

Priceless Baby 831

Chapter 831: Vicious Siblings

Even though Mo Yutian seemed refined and polite, his sister was utterly indescribable.

But when Xu Xiyan thought about it, it made sense if Lan Ling'er was introduced to the drama by Tianyu Group.

"Do you know that your sister almost..."

Xu Xiyan wanted to tell Mo Yutian what his sister was trying to do.

But it was as if Mo Yutian had known everything from the beginning and said, "I know, I know it's her fault. I'll properly educate her after this. You may leave now."

Mo Yutian had already got someone to get Xu Xiyan new clothes.

"I can't promise you that Huo Yunshen will not take action after he learns about what Lan Ling'er did," Xu Xiyan said as she thought about what Lan Ling'er was about to do to her and decided she could not forgive her.

"Well, if anything happens to my sister, your grandfather will go down with her."

"You dare threaten me with my grandfather?"

"Jing Xi, I'm really sorry, but I still have to protect her," Mo Yutian said. The order he gave to his man was to go and kidnap Jing Huaduo right away.

"Don't worry, as long as nothing happens to my sister, your grandfather won't be in any danger," Mo Yutian continued. "But if anything happens to her, then I don't know what actions I'm going to take either."

Mo Yutian was ready to turn to his darkest side just to protect his sister.

Xu Xiyan could only nod helplessly. The two vicious siblings had already won.

"You only have ten minutes before the drug retakes its effect. You should get changed and leave," Mo Yutian said and left.

The antidote would only suppress the drug for ten minutes, and it would take over her body again after that.

Mo Yutian wasn't sure that he could still control himself if Xu Xiyan was taken over by the drug again.

When Xu Xiyan got out of the room after she changed, she noticed Lan Ling'er was standing next to Mo Yutian and was staring at her intensely.

Xu Xiyan did not stop and went straight for the gate when she saw an army was charging into the mansion.

They were all led by Yi Xiao and Ye Xun, and they took down the guards outside in an instant.

Helicopters could also be heard from above. Xu Xiyan raised her head and saw four or five helicopters circling above the mansion.

“You have been surrounded!” a voice shouted from one of the helicopters' speaker. “Hand over Jing Xi, or we will kill everyone inside!”

One of the helicopters tried to land, and Xu Xiyan noticed a man with a rifle was sitting in the cockpit.

“Huo Yunshen! I'm here!” Xu Xiyan shouted as she ran towards the helicopter. “Huo Yunshen...”

The man noticed Xu Xiyan and ordered his pilot to land.

As soon as it landed, Huo Yunshen jumped off the helicopter and ran towards Xu Xiyan.

“Jing Xi...”

“Hubby...”

Xu Xiyan ran into his arms, and they hugged each other tightly.

“Are you okay? Did they hurt you?”

“No... Let's leave.”

Xu Xiyan just wanted to leave as soon as possible.

But Huo Yunshen had already noticed Mo Yutian standing at the door.

“Is Lan Ling'er with Mo Yutian? I'm not letting them off the hook today!”

Chapter 832: Must Not Act Rashly

Huo Yunshen had come with his men. He had enough men to flatten this villa and also blow it out of existence.

“Lan Ling-Er is Mo Yutian's sister. We can't take action now. My grandfather is still in their hands,” Xu Xiyan said anxiously. She didn't want anything to happen to her grandfather again.

“These sinister people!” Huo Yunshen cursed, despising Mo Yutian's various underhanded tricks.

If Jing Huaduo was in their hands, he must not act rashly.

After Ye Xun and Yi Xiao came over, Huo Yunshen could only give the command, “Pass the order down, everyone is to retreat!”

Ye Xun was not reconciled. “Boss, they bullied Little Xixi, we can't just let them get away with it. We have enough men today. We should just raze this place to the ground and wipe them all out!”

Yi Xiao also agreed.

However, Huo Yunshen furrowed his brow deeply and told him, “Immediately contact the Renjing Chinese Medicine Hall and see whether Mr. Jing is in.”

He should at least confirm whether it was true that Jing Huaduo had been taken away by Mo Yutian's men.

