

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 661: Who is the Unlucky Person?

Very soon, the procuress carried out the request.

Twenty to 30 ladies stood out. Although it was evening, it was still bright, so business was not particularly good. Therefore, almost all the ladies who were available came.

Zhao Xuanjing sat there.

The ghoul was looking around, but he felt uncomfortable.

He was supposed to come to see the ladies, but the ladies were all looking at that noble young master!

It made him upset!

“Your Highness?”

It was almost time. Zhao Xuanjing was about to get up, but he bumped into a few people.

Meng Jifang and his brothers were dazed when they saw the Crown Prince’s unparalleled handsome face. “Did we... go to the wrong place? Is this the Crown Prince’s residence?!”

Was there something wrong with the Crown Prince?! He was about to get married, but he actually visited the brothel?!

Meng Jifang was delighted. “Your Highness is leaving so soon. Which one do you fancy? If you like her, I’ll buy her and give her to you!”

Poor Young Lady Xie.

She had just been granted a marriage recently. Everyone said that Young Lady Xie had a good life. She actually went from being the daughter of a bandit to becoming the Princess Consort.

He also thought that the young lady was quite powerful, but he did not expect that the Crown Prince to like her.

“Do you have too little homework at the academy?” Zhao Xuanjing’s voice turned cold.

Meng Jifang restrained himself a great deal. “Rest assured, Your Highness. We won’t say anything more. But with you coming here in such a high profile, it’s hard to guarantee that others won’t find out about it.”

He did not want the whole city to know about it and blame it on him.

Although he did not like the Crown Prince, he had never thought of offending him.

After all, he could not afford to offend him! He was not a fool like Zhao Xuzhi!

Zhao Xuanjing stood there like a wall and suddenly smiled faintly. “If this matter really gets out, I’ll blame it on you, Meng Jifang. When I have the time, I’ll look for you to settle the score.”

Meng Jifang felt that he might be a little unlucky today.

The Crown Prince was carefree. After saying that, he turned around and left.

However, what about him?

The Crown Prince had settled the matter comfortably, yet he still had to help him out?

“What’s wrong with him today? He actually came here...” Meng Jifang muttered. “Eh? That’s not right? Didn’t you say that this place would definitely be quiet and we won’t bump into people we know?!”

The people around him did not dare to say anything.

They had invited Meng Jifang out to play, but they were afraid that they would be caught by the Meng family’s spies, so they chose this place.

This brothel was not the best in the capital, and it was not even ranked in the top. However, the good thing was that the ladies were pretty great, and they would not ask for much money.

“Madam! Come here!” Meng Jifang waved at the people in the room. “What did that young master come here for?”

The procuress felt confused. “Nothing... He just called a bunch of ladies and did not even look at them. He made them stand there for 15 minutes!”

She had run the business for 20 years, but this was the first time she had encountered such a strange thing!

Some of the men also came here in a reserved manner, but when they saw the lady, they either blushed or could not help but look at her. They could not really sit still, but the ladies did not even sit in his arms just now. No lady came near him at all!

It was not that they did not want to, but a young lady took the initiative to step forward and was kicked away by the person next to him. They were only allowed to stand there obediently...

It was really strange.

“He’s not sleeping with any of the young ladies? Then...” Meng Jifang’s pupils suddenly constricted.

“Crap! He can’t be investigating a case again, right?! Who is the unlucky person this time? Let’s go, let’s go. Let’s go and check it out!”
