dragged down her own age and intelligence.

“What colleague? I can tell straight away he has ill-intentions towards you,” Ma Haodong said faintly.

“What ill-intentions? I didn't do anything with him. Can't I get off work at the same time as him?”

Xiao Yuqian felt completely speechless. Communicating with Ma Haodong was really too difficult. “Oh, also, Mister Ma Haodong, aren't you being a bit too controlling? I have no relations with you at all so why are you trying to interfere with my life?”

Ma Haodong turned his head to look at her. “Say that again? Do we have no relations? We already rolled around the bedsheets a few times but you still say we have no relations?”

Xiao Yuqian said, sounding upset, “So what if it happened a few times? We are both youngsters in modern society. It happening a few times doesn't mean anything. Just treat it as fun. You don't need to take it so seriously!”

Ma Haodong couldn't believe what was coming out of this woman's mouth. Was she so casual towards love?

Xiao Yuqian still wasn't done. "Also! Even if we had sex, nothing will happen between us! I won't accept someone who is younger than me, much less someone who is four years younger! I will say it frankly: I like mature and reliable men who are older than me. And you...you are completely outside of the scope I would consider. It is best if we don't waste each other's time, okay?"

These words were quite hurtful. Ma Haodong's face turned dark after he heard them and he didn't say anything for a while.

Age was a reality he could not change!

If he could, he would also wish he was born a few years earlier than her!

But there were no such things as ifs.

She was completely unaware of how long it took him to finally find the young lady who gave him that candy in the past.

Back then, that candy warmed his lonely heart.

He swore that when he grew up, he would definitely find that lady and treat her extremely well.

Unfortunately, she had already long forgotten about him.

The rest of the journey was only filled with sounds of the night wind whistling next to their ears.

The two of them entered a period of silence and neither of them spoke. Each of them was thinking about their worries.

Xiao Yuqian kept on staring out the window as the night scene sped by. She kept thinking about the endless troubles of work and it made her feel very stressed and tired.

Chapter 1962: Her Heart Tightens

Xiao Yuqian just wanted to live a simple life, where both her father and mother were living with her.

Ma Haodong finally stopped his car in front of Xiao Yuqian's home. She quickly undid the belt and left the car.

"Thank you for driving me back, but please don't come and find me ever again!" Xiao Yuqian said and ran back into her house.

Her words ruined Ma Haodong's mood. After making sure she was inside her house, he stepped on the pedal and sped down the street.

He was still young, and driving fast was one of the best ways for him to vent his anger.

He drove all the way to the highway along the shore to meet his friends for a race.

Xiao Yuqian slept the whole night soundly. She woke up early the next day and took a cab to the office. The news was on in the cab. The reporter talked about a collision on the highway just half an hour before. One of the vehicles was a supercar.

“... the supercar, car plate AXXXXX...”

Xiao Yuqian's heart tightened instantly.

That was Ma Haodong's car.

Xiao Yuqian recalled what had happened the night before and wondered if he went racing because of what she said.

Realizing that she might've been the reason he was involved in the crash, she quickly told the driver to drive her to the highway.

“Didn't you hear the news?” the cabbie asked. “There's an accident. The traffic there will be unimaginable!”

“I know one of the victims! Please! You have to take me there!” Xiao Yuqian pleaded.

The cabbie sighed and nodded.

The taxi took a U-turn and drove towards the highway. When they were near where the accident happened, the road was blocked by cops.

Xiao Yuqian could see smoke rising a few hundred meters away. It worried her even more.

She told the driver to wait for her as she ran towards the smoke.

When she reached there, she could see a few cops and ambulances by the side.

She quickly found one of the officers and asked, “Sir, where is the driver of AXXXXX?”

“Who are you?” the cop asked.

“I... I'm his girlfriend,” Xiao Yuqian lied.

“He's in critical condition. The ambulance took him to Peijing Hospital just a few minutes ago.”

