

Priceless Baby 951

Chapter 951: Unimaginable

“Miss Jing, it doesn't matter if you accept them or not,” Qi Fang explained. “The president has already signed the document, and both the properties are yours now. You can live there if you want to, or you can just leave them there, it's all up to you now.”

“Please, tell me the truth. Is the President sick or something?” Xu Xiyan asked. “Why would he give me properties that cost more than 20 billion?”

Xu Xiyan could've become a wealthy person in an instant with those two properties.

“They are worth less than the President's life, which you saved. To him, this 20 billion is nothing more than a portion of what he can do. Please accept the gift so that I can deliver the good news to the President.”

Xu Xiyan was stunned by the President's wealth, as 20 billion was nothing more than a small part of his fortune. She could not even begin to imagine how much he was worth.

The black folder was back in Xu Xiyan's hand. If she were to accept it, she would have to find a way to explain it to her husband.

There was no way Huo Yunshen would believe that the President gave her 20 billion dollars worth of properties because she had saved his life.

Any person with a well functioning mind would never believe that.

As Xu Xiyan was still hesitating, two people came into the café. An adult and a kid.

Huo Yunshen came to the café with his daughter in his arms. The first thing he did was to locate Xu Xiyan and walk towards her.

Xu Xiyan noticed the shadow from behind and turned to realize that it was her husband and daughter.

“Why are you here?” Xu Xiyan asked in surprise.

Huo Yunshen handed Ying Bao to Xu Xiyan and sat next to her while he had his arm over her back.

“May I ask what you want with my wife?” Huo Yunshen asked Qi Fang.

Qi Fang had never thought that he would meet Xu Xiyan's husband there, but luckily enough, he'd done his preparation beforehand.

“Nice to meet you, you must be Mr. Huo, am I right? I've seen a lot of your movies in the past,” Qi Fang greeted. “My name is Qi Fang, and I'm President Helian's personal lawyer. Please don't misunderstand, I'm only here for a small matter.”

“Hubby, it's like this...” Xu Xiyan explained the situation to Huo Yunshen.

“The President intends to give the Moon Castle and the Rose Garden to Jing Xi?” Huo Yunshen asked, after learning of the whole situation.

“Yes,” Qi Fang nodded. “The contract is effective as we're speaking. The Moon Castle and the Rose Garden belong to Mrs. Huo now, and are visitable at any moment.”

Huo Yunshen remained silent after hearing that.

Even though it sounded sketchy, Huo Yunshen had a firm belief that her wife would be rewarded because of how she would help others without asking for anything in return.

And since Helian Wei was the President of a country, and his family was loaded with cash, the two properties were nothing compared to his wealth.

Huo Yunshen also recalled that their daughter mentioned that she wanted to visit a castle. And now they were being presented with one.

Chapter 952: He's Not Angry?

Xu Xiyan was afraid that her husband would misunderstand. She tried to assure him of her sincerity again. “Dear, tell me what should I do? I'll listen to you. If you say no, I will say no too.”

Xu Xiyan had planned to return the agreement, but Huo Yunshen stopped her. “Thank you, Mr. Qi. We will accept the president's goodwill. I would like to ask if we could visit the castle now?”

Huh?

Huo Yunshen suddenly accepted the gift in her stead. It was Xu Xiyan's turn to be surprised. He's not angry?

“Yes, I can take you all there now.”

Qi Fang felt as though a burden had been lifted from his chest. He could finally go back and report the accomplishment of his task to the president.

After hearing about going to visit a castle, Ying Bao clapped her little hands excitedly. “Ooooh, great! Baby can go see the big castle!”

Thus, the group left the café. Xu Xiyan invited Ni Xuelin, who was waiting at the entrance of the café, to join them to visit the big castle together.

When they were departing, Xu Xiyan let Qi Fang drive ahead of them so he could lead the way.

Originally, Xu Xiyan wanted to let Ni Xuelin ride in their car, but the back seat was equipped with a child safety seat and there was also a large plush toy taking up the rest of the space. There was no way to fit four people in the car so they had to let Ni Xuelin ride in Qi Fang's car.

