

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 392: Head-on Collision

Xie Pinggang had grown up among bandits. What nonsense had he not said?

He was not interested in women, but it did not mean that he did not know what this young lady was up to.

In the mountain stronghold, he was the next leader. There were women who threw themselves into his arms. Perhaps they were even better looking than this fake cousin in front of him!

There were also many female captives that he had rescued from beating up barbarians out there. He had even captured a few beautiful barbarian women. If he wanted them, he would never lack any.

However, he felt annoyed when he looked at those women.

They were soft and weak, always crying. They were either pestering him or acting pretentiously. They were troublesome.

They could not make him happy, and he even had to be patient and coax them. If he had the time, he might as well investigate more cases and practice martial arts!

Jia Huan's face was as red as blood. She had really been humiliated.

She was still wearing her clothes and they were tight, but they were a little thin. However, in front of this man, it was as if she had been seen naked!

He was actually so vulgar that he could even say such things directly...

“Y-You have to be responsible for me. I-I really can’t live anymore!” Jia Huan panicked.

Xie Pinggang shook his head, “Give up on that thought. I won’t marry you!”

“I know how to manage a house and cook. I work very fast. Now that I’m being treated like this by you, how am I not worthy of you? You want to get married. Marrying anyone is the same. I can bear your children! My Mother said that it’s good for ladies to have a big buttock. Someone like me can give birth to at least three children...”

When Xie Pinggang heard that, he glanced beneath Jia Huan’s waist.

Although he looked at her, his gaze was calm. There was no other meaning behind it.

It was just a subconscious reaction because of what she said.

At that moment, Jia Huan felt like she was a lamb waiting to be picked. She was secretly nervous.

“Aren’t you ashamed to say these words as a young lady? Did you come to this house because of the nonsense your aunt and uncle said? Don’t they know what kind of temper I have? Aren’t you worried that I will beat you to death?” Xie Pinggang smirked coldly, “I will marry a wife, but no one will marry you!

“Do you think I’m stupid? Xie Mangshan, that b*stard. He knew he couldn’t get any benefits from my family, so he sent you here to take advantage of us, right? In his dreams! My Father and I worked so hard to make money. If he dares to do anything, I’ll chop him up!”

Xie Pinggang snorted and then untied the rope.

“Marry someone like you? Then I might as well go to the brothel and find one!” Xie Pinggang looked fierce, “Hurry up and get lost, or I’ll beat you up!”

He was in his early twenties and had not married yet. Did they really think that he was not picky?

They dared to send just anyone to him!

Not to mention that this person’s personality and appearance were not what he wanted, even if she was really like a celestial being, he would not marry a woman from the Jia family!

He did not want them to take advantage of his family!

Xie Pinggang scoffed.

“Y-You...” Jia Huan was scolded repeatedly. At that moment, her mind was buzzing. Seeing that Xie Pinggang did not seem to care about it, she felt hot-headed and rammed directly into the tree!

Xie Pinggang did not stop her.

He would just drag her out if she died from ramming into the tree

He was not the one who killed her.

Jia Huan thought that he would stop her. When the time came, she would bump into his arms. Looking at how determined she was, he would definitely agree to marry her. Even if he did not want to marry her, then... he could at least take in a concubine, right?!

She knew that she was from a low background. If she wanted to live a good life, she could be a concubine too!

However, she made a mistake.