After learning what might've happened to Ma Haodong, Xiao Yuqian ran back to the cab and told the driver to drive her to the hospital.

The moment she got to the hospital, she ran straight to the emergency department.

She asked the nurse in charge if there was a patient named Ma Haodong in the emergency room. To her surprise, the nurse checked and shook her head.

“Wait... What's the name of the supercar owner that was in an accident?”

The nurse told her the family name, and Xiao Yuqian realized it wasn't Ma Haodong.

Chapter 1963: Love Where One Would Pursue It With No Hesitation

Xiao Yuqian was holding her phone while she walked out of the hospital.

She wanted to make sure Ma Haodong was okay so she decided to call him.

The phone rang but no one picked up even after a few rings.

It was only when she was about to hang up that a lazy voice came from the other end. "Hello... who's this..."

The moment she heard his voice she knew for certain he was still in bed. It felt as though he'd only just opened his eyes just now. His voice sounded a bit confused.

"Ma Haodong! Where are you?"

Ma Haodong was shocked that he would actually receive a call from Xiao Yuqian and he became much more alert. He sat up in bed to take the call. "I am at home. What is it? Did you miss me so soon?"

"Piss off!"

Xiao Yuqian scolded him and then hung up the phone straight away.

He still spoke with that repulsive voice and still with that frivolous tone!

He was fine at home. The person who was in an accident wasn't him.

Once Xiao Yuqian was sure he was fine, she didn't know how to describe the complicated feelings she had. She was both happy and glad.

She had been in a constant state of worry and self-blame so when she relaxed, she felt like both her legs went soft. She had no choice but to sit and rest next to the flower bed outside the hospital.

Not even after one minute passed, her phone started to ring again. She looked down at the screen and realized it was Ma Haodong who was calling. Xiao Yuqian didn't pick up the phone and instead just hung up the call straight away.

However, he was very persistent and called again. Xiao Yuqian hung up once again.

Xiao Yuqian looked at the time and it was already past the start of her working hours. She might as well just call her company to take the day off today.

After she applied for a leave of absence, she contacted Nie Zhenglan. The two of them arranged for a time so that they could have a talk.

Right after the call ended, Ma Haodong called her again. Xiao Yuqian hung up his call without even having to think about it.

The two of them just kept on doing this. One would call and the other would hang up. In the end, Xiao Yuqian became so annoyed that she simply switched off her phone.

After she sorted out her feelings, she left the hospital and called a cab to go straight to the cafe, M.A.N. Port, where they agreed to meet.

Xiao Yuqian arrived first so she ordered a cup of coffee. She sat down and drank it slowly. Not long after, a woman wearing a mask and sunglasses finally arrived late.

“Sorry for making you wait, Qianqian.”

Nie Zhenglan took off her sunglasses and mask, showing a face with heavy makeup on.

From what Xiao Yuqian knew of Nie Zhenglan, she never put on heavy makeup. The reason why she suddenly put on such heavy makeup was mostly so that she could hide her bad complexion and her eyes that had turned red from crying.

But she was still dressed up as elegant and stylish as ever. Her grandeur temperament emitted from her bones. However, if she wasn't her good friend, she might not have believed such a woman of high social status would actually agree to stand behind a poor man.

Throughout the many years Su Jimo spent struggling in the entertainment industry, Nie Zhenglan had always been supporting him from behind the scenes. When he was at his most tired and dejected, when he couldn't even afford to eat, it was also Nie Zhenglan who supported him.

The kind of love where one would pursue it with hesitation, to the point where the notion of self disappeared. This was the kind of love Nie Zhenglan had.

In the beginning, Xiao Yuqian didn't think their relationship would last at all and also advised them to give it up. However, Nie Zhenglan was determined to be with Su Jimo. Later when Su Jimo officially debuted, the two of them secretly got married.

It was only from then on that Xiao Yuqian signed Su Jimo on. She wanted to use her abilities to make him famous. It could be considered as helping out her best friend.