After Ye Xun contacted them, he answered Huo Yunshen. "They said that the old man was taken away by a group of strange men."

That meant he had fallen into Mo Yutian's hands. Huo Yunshen immediately ordered, "Jing Xi's grandfather is in their hands. Before he is rescued, nobody is to act rashly. Pass the order down and call for immediate retreat."

After giving the order, Ye Xun and Yi Xiao led their men back where they had come from. Xu Xiyan followed Huo Yunshen and they got onto the helicopter.

Mo Yutian stood at the door and watched them leave, undaunted.

Behind, Lan Ling-Er peeked her head out and saw them taking Jing Xi away. Wrinkling her nose in disdain, she despised her inwardly: This time, Jing Xi is lucky. Next time, we shall see who is going to come and save her!

The helicopter turned into a black dot in the sky and disappeared. Mo Yutian turned his gaze away from it and looked at Lan Ling-Er. His eyes were dark as he reprimanded her, "Next time, don't do such nonsense like this anymore. You should think more about the consequences of your actions!"

Lan Ling-Er felt unhappy after being criticized by her brother. She took his arm and said ingratiatingly to him, "Oh, Brother, you don't even love me anymore now and you've criticized me just because of a woman. But I'm your sister! I won't allow you to criticize me on behalf of an outsider in the future!"

"I won't as long as you don't do anything outrageous!"

"What have I done that is outrageous? All of the things I've done are for you, Brother!"

"Sigh, I don't want you to help me. I only want you to stay out of trouble."

Mo Yutian was truly at his wit's end with his sister.

Now that his sister had grown up, he was becoming less and less understanding of her. He always felt that she had become a different person than her childhood self.

In fact, Lan Ling-Er's overreliance on her brother had made her become possessive of him.

She believed that Mo Yutian should only be her brother alone, and he should only love her alone forever. She didn't want any woman to take him away from her.

Therefore, when she learned that her brother had come to Zstan to expand his business for a woman, she could not accept it.

She would do everything she could to get rid of the woman who had captured her brother's heart.

This was the real reason why she had given up her comfortable life in Estan and come over to Zstan to participate in the drama, "The Beauty of the World."

The helicopter flew back to where it came from.

In the cabin, Huo Yunshen held Xu Xiyan in his arms. He carefully examined her arm for wounds, checking whether she had been abused.

"I told you, I'm fine. They didn't hurt me."

Xu Xiyan sat on the man's lap, her thick eyelashes drooping down as she gazed down at the man's well-defined nose and his thin and sexy lips.

Fortunately, she was not hurt. If she was, he wondered if he might have razed that place to the ground in his fury.

Chapter 833: Pay For All

"That Blue Elf! She'll feel my wraith one day!" Huo Yunshen cursed. [1]

Huo Yunshen had already heard of the incident in the morning from Fang Xiaocheng.

How dare she act so arrogant just after she arrived at Zstan! She's just signing her own death warrant!

Yet, while Huo Yunshen was furious at what Lan Ling'er had done, Xu Xiyan was amused by the nickname Huo Yunshen gave her.

"Her name is Lan Ling'er, and she's Mo Yutian's little sister," Xu Xiyan explained.

"Mo Yutian! I'm never letting him off the hook. I'll have him pay for all that he's done one day!"

Both Mo Yutian and Lan Ling'er were included in Huo Yunshen's To-Kill list.

"I'm sorry for having you worry about me all the time..." Xu Xiyan said as she tried to calm him down.

Because of her, Huo Yunshen was faced with all sorts of trouble.

"I'm the one who should apologize," Huo Yunshen said. "You're my wife, and protecting you is my responsibility."

Huo Yunshen took her little hand and rested it on his chest while he looked at her.

Yet Xu Xiyan started to feel hot as she looked at his perfect facial features and body.

The top three buttons of his button-down shirt were unbuttoned, and his chiseled chest could be seen.

It was seducing Xu Xiyan.

Xu Xiyan could feel an itch in her heart as the heat that she had suppressed down spread throughout her body once again.

She knew it was the drug.

"Hubby..."