Ni Xuelin became bashful when she saw Qi Fang—she would blush and become shy. Now that she was sitting in the same car with him, she was so nervous that she could hardly breathe.

Qi Fang noticed that Jing Xi's young lady assistant was very pretty. She was a very quiet girl and she did not like to talk.

In order to break the ice, Qi Fang kept coming up with topics so he could talk to her during the journey.

After the two chatted for a while, Ni Xuelin started to feel less ill at ease. When it was a topic of her interest, she would express her views incessantly.

Qi Fang was quite fond of chatting with her. When they were about to arrive at the castle, Qi Fang had even taken the initiative to ask for Ni Xuelin's contact and added her to his chat friend list.

Their vehicle finally arrived at the Rose Garden. There were armed soldiers outside the garden walls guarding the place. After they got out of the car, Qi Fang showed them the documents issued by the President before the guards granted them entry.

They entered the Rose Garden on foot. Lush, blooming rose shrubs grew on both sides of the path, the red ones warm as fire, the white ones pure and noble. The roses also grew in all kind of colors.

In the past, Xu Xiyao had heard that the scenery in the Rose Garden during the blooming season was particularly beautiful. Now that she had seen it with her own eyes, she realized that it was so incredibly beautiful; it was simply too much to take in.

Looking at the vast garden, she felt as though she had come to Provence to see the lavender fields; it was just as magnificent.

“Mommy! There're sooo many flowers!” Ying Bao cried out happily.

“The flowers here are so beautiful!”

The Rose Garden was so beautiful that everyone could not help but exclaim in awe.

“I've never seen a flower of this color. Can I pick one?”

Ni Xuelin especially liked the purple roses.

“Go ahead! I feel like picking one too!”

Now that the Rose Garden belonged to Xu Xiyao, she didn't mind other people picking the flowers here. There were too many flowers here anyway. Even if no one picked them, they would naturally wither and fall after the blooming season.

When Ni Xuelin touched the stalk of the flower, she was pricked by its thorn. She winced and retracted her hand in pain.

Beside her, Qi Fang saw that she had been pricked by a thorn. He reached out to pick the rose and handed it to her. “There're many thorns on the rose. Be careful.”

“Thank you.”

Ni Xuelin took the flower from him, stealing a glance at him. She felt her cheeks growing hotter.

Huo Yunshen saw his wife reaching out to pick a rose too. Since Ni Xuelin had been pricked by a thorn, he pulled Xu Xiyao back in time and picked the rose himself. He handed it over to her and said, “A flower for a beautiful person like you. However, I think the flower looks average. It's not as beautiful as you.”

Chapter 953: Indescribable Emotion

“You and your smart mouth,” Xu Xiyan scolded as she took a sniff of the flower.

“Oh, is my mouth the only good thing?” Huo Yunshen whispered next to her ear and blew it slightly.

Xu Xiyan could feel the wind from his mouth shuffling past her ears, and she was aroused by it.

“Hey! Get away from me!” Xu Xiyan blushed and ran away like a little rabbit.

“Mummy! Daddy! Look! It's a castle!” Ying Bao shouted as she pointed at the castle excitedly.

The adults had already noticed the white castle sitting tall in the center of Tongxin Lake.

The castle looked like a white swan floating on water from far away.

They walked past the beautiful Rose Garden before arriving at the lakeside.

They walked towards the castle on a crescent-shaped bridge that linked to the castle.

“Mummy! There are swans in the lake!” Ying Bao shouted as she noticed two white swans in the lake.

“You're right!” Xu Xiyan replied as they looked at the white swans with their heads together, forming a heart shape.

They walked past the bridge and arrived at the castle. They only realize how small they were when they stood in front of the castle. It was way more majestic than looking at it from far away.

Qi Fang made a phone call, and the guards lowered the castle's drawbridge.

They entered the castle via the drawbridge and were finally able to witness the decorations in the castle.