In the end, she succeeded in making Su Jimo famous, helping him to become a major film star. However, it also caused Su Jimo and Nie Zhenglan's relationship to break down.

Sigh. Xiao Yuqian really didn't know if what she did was good or bad.

Chapter 1965: Quickly Go Get Her Back

“It's fine. Everything is now fine. You don't need to worry about it. Do you know Jimo lent me one million?” Xiao Yuqian said.

“I know. That's why you came to help him, right?”

“No, I swear. I definitely didn't come to advise you because of that one million,” Xiao Yuqian explained frantically.

The two women went shopping together. Nie Zhenglan had always been reluctant to spend money on herself but she shopped freely today and bought many things for herself.

Xiao Yuqian saw how Nie Zhenglan seemed like a completely different person after she divorced and she sighed in her heart.

She hoped she could live happily but she didn't want her and Su Jimo to get divorced.

After they finished shopping, the two of them then went to have lunch. Xiao Yuqian only went back to the office after lunch. She needed to go deal with Su Jimo's public relations case.

She finally finished dealing with public relations after working overtime for three days. The press conferences were also very successful.

Although Su Jimo succeeded in changing his image, this incident still left a big impact on him.

However, that didn't matter. Many people were sending their blessings to Su Jimo and his wife. They hoped he could do what he said in his confession and cherish his wife.

Xiao Yuqian said to Su Jimo in private, "Right now, the fans only know about your secret marriage and they don't know you have already divorced. Let me tell you, Su Jimo, you better take advantage of the fact that Lanlan still hasn't completely forgotten about you and quickly go get her back. You better remarry quickly, otherwise, if another scandal breaks out because of your divorce, I will smash your head in!"

"I understand." It just so happened Su Jimo's schedule was empty for the near future. He wanted to use this time to look for Nie Zhenglan and speak with her.

"Once your holiday is over, I will arrange for you to go on a show to help your fame recover," Xiao Yuqian said, giving arrangements.

"Okay, thank you."

After Su Jimo left, Xiao Yuqian received a call from the company, and they asked her to go see the company president.

Xiao Yuqian arrived at the president's office. She faced her superior and asked, "President He, you wanted to see me?"

President He gestured for her to sit down for a talk. "Have you taken care of the situation with Su Jimo?"

"Yes. It is basically done. I gave him some time off."

"That's good. The company will be assigning someone new during the time he is off. You will be responsible for managing him," President He said.

"Someone new? What kind of person is he?"

Xiao Yuqian already had a few celebrities under her management and now President He wanted to assign someone new to her. Didn't he feel her workload was a bit too much?

"He will go to see you at your office later. He is my friend's son so you need to be more meticulous," President He instructed her.

Xiao Yuqian couldn't help but roll her eyes in her heart when she found out it was another person who got in through their connections. She hated it the most when President He did this. He used his authority to casually assign new people for her to manage. However, Xiao Yuqian couldn't really say anything, as he was the boss!

"Understood. I will try my best to manage him."

After Xiao Yuqian promised him, she went back to her own office. Just as she entered, she saw there was another person in the room.

The back of his head popped up from the sofa and she knew it wasn't Su Jimo just by looking at it. When she went around to look, she jumped up in shock. It was actually Ma Haodong!

She examined him up and down and realized he'd dressed like a beggar today. His jeans were filled with holes and his clothes were also decorated with many lines. He came off as being extremely shabby.

If she didn't recognize his face, she also wouldn't believe this young master would actually be dressed like a beggar.

Feeling panicked, Xiao Yuqian lost a bit of her cool. She quickly looked outside and closed the office door. She asked, "What are you doing here?"

Chapter 1966: To Torture Her

Xiao Yuqian could not believe that Ma Haodong actually had the nerve to come looking for her at her workplace.

Ma Haodong sat on the couch with his legs crossed and smiled. "You still owe me for the hospital bills."

He was implying that he'd paid her bills and she didn't thank him in return.