The way Xu Xiyan looked at Huo Yunshen changed.

"Yes?"

Huo Yunshen hugged her as his warm body heated her up even more.

While hugging her tightly, Huo Yunshen used his nose to poke her in the head, trying to calm her down.

Yet the position they were in only made it worse for Xu Xiyan as she could not hold it in any longer.

As the heat continued to rise, an indescribable craving surfaced in Xu Xiyan's heart. It made her want to push her husband down onto the couch, and yet she did not want to do it in the helicopter.

She could only bite her lips and hold back her lust.

As the helicopter flew over the Jade Lake, Xu Xiyan said, "Let's go to the Qingyun Residence."

Huo Yunshen raised his head and noticed Xu Xiyan was blushing intensely while her forehead was drenched in sweat.

Her lips almost bled from biting on them excessively.

"What's wrong? Did you catch a cold?"

He tried to put his hand on her forehead, but she avoided it.

"I think so..."

More like she just gave herself over to lust.

Chapter 834: At Her Limits

Huo Yunshen felt that her body temperature was terribly high. Her body was hot and scorching.

But as he saw her restless behavior, Huo Yunshen quickly realized something. "Have you been drugged?"

Her various behaviors showed that she was indeed drugged.

Xu Xiyan was at her limits and felt terribly uncomfortable all over. Her heart especially felt as though there were countless ants biting her; it was so intolerable that she felt like stripping herself naked.

She slid off him and nestled herself in Huo Yunshen's arms, resting her head on his shoulder, biting him on his shoulder whenever she could not stand it.

Huo Yunshen was also starting to become restless by her actions. He quickly ordered the helicopter pilot to land at the Qingyun Residence.

Here was the nearest lodging. Upon landing, Huo Yunshen carried Xu Xiyan off the helicopter and headed towards the Qingyun Residence.

As soon he entered through the door, Xu Xiyan could no longer restrain herself. She pressed her scorching body against his and hugged him, clinging onto him tightly.

It was much more comfortable to hug the man's cool body, but she still wanted more.

Just as she turned her head up, Huo Yunshen had lowered his, kissing her.

In that instant, passion ignited between them like a great flame, sparked by the kiss.

At night, under the influence of the drug, Xu Xiyan was full of ardor. Basking under the moonlight, she let herself go, bringing out her charming side.

She could not remember how many times she had wanted him this night. She only knew that whenever the emptiness in her came back, again and again, her man would fill it again and again.

The man did everything he could to satisfy her, to comfort her, letting her experience the ultimate joy of being a woman.

They spent three days in deep intimacy at the Qingyun Residence. When Xu Xiyan and Huo Yunshen were leaving the Qingyun Residence, it was already three days later.

Their friends were relieved when they saw that they were back.

Xu Xiyan needed to return to the studios for her shoot. Huo Yunshen had arranged several well-trained bodyguards for her to accompany and protect her at all times.

As for Xu Xiyan's grandfather, Huo Yunshen would dispatch his men to investigate his whereabouts in secret and attempt to save the elderly man.

It was raining.

Xu Xiyan returned to the studio. She met Lan Ling-Er.

Lan Ling-Er was nobly dressed and her mannerisms elegant. Though she had the face of an angel, her smile was not present in her eyes. She looked proud and as though she had nothing to fear.

"My, my, Jing Xi, you've finally shown up today. You're really such a big shot for making me halt my shoot and wait for you for three days. How could you not feel shameless?"

She's asking her about shamelessness now?

If she hadn't drugged her, why would she want to delay three days of precious time for no reason?

Xu Xiyan did not answer. Instead, she reached out to grab her wrist and yanked her arm back.

"Aaaah!" Lan Ling-Er screamed. Her bodyguards took out their guns; Xu Xiyan's bodyguards did the same too. Bodyguards of both sides stood opposite each other, none willing to back down.

She really felt like breaking her arm but she didn't want to spill blood in the studio. Therefore, she could only give her some words of warning.

"Here's my advice to you: You better not be provoking me. My patience is limited."

Xu Xiyan released Lan Ling-Er's hand viciously and left with her bodyguards.

