

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 376: Going to Die

Everyone exerted strength and carefully dragged Xie Pinghuai out.

Grandpa Lin was a doctor, so he immediately went forward to take a look.

Xie Pinghuai had already fainted. His small face looked pale and lifeless, but no one knew what he was mumbling about.

It was obvious that this kid was dreaming and was still talking in his sleep.

“His head isn’t hurt. H-His hand seems to be fractured a little bit. It’s fine. He just needs to recuperate. His legs are fine,” Grandpa Lin heaved a sigh of relief.

After he finished speaking, Xie Pinggang strode forward and gave Xie Pinghuai a slap on his face.

Grandpa Lin was so scared that his entire body trembled.

Only now did he notice...

The eldest son of Bandit Xie.

With just a glance, his pair of old arms and legs became a little clumsy and weak.

Meanwhile, Lin Yaxiang frowned and was also shocked. However, she reacted quickly and immediately went forward to support Grandpa Lin so that the bandit's son would not be implicated.

“Turn a blind eye and turn a deaf ear...”

Xie Pinghuai was still reciting when he was suddenly woken up by a beating. He almost jumped up, “Who hit me?! E-Eldest Brother...”

He looked at Xie Pinggang with his bruised eyes and buried his head in fear.

“You’re still alive?” Xie Pinggang sneered, “You have guts, brat. You don’t sleep on a good bed, but you like sleeping in a coffin? Why don’t I change the bed in your room? I’ll dig a big hole for you to fill in some soil, and you can go down and live there? When you miss me, you’ll stick your head out and find me?”

Xie Qiao was so scared that she coughed a few times.

She carefully took two steps back.

The hostility was too strong, so it was not suitable to interact with him.

Xie Pinghuai felt he was wronged and was confused, “Eldest Brother, why are you here...”

“If I wasn’t here, you wouldn’t be here anymore,” Xie Pinggang really wanted to kick this brat to death, “Open your stupid eyes and look around. Everyone here hasn’t slept all night because they want to be with you! Don’t you know your Eldest Sister’s health? If anything happens, I’ll chop you up!”

Xie Pinghuai was so scared that he started to hiccup.

One after another, he did not stop.

His small eyes secretly glanced around.

Then, he was stunned.

What was going on?!

“How... did it collapse...” Xie Pinghuai’s voice was extremely low, “No, it can’t be... hic! I kicked it, right... but I remember... I remember... hic...”

Xie Pinghuai thought for a moment.

Suddenly, he could not tell the difference between reality and dreams.

He remembered that he kicked the door open, but it did not collapse. Instead, he went to a dark place. Then, there was a silly man who kept forging iron and even let him do it. That big hammer was so heavy that his arm was almost broken...

His arm...

“Tss... it hurts! I’m in so much pain! Am I going to die?!” Xie Pinghuai covered his right hand with his left hand. He only reacted at this moment.

Everyone was speechless.

He had been crushed for so long, but he had not been conscious all this time?

Was it not a little too slow to react now?

However, this kid was really lucky to be alive at that moment.

If Xie Qiao knew what others were thinking, she would have said something.

How could her foolish brother be lucky? He offended a vengeful spirit. It was easy for the vengeful spirit to take his life? The reason he was alive was because of the talisman from yesterday!

“Brother, you owe me ten taels of silver now,” Xie Qiao said suddenly.

The price was naturally more expensive since she had to come here in the middle of the night.