The castle was decorated with various wallpapers, chandeliers, and crystals. Every part of the decoration was a masterpiece and could be worth millions.

They couldn't help but feel amazed.

Ying Bao ran along the long hallway happily until they entered a large hall, it felt as if they'd entered a gallery.

Different canvases were hung on the wall, most of them being oil paintings of scenery.

The painting that hung in the middle of the room was the only portrait.

The back of a woman playing on a violin was painted on the canvas. The woman was so pretty that it almost compelled them to walk to the back of the painting to take a look at her face.

The first thing that the painting reminded Xu Xiyan of was her mother.

“Mr. Qi, who is the woman in the painting?” Xu Xiyan couldn't help but ask.

Qi Fang looked at the painting and explained, “That is the Violin Diva that rocked the world once, Miss Artemis.”

“My mum?”

Xu Xiyan was shocked and stared at the back of the woman in the painting as an indescribable emotion filled her heart.

She never thought that she would find a portrait of her mother in a castle in a foreign country.

She was curious as to why there was a painting of her mother in the castle.

“I don't get it. Why is there a painting of my mum in the castle?”

Chapter 954: Give Her Strength That Comforted Her

“This painting is the last masterpiece of the late Mr. Totres, the great oil painter of the last century. It was auctioned at the National Exhibition Center of Estan, and it was our president who had spent a fortune to win the bid. Oh, I forgot to tell you that our president used to be a big fan of your mother. He loves listening to her violin performance.”

For now, Qi Fang could only explain so much. As for the lost relationship her mother and the President had shared together before, it was better not to mention it.

Xu Xiyan finally understood. So that explained it. She did not expect the President to be a fan of her mother.

As she stared at the oil painting, her eyes began to moisten, a layer of faint mist clouding her eyes.

I really miss mother!

Suddenly she felt someone squeezing her shoulder. She turned to look. It was her husband, gripping her shoulder with his strong hand, giving her strength that comforted her.

Xu Xiyan rested her head on Huo Yunshen's shoulder as the two looked at the oil painting together.

“Do you know that your back is beautiful too? When I have time, I'll find someone to draw you a picture too,” Huo Yunshen said softly. “Oh, not only one. They're going to draw lots of pictures of you and we can bequeath those paintings to our children, our grandchildren, and great-grandchildren...”

“Heh... what grandchildren and great-grandchildren? It's too early to say that! We don't even have a son yet!”

Xu Xiyan felt better after being amused by Huo Yunshen's words.

“Who said so? Maybe he is already in your stomach!”

Huo Yunshen reached out and touched her belly. Xu Xiyan laughed, slapped away his hand and slipped away from him. “I'm not going to give birth to a son for you.”

“Oh, being disobedient now, are you?”

The man caught up to her.

Their group followed the spiral staircase of the castle, going up one step at a time before they finally came to the observatory at the top of the castle.

Their eyes widened at the view as they stood here. They could see everything from here and the vague overall layout of the Rose Garden.

Ni Xuelin pointed at the contours of garden walls and said, "Guys, do you think this garden looks like a very large rose?"

"Yes, it is a rose," Qi Fang answered, then added, "If you were to look down from a plane, it is indeed a giant rose."

"Whose idea is this? The mastermind of this place actually made the Rose Garden into the shape of a rose and built the castle on a lake in the middle of the rose. Also, the castle looks like a crescent moon. It is really too creative," Ni Xuelin said, sighing in awe.

Qi Fang didn't answer her question this time. He only said to himself inwardly: All of this was personally designed by the President himself!

Xu Xiyan also felt that the buildings here were very unique. "I'm really curious. Which woman did the President build this castle for? I guess he must've loved that woman very much at the time!"

Qi Fang only nodded, thinking to himself. That's right, the President was so deeply in love with your mother, but it was unfortunate that they could not be together in the end. What a sad twist of fate.

After they were done visiting the castle, the group returned to the city. Huo Yunshen had already booked a restaurant in advance in the city.

Qi Fang did not stay for the meal. After sending them back here, he took his leave and returned to report back to the president.