Lan Ling-Er rubbed her pained wrist while glaring back at Jing Xi and said hatefully, "Hmph! Don't be so happy yet, bitch! Just wait and see!"

The unpleasant scene of the two women was caught by a pair of eyes.

Yang Wenxue noticed that the new first female lead actor seemed very unfriendly towards Jing Xi.

Very good. Wasn't there a saying that goes: The enemy of your enemy is your friend?

So that meant Miss Lan Ling-Er was her friend now.

As long as she quietly waited for an opportunity to stir up trouble between the two, she could definitely worsen their relationship.

This way, wouldn't she be able to reap the spoils without lifting a finger?

Chapter 835: She Would Be in Trouble

Excited by the thought, Yang Wenxue smiled and walked towards Jing Xi.

"Jing Xi, you're finally here. Are you okay?" Yang Xuewen asked when they entered the dressing room.

"I'm fine," Xu Xiyao replied and shook her head.

"That's good. Please take good care of your body," Yang Xuewen said and took something out from behind her. "This is a protective pillow that my mother made. You can rest on this when you feel tired. The cassia seeds in it are also good for your eyes too."

"I can't accept such a gift. You should keep it for yourself." Xu Xiyao rejected the gift as soon as she heard that it was made by Yang Xuewen's mother. "Your mother sure is good at making things."

"Thank you. Then I'll ask my mum to make one for you when she's free," Yang Xuewen said as she secretly rolled her eyes. "Oh, I noticed that Lan Ling'er is giving you all sorts of trouble, will you be all right?"

"It's nothing."

"Seriously, there's a limit to how arrogant a foreigner can be in our country. If Mr. Huo knows about it, she will be in deep trouble."

Xu Xiyao did not want to talk about it further and said, "I have to get changed now. See you later."

"Okay."

With her makeup on, Xu Xiyao got up and left.

Yang Xuewen stood behind Xu Xiyao and waited until she left before she lost the smile on her face and replaced it with hatred.

Only with a plan to force Xu Xiyao out of the studio could she take her revenge on her.

She had to come up with an excuse to get Xu Xiyao out of Beijing.

Yang Qiong felt that she had to look for her sponsor for her plan to work. The person had political power and was in charge of the cultural department.

Xu Xiyao looked for the person in charge of costumes and was handed a light blue Chinese dress. Wan Dou came over and took the dress.

"This is so pretty!" Wan Dou exclaimed. "You'll definitely look like an angel if you wear this!"

Just as Xu Xiyan was about to try the dress on, it was snatched away.

Wan Dou turned and noticed that the dress was taken away by Lan Ling'er's assistant, Sha Labi.

"Hey, give that back!" Wan Dou scolded

"Oh, I'm sorry, but Miss Lan wants this dress!"

"Is there something wrong with her? She's the main actress here, why does she even want the dress of the second lead?" Wan Dou asked.

"Who cares? As long as she wants it, she will get it!"

As Wan Dou wanted to continue to argue, Xu Xiyan pulled her back and stopped her with a look.

Sha Labi thought that Xu Xiyan was afraid of Lan Ling'er and took the dress away happily.

"This is going far enough!" Wan Dou scolded after Sha Labi had left. "Who does Lan Ling'er think she is? The president's daughter?"

Wan Dou would've launched herself at Sha Labi if Xu Xiyan had not held her back in time.

"All right, calm down," Xu Xiyan said "Can you help me get two drinks? Get yourself one too."

Chapter 836: About To Lose Her Mind

Xu Xiyan loved Wandou like a little sister next door; she didn't want her to be upset over her affairs.

She gave her some money but Wandou refused. "It's alright, the drinks are not that expensive. I'll go buy them now."

"It's raining outside. Remember to take an umbrella and do be careful on the road," Xu Xiyan said.

"I know. I'm going to wear a raincoat."

Wandou decided to use the production crew's scooter; it would save more time.

Wandou quickly bought the drinks and rode the scooter back. As she was riding over a pool of water, a flashy sports car suddenly sped past, sending up a large spray of water with its wheels, splashing dirty water all over Wandou's face and body.

