

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 1011 The Unremarkable Mo Chusheng

Twenty years ago, there were quite a number of highly cultivated monks in the world.

At that time, every three to five years, there would be a dao discussion. Taoist masters from all over the world would gather together to compare their disciples and themselves.

However, there were many Taoist masters from the righteous sects and many Taoist masters from evil sects.

One of them was the most terrifying.

That person's Daoist techniques were profound and he was initially from a righteous sect. The power of the talismans he inscribed was great. When it came to the use of formations, it came naturally and he was lucky in that aspect. However, he pursued the limits of Daoist techniques too much and felt that as long as he truly pursued the dao. One day, he would definitely ascend to heaven and become a true immortal sage!

However, rational people knew that although they understood the five elements and respected the immortals and gods in the world, even when they inscribed talismans, they were still mortals after all. Immortality was just a vague request.

However, that person never believed it.

He could not seek immortality from the righteous sect, so he went to seek the evil sect.

Due to that, he even caused the deaths of many of his fellow Taoist masters. It could even be said that half of the famous Taoist masters at that time had died because he failed in the battles.

Of course, that person did not end up well either.

Even after so many years, Yuan Changzi and the others still felt uneasy when they heard the word “evil sect”.

“You haven’t seen this Mo Chusheng. She and Mo Lingzi are from the same sect, and her abilities are not inferior to Mo Lingzi’s. Moreover, she’s naturally proficient in yin and yang. Including her innate abilities, she is even more capable than Mo Lingzi. Even she said that she can’t handle it herself, I’m afraid this evil sect is quite powerful!” Yuan Changzi sipped his tea, trying to calm himself down.

A few of his fellow disciples did not believe him. “Mo Lingzi didn’t mention that he had a junior sister back then. Could she really be from the Water Moon Temple?”

“Absolutely!” Yuan Changzi said firmly.

Xie Qiao also came at the appointed time.

As soon as she appeared, Yuan Changzi immediately stood up. “Master Mo!” The other three fellow disciples looked over in a daze.

This was the Mo Chusheng that Yuan Changzi had mentioned... Mo Chusheng, who had superb Daoist skills and was very capable? She looked... as calm as water and did not have much imposing manners. At most, she looked a little more indifferent and elegant. Other than that, she was not any different from the other Taoist masters, right?

Looking at her appearance...

It was unremarkable!

However, there was still one of them, Yuan Changzi's senior brother, whose Dharma name was Guanglun. With a glance, he thought that this woman's bones and appearance were not right. She had probably disguised her appearance.

However, he did not ask.

"Thank you for coming here, Taoist masters." Xie Qiao stepped forward and was especially polite and respectful, "I've asked you to come here today mainly for the matter of the evil sect. I haven't been in the capital for a long time, and I don't know if there are any special rules in the capital and how to deal with an evil sect, so I'd like to ask you for some advice... After learning the rules, I'll know what to do no matter what happens." The state had its laws, and families had their rules. Even between ethnic groups, there were also clan rules.

Therefore, there should be a set of rules among Taoist masters that were different from the state laws. However, she was not knowledgeable, so she was not clear about it.

"Ordinary charlatans are mostly dealt with by the government. If Taoist masters use some forbidden techniques, it's usually the Taoist masters' seniors who call the shots, crippling their cultivation so that they can't harm others," Yuan Changzi immediately said.

Most of these forbidden techniques had a more serious impact.

For instance, keeping evil ghouls, using vengeful spirits to harm living people...

Or using the blood of women or children as sacrifices...

In such a situation, a Taoist temple with a well-known reputation like Yuxu Temple absolutely could not ignore it. Although the bad things were done by evil sects, once it was spread out, it would bring shame to the entire Taoist sect.

However, in the past few years, very few evil sects had dared to commit crimes. Even those who used forbidden spells were usually spells that did not cause much harm.
