

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 1197: Wife

“I’ll go and ask what kind of sorcery is it used for. Don’t stay idle, my brothers. We must catch the one who bought the blood. If anyone can find the clue first, His Highness will definitely reward them.” Xie Pinggang did not forget to give a sweet promise.

Since the Crown Prince came to the criminal division, the brothers’ work was a little tiring. However, every time they finished a case, the reward would be handsome.

In particular, this case was investigated in private. It was not recorded in the case file, so it was not counted as merit. The reward would definitely be handsome.

Therefore, when Xie Pinggang said that, everyone’s spirit was immediately ignited.

They followed the current clues and continued to trace. Meanwhile, Xie Pinggang brought Yu Xian with him to meet Xie Qiao.

Mo Lingzi stayed at the Fortune Pavilion no matter if he had anything to do or not. Xie Pinggang saw him, too.

He did not look happy.

Mo Lingzi had indeed raised this foolish girl, but he was too talkative. If he were to pay attention to him, he might say something unpleasant again. When Mo Lingzi left the mountain, he was still young. He should not have remembered those things, but his father had scolded this old Taoist master for many years!

Therefore, he knew this old Taoist master very well!

Yu Xian did not know Mo Lingzi's identity. She only knew that he was another master at the Fortune Pavilion.

Just like the sitting doctor in the medicine shop, he must be someone very capable.

Therefore, Yu Xian was even more respectful to Mo Lingzi.

The contrast between the two was obvious.

"Where did this little girl come from? She is quite likable. Why don't you stay and be my good grandson's wife?" Mo Lingzi said.

After saying that, he reached out and patted Meng Yan's shoulder.

Meng Yan was silly now, but he could not change his bad habit after so many years. He still had some flirtatious nature. When he heard the word "wife," his eyes lit up and he instantly looked straight at Yu Xian. However, when they met, he frowned and pursed his lips. "She's not a little girl."

"What the hell do you know? You can't just look at a person's face? You have to look at their eyes and bones. If you can't even understand this, then look at their breasts and buttocks! One look and you'll know!" Mo Lingzi said casually in delight.

Yu Xian's eyelids twitched.

"D*mn old man, do you dare to say that again?!" Xie Pinggang was furious.

Look my a*s!

Meng Yan seemed to understand, and that extremely beautiful face was directed at Yu Xian.

He looked at the unruly man. as long as he did not open his mouth, he could not tell that there was something wrong with his head.

“Don’t be angry, Brother Xie. That’s not wrong either. That’s how you look at people.” Yu Xian pressed Xie Pinggang down, then stretched out her head and asked, “What if the front and back are flat?”

“Look at her Adam’s apple. If it really doesn’t work, why don’t you just touch it with your hand?” Mo Lingzi said with a serious expression.

Xie Pinggang sneered.

He knew that this Taoist master was terrible!

The man next to him, who was a flirtatious man, was also terrible!

“Don’t learn from him. Back then, it was because he didn’t look like a good person that my father took him to the mountain. You’ve lived for so long, have you ever seen such a shameless Taoist master? Fortunately, my sister was born an obedient and sensible person. That’s why she wasn’t led astray by him.” Xie Pinggang glared at him.

However, Mo Lingzi was really fearless.

“Back then, when this penniless master went up the mountain, you chased after me and insisted on taking me as your master. You wanted to ascend to heaven and become immortal!” When Mo Lingzi thought of the past, he laughed loudly.

Xie Pinggang was instantly speechless.

He did not believe it!

His father had never mentioned this before!

“Really? Master?” Yu Xian was in disbelief and asked in surprise.