Xu Xiyan and her family ate with Ni Xuelin. Later, Ye Xun also came and the five of them ate their meals together.

In the afternoon, Xu Xiyan had to hurry back to the set to continue her shoot so she left the child in Huo Yunshen's care. Ye Xun took up the responsibility to send her and Ni Xuelin to the set and then later stay there to protect her.

While Xu Xiyan was filming, Ye Xun and his sister Ni Xuelin waited on the sides.

When Ye Xun was chatting with Ni Xuelin, he noticed that the girl was not really paying attention to him. She had her eyes glued to the screen of her mobile phone. He wondered who she was chatting with as she would laugh like an idiot from time to time.

Ye Xun craned his neck over to look. "Who are you chatting with?"

Chapter 955: Irritated

"Nothing, just a friend," Ni Xuelin said as she quickly hid her phone.

"A guy? Is he interested in you?"

"No, it's not! Stop with the questions!"

Ni Xuelin did not tell Ye Xun that she was talking with Qi Fang since it was only their first day meeting each other.

Even though Qi Fang was more than 20 years older than her, he was a humorous person, and she could not stop herself from talking with him.

"I don't care who he is, but if he wants to date my little sister, he'll have to go through me first," Ye Xun said.

Ye Xun had already learned about Ni Xuelin being hurt by Chu Tian, and he blamed himself for not finding her sooner.

"I know, I know. But I think you should take care of yourself first. Did you call Sanyan to tell her you've safely landed at Estan? Won't she get angry at you if you don't?"

Ni Xuelin tried to change the topic by bringing Huo Sanyan up.

"Let her try!" Ye Xun scolded as he got irritated as soon as Ni Xuelin mentioned Huo Sanyan.

Speaking of the devil, Ye Xun phone rang and Huo Sanyan was calling him.

As soon as Ye Xun saw the caller ID, he almost went berserk.

Ye Xun handed the phone to Ni Xuelin and said, "Please tell her that I'm not free."

"Not doing it! I think you should just accept her, why are you hiding like a scared little kitten?"

Ni Xuelin did not want to hurt Huo Sanyan for Ye Xun as she liked the idea of Huo Sanyan being her Sister-In-Law.

"Who's a scared little kitten? Since when am I afraid of her? See! I'm accepting the call now!"

Ye Xun accepted the call and shouted into the phone, "Hello? What do you want? I'm busy!"

Ni Xuelin heard how Ye Xun greet Huo Sanyan and tried to hold back her urge to hit her brother with a brick.

"Mr. Ye, don't overwork yourself!" Huo Sanyan said on the other side of the phone. "Please take good care of your body. Are you eating well while you're gone?"

"I get it! If there's nothing else, I'm hanging up!"

Without waiting for Huo Sanyan to reply, he hung up the call, and he felt the world become quieter.

He hoped for some quiet in his life since he went back to Estan and away from Huo Sanyan.

But little did he know that he would regret his choices one day.

There was an uninvited guest at the filming place in the evening.

More than 20 gangsters tried to collect protection fees from the crew.

The amount for the fees was so insane that it could be counted as blackmail.

"We've already gotten the approval from the government. What we're doing is legal, why do we have to pay?" Huang Guoqiang asked the gangsters

"This is our Fifth Elder's area! Anyone who wants to do anything here has to pay up!" the leader of the gangster's group scolded

"Says who?"

Huang Guoqiang had experienced many things in his life, but it was his first time seeing someone giving out such an unreasonable explanation.

There was no way he was going to pay up unless the law stated so.

Priceless Baby's Super Daddy 956 Come Try If You Dare Touch Them

Seeing that Huang Guoqiang refused to pay, the tattooed man became even more bad-tempered. He warned him, "Our boss Wu Ye is the law! If you refuse to pay up, that's fine too. We'll let these beautiful girls in your crew accompany our boss and we can forget about this matter today. Brothers! Take them away!"

The tattooed man actually had his mind on Xu Xiyan and the other women. His lackeys obeyed him, coming over to catch them.

