

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 1094 Righteous Heart

Yu Xian felt that the old shrew of the Zhou family was crazy.

She only knew that she knew Master Mo, but she actually thought of such a ridiculous thing!

Xie Qiao and Feng Yingying were both stunned.

Feng Yingying was even more stunned. "The Crown Prince is Young Lady Xie's husband..."

"Yes, I know. That's why I scolded them. I even told Brother Xie about this matter. He drank with me and criticized them for an entire night yesterday. He almost raised his blade to slash them. Fortunately, I still had some sense and stopped him."

"Fortunately, you stopped him." Feng Yingying sighed.

"Of course I stopped him. After all, the Zhou family is my relative. Even if I wanted to kill them, I would do it myself. I can't implicate others," Yu Xian said boldly.

"What if your aunt really divorced?" Feng Yingying asked carefully.

"Isn't it good to divorce?" Yu Xian did not hesitate.

Xie Qiao and Feng Yingying did not dare to say anything in front of Yu Xian's murderous aura.

Xie Xi, who was next to them, also listened obediently without blinking.

"You don't know that my aunt was also half-sold and half-married by my grandparents to the Zhou family. Otherwise, why would a young lady be willing to replace the wife who passed away? Moreover, the wife has two young sons... Why would she want to be a stepmother for no reason?"

"In the past, my cousin was young and she had no choice but to endure it. Now that my cousin has grown up, my aunt no longer has anything to fear. If they really divorce, outsiders will point fingers at her and it won't look good. However, my aunt lives in seclusion and it's not a big deal for her to live a carefree life at home. As long as my cousin is filial, these small matters won't be difficult," Yu Xian added.

Others said that it was better to tear down a temple than to tear down a marriage.

However, this did not apply to her aunt.

Her uncle was cold and indifferent, and he was extremely fearful of her aunt. The entire Zhou family was afraid that her aunt would harm the children of the first wife.

From the moment she married into the family, they had never shown her aunt a single bit of sincerity.

All these years, her aunt had suffered too much. After suffering for so long, why would she want to continue to torture herself? She should have left long ago even though she knew it was a pit of fire.

"From what you said, it's indeed good to leave that place," Xie Qiao echoed.

"That's right." Yu Xian nodded. "Other things aside, the Zhou family doesn't have good eyesight either."

“Could it be that they’re blind?” Feng Yingying asked curiously.

Yu Xian chuckled. “What I mean is, if they want to send a young lady like me to seduce the Crown Prince and steal a man from Young Lady Xie, isn’t that just bad eyesight?”

Forget it if they wanted her to fight, but they wanted her to steal a man?

Just kill her! Make it quick!

“It’s not that bad.” Xie Qiao was also amused.

In fact, she had not said anything that made Yu Xian even angrier.

What the Zhou family meant was that Xie Qiao’s health was not good, and outsiders said that she would not live long. She would die in a year and a half. Yu Xian was close with the lady of the Xie family, and with this momentum, she might even be able to become a concubine or something...

She scolded the Zhou family’s patriarch on the spot.

What the heck.

“If the Zhou family has such thoughts, then I am also embarrassed. I feel sorry for the kindness you have shown me, Young Lady, but I also think that since the matter has already happened, we should think of a way to resolve it. Since I am familiar with you, it is not right for me to waste your trust in me. If there is anything, I will tell you in detail myself. I will also let you know whatever I think. I’m not a stinky ditch,” Yu Xian added.

Xie Qiao held her hand: "You are right, I admire you very much."

To be able to say this matter so frankly, Yu Xian was open-minded enough.