What the fk! Why drive so fast during a rainy day!? Is he so eager to reincarnate himself?

Wandou was dirty all over. Furious, she chased after the car on her little scooter.

There was an intersection in front and the sports car stopped at the red light. Wandou got off her scooter and ran up to knock on the window of the car.

The window of the driver's side rolled down and a handsome face appeared, cold and sharp as a knife. But the driver was wearing a huge pair of sunglasses, and Wandou could not recognize who he was.

Wandou asked angrily, "Hey, is that how you drive? You've splashed muddy water all over me and yet you didn't bother to apologize. Do you even have morals?"

After Wandou ranted noisily, the man inside the car did not even look at her, as if her words did not reach his ears. He directly took out a pink banknote from his wallet and handed it over to her.

Wandou was dumbfounded at the sight of the banknotes. What's the meaning of this?

Does he think that she is a beggar?

At this moment, Wandou just happened to notice the earphones in the man's ears. No wonder he did not hear her.

She did not take the money, and decided to take off the man's earphones. Just as her hand reached into the car, the man caught her hand.

Then...

Wandou glared incredulously at the man as he took out a signing pen and signed his name on her arm with flourishing strokes.

Damn it, does he think that he is a big star? Signing autographs on whoever he sees?

At the same time that the man pushed her hand away after signing on it, he turned to look at her with an emotionless look on his face.

Wandou saw her own wretched self on his big and reflective sunglasses.

The traffic light turned green. The car window rolled up and the car sped off like the wind, sending up a spray of water again, soaking her skirt.

F*cking son of a—

Wandou stood in the middle of the road. She was about to lose her mind.

God damn it, I'll curse you! I curse you to break up with your girlfriend today! If you have no girlfriend, I curse you 10,000 years of singlehood!

Wandou returned to the studio, drenched all over. She brought the drinks in and saw her lady boss talking with a man.

That man... She took a closer look. Wasn't he the man who drove his car like a low-bred?

Xu Xiyan noticed that Wandou had returned and paused her conversation with that man—she was soaked all over. She asked, astonished, “My God, did you swim to the store to buy the drinks?”

Wandou put down the drinks and wiped water off her face. She explained, “The rain was too heavy!”

“Go and change your clothes now. Don't catch a cold. There are clean clothes and towels in my locker,” Xu Xiyan told her.

“Okay!”

As Wandou walked away, she glared at the man hatefully.

If it wasn't for him, she wouldn't be this miserable, okay?

Mu Chenguang was puzzled by the girl's glare. He raised his eyebrows, asking, "Who is that girl?"

"My little assistant, Wandou. What's up? You fancy my little assistant?" Xu Xiyao jested.

She knew Mu Chenguang's character. Whenever he was to meet someone for the first time and while he was still unfamiliar with him or her, he would keep up his aloofness and pretend to be a reserved person, distancing himself, utterly caring for nobody.

Chapter 837: Off the Script

"No, I just want to know why she's staring at me angrily," Mu Chenguang said.

It was something absurd for him as every girl who met him would be charmed by his cool looks.

They would shriek or even faint from meeting him, but none would stare at him angrily.

"I think you're just overthinking it," Xu Xiyao said. "I'll talk to her once she gets back."

Xu Xiyao thought that Wan Dou was just being protective from meeting someone new.

Wan Dou came back with a new set of clothes. The simple white skirt elevated her pure and simple look.

"Wan Dou, come here!"

Wan Dou was trying to avoid Mu Chenguang but was called over by Xu Xiyao.

"Let me introduce you. This is Mu Chenguang, the second male lead for the drama," Xu Xiyao said. "I'll have a fighting scene with him later. Oh, you can just call him Brother Mu in the future."

"What? He's... Mu Chenguang?"

Wan Dou was frozen in place, her mouth was wide open. The Mu Chenguang she had in mind was a gentleman.

Mu Chenguang left a sunshine man impression in the music videos and was definitely not the cool and uneducated man that Wan Dou knew.

