

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 1153: Troublesome

Xie Qiao was touched. Ever since she was young, even though the old man had reprimanded her many times, he was the only person who cared about her the most.

She still remembered that when she was young, she would always faint. When she woke up, she would occasionally see the old man with red eyes. He looked even more aggrieved than she did. It was both sad and funny.

The bracelet was dirty and had a smell. Xie Qiao did not despise it and wore it obediently in front of him.

After a while, the “fool” was brought over.

Xie Qiao opened her mouth with difficulty.

He... looked even clumsier than the old man.

His face was black and gray, which was really dirty. The clothes on his body could barely be seen as brocade clothes, but... they were almost worn out and smelly.

Xie Qiao could see that this little fool was not old, at most about twenty years old. Judging from his appearance, he seemed to be rich, but she did not know how he ended up in such a sorry state.

“Master, where did you find this person?” Xie Qiao asked.

Zhao Xuanjing vaguely thought that this person... looked familiar.

After a moment of silence, he was thinking.

“I happened to meet him when I was staying in an inn. He was incredible. He brought many servants with him and was very impressive. However, I could tell that this person was in trouble at a glance, so I reminded him a few times. This person’s brain was not right. After hearing my words, he actually believed me and insisted on following me. He insisted that I was an expert. I was pestered by him and managed to escape with great difficulty. In the end, I met him again. When I met him again, his convoy was in danger. A few people were smashed by falling rocks along the way...”

It was also because this person did not deserve to die.

Other than the things he had given this person to use to break the disaster, this person had also brought some good items with him, which allowed him to avoid two major disasters in a row.

However, having his head smashed by a rock, he was a little dumbfounded.

It was not good to just watch the child wandering on the streets, so he brought the person along to the capital. He thought that this person also had a local accent in the capital. If he came to the capital, he could even help him find his family members.

The fool’s face was black and gray. It was hard to tell what he looked like. At this time, Mo Lingzi was willing to wash up. He asked someone to bring them to wash up.

After waiting for another hour, the old man and the young man appeared in front of them again.

However, when Zhao Xuanjing saw the person, he almost choked.

The teacup was shaking, and he looked very surprised.

“What’s wrong?” Xie Qiao was still a little confused.

Zhao Xuanjing pointed at the fool. “Do you know who he is?”

“I don’t know?” Xie Qiao looked confused.

The little fool ran over cheerfully and tugged at the corner of Xie Qiao’s shirt. “Sister, sister, I’m clean now. I want to kiss you...”

“No, you can’t!” Mo Lingzi quickly pulled him and smiled guiltily at the Crown Prince. “On the way, he couldn’t sleep at night and asked for his mother. I said he did not have a mother, he only had a sister...”

Then, the fool asked for his sister and a kiss...

He had no choice. In order to coax this fool to sleep, he could only endure the pain and agreed...

“Someone, go to Imperial Duke Meng’s house and ask the Duke to come and pick up his son.” Zhao Xuanjing looked at this foolish junior brother who wanted to kiss his wife. He did not know whether he should be angry or pity him for becoming a fool.

“Imperial Duke Meng?!” Xie Qiao exclaimed and stood up. “You mean he is my junior brother Meng Yan?!”

“That’s right, it’s him. He went on a trip with teacher and left because he thought teacher was boring.” Zhao Xuanjing rubbed his forehead silently.

All of them were troublesome.