Seeing that the other party was stirring up trouble, Ye Xun stepped in front of Xu Xiyan and Ni Xuelin and the other girls, protecting them. He narrowed his dark eyes, grinding his teeth as he said, "Come try if you dare touch them. My fists are not to be trifled with!"

Ye Xun had already recognized them from their clothing and insignias—they were from the Dark Zone.

He saw the black mandala mark on one of the men's arm.

"Heh! How bold of you! So you want to die, eh? I can help with that!"

The tattooed man waved. His men charged forward and fought with Ye Xun.

Ni Xuelin was very worried seeing that her brother was fighting with so many people by himself. "What are we going to do, Jing Xi? Can my brother beat them?"

Xu Xiyan comforted her, "Don't worry, there's still me!"

Ye Xun had been idle for a long time. His hands just happened to feel itchy right now and he felt like working out his hands.

The men of the film crew saw that there were many men in the other party and Ye Xun had to deal with the lot of them all by himself, so they joined in to help.

Though they were not trained in martial arts, they had the strength. They took up objects such as benches and frames as weapons and began to fight with the hooligans.

Xu Xiyan was not idling either. With her quick hands and sharp eyes, she mowed them down one by one.

More than twenty hooligans were quickly and ruthlessly dealt with. They were sprawled all over on the ground, some looking for their teeth. Their leader, the tattooed man, had already slipped away.

The film crew was not affected. Ye Xun called for backup and all the hooligans were dragged off to the Estan Police Station.

Just as they thought that this was the end of it, nobody expected that after the tattooed man fled, he quickly brought another large gang of men over.

With long knives and batons in each of their hands, the gang of men headed towards them like a black wall closing around them.

This scene was just like the mafia in the TV shows; they would intimidate their rivals with an imposing entrance first.

Someone in the crew saw the group of men coming and quickly informed the director. Seeing that they were in a bad situation, Huang Guoqiang told Ye Xun to take all the women in the crew and leave quickly.

But who knew that the back exit was also blocked.

They were also surrounded by a group of men coming from behind. These men came from all directions, surrounding the whole film crew.

Xu Xiyan had already called Huo Yunshen, hoping that he could bring his men to come to help them.

But now, the situation was grim. They had to rely on themselves to defend against the other party.

Ye Xun and the other men stood in front, forming a human wall with their bodies.

Huang Guoqiang did not know much about the local situation in Estan. He asked Ye Xun, "Who is this Wu Ye actually?"

Seeing that the other party came with malicious intent, he was starting to feel regret. There was a saying that goes "an outsider, however strong, should never underestimate the local." If only he had paid the protection fee, there wouldn't be so much trouble now.

Ye Xun explained, "Wu Ye is the head of the Estan branch of Dark Zone. The people of the Dark Zone do all manner of evil."

The Dark Zone was Ye Xun's mortal enemy and he had an irreconcilable hatred for them. It was his life goal to eradicate the Dark Zone. The sight of these Dark Zone members made a murderous aura rouse around him.

The gang of men closed in toward them. One of them shouted out, instigating the fight, "Those who offend Wu Ye will not end well! If you have the audacity not to cooperate with us, don't think about filming in this area in peace. Tear this place up, brothers!"

A group of men charged and began to wreck the place, destroying much of the film crew's equipment.

People of both sides fought. But those from the crew were greatly outmatched and many of the crew members were beaten up.

Xu Xiyan also participated in the battle, protecting the several women by her side who did not know martial arts.

Chapter 957: If He Finds Out Her Identity

Yet the opponent won in numbers, and Ye Xun was starting to get cornered.

Most of the men in the crew were injured, and the gangsters were approaching the girls when a bullet flew past them and dug into the forehead of one of the gangsters in the front.

Bullets kept shooting past them as they found the forehead of different gangsters.

Most of them even had no idea how they died.

In just two minutes, most of the people from the Darkzone were lying in their own blood as the others were searching for the source of the bullets.

Just as they were looking around, armored trucks came out from nowhere and surrounded the rest of the gangsters.

