

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 1067 Digging for the Treasure Chest

The souls that she sent away were all souls with extremely simple wishes. Xie Qiao also made sure that they did not have too deep of an obsession before making her move.

With so many souls, Xie Qiao was busy for the rest of her time.

However, Zhao Xuanjing would occasionally come and stare at her, so she could only restrain herself and rest as much as possible.

When it was the end of the year, Xie Qiao had learned a lot of skills from Baili Ji. Only then would she be able to make progress in all aspects.

She had been eager to learn since she was young and had talent to begin with. With some knowledge, Baili Ji only needed to give a few simple hints and she would be able to draw inferences. She was so intelligent that the people of the Baili family wished they could take her away and reincarnate together.

It was the new year, so Xie Qiao could not stay at the Fortune Pavilion and not go home.

Moreover, this should be the last new year that she would spend in the Xie Residence. There was not much time left until her marriage.

If it was Xie Qiao's identity, staying in the Xie Residence would mean that her days would be much more leisurely.

She would eat the snacks made by Chun Er, drink the fine wine brewed by Chun Er, watch her foolish younger brother practice martial arts, and then watch her foolish younger sister settle the score. Occasionally, her father would shout a few times, just like a few wolf howls that suddenly appeared in the quiet forest under the setting sun. It was a thrilling yet interesting experience.

At this time of the year, there were more people coming and going. Looking at Xie Xi, her heart ached so much that she was about to cry.

The Xie family did not have many relatives. Currently, only the Lin family was close to them, so it was only right for them to send some gifts for the new year. It was just that Xie Qiao had become the Princess Consort, so the number of people coming and going with the Xie family had increased by a lot.

Since the other party had sent gifts, it was not good for her not to return.

Moreover, those big families had a complicated population, unlike the Xie family, so they could not be too stingy with their gifts this time.

Seeing that Xie Xi was working so hard, Xie Qiao finally remembered an important matter.

Senior Baili had previously told her the location of a treasure chest, but... She had not dug it out yet!

Taking this opportunity, it would not be too bad to give her younger siblings a surprise. "The weather today is pretty good. How about we go for a walk?" Xie Qiao said to her younger siblings with a smile.

It was the new year, so Xie Pinghuai could relax a little for two days.

"I don't want to go. It's snowing so heavily. I'm freezing to death." Xie Pinghuai said with disdain.

Eldest sister was not sick, right?

With the current weather, even her snout could be frozen into ice. Would it not be looking for trouble if she went out?

How amazing would it be to stay in this house? There was a heater in the house. When one wanted to practice martial arts, they would move around in this courtyard. The sky was filled with snow as one danced with the sword. It would be extremely cool and free. However, if they went outside, they would have to bury their necks. Everyone would be like a quail.

“You’re not going? Then Xi’er, accompany me.” Xie Qiao looked at her biological sister again.

Xie Xi was a little hesitant.

In reality... she did not want to go either.

However, her sister rarely accompanied her. Now that they could go out together, she was also looking forward to it. However, the weather was so cold... Why not... bring more things to protect herself from the cold...?

She nodded in all seriousness. “Okay, Eldest Sister, I’ll go with you.”

“I won’t make you regret it.” Xie Qiao was amused.

She also saw that her two younger siblings were having a hard time. It was the new year, so she should give out some new year’s money. That was why she thought of bringing them out to dig for the treasure chest. Everyone who see it would have a share. Who knew that the silly kid would not go...

He would be jealous later.

Xie Qiao had a mysterious look on her face, but Xie Pinghuai did not care at all.

“Eldest Sister, your health is not good. If you freeze to death outside, don’t blame me for not reminding you...” He was still making sarcastic remarks.

Xie Qiao rolled her eyes at him and got someone to prepare the carriage.

In the past, she did not dare to go out on such a day, but now that her health was much better, there was no problem!
