

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 60: Sheer Luck

The dean's meaning was that the Xie family members could be enrolled if their identity fit their requirements. No matter how the Xie family's children were, they would receive a good and fair education as long as they could get in.

Xu Mian had totally forgotten about that!

He looked at Xie Qiao again...

Her head laid low; nobody knew what she was thinking about.

If one was to look at her as her own person instead of Xie Niushan's daughter, she was an extraordinarily outstanding young lady.

She was beautiful, and her manner was considered presentable and proper. If he was to think about it carefully, he had indeed been blinded by what happened in the past.

Upon seeing that the students outside were fighting because of his behavior, Xu Mian was secretly guilty.

"Ms. Xie, you've passed the examination. It was my fault." Xu Mian was straightforward to bow and apologize to Xie Qiao.

Xie Qiao was thinking about something else. She was surprised by this apology that came out of nowhere.

The teachers here... Sure were fast to change.

Xie Qiao got up immediately and bowed as well. "This is too much, sir."

She could not help but feel wobbly when she stood up to bow all of a sudden.

Fortunately, she managed to stand still, or she would have embarrassed herself.

Mr. Xu could not help but frown when he saw that, "Young Lady Xie, your body seems to be weak?"

"Thanks for your concern, sir. I'm just a little weak. It's nothing major," said Xie Qiao.

She would take care of her insignificant life herself.

It would be inappropriate for Mr. Xu to say anything more.

He thought the students out there would calm down a little since he had already apologized to Xie Qiao.

However, when he turned his head, they were still fighting?

His facial expression turned strange immediately.

He glanced at Xie Qiao, hoping this young lady could stop them. After all, they were fighting because of this Young Lady Xie.

However, Xie Qiao smiled lightly at him and then said, "Since the entry examination has ended, I can come here tomorrow, right?"

Everything would be smooth sailing when she brought the fee as she enrolled herself tomorrow.

Xu Mian was stunned. "T-the students out there..."

"Farewell." Xie Qiao got up, smiled lightly, and subsequently left.

It would be inappropriate for Xu Mian to ask her to stay.

Xie Qiao brought nothing for her trip this time.

Her father had left, but the maid and the coachman were waiting out there.

Xie Qiao left directly, so she had no idea that she became popular in the academy.

"Xie Pinghuai, what has your sister, Xie Qiao, been reading?" Xie Pinghuai had a note pasted on his face while he stared at a cricket container on the table. Two crickets were fighting inside.

Xie Pinghuai did not even lift his head when he heard that. "What did you say?"

"I'm talking about your sister! She dictated a Sanskrit article Mr. Xu gave. Everyone is guessing whether she's literate or not!" said that student.

Nobody thought Xie Qiao was really familiar with Sanskrit. They thought she had just happened to memorize that article before.

However, it was Sanskrit. Nobody would know if she read such serious books before.

Therefore, since Xie Qiao had left, someone said it was merely sheer luck for her. If it was not for Mr. Xu, who had tested her on Sanskrit, she might not even have passed the entry examination.

Of course, some thought that she was familiar with Sanskrit. Even if she was not talented, she was definitely not as terrible as the rest said.

If Xie Qiao had grown up in the Imperial City, they could ask around about her.

However, this young lady had only come from somewhere else a few days ago. Nobody knew how she was before!

Xie Pinghuai turned his head doubtfully. "I don't know?"

"She's not your sister by blood?" The crowd was rather surprised.

"She is? Eldest sister from a direct family member." Xie Pinghuai had little reaction. "Why are you guys being so dramatic?"

"You guys don't look alike at all. We heard that your sister is pretty, even prettier than Young Lady Chu. We're just wondering how she is academically!"