Jing Zhannan led his subordinates in JS1 out from the trucks and captured the remaining gangsters alive.

Huo Yunshen had already thrown his sniper to one side and jumped down from the truck looking for his wife.

Xu Xiyan noticed her husband among the mercenaries and let out a sigh of relief.

"Hubby, luckily you came in time," Xu Xiyan sighed.

"Are you hurt?"

"No, but some of us are."

Huo Yunshen asked his medical officers to help take care of the wounded. Lucky for them, none had suffered serious injuries.

"Mr. Huang, are you all right?" Huo Yunshen asked as he pulled Huang Guoqiang up from the ground."

"I'm fine," Huang Guoqiang sighed. "I'm the one to blame here. If I had paid the ransom, none of us would have gotten hurt."

"No, you are right for not paying. They would've just come back for more."

Huo Yunshen understood those gangsters very well. They weren't mercenaries from the Darkzone but instead were gangsters rounded up by the group.

They were a bunch of greedy people and would never stop asking for more.

The best way to take care of them was to round them up in one go.

Huo Yunshen issued an order to his men to interrogate the remaining gangsters for the location of Darkzone bases.

In just three days, JS deployed a troop to destroy a few of their bases and captured the Fifth Elder.

The whole operation was so huge that its success made the news in Estan. It was a huge relief for the people since the group had been terrorizing the people for a long time.

You Jin had already learned of the news as he reported back to Yun Xuerou.

“Ma'am, your plan has failed.”

Yun Xuerou had planned to use the gangsters to capture Jing Xi amid the chaos.

Yet she had never expected that the JS would suddenly appear to save them.

“Luck is on her side this time, but she won't be that lucky next time,” Yun Xuerou smiled coldly.

“But Ma'am, I've heard that the crew Jing Xi is in has returned to Zstan this morning. It will be harder to get her if she's in Zstan.”

“Isn't Mo Yutian in Zstan too? We'll just ask for his help. There's nothing he couldn't accomplish.”

“That's a great idea!”

Yun Xuerou smiled again since she was sure that Mo Yutian would help her, unlike Mo Xie, who rejected her request since Mo Yutian was her nephew.

To Yun Xuerou, Jing Xi was like a ticking time bomb, ready to explode whenever Helian Wei learned of her true identity.

Jing Xi was a threat to her position as the First Lady, and she had to get rid of Jing Xi by any means necessary.

Chapter 958: A Great Temptation

News about the Dark Zone's collapse in Estan quickly spread to Zstan. Reid reported the whole incident to his master truthfully.

After learning that it was JS who had annihilated his stronghold in Estan, Mo Yutian narrowed his eyes.

Very good. Yet another new score to settle.

“Sir, Lady White Tea has sent you a secret message.”

Reid handed over the secret message he had received to Mo Yutian.

Mo Yutian unfolded the paper. After reading it, he threw the paper directly into the fireplace, burning it.

He had already remembered the contents of the secret message: Lady White Tea had asked him for help.

She said that Jing Xi had offended her when she was filming in Estan and she wanted him to harm Jing Xi. But there was no way he would listen to her as he had been implementing a new plan recently.

Mo Yutian asked Reid, “The result of Dr. Simon's research should be out now?”

“Yes, it is out now, sir.”

“Come. Let's go see.”

At the Tianyu Group Biological Research Laboratory.

Mo Yutian brought his men here. Dr. Simon was already ready; he had ordered his staff to bring out the results of his latest research.

Soon, a girl was wheeled over and placed before Mo Yutian.

Mo Yutian widened his eyes as he gazed at the girl inside the glass before him. Surprise and joy flashed across his eyes.

Dr. Simon introduced proudly, “Mr. Mo, this is the result of my latest research: Alice the clone.”

Alice was very quiet. Her appearance was almost exactly the same as Jing Xi's. The only difference was her eyes: they were not as lively as Jing Xi's.

Dr. Simon ordered his assistants to take off the glass cover, exposing Alice completely into the air.