With Wan Dou all stunned up, Xu Xiyao continued, "Didn't you always say that he is your idol? Hurry up and introduce yourself. I can even get you his autograph."

"What's the matter? Do I look different?" Mu Chenguang asked, noticing that the girl in the dirty clothes looked really pretty after getting changed.

Mu Chenguang took off his sunglasses and revealed his face that had been perfectly curated by God. He believed that the girl would run towards him as soon as she saw his face.

But it did not happen.

Wan Dou was completely disappointed with her idol.

Her idol would never speed in the rain.

Her idol would always apologize after splashing someone.

Wan Dou did not greet Mu Chenguang but let out a forced smile instead.

“I'll take my leave now, I still have work to do,” Wan Dou said.

Mu Chenguang looked as Wan Dou left, not knowing where to put his pride, as things did not go according to his plan.

Is she trying to get my attention? Mu Chenguang guessed.

If Wan Dou knew what Mu Chenguang was thinking at that moment, she would've just slapped him up.

With Mu Chenguang officially joining the cast, he went and had his makeup put on.

Xu Xiyan had already begun filming her scene with Lan Ling'er.

Ever since Lan Ling'er joined the roster, the whole story had changed from the original “Yun Qingchen protecting her king” storyline to “Yun Qingchen protecting the empire.”

Lan Ling'er played a beauty from a foreign country and tried to charm the emperor with her looks.

As the emperor's favorite concubine, there was no way Yun Qingge would allow another woman to appear at his side.

The first thing she had to do was to get rid of the newcomer.

It was during a dinner party that Yun Qingge first came face to face with the foreign beauty.

Lan Ling'er had a thin cloth covering her mouth as she danced, attracting the attention of the emperor.

Just as she was trying to continue with the script, she felt an itch on her back..

Chapter 838: Felt Like Dying Of Embarrassment

Originally, she had planned to endure it and strive to pass this take, but it was getting more and more itchy, so much so that she even forgot her dance routine. She could only stop and reach out an arm to scratch her back.

The director noticed that she had interrupted the performance and asked, “What's going on?”

“It's okay, Director. One more time, please.”

Lan Ling-Er had never encountered such an awkward situation before, but fortunately, the itch was temporary.

At the second take, the same thing happened again. The shoot was interrupted halfway through and everyone was watching her scratch herself like a monkey.

If this went on, everyone was going to feel an itch—to laugh.

Many people were snickering. The director said, “Did you not take a bath? Go to bathe yourself now and don't make all of us wait for you.”

Lan Ling-Er felt like dying of embarrassment. If the director had asked her whether she had taken a bath, was he implying that she was unhygienic?

She had no idea what was going on. The itch came and went whenever it wanted. Now she no longer felt itchy, so she resumed her shoot.

Unfortunately, the third, the fourth... up to the tenth take, almost the same thing happened, interrupting the shoot.

Lan Ling-Er's body felt very itchy, so itchy that she could feel it in her heart too. She had no choice but to stop shooting entirely.

Back in her private resting lounge, Lan Ling-Er took off her veil. Sha Labi gasped, "My goodness! What is this?"

Lan Ling-Er turned her back at the mirror. She screamed, "Aaaaaahhh!"

Her back was originally smooth and flawless, but now because of the itch and her constant scratching, her entire back looked as though it had been ravaged by a cat and it was covered by red, worm-like scars. It was a shocking sight.

One must know that the body part she was most proud of was her beautiful back.

Whenever she had to attend an event, she would always wear a halter dress. She had even exposed her back during a commercial shoot. She once said in an interview that she was most satisfied with her beautiful back.

However, for a star with the nickname of "Angel with a Beautiful Back," it was shocking to see her back in this state now.

Lan Ling-Er's screams were so loud that they were about to break through the ceiling. Xu Xiyan, who was having her makeup touched up next door, curved her lips lightly as she heard her screams.

Wandou had to hand it to her lady boss and had to give her a thumbs up.

Originally, Wandou was still angry with Lan Ling-Er's assistant, Sha Labi, for snatching Xu Xiyan's costume. But now, thinking of Lan Ling-Er's embarrassing performance on the set and her pig-in-the-slaughterhouse scream, she felt very pleased.

