

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 393: Who Will Marry Me

Jia Huan did not see Xie Pinggang rushing over. At that moment, she was naturally afraid. Her original full strength was immediately reduced significantly.

However, even so, she still slammed into the tree with a bang.

A burning pain instantly came from her head. She felt dizzy and immediately fainted.

Xie Pinggang exhaled, "Take her away... Who did she come with?"

"It's the Old Madam," the servant said carefully.

"The old biddy is here too?" Xie Pinggang chuckled, "Then throw her to the old biddy and tell the steward that we don't have any silver. If she hurts her head, we won't compensate her. She can do whatever she wants!

"It's fine if she's alive, but if she's dead... if she dirties my courtyard, I won't let her family off!" Xie Pinggang added when he thought of Xie Qiao's physique, which allowed her to see ghouls.

The servant nodded repeatedly.

This young lady...

Did she think that their young master was an ordinary man?!

How pitiful. She was so young. Why could she not just let it go?

The servant quickly carried Jia Huan out. The old lady was calling for a maidservant to massage her back when she heard the commotion outside. She looked around and saw Jia Huan being carried back. Her forehead was blood red, she was so scared that her muscles trembled, "What's going on?!"

"Old Madam, the young lady broke into the Eldest Young Master's courtyard and disturbed the his studies. She even made noise to get the Eldest Young Master to marry her. The Eldest Young Master wasn't willing and she slammed herself into a tree. The Eldest Young Master said... We don't have money to get a doctor. If she's going to die, please send her out to die. Don't d-dirty the house..."

"What?!" When the old lady heard that, her legs went weak and she actually collapsed to the ground.

Dead? Could she be... dead?!

She had only been here for a day and she was already... killed by that brat?

The old lady panicked.

Seeing her like that, the servant was also speechless, "She's still breathing. This humble one will leave first."

Still breathing?!

The old lady hurriedly crawled over in a panic and shook the person on the ground. Then, she stretched her hand to check. She could feel that the girl was breathing, only then did she heave a sigh of relief, "My goodness. This good daughter has been sent to our home for not even a day, yet she has become like this..."

The old lady trembled and asked the maidservant to call for a doctor.

The maidservant had also heard what the others had said and was a little hesitant, "If the a-accounts don't pay, this humble one's hands are empty. I'm afraid this doctor wouldn't dare to come..."

When the old lady heard that, her heart ached. However, at this time, she could not ignore the Jia family's daughter. She could only grit her teeth and take out a bit of silver from her embrace, "Go and get a doctor. It's just an external injury. It shouldn't be much money."

The maidservant went out.

Not long after, Jia Huan woke up.

She was very weak.

When she saw the old lady, she began to cry, "He bullied me... Grandmother Xie, who will marry me in the future..."

When the old lady heard that, her heart jolted and she was a little surprised, "What did he do to you?"

"H-He took off my clothes and even said that I'm from the b-brothel. Grandmother Xie, it was you and Aunt who said that you wanted him to marry me. Now that he dislikes me, what should I do?" Jia Huan only felt a splitting headache.

"He actually went that far?!" The old lady was very angry, "Don't worry, since he got lucky and took advantage of you, he will definitely marry you! With me around, if he doesn't agree, I will make a scene. This family needs their dignity. Don't worry!"

Jia Huan heard that and heaved a sigh of relief.