“Hello, Alice.”

Alice had no mind of her own. She could only parrot what was said for the time being, “Hello, Alice.”

Her voice was also very similar to Jing Xi's. If Alice and Jing Xi were put together, it would be difficult for outsiders to distinguish them.

“Her appearance is very good. It's just that her reaction and eyes are greatly lacking.”

Mo Yutian furrowed his brow.

Even though Alice was to replace Jing Xi, she would be immediately exposed if her ability to respond was lacking.

Dr. Simon had already thought it all out. “Don't worry, sir. Alice has a strong ability to imitate. If she was allowed to observe Jing Xi's lifestyle, she could learn very quickly.”

“Very good.”

Since he could not get Jing Xi for the time being, it was also a good idea to substitute her with Alice for company.

Thus, Mo Yutian began to train the clone personally.

“Jing Xi, come here and sit.”

Alice did not respond. Mo Yutian held her chin and told her, “From now on, I am your new master. Your name is no longer ‘Alice,’ but ‘Jing Xi.’ Understand?”

“Understand,” Alice replied.

Alice obediently took off her own clothes, and the girl's pure and perfect body was completely exposed.

Mo Yutian imagined Alice as Jing Xi and that she was with him, standing stark naked in front of him. It was such a great temptation for him.

Mo Yutian only felt fire burning in his abdomen. Driven by a primordial impulse, he carried Alice and walked towards the bedroom.

“If you want to be Jing Xi, the first thing you have to know that Jing Xi is married and has a child. She cannot be a virgin.”

He pressed the clone under his body, his mind full of Jing Xi. As long as he thought of Jing Xi, his body would produce a ceaseless stream of energy.

Even if he could not get Jing Xi's virginity, he could get the clone's. This could be considered more or less compensation for his perfectionist complex!

Chapter 959: He's the Main Actor?

The filming crew for Sceneries returned back to Zstan safely.

The incident that happened in Estan was quite a bad memory for them.

Since only a small part of the outdoor filming part was left, Huang Guoqiang planned to finish it in the studio.

Xu Xiyan heard the good news from Jinxi Studio the second day after she'd return.

Our Beautiful Bygone Days had premiered the day before.

Since Xu Xiyan was on the plane during the premiere, she could not make it in time.

The movie was a huge hit, garnering more than 250 million yuan on the second day with an 8.0 rating on IMDB.

The profit from the movie was more than what Xu Xiyan had expected when she had spent 10 million on the studio.

It was a great start for Xu Xiyan's career, and she had to thank Huo Yijing for it.

With the movie being a huge hit, Jinxi Studio became known in the acting industry, and Lu Zeyan was hoping to move forward with another movie while the heat was still there.

“Boss, have you thought about my proposal?” Lu Zeyan asked Xu Xiyan.

All of the actors and actresses for the minor characters were decided; the only one that was left was the female protagonist.

Xu Xiyan checked her schedule, noticing that the filming for Sceneries was past the mid-point and the filming for Beauty of the World was approaching the final part. With the time she had left, she accepted Lu Zeyan's proposal.

A week later.

The opening ceremony for Deep in the Shadow of the Stars was held before they began filming, but the main actor did not attend the ceremony.

Xu Xiyan kept wondering who Lu Zeyan had invited to play the part, and her question was finally answered when she met Huo Yunshen, with makeup on, after she'd finished her makeup.

Huo Yunshen wore a bespoke suit and stood tall not far from her with one of his hands in his pocket as he stared at Xu Xiyan.

"It's you?" Xu Xiyan asked as she ran towards Huo Yunshen as if no one was around them, jumping into his arms.

It was a huge surprise for her.

She'd thought about asking Huo Yunshen to take on the role, but she knew that he was too busy for it.

"I wanted to give you a surprise," Huo Yunshen whispered.

"Thank you! Did you know I wrote the whole novel for you?"

"I did."

That was why he decided to play the role. Because he wanted to fulfill her wish.

They stared at each other and couldn't stop themselves from kissing each other.