No one knew that her lady boss had studied medicine with her grandfather since she was young. Clever and mischievous, she had studied some ancient books and had learned to make this curious itching powder.

At the moment when the dress was snatched away, her lady boss had sprinkled some of the itching powder on the back of the dress. As long as it made contact with the skin, this itching powder would penetrate through the skin like poison.

Once it had taken effect, she would feel itchy to the core. No doctor could cure it.

Even if the itching stopped, it would leave scars caused by the scratching. In the long run, the scars would turn into a stubborn skin disease that was difficult to cure forever.

Xu Xiyan and Wandou began to laugh wickedly. Originally, Xu Xiyan didn't want to use this little trick to deal with Lan Ling-Er, but who told that woman to be so aggressive?

She only had herself to blame!

At the end of the day's shooting, a group of people gathered for dinner.

The venue of the dinner gathering was Linxiang Restaurant, a high-end private kitchen in East City. This restaurant only accepted six tables of guests a day, and it had been fully booked until three months later.

It was not a restaurant where you could dine in as long you have the money nor reserve a table as long you have the fame; they were able to because Huo Yunshen knew the owner of the restaurant and the owner had given them an exception.

After entering the private dining room, Huang Guoqiang took the initiative to speak first. "This is all thanks to President Huo, otherwise we wouldn't have had a chance to dine in Linxiang Restaurant."

Chapter 839: The Singles are Dying

The dinner was a way of Huo Yunshen to thank Huang Guoqiang for taking Mu Chenguang in.

"This guy is a bit playful, just work him as much as you can," Huo Yunshen said.

"I'd also like to thank Director Huang for helping me. I'll do my best to learn as much as possible." Mu Chenguang stood up and bowed.

"Sure you will," Huo Yunshen scolded as he shot a chopstick at Mu Chenguang's head.

"Please take good care of me," Mu Chenguang said while laughing awkwardly.

"With Mu Chenguang joining our cast, it'll definitely hype the movie up. I should be the one thanking you," Huang Guoqiang laughed.

Since Mu Chenguang had only done music or appeared in music videos for all of his career, it would be the first movie he would be acting in.

The main reason for Huo Yunshen arranging for Mu Chenguang to join the cast was because he needed Mu Chenguang to protect Xu Xiyan while she was filming.

Not long after they started their conversation, Xu Xiyan and Qi Liya came in with Wan Dou following behind them.

As the two men noticed that their wives had arrived, they got up and pulled out their chairs for them.

Xu Xiyan sat next to Huo Yunshen, and Qi Liya sat next to Huang Guoqiang.

Wan Dou was the only one left standing.

After scanning the people with fame around her, she said, "I'll take my leave then."

"Hey, stay and eat with us," Xu Xiyan said. "It's a waste to leave here without trying their food."

Wan Dou had no choice but to sit at a seat near the door, opposite to Mu Chenguang.

Wan Dou averted her gaze as Mu Chenguang stared at her.

Intrigued by her action, Mu Chenguang hugged his arms and leaned back in his chair as he continued to stare at the girl sitting opposite him.

She had silky hair that reached her shoulders and a cute oval face with shiny red lips. Her lips were like two delicious cherries, waiting to be eaten.

This was what made Mu Chenguang continue to stare at her.

Normally, girls would've run up to him and asked for his signature, but the girl he was looking at was different.

He thought that she idolized him and was puzzled by her actions.

He wondered if Wan Dou was trying to grab his attention by doing the total opposite of other people.

Mu Chenguang couldn't help but grin at how scheming the girl was.

During the whole time they ate, Huo Yunshen and Huang Guoqiang kept showing how loving they were.

They did so many things just to impress their wives, like cooling hot soups down before giving them to their wives or peeling the shrimp before placing it on their plates.

Mu Chenguang was drowned by the affection they were showing, and he even realized the two couples were even secretly holding hands beneath the table.

He was crying in his head, jealous of them being able to love someone.

He scanned the room and suddenly fixed his gaze on the girl sitting opposite him.