"How much? I'll pay you back," Xiao Yuqian said impatiently as she stared at the face she wanted to punch.

"Oh! I'm not telling you. I'm going to put you in my debt forever."

"You're crazy!" Xiao Yuqian scolded.

Ma Haodong got up and walked towards Xiao Yuqian. Seeing him closing in, Xiao Yuqian quickly took a few steps back.

Ma Haodong just kept on walking towards her until she fell into her chair.

"Hey! This is my office! You better not have any weird ideas!"

Even though Xiao Yuqian sounded like she was giving orders, the truth was, she was trembling hard.

"Why did you call me this morning? Did you miss me?" Ma Haodong smirked.

"You wish! I just dialed the wrong number!"

"Really? Then why did I get a call saying someone that fits your description showed up near the accident site saying she was AXXXXX's owner's girlfriend?"

Ma Haodong did race the night before, but one of his friends wanted to try his supercar. They switched cars before he left.

He never expected that his friend would get himself into an accident. He'd only learned about it when the police called him and told him that his girlfriend went looking for him.

"Fine! I did go there! So what? I just wanted to see if you were dead or not!" Xiao Yuqian roared.

"Do you really want me to die?"

Ma Haodong brought his face close to Xiao Yuqian's. With his face this close, Xiao Yuqian began to have trouble breathing, as her heart was racing.

“That's right! Just go and die! You can leave now!”

Xiao Yuqian pushed Ma Haodong away and pointed at the door.

“You can't ask me to leave. This is my first day on the job here.”

Ma Haodong crossed his arms and smiled.

Xiao Yuqian could not comprehend what Ma Haodong was saying until she remembered her boss telling her that a newcomer was waiting in her office.

“Wait... Don't tell me you're the one that Mr. He told me to manage!”

“Bingo!” Ma Haodong laughed and shook her hand. “This is going to be fun!”

Xiao Yuqian was utterly shocked. She could have never foreseen Ma Haodong actually coming to work at Huayin through an introduction.

“Are you crazy? Do you think this is a race or something? A place you can come and go as you want?”

Xiao Yuqian scolded. “This is not a place for some rich kid like you.”

Xiao Yuqian thought Ma Haodong was there on a whim and that he could never handle the pressure in the acting industry,

She thought he was there just to make her life worse.

“I'm pretty serious about it. Aren't you satisfied? I'm pretty confident in my looks, you know?”

Little did Xiao Yuqian know that Ma Haodong was actually interested in acting.

He had been scouted long before that, but he declined because his father did not allow it.

But now, he took the risk of being punished by his father and stepped foot into the entertainment industry so that he could be closer to Xiao Yuqian.

Chapter 1967: Celebrated Too Early

“Stop joking around! I've seen many rich kids like you before. They simply just burn through money wanting to play. I'm sorry but if you want to play, I don't have the time to play with you!”

Xiao Yuqian wanted to get rid of his thoughts of wanting to join the entertainment industry. Moreover, she knew he was still studying at university. He hadn't even finished his studies and he wanted to become an actor? Wasn't this just nonsense?

“I'm not here for fun. I'm really serious about becoming an actor.”

Ma Haodong said it very seriously as he stared into Xiao Yuqian's eyes.

Xiao Yuqian sighed and asked suspiciously, “Do you know how to act?”

Ma Haodong suddenly lifted the corner of his lips into a smile and then quietly held her hand. He held it in the palm of his hand and said, "If you teach it to me, I will know how to do it, right?"

Xiao Yuqian felt disgusted by his clingy behavior and freed her hands. She turned around and said, "Since you decided to act, then you first need to accept the company's training and test. Whether or not I can manage you depends on your performance."

The reason Xiao Yuqian said this was because she had a hope that this high maintenance rich kid wouldn't be able to take the hardship. He might get tired even just after three days and then give up halfway and then withdraw on his own.

Ma Haodong saw that she was willing to give him a chance and he became very happy. "Okay, no problem!"

"Okay. You head back now. Once I've finished with the arrangements, I will contact you."