Their action attracted every person's eyes onto them as people were staring at them kissing.

"Look over there, they're just showing their affections out in the open."

"Oh my god, it's so embarrassing to even look at them."

"Hey, come on, this is something you don't see every day. Looks like we don't have to worry about the kissing scene in the movie."

"You're right. They don't even have to fake it."

Lu Zeyan had already warned his crew to be prepared since they'd be seeing the couple showing their affection most of the time.

Xu Xiyan never thought that she could have the chance to act in a movie with the world-renowned Movie King.

Chapter 960: He Is A Pervert!

The feeling of watching Huo Yunshen's performance on TV was completely different from the actual feeling of acting together with him. She was a bit nervous—really.

Before going into the set, Huo Yunshen took her hand. Her palms felt wet with cold sweat. He chuckled, "Don't tell me you're nervous acting alongside your husband?"

Xu Xiyan smiled helplessly. "I can't help it. You're a great movie king."

"Haven't you worked with many movie and television kings before?"

"That's different. You're a god in my mind, an idol that I worship."

Huo Yunshen brushed her nose lightly with a finger. "Alright, stop with the flattering. Make sure you perform well in bed at night."

"Huh?"

Before she could react, Huo Yunshen had already stepped into the set and sat on the electric wheelchair.

In the film, he was a disabled person. For Huo Yunshen, this was not difficult to act at all. It was equivalent to acting as himself.

Even the electric wheelchair was the familiar one that had been with him for five years.

The filming officially began. Xu Xiyan seemed to return to the time when she had first seen him with the palpitating heart of a youthful girl.

Whether it was the eyes, the mannerisms, or the lines, they seemed to act as though the story had just happened yesterday. It came naturally to them and their acting was real and intimate.

The two cooperated with great chemistry in the film and their acting skills were also good. It was just as Lu Zeyan had initially expected: as long as the two were acting, the filming went very smoothly and they almost passed all takes in one go.

While working on Deep in the Shadows of the Stars, Xu Xiyan still had to return to work on The Beauty of the World and rush the progress of the show.

The filming was almost done. Yun Qingge—the wicked concubine she was playing—had taken over the government because the emperor had fallen ill.

With the help of Wen Zhengting, she had managed state affairs efficiently.

Wen Zhengting expressed his feelings to her and told her that he was willing to give up his life of wealth and status to take her away from the capital. Yun Qingge was very moved by his feelings for her. She agreed to consider his proposal and give him an answer within three days.

However, just as the deadline was approaching, Huo Zhiqing—the general who was rumored to be dead—returned.

It was during the imperial court assembly when she saw that Huo Zhiqing was still alive. At that time, she was the most favored concubine of the emperor and was currently representing the emperor in the government whereas Huo Zhiqing appeared bearing scars and wounds—a remnant soul of his past who had persisted in surviving for her sake.

When they met again, their status and identities had changed dramatically. Yun Qingge's heart was deeply shocked.

Today, when she really looked at it, the person she most loved in her heart, and also the most difficult to put down, was still Huo Zhiqing.

Huo Zhiqing regained his position as general and became Wen Zhengting's biggest rival.

From here, the plot revolved around the three.

Wen Zhengting—who was played by Mu Chenguang—was a cultured and graceful man in the play, but in reality, the actor himself was quite insufferable.

No longer than a few days after Wandou was given to him as his assistant, he had bullied the girl to tears.

Wandou came crying to Xu Xiyan, “Sister Jing Xi, can you please let me come back to you? I really don't want to be Mu Chenguang's assistant.”

“Why? He bullied you?”

“Yes, he is a pervert!” Wandou accused him indignantly.

“He did 'that' to you?” Xu Xiyan inquired.

“No.”

“He kissed you by force?”

“No.”

“So what did he do that was perverted?”

As Wandou thought of it, she felt like crying. “Sister Jing Xi, do you know that he is a sleepwalker? Every night he would come into my room and grope me around. When I asked him in the morning, he would only look dumbfounded at me. Don't you think he is scary?”