He recalled his goal for the year: to find a girlfriend that he could kiss and hug every day.

Chapter 840: Her Guts Were Turning Green With Regret

Her bosses were having a conversation. Not able to join in their discussion, Wandou could only eat her meal in silence.

But the chilling gaze coming from the opposite side of the table was making her feel very uncomfortable.

She hoped that the dinner gathering would end soon so she could go home and rest early.

The dinner gathering ended. Huang Guoqiang took Qi Liya home first. Huo Yunshen and Xu Xiyao were going home together too. Mu Chenguang had his own car. Only Wandou had to take public transport home.

"It's already late and it's dangerous for a girl like you to go home alone. Wandou, why don't you hitch a ride in Mr. Mu's car!" Xu Xiyao suggested.

Wandou looked at the cold and sharp face of Mu Chenguang and felt a chill running down her back. She guessed she better not!

She was worried that she would have nightmares later after riding in his car back home.

“No, it's okay, Sister Jing Xi. I can hail a ride myself via DiDi,” Wandou refused her good intentions in time. [1]

Mu Chenguang was already sitting in the driver's seat in his car. When he heard the girl say that she refused to ride in his car, he took off his glasses incredulously and turned at her.

She refused to ride in his car?

Hmph, though he was not willing to let them, did she know how many women would jump at the chance to ride in his car?

And a little assistant like her actually turned up her nose at the chance and put up a pretense? How ridiculous!

“Boss, Lady Boss, I'm going off now!”

Mu Chenguang was particularly proud. In order to protect his male ego, he bade them farewell, started the engine and immediately drove his sports car away.

Good, Wandou could be alone again.

“You're just a girl and you still dare to hail a ride on DiDi? Didn't you see the trouble with these ridesharing apps like DiDi in the news recently?”

Xu Xiyan was thinking of her safety. She opened the door of their car and directly pushed Wandou into the passenger seat. “Alright, we'll just have to take you home on the way back.”

Wandou sat in the luxurious Rolls-Royce belonging to her boss. She couldn't help but feel this was a mistake.

If she stayed here, she would hinder her boss and lady boss from having a passionate time!

Wandou's guts were turning green with regret!

Sigh, she had eaten a night of dog food and she was having a little indigestion. She shouldn't have stayed with them and continued becoming a third wheel to them.

If only Yi Xiao was here she could chat with him. But the driver tonight was someone new.

She took a peek behind. Her boss and her lady boss were stuck together like a Siamese twin in the back seat, embracing each other intimately.

They were so intimate that Wandou felt like getting a boyfriend herself to snuggle up with.

Halfway through the journey, Xu Xiyan received a call from Xue Yating's assistant, Ni Xuelin.

“Oh, oh, okay! Understood, I'll go over now.”

After Xu Xiyan hung up the phone, she turned to Huo Yunshen. "Dear, Tingting is in a bit of trouble. I have to go and see her now."

"Okay, I'll tell the driver to send you there."

Although Huo Yunshen wanted to go home with his wife and make out, he still agreed to let her go see a friend.

"I'll get Wandou to go with me later. You should go home and be with our child now," Xu Xiyan told him.

"Sure. Where should I send both of you to?"

Huo Yunshen asked for the address then immediately told the driver to turn around.

Xu Xiyan and Wandou first went to Ni Xuelin's residence to meet up with her and understand the whole situation.

It was like this: Back then, after Xue Yating and An Xianming had gotten in a sexual relationship, Xue Yating had found herself pregnant and had prepared to abort the child secretly.

Then An Xianming had appeared in time to prevent her from undergoing the surgery, assuming responsibility for the child.

He had taken Xue Yating back to the Xue family house, taking the initiative to confess the feelings he had for his little niece to his elder brother Xue Zhengrong.

At first, Xue Zhengrong was enraged. He reprimanded An Xianming furiously, saying that he was a savage for having the audacity to desire his own niece.

It was Xue Yating who had protected him from getting beaten up by her father.

After that, the two had no choice but to confess to Xue Zhengrong that they already had a sexual relationship and an unborn child as well. In the end...
