

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 386: Good Life

The two brothers thought about it and thought they did not think it through in the past.

At that time, they thought their second brother would be filial and would be able to take care of them for the rest of their lives. However, they did not expect his temper to be like the thunder in summer.

The relationship between them in the past was still too shallow.

If the family wanted to be united, they needed to have an unbreakable blood bond or relationship as in-laws!

When the old lady heard what her two sons said, she felt reassured.

Her son was right. Xie Qiao was just a little girl after all. She just had to get married.

As for Xie Pinggang...

That guy was a little fierce, but he did not have a wife to control him. Find him someone who could coax him. When the marriage was done, the relationship between the two families would still be the same as before.

“Second Brother and Ms. Lu have divorced. Judging by his character, he will marry another one. Everyone is worried...” the old lady thought of Xie Niushan.

“I forgot about him,” Xie Mangshan was stunned, “Second Brother is really troublesome. Wasn’t Ms. Lu amazing?”

Thinking about that, there were many things to be done in second brother’s family!

It was all that guy’s fault for being insensible. He had to burden his two brothers to help him figure things out!

At that moment, Xie Mangshan immediately asked Ms. Jia to go to his father-in-law’s house to invite the young lady over.

At noon, the young lady was brought over. Only then did they ride the carriage to the Xie Residence together.

The young lady’s name was Jia Huan. After getting off the carriage, her eyes were passionate as she stared at this high-door courtyard. Her heart was racing and somewhat excited.

She knew Xie Niushan.

In the past, her family was just an ordinary farmer. They dug for food in the crops. Although she was quite pretty, she helped out in the fields. Her skin was tanned and rough. Her life was hard and pitiful.

Later on, Xie Niushan became an official and brought her aunt and uncle into the capital.

Not only did he buy her uncle a courtyard, he had also recommended them for jobs. The work was profitable, so her aunt asked them to sell their family’s fields and come to the capital.

Only after coming to the capital did she realize that it was really a different world.

She had been staying home. In the past two years, she had finally come outside, and her looks had become more and more beautiful. Unfortunately, she could never find a good husband.

She wanted to live a good life.

Before her...

Was such a magnificent house. If she could live here forever, then her life on Earth would be worth it!

“Your Uncle-in-law isn’t home, and there’s no one in the house who can call the shots. Stay here with me. If there’s anything you’re upset about, just tell us. This family also has a girl who is a few months younger than you. That child... is very smart. You just need to avoid her a little bit,” the old lady patted Jia Huan’s hand, she smiled and led her people in.

She had lived here before, and now that she had returned to her own home, she went to her courtyard first.

“Grandma Xie, do you live in this courtyard? This courtyard is bigger than our entire house!” Jia Huan was excited as she looked around, “What about the others? Where does Cousin Xie live?”

The old lady did not get mad when she heard her speak so bluntly. On the contrary, she was quite happy.

“There are quite a few big courtyards in this house. Ask the steward to come over later and show you around,” said the old lady.

Jia Huan nodded repeatedly.

The old lady looked around and found that there was nothing new in the courtyard. She was a little displeased.

“We’re hungry. Let’s cook according to the portion I usually have. Make it soft and squishy. I’m getting old and have weak teeth,” said the old lady.

When the steward heard that, he said immediately, “The First Young Lady said that you’re old and shouldn’t eat too much meat and sugar. You should eat more grains and vegetables. So your daily meals have already been ordered, and it’d be difficult for us to change it. As for this y-young lady, I wonder which relative of the family you are...?”