Xiao Yuqian wanted to chase him away but Ma Haodong wasn't willing to leave. He was finally able to see her so he wanted to spend more time with her.

He pulled out a chair and sat facing her office table. He put his hand on his chin and looked at her as she worked.

Xiao Yuqian glanced at him and asked, "Why aren't you leaving?"

Ma Haodong tapped the table with his long and pretty fingers. "I'm waiting for you to get off work so we can eat together."

"..." She was simply speechless. She had zero desire to eat with him.

Just as she started to worry she didn't have any excuses left to get rid of him, Guan Hao appeared at the office door and knocked lightly. When Xiao Yuqian lifted her head, Guan Hao said, "Yuqian, since you are here, I will let you see the progress on Su Jimo's public relations case."

Guan Hao brought the documents over and gave them to Xiao Yuqian. He realized there was a young fella sitting across from her and asked, "Who is this?"

Perhaps it was because the way Ma Haodong dressed today was worlds apart from how he dressed that night, but Guan Hao didn't recognize him at all.

Xiao Yuqian glanced at Ma Haodong and explained simply, "A new guy President He sent me."

"Oh."

Guan Hao didn't continue to ask after he found out. He didn't pay much attention as this new guy didn't look particularly special at first glance. Most of his focus was on Xiao Yuqian.

When Xiao Yuqian was looking at the documents, Guan Hao suggested, "Yuqian, this case is progressing quite well. Why don't we invite the members of the public relations department out for a group dinner tonight so we can all celebrate? What do you think?"

Xiao Yuqian also considered this before so she agreed. "Okay. I will invite everyone to dinner tonight. I'll have to trouble you to inform the others."

“No problem.” Guan Hao said goodbye and left.

After Guan Hao left, Xiao Yuqian looked at Ma Haodong, “You heard it just now. I will be having dinner with the public relations department after I get off work. I don't have time to eat with you so you should go back home!”

Ma Haodong didn't protest. He stood up straight away and Xiao Yuqian thought he accepted it and would leave on his own accord. However, she celebrated too early.

Ma Haodong went over in front of the sofa and leaned against it straight away, sitting on it comfortably. He took out his phone and started to play games.

“Hey! Why aren't you leaving yet?” Xiao Yuqian asked, feeling upset.

Chapter 1968: Completely Ignore

“I don't have classes today. Just pretend I'm not here,” Ma Haodong said.

Seeing that Ma Haodong wasn't planning to leave any time soon, Xiao Yuqian sighed and started to focus on her work.

The two of them stayed in the same room for the next few hours, and nothing much happened. Xiao Yuqian was so immersed in her job that she completely ignored Ma Haodong being in the same room with her.

Ma Haodong started playing games on his phone until he was bored. He then placed a magazine over his face and fell asleep on the couch.

Xiao Yuqian then went out for a meeting and came back. She had forgotten entirely about Ma Haodong at that point and worked hard until it was time to leave.

Guan Hao came to get her when it was almost dinner time. She closed her computer and was ready to leave.

Ma Haodong was woken up by Guan Hao's voice and sat up.

Shocked by Ma Haodong's sudden appearance, Guan Hao turned to Xiao Yuqian and asked, “Why is he still here?”

It was only then that Xiao Yuqian realized Ma Haodong had been in her office the whole time.

“Hey, can I join you guys?” Ma Haodong asked.

When Ma Haodong spoke, Guan Hao had a little déjà vu, like he'd heard the voice before.

“I'm buying dinner for the PR team, it'd be weird for you to join us,” Xiao Yuqian quickly rejected.

“Come on, isn't it a good way for me to get to know my new colleagues?” Ma Haodong smiled. “Plus, I don't have any money for food.”

Xiao Yuqian stared at Ma Haodong angrily. She found it hard to believe that the successor of a large corporation did not have money to eat.

“Hey, I ain't lying,” Ma Haodong said and pulled his empty pockets out. “Look.”

