

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 133: Joke

Xie Qiao looked at her brother. There was a smile in her eyes as she put away that contract in her hand.

“You’ll go to Xiao Yurong from today onward. Whether you cling onto him or force him, as long as he’s willing to take you as his disciple, this contract will be offset. It’s alright if you fail to do that. At most... Eldest Brother and I will have one brother less. It’s nothing,” Xie Qiao said slowly.

“You guys are bullying me!” Xie Pinghuai was furious.

Was that how an Eldest Brother and Eldest Sister should be? They were killing him!

“Yes, that’s right. We’re bullying you, sorry.” Xie Qiao nodded lightly and looked at Xie Pinghuai with guilt.

Xie Pinghuai trembled. He was pissed.

“H-How could Eldest Sister be worse than Eldest Brother?” Xie Pinghuai was in disbelief. “I used to really like you!”

“So you mean... You don’t like me now?!” Xie Qiao looked at him with disbelief. Subsequently, she covered her chest and took a step back. Her face paled, and she looked as if she was triggered. It looked terrifying.

“It’s... great that you think that.” There was joy on Xie Qiao’s pale face. “It’s great to do as you promised. There’s no need to be nice to you.”

She hated to show her feelings. It was too much.

Xie Pinghuai glared with his eyes wide open.

“Remember what I said. At the academy tomorrow, go to Mr. Xiao’s house, even if you have to crawl there,” Xie Qiao added.

Xie Pinghuai could not help but think Xie Qiao was cruel to be saying that calmly and shamelessly.

Great...

Xie Pinghuai felt like he was going insane.

However, he could not say anything evil, especially to his Eldest Sister!

When his Eldest Brother bullied him, he secretly hoped that his Eldest Brother would have his neck snapped one day. However, he could not bring himself to hate his Eldest Sister when she did that!

Indeed, his Eldest Sister was just too scary.

She had said something that was terrifying with the gentlest voice. He could not bring himself to hate her!

Xie Pinghuai cried from feeling wronged.

Xie Pinggang was over the moon. “Get silver from Mother when you’ve spent all of it. Eldest Sister and I won’t give you any.”

Xie Pinghuai felt as if the sky had collapsed.

He could no longer live a good life!

On the second day, a shocking piece of news spread through the Royal Academy.

The mischievous and out-of-control Second Young Master Xie had brought a box of snacks and stood at Teacher Xiao’s door while smiling. He was kneeling to take him as his master!

When the news spread, many thought Xie Pinghuai had gone insane.

“Xie Qiao, your brother sure is daring. He dares to mess with Teacher Xiao...” Even Qin Liu, who had always been fond of the Xie family, could not help but tease Xie Pinghuai.

“No, my brother is sincere about taking Mr. Xiao as his master.” Xie Qiao looked serious.

Qin Liu was stunned. “Are you joking? Everyone out there said that Xie Pinghuai lost a bet, and that’s why he did that...”

Xie Qiao expected that to happen. Xie Pinghuai had a bad reputation, so nobody would believe that he was sincere about becoming a disciple.

“Actually, I don’t think Xie Pinghuai is as bad as people say. I remembered he was quite sensible at the time when he had just enrolled. He would bring fun things to play with others. However, he was being rejected. It was quite a big fuss. Since the academy prohibits fighting, they fought outside.”

Fighting should not be publicized in this academy, or they would be at a loss. They would have to hold things back at the academy.

“So I’m sure there are many who are making fun of him for wanting to become a disciple? Do you think there will be a bet in a few days?” Xie Qiao asked curiously.
