

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 1054 Poor Young Lady

Xie Qiao could not help but sympathize with this young lady and sighed softly.

At this moment, the young lady was also invited over for questioning.

In order to avoid too much of an impact, Xie Pinggang glared at the onlookers and chased them to the pavilion.

Sang You was almost sent away by Xie Pinggang's fierce gaze.

"It really is the famous First Young Master Xie... He is more courageous than the rumors say." Sang You's tone was troubled. After saying that, he also chose to go to the pavilion and did not dare to stay any longer.

This Young Master Xie seemed like he was going to eat people. He always felt that he could hit people at any time.

However, before he left, he did not forget the Crown Prince and eldest senior sister. He looked at them deeply and said, "Your Highness, Senior Sister, let's wait over there... We can't help with the case..."

"Junior Brother, just leave first. Don't worry about us." Xie Qiao waved at him, unmoved.

"Senior Brother Sang, I'll stay and take a look too," Jiang Jinlu quickly added.

Sang You was not used to such a brutal scene, especially now that the Crown Prince and the people from the criminal division were here. As a teacher who taught Taoism and zither skills, he was of no use, so he chose to wait somewhere else.

At this moment, Xie Pinggang stared at the young lady. "Do you recognize this person? Did you guys come together?"

He had tried his best to be kind, but he was born with a fierce temperament. This kind of temperament could not be changed, and it still scared people. When the young lady heard his words, her body trembled even more, she was so nervous that she could not even speak.

Xie Pinggang was very helpless.

Women were really troublesome. They were even more timid than mice. The person close to her was dead, but she could not even open her mouth to speak. It was a waste of time.

Although he thought so, Xie Pinggang still had his friendly subordinate beside him step forward and ask again.

He turned around and did not let this young lady see his face.

Sure enough, this young lady's mood was much better now...

"Fu Hanwen... Brother Hanwen... He lives next door. A few days ago, someone sent two invitation cards to my house. I gave them to Brother Hanwen. I heard that it was very lively here today, so we came to take a look... Just now, I heard that there was a troupe singing over there. We were supposed to go together, but Brother Hanwen said that he met someone he knew, so he let me go first. But I waited for a while, and he still hadn't come..." The young lady sobbed hard after she finished speaking.

"Do you know who he wanted to meet?" Xie Pinggang's subordinate asked.

The young lady shook her head and said with misty eyes, "I don't know... Brother Hanwen only said that they were classmates..."

Classmates?

"Get someone to investigate. Anyone who has seen the dead in this garden must be brought here. Then, go to the dean of the academy and get the name list of his classmates."

Apart from that, they also had to investigate the young lady. After all, she was not completely innocent since the two came together.

Xie Pinggang did not have any sympathy for the young lady. He looked at everyone as if they were all suspects. There was no difference at all.

Since the murder case in the Octagon Garden happened, many things had been stopped.

Xie Qiao and the others rested for a while in the distance. After four hours, someone came.

Fu Hanwen came from a decent family. He was from an ordinary wealthy family, and the young lady next door was Pan Jiao. The two families were of equal status, and they were childhood sweethearts.

They also had the intention of getting married.

Now that Fu Hanwen was dead, their parents had come, and they were crying sadly.

At this moment, Xie Qiao finally found Fu Hanwen's ghoul.

When his parents arrived, he finally emerged from the bottom of the lake...