It was then that Guan Hao finally recalled Ma Haodong's voice. It was the same as the man who had hit him outside the office once.

“You!” Guan Hao roared as he grabbed Ma Haodong's collar.

“Isn't this the bastard we met at the entrance last time?” Guan Hao asked Xiao Yuqian.

“Hey! Break it up!” Xiao Yuqian quickly pulled both of them apart and turned to Guan Hao. “Come on, let's go.”

Guan Hao gritted his teeth and let Ma Haodong go since Xiao Yuqian asked him to do so. He did not forget to give Ma Haodong a dirty stare before turning away.

Ma Haodong then followed Xiao Yuqian and Guan Hao out of the office, determined to join them for dinner.

Xiao Yuqian went into Guan Hao's car, and Ma Haodong jumped into the backseat.

“Did I say you could ride in my car?” Guan Hao asked angrily.

“Just pretend that I'm not here,” Ma Haodong said, showing that he wasn't going to leave.

“Just let him be,” Xiao Yuqian said as she tried to prevent another argument. “I'll have to introduce him to everyone sooner or later anyway.”

Guan Hao didn't say anything and started his car.

They arrived at the restaurant, and everyone was waiting for them already.

The PR team was shocked when Ma Haodong showed up with Xiao Yuqian and Guan Hao. Some of them asked Xiao Yuqian who he was.

“This will be the company's newest addition, Ma Haodong,” Xiao Yuqian said.

Chapter 1969: Actual Reason Why He Was Popular

Ma Haodong...

Guan Hao heard this name and thought for a while. It seemed a bit familiar. There seemed to be a Ma Haodong amongst the four rich kids of Peijing. It was said he was the heir to the Rongma Group. He was a well-mannered and proper son of a rich family. However, how could the shabbily dressed young man in front of him be the same person as him?

There were also others who knew of Ma Haodong's name. They asked in shock, “Wow. Young man, are you Ma Hangcheng, the chairman of the Rongma Group, son?”

Ma Haodong smiled, which was basically confirming it.

After everyone knew who he was, they all looked at him with different eyes. Moreover, some of their colleagues started acting friendly with him.

Guan Hao saw everyone was very friendly with Ma Haodong and he really couldn't figure out why. Couldn't they see Ma Haodong as an ignorant and stupid spoiled rich boy?

Moreover, he heard he was introduced into the company and that meant he definitely came in through the backdoor. What was so good about such a useless spoiled rich kid?

Guan Hao might not know this but the actual reason why Ma Haodong was popular was because of his background. Who wouldn't want to build a good relationship with the heir to a major company?

And so, this group dinner seemed to have turned into a welcoming party for Ma Haodong.

After the dinner ended, Guan Hao wanted to use this chance to ask Xiao Yuqian to go see a movie. Ma Haodong was following him and he heard Guan Hao's plan. He intentionally said, "Miss Xiao, shouldn't you bring me to the new apartment so that I can get familiar with the environment?"

The contract did state that proper accommodation would be provided for newcomers. Moreover, this big shot Ma Haodong definitely knew their company's president so the benefits provided would definitely be good.

However, she was already off the clock right now so Xiao Yuqian didn't have the responsibility to go with him. "It is already after work hours. Moreover, it is already very late."

Guan Hao helped her by speaking up, "That's right. It is already after hours right now and it is her private time. If you want to go look at the apartment, you can wait until tomorrow and we will see about it."

Very good!

The two of them actually teamed up to get rid of him. Ma Haodong saw through it but he still did not admit defeat.

He took out his phone and swayed it in front of Xiao Yuqian and said, "Then wouldn't I have nowhere to sleep tonight? I would have no choice but to wander the streets? If by some chance my phone gets stolen and the videos and personal messages were maliciously leaked, what would I do?"

Guan Hao definitely didn't understand what Ma Haodong meant when he said this, but Xiao Yuqian understood it clearly.

