

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 373: Repeat a Hundred Times

“Knock, knock... Knocking hard...”

Xie Qiao could hear the voice.

She had never seen such a fierce vengeful spirit.

The muscles and tendons all over his body looked like they could kill a person with a single hammer. His hands seemed to be on fire, and he was holding a long iron bar in his hand. He kept hammering it, emitting red light.

“When the termites are extinguished, your brother’s... little soul would be thrown into the furnace as firewood,” Xie Qiao suddenly said.

When Xie Pinggang heard that, he lowered his head and looked at her, “There’s... that thing here?”

“Yes, a blacksmith. He’s quite fierce,” Xie Qiao nodded.

“Then go and get Master Mo,” Xie Pinggang hurriedly said.

“There’s no time,” Xie Qiao shook her head. Master Mo was here. It was a waste of time to leave and come back.

Xie Pinggang's expression turned grim. He let out a breath, "What about you? Can you do it? Don't tell me that you can't handle such a minor situation despite being with Mo Lingzi for so many years."

"I think I can, I'm not sure," Xie Qiao was timid.

If she were Mo Chusheng, she would definitely nod her head mysteriously and agree without a word.

However, in front of her eldest brother, she really could not be confident.

Xie Pinggang was a little frustrated.

"This brat, why don't we just let him die in there?!" Xie Pinggang looked fierce, "If you're not 100% sure, don't try. He's at the bottom. If something happens to you, we'll lose another family member."

Xie Qiao had already lowered her head and rummaged through her small cloth bag.

She took out a few things and buried them in a few fixed spots around.

..

At that moment, Xie Pinghuai thought he was going to die.

"Knock, do you know how to knock? Come, follow me. Knock, do it quickly," the voice was fierce.

"Stop shouting! I'll do it!" Xie Pinghuai huffed angrily. He grabbed the big hammer and went clang, clang, clang...

After knocking it for less than ten times, Xie Pinghuai vaguely found a small white light spot.

“Idiot, repeat after me,” Xie Qiao was standing in the courtyard out there.

Xie Pinggang asked the officials to drive away the people around. On Lin family’s side, only Lin Yaxiang, who refused to leave, remained.

“Eldest Sister, where are you? There’s a fierce idiot here who is asking me to knock something...” Xie Pinghuai yelled.

Xie Qiao did not have the ability to enter one’s dream. The talisman was for the soul.

At that moment, Xie Pinghuai could hear it, which meant that his soul had left his body slightly. When his soul left entirely, he would lose his life.

“Don’t talk nonsense, repeat after me!” Xie Qiao muttered, and then said, “Heaven and Earth, the root of all qi. The golden light in my body, cover me...”

“Okay,” Xie Pinghuai was obedient, “Heaven and Earth...”

“Turn a blind eye and turn a deaf ear to it! The sun rises in the east, pulling out the unknown. The demon is terrified, the spirit is dead. The lightning is in there, the thunder god is hidden...”

Xie Pinghuai was eager to say that this sentence was too long and he could not remember it.

However, when Xie Qiao finished speaking, these words seemed to be echoing endlessly in his mind, and he subconsciously read them out.

Then, he repeated one sentence after another.

Xie Pinghuai felt a little tired and annoyed.

However, when he thought of his short-lived eldest sister, he did not dare to disobey her.

Moreover, it was as if he was emitting a golden light from his body as he chanted. It was comfortable, and he stopped hearing the particularly loud hitting noise around him.

He felt much better inside, and he became more and more obedient.

After chanting it a few times, Xie Qiao suddenly said, "Have you memorized it? If you have, then recite it by yourself. Repeat it a hundred times. After a hundred times, pay me ten taels of silver!"

'I'll hit you ten times!' Xie Qiao thought to herself secretly.
