

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 1139: Don't Cry!

Ms. Cai did not have much jealousy. When she saw Xie Qiao's freedom, she did not have any resentment at all.

She was kind-hearted by nature and treated people kindly all her life.

After she died, she just wanted to understand what was wrong and did not want to be forgotten.

"Master, shouldn't I be a clean and hardworking person?" Ms. Cai asked her.

"I don't really understand the rules of getting along with others. I just think that people shouldn't be too submissive. It's a beautiful virtue to work hard and not complain. But I think that you also have feelings and desires. It's better to be happy yourself before you take others into consideration." Xie Qiao frowned and thought for a while.

"Perhaps you have given too much, so much that you don't need others to make demands. So much that it's only natural? Children who cry would be given candies. If you occasionally indulge yourself, perhaps others will feel sorry for you. Only when they cared for you will they truly put you in their hearts..."

Xie Qiao was only trying to say something.

However, Ms. Cai fell silent.

She thought about her life.

She had a brother, an elder sister, and a younger sister. There were a few children at home, and their lives were not good. However, her parents were not very harsh on them...

When she was young, she saw that her parents were working hard, so she learned to be more diligent and let her parents relax and be happy. In the first few years, she seemed to have received praise. After that, there was no more praise. There was even one day when she delayed her work, she even got scolded.

From then on, the work was all hers.

She was used to being busy, so she got a good reputation for being sensible.

Her in-laws accepted her for this reputation. After she got married, she could not stop. When she first married into the family, her mother-in-law saw that she was quick in her work and praised her. She even said that she should give her a break. However, at that time, she felt that her mother-in-law was considerate, so she should work hard...

After a long time, it was the same. No one cared about her or praised her anymore.

All her efforts had become something that she was supposed to do.

"I used to think that they had gone too far. As a living person, I was actually forgotten. But now that I think about it, I actually did not think of myself as a human being..." Ms. Cai's voice suddenly became hoarse.

It was very pitiful.

However, she had Meng Jifang's cross-dressing face.

A beautiful lady, who was big and burly, suddenly squatted down on the main road of the small town, covering her face and sobbing.

Xie Qiao almost ran away.

She saw that many people were looking over, and when they saw that she was wearing a Taoist robe, they thought that she had cheated the lady of her money!

“Err... Don’t cry...” Xie Qiao was a little embarrassed.

Some people slowly approached and began to point fingers.

“All these years, I have been muddle-headed and resentful. I even... resented my children. But what I should resent more is myself.” Ms. Cai was extremely regretful.

What was the point of this one day of relaxation?

All of a sudden, Ms. Cai left Meng Jifang’s body.

“Master, my wish has been fulfilled.” If there was a next life, she definitely would not have lived such a hard life.

Xie Qiao was a bit confused. She had not done anything, so how could she have thought things through?

However, thinking things through was a good thing. It also saved her the trouble of wasting her effort. Therefore, at this moment, Xie Qiao immediately put away her soul.

It was easy to do that, especially for someone like Ms. Cai who was willing to leave. She did her best to avoid any complicated movements. When the people nearby saw that, they did not think too much of it. They only felt that this Taoist master... seemed to be doing a ritual for a lady...

After all, Meng Jifang was crying and lying down.