This fella was hinting that he still had those shameful things on his phone. Could it be that he still had those inappropriate videos he recorded?

When Xiao Yuqian thought of this, she felt uncomfortable all over.

He had her in the palm of his hand. Really, sigh... she really didn't know how to express it.

In order to protect her image, Xiao Yuqian had no choice but to suddenly reject Guan Hao. "Forget it, why don't we do this. Guan Hao, you head back now and I will go look at the apartment with him. In any case, he was hand-picked by President He. If I neglect him, it would be hard for me to explain myself to President He."

Guan Hao could understand her predicament but he was really worried that brat would treat Xiao Yuqian badly. He said kind-heartedly, "Why don't I go with you?"

Ma Haodong had no intention of Guan Hao becoming their third wheel and rejected him straight away. "Miss Xiao, I don't want to be followed by an unrelated person."

Xiao Yuqian had no choice but to say, "Guan Hao, you don't need to come with me. I will be fine."

Guan Hao stared unkindly at Ma Haodong and then said to Xiao Yuqian, "Okay then. Keep in touch."

After Guan Hao drove away, Xiao Yutian cast a glance at Ma Haodong and said angrily, "Is that enough? Happy now? Aren't you going yet, young master?"

Chapter 1970: One Of A Kind

Ma Haodong smiled but didn't say anything. He then grabbed Xiao Yuqian's hand and guided her away from the restaurant.

"Hey! Where are you taking me?" Xiao Yuqian scolded as she pulled her hand back.

Ma Haodong stopped and pulled a set of car keys out. He pushed the button on it and unlocked a car near them.

Xiao Yuqian turned and saw her previous car sitting not far from her.

She turned to Ma Haodong like she'd seen a ghost and asked, "Why... Why is my car here?"

"That? That's my car now."

Ma Haodong smiled and pulled open the shotgun door for Xiao Yuqian.

Xiao Yuqian finally realized what had happened after she got into the car.

The one who had bought her car for the full amount without requesting anything was Ma Haodong.

He'd spent quite a small fortune to help her save her father.

Xiao Yuqian was touched by what he did for her.

"Why? Why did you do it?"

Ma Haodong helped buckle her up and said, "Would you believe me if I said I'm repaying a debt?"

"What debt?"

Xiao Yuqian could not recall meeting Ma Haodong before.

"You might've forgotten it because it happened quite a long time ago," Ma Haodong started to explain.

"I was held prisoner under the Five Elements Mountain 500 years ago, and a woman with a sacred sword walked past it..."

Realizing that Ma Haodong was playing with her, her face turned red.

"Oh! Shut up! You think you're a monkey? No, no, even monkeys are better than you," Xiao Yuqian scolded. [1]

"Fine, fine," Ma Haodong sighed. "It was a long time ago when I was lonely, you gave me candy. I've always remembered you from that time onwards."

“Yeah, whatever. Just drive,” Xiao Yuqian said, thinking that Ma Haodong was making things up again.

“That's the truth.”

“Uh-huh.”

Xiao Yuqian still thought that Ma Haodong was joking. The memory of her giving that candy to him was already long gone from her mind.

“Wait, do you know where the place the company set you up at is?” Xiao Yuqian asked.

Since she hadn't seen the contract yet, she had no idea where it was.

“Yup.” Ma Haodong nodded.

In the end, the car stopped at a lake facing mansion located in the affluent area next to Jade Lake.

“This is the place?”

“How is it? Not bad, right?”

Not bad? Xiao Yuqian cursed silently. This is unheard of!

The only explanation Xiao Yuqian could find was that her boss and Ma Hangcheng were really close. Or else there was no way the company would arrange for Ma Haodong to stay at such a luxurious mansion.

What she didn't know was that the mansion was actually Ma Haodong's to begin with.

He got it from his father for his 18th birthday, and it would serve as his home if he got married in the future.

But now, Ma Haodong chose to stay there with someone else.

He opened the door, and the lights lit up automatically.

“After you, Miss Xiao.”
